ELECTED OFFICERS.

Adjourned Annual Meeting of Otonabee Navigation Co. Held Yesterday.

The adjourned annual meeting of the Otonabee Navigation Company, Limited, was held last night when the following officers were elected:

President—W. H. Robertson.
Vice-President—J. E. Henderson.
Marine Supt.—Capt. White.
Solicitor—R. F. McWilliams.

The company will commence the season with four steamers, to which will be added a fifth later on in the season. The time table is now being prepared and will be published shortly. It will be much the same as last year with the addition of a daily steamer from Burleigh Falls, to Chemong Park and Bobcaygeon and a stage line connecting with the steamer at Chemong Park for Peterborough.

HAWKING MACHINES.

Catarrh Sufferers Are Nothing But Hawking, Spitting and Blowing Machines, Says an Authority.

It is possible that in these days when cleanliness and sanitary reform are being preached in the churches, schools and at public gatherings, that thousands of people will continue to suffer from catarrh when there is an absolutely certain remedy always on hand.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is a pleasant, medicated, and antiseptic air. Breathe it in and it will cure catarrh. It will stop foul breath, watery eyes and crusts in the nose in a few days.

Mrs. H. W. Wilson, of Johnson, street, Wallaceburg, Ont., says: "Yes, we are great friends of Hyomei for the reason that Mr. Wilson has had catarrh for several years and tried several remedies and doctors, but nothing has relieved the trouble like Hyomei. His trouble is from pains across the eyes and a burning or huskiness in the throat. Sometimes much difficulty in breathing, the glands in his eyes and nose swollen and the disease made him literally sick all over. He cannot say enough in praise of Hyomei, and there is nothing that can give better relief to catarrh than this remedy, which we heartily recommend."

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a strong, hard rubber pocket inhaler and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1.00, and extra bottles, if afterwards needed, cost only 50 cents each. Wm. Madill sells it and guarantees it to do exactly as advertised.

Recent Meeting Of Township Council Of North Monaghan

Examiner Special.

North Monaghan, April 27.—The Township Council met on Saturday, April 24th, in the Township Treasurer's office in Peterborough.

All the members were present. The Reeve, John Brown, Esq., was in the chair. The minutes of the two former meetings were read and confirmed.

Mr. J. Fowler, sen., attended the meeting and addressed the Council. Mr. Fowler stated that in his opinion it would be better for the Township if the old system of statute labour was substituted for the present system of commutation and to appoint a pathmaster upon each concession line.

A petition was read from T. H. Vaughan and twelve other ratepayers asking that a bridge be built on the west side of Monaghan road at the juncture with Orphington ave.

An account was handed in from J. Batten for spikes, etc., $2.00.

On motion of Messrs. Howden and Morrow, this account was referred to Mr. R. Lillico for verification.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and Morrow that a committee consisting of Messrs. Howden, Dobbin and McKee are hereby appointed to build a bridge of cedar over the drain on the west side of Monaghan road at its juncture with Orphington ave. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and McKee that the whole Council be a committee to go at any time named by the Reeve and lay out and supervise the work of the several Road Commissioners in the township during the year. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and Morrow that Robert Sanderson be appointed Road Commissioner in Road Division No. 2, for the year 1909. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Howden and McKee that Foster Moncrief be re-appointed Road Commissioner for Road Division No. 4, for the year 1909. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Dobbin and McKee that Mr. J. Armstrong be re-appointed Road Commissioner for Road Division No. 3 for 1909. This was carried.

Moved by Messrs. Morrow and McKee that Jack McIntosh be appointed Road Commissioner in Road Division No. 1 for 1909. This was carried.

On motion, By-Law No. 611 to appoint Road Commissioners for the year 1909 was introduced, received and finally passed.

Council then adjourned to meet as a Court of Revision of the Assessment Roll, 1909, and for general business on Monday, May 31st next, at 2 p.m. in the Town Hall.

HASTINGS COUNCIL LOSES A MEMBER

Mr. J. Welsh Has Gone to London—Interesting News From the Trent Hamlet.

Examiner Special.

Hastings, April 27th.—It is expected that the Rev. D. A. Thomson will take part in the induction services of the Rev. Geo. Brown to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, Campbellford, on Thursday, 29th inst.

Mr. Geo. Douglas is having a steam launch built in preparation for the coming season's operations.

The carpenters have commenced work on the scows which are to be used in canal construction here and the yard presents quite a lively appearance. Another carload of timber has arrived from British Columbia, and it is expected everything will be in readiness by the time the water has subsided.

Early on Wednesday morning a dense smoke was seen to emerge from underneath Mr. Gibson's grocery store but was discovered just in time to prevent what might have been a disastrous blaze. It is supposed to have originated from some hot ashes, which had been placed where the wind fanned them to a flame.

Mrs. (Rev.) Brown has returned to her home in Lindsay after a two-week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) Barrett.

Schools have reopened after the Easter vacation with quite an increased attendance.

The sugar season is closed and the farmers have begun seeding operations.

The Misses Walsh left last week for London.

Magistrate Howard had two police court cases to be disposed of last week.

Rev. Father Collins, who recently passed away at Bracebridge, was formerly of Hastings, and is remembered by many here.

Mrs. G. Hormel of Cleveland, is in town, a guest of her father, Mr. R. Johnston.

Mr. Ed. Barrigan has been visiting his brother, William, in Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Wood, of Millbrook, have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fleming.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh have left our town and have gone to reside in London, after having spent over a quarter of a century in our midst. Their many friends personally feel that they are sustaining a great loss in the removal of Mr. and Mrs. Walsh and family and follow them with their best wishes.

Misses Doxsee and Fisher, and Messrs. J. Wilson and C. Plant took part in the benefit concert which was held in Westbrook last week, and which was largely attended. All speak in high terms of the kindness and hospitality of the Westwood people.

We regret to chronicle the untimely demise of Miss Annie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fleming, which took place at the early age of fifteen years. She had been in failing health for some time and her friends were hoping for her recovery, but death claimed her as a victim on Friday of last week. The remains were interred in the Trent Valley cemetery on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Fleming have the sympathy of the whole community in their sad bereavement.

Miss Ina Bolton has gone on an e tended visit with friend in Toron and Brussels.

On Tuesday last a life-long reside

THE OLD DRILL SHED IS WIPED OUT OF EXISTENCE BY BLAZE WHICH THREATENED TO SPREAD WITH SERIOUS RESULTS

Good Work by Chief Howard and His Men Prevented a Catastrophe—Terrific Gale Fanned The Flames and Embers Were Carried for Blocks, Starting a Dozen Incipient Blazes on Nearby Property.

BLAZE EVIDENTLY THE WORK OF INCENDIARY.

Shortly before five o'clock this morning, a fire undoubtedly of incendiary origin broke out at the northwest corner of the old drill hall in Central Park, and in less than half an hour the flames fanned by a terrific wind from the northwest had left nothing of the unsightly structure save a pile of smouldering ruins. When discovered the blaze had made such headway that there was no chance in the world to save the building and the brigade made no effort to do so wisely deciding to devote their attention to the property in the neighbourhood which was in great danger. The gale that was blowing carried thousands of sparks and pieces of burning shingles and boards for blocks and a dozen incipient blazes broke out on the roofs of the buildings nearby, so that the brigade had their work cut out for them to prevent a most disastrous conflagration. It was a hard fight but the firemen were masters of the situation preventing any further damage from the blaze.

Broke Out Suddenly

There had been no fire left around the building which was in the course of demolition at the hands of Robt. Nicholls, who has purchased the structure, and it is almost a certainty that the fire was the work of an incendiary. John Newell, an employee of R. Gibbs' livery, had occasion to pass the building shortly after 4:30 o'clock and stated to the Examiner that there was no signs of fire at that time, but that on his return trip, perhaps ten minutes afterwards, the building was in a blaze. He drove rapidly on until he met P. C. Meagher and told him of the fire, but in the meantime Mr. Felix Brownscombe, of the Canadian Canoe Company, who lives at 165 Murray street, almost across the street from the old drill hall was awakened by the blaze and turned in an alarm.

By that time the flames had made almost incredible headway and although Chief Howard and his men answered the call with their usual speed as they [illegible] around the corner of Murray street, and laid a hose from the hydrant at the corner, the rear part of the roof of the building fell in with a crash that could be heard for blocks. When they reached the building the blaze was so hot that it was impossible to drive past the structure. The fire was most spectacular. The flames vigorously fanned by the terrific gale, shot skyward illuminating the city for many blocks whilst a cloud of blazing embers was carried by the breeze and dropped in a fiery shower that was as dangerous as it was beautiful.

Saving Other Buildings

Chief Howard sized up the situation quickly and saw that there was no use of endeavouring to save the old building while at the same time there was every chance of a spread of the flames to the surrounding buildings. At that stage a small blaze had broken out on the roof of the Y.M.C.A. and other fires had started on the sheds at the rear of the houses occupied by Messrs Geo. McKee, Felix Brownscombe and Benj. Yelland. Four streams of hose were laid and the firemen poured tons of water upon the buildings quickly extinguishing the blaze there and preventing any danger of damage. Then Chief Howard sent his men out in sections of two and three to look for possible fires in the neighbourhood. Equipped with ladders and chemicals these sections did good work and were ably assisted by P. C. Meagher, whom Chief Howard desires to thank for his efforts. The officer worked heroically in assisting the firefighters and they are grateful to him for his assistance.

Awning Burned

The sparks and even large pieces of burning boards were carried over into George street, and as Chief Howard expressed it this morning to the Examiner, "It was like playing hide and seek with the fires." A burning board landed in the awning of the laundry conducted by Sing Lung, at 464 George street, and when the firemen arrived it was ruined. They pulled down the blazing canvas to prevent any further damage. Shortly afterwards a blaze was discovered on the roof of the old post office building at the corner of Brock and George streets, and it was extinguished without any damage being done.

Spread Rapidly

The spread of the flames through the drill hall was remarkable. Less than half an hour after the blaze was first seen there was nothing left of the huge and ugly barnlike structure save a small portion at the southwest corner which had been formerly used as a residence by the sergeant major of the regiment. A few fragments of woodwork, a pile of ashes and the little ironwork there was in the building was all that was left of the structure that had withstood the attacks of the elements for over forty years. The north wall of the building had been removed by the contractor so that there was an uninterrupted draught throughout the hall that sucked the flames through with incredible rapidity, and the mass of wood was wiped out of existence as if it had been celluloid.

Despite the spectacular nature of the blaze, only a comparatively small crowd saw the fire. The heavy wind muffled the sounding of the alarm and very few citizens apparently heard the call. As a result many a business man and clerk hurrying to work this morning stopped in astonishment to gaze at the traces of the conflagration.

Residents on Murray street, across from the drill hall received a bad scare, and [illegible] work of the brigade [illegible] homes. Signs of the intense heat developed by the blaze can be seen this morning on the fronts of the nearby buildings, where the paint has been shrivelled and has dropped off. The yards at the rear are littered with embers and the same is true of George street for several blocks. The heavy wind carried pieces of burning wood as far as Victoria Park, and the lawn is strewn with relics of the fire to-day.

Annual At Home Of The C. G. E. Benefit Society Arranged

The third annual At Home under the auspices of the Canadian General Mutual Benefit Society will be held in the Grand Opera House Wednesday evening, May 5th. This event has always been a very popular one and on each anniversary there has been a packed house. The programme has invariably been an entertaining one and the committe this year intend to maintain the former standard. A meeting of the committee was held last evening after six o'clock in the C.G.E. office when the plans for the At Home were discussed. Besides the local talent there will be a number of outside artists to assist. Invitations will be extended to the directors of the company and it is expected that as in the past a number will be present.

This year there will be a charge of five cents to reserve the seats in the pit and half of those in the first balcony. Formerly there were no reserved seats. Another change that has been made is that the Opera House will be open to the public on the last day, Tuesday, May the 4th. Formerly it was not opened until the night of the At Home. A large attendance is expected and another success should result.

Baseball Players In Central Park Tramp Collegiate Lawn

Mr. D. W. Dumble's desire to preserve and enhance the beauty of Central Park is swaying in the balance with his desire to see the boys and young men enjoying a game of baseball north of the old drill shed. The fact is that after four o'clock these days the boys "work out" and in many cases they trample on the lawn of the Collegiate Institute, and on the newly-formed flower beds. This part of the game will have to be [illegible] for the Board of Education [illegible] providing ball grounds in front of their new building. The park [illegible] will never appear as it should [illegible] the boys play on it. Mr. Dumble stated that a playground should be provided as there was no place at present where the boys and children, too, could enjoy themselves and at the same time not damage a public park.

SURGEON USES HAMMER

Regular Surgical Tools Found Insufficient, But Patient Dies

Cincinnati, Ohio, April 28.—Only two-thirds of a man was buried from the City Hospital to-day when relatives of James Fields claimed his remains. Fields had suffered from a tumor on the right leg near the thigh, the growth having involved the bone.

Five weeks ago it was decided that not only would his leg have to come off, but half of the pelvis as well. When the operating surgeon started to chisel the pelvis bone in half he found the hammer, the largest made for surgical work, was not heavy enough. He sent to the engineer's department for a sledge with a short handle. After the operation the patient rallied rapidly from the shock, but the cancerous growth continued its ravages, and Field succumbed.

CASE WAS ENLARGED

Douro Election Case is Laid Over Until Tuesday of Next Week.

The Douro election protest was brought up in Toronto yesterday but was laid over until next Tuesday. It is understood that the case will be heard on the evidence that was taken in the hearing before Judge Weller. Mr. E. A. Peck is representing Mr. F. Moher and Mr. R. F. McWilliams is acting in the interests of the plaintiff, Mr. D. Maloney.

August Longo and Joseph Longo were each fined five dollars at the police court this morning for a breach of the Lord's Day Act on Sunday last. They were charged with unloading bananas from a car and removing them to their store on Hunter street.

August Longo appeared before the magistrate this morning but his brother was away in Toronto and was unable to attend. He said that had they let the bananas remain in the car until Monday they would have spoiled and it was imperative that they be removed. Mr. Longo said that he was sorry that he had committed the offence. He respected the Sabbath and he would not remove them again no matter what he lost.

His Worship said that if he was to dismiss the charges it would only open the way for others. He imposed a low fine which was paid forthwith.

A VOTE OF THANKS.

Firemen Greatly Appreciated Kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Brownscombe This Morning.

The firemen desire to express to Mr. and Mrs. Felix Brownscombe, Murray St. their heartfelt thanks and appreciation for kindness this morning, at the fire, in serving hot coffee to the men. This thoughtfulness on their part was greatly appreciated by the fire fighters.

J. N. Barber, (Special)

Lockport, N. Y., April 28.—The old Holley plant near the bridge on Picke street was totally destroyed by fire. Loss $500,000. The new rubber company, who occupied part of the building, lost $150,000.

ADMIRALTY COURT'S SESSION TO-DAY FIRST HELD HERE IN MANY YEARS

A session of the Admiralty Court was begun this morning at the Court House, with Judge Thos. Hodgins, K.C., of Toronto, on the bench. The case he was called upon to hear was that of the Stoney Lake Navigation Co. vs. the Otonabee Navigation Co, in which the former claimed damages for an injury alleged to have been sustained by the steamer "Otonabee" colliding with a scow of the plaintiffs' with the result that it was sunk. The collision occurred in a narrow part of the river, near Young's Point, last summer. Messrs. O'Connell & Gordon are representing the Stoney Lake Navigation Co., and Mr. R. F. McWilliams is defending the local Company.

Mr. E. A. Peck stated to-day that this is the first time in his memory that he recalls the Admiralty Court holding a session here and in this respect the present case is quite unique.

Cigarette Is Said To Have Made Dynamite Explode

Examiner Special.

Haliburton, April 28.—To-day the excitement about the explosion has simmered down. Mr. Wm. Hancock is very seriously hurt. He has lost one eye and the other is badly damaged and his face is a mass of cuts and bruises. One of his hands is lacerated very badly and he may lose his hand. George West is also badly hurt as he was struck in the eye as well as the throat.

Huge Rock Scattered

How the accident really happened is hard to report as there are so many versions of it. It seems that they had drilled a hole 26 inches deep in the rock and it exploded, scattering one piece of rock, in size fully four feet by six feet, a long distance. The rift in the balance of the rock was measured the next day.

George Hancock is limping around to-day, but he had several nasty cuts in his legs and the doctor took a piece of wood out of one leg that had been driven in by the explosion.

Theoretical Causes

One theory of the cause of the premature explosion was that several young fellows were sitting on the rock while the drilling was going on and were smoking cigarettes, and that a spark must have gone down in the hole. Another is that when tamping the explosive in the hole a piece of cotton had got in and when the drill struck a piece of granite a spark was formed which set the cotton on fire.

Sympathetic Neighbours

Great sympathy is felt for both families. Mr. Hancock has six children and Mr. West three, and they are "up against it" with the mills not running. Thirty men went in with saws and axes to cut cordwood for the both families as neither had enough on hand to keep them going for any length of time. The boys did hustle some, as fully seventeen cords of wood were cut between two and five o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. R. C. Braund Secures Patent On His Attachment For Piano

Mr. R. C. Braund has recently taken out a patent for a piano attachment he has invented. While in its nature and idea it is very simple it nevertheless fills a long felt want, and will be of particular service to teachers. When young pupils are learning the pianoforte they cannot reach the pedals with their feet. The teacher has also, if she wishes to teach the pupils the use of the pedals to stretch her legs in an endeavour to reach them and thereby hampers the pupil. Even with older pupils it is not sufficient to allow the use of the pedals to their own judgment. When Mr. Braund's children were practising their music their mother would help them over difficult passages and he had noticed the trouble she had in using the pedals. It occurred to him that some simple contrivance could be worked out to avoid this and to arrange some device which would allow a second person to easily manipulate the pedals while some one was playing.

This is what Mr. Braund has invented. The teacher as a rule sits on the pupil's right hand side. Beneath the treble part of the key board is a little piece of mechanism which is worked by the hand. In its general position it does not act but leaves the piano with the pedals up. Moved to one side an inch or so and the result is the same as if the loud pedal were pushed down. Moved the same distance in the opposite direction and the soft pedal is used.

The invention has been placed in the New Scale Williams pianos, one of which arrived the other day at the J. M. Green Music Co.'s store, and may be seen there by any persons interested. This little key, it may be called, controls the action which is all inside the piano. The key is at the teacher's right hand and is easily moved when desired. At a casual glance it would never be noticed. Mr. Braund's idea has been worked out simply but most effectively and those who have seen it acknowledge its worth particularly to beginners and those who do not know when to use the pedals.

Launches At Rye's Boat House Are Preparing For The Water

Things are beginning to look like summer in the vicinity of Rye's boat house or the Otonabee boathouse as it is also known. Some time ago a number of the boats were launched and quite recently several others have followed suit. There are also others that have been taken out of the boathouses and are being painted and "rigged" up preparatory to the first plunge of the present year.

It is stated that Mr. Osborne's trim little craft was "dipped" first three or four weeks ago and that the "Rob Roy" was next in line. During the present week the "Tootsi," owned by Mr. Allin was put in the water and is ready for a season of pleasure and should ply the old Otonabee many times between now and the first of November. The "White Cap" owned by Mr. Perry Alexander has been taken off its stocks and is being touched up for its initial trip. Mr. T. Hooper is reported getting his trim launch ready for the water, and in the next few weeks the procession of boats down the slide from the winter quarters should be kept up until the majority have returned to their element.

The addition to the boathouse which was made by Mr. Rye last fall to accommodate the large number of boats and launches that were added to the fleet anchoring at his landing proved to be none too large as there was an unusually heavy demand for accommodation from the owners. It should not be long now until all of them are out of their hibernating quarters.

St. John's Young People Have Organized For The Summer

A large and representative meeting was held by the young people of St. John's parish last evening, in the Guild room of the church, when reorganization for the summer season was carried into effect.

Mr R. J. Devey was unanimously elected to the position of President of the society, filling the position formerly held by Mr Nat Greenhalgh, lately resigned. Mr Devey has done much to promote the work of the Young People's Society of St. John's in the past and was elected to the position of president of the society at this time, by a unanimous vote.

The work of the Society during the summer, partakes of the form of an active and enthusiastic tennis club, through which means the social life of the church is considerably strengthened and extended.

Affiliation with the Peterborough District Tennis Association was voted by St. John's Society, and Mr. Will Coleman was elected as the representative to that Association, from St. John's Society.

The fees for membership in St. John's Tennis Club are very reasonable, being but 50 cents for the lady members of the church, $1.00 for gentlemen members, $1.00 for ladies not members of the church, and $1.50 for gentlemen not members of the church. There will be a special effort to have the first opening of the Tennis Club for the season on May 24th when arrangements will be carried into effect to make the opening one of much enjoyment and pleasure to all members of the Club. A large number have signified their intention of supporting St. John's Club the coming season, and a very enjoyable and profitable summer is anticipated.

ARGUED THE CASE.

Toronto, April 28.—At 1 o'clock to-day the argument before the divisional court on the motion, which, in effect, is to prevent the crown again calling Florence Kinrade as a witness in the famous Hamilton murder case, was adjourned until 2 p.m. Mr. George Lynch Staunton having then scarcely got over the first part of his case for the quashing of the warrant for Florence Kinrade's arrest. Mr. Staunton argued that the Coroner is appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor and not by Royal warrant or Royal proclamation, and therefore the Coroner's Court and the Coroner cannot issue a warrant for the compulsory attendance of a witness.

Examiner Interviews Residents in Smith, Douro, North Monaghan and Otonabee Regarding the Advance Made in Seeding—Land Is Not Wet—A Shower of Rain Will Do It Good.

NO COMPLAINTS MADE.

In view of rumours to the effect that the conditions among the farmers are not the brightest, that the seeding is late and the growth of the young crops delayed, the Examiner has endeavoured to secure some information from the farmers themselves as to what the situation really is.

Residents of Smith, Douro, Otonabee and North Monaghan were interviewed and without exception the conditions are quite favourable. In the first place there is no alarm felt at the recent quantity of rain fall. It is stated that the surface soil is moist but the substratum is dry and will absorb a great deal of water before any complaint could be made. In fact several of the farmers questioned are looking for a good fall of rain with of course warmer weather. It is true that the seeding is delayed about ten days but this is practically inconsequential. If there is any cause for unrest at present it is the cold weather. The farmers want more humid conditions. Warmth will bring along the fall wheat and restore the pastures to their welcome wealth and verdure. The general feeling prevalent in the proximate townships is one of satisfaction, and statements to the contrary are so far unfounded.

In North Monaghan

Mr. F. E. Wilson, of North Monaghan, stated that seeding operations are just being commenced and are now about ten days overdue. As a general rule this work is begun about the 15th of April, but with favourable conditions this delay will not effect the crops. The ground is unusually dry. There seems to be no reserve moisture underneath and all the rain fall is rapidly absorbed. The farmers are beginning to sow peas, some barley and a little wheat. The land has been pretty nearly all made ready for this work and only in few cases has the work not been already put under way. The fall wheat is coming up well but needs more warmth.

Otonabee Conditions

Otonabee is apparently in a similar position. The farmers are nearly all out on their land, Mr. Sid Bennett states, particularly in the higher and drier sections. In some places it is reported rather wet, but this is only in the low-lying parts. Several of the farmers were out several weeks ago but the brunt of the work has not been begun yet.

Fair In Douro

A week ago Saturday the first work was reported from this township. Few if any complaints are heard of and the farmers are looking ahead to a god season. Mr. P. G. Towns stated that peas were for the most part being planted now. The land is in good condition but the weather is proving to be a sort of obstacle to most favourable conditions.

Satisfied In Smith

Mr. Frank Sanderson and Mr. J. Telford, of Smith, reported general satisfaction in the township to the immediate northwest of the city. Wheat is not being as largely sowed as formerly owing to the fact that it is grown so excellently in the Northwest. Farmers of this district are paying more attention to peas, oats and barley, and these are now being planted.

Mr. D. B. Trew, of North Monaghan, was also seen by the Examiner reporter and he, too, had found conditions quite favourable.

On the whole it is felt that there is no cause for alarm or complaint in this county, and the farmers are not what some city folk would have them,—grumbling at the least approach of anything that may be not just to their liking. They are hoping for the best and the general opinion is that a good season will be experienced.

THE LOST BOY FOUND.

Walter Elliott Located on Farm Three Miles From City.

Walter Elliott, the twelve-year-old youth, who left his home on Wolfe street Monday morning to go to school and did not return in the evening, was located yesterday afternoon on a farm about three miles from the city. Instead of going to school he walked out to the country and stayed with a farmer with whom he was acquainted, until his father came for him.

SHOWCASE SMASHED.

High Wind Last Evening Blew Down One at Richmond's Studio.

The high wind last night blew the large pane of glass in the front of the showcase at the Richmond Photograph Studio, on to the street, breaking it into atoms. This is the second time within a few months that this has occurred, nearly every time the winds blows, it is smashed.

THREE WERE GRANTED.

License Commissioners Met—Four Hotel Keepers Given Three Months Extension.

The License Commissioners met last night and finished up their business. Of the seven licenses held over three were granted, viz.: Fred Clark's license at the Crown Hotel was transferred to Mr. Jackson, Geo. Lipsett of the Maple Leaf, and Geo. Long of the American. The other four, viz., the Queen's, Cavanagh House, Peterborough House and the Grand were granted a three months' extension of their present license.

WILL FORM A CLUB

Youthful Stamp Collectors at the Y.M.C.A. Will Organize To-morrow Night

The stamp collectors in the Boys' Department will form a Collectors' Club. An organization meeting will be held in the Boys' Parlour on Friday night at 7:30.

The purpose of the meeting will be to elect officers and draw up a constitution.

All boys of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Department are invited to attend. For those who do not save stamps this will be a good time to start, as good inducements will be offered to beginners.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

There was a fairly large attendance at St. Luke's schoolroom last evening on the occasion of the address delivered by Mr. F. H. Dobbin on "When I Was a Boy." It was exceedingly interesting and the many humourous incidents he spoke of brought forth rounds of applause from his hearers.

The affair was given under the auspices of Ald. J. J. Turner's Bible Class. Mr. Turner acted as chairman. Mr. M. B. Kilpack gave two well rendered pianoforte selections which were much enjoyed. At the conclusion, dainty refreshments were served and a social time spent, after which the singing of the National Anthem brought a very profitable evening to a close.

WILL BE POSTED.

Young Man Pleaded Guilty to Being Drunk Yesterday.

A young man was charged with being drunk, appearing before the magistrate at the police court this morning. He pleaded guilty and was allowed to go. He has just lately got off the "Indian list" and according to his own story has been on a "spree" ever since. Chief Roszel asked that the prisoner be posted and His Worship gave an order to that effect.

THIS FRACAS COST $25

Frank Varty of Havelock Was Fined by Magistrate Edmison Yesterday

Twenty-five dollars and costs, to be paid within one week, or 60 days in the county gaol, was Magistrate Edmison's judgment upon receiving the evidence in the case of Frank Varty, at Havelock, yesterday. It will be remembered that Varty and his brother, Fred, created a disturbance in the streets of the railway village, during which considerable excitement was stirred up and Fred escaped with the constable's handcuffs about his wrists.

Five witnesses were examined. Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the prisoner, and Mr. Geo. Sherry, of Norwood, represented the Crown. At the conclusion of the hearing of the evidence the Magistrate gave his judgment as stated above.

PAYING EXPENDITURE.

The expenditure of money has a necessarily important effect in promoting or maintaining what is known as "good times." The immense public works under construction in Canada have been one of the chief reasons why commercial depression has affected this country to a lesser degree than any other. Active construction operations on the Grand Trunk Pacific will put an immense volume of capital into motion. Mr. Chamberlain, general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, is authority for the statemnt that that company will spend ten million dollars in railway building this year in the West. The first hundred miles east of Prince Rupert are now under contract, and will be completed by September 1st; and on that date a contract will be let for one hundred and forty miles more eastward. This will leave only 260 miles between Prince Rupert and Winnipeg not under contract. It is expected that this year trains will be running from Fort William to the Rocky mountains, a distance of 1,700 miles. The completion of the main line of the prairie section of the Transcontinental will not be the only work. Next year branch lines will be built, so that for some years the new national railway will give room for employment of labour and expenditure of capital. The expenditure of ten millions in the West on railway construction cannot help having a beneficial effect on commercial conditions in the east, not to speak of the large sums that will be put into motion by active construction operations on the eastern division of the Transcontinental, from Moncton to Winnipeg. Supplies in connection with all these across-the-continent building operations will have to be purchased in the Canadian market, so that not only ten millions in the West, but other millions in the east will be injected into the stream of commerce, with an inevitably stimulating effect.

The C. P. R. loan of thirty million dollars was promptly repaid, the provincial "Soo" guarantee of two millions was promptly repaid, and the ten millions loan to the Grand Trunk Pacific will be repaid with the same national benefits as attended the other two loans.

LEAVE THE TARIFF ALONE.

Abounding revenue, perennial surpluses, industrial activity and prosperity, general prosperity and thrift, and national progress all along the line, are evidences that the Liberal fiscal policy, in its application, is good enough to be retained. There is no evidence that the sentiments of Mr. Blain, of Peel, parliamentary spokesman of the extremists, finds a sympathetic echo among thinking Canadians. Mr. Blain said during the budget debate, he was in favour of "a tariff high enough to keep out of Canada every dollar's worth of goods we can produce or manufacture in Canada." That he did not speak the feeling of sane publicists, is shown by the fact that the Ottawa Journal, edited by Mr. P. D. Ross, president of the Ottawa Conservative Association, thinks that our present tariff is too good to be disturbed, that it is "a good tariff to let alone." The Journal says:

> "If this country were to adopt such a dictum as Mr. Blain's, that we should keep out every dollar's worth of goods that we can produce, we would keep out great quantities of manufactures whoch could certainly be produced in Canada, but only at such a comparatively high cost that if our people were compelled to pay the proportionate retail prices, the expense of private living here would be desperately increased. We imagine that the people of Canada would refuse to have this sort of thing fastened upon them to any greater degree than at present. At any rate, whatever might be argued, as to the possibility of such a doctrine being tolerated in Eastern Canada, there is no chance of the new Western Canada putting up with it; and, so from merely a party point of view, if the Conservative party hopes for any gain in the prairie provinces—where it needs to gain if it is to succeed—the less said about high protectionism the better. Canada has a tariff more than high enough to contribute efficiently towards national solidarity, a tariff high enough to give ample protection to every Canadian industry which has a fair excuse for existence; a tariff apparently well calculated to produce as large a revenue as our governments need to be intrusted with. We fancy, then, that it is a good tariff to let alone, except to cut down where undue business combines are shown to be sheltered by it."

The Journal reasons sanely. Canada has had a ratioanlly moderate, and, above all, particulrly stable, tariff—representing a minimum disturbance of trade conditions—for thirteen years; and under it the country has prospered and flourished as it has never done under a tariff that went far in the direction of realising Mr. Blain's extravagant ambition.

What we have we'll hold.

CONDUCT OF THE KINRADE CASE

At the resumption of the Kinrade inquest in Hamilton, Mr. K. Lynch-Staunton, legal representative of the Kinrade family, disputed the authority of the Coroner to issue a warrant for the arrest of Florence Kinrade for contempt of Court in refusing or neglecting to appear for the third time as a witness at the inquest into the cause of her sister's death. Mr. Staunton in applying for a writ of certiorari to decide the question of the Coroner's jurisdiction in the prémises mentioned, made some pretty severe remarks concerning the manner in which the case before the Coroner was handled by the Crown. No doubt Mr. Staunton's remarks will be read with interest: In speaking before Judge Teetzel in Chambers, he said:

"This young woman was brought into court at eight o'clock and kept till three in the morning. She was examined upon not only her case, but upon every conceivable thing outside, even to asking her how she slept the night before. Then they brought her in again and kept her on the stand from four till eight o'clock. At the end of this time they practically charged her with the murder, most dramatically, as the newspapers said.

"No language can describe the infamy of this procedure.

"The family was subjected to questions which should make the questioner ashamed to show his face in a courtroom again. He cast aspersions upon every member of the family and tried to undermine their reputation. I have not met a counsel in Ontario, who has not condemmed the methods of the Crown counsel in the most pronounced terms.

"He kept at her till 3 o'clock in the morning, and then again for four more hours to try to break here down, and then he accused her of murder.

"Counsel in this civilized country accused a girl of 27 years of age of murdering her own sister. He gets her as feeble as possible, and then he thunders at her to get her to say she murdered her sister.

"If the wings of justice are so badly broken as they have been in this case, then justice in Canada has been dragged in the mud.

"Your Lordship sitting on this bench would not permit such a thing. It was not the license of counsel. It was the torture of this girl.

I have yet to meet the man who has not condemmed this proceeding in the most unmistakable terms.

"This should have been done in private. There is no necessity for making a theatrical spectacle out of it."

Mr. Justice Teetzel interrupted Mr. Staunton in his speech against the methods followed by the Crown prosecutor.

"There is no reason why this motion should be discussed this way," his Lordship said. "Nothing can be gained by learned counsel reprobating counsel on the other side. The latitude of a counsel engaged as Crown representative in a case like this should not be confined perhaps to the limits of the sensibilities of himself or the witness he is examining. It may be necessary, perhaps, to answer questions that are harrowing to the witness and the members of the family. I cannot say that counsel in this case asked questions that were outside the line of his duty to the public."

"But he made charges," said Mr. Staunton. "He made a charge of murder against this girl and then recalled her to give evidence. There's no doubt this case should be probed to the bottom, but I submit that it should not be done this way."

Mr. Cartwright for the Crown submitted that the conduct of the case was quite regular.

The conduct of the case might have been "quite regular," but no doubt the old time punishment of breaking on the wheel or stretching on the rack was made "quite regular," procedure. It is a luxury for a layman to hear one of the cleverest ornaments of the profession "dress down" the bullying tactics of the bar, and there will be few who read the report of the privileged persecution of Miss Florence Kinrade by the Crown prosecutor at the inquest who will not approve and applaud Mr. Staunton's strictures When a Coroner or Crown lawyer convert a statutory court of enquiry into a trial court and proceed to virtually indict or try for murder, a girl against whom had been elicited not a tittle of evidence, more coherent than innuendo, one is not surprised that judical functions or the right to act in the capacity of a superior court judge should be assumed.

The Crown representative at the inquest and the Coroner were more cock sure than Jude Teetsel who would not take even the responsibility of issuing a writ, but turned over the point to the Divisional Court. It is to be hoped that Mr. Staunton's protest against the cruelty of the methods employed in the examination of Miss Kinrade will be effective in preventing a repetition of the bullying and brow beating to which she was subjected. Canadians love justice, but they love also fair play and a certain degree of chivalry even when the momentous interests of justice are at stake.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

If the Toronto railway viaduct lasts as long when built as it takes to build it, the dawn of a new century will shine on its arches.

When we see men of scholarly attainments devoting their abilities to the attempt to establish signal communication with the planet, Mars, we can realize "waht shadows we are and what shadows we pursue." Signalling to be intelligible requires a code, and how can a code be compiled without communication; communication, which, in this case, is self-evidently impossible.

The Globe points out that the Provincial Government has taken away the privilege of settlers who have been allowed to hunt deer for their own use on payment of a license fee of twenty-five cents. In future they will be required to pay $2 for a regular hunting license. Many settlers will find $2 a serious tax, and when they reflect that the abundance of game was one of the inducements the Government held out to them they may be inclined to save the $2 as well as the 25 cents.

Will another Dr. Bingham arise to smite the Provincial Accountants' Association, as he and Dr. Gray have smitten the Medical Council of this Province? It appears that the Accountants' Association of this province has procured the passage by the Ontario Legislature of an act which prevents anybody from "toting up," a column of figures or striking a balance unless he is a member of the Provincial Association. The Dominion Minister of Justice has advised the disallowance of the Act.

CRIMINAL CODE AMENDMENT.

(London Advertiser.)

Some important amendments to the criminal code are proposed in a bill introduced last week by the minister of justice.

At present a person found guilty of carying an offensive weapon, such as a dagger, a knife, a dirk, is punishable by fine. Mr. Aylesworth proposes to make the penalty imprisonment, and in view of the frequency of stabbing affrays, particularly among European immigrants, such legislation appears to be necessary.

The suppression of the manufacture or circulation of indecent or immoral publications or pictures, is aimed at by another clause of the bill, which provides for the extension of the penalties of the statute not only to persons who offend against the law as it now stands, but also to those who either assist in the circulation or distribution of such publications or pictures, or have them in their possession for the pupose of distribution. The exhibition of circulation of plates for the manufacture of such immoral pictures or literature is also made punishable.

The punishment of persons convicted of procuring is increased from two to five years by another clause of the bill, and following out the provisions of the statute of last session prohibiting the use of opium, it is made an indictable offence to keep an opium "joint."

The stealing of gold or silver-bearing quartz is made punishable by another provision, which also makes it less difficult to convict for that offence, which appears to be quite prevalent in the Cobalt and elsewhere. This is similar to the Australian and South African laws.

It is also made a criminal offense to reproduce or sell musical compositions which are the subject of copyright but have not been printed.

Another provision has regard to the length of time during which cattle may be confined in the railway cars without removal in course of transit, and is introduced on the representations of boards of trade and other bodies. The law at present limits the period to 28 hours, and it is promised to extend it to 36 hours. Parliament will do well to weigh this clause carefully, as many humanitarians say the present period of detention is too long.

The withdrawal of all cases of homicide from the jurisdiction of courts of quarter sessions is contemplated by another clause. That is at present a provision of the Ontario statute on the subject, but it conflicts with the provisions of the criminal code, which permit cases of manslaughter to be tried at the sessions. It is to remove this lack of harmony between Federal and Provincial legislation that this amendment to the code is proposed.

The most important of a number of proposed amendments in regard to methods of procedure is a provision making a corporation a municipality or a company clearly liable to be proceeded against by a summary process before a justice of the peace. In the past, difficulty has frequently been experienced in bringing such a body corporate before the court in the absence of any express provision, making a municipality or a company liable to the summary jurisdiction of a justice of the peace.

LAZIEST MAN LOSES THE PRIZE

Judge Suspends Love Rivalry in Case and Fines Culprit

Maryville, Mo., April 24. — For stealing a cake awarded to Ross Scott, as the laziest man in his township, Andrew Anderson, a Dane, was fined $5 and costs in the Circuit Court here to-day by Judge W. C. Ellison. Anderson and friends were outdoors at a country school social, preparing to eat the prize, when Scott appeared on the scene and accused Anderson of stealing his hat, which Anderson had grabbed with the cake.

"I resented being called a thief before all dose peeples," explained Anderson, "so I hit Scott in the face with a handful of cake."

"I suspect you were both in love with the same beautiful country girl," said Judge Ellison, "and fine you, as the incident doubtless shocked the people."

OSHAWA TO HAVE TWO SOCCER CLUBS

In district One of the Midland Football League, the Oshawa II team is to be known as Oshawa St. Georges, hence the schedule for that district will now read:

I.

May 8—Oshawa at Bowmanville.
May 15—Bowmanville at Oshawa.

II.

May 8—Cobourg at Oshawa St. Georges.
May 15—Oshawa St. Georges at Cobourg.
May 22—Winners I. at Winners II.
May 29—Winners II. at Winners I.

When the schedule was drawn up on Saturday it was known that there were two teams in Oshawa and the only way to distinguish them was by I and II. On Monday, word was received that the II team had decided on the name "Oshawa St. Georges." However, it will be noticed that only the names differ from those published on Monday and that the dates and places of games are exactly the same.

DOPE ON THE BIG MARATHON

The veterans of the game are R. J. Atton, who is over 50, and William McNeil, and Daniel Bennett, both of whom are beyond the early thirties, but all are vigorous old athletes, and all have strong followings.

The entrance of Tom Coley, of Thorold, pulled Fred Simpson and John D. Marsh down a peg in the betting, because Tom is a boy who can go the route, and when he is running for the change it is a safe wager that he will make the fur fly. The disturbing factors in the calculations of the birds, however, are Percy C. Sellen and W. F. Cumming of Toronto. Abbie Wood, of Montreal, and Fred Meadows, the Rockwood boy. All four are flyers at middle distances. If anyone can last the route, he has got to be reckoned with seriously, for with the lead they can take, in the first fifteen miles they will take a whole lot of beating on end. Red Hawk, too, has many supporters, and Charlie Petch cannot be lightly disregarded.

Of the others but little is known. Windmill, the last entry, is an Englishman who ran many races in the Old Country around Stombridge. He is in grand shape. Guala, the Italian, did a remarkable 17-mile trial yesterday at the Island. Abbie Wood did 12 miles under 1.11.00 at Varsity yesterday, and made a good impresion. Petch gallopped 8 steady miles. Reddney walked and ran 10 miles. Sellen walked 6 mies, and Cummings did 8 miles at the same trick, and all finished right except Redding, whose stomach bothered him.

INTERMEDIATE BALL LEAGUE

The Attendance Was Not Large and No Business Was Transacted

The meeting of the Intermediate City Baseball League held last night at the Y. M. C. A. did not accomplish very much, owing to the fact that only four teams were represented and the most of the officers were unable to attend. The representatives present were Messrs. McNirn and Halpin, West Ends; Foley and Maloney, Lakeviews; P. Kerr, Y.M.C.A., and Metheral and Wilson, Strathconas. It was decided to adjourn the meeting until Tuesday night of next week, when it is hoped that there will be a larger representation present.

There was a long and heated argument over some parts of the constitution, but no new rules were adopted, and the matter will be threshed out at the next meeting.

SIMPSON TO RUN IN $10,000 DERBY

"Fred Simpson will probably start in the big $10,000 Marathon in New York May 8," said Tom Eck, the Ojibway Thunderbolt's manager, who arrived from New York to-day with Simpson for the Canadian Marathon here Saturday.

"Simpson has gone to Hiawatha to see his wife and family, and will be back to-morrow. If it hadn't been for his bad knee he would have beaten S[illegible] easily in New York on April 18. The knee bothered him four miles before he quit. Do you know Appleby has been laid up ever since that race at Rosedale with Simpson. The cold got Simpson in the knee, but it struck Appleby inwardly, and he has been in trouble ever since. Simpson is all right for the race Saturday. He'll win sure."

ST. PETER'S SCHOOL BOYS ORGANIZE

Will Have a Baseball Team This Year and Are Out for Games

The boys of St. Peter's school organized a baseball club last night, when the following officers were elected:

Hon.-Pres.—Rev. P. J. Kelly.
Pres.—Clare Callaghan.
Sec.-Treas.—Harold Morrow.
Manager.—Mr. W. O'Brien.
Captain—Herb O'Hearn.
Executive Committee — Clare Callaghan, Nagle Phelan, Harold Morrow.

The colours of the club will be green and white. The team will be open to all juvenile clubs for games.

GRAYS SURPRISE LEAGUE LEADERS

The Peterborough Bowling League at the P. B. C. alleys is drawing to a close and the next week will see the championship decided as there are but two more games to be played. The Grays surprised the Pacifics last night by taking two out of three from the League leaders. The Pacifics counted on at least two out of the series, but the Grays were there with two victories, annexing the first and third games. The Packers won the second by a large margin.

To-morrow night there will be another important game in the series as the Examiner A will hook up with the Iroquois. The race is between the Examiner team and the Pacifics, and a win for the newspapermen will put them right in line for the championship. The two leaders have still a game to play with each other, which will make a sensational climax to a hot race. Following were the scores last night:

Grays.

N. Perry	147	119	195	461
McFadden	160	102	192	454
R. Perry	125	108	149	382

THE BIG $10,000 MARATHON DERBY

New York, April 28.—Arrangements were practically completed on Saturday for the biggest professional Marathon race yet held in this country—the grand International Marathon for a purse of $10,000, in which a score of the leading professional long distance runners from all over the world have been invited to compete over the course at the polo grounds on the afternoon of May 8th. The event is open to the world and will finally determine the world's championship at the classic distance of 26 miles, 385 yards. Most of the leading runners invited to compete are: St. Yves, Longboat, Dorando, Shrubb, Hayes, Maloney, Svanberg, White, Simpson and Carajal.

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES

The Torontos were in wrong at Baltimore yesterday and were badly trimmed by the Orioles, using three pitchers, only to be beaten 8-2. The Maple Leafs could not hit together, and they had a field day of misplays as well. Rudolph started in to pitch, but was wild and had to be yanked out in the third in favour of Kellogg, who lasted until the seventh, when he was hammered for five runs. Hickey finished the game and stopped the scoring. Torontos had five errors and most of them were costly. Grimshaw made his first appearance, batting for Mitchell in the ninth and getting a nice single.

Jersey City Again.

Jersey City has yet to be beaten. The Skeeters won their fifth straight victory yesterday, again beating Montreal. The Caseyites could not hit Dr. Manser's offerings with any degree of certainty, while the Grays did some good sticking at the expense of Pitcher Wicker. Jersey City won by 4-3.

Rochester at Last.

Rochester's luck turned and the Bronchos put it all over Newark yesterday with a score of 10-2. They took kindly to Frill's pitching and bumped the ball to all parts of the field, while the Sailors could do little with Snyder's delivery.

Buffalo Lost Again.

Buffalo lost again to Providence, the Herd being defeated 7-4. The Grays hammered Malarkey for thirteen safeties, while Hardy held the Bisons to seven. Both sides had four misplays, the cold weather being responsible.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

In the National League, Boston gave Mugsy McGraw's New York Giants an awful trimming, the Bean Eaters winning 10-0. Ferguson held the Gothamites to two hits, while Boston pounded Pitchers Ames, Durham and Waller at will, getting fifteen hits. New York had seven errors, while Boston played errorless ball.

Phelps' Muff Hurt.

A muff by Phelps of a throw to the plate, in the eighth innings of the game at St. Louis, allowed Pittsburg to beat the Cardinals by 7-6. Pittsburg used two pitchers, Willis being pounded off the slab in the fourth, and Adams finished the game.

Covaleskie as Usual.

Philadelphia, with Giant Killer Covaleskie pitching, were too much for Brooklyn beating the Superbs 3-2. The Phillies got nine hits off Pitcher Bell. Dooin, Philadelphia's catcher and Manager Lumley, of Brooklyn, were put out of the game for kicking.

The Cincinnati-Chicago game was postponed on account of rain.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

In the American League only two games were played, New York beating Boston, and Chicago nosing out St. Louis.

The New York-Boston game was hard fought, the Highlanders winning 4-3. Morgan, who started in for Boston, was driven off the slab, and Cicotte and Arrelanes finished out the battle. Boston started a rally in the ninth, but Stallings sent in Quinn to replace Wilson and stopped the run-getting.

Sullivan Won This.

Catcher Sullivan, Fielder Jones' successor as manager of the Chicago White Socks won yesterday's game for Chicago over St. Louis by singling in the ninth, with two out, and scoring Cravath. Waddell, for St. Louis, and Doc. White for the Socks, were in great form, the former allowing only four and the latter only three hits.

WITH THE RUNNERS.

WATCH COLEY.

Sol Mintz, who will be behind Tom Coley in the Canadian Marathon Derby, is one of those wise guys who say but little when they have a good thing in hand. Watch Coley! He may surprise Marsh, Simpson, the pluggers, and the speed merchants, too.—Toronto Star.

SHRUBB AND ST. YVES.

Montreal, April 27.—Alfred Shrubb and St. Yves, the winner of Pat Powers' Derby Marathon in New York some time ago, have been matched to run 20 miles at either the Shamrock or National grounds on May 16. The purse for the run is to be $5,000, the largest amount ever put up for an event of its kind in Canada.

BAKER IS HIS TRAINER.

Eddie Cotter, the West End Y. M. C. A. long-distance man, who is entered in the Brantford-to-Hamilton Marathon, is training hard under the eye of Dick Baker, Fred Simpson's old trainer. Cotter made a 25-mile trial the other day.

MOST UNLIKELY STORY.

Hamilton, April 7.—It is probable that William J. Sherring and Bobby Kerr will apply for cards in the so-called Federation because of their dissatisfaction with the C.A.A.U. Bobby Kerr claims that he cannot meet crack men at his distance under C.A.A.U. rules since the war broke out between the malcontents and the C.A.A.U. At the same time he would like to be in a position to take part in English meets next summer, and meet Rector, who nosed him out last year at London. At present he cannot run against Rector, and is dissatisfied about it, and with some other rules of the Canadian Union which limit him.

Billy Sherring claims that he was turned down by the C.A.A.U. and that if he wishes to continue as an amateur he has no course left him but to join the Federation.

• • •

Little Sammy Mellor is a grand testimony to the "killing" effects of Marathon running. He won the Boston event seven years ago, and was fifth in a field of more than a hundred and fifty runners last Monday. And Sammy has been running these races at every opportunity in the meantime. Most of the advice about the danger of distance running comes from old women and those who never refer to any form of sport except to snarl at it.

• • •

The Victoria Harriers had a meeting at the club house, Park street, last night and followed it up with a run that was enjoyable in spite of the disagreeable weather. The Vics will meet again to-morrow night and will have another run.

THINGS IN GENERAL IN SPORTING WORLD

Jas. A. Graham or Jimmie, as he was known to the crowd, who saw the walking match here last year, has written Mr. C. G. Graham stating that he will be here for the match that is now proposed. He is appearing in Milwaukee in the match from May 10th to 15th.

• • •

The annual meeting of Nicholls' Oval Tennis Club will be held on Tuesday evening, May 4th, in the Y. M. C. A., when officers will be elected and other important business will be transacted. A full attendance of members is looked for.

Moran Outclassed Neil

New Haven, Conn., April 27. — Frankie Neil, of San Francisco, fought twelve hard rounds with Owen Moran, of England, here last night. No decision was given, but Neil was outclassed from the start when he went through the ropes from a left-handed drive by Moran. Time and again Neil loked as if he would be knocked out, but he was game and came back with a rush.

Moran finished without a scratch, but his opponent was badly cut up about the face. The men were to have fought at 124 pounds, but Moran refused to weigh in and lost his forfeit. Neil weighed 121 and Moran looked to be many pounds heavier.

Attell Beat Biz MacKay

Columbus, Ohio, April 27.—Abe Attell, of California, champion featherweight boxer, last night outclassed Biz Mackay, of Findlay, Ohio, in eight rounds of a ten-round bout. He knocked Mackay down twice in the eighth round, whereupon the police stopped the bout.

HORRORS OF MASSACRE.

Constantinople, April 28.—An account of the disorders at Adana has been received here by telegraph from Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons, a missionary.

"The entire Vilayet of Adana has been visited during the past five days by a terrible massacre of Armenians, the worst ever known in the history of the district.

"Conditions have been unsettled for some time and there has been animosity between Turks and Armenians owing to the political activity of the latter and their open purchasing of arms.

"William Chambers, field secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, and myself proceeded last Wednesday to the Konak and found a howling mob demanding arms with which to kill the Gisours. We then went to the Turkish office to summon the British consul. On the steps of the building we saw three Armenians who had been massacred.

"Adana became a hell. The bazaars were looted and set on fire. There was continuous shooting and killing in every part of the town and fires raged in many quarters.

"Moslems from the neighborhood began pouring into the city and notwithstanding our vehement protests, the Vali distributed arms to these men, alleging that they were Turkish reserves.

"On Friday the Armenians yielded, since when there has been little murdering.

"Adana is in a pitiable condition. The town has been pillaged and destroyed, and there are thousands of homeless people here without means of livelihood. The corpses lie scattered through the streets. On Saturday morning I counted a dozen cartloads of Armenian bodies in one-half hour being carrid to the river and thrown into the water. In the Turkish cemeteries graves are being dug wholesale."

IMPRISONED IN CAR.

Canadian Spends Four Days Without Food or Water.

Elmira, N.Y., April 28.—Locked in a box-car, filled with barley, for four days and nights, without any food or water, Charles Connors of Chester Springs, Canada, looked like a ghost when he was helped from a Lackawanna train in the local yards yesterday afternoon by Lackawanna Detective Gorman and Patrolman McCarthy.

Connors had been working in Chicago as a laborer. On Saturday night he had something to eat in Chicago about 6 o'clock. He went to the railroad yards and climbed into a box-car, partially filled with barley. He was heading for Kingston, Ont., where he has relatives. He fell asleep for a short time and when he awoke he found the car had been locked and sealed.

In the meantime the car was taken to Buffalo and started on its final trip to New York. At Bath the brakeman heard hammering and shouting inside the car.

DEVELOPMENTS IN CASE.

Police Have Unearthed New Facts In the Kinrade Mystery.

Hamilton, April 28.—As a result of a sudden visit of detectives to the Kinrade residence yesterday, it is whispered to-day that some strong evidence corroborative of facts learned in Virginia was unearthed. Inspector Miller, at whose suggestion the Pinkertons were sent to Virginia and who was here for a short while yesterday, absolutely declined to discuss the matter.

Whether the inquest resumes on Thursday night will depend altogether on the ability of the crown to secure the attendance of Florence Kinrade. Mr. Blackstock is determined to wait until he can have an opportunity of asking her a few more questions on matters which have become pertinent to the enquiry since her last appearance.

Must Find New Home.

Toronto, April 28.—Owing to the selling out to-morrow of the "Abberley" on Sherbourne street, the Kinrades will have to find another home. It is understood that they applied for rooms at a nearby apartment house, but were refused.

Meanwhile the Thiel Detective Agency has two men on the job night and day, so that the family's every move will be known.

MINER IN OTTAWA?

Western Desperado Is Reported to Be In the Capital.

Ottawa, April 28.—That the notorious Bill Miner was in Ottawa Saturday, April 17, and remained here for several hours; that he was in the house of David McNab, 12 Redpath street, and that he left the Redpath house for Carleton Place, where he remained for a time, to return to a hamlet near Ottawa, where he is now hiding, is the sensational story that The Evening Journal publishes.

The Journal says that McNab saw the local police. Chief Detective Dicks, interview last night by a reporter, bore this out, but says the name given was not McNab. He referred the man to Col. Sherwood, head of the Dominion police.

Miner Around Woodstock.

Woodstock, April 28.—Police Chief Thompson says that last fall a farmer was robbed by a man whom he believed was Miner, and he sent west for a photo. This he showed to the woman where this man had been staying and she identified it.

An Interesting Convention.

Toronto, April 28.—Art, education, health and physical training, industrial matters, laws concerning women and children, literature, philanthrophy, professions for women, social work and reform, finance and other such matters affecting women, will be the subjects of addresses and discussions at the congress of the International Council of Women, to be held in Toronto in June next. Her Excellency the Countess Grey is expected to be present, and one of her predecessors at Government House, the Countess of Aberdeen, now of the Vice-Regal Lodge, Dublin, Ireland, will also be present, as president of the International Council.

Epidemic of Suicide.

Elmira, N.Y., April 28.—Within 48 hours three persons have committed suicide here and a fourth has failed in an attempt to end her life. Sunday Mrs. Carrie Baldwin ended her life by taking laudanum and hanging herself from a bedpost in her room in a local hotel; Monday night Edwin Nichols, aged 28, discouraged in his efforts to support an invalid mother and earn a living, drank laudanum after reading of Mrs. Baldwin's suicide. Yesterday morning Miss Gray Gilbert, aged 27, after brooding over ill-health, drank carbolic acid.

Woman's Masquerade.

Sydney, N.S.W., April 28—A strange story has been unfolded in the arrest here of a person who had been masquerading as a nephew of Archbishop Redwood of Wellington, New Zealand. When arrested the prisoner was found to be a woman of the name of Boch and for whom the police had been searching ever since last January on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences.

The Boch woman last week courted almost certain disaster by marrying the young daughter of her boarding house keeper at Nugget's. The local member of Parliament was among the wedding guests.

Explosion Injures Three.

St. John, N.B., April 28.—As the result of an accident in the roundhouse at Woodstock, yesterday morning Henry Cox, sr., will probably die; John McElvancy is seriously injured, and Harry Allan badly cut. The men were straightening a piston rod from the action of the fire when the rod was struck by the hammer. The compressed air exploded the cylinder-box and it flew in pieces, horribly mangling Cox and breaking McElvancy's leg in three places and cutting Allan.

Losses of Ice Jam.

Niagara Falls, N.Y. April 28.—What is regarded as a conservative estimate places the damage caused by the ice jam at $500,000, about $200,000 of which will be business losses entailed by the Ontario Power Co., the Niagara Navigation Co., and the Gorge trolley road and other interests down the river.

Quarter Fare for Riflemen.

Ottawa, April 28.—Riflemen of Canada who are contemplating shooting in the coming D.R.A. matches will be allowed one-quarter of single fare for coming to the meeting. This means it will cost them a quarter of actual fare only, as the shots now get single fare for the double journey.

An Auto Fatality.

Katotowitz, Prussian Silesia, April 27.—Count Gustav Von Bellestrem was killed Monday when his automobile crashed into a tree. The count's skull was fractured.

Denies New Trial.

Nashville, Tenn., April 28.—Judge Hart yesterday overruled the motion for a new trial in the Cooper murder case, and an appeal was taken to the Tennessee Supreme Court.

LONDON, April 27.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 13½c to 13¾c per pound for Canadian steers, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9¾c to 10c per lb.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, April 27.—The railways reported 53 carloads of live stock at the City Market.

Exporters.

There were a few cattle on the market of export weight, but no buyers, consequently everything was taken for butcher purposes.

Butchers.

The highest price reported for picked butchers' was given by H. P. Kennedy, who made a sale at $5.45; loads of good sold at $5 to $5.25; medium and this class took in the bulk of the cattle on sale, ranged from $4.60 to $5 per cwt.; common at $4 to $4.50; cows, $3.35 to $4.40; bulls, $4 to $4.40.

Stockers and Feeders.

Harry Murby reported that he had many orders to fill, but could not pay the prices; that butchers were paying for feeders to kill. Mr. Murby reported prices as follows: Best feeders, 1000 to 1100 lbs. each, at $4.50 to $4.75; best feeders, 850 to 950 lbs. each, at $3.90 to $4.25; best stockers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.50.

Milkers and Springers.

There were less than 20 milkers and springers on sale and few top-notchers. Napoleon Dezlel of Montreal, besides many local dealers, were on the market, and all offerings were readily taken. Prices ranged from $30 to $60 each, and had there been better quality on sale, higher prices would have been paid.

Veal Calves.

Receipts large; quality generally inferior, which caused prices to be low for the bulk. Prices ranged at from $3 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts were a little larger. Export ewes sold at $4.50 to $5; rams, $3.50 to $4.25; yearling lambs of good quality, $7 to $7.50 per cwt., and selected lots as high as $8 per cwt.; common yearlings, $5 to $6 per cwt.; spring lambs, $3 to $5.50.

Hogs.

Receipts light; prices steady, at $7.50 for selects, fed and watered at market, and $7.25 f.o.b. cars at country points.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 27.—Cattle—Steady; prime steers, $6.30 to $6.65.

Detroit to Stanley.

Detroit, Mich., April 28.—Since Port Stanley, Ont., is catering to a large number of residents from this side of the border line, the need of a direct line of steamships from that port to some port on or in the vicinity of Lake Erie, has developed. There is some talk of establishing the needed port here. A. E. Thomas, late general manager of the Eastland Steamship Co., has been in St. Thomas for the last few days promoting the incorporation of a company to operate just such a line of freight and passenger steamers.

ZAM-BUK CURED HER BABY

Mothers will find the following statement of more than passing interest, showing, as it does, how Zam-Buk ends the skin-diseases of children, even when ordinary remedies have completely failed. Mrs. C. W. Bowerbank, of 126, Denison Avenue, Toronto, says:—

"Not long ago my baby's face broke out in an eruption. The spots would crack and be very irritating and sore. At other times they itched fearfully, and caused the child to scratch and rub, thus making the sores very inflamed and painful. I tried all sorts of ointments and salves, but they somehow did not seem able to remove the trouble. Zam-Buk proved very different, and a few applications gave the child relief. The sores are now healed completely.

"Since that time my little daughter has had occasion to use Zam-Buk for skin trouble. She broke out in blotches on her hands and arms, and in her case also Zam-Buk effected a cure.

"We now keep Zam-Buk handy as a household balm, and do not intend to be without it.

"Not only for skin diseases, but for cuts, burns and bruises, it is a fine remedy. The other day I burned my hand badly. An application of Zam-Buk seemed to take the fire out of it at once, and it soon healed. In the course of my experience I have tried pretty near all the salves and ointments obtainable, but there is nothing to come near Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk is Nature's own healing balm, being composed of pure herbal essences. It is a sure cure for pimples and eruptions, eczema, ring-worm ulcers, cuts, burns, bruises, poisoned sores, chronic wounds, bad leg, piles, festering sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. Druggists and stores everywhere sell at 50c. a box, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto; 3 boxes $1.25. You are warned against cheap and harmful imitations sometimes represented to be "just as good."

WERE PLEASED WITH THE SHOW

Farmers Think Stallion Show Was Successful and Should Be Held Yearly

A number of farmers were found on the market this morning, having come in for the Wednesday business and in talking with them, they stated to an Examiner representative that they were thoroughly pleased with the recent horse show and considered that an affair of this kind was in the right direction and was certainly in the interests of good horse flesh. Most of them were of the opnion that an affair of this kind should be held annually.

They are also looking forward to the seed fair next winter and from their statements it seems that there will be a large entry list, particularly in oats, peas and barley and also to some extent in wheat.

COURT STANLEY A.O.F. IN REGULAR SESSION

The regular meeting of Court Stanley, A. O. F. was held last night in S. O. E. hall. Bro. H. Hanwell presided in the absence of the Chief Ranger. One member was admitted by clearance card, and one application was received for membership. Considerable business was done for good of the order and a committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual church parade of the court. Bros. East and Appleton were elected Senior and Junior Woodward for balance of term.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE JOHN CRAIG SR.

The funeral of the late John Craig, sr., took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, Hunter St. east, to the Little Lake cemetery. It was largely attended, many turning out to pay their last token of respect to the memory of the deceased. The service was said by Rev. Dr. Talling, who is the officiating clergyman at St. Paul's church during the pastor's illness. The pall-bearers were the deceased's five sons, Messrs. John T., Samuel, Joseph, Aulie and Bert Craig, and his son-in-law, Mr. Jas Gillespie.

Indigestion— Pain After Eating

No remedy compares with Nerviline. It instantly imparts a gentle stimulus to the digestive organs, and effectively prevents the unpleasant consequences of gas forming in the stomach.

Sufficiently pleasant to be given to the youngest child, useful in all diseases of the stomach and bowels, Nerviline is simply indispensable in every household. Is it in yours?

Pain—Its Origin And Utility.

Pain is the warning cry of a nerve, and absolutely necessary to our existence; no highly organised animal could live without it. Yet ever since man has had brain enough to think, his mind has been troubled to explain pain.

Whenever ancient man inflicted pain on anybody it was with an idea of vengeance or punishment, as when he cuffed his child, kicked his dog or lay in wait for his neighbour with a club. Animals inflicted pain for similar motives. So it was clear in the mind of primeval man that there was always a maligant motive behind pain, except in accidents, where he felt or otherwise inflicted it on himself.

In the course of time aches appeared from an unseen cause. His head ached, or there were pains inside his abdomen, yet nobody had bitten him or struck him. Who could be doing it? Man analysed the situation and invented the idea of a supernatural being. It must be some being that could not be seen or appreciated by the senses, unless, perhaps, the sound of wind was his moving about. He could walk across water and through walls and lay his hand of pain wherever the victim might be.

Whether the spirit lived in the sky or mountain tops, or under the earth, was a matter of individual opinion, and no great importance.

The main question was how to induce the spirit to stop his punishment. The sufferer at once thought of what he would do if his neighbour were sitting on his chest and beating him. He would, of course, beg for mercy and promise never to offend again. So the sufferer talks to the imaginary spirit, who must be present, because he is hurting him. In a humble voice he begs for mercy, asks the spirit to enlighten him as to what his offence has been and that he will never do it again. In this way originated prayer.

If the pain ceased, well and good; the spirit had been propitiated by the prayer—that was certain. But if the pain continued, the sufferer felt that he must do more than pray. He thought of his neighbour again. If words could soften the wrath of the man, the only thing to do would be to give him something of value—a dog or a weapon, perhaps.

Clearly the spirit must be appeased in the same way. Here arose the idea of sacrifice.

For the origin of pain we must look far back in the history of evolution. The power of motion must have developed before the sense of pain.

Pain would be of no use to a creature unable to move away from the object that hurt it. Probably a sense of discomfort was the ancestor of pain.

Though pain is wholly a matter of the nerves, yet the centre of all the nerves—the brain—can feel no pain. In cutting through the scalp and skull excruciating pain is felt, and yet when the brain itself is reached, it does not hurt at all to cut and remove portions.

Even headaches, which seem to be located in the brain, are really in the very sensitive nerves that lie under the scalp and communicate through the skull with the brain. Poison in the blood sets these nerves to shrieking before most other parts of the body. Rheumatism, having a habit of selecting places to suit itself, causes the nerves to cry out in whatever portion of the body this ailment sets up an irritation.

Pain is most unbearable when it contains the element of irritation. Severe pain may be driven from the mind, for a time, at least, by a great effort of the will, and the sufferer can work and think effectively in spite of it; he may even sleep. Very often a person suffering torture from a headache will fall asleep almost as soon as he lies down.

A small pain, on the contrary, when accompanied by irritation, cannot be ignored. Such a case is a toothache. The pain from a toothache is not great, but the nerve is irritated, and its clamourings permit the mind no peace, sleep nor distraction of any kind.

Man And Wife After Divorce Court Proceedings Chat Together

St. Louis, April 27.—William A. Godbey was the first to greet his former wife, Lillian B. Godbey, of No. 930 South Newstead avenue, after she had been granted a divorce by Judge Grimm. As the woman was leaving the court-room the man from whom she had just obtained her freedom rushed to her side and seized her hand.

Lillie, what you said on the stand was true, and I'm sorry I treated you that way," he exclaimed. "I have no ill feeling towards you and wish you success. You did fine. All I ask is that you permit me to see our child occasionally."

As Godbey spoke he tightened his grasp on his wife's hand and shook it. She smilingly thanked him for his well wishes.

"It's too bad you did not come to your senses long ago," she said.

She told him that she felt sorry for him, and that he might go to her home to see their child as often as he wished.

Mrs. Godbey's suit for divorce was not resisted, but the defendant was present in court to hear what she said. He sat in the jury box and the Court refused to tell him to vacate when Mrs. Godbey's attorney objected to his sitting so near the witnesses.

"He doesn't look very dangerous," the Judge said.

The woman testified that her husband drank to excess and that her efforts to reform him had failed. There were two separations, she said, before the final one, which occurred Feb. 15, 1908. She said she supported herself and child most of the time.

Godbey was called to the stand by Judge Grimm and asked what he had to say for himself. He admitted he was a "terrible drinker." "Why don't you straighten out?" asked the Judge. The man answered that it was hard for him to leave liquor alone.

Before leaving the stand Godbey asked the Court to grant him the privilege of visiting the child.

"I will make no such order until he shows signs of reformation," said Judge Grimm. The defendant was ordered to pay alimony.

WARSAW'S LATEST ITEMS OF INTEREST

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, April 27.—The third meeting of the Municipal Council of Dummer was held on Saturday the 10th day of April, 1909, commencing at 11 o'clock, Reeve and Councillors were all present.

Minutes of meeting, Feb. 6th, read and signed. Moved by Mr. Martin and Mr. Greystock that the time be extended two years for Mr. W. H. Wilson to remove the timber on the 5th Concession line, opposite Lots 30, 31, 32.

Moved by Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Martin that the time be extended for two years for Mr. S. Kavanagh to remove the timber purchased by him on the 5th Con.

Moved by Mr. Martin and Mr. Greystock that a special grant of $35.00 be paid to Elijah S. Huttel for work performed and timber furnished for culverts on roadside from the 10th to the 12th lines, and that an order be drawn on the treasurer for the same.

Mr. George Harding applied to the Council to be relieved from the disadvantage he is under with reference to his children attending school. Mr. Harding is in School Section No. 4, but on account of the distance to go by road, it was impossible for his children to attend that school, so they always attended Union No. 10, Dummer, or commonly called the Garbutt School. The trustees of Union School section aforesaid have notified Mr. Harding that if his children attend any longer he will have to pay a monthly rate for them. Mr. Harding therefore desired to be removed from School Section No. 4, and to be placed in S. S. No. 10.

Moved by Mr. Martin and Mr. Ferguson that Mr. Carveth be appointed to see the trustees of S. S. No. 4 with reference to allowing Mr. Harding to be placed in Union S. S. aforesaid.

Moved by Mr. Carveth and Mr. Martin that Mr. H. A. Moore be paid the sum of $70 on account of contract for opening up sideroad between Lots 25 and 26, Con. 1 and 2, and that an order be drawn on the Treasurer in favour of Mr. Moore for same.

Moved by Mr. Martin and Mr. Greystock that the following accounts be passed for payment, and that orders be drawn on the Treasurer for the same.

Joseph Moore, for rent of Orange Hall for election	$ 4.00
D. Munro, M.D., professional services to small pox case	47.55
Wm. Armstrong, goods furnished parties under quarantine	14.60
E. Carveth, balance of salary as collector	15.00
David Kidd, for tile pipe	10.00
G. W. Green, for half cost of pump on boundary	5.50
Mary T. Yourex, for gravel	5.00
Mrs. N. Stephens, for three months' allowance as per motion	6.00

Council adjourned to meet as Court of Revision on the assessment roll on Saturday the 22nd day of May, 1909, commencing at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

A meeting of the Warsaw Rifle Association will be held on Saturday evening, May 1st. As the service roll will be closed at this meeting it will be necessary for all those intending to join to do so before that date.

Misses Lillian Smithson and M. Bateman, Millbrook, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smithson.

Mr. David Kidd, of Indian River, was in town on Thursday.

Mr. Wm. Armstrong, who has been employed with the C. N. R. in Muskoka, returned to his home last week.

Miss Grace Brown, Norwood, is now spending a few days in town.

Mr. Alex Small leaves on Wednesday for Portage-la-Prairie, Man., where he will visit his son, Mr. George Small.

Mrs. C. M. Smith, who has been spending the winter in Eastern Ontario, returned to town on Monday evening.

Minnesota Governor Signs Bill and Bargain Sales Begin

Minneapolis, Minn., April 24. — With the signing of the anti-cigarette bill by Governor Johnson, the cigarette slaughter sale is on in Minneapolis, and from this time till the finish, August 1, every dealer of the "independent" variety will aim to get rid of his stock.

There are large stocks of cigarettes and cigarette paper in the trust which will not share the same fate as the others, because they can be shipped by the corporation stores in other states there to be sold at regular prices.

These stores, however, in order to give an appearance of heading the procession, began their slaughter sale several days ago. Now the other dealers are in line.

Dainties for the Summer Gown

New Effect of the Season

A TRIP ABROAD—a visit in the largest fashion centre of the world (Paris) could not reveal any more sightly or more fashionable fabrics than can be found in our own little city. Undoubtedly a greater variety might be seen and greater quantities too would be at your command, but, when the matter of correctness and newness is concerned, we will show our stock with the confidence that there is nothing made that will outdo it in these respects. We will endeavour to describe three lines which have just arrived and await your critical inspection at the Summer Fabric counter—Main Floor Right.

New American

PLISSE (crepe) FRANCAIS

ɩid Farewell To Mr. Meyers On His Departure For This City

e Listowel Banner has the follow-

n impromptu gathering of business and citizens was held in the Council mber Monday night to do honour r. J. W. Meyers before his depart- for Peterborough the following day. Meyers has for many years been of the town's substantial citizens, ye public spirited and progressive a man of sterling integrity of char- r. The gathering was very hast- arranged, but was a representative of the business men of the town, was noticeable for the spontaneous willing manner in which so many ved tributes were paid to Mr. rs and his estimable family, and rory general regret expressed at his rture, though at the same time ing him an abundant measure of ess in his new undertaking. Mr. J. Scott was appointed chairman, and J. H. Gunther, secretary, and Mr. Rothwell made the presentation, Mr. Scott read the address. Mr. rs was much affected by the ex- sion of goodwill and replied very ly. Short speeches were also made essrs. F. W. Hay, T. L. Hamilton, ule, J. M. Schinbein, W. C. Kidd, r Foerch and the other gentlemen nt.

presentation to Mr. and Mrs. rs consists of a handsome quar- at oak armchair and rocker with lstered seats and backs, a gold jew- se each for the Misses Meyers, and a handsome gold mounted bedroom clock for Homer. A beautiful gold headed silk umbrella was also presented to Mrs. Meyers by her lady friends and neighbours.

The address read was as follows:—

To John Meyers, Esq.,

Dear Sir:—We have learned with deep regret, your intention of leaving town and take this opportunity of expressing to you on the eve of your departure our appreciation of your well merited worth during your long abode amongst us.

For years, in addition to your own immediate calling you have been in close touch with our leading educational and municipal institutions, all of which have been benefitted by your good judgment and open handed generosity.

But above and beyond all these services so freely and faithfully rendered to your fellow citizens, we esteem you for your moral worth. Your every day walk and conversation have been such as to command our respect and admiration, and believing as the poet says: "An honest man is the noblest work of God," we unanimously accord to you, Sir, that proud distinction.

In conclusion, as a tangible token of our respect and good will towards yourself and Mrs. Meyers, and as a memento of your long residence in Listowel we wish you to accept this leather arm chair for yourself, and leather rocker for Mrs. Meyers, and with it our united wish for your future prosperity and happiness.

Signed by J. W. Scott, Chairman, and J. H. Gunther, Secretary, on behalf of themselves and forty-six others.

The Inglorious Close Of The Remarkable Career Of Abdul

The removal of Abdul Hamid II. from the throne of Turkey is an inglorious close to a remarkable career and terminates the trickeries of the greatest plotter among European rulers.

Abdul Hamid succeeded to the Turkish throne at the age of 34 on the deposition of his elder brother, Sultan Murad V., on Aug. 31, 1876. From the beginning he revealed singular gifts of diplomacy, if not statecraft, for, although badly defeated by the Russians in the war that practically ushered in his reign, he made measurably advantageous terms with the St. Petersburg Government at San Stefano, only to have them qualified and limited by the subsequent treaty of Berlin in 1878.

Also in his victorious war with little Greece in 1897 he made demands from his fallen foe which were so cunningly devised that it took the combined diplomacy of the powers to keep Greece from losing half her territory.

He remained for 1908, however, to reveal him in his true colours as a disciple of Machiavelli. Scarcely had the Committee of Union and Progress, composed largely of officers of the Third Army Corps at Salonica, proclaimed the Constitution in July, than he hastened to confirm it by royal decree, and seemed to lend all his energies towards turning it into a practical political machine.

For the first time he rode through the streets in an open carriage, invited the political leaders to dine with him, and when the elections were past opened Parliament with a speech that might have been delivered by the most liberal constitutional monarch in the world. Indeed, such was his attitude toward the Young Turks that it was believed in some quarters abroad that he himself had brought about the revolution in order to rid himself of the burdens of absolute rule, tempered only by the coterie of the Yildiz Kiosk.

In the long period of his reign nothing has been more marked than the skill with which he has succeeded in playing off the powers of Western Europe against each other. England, Germany, France, and even Italy have periodically believed that they were the dominating influence in Constantinople, only to be disappointed, especially when it came to obtaining concessions or collecting debts.

When, in the early nineties, it almost seemed that the eloquence of Gladstone would induce the powers to intervene on behalf of the slaughtered Armenians, it was Abdul Hamid who graciously invited the German Emperor to visit him, and so broke up all concerted action against him.

Soon after the Germans obtained the concession of the Bagdad railway, but no one knew better than Abdul Hamid that the concession was practically worthless even if Berlin bankers could raise the money to build the line, for neither Russia nor England would permit it to reach the Persian Gulf.

The game the Sultan played with the chancelleries of Europe he played on a smaller scale with his officials and even with the masses of his subjects, setting one coterie against another, one race and religion against another. In these circumstances, it is not astonishing that the Committee of Union and Progress should be suspicious of his protestations of love and admiration for their constitution and prepared for the inevitable reaction against parliamentary government which has just now been put down.

Camera Club Exhibition Formally Opened Last Night

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

The first annual exhibition of the Peterborough Camera Club was formally thrown open to the public last evening when addresses were delivered by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who acted as chairman, His Worship Mayor Rush, and Mr. N. A. Howard Moore. The exhibit as is generally known is being held in All Saints' Rectory at the corner of King and Reid streets. A large number was in attendance last night, and much favourable comment was passed on the tastefully arranged photographs in the drawing and one could hardly imagine that the photographic work displayed was done by amateurs. Some exceedingly beautiful scenes are shown, a description of them having previously been given in this paper.

Chairman's Remarks

After viewing the exhibits the visitors assembled in the drawing room. Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., was in the chair. He extended a hearty welcome to those present and took occasion to congratulate the Peterborough Camera Club on the success attending their first annual exhibition. It was bound to result in a greater number of persons taking a deeper interest in amateur photography. It gave him much pleasure to be present. He then called on the Mandolin Club for a selection. They also gave two other numbers during the evening.

Mayor Rush's Address

Ladies and Gentlemen,—It gives me pleasure to be present at the formal opening of this exhibition, and I wish to heartily congratulate the Association on its success. An exhibition, such as this is, with the finished specimens on view, calls attention to the remarkable progress in the art of photography. If we go back in mind to early days of art, when the sitters for a portrait had to watch for a bright day and sit perfectly still for what seemed a very long time to obtain a photograph that is now laughed at, and make comparison with the lightning-like rapidity of the present operation, either by day or night, and the beautiful product, we can easily recognize and appreciate that photography has advanced. I would also congratulate this club on the number of members it has. Photography, as an amusement, or as a hobby, as we sometimes say, must afford a great deal of entertainment and pleasure, and this is enhanced by the permanency of the results, which serve to recall friends and scenes that are past. A more interesting recreation than it provides, would be very difficult to find. We cannot all be athletes; we may not have either the taste or capacity for that form of recreation, but it is wise to adopt some form of diversion and that which you have adopted combines a maximum of interest with a permanent source of pleasure which you can share with your friends. There is, perhaps, little in common between the Camera Club or photography and the City Council, yet some things are suggested by associating them. You know the Council does not do things in camera, for all its transactions are open and above board. At the same time the Council does developing—it endeavours to develop the interests of the city, and in this work it sometimes has to do a little retouching. We try to keep the public works in operation for the benefit of the people; that is, the people pay the taxes and we do the rest.

This exhibition augurs well for the success of your Club, for, when it can do so well after being such a short time in existence it will be able to do much better as the membership increases in numbers and its members have time to reap further advantages to be obtained from associating in an organization. I wish you continued pleasure in your chosen form of diversion as individuals, and for the Club's success and growth that it may do still more for its members.

Mr. N. A. Howard Moore

Mr. N. A. Howard Moore, who was largely instrumental in the organization of the Camera Club and to whose untiring efforts, a great deal of the success of the exhibition is due, was called upon for a few remarks. He said that there had been a great deal of hard work in getting up the exhibition but the unqualified success which it had turned out to be, amply repaid those who had laboured so faithfully. Of all hobbies or pastimes, Mr. Moore thought, photography gave the greatest amount of pleasure.

About the first of October last, a few enthusiasts in photography were discussing how they could best help one another and it was decided to organize a club. This was done on the 18th of the same month. Eight practical demonstrations had been given during the winter months, one being by Mr. Bagley, of the Kodak Co.

Mr. Moore paid a glowing tribute to the kind and generous treatment received from the city evening papers and expressed to them, on behalf of the club, many thanks. Mr. Moore said that it was most likely that the club would have permanent quarters and also permanent apparatus and invited all those who had cameras to become members.

Mr. W. McLaren gave a most interesting reading after which refreshments were served.

DELIGHTED

Customers are the rule in our KODAK DEPARTMENT. The largest stock of Kodaks, films, film packs, film pack adapters, plates, papers in Velox, Azo and Solio, also Post Cards, developers, trays, in fact everything for the Amateur is included in our stock.

Many Amateurs found it impossible previously to get what they required without sending out of the City. We know that the people of Peterboro would rather deal at home if they can get what they require.

Our stock will compare favourably with any in the larger cities and you can save both time and money by giving us your patronage.

Developing and Finishing done. Free instructions given with every Kodak.

QUITS MONKHOOD FOR WEDDED STATE

"Brother of the Birds" Renounces Vows of Celibacy

St. Louis, Mo., April 28.—Brother Desidirius, member of the Alexian Brotherhood fifteen years and employed for ten years in the Brotherhood's hospital ward here, has renounced his vows of celibacy, and resumed his family name, Joseph Much, in order to be married next month to Miss Augusta Wrobel of this city. They fell in love with each other about a year ago, when she visited her father at the hospital, where he was a patient and Brother Desidirius was his attendant. It was stated today that Brother Desidirius had obtained a special dispensation from Rome so he could marry the girl. The priest was known as "Brother of the Birds" because of his score of trained feathered pets.

ROMANCE OF VIOLIN AND A POLISH BOY

Mysterious Millionaire Loans a $14,000 Stradivarius to Maurice Nitke

New York, April 27.—Romances, sometimes tragedies of intense interest, have repeatedly revolved around the wonderful violins made by the masterful workmen of the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Among these are Da Salo, Andrea Amati, Stainer, Albani, Grancino, Ruggeri, Guarneri, and Testore. But the master of them all was Antonio Stradivari, who lived in Cremona, Italy, from 1644 to 1737.

Hands that have crumbled to dust nearly two centuries ago have possessed the power to make the young violinist of to-day the happiest boy in all New-York. These are the hands of the master maker, Stradivari. A violin made by him and to-day valued at $14,000, which was once owned by Ole Bull, has now come into the possession of a mysterious millionaire, who has lent it to Maurice Nitke, a young Polish violinist of this city.

This millionaire owner of the famous Strad, has chosen to surround his beneficent offering with the charm of anonymity. Through Victor Fechter, a celebrated dealer in rare old violins, and one of the keenest judges of that instrument in the world, this nameless millionaire has chosen to place his almost priceless Stradivarius between the chin and fingers of the Polish boy, who will make it live in the songs of Beethoven, Mozart and Rubinstein during the space of one short evening.

"Yes," said Mr. Fechter, when interviewed in his quaint shop on Union Square, "the violin is worth easily $14,000, perhaps more. The man who owns it is a collector of rare instruments. He heard Mr. Nitke play last winter at a private musicale, and when he learned that the young violinist was to give his first public recital at Carnegie Lyceum on Sunday night, he directed me to place at his disposal this wonderful instrument, [illegible] is one of the finest and most cel[illegible]d in the whole world."

When seen at his home in West One Hundred and Thirteenth street yesterday evening, Mr. Nitke gladly consented to show the violin and play upon it. The tone of it was marvellous—sonorous and smooth as velvet.

"Who could not get music from such a violin?" said he, as he pressed it lovingly against his cheek. His own violin, which he also played by way of affording a contrast, sounded sweet, though small and thin.

"Yet mine," said Nitke, "is a good instrument. I paid $100 for it, and I wouldn't sell . for five times that sum now." Then he took up the Stradivarius. "But this—ah, this is beautiful, glorious!

"No, I haven't the slightest idea by whom it is lent to me, but I'm going to do my best on Sunday night to make myself worthy of it," Mr. Nitke said.

Said Farewell To Mr. Meyers On His Departure For This City

The Listowel Banner has the following:—

: An impromptu gathering of business men and citizens was held in the Council Chamber Monday night to do honour to Mr. J. W. Meyers before his departure for Peterborough the following day. Mr. Meyers has for many years been one of the town's substantial citizens, always public spirited and progressive and a man of sterling integrity of character. The gathering was very hastily arranged, but was a representative one of the business men of the town, and was noticeable for the spontaneous and willing manner in which so many deserved tributes were paid to Mr. Meyers and his estimable family, and the very general regret expressed at his departure, though at the same time wishing him an abundant measure of success in his new undertaking. Mr. J. W. Scott was appointed chairman, and Mr. J. H. Gunther, secretary, and Mr. B. Rothwell made the presentation, while Mr. Scott read the address. Mr. Meyers was much affected by the expression of goodwill and replied very briefly. Short speeches were also made by Messrs. F. W. Hay, T. L. Hamilton, A. Yule, J. M. Schinbein, W. C. Kidd, Mayor Foerch and the other gentlemen present.

The presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Meyers consists of a handsome quarter-cut oak armchair and rocker with upholstered seats and backs, a gold jewel case each for the Misses Meyers, and a handsome gold mounted bedroom clock for Homer. A beautiful gold headed silk umbrella was also presented to Mrs. Meyers by her lady friends and neighbours.

The address read was as follows:—

To John Meyers, Esq.,

Dear Sir:—We have learned with deep regret your intention of leaving town and take this opportunity of expressing to you on the eve of your departure our appreciation of your well merited worth during your long abode amongst us.

For years, in addition to your own immediate calling you have been in close touch with our leading educational and municipal institutions, all of which have been benefitted by your good judgment and open handed generosity.

But above and beyond all these services so freely and faithfully rendered to your fellow citizens, we esteem you for your moral worth. Your every day walk and conversation have been such as to command our respect and admiration, and believing as the poet says: "An honest man is the noblest work of God," we unanimously accord to you, Sir, that proud distinction.

In conclusion, as a tangible token of our respect and good will towards yourself and Mrs. Meyers, and as a memento of your long residence in Listowel we wish you to accept this leather arm chair for yourself, and leather rocker for Mrs. Meyers, and with it our united wish for your future prosperity and happiness.

Signed by J. W. Scott, Chairman, and J. H. Gunther, Secretary on behalf of themselves and forty-six others.

The Inglorious Close Of The Remarkable Career Of Abdul

The removal of Abdul Hamid II. from the throne of Turkey is an inglorious close to a remarkable career and terminates the trickeries of the greatest plotter among European rulers.

Abdul Hamid succeeded to the Turkish throne at the age of 34 on the deposition of his elder brother, Sultan Murad V., on Aug. 31, 1876. From the beginning he revealed singular gifts of diplomacy, if not statecraft, for, although badly defeated by the Russians in the war that practically ushered in his reign, he made measurably advantageous terms with the St. Petersburg Government at San Stefano, only to have them qualified and limited by the subsequent treaty of Berlin in 1878.

Also in his victorious war with little Greece in 1897 he made demands from his fallen foe which were so cunningly devised that it took the combined diplomacy of the powers to keep Greece from losing half her territory.

It remained for 1908, however, to reveal him in his true colours as a disciple of Machiavelli. Scarcely had the Committee of Union and Progress, composed largely of officers of the Third Army Corps at Salonica, proclaimed the Constitution in July, than he hastened to confirm it by royal decree, and seemed to lend all his energies towards turning it into a practical political machine.

For the first time he rode through the streets in an open carriage, invited the political leaders to dine with him, and when the elections were past opened Parliament with a speech that might have been delivered by the most liberal constitutional monarch in the world. Indeed, such was his attitude toward the Young Turks that it was believed in some quarters abroad that he himself had brought about the revolution in order to rid himself of the burdens of absolute rule, tempered only by the coterie of the Yildiz Kiosk.

In the long period of his reign nothing has been more marked than the skill with which he has succeeded in playing off the powers of Western Europe against each other. England, Germany, France, and even Italy have periodically believed that they were the dominating influence in Constantinople, only to be disappointed, especially when it came to obtaining concessions or collecting debts.

When, in the early nineties, it almost seemed that the eloquence of Gladstone would induce the powers to intervene on behalf of the slaughtered Armenians, it was Abdul Hamid who graciously invited the German Emperor to visit him, and so broke up all concerted action against him.

Soon after the Germans obtained the concession of the Bagdad railway, but no one knew better than Abdul Hamid that the concession was practically worthless even if Berlin bankers could raise the money to build the line, for neither Russia nor England would permit it to reach the Persian Gulf.

The game the Sultan played with the chancelleries of Europe he played on a smaller scale with his officials and even with the masses of his subjects, setting one coterie against another, one race and religion against another. In these circumstances, it is not astonishing that the Committee of Union and Progress should be suspicious of his protestations of love and admiration for their constitution and prepared for the inevitable reaction against parliamentary government which has just now been put down.

Camera Club Exhibition Formally Opened Last Night

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

The first annual exhibition of the Peterborough Camera Club was formally thrown open to the public last evening when addresses were delivered by Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., who acted as chairman, His Worship Mayor Rush, and Mr. N. A. Howard Moore. The exhibit as is generally known is being held in All Saints' Rectory at the corner of King and Reid streets. A large number was in attendance last night, and much favourable comment was passed on the tastefully arranged photographs in the drawing and one could hardly imagine that the photographic work displayed was done by amateurs. Some exceedingly beautiful scenes are shown, a description of them having previously been given in this paper.

Chairman's Remarks

After viewing the exhibits the visitors assembled in the drawing room. Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., was in the chair. He extended a hearty welcome to those present and took occasion to congratulate the Peterborough Camera Club on the success attending their first annual exhibition. It was bound to result in a greater number of persons taking a deeper interest in amateur photography. It gave him much pleasure to be present. He then called on the Mandolin Club for a selection. They also gave two other numbers during the evening.

Mayor Rush's Address

Ladies and Gentlemen,—It gives me pleasure to be present at the formal opening of this exhibition, and I wish to heartily congratulate the Association on its success. An exhibition, such as this is, with the finished specimens on view, calls attention to the remarkable progress in the art of photography. If we go back in mind to early days of art, when the sitters for a portrait had to watch for a bright day and sit perfectly still for what seemed a very long time to obtain a photograph that is now laughed at, and make comparison with the lightning-like rapidity of the present operation, either by day or night, and the beautiful product, we can easily recognize and appreciate that photography has advanced. I would also congratulate this club on the number of members it has. Photography, as an amusement, or as a hobby, as we sometimes say, must afford a great deal of entertainment and pleasure, and this is enhanced by the permanency of the results, which serve to recall friends and scenes that are past. A more interesting recreation than it provides, would be very difficult to find. We cannot all be athletes; we may not have either the taste or capacity for that form of recreation, but it is wise to adopt some form of diversion and that which you have adopted combines a maximum of interest with a permanent source of pleasure which you can share with your friends. There is, perhaps, little in common between the Camera Club or photography and the City Council, yet some things are suggested by associating them. You know the Council does not do things in camera, for all its transactions are open and above board. At the same time the Council does developing—it endeavours to develop the interests of the city, and in this work it sometimes has to do a little retouching. We try to keep the public works in operation for the benefit of the people; that is, the people pay the taxes and we do the rest.

This exhibition augurs well for the success of your Club, for, when it can do so well after being such a short time in existence it will be able to do much better as the membership increases in numbers and its members have time to reap further advantages to be obtained from associating in an organization. I wish you continued pleasure in your chosen form of diversion as individuals, and for the Club's success and growth that it may do still more for its members.

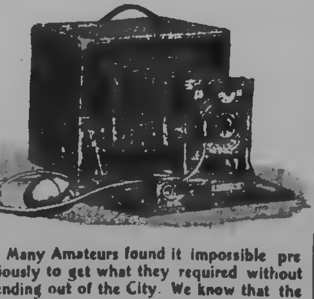
Mr. N. A. Howard Moore

Mr. N. A. Howard Moore, who was largely instrumental in the organization of the Camera Club and to whose untiring efforts, a great deal of the success of the exhibition is due, was called upon for a few remarks. He said that there had been a great deal of hard work in getting up the exhibition but the unqualified success which it had turned out to be, amply repaid those who had laboured so faithfully. Of all hobbies or pastimes, Mr. Moore thought, photography gave the greatest amount of pleasure.

About the first of October last, a few enthusiasts in photography were discussing how they could best help one another and it was decided to organize a club. This was done on the 18th of the same month. Eight practical demonstrations had been given during the winter months, one being by Mr. Bagley, of the Kodak Co.

Mr. Moore paid a glowing tribute to the kind and generous treatment received from the city evening papers and expressed to them, on behalf of the club, many thanks. Mr. Moore said that it was most likely that the club would have permanent quarters and also permanent apparatus and invited all those who had cameras to become members.

Mr. W. McLaren gave a most interesting reading after which refreshments were served.



DELIGHTED

Customers are the rule in our KODAK DEPARTMENT. The largest stock of Kodaks, films, film packs, film pack adapters, plates, papers in Velox, Azo and Solio, also Post Cards, developers, trays, in fact everything for the Amateur is included in our stock.

Many Amateurs found it impossible previously to get what they required without sending out of the City. We know that the people of Peterboro would rather deal at home if they can get what they require.

Our stock will compare favourably with any in the larger cities and you can save both time and money by giving us your patronage.

QUITS MONKHOOD FOR WEDDED STATE

"Brother of the Birds" Renounces Vows of Celibacy

St. Louis, Mo., April 28.—Brother Desidirius, member of the Alexian Brotherhood fifteen years and employed for ten years in the Brotherhood's hospital ward here, has renounced his vows of celibacy, and resumed his family name, Joseph Much, in order to be married next month to Miss Augusta Wrobel of this city. They fell in love with each other about a year ago, when she visited her father at the hospital, where he was a patient and Brother Desidirius was his attendant. It was stated today that Brother Desidirius had obtained a special dispensation from Rome so he could marry the girl. The priest was known as "Brother of the Birds" because of his score of trained feathered pets.

ROMANCE OF VIOLIN AND A POLISH BOY

Mysterious Millionaire Loans a $14,000 Stradivarius to Maurice Nitke

New York, April 27.—Romances, sometimes tragedies of intense interest, have repeatedly revolved around the wonderful violins made by the masterful workmen of the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Among these are Da Salo, Andrea Amati, Stainer, Albani, Grancino, Ruggeri, Guarneri, and Testore. But the master of them all was Antonio Stradivari, who lived in Cremona, Italy, from 1644 to 1737.

Hands that have crumbled to dust nearly two centuries ago have possessed the power to make the young violinist of to-day the happiest boy in all New York. These are the hands of the master maker, Stradivari. A violin made by him and to-day valued at $14,000, which was once owned by Ole Bull, has now come into the possession of a mysterious millionaire, who has lent it to Maurice Nitke, a young Polish violinist of this city.

This millionaire owner of the famous Strad, has chosen to surround his beneficent offering with the charm of anonymity. Through Victor Fechter, a celebrated dealer in rare old violins, and one of the keenest judges of that instrument in the world, this nameless millionaire has chosen to place his almost priceless Stradivarius between the chin and fingers of the Polish boy, who will make it live in the songs of Beethoven, Mozart and Rubinstein during the space of one short evening.

"Yes," said Mr. Fechter, when interviewed in his quaint shop on Union Square, "the violin is worth easily $14,000, perhaps more. The man who owns it is a collector of rare instruments. He heard Mr. Nitke play last winter at a private musicale, and when he learned that the young violinist was to give his first public recital at Carnegie Lyceum on Sunday night, he directed me to place at his disposal this wonderful instrument, which is one of the finest and most celebrated in the whole world."

When seen at his home in West One Hundred and Thirteenth street yesterday evening, Mr. Nitke gladly consented to show the violin and play upon it. The tone of it was marvellous—sonorous and smooth as velvet.

"Who could not get music from such a violin?" said he, as he pressed it lovingly against his cheek. His own violin, which he also played by way of affording a contrast, sounded sweet, though small and thin.

"Yet mine," said Nitke, "is a good instrument. I paid $100 for it, and I wouldn't sell it for five times that sum now." Then he took up the Stradivarius. "But this—ah, this is beautiful, glorious!

"No, I haven't the slightest idea by whom it is lent to me, but I'm going to do my best on Sunday night to make myself worthy of it," Mr. Nitke said.

SKIDOO NIGHT AT THE ROLLER RINK

It was skidoo night at the Auditorium Roller Rink last night, and one of the largest crowds of the season was present. A most enjoyable evening was the result. Everything was "23." The admission for gentlemen was twenty-three cents, there were twenty-three selections by the band, and every twenty-third person entering the rink received a prize. An interesting programme of races and skating contests was conducted during the evening, and proved an enjoyable feature. Miss Mowry and Mr. Jameson won the ladies' and gentlemen's skating contest. The boys' race was won by R. Smith, and the three-legged race by R. Smith and B. Clute. The judges were Messrs. Stanton, Brown and Tovey.

THE Y.M.C.A. BOYS WILL BE BUSY

The Y.M.C.A. Business Boys' one mile run, that was scheduled to take place last night was postponed until next Tuesday night, on account of the unfavourable weather. The wrestling bouts will take place on Thursday night at 7:30.

On Saturday afternoon all the boys of the Y.M.C.A. will go out for a paper chase. All boys invited.

The Business Boys will hold semi-weekly runs on Tuesday and Thursday nights to get in shape for the relay race from Lakefield to Peterborough. The school boys will run on Tuesday and Wednesday at 4:30, and on Saturday mornings. All boys are asked to get out and be in good shape, as an attempt will be made to lower the record for Examiner race, which is 55 minutes 16 seconds, held by Ernie Wilson. That will mean that each mile will have to be run in 5 minutes 30 seconds.

The trial races will be held on Thursday, May 20th. Schools boys at 2:30, and Business Boys at 7:30. The distance will be one mile.

THE LADIES' AID HELD AT HOME

A most enjoyable time was spent by those present, and as a result of the at home the funds of the society were augmented to a considerable extent.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, April 28.—There was a much stronger tone to dealings in stocks this morning. Advances of from ½ to ¾ were made at the opening and at noon the firmness was still maintained. London sent higher prices and some buying orders. The steel stocks were strong features, the rise being due to the excellent statement made yesterday. Harrimans responded to strength abroad and this was communicated to the active rails generally. Rock Islands, Goulds and Atchison made handsome gains, most of them to new high record figures. The market was big and broad and sentiment much more hopeful. Morgan is said to be behind this move in the market and higher prices are promised but we believe it the better part of wisdom to be conservative, taking profits on the bulges and awaiting good reactions before purchasing again.

Grain News.

Chicago, April 28.—Wheat continued to recover its recent loss to-day, when May sold up to 123, a gain of two cents, and July, a cent. The market showed some of its old-time bull sentiment and belated shorts were forced to cover up. The news was more favourable to the bulls, and the cash situation is again becoming acute. Corn gained ½ and oats a fraction. Trade small in both. Would be careful about buying grain on this bulge.

Fiction

The Two Minute Fuse.

By WILLIAM WALLACE COOK.

Andy and Blakesly had settled it between them that the Dutchman was a thief. Andy had missed a silver watch, Higgins a pocketbook with $5 in it and Baker a nugget valued at $20 which he had kept in his trunk.

Andy had wakened out of a sound sleep a few nights before and had seen Fritz skulking through the bunk house. When Andy failed to find his watch next morning there was but one inference for him to draw.

There in the end of the "drift" he and Blakesly figured the matter all out. In the afternoon Fritz was not only to be discharged, but also to see the inside of the Phoenix jail.

Blakesly sat reflectively on the handle of his wheelbarrow. Andy threw down his drill, unwound a two minute length of fuse from the coil, scraped the end and slipped on a cap. He pushed the cap down into the hole and followed it with two sticks of dynamite, gently ramming them home and filling up the hole with dust.

"I'm going to blow out this horse and uncover the vein," returned the foreman, "if it takes a leg." Just then a burst of childish laughter echoed to them. "Is that Allie?" he asked.

Allie was his daughter, a motherless, sunny faced child, who had been the especial protege of Mrs. Hurst, the keeper of the boarding house, ever since her father had brought her to the Pactolus mine. Occasionally Allie was allowed to come down into the workings, which was always a treat for her. She was a prime favorite, and every one of the miners would have guarded her as the apple of his eye.

"It must be Allie," said Blakesly, getting up and starting off.

At that precise minute the noon whistle of the stamp mill sounded.

"Take Allie up with you," Andy called after Blakesly.

"All right," returned Blakesly, halting at the shaft.

The ladder was filled with climbing miners, Fritz at the lower end of the row.

"Where's Allie, Fritz?" asked Blakesly.

"Sure about that?"

All the miners of the day shift except Kingman and Andy were now on the ladder. Blakesly was satisfied and started nimbly up the greasy rungs.

The foreman removed his tools to a place of safety, applied the flame of his candle to the end of the fuse, watched the fuse splutter for a moment and then made his way to the ladder and started for the surface himself.

"She came up with Kingman," replied Blakesly.

"Who told you?"

"Fritz."

The miners were straggling out singly and in couples on their way to the boarding house. Kingman was in the lead, walking alone. Fritz was just ahead of the foreman and Blakesly.

"Hello, Kingman!" shouted Andy. "Where's Allie?"

Kingman turned.

"Didn't she come up with you?" he asked.

Every miner in the straggling line came to an abrupt halt. The very thought that Allie might still be below with a fuse lighted and leaping closer and closer to a terrific charge of dynamite was sufficient to set every heart to pounding. There were other charges in the level, too, but they were light compared with the one in the breast of the tunnel.

Andy went white in a second.

"You infernal villain!" he roared, springing upon Fritz and gripping him by the throat.

Fritz tore himself loose and ran frantically back to the shaft.

"Kingman vent past der slope mit Allie on his shoulder," he flung at them as he raced.

"I did," cried Kingman, joining the rest as they flocked excitedly after Fritz, "but she said she'd rather come up with her father, so I lowered her down the ladder again. Didn't you see her, Andy?"

"Oh, my God!" gasped the foreman and threw his hands to his face.

"How many holes were loaded?" demanded Blakesly.

"Three," said Higgins.

"All two minute fuses?"

It was a useless question, for that was the standard length for the noon firing.

Andy staggered against the framework of the "whim," his face ashen and his nerve completely gone. He could do nothing.

Another useless remark, for Allie could not have climbed the ladder if she had tried. Blakesly leaped on the platform to look down, but Fritz had already swung the ox hide ore bucket over the shaft, had kicked the coil of rope into the depths and had gripped the strands convulsively.

It was a time for action, not for words. How many seconds of the precious 120 had already slipped away? The climbing of the ladder, the walk toward the boarding house, the colloquy, the backward rush—it seemed as though all that must have consumed the time to the uttermost second.

"She's not coming oop!" cried Fritz, and as he spoke he sprang into the bucket and dropped from sight.

One glimpse of his wild, terror stricken face was all they caught, and then came the swirl of the rope and the shriek of the unoiled sheave. In a breath there followed the bump of the bucket at the bottom of the shaft, and the rope leaped upward and hung limp and shaking.

Boom! came from below, a puff of bluish smoke curling upward above the platform planks.

Boom!

"Do you see anything—hear anything?" demanded Kingman hoarsely.

Boom!

From under them came a sodden roar which seemed to rive the earth asunder. Kingman was thrown from his feet, and the others on the platform flung out their hands in an attempt to grasp something and support themselves. Up from the blackness rolled a billow of sulphurous fog.

"Frits was mad to go down there," said Kingman. "They're both lost. What are you doing, Blakesly?"

Blakesly had jerked off his coat and was wrapping it about his head.

"If they're not both done for now," he replied in muffled tones, "they soon will be if we don't get them up. Stand ready to man the whim rope when I shake it."

He crawled gropingly to the ladder and lowered himself. All watched the rope breathlessly. Finally, after a wait that seemed hours in duration, the signal was given, and stout hands drew the bucket to the surface.

A little head lay against the bucket's rim, and a white childish face met the eyes of the men. Allie! Kingman took her out of the bucket. She was unconscious, but the miracle was that she did not appear to be hurt. Not a stone of all that flying debris had struck her. She was given into the eager, trembling arms of her father, who started at a run for the boarding house.

Meanwhile the bucket had again been lowered. The signal from Blakesly was longer in coming than the first had been, and when the bucket was drawn up a second time it was found to contain Fritz—Fritz, bruised, torn and bleeding, his clothes all but stripped from his body. Tender hands lifted him to the platform and stretched his mangled limbs out on the rough planks. They thought he was dead, but his eyelids quivered unexpectedly and partly opened.

"I was between Allie und der rocks," he whispered weakly. "She vas in my arms und nodding touched her. It vas my mistake, und it's all right, all right."

Blakesly had to be helped to the surface, for his work in the noisome vapor had told upon him. A few breaths of fresh air were all he needed, and when he had revived sufficiently he told how he had groped his way along the tunnel and had found Fritz lying among the splintered rocks, Allie clasped in his rigid arms, her body protected by his own.

That afternoon Andy and Blakesly found a battered silver watch, an old pocketbook containing $5 and a gold nugget, all on the floor of the fifty foot level.

"That is exactly where Fritz and Allie were lying," said Blakesly.

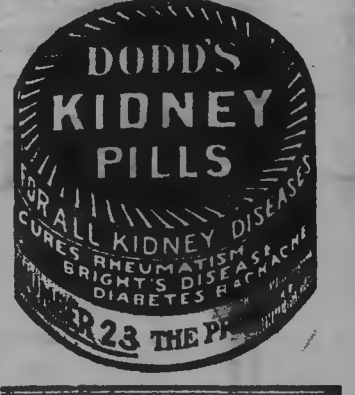
"Sh-h-h-h!" whispered the foreman, slipping the purse with its contents and the watch and nugget into his pocket. "Not a word about this, Blakesly, to any living man. Leave me to deal with the matter."

The following morning Baker was surprised to discover that his twenty dollar nugget was back in his trunk, and Higgins when he put on his best suit to go to Fritz's funeral found the pocketbook with the $5 securely stowed away in the breast of his coat.

"Blamed if I didn't haul over everything in my trunk a dozen times looking for that chunk of gold," remarked Baker. "If it had been a snake it would have bitten me."

"I went through the pockets of all the clothes I've got hunting for that purse," spoke up Higgins. "And to think that we ever suspected Fritz!"

"Think nothing but good of the dead, boys," said Andy, with feeling. "Come on! The minister is ready."



Lucky.

"Benoit, did you break the water bottle?"

"Yes, madame, but fortunately I broke it into only three pieces."

"Fortunately! How's that fortunate?"

"Oh, madame, when a thing breaks into many pieces it is so hard to pick them all up!"—Paris Journal.

"Does your husband play poker?"

"I don't know," answered young Mrs. Torkins. "From what I hear he simply sits up to the table and enjoys seeing other people contend for what he puts up."—Washington Star.

SUING THE MAYOR OF MONTREAL

A Suffragette Alleges That She Was Insulted.

Montreal, April 29.—Montreal's first suffragette case is now under way, in the shape of an action for $5,000 damages against Mayor Payette for alleged indignities to a fair supporter of the Socialistic and women's rights ideas. According to the Mayor's secretary, Mrs. Wright called upon him, accompanied by another well-known Socialist, and demanded help, on the ground that the city was bound to furnish aid or work to unemployed. The Mayor did not see it that way, and the lady's replies were such that she was removed from his office. A few days later she again called and demanded help. On the Mayor's refusing, it is stated that Mrs. Wright became very violent, and in the course of a stormy denunciation of His Worship seized a paperweight and smashed a civic inkpot. This was too much for the Mayor, and he called the police to remove the screaming woman.

Mrs. Wright now claims that she was insulted, and that the police used unnecessary violence in removing her to a cell, and has notified the Mayor that she will enter suit against him for $5,000 damages.

CHANCELLOR BOYD SAYS WARRANT'S NOT EXECUTABLE

Examiner Special (2.46 p. m.)

Toronto, April 29.—Chancellor Boyd gave an oral decision in respect to the Kinrade warrant this morning which, in effect is, that Coroner Anderson's warrant while perfectly good in the County of Wentworth is not executable here. Comment was made by the chancellor on the unusual length of the sittings of the coroner's jury, and the hope was expressed that this practice would not continue. What course the Crown authorities will pursue now is not yet known, but is reported it has been practically decided to call off the inquest until Monday night. In the meantime the Crown may ask for a Crown officer subpoena. This would be applied for personally by the attorney-general at Osgoode Hall under an old law, and would be executable anywhere.

Navigation Case Has Been Two Days Before Court And Will Require Another Day

The case in the Admiralty Court dragged along yesterday and to-day and will probably stretch into a considerable part of to-morrow. As already stated the Stony Lake Navigation Co. are suing the Otonabee Navigation Co. for $650.00 for damages resulting from a collision of the steamer Otonabee and a scow belonging to the former Company. Mr. Justice Hodgins of the Admiralty Court, Toronto, is hearing the case which is stated to be the first of its kind in Peterborough.

The evidence is taken minutely and Mr. R. F. Williams, representing the Otonabee Nav.Co. in his cross-examinations has been particularly careful and this results in the hearing being long drawn out. The witnesses for the prosecution have been heard as follows: Wm. Hill, M. Jamieson, Capt. Ed. Young, Captain Scollard, of the "Stoney Lake," Captain Robinson, of the "Empress," P. J. Young, of the "Majestic," Harold Young and several others.

The plaintiffs claim that the accident would have been forestalled had the Otonabee been stopped when they saw the scow drawing near. The accident occurred about 200 yards above the lock at Young's Point. The scow was coming down empty towed by a punt and practically helpless except to follow the current. The accident would have been averted it is claimed had the steamer stopped in its course as the scow would have passed the critical point.

The defense claims that the accident resulted from carelessness on the part of the crew on the scow. Mr. D. O'Connell, of O'Connell & Gordon, is representing the Stony Lake Navigation Co.

RECEIVED REWARD, HALF OF WHICH HE PRESENTED TO A LOCAL CHARITY

Mr. F. C. Barling, 328 Downie street, has made a donation of one dollar to the Children's Aid Society. There is nothing out of the ordinary in this fact, but the circumstances connected with it are somewhat interesting. Mrs. (Dr.) Wood lost a pearl sunburst a few days ago, and placed an advertisement in the lost and found column of the Examiner, offering a reward of two dollars for its return. Mr. Barling found the sunburst and answered the advertisement. He accepted the reward and left one dollar with the Examiner to be given to the Children's Aid Society, the other he said he would keep to buy some memento for his little girl.

Was Fined Ten Dollars For Attempting To Get Liquor

Thomas Kennedy was fined ten dollars at the police court this morning for attempting to secure a drink of liquor on Monday evening last, he being a blacklisted person. He was to have appeared before the magistrate to-day but failed to show up when the court opened at ten o'clock. However, the evidence was taken.

P. C. Meharry said that the accused was addicted to the excessive use of liquor and Inspector Stewart stated that Kennedy had been posted.

Percy Engel, bartender at the Crown Hotel, said that he knew Thos. Kennedy. His name was posted in the hotel. Last Monday he came to the hotel during the evening. He walked in and asked witness for a glass of beer. He was refused and was told to leave.

Ottawa Paper Says Its Brigade Has More Frills Than Any Other

"Has not the time arrived," asked a city official to-day in conversation with the Free Press, "when the whole question as to whether the fire department is run for show and parade purposes, or for work at fires should be determined? The gold and silver plating, the monograms in gold leaf on the waggons and the nickel-plated crowbars and door openers and other ornamental adjuncts, relics of the old volunteer fire system, do not add anything to the ability of the brigade to extinguish fires. Many years ago every fire engine had shining polished brass bars and since they have been abandoned the efficiency of the engines has not been impaired.'

The attention of the Board of Control will likely be drawn to the matter, and the question brought forward as to whether the city does not spend too much each year on furnishings and furbelows on the fire waggons.

"We have no more frills on our equipment than any other city," said Chief Provost. "We have added nothing in the way of ornament to the engines or waggons more than was on them when we purchased them.'—Ottawa Free Press.

James Patten Loosened His Grip On Wheat Market To Please Wife

New York, April 28.—The American says The loosening of James Patten's grip on the wheat market, according to a story that Wall street heard yesterday, was due neither to fear that he could not hold it nor satisfaction with the profits he had won. It was due to his wife. It is well known in Chicago that the spectacular wheat king is intensely religious. So is his wife. When the newspapers began to print stories showing that the size of bread loaves had been reduced because of the Patten holdings and that the children of the poor were suffering Mrs Patten begged her husband to let go some of the wheat he held.

"Get out of it, Jim," she is said to have pleaded in order that the poor might be relieved of their distress. And thereupon Patten sold 1,000,000 bushels of wheat at $1,29. Then he sold 1,000,000 more at $1.21, retaining only his "cash wheat."

"Patten easily could have squeezed purchasers and kept the price of wheat up as high as $1.50, even, if he had wanted to," several grain men declared yesterday.

CLUBS AND LICENSES

A Change Has Been Made in the License Act Which is of Importance.

Examiner Special.

Toronto, April 28th.—During the session of the Legislature which closed a few weeks ago, a change was made in the License Act of the utmost importance to Clubs which have charters from the Government with the liquor privilege. The change was not commented upon at the time, and in fact the License Commissioners themselves were not aware of it till a day or so ago.

The change is that where formerly every Club which secured a charter from the Government could demand a license from the Commissioners, now the Commissioners are in full control and can grant or refuse a license at their discretion.

A THOROUGH DEGENARTE.

It is not very flattering to ourselves or to our humanity, to think or suspect that we have among those counted in our population any person of a depravity that would make him capable of setting fire to the old drill shed yesterday morning. There is no other explanation of the origin of the fire then incendiarism. At the time the rascal set the incendiary fire he could see the damage he was kindling; the wind was blowing great guns from the northwest, and there was danger or even certainty in an old burning building that cinders owuld be carried far and wide, and fire being set to the whole of George street south of the drill shed, and from the north the whole of the city between George street and the river being swept away by flames. As it was it was the splendid work of the fire brigade, assisted by citizens, that prevented the disastrous spread of the blaze. There was also an element of good luck, in timely observation of a fire breaking out in roofs that helped to save us from the most disastrous fire in our history. Those who believe in the form of Divine interposition in human affairs, called "special Providence," might have good reasons for regarding the salvation of Peterborough from a terrible conflagration as, under the circumstances, a conspicuous example.

RAILWAY ACCIDENTS

The way the Britisher does things, is very unlike the way things are done on this continent in more senses than one. We build rapidly and by comparison temporarily. In the old land they build more slowly but more permanently. On this continent we operate railways receklessly and therefore wreckfully. As a rule we do not reach the speed of Old Country trains, but we beat them out in the game of destroying the lives of passengers and employees. The Scientific American is responsible for the statement that the British railways achieved the splendid record of having, once more, after an interval of six years, the last immune year being 1901, carried on their operations for a whole year—the year 1908—without the loss of a single life. In the intervening years the fatalities were as follows: 1902, six lives were lost; in 1903, 25; in 1904, six lives; in 1905, 15; in 1906, 48; and in 1907, 18 lives. In regard to the numerous fatalities in 1906—48—it is to be explained that they were cheifly due to three disastrous wrecks, caused by failure of duty or lack of presence of mind of the human element and not to imperfection in trains and tracks or mechanical arrangements. Here we have in six years British railways compiling a death roll of less than 100, or an average of 16 per year, while in the year 1907 alone, Canadian railways achieved the terrible death roll of 587 killed and 1,698 injured; and no doubt the fatilities will be correspondingly great if not greater in the United States, for, if anything, our American cousins are faster in all ways and more indifferent in their estimates of the value of human life—especially if it is set against the making of money. For, after all, there is much reason to believe that the terrible railway slaughter is due principally to the avoidance of the necessary expenditure to secure safety.

TWO-CENT RAILWAY FARES.

Statistics are available to show the passenger-traffic and income relations of two-cent-a-mile passenger fare on steam railways, applied in Illinois for the first time last year. The results are slightly disappointing for the advocates of a two-cent rate; for, while there was a notable increase in the number of passengers carried, the financial returns were imperfect—expenses considerably overlapping receipts. This discrepancy, however, was not large and perhaps with a further experience of the two-cent rate, when it becomes universally known, a large increase in travel may easily overtake the shortage in income, achieved under it. Reduction in postal rates and in the prices of newspapers, has proven to be productive of a vast increase of letter writing and of circulation. One year's experience with the reduced railway rate is not, by any means a fair test. The figures referred in are presented in the following summary:

The application of the two-cent fare law in the state of Illinois shows that the number of passengers carried earning revenue was 76,842,521, while under the last year of the three cent fare law (1907) the railroads carried 57,218,825. This shows an increase for 1908 of 19,623,696 more passengers. The earnings from passenger service per mile of road for 1908 was $3,754, and for 1907 was $3,298, an increase of $45 per mile. In the above showing several of the leading trunk lines show an enormous increase in the number of passengers carried in 1908 over 1907. Take, for instance, the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, which, in 1907, reported carrying in the state of Illinois 2,420,207 passengers, and reports for 1908 carrying 15,326,673, an increase of 12,906,466 passengers. It must also be remembered that the year 1907-1908 was not a very propitious year for the testing of a rate reduction. The total revenue from passenger service in the state of Illinois for the year 1908 was $44,237,189, and for 1907 $41,157,957, an increase for the last year of $3,079,232. The total of earning and income from all sources for the year 1908 was $189,169,027, as against $190,565,736 for 1907, making a decrease of $3,396,709. Notwithstanding this, the railways in general paid their usual dividends on their stocks and bonds, having paid during the year 1908 the sum of $94,854,198, being only a decrease of $1,695,456 from the previous year. The comparison as has been already stated, being the year 1906-1907, a year of unprecedented prosperity as compared with the year 1907-1908, which was a year of most serious business depression, and when this fact is taken into consideration, it seems a most remarkable showing for the management of the great railway systems.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The scientific grubbers among ancient ruins tell us that the story of the Bible is corroborated by the record of Babylonic bricks. There would be no need for such corroboration if the bricks had been heaved at the heads of the hypercritical higher critics, before they had loosened so many bricks in the foundation of divine revelation.

Our resources are not conserved if, says the St. John's Globe, we give them recklessly away. There are people who want railway subsidies—which means money, mines, lumber, everything in fact, that is ours, on very slender pleas. But the Government—meaning thereby the people—should keep their hands on everything, so that those who get concessions of any kind shall pay back into the treasury a share of the profits made by reason of the concessions that are given them. This is a large question. It is too much looked at from the point of view of the speculator, and too little from the interest of the people who now own the property, and with little consideration for the future of those, yet unborn, who ought to own it.

NO TARIFF INCREASE

(Farmers' Sun.)

While the financial statement which Mr. Fielding presented to House of Commons last week is far from satisfactory the Finance Minister is to be congratulated on at least one feature in his budget speech. The announcement that no increase is to be made in the tariff will be gratifying to consumers everywhere, and more particularly to farmers. It required no small degree of firmness on the part of the Finance Minister and the Government generally to take the stand which has been taken. Exceedingly strong pressure was brought to bear, not only by the woolen men, but by cotton manufacturers as well, in favour of higher duties. The Manufacturers' Association has even gone so far as to maintain a permanent lobby during the session for the purpose of making this pressure effective. Against this farmers were able to make but intermittent protests on the other side, but these protests have been effective, and the tariff is to remain as it was. For this much at least the Government is deserving of thinks.

DR. POOLE WAS SUCCESSFUL

Well Known Local Veterinary Passes Government Examination With Flying Colours.

Dr. Poole, the Veterinary Surgeon, on Water street, received word to-day from Ottawa, that he was one of the few successful candidates at the recent examination held in Toronto on April 6th, open to veterinaries throughout the Dominion, as inspectors of contagious diseases, and meat inspectors. His many friends no doubt will be pleased to hear of his success. The subjects for examination were, Anatomy, Pathology, Histology, Contagious diseases of animals, and Inspection of meat.

BRANCH LINE GRAIN ROUTE

Grand Trunk Pacific's Projected Line to Edmonton Will be Rushed Westward From Great Lakes for the Next Harvest.

WILL SPEND TEN MILLIONS

Winnipeg, Man., April 29.—No time will be lost in constructing the branch line projected by the Grand Trunk Pacific R. R., according to a statement made here by Edson J. Chamberlain, general manager of the company.

Between Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast there remains but 260 miles of the main line to be put under contract and a portion of this will be let before the end of the year. Mr. Chamberlain is confident that trains will be runing between Edmonton and the Great Lakes in time to assist in handling the crop of 1909, despite all press reports to the contrary, and work will be rushed westward from Edmonton.

Active construction will be started within a few weks on the branch line to run northwards from Melville, Sask., and the other from that town south to Regina and the international boundary, and Mr. Chamberlain states that a portion of the steel on these branches will be laid this year. He also said the company has decided to build a branch line northwesterly from Melville to Prince Albert, and surveys for this line are now being made. This line, it is expected, will eventually be extended from Prince Albert in a northwesterly direction, tapping the vast mineral resources of the far north and Peace River country. This will give five lines radiating out of Melville before the beginning of 1910.

Mr. Chamberlain stated that fully $10,000,000 will be spent on the actual construction by the company in Western Canada this year, and every effort will be made to get as much mileage in operation this year as possible owing to the influx of American settlers requiring railroads, and the active competition of the other railroad systems now building in Western Canada.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS' NEW STAMP CLUB

Will be Formed by the Younger Collectors—Wrestling Tournament To-night.

To-morrow night, all stamp collectors of the Y.M.C.A. Boys' Department will meet for the purpose of forming a Y.M.C.A. stamp club. All boys of the Y.M.C.A. are invited.

To-night at 7:30, the Business Boys will hold a wrestling tournament. There are a large number of entries and some good bouts are promised. The boys are asked to be on hand sharp at 7:30 for weighing in.

All interested in running are invited to the paper chase to be held on Saturday afternoon. Already there are a large number of boys commencing active training for the trial races for the relay race from Lakefield to Peterborough, on May 29th. Boys who intend entering in the trial race are reminded that they have only 3 weeks in which to get in shape.

CHIMNEY FIRE DID NO DAMAGE

Blaze at the T. A. S. Rooms To-day Was Easily Extinguished.

The fire brigade had two runs to-day as the result of chimney fires. Just at noon a fire broke out in the chimney of the T. A. S. rooms and the brigade responded promptly. The chimney was blazing merrily, but an application of the chemicals soon restored things to their normal condition. At one o'clock an alarm came in from Box 24, and a response showed that a fire in a chimney at the Temperance House on Hunter street was causing trouble. No damage was done.

ASSYRIAN PEDDLER WAS FINED TO-DAY

County Constable Clemens arrested an Assyrian pedlar at Warsaw yesterday and this morning the Assyrian appeared before County Magistrate Edmison and was fined five dollars and costs, amounting to $15. He pleaded guilty but did not take out a license.

EXPRESS CO. HORSE MADE SENSATIONAL RUN

One of the Dominion Express Company's horses broke away in a wild gallop yesterday evening and made a sensational run from the Peterborough Lubricator Co., in East City to O'Brien' livery stable. The driver, Mr. Jack Curtis was in the Lubricator factory when the horse standing at the door evidently became frightened and started away. It ran to the livery and the driver had to walk. No damage was done.

CLEAN CHIMNEYS SAYS THE CHIEF

Many Chimney Fires Causes the Head of Department to Sound a Warning.

As a result of the increasing number of chimney fires Chief Howard mentioned to a reporter to-day that a little word of caution passed out to the ratepayers would not be amiss and might be the means of preventing in the future a serious blaze. While the spring cleaning is now being done the chimneys should not be overlooked and particularly while there are strong April winds which will rapidly cause trouble in a length of pipe that is plugged with soot. As has heretofore been stated, "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Chief Howard states that since the first of January there have been 32 chimney fires to reach, which the apparatus has travelled 36½ miles.

EXAMINER AGAIN DOES GOOD WORK

Man Receives Ten Dollar Bill He Had Lost.

The Examiner's "Lost and Found" columns have again been successful in returning a lost article. Mr. Conrad Schwardt lost a ten dollar bill on Smith street a few days ago and had practically sung its death knell, when he decided to invest a little money in an endeavour to regain the larger sum. The result was that a woman returned it, having then found out who had lost it. Mr. Schwardt was highly pleased to regain the "X" and, although he offered a reward, the fider, in a kindly manner, refused to accept it.

THE JUDGMENT WAS RESERVED

Inquest in Kinrade Is Delayed by Court's Action.

CROWN SHOULD TELL WHY

Chancellor Boyd Asks Mr. Cartwright Why Crown Examiner Cannot Tell What Evidence Is Wanted of Florence Kinrade — Mr. Lynch-Staunton Puts Up a Very Strong Argument Yesterday.

Toronto, April 29.—Six points were made by George Lynch-Staunton, K.C., before the Divisional Court yesterday in the effort to have the coroner's warrant quashed, which summons Florence Kinrade as a witness in the inquest on her sister's murder. Judgment was reserved by the court on another point altogether, and it may be some days before a decision is given.

Later in the afternoon Chancellor Boyd expressed the view that the crown should state upon what matters it was sought to re-examine the witness. This was eagerly supported by Mr. Lynch-Staunton, who recalled the point to the court just before adjournment.

Mr. Cartwright said that Florence Kinrade had not been examined for four weeks, and that meanwhile additional information had been found.

"Well, you may put in an affidavit setting forth your reasons for recalling her. Can you not disclose to the court this new information? Don't you think the crown ought to condescend to say upon which points they wish to question her?"

"Not at all, my lord," said Mr. Cartwright.

"Well, you see there is an affidavit put in saying she has told all she knows. Don't you think you ought to put in an affidavit. You know the custom is that when a witness is examined and counsel wishes to recall the witness, the custom is to explain to the trial judge upon what point or points you wish the witness to be recalled?"

"Surely," returned Mr. Cartwright, "we cannot be expected to disclose our information as yet to the defence."

Mr. Lynch-Staunton's points were that no coroner has power to issue a warrant for a witness; nor outside the jurisdiction of his own court; that a coroner's court is statutory, and not a court of record and that the statutes give a coroner no power to arrest for contempt of court; that no questions of an incriminating nature may be asked of a witness where the liberty of the witness is in jeopardy; that Miss Kinrade, having told all she knew, cannot be called again; and that no one outside the crown attorney has authority to cross-examine witnesses at a coroner's inquest.

Mr. Lynch-Staunton reiterated his statement that Mr. Blackstock had accused Florence Kinrade of murdering her sister. The court desired proof of this, and a full copy of the evidence taken at the inquest will be supplied if this point is regarded as important.

J. R. Cartwright, K. C., Deputy Attorney-General, and J. B. Mackenzie appeared for the crown, and Mr. Lynch-Staunton, T. C. Robinette, K.C., and Thomas Hobson, for the family.

Parole for Harbottle?

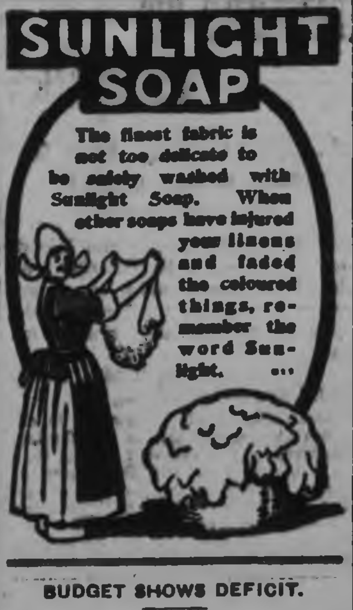
Toronto, April 29.—A petition in circulation which is being largely signed, asking the Department of Justice to grant parole to Colin C. Harbottle, formerly secretary of the Toronto Club, who was sent to Kingston Penitentiary for four years on April 4, 1908, for the theft of over $18,000 of the club funds.

Many members of the Toronto Club are signatories to the petition, which will be presented by T. C. Robinette, K. C., who was Harbottle's counsel, next week.

Dinner Pail Exploded.

Port Arthur, Ont., April 29.—John Kendrick, an Austrian, was killed at McQuaigge & McCaffrey's construction camp, north of Nepigon. He thawed dynamite in his dinner pail, and next day started to make tea. The explosion disemboweled him.

ASTHMA
Mrs. Farndel of Clementsport, N. S., Suffered All Her Life From Asthma, But Was Permanently Cured by Catarrhozone After All Other Means Failed.
Mrs. Farndel gives the following statement of her case for the benefit of others who are suffering from asthma, and hopes that many will follow her example and use Catarrhozone:—
"I am now in my eightieth year, and cannot recall the time when I was free from asthma. I had always a choking cough, feverishness, spasms, difficulty in breathing, headache and nausea. My Druggist advised Catarrhozone one day, and I bought a large outfit. It gave relief in five minutes, and helped me very much in one day.
"I inhaled Catarrhozone ten minutes every hour, and by the time two bottles were used I was completely cured. I am as free now from asthma as if I never had it. My perfect recovery is due entirely to Catarrhozone. I prize my Catarrhozone inhaler next to life itself."
Catarrhozone
Relieves at Once—Prevents and Cures Quickly.
For the nose, throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, Catarrhozone is unrivalled. Try it yourself—both pleasant and safe. Two months' treatment guaranteed to cure; price $1; medium size 50 cents, small (trial) size, 25 cents, at all dealers.



SUNLIGHT SOAP
The finest fabric is not too delicate to be safely washed with Sunlight Soap. When other soaps have injured your linens and faded the coloured things, remember the word Sunlight.

BUDGET SHOWS DEFICIT.

Depression Has Marked Effect on British Fiscal Affairs.

London, April 29.—David Lloyd-George, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, last night issued an explanatory memorandum on the revenue and expenditure for the year.

He estimates the revenues in 1909-10 as $741,950,000 and the expenditure $820,760,000, showing a deficit of $78,810,000. The bulget will be presented in the House of Commons today.

It is pointed out that the increased expenditure is due mainly to old-age pensions and appropriations for the navy.

Dealing with the past year's finances the Chancellor says that nearly all branches of trade and industry suffered serious depression, the foreign trade returns showing diminution in value to the amount of nearly $570,000,000, as compared with 1907.

The Chancellor adds that it is impossible to prophesy any immediate rapid recovery, but he is of the opinion that there are some indications that foreign trade is beginning to improve.

The revenue for 1908 fell short of the budget estimate of $7,510,000, and the interesting fact is noted that in that year for the first time the gross revenue dealt with exceeded $5,000,000,000.

The national debt now amounts to £3,770,606,545.

Elevators In the West.

Ottawa, April 29.—A deputation representing the Western Grain Growers' Association waited on Sir Richard Cartwright yesterday morning and presented a petition signed by 10,000 Manitoba farmers asking the Government to take over all the terminal and transfer elevators between Port Arthur and the Atlantic coast. The matter will be further discussed on Monday next, when representatives of the Dominion Millers' Association will be present.

Objected to Deportation.

Belleville, April 29.—It seems that the six English families who were to be deported from Picton and did not go, after disposing of all their effects, were let remain because the British Government had complained to the Canadian Government that there had been too many deportations from Canada without cause, and only one of the six families will now be deported.

Cold Snap Saves Peaches.

St. Catharines, April 29.—The welcome intelligence was received from the peach growers generally yesterday morning that the cold weather all this month no doubt saved the peach crop, as the buds were not far enough advanced to be harmed by Tuesday night's heavy frost. A quarter of an inch of ice formed.

Why the Strength of N. S. Steel.

Montreal, April 29.—The financial editor of The Star says: "The sudden rally to over 60 by Nova Scotia Steel is construed to mean that R. E. Harris, the president of the company, now in London arranging for new financing, is meeting with some success."

Boy Shoots Playmate.

Kispey, Sask., April 29.—At noon yesterday while playing with a rifle, the six-year-old son of John Sandler accidentally shot Ross Randall, aged 14, in the side, causing almost instant death.

Former Official Sentenced.

Utica, N.Y., April 29.—Frederick F. Swancott, supervisor and chairman of the Republican County committee, found guilty of grand larceny in one of the Oneida County graft cases, was sentenced to not less than three years or more than five years.

Power Plant Running Again.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 29.—Shut down through flood for nearly two weeks, the Ontario Power Co. is again running. The drying of the machines has been completed and most of the generators are running now.

New Lake Steamer.

Halifax, N.S., April 29.—The steamer Simcoe, constructed in Newcastle-on-Tyne for the Dominion Government, to be used on the great lakes, arrived here Tuesday night. She is 209 feet over all, and will be used in the lighthouse service. Capt. McNab of Owen Sound will take the steamer up the lakes.

Wanted to Kill Fallieres.

Monte Carlo, April 29.—A man named Verdier, who was arrested here yesterday by the French police, declared that he was an anarchist and that he had come to Monaco for the purpose of killing President Fallieres of France, who is at present visiting here. He seems insane.

To Prison for Life.

Irvine, Ky., April 29.—Beach Hargis, charged with the murder of his father, Judge James Hargis, was yesterday sentenced to life inprisonment.

I believe in laughter, in love, in faith, in all distant hopes that lure us on.—Groves.

Cables Steady—Hogs Firm at Buffalo and Chicago.

LONDON, April 28.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 13¼c to 13¾c per pound for Canadians steers, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9¾c to 10c per pound.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, April 28.—(Special.)—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market this morning, the offerings were 400 cattle, 50 sheep and lambs, 525 hogs and 1500 calves. Owing to the limited supply of cattle, there was a stronger undertone to market, and, considering the quality of stock, prices were higher than on Monday.

The demand was fairly good from local buyers, and there was also some enquiry from exporters, but, as there were no cattle suitable for the latter trade, buyers did not make any purchases. On the whole, however, a fairly active trade was done, and a good clearance was made. A few very choice steers sold at as high as 6c per lb., but the bulk of the sales of the best stock were made at 5½c to 5¾c; fairly good at 5c to 5¼c; fair at 4½c to 4¾c, and lower grades at 3c to 4c per lb. A few loads of rough ranchers brought $4.80 per 100 lbs. Supplies of sheep and lambs were small, for which the demand was good, and prices ruled firm. Old sheep sold at 5c to 5½c per lb., and 145 spring lambs at $4 to $6.50 each, as to size. Calves were very plentiful and cheap. The demand was good and an active trade was done in this line at prices ranging from $1.75 to $6 each, as to size and quality. A good trade was done in hogs, and prices were firm, with sales of selected lots at $8.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market there were offered 100 cattle, 60 sheep and lambs, 600 hogs and 1200 calves. The trade in cattle was quiet on account of small supplies, and prices were firm, with sales at from 4c to 6c per lb., as to quality; old sheep met with a good demand at 5c to 5½c per lb., and spring lambs brought from $4 to $6.50 each. Selected lots of hogs were in demand, and prices were strong, at $8.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. Calves were in good supply at from $1.75 to $6 each.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 28.—Cattle—Steady; prime steers, $6.50 to $6.65.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4400 head; active; yearlings and mixed sheep steady; others 10c to 25c higher; lambs, $4.50 to $7.80; wethers, $5.25 to $5.50; ewes, $4.50 to $5.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Beeves—Receipts, 2193; steers slow, but full steady; bulls in light supply and firm; cows steady, and fair to good strong; all sold; steers, $6.25 to $8.05; bulls, $4 to $5; cows, $2 to $4.50. Exports, 2287 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 6765; market active and higher; veals, $5 to $7.75; few choice, heavy, $8; dressed calves firm to ½c higher; city dressed veals, 8c to 12c; country dressed, 7c to 10½c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 14,749; sheep steady; lambs firm; spring lambs lower; wooled sheep, $5 to $6; clipped do., $4 to $5.60; unshorn lambs, $7 to $8.75; clipped do. $6.50 to $7.50; Maryland spring lambs, $5.15 per head.

Hogs—Receipts, 8194; firm, at $7.60 to $7.75.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at 12,000; market steady; beeves, $4.65 to $6.80; Texas steers, $4.40 to $5.50; western steers, $4.35 to $5.50; stockers and feeders, $3.40 to $5.50; cows and heifers, $3 to $5.80; calves, $4.50 to $6.25.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 19,000; market 5c higher; light, $6.90 to $7.32½; mixed, $7 to $7.47½; heavy, $7 to $7.50; rough, $7 to $7.20; good to choice, heavy, $7.20 to $7.50; pigs, $5.75 to $6.85; bulk of sales, $7.30 to $7.40.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts estimated at 16,000; market strong to 10c higher; native, $3.60 to $6.10; western, $3.60 to $6.10; yearlings, $6 to $6.25; lambs, native, $5.50 to $8.40; western, $5.75 to $8.55.

A BACHELOR AS HE REALLY IS

The Sad Contrast Between Him and the Benedict When There is no One to Look After Him.

"Once more has been revived the notion of a bachelor tax. Anything more preposterous or absurd is impossible to imagine," writes J. Ashby-Sterry in the London Graphic. "To begin with, as matters stand at present, the bachelor is more heavily taxed than any other member of the community. He has to suffer all sort of inconveniences and snubs that would never fall to the lot of the married man. He is always asked for subscriptions to every kind of charity because 'a bachelor cannot have many calls on his purse, you know;' he is generally accorded the worst and most draughty bedroom at a country house; he is expected to stand at the back of an opera-box, and he is invited at the last moment to fill up a vacant place at a dinner party.

"If a convoy is required to take a rich old aunt to see the sights of London, the bachelor has to be on duty; he is also expected to ride outside on a wet night if the carriage happens to be unusually full; he is counted upon to find tickets for the theatre for country cousins, and hostesses will never forgive the least infringement of etiquette on his part in the way of calling or leaving cards. You will find that the gentleman who gets outside an omnibus on a pouring wet night to oblige a lady is, in nine cases out of ten, a bachelor. Indeed, there are few people in the community more generous, according to their means, more unselfish, and more self-denying than his much-maligned class. Why, then, should it be taxed? If a tax is required, let it be levied on the pampered, petted, over-indulged, usually ungrateful, married man."

"The bachelor, whether man or woman, has a magnificent time in days of physical well-being. Then he or she exults unkindly over married friends who cannot go whither they will, or who must of necessity consult the claims of others in the important matters of meals and hours. But when illness comes—say, a nasty attack of that unprincipled fiend—influenza—the lonely man suffers. There is no one to bother him with inquiries which may be irrelevant, but are always tender; no one to see he is supplied with food every hour whether he wants it or not, to bring him the papers, and to put violets on his dressing-table; no one to pat his pillow, to bathe his head with eau de Cologne and tell him 'he is a darling old sham, not half as bad as he pretends.' The only subject to occupy his mind is his own miserable conditions, and the stupidity of the hireling James who will forget to keep up his fire. The bit of sole he fancied for dinner was swimming in grease, and he nearly wept when that big idiot, who never does more than he is told, could not find him a clean pocket-handkerchief. The bachelor, free as air, enjoying the amusements of life, is a totally different person from the bachelor crouched in an easy-chair, wishing in vain for somebody to come and look after him."

POISON IVY CURE.

A writer in "The Emergency Service" says: "Ragged milk weed will cure oak or ivy poison. This fact should be generally known by all who love to roam the woods. Being in the woods nearly all the time, I used to be bothered every season, getting poisoned two or three times every season. I learned of the milk weed cure accidentally, as I would rub the itching places with all kinds of shrubs and weeds until one day I let the juice of a milk weed run on some of the ridges on my hands and noticed that it dried up the blisters and stopped all itching. Since then I have tried this remedy in many different cases and at all stages, and it has invariably cured every case. I have had to cure some people two or more times before they would believe in the milk weed, as they were using other things at the time the milk weed juice was applied."

"WOMEN!"
"Are You Nervous?"
The results of modern civilization are evidenced in an increase of nervous disorders. It could not be otherwise with the way we eat, drink, lose sleep, and keep up a continual round of excitement. The work, the worry, the excitement, all tell upon the nerves till they cry out in revolt, and will not be placated till a remedy such as
MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS
come along with their nerve-strengthening and energizing properties, and restore them to their normal condition.
Mrs. Wm. Levi, Markdale, Ont., writes: "I had for several years been troubled with nervousness, and, like many others, spent lots of money on medicine that did me no good. I was so bad that the least noise would make me jump and my heart would thump so you could hear it plainly and I could not lie on my left side at night. I saw a few testimonials of others and decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and to my great joy and surprise they completely cured me and it only took six boxes to do it. I have a neighbor, Mrs. Bickett, and I induced her to try them and they effected a cure. I can endorse their use for anyone afflicted as I was."

SIMPLE SYSTEM OF HANDLING GRIPS

Travellers at the Oriental Should Have no Difficulty in Getting Their Baggage to the Trains.

"System down to a science here,' said a traveller here in the Oriental Hotel this morning as he saw the careful manner in which the grips of the departing guests were carefully ticketed. If a traveller is going out on the morning C.P.R. train his grips are each ticketed, giving his name and the train he travels on. They are left in the rotunda, where they are taken to the bus by the porter. This system, simple though it is, eliminates any trouble that may arise from anumber of grips being alike. It also provides against the grips being left behind at the hotel.

BUILDING DREDGE NEAR HASTINGS

The work on the new dredge at Hastings is getting well on to the launching stage, and before long will be ready for the water. The sides have received two coats of paint and the bottom is being rapidly spiked on and caulked, as well as the overhead staying being fitted in.

The sides for two auxiliary scows are being assembled and bolted together and will soon be ready for erection.

Mr. Mack and staff are getting everything in readiness for the contractors to start operations so that as soon as the water permits a busy season may be expected.

THE LADIES' FAVOURITE

Wherever Parisian Sage is Known It Has the Call

Parisian Sage, that most efficient of all hair restorers, is a very delightful and refreshing hair dressing. Besides possessing these qualities, it will positively make any woman's hair soft, luxuriant and attractive. Wm. Madill sells it, and will return your money if you are dissatisfied.

Just read this: "After using one bottle of Parisian Sage, I now have a better growth of hair, and I found your Hair Restorer pleasant to use. After the first application the dandruff disappeared and my hair stopped falling out, and it has been restored to its natural colour. I now recommend your Parisian Sage to all my lady friends.—Lottie Real, 111 Mt Hope avenue, Rochester, N.Y."

BARBER WENT ON A BAY RUM "JAG"

Drank Nearly a Quart of It and Still Survives.

Vancouver, Wash., April 28.—C. C. Fuller, a tramp barber, after drinking nearly a quart of pure bay rum in one afternoon, suffered no more inconvenience that a series of fits and convulsions, and a night of disturbed slumber in the city jail. That he did not die forthwith is a mystery to the doctors of the city.

Fuller came to this city and went to work in a local shop. Business for a time was dull. Fuller discovered a quart bottle of bay rum, which had never been opened. He broke the seal. One drink got lonesome and called for another. In a short time Fuller was seized with convulsions. He ran out of the shop to the street and fell on the pavement. He recovered in jail.

We have yet to hear of one failure to cure where a fair trial has been given. Can be given without the person knowing it, is harmless and absolutely without taste. Mother, sister or wife, you would be doing a great work by giving this remedy to some members of your family. We will mail a full month's treatment for five dollars. TWO GRASS FIRES YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

There were two grass fires yesterday afternoon. The first one came in from box 45 on Barnardo avenue, and while the brigade were there another alarm was telephoned in three minutes later from Jackson Park. For this fire the chief hooked up his own rig and hustled after the department. He got a couple of chemicals and two men and went to the park. This fire was started by a couple of boys who are known to the chief, and a police court case is likely to follow.

OLD AGE

Comes to Everyone, But its Visits May be Postponed.

It's a mighty hard proposition to look young, no matter how young you feel if your hair is falling out and your head becoming bald.

We don't blame you if you are.

Why not try an effective one for a change.

CAN NOW BE SEEN FROM GEORGE STREET

For the first time the new armouries were seen from George street yesterday morning after the big fire. There is now a decidedly vacant space, and it must be said that it is a big improvement. There is no doubt now about the old shed being cleared away by May 24th. Work will be started at once in cleaning up the few ashes that remain and in levelling off the grounds so that by the 24th, Central Park should present a very respectable appearance.

The public buy "Salada" not alone for its superior flavour and drawing qualities, but because they know it to be absolutely cleanly and healthful, prepared and put up by machinery without the contamination of human handling. 143

NEW GROCERY IN EAST CITY NORTH

Mr. Michael Guerin, recently moved into their new house at the corner of Roger and Hazlitt streets, East City. Adjoining the new house is a grocery store. Mr. Guerin formerly conducted the grocer business on Rogers street near Douro street, but on the completion of the new building moved in. A grocery business in the north end of the East Ward is undoubtedly a great convenience to many people.

An Archdeacon's Task In The Cold, Dark Regions Of Alaska

A Comparison With the Work of a Jap Miner—A Strange Contest Between These Men Bent Upon Vastly Different Missions—The Hardships They Endure.

WHO WILL BE THE VICTOR?

Fairbanks, Alaska, April 28.—Of those hard men who "mush" the ice-ribbed trails of Alaska, which is champion? Who of them fares farthest down the blizzard in shortest time? Who does and dares most in the death winds that whip the tundra?

Two there are between whom this honour lies; one a priest and one a pagan.

One is Stuck, archdeacon of the Episcopal diocese of Alaska.

The other is Wadda, a Japanese, famed for his dog team and acclaimed for the lion heart that takes him alone into the bosom of the untrodden wastes.

When the archdeacon hits the trail he goes as God's man, to do the Almighty's work, and 55 below is as 55 above, so long as duty's finger beckons.

When Wadda hooks up his dogs, it's the lure of the gold that calls him, and 55 below is as 55 above, so long as the hope holds in his breast that he will find the foot of the rainbow.

A winter ago the archdeacon, his sled laden with medicines and axes, breasted the blizzard for a thousand miles, to the tribe of the Gens du Large, whose home is near to the Arctic Sea. With the medicine he drove out smallpox and made this tribe clean. With the axes he hewed logs for a chapel and a hospital, and to this, when the Summer waters came, gentle women were sent, that the sin and sickness of this most northern tribe might be fought on its own ground.

When the man of the church was leaving Fairbanks Wadda and his dogs were leaving Nome. Wadda's sled was laden with salmon sides and pickaxes. He travelled a thousand miles into the approaches of the Porcupine and across to the Arctic Sea. There he prospected for gold and hewed logs for a cabin.

Stuck, who sought souls, was sick of pneumonia and nearly lost an arm by freezing.

Wadda, whise quest was gold, had to boil his caribous hide pirka and share it with hs dogs to keep from starving.

Recent advices from the extreme north are that Archdeacon Stuck, laden again with medicines, has started on a three thousand-mile mush that will take him to every tribe in his far-flung jurisdiction, and that every soul in the Fairbanks parish turned out to give him Godspeed into the wilderness.

Dispatches from Nome state that the dog-team race of 1908 will be over a thousand-mile trail, and that Wadda is conditioning himself for the event by putting his dogs twice over the course. The purse is $10,000.

If he comes back out of the Arctic, Archdeacon Stuck will bring with him Indians from all his northern tribes, that the world may see his charges and through sympathy Congress be induced to do for them those things the church knows is sadly needed.

If Wadda lives through his race he will bring his famous dogs to the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition—for a consideration.

So, for another winter are priest and pagan striving with the eyes of the northland on them, for the one is known as is the other. Each has once more pitted his life against the odds of the trail, for in a race like this the life itself is the stake and he is counted winner who holds longest to it.

Which, when the ice breaks, will hold the prize? Will it be God's man, or will it be that other whose guiding spirit is the great god gold?

Most Exciting Trip From Gow Ganda To Charlton Described

Toronto, April 28th. — W. L. Fletcher, London, England, arrived in Toronto yesterday from Gow Ganda after an exciting trip through the almost impassable bush trail from Gow Ganda to Charlton. He left Gow Ganda on Saturday morning.

"We waded through miles of rushing water up to the waist," said Mr. Fletcher, "all the way from Gow Ganda to Wilson's Camp. From there to Elk City it wasn't so bad, but from Elk City to Charlton was the hardest proposition of my life. The road was changed into a river, and covered by a thin coating of ice. The only team which left Elk City we found six miles out. They had given it up. Deserted road-houses, dead horses, decaying food completed a picture of desolation.

"At one road-house called the Winnipeg I found a half sack of flour, brown sugar, corn starch, and a frying pan. With such articles and a good warm fire I, who did not know the result, made a dough with the addition of water, and spread it out on the frying pan, pancake fashion, and anxiously waited for a result. I did grease the frying pan, but am at a loss to tell you what it was. We ate it with relish. Some melted brown sugar and the meal was complete."

"Gow Ganda is empty, the stores are full, and those who are there, just wait patiently for the on-coming rush, so firmly expected by all who have claims and goods to sell. Money is scarce, and really valuable properties are being sold for practically nothing, so that the sellers may keep going until the capital comes in with the first rush.

"When we got to Charlton we were all in.

"I was assailed on all sides in Elk Lake to accept a half and three-quarter interest in claims for a very little money."

Board Of Works Committee Had A Busy Session Last Night Adopt A Policy Of Economy

The Board of Works Committee of the City Council had a busy session last night at which a number of important matters came up, the principal matter being the consideration of the cutting down of the officials on street work.

The board also had a number of other matters up.

The city engineer reported on the Sherbrooke street drain, which Mr. Webb asked to have filled in, and advised that the work be left over until next year when the cost of the work can be put in the appropriation. There is no objection to the ditch being filled in except the cost. The Board has no money this year.

Alderman Bradburn pointed out that already $3,500 has been spent this year and only about $9,000 are left. Deducting from this the fixed expenditures there are only about $6,000 left for expenditure by the board. As yet the board has only just got started and at the present rate of going the money will be all gone by July 1st. This means that the board has got to start at once and cut down the expenditures.

Alderman Bradburn suggested that the board buy a horse, crush the 200 cords of stone and with two men and the dump cart use the stone for patch work on the streets. That will be about all that can be done this year.

This opened up the economy question and the chairman asked where the board could start. The officials on the staff are: The engineer, the street commissioner, assistant commissioner and an assistant in the city engineer's office, and a plumbing inspector.

There was a lengthy discussion over the employees and it was felt by all that one man on the street force must be allowed to go as there would not be enough work to do. It was decided therefore to keep Messrs. Evans and Fitzgerald on, and not engage Mr. Thirnbeck this year.

Moved by Aldermen Turner and Bradburn that Harry Evans be on the sidewalk gang, and that Mr. Fitzgerald take charge of the streets and bridges. Carried.

On motion by Aldermen Turner and Bradburn, Mr. T. Q. Quartermain was placed on the permanent staff at $650 per year, dating from May 1st. Carried.

Before Mr. Quartermain was only temporarily engaged, and was paid at the rate of $780 per year.

Police Protection

A letter was received from City Engineer Hays asking for police protection in ward five between seven and nine o'clock. The city engineer reported that very often hand rails are torn away from walks going over drains and creeks, etc. This often causes great danger to the public as well as expense and repairs.

On motion of Aldermen Bradburn and Turner, the letter was referred to the police commissioners.

A letter was received from the city engineer in reference to the flooding of the cellar at B. F. Ackerman's factory. Mr. Hay stated that the sewer connections in the factory were contrary to the plumbing by-law.

The Board of Works has already nearly six miles of granolithic sidewalk to be built this year and that will keep them busy all summer. As a matter of fact six miles is about the limit of the board's ability. Yet there are about two more miles asked for by the people who have petitions in. These petitions the board considered last night and some of them will be constructed where absolutely needed, and the board will do all it possibly can.

Sewers will be built as follows.

On Aylmer street, from lot 40 to lot 50.

EXPRESSES HIS APPRECIATION

Mr. Felix Brownscombe Writes Chief Howard Enclosing Cheque for "Firemen's Benefit."

Chief Howard of the Fire Department received a letter yesterday from Mr. Felix Brownscombe, accompanied by a cheque for the Fireman's Benefit Fund. The letter read as follows:

April 28th, 1909.

Chief Howard, Fire Dept., City.

Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me to express to you my thanks for services rendered to my property at the time of the drill shed fire this morning. Being directly in the line of the fire, and the roofs of the buildings being at one time almost covered with burning shingles, I do not hesitate to say that had it not been for the promptness with which you responded to the fire alarm and the good judgment you displayed in distributing your men, my dwellin gwould, to say the least, have had the roof very badly damaged.

Also express to the men under you my thanks, and accept the enclosed cheque as a small contribution towards your "Firemen's Benefit Fund."

Yours truly,
FELIX BROWNSCOMBE.

POOR SEASON FOR THE RAT CATCHERS

Indians Have Not the Amount of Money They Had a Year Ago.

A number of Indians from Rice Lake were in the city to-day, who reported that the season's catch of muskrats was the poorest in many years. They have not made very much money this year and do not enjoy the same affluence as last year. The rats were in some way elusive and the Indians have nearly all lifted their traps until another season.

SHEEP RAISING IS A LOST INDUSTRY

Trade Has Dropped Off Locally and Blame is Laid on Dogs Killing The Sheep.

Dealers are beginning to lament the fact that Peterborough is a lost county as far as the wool trade is concerned. There is now barely a fraction of the trade that was formerly done on the local market. Slowly, but surely the flocks have dwindled until now there is but a small number throughout the township of the county.

The reason given for the decline of sheep-raising is that the dogs became such a nuisance and worried the sheep and that once they had been worried they seemed to be wholly demoralized and were of little value.

This year little wool has been offered and this has been all unwashed. The cold weather maintaining will make it imposible to wash the sheep till nearly the first of June, which will make the season about a month late. It has atendency, too, to injure the quality of the wool, as the spring growth will be mixed with the winter wool, and the quality will not be the same as though it were all the winter fleece.

THE CORNER STONE FOR ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

Has Been Placed in Hands of Marble Cutter to be Engraved.

The work on the foundation of the new All Saints' Church has already been begun and the stone part of the walls will soon be under way. A few days ago a stone block was taken to Moore's Monumental Works to be cut and engraved for the corner stone. The preliminary work shows that the new church will be large and its location is considered very desirable.

IS MOTHER OF ELEVEN CHILDREN

Says its no Picnic to Properly Care for Them—A Letter From Roosevelt.

St. Paul, Minn., April 27.—This race suicide talk, Mrs. T. Mainzer says, is all buncombe, and so far as the Roosevelt letters of commendation to parents of large families go, she has one and is ashamed of it. She is the mother of eleven children.

"My husband wouldn't have written to Roosevelt if he had not had a pail of beer," Mrs. Mainzer continued. "Besides, he didn't write himself; he got a friend to write for him. And Roosevelt didn't write the letter to us. He only signed it. I begged my husband not to write, and when the letter came I threatened to put it into the stove. I don't want anybody to see it. I don't want anybody to know the former President wrote to us. I am not proud of it."

Mrs. Mainzer plainly showed that to raise eleven children, do all the washing and ironing, cook for a husband besides and meanwhile fight sickness and ill health is not all the dream of Utopian bliss the former President thinks.

"But you love all of your children, don't you?" she was asked.

"Yes, of course. But I am afraid I couldn't love any more," she replied.

"You don't think caring for a big family is any picnic?"

"No. Such picnics are all right for the rich. Such things are not for poor people. I haven't time or strength either to properly care for eleven, though I do the very best I can "Race suicide talk is all right for the amusment of people who haven't anything to do but bother about other people's troubles; but to cook, and bake, and sew, and wash, and fight ill health, and sometimes even poverty, with eleven on one's hands, is not a pleasure. It's work—hard work. And the hardest is not to be able to do for the children what every mother feels she should do—dress them, educate them, care for them as other people's children are cared for. Too many children is more than pretty theory—it's grief for mothers."

ENCOURAGING THE BEAUTIFUL

C. P. R. Sending Out 50,000 Free Packages of Flower Seeds to Its Employees.

Will Mean 1,500 Fine Gardens Stretching Across Continent.

(Montreal "Witness")

Enthusiasm and success were stamped all over the scheme for making the stations of the Canadian Pacific Railway the links in a flower chain extending across the contintent. Mr. N. S. Dunlop, the chief of the C. P.R. claims department twelve years ago inaugurated the free distribution of flower seeds to station agents and others, and the beautiful flower gardens by which so many of the Company's stations are surrounded in the summer months are the direct result. In this direction the Company has certainly give an impulse to civic pride all over the Dominion, the full effects of which can never be adequately estimated. It has been noticed wherever the station agent or section men establishes a garden with the seeds supplied free from the Company's floral departments, the enthusiasm for flowers invariably extends to the whole community and fosters pride in the beautifying of the homes of the people.

Mr. Dunlop is now sending out the annual package of seeds, no fewer than 50,000 packages, representing 32 varieties, are being shipped out, to be distributed in 1,500 gardens across the continent.

'The flower fever,' said Mr. Dunlop this morning has spread over 12,000 miles of railway, and the desire for flowers extends to the Company's hotels, dining cars, Atlantic and Pacific steamers, as well as the steamers on the Great Lakes, inland waters of British Columbia and the B. C. coast service.

'Agents, sectionmen, and employees, together with their wives, vie wth each other and a make a flowery chain across Canada, and now wherever thre is a C.P.R. Station, section house or office building, there you will find flowers.

'Later on thousands of plants and shrubs will be sent out, while last fall we distributed 200,000 tulips, hyacinths, lilies, crocuses, iris bulbs. This means that with those sent out in former years there will be some millions of early spring bulbs in bloom.

'For months I have been receiving hundreds of letters of encouragement and enquiries regarding the flower scheme for the present year, and the indications are that the work will be made greater and broader by the hundreds of amateurs who now vie with each other to brighten their surroundings by the cultivation of flowers during their spare time.'

Mr. Dunlop's office is a regular bureau of information on the subject of floriculture, for large numbers of employees write to him for pointers. This morning the office was gaily decorated with flowers in honour of the occasion. The varieties of seeds sent out to-day were as follows: Alyssum, antirrhinum, aster, balsam, candytuft, carnation, climbers, dahlia, dianthus, eschscholtzia, everlasting flowers, gaillardia, hibiscus, hyacinth bean, kochia, mignonette, nasturtium, nicotiana, pansy, petunia, phlox, poppy, portulaca, scabiosa, stocks, sunflower, sweet peas, verbena and zinnia.

The Peterboro Canoe Company And Something Of Interest About Their Boats And The Output

Few citizens of Peterborough, have anything more than a faint idea of the immense business carried on and the great variety of products manufactured by that well known local firm of boat manufacturers, the Peterborough Canoe Company, Limited. A glimpse into the pages of the eighteenth annual catalogue of the firm which has just been issued from the Examiner presses and which is larger and more ambitious than anything in this line yet attempted by the concern would prove a revelation to the average resident of the city.

If there has been anything that has made the name of Peterborough known wherever there is water capable of being navigated by small craft, it is the Peterborough canoe, and while the Peterborough Canoe Company do not claim that they were the original pioneers of the canoe, they do claim, and with justice, that they were the pioneer builders of the perfect type of canoe that is found the world over bearing the name of Peterborough.

Peterborough canoes as manufactured by the Peterborough Canoe Company have been used by the Department of the Interior on many occasions and by the United States Government for boundary surveying work. Mr. Wm. Ogilvie, in his trip down the Yukon and across to and up the Mackenzie river, used a Peterborough canoe for 2,500 miles of the journey and it was fit for active service at the end of the trip after having made 1,700 landings. The Peterborough Canoe Company have supplied canoes for many members of the Government surveying parties, and for the governments of Newfoundland and the United States, as well as to hundreds of explorers and trappers in Alaska on the Yukon, in the northwest territories, in fact anywhere where a small craft is of use.

At every summer resort in Canada and at many points in the United States the company's canoes are found advertising Peterborough as well as their builders by their excellence of quality and the beauty of their construction. The firm's specialty is "good workmanship and good material" and every boat that they turn out is certainly a striking testimony to the fact that this motto is most carefully carried out. Their models are noted for their beauty and grace, but they do not confine their output to a few standard lines. Their aim is to be able to supply the proper canoe to fit any combination of circumstances, and with their splendidly equipped factory the largest of its kind in Canada, they are in a position to carry out their aim. Canoes are built in many different styles, including patent cedar rib, rib and batten board, canvas covered, longitudinal strip, and flush and metallic joint and they build everything from a small racing canoe to a war canoe model, thirty feet in length.

Some beautiful models are illustrated in the catalogue which is well worth reading as an interesting souvenir of the extent which boat building is being carried on in Peterborough.

The company does not devote its attention exclusively to canoes, however, for its products in other lines of boat building are becoming equally famous. The dinghies and sailing boats turned out by the firm are well-known to yachtsmen, and have carried off prizes at most of the summer regattas. The same excellence of workmanship and quality of material that causes the Peterborough Canoe Company's canoes to be recognized as the standard for craft of that kind are employed in the manufacture of their other boats.

They turn out gasoline and steam launches that for grace of model, finish and general construction are surpassed by no other firm in the business and every year their proficiency in launch building is being more generally recognized. Launches manufactured by the Peterborough Canoe Company are to be found at many outside points and the care that has been exercised in their manufacture enables them to most favourably compare with the boats built by other companies.

In addition, the firm supplies everything in the nature of boat equipment and outing and camping utilities—camp chairs, beds, tables, life buoys, tents and toboggans are only a few of the lines that they carry in stock.

Their catalogue, which is profusely illustrated with cuts of some of their most prominent models, is an interesting and instructive booklet.

Souvenir Post Card Fad Is Not Dying Out, Says Local Dealer

An article appeared in a local paper a short while ago to the effect that the picture and souvenir postcard fad was dying out and that the people were not buying as many as they were a year or so ago. But a Peterborough merchant who deals largely in the souvenir cards informed the Examiner yesterday that the craze for the picture cards had not lessened, but rather increased. In fact, he said that he had never sold as many as he has this last six months. "Especially the Christmas, Easter, Valentine's Days and St. Patrick Day cards were in great demand in their season, persons buying large numbers of them. He had already placed his order for next year's Easter and Christmas cards, the demand being so great that orders had to be placed several months ahead of the time they were required

NOT MANY HOUSES ARE UNTENANTED

Real Estate Men Report That Demand for Medium Class Houses is Brisk.

In conversation with a number of real estate men this morning an Examiner reporter learned that there are not many vacant houses in the city. There are a few but the situation is still very favourable, the demand being good an dthe rent being fairly high.

The opening of the month of May has from time immemorial been the month of moving. It is easier to move than to house-clean, and though it may not be altogether for this reason, still this is the time of the year in which mother retires to the cellar to pack the empty jars in a barrel, while father wrestles valiantly in his effort to disconnect the reluctant stovepipe from the chimney, to which it seems wedded during the winter, wishing the while that the children were absent, so that his lips might utter the thoughts that arise in him. And then comes the big van with its attendants, who march solemnly to and from with a toilet set under one arm and a chromo depicting the heated fancy of some artistic brain under the other. And when the van has gone there always remains the baby carriage, in which the few last forgotten things are bestowed—the dishpan, the clothes wringer, the mantel clock, a parlour lamp with a pink shade, a handbox and numerous other miscellaneous articles, to be wheeled reluctantly through the crowded streets by the now hopelessly dejected husband and father, while the family, with lesser bundles, conclude the mournful procession that is going forth to conquer a new home.

Lever Brothers, Toronto, will send you free a cake of their famous Plantol toilet soap, if you mention this paper.

CHIMNEY FIRE AT TEMPERANCE HOUSE

The Fire Brigade was given a call at 1.15 to-day to the Foster Temperance House on Hunter street, where a chimney was on fire. It blazed up vigorously for a while and an alarm was sent in. It was quickly extinguished and the services of the firemen were not required.

ANOTHER EPISTLE FROM MR. BAILEY

Sir,—This morning, coming from school, a very nice little girl asked me "are you going to put something in the paper to-night?" Dog tags, Dreadnoughts or Cruelty in Asia Minor? No! Perhaps Mr. Editor, you would help me. How would this do—

Be good, sweet maid,
And let who will be clever, etc.

Or you might make up something for me.

Yours truly,
W. A. BAILEY.

MUST NOT PLAY BALL IN CENTRAL PARK

Young People Who Play There in the Future Will be Prosecuted.

Mr. D. W. Dumble informed the Examiner this morning that measures were being taken to prevent young men and boys from using the Central Park and Collegiate Grounds for baseball. It was utterly impossible to maintain the grounds in the way that those in authority desired to and allow ball players to chase over them. By a recent amendment to the Ontario Petty Trespass Act, Mr. Dumble stated, it was made an offence to walk on a lawn whether fenced or unfenced. This law will be enforced. While there was every sympathy with the young fellows who want to play ball, he said that they must find some place else to play.

WARNING FROM THE FISHERY INSPECTOR

CHEESE FACTORIES OPEN ON MONDAY

Many Improvements to Factories and in the Farmers' Equipment.

The cheese factories in the county will be practically all opened on Monday next. At least this is the report of a prominent dairyman to-day. This has been anticipated for some time and the factories are practically all ready to begin work. The season is considered by the buyers to be very promising. The farmers who are patrons have been improving their facilities during the past winter and with the education that they have been gradually receiving it is thought that there will be less trouble than ever with faulty milk. Another thing in favour of the industry is the fact that the farmers recognize the fact that the cheese factories provide a special revenue and one that brings them yearly splendid returns.

Nature of the Company Has Been Changed—A Splendid Year Experienced.

The J. M. Greene Musical Co., at their annual meeting held recently made a material change in the character of their company, which will be known in the future as the J. M. Greene Music Co., Ltd. The company has had a very successful year and all the members of the company are well pleased with the large share of business that has been theirs. The report presented by the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. J. M. Greene, was most satisfactory. Although there has been a feeling of depression in the money market the company has not experienced any bad effect, and in fact had a larger business than was expected under the existing conditions.

President—Mr. R. C. Braund.
Vice-President—Mr. H. C. Bacon.
Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. J. M. Greene.

The company's branch in Campbellford is flourishing and in that locality as well as in the Peterborough district they have disposed of a large number of pianos. They are beginning the new year with even brighter prospects and under the new company expect a prosperous season.

The charter for the new company was obtained through Dennistoun, Peck & Kerr, its solicitors.

SAFETY OF RAILWAYS IN THE OLD COUNTRY

A Comparison Shows That the United States and Canada Have a Heavy Death Roll.

The Scientific American applauds the British Railways as having once more, after an interval of six years, achieved the remarkable record of carrying on their operations for a whole twelve-month without the loss of a single life. The last period in which this was achieved was the year 1901. In 1902 six lives were lost; in 1903, 25; in 1904, six lives; in 1906 48; and in 1907, 18. As a matter of fact, there has been no loss of life for fifteen months past. The relatively large number of fatalities in 1906 was mainly the result of three disasters which were found, upon investigation, to be due entirely to the failure of the human element, all the mechanical arrangements on trains and tracks being found perfect. Compared with the above the railways of the United States and Canada make a poor showing.

SAFE EYE-GLASS FITTING

Selling eye-glasses out of a stock like scissors or thimbles is a dangerous practice that is altogether too prevalent.

There should not be the faintest doubt in the mind of any person who finds the need of wearing glasses, that they are identically, scientifically fitted to the eyes.

We offer you safe spectacle fitting. And that is the only kind you should be satisfied to accept. There is nothing on this earth dearer than a cheap pair of spectacles that you have chosen yourself, simply because you can see with them.

THE G. T. P. MUST BE FINISHED

Hon. G. P. Graham Answers Mr. Borden's Criticism of Loan.

SEES MANY DIFFICULTIES

Leader of Opposition Declares That Government Has No Partnership In Transcontinental Line — It Will Be Pressed for Capacity In a Few Years, Declares Minister —Got Nothing From Indies.

Ottawa, April 29.—The second reading of the G.T.P. ten million dollar loan bill was reached yesterday afternoon.

R. L. Borden offered an elaborate criticism of the Government's handling of the enterprise and made the suggestion that before any more favors are granted the company, the Government should demand some return in the handing over of ten million dollars of the preference stock. For the small amount that the old Grand Trunk Co. had put into the enterprise, the shareholders had been given $25,000,000 worth of common stock. The country, the other partner, gets nothing.

It appeared from the contract that the G.T.P. could not be forced to take over the eastern section till the Quebec Bridge was ready, in which case there would be a loss in interest and depreciation of ten million dollars or more.

Hon. Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways, did not answer the observations of Mr. Borden, but he dwelt at some length on the absolute necessity of going ahead with the railway.

The discussion will likely be concluded this afternoon, and the House will go into committee on the bill, when Mr. Borden will offer a couple of resolutions, one demanding that the company hand over the preference stock for the loan.

Mr. Borden did not recede from the position he took in 1904, that the country should build the other one-tenth and own the whole road. Government operation of the I.C.R. had not been successful, but he believes it could be demonstrated that a Government-owned road could be operated just as economically and efficiently as any corporation-owned railway.

How was it that the Grand Trunk had been able to complete the Lake Superior branch without additional assistance from the Government? This was a most important branch of the road and it was fair to assume that the company would never give up the control of this line. Could this be the reason the company was building the portion of the road.

Mr. Borden asked the Minister if he was sure that this would be the last request of the G.T.P. for aid.

Mr. Graham did not think Mr. Borden was quite right in making the proportion contributed by the country to the construction of the railway as 90 per cent. However, whatever the proportion might be, Canada was still the partner of the Grand Trunk in this enterprise.

He believed in a few years the G.T.P. would be pressed to accommodate the traffic that would be created in the West. He believed dollar and a half wheat was in sight.

The projection of the Grand Trunk Pacific had forced other railways to construct branch lines that never would have been built. Already 15,389 homesteads had been located within 12 miles on either side of the G.T.P., or 2,461,928 acres.

His answer to the Borden request that the Grand Trunk be compelled to give the country stock for the loan, was that the Conservatives did not get any stock from the C.P.R.

Hon. John Haggart, F. D. Monk and Mr. Nantel (Terrebonne) continued the debate till 6 o'clock, when the House adjourned.

The House went into committee of ways and means when Mr. Fielding's resolution extending to Canadian sugar refiners the privilege of importing foreign raw sugar at the preferential rate in the proportion of two tons to one manufactured by them, were taken up. The sugar refiners had represented to the Government that on account of the combine in the West Indies, they had to pay the higher duties.

Mr. Ames questioned the wisdom of penalizing the West Indies on the eve of a conference, the object of which was to develop trade with those islands.

Mr. Fielding answered that we had granted them the preference and got nothing in return. The resolutions were adopted.

Mr. Foster enquired if there had been any negotiations with the United States with reference to reciprocity in pulp wood and logs. Answer, "No."

Mr. Borden asked if the Government had considered what its policy would be, and Mr. Fielding replied that after the tariff bill was passed by Congress it might be necessary to take action.

The unusual spectacle was seen yesterday morning of a member of the Opposition presiding over the public accounts committee. The chairman, A. H. Clarke, was absent, and C. J. Doherty, a former judge, replaced him.

T. H. Johnson of Winnipeg was examined by Mr. Meighen with reference to the purchase of the Transcontinental right of way. Mr. Johnson, who is a solicitor, had attended to getting the title for the right of way, and charged a fee for each parcel of land whose title he passed.

A specific instance cited by Mr. Meighen was when a whole section was held by the Province of Manitoba under one certificate, the right of way traversed all four quarter sections, and four transfers were made out and charged for.

Alderman Who Helped the Saloonkeepers Is Brought to Light.

Montreal, April 29.—The royal commission investigating the city administration got going in good shape yesterday.

Developments began when T. A. Gauthier, chief clerk of the Recorder's court, took the stand. His examination drifted along until Mr. Perron suddenly asked him if the habit of allowing liquor cases to be settled upon payment of the costs had not shown great development about the time of the municipal elections of 1907. Gauthier admitted that it had. He had been forced to act as collecting agent for the election fund of Ald. Proulx, chairman of the police committee, and had called upon a number of the saloon-keepers who had been accommodated by the dismissal of cases entered against them on payment of the costs. These saloonkeepers he had found willing to do the right thing by the alderman who had befriended them.

Several of the saloon men told of more or less generous contributions to the Proulx campaign fund. One F. J. Cavanagh confessed that he was so impressed with the good work of the chairman of the police committee in getting him out of the trouble that he spent $800 or $900 in securing his re-election, and that his efforts on election day were so enthusiastic that he actually killed his horse.

It is likely that a number of other aldermen will be implicated in the same way. Names were mentioned yesterday, but no evidence was given in support.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

There was eight inches of snow at Blind River after Sunday's storm.

New York City aldermen will attempt to legislate for a standard loaf of bread.

A party of Australian journalists en route to the imperial conference will be escorted through Canada by George Ham of the C.P.R.

Budget Gambling at Lloyd's.

London, April 29.—The trend of public opinion regarding the sources that Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George is likely to tap to secure the increased revenues necessary to balance the budget is evidenced in the business being done to-day at Lloyd's. Enormous amounts of insurance are being taken against increasing the taxation on sugar and tea at premiums respectively of 35 and 40 guineas. Insurance done on a lesser scale at premiums ranging from 30 to 35 guineas. The budget will be presented to-day.

Brantford Has a Complaint.

Brantford, April 29.—Brantford Board of Trade has decided to appeal to the Railway Commission for the removal of alleged discrimination in rates by local railways. Both the Grand Trunk and T. H. & B. offer lower rates from Lynden and Jerseyville and other places to Hamilton than to Brantford, although these places are near this city. The board will also make an effort to have the coal-carrying service to Port Dover West abolished.

Halifax Mayoralty Election.

Halifax, April 29.—In the civic elections here yesterday Ald. J. A. Chisholm, K.C., was elected mayor of Halifax over Ald. A. Hubley by a majority of 498.

The only other contest was in ward four, where Ald. Kelly was elected over E. W. O'Donnell by 103 majority.

Negro Lynched.

Berlow, Fla., April 29.—Charles Scarborough, a negro, who attempted to assault a woman near here Tuesday, was captured and lynched yesterday. The posse, which had been following him with dogs since Tuesday, found him in a tree-top.

THEY WILL ASK FOR A DECISION

Supreme Court Will Be Appealed to Regarding Railway Act.

SUBURBAN TICKETS CASE

Lawyers for Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific Maintain Before Dominion Board That Present Act Does Not Give Commission Power to Prevent Discrimination In Passenger Rates.

Toronto, April 29.—For an interpretation of two sections of the Dominion Railway Act the lawyers for the C.P.R. and G.T.R. will send a stated case to the Supreme Court to determine whether section 341 is in any way controlled or affected by section 77, and if it is so controlled, to what extent and in what particulars.

The point is raised in the application for an extension of commutation rates to certain places in the neighborhood of Toronto. The railways dispute the jurisdiction of the board and contend that there is no control and that they are perfectly free in the matter of commutation, mileage or excursion tickets to discriminate in whatever way seems good to them.

This contention was clearly brought out by E. W. Beatty of the C.P.R., who quoted the decision of the interstate commission in a case against the Southern Pacific Railway, in which the latter had issued excursion tickets to the Republican and Democratic conventions, but had refused them to the convention of the People's party. It had been held that no unjust discrimination had taken place.

"My contention," said Mr. Beatty, "is that we have the right to give or withhold as we see fit, and that where we have given we have the right to withdraw as we see fit."

"Do you mean to say," interjected Judge Mabee, chairman, "that in the case of commercial travelers, for instance, you could give special rates to the Grits and withhold them from the Tories? Or, take the case of the Legislature, could you give them to the Government side and withhold them from those against the Government?"

Mr. Beatty: "I think we could, my lord, but of course it wouldn't be done."

The chairman: "If your contention were to hold, you could lay out a town plot near another town, build a large hotel, issue commutation tickets to your resort and refuse it to the other towns. I would take issue with you when you say you have power to exercise all sorts of discrimination under the act. Suppose you built an hotel on a beach, would you have the right to issue commutation tickets to all who came to your hotel and not to others in the vicinity?"

Mr. Beatty: "The act gives us power to give free transport to some and withhold it from others."

H. L. Drayton, K.C., appearing for the city, said that the application was also in the interests of an outside population of 200,000 within a radius of 60 miles. There were 80 stations within a radius of 42 miles of Toronto and 47 within a radius of 22 miles. Of these 47 stations, 26 were given commutation rates. Here was obvious discrimination.

In comparison with the Montreal suburban district the difference was still more apparent. In that district 75 stations, all of those within a radius of 60 miles, were receiving commutation rates.

Strike Situation Unchanged.

Lethbridge, Alta., April 29.—The strike situation remains unchanged, though it is claimed it will be settled inside of a week. One authority stated yesterday that it was a question of the authority of Lewis or Sherman.

Outside of the C.P.R. reserve there is no coal here whatever, and schools are closed because of lack of coal. The district board meets at Fernie Thursday. The Lethbridge Daily Herald and other papers have frequent letters from miners expressing dissatisfaction with Sherman's actions.

China and Japan.

Victoria, B.C., April 29.—News was brought by the Shinarno Maru that Japan is preparing to enforce her hold on Manchuria. An agitation was under way for a "stronger policy toward China." The Chinese Herald of Yokohama says the impression is gaining ground that Japan, taking advantage of the heavy difficulties, diplomatic and domestic, confronting China's executive, is trying delicately, but none the less relentlessly, to force that country into a diplomatic quandary.

Overfeeding Causes Death.

Chatham, April 29.—Daniel Finnister, a middle-aged man, is dead. Finnister had been out of work and discouraged, and Tuesday afternoon he was given light work by Mrs. Thomas Brady. It is said that he did not have much to eat lately, and he ate a very hearty meal Tuesday night, and it is thought that overfeeding may have caused his death.

City Clerk Shoots Negroes.

Birmingham, Ala., April 29.—Two negroes were killed and one injured by City Clerk C. M. Jones of East Lake last night in front of the City Hall while the council was in session. The negroes were trying to break up the meeting as the result of some of their friends having been arrested and convicted of running a blind tiger.

Threatened to Kidnap.

Boston, April 29.—Charged with attempting to extort $10,000 from Jas. Whitla of Sharon, Pa., under the threat of kidnapping his son, William, who was stolen several weeks ago and only returned to Mr. Whitla on his payment of $10,000, two men were yesterday arrested at the south end postoffice.

SLAUGHTER IS COMPLETE.

Death List at Adana Is Estimated at Thirty Thousand.

London, April 29.—A Daily Mail special sent from Mersina, Asia Minor, on Monday night, via Cyprus, says: Two Turkish regiments, landing here on Saturday, proceeded to Adana, where the massacres of Christians began on April 14, and resumed, late Tuesday night, the wholesale murdering of Armenians and the burning of their property. Thousands of Armenians were burnt alive, those attempting to escape being shot down by the troops. The destruction of Adana was completed. The loss of life in the whole province of Adana is estimated at 30,000. The material losses of Europeans is enormous. The British and foreign warships here are inactive. In Hadjin, a town of 15,000 people, thousands of Armenians and three American ladies are besieged by Moslem troops and irregulars. Four Germans, previously reported killed at Bakdjeh, have arrived at Mersina safely. The Armenian population of that town perished.

Fight In Court.

Midland, April 29.—W. O. Fisher of Orillia, license inspector for East Simcoe, had a rough and tumble fight in the court-room yesterday morning with Joseph Peake, barber, of this town, who had been summoned on charges of illegal sale of liquor. On April 10 the inspector, with Chief of Police Bell, searched the premises occupied by Peake as a barber shop and discovered one bottle of whisky in a cheese box in a hallway back of the shop, and in the cellar 30 empty bottles. Last week the hearing was postponed, when it was found that two of 13 prominent citizens to be summoned as witnesses had not been properly served. None were called yesterday.

Peake has charged Fisher with assault, and this will be heard next Monday.

Progress of G.T.P.

Montreal, April 29.—E. J. Chamberlain, vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific, who returned yesterday from the west, makes the official announcement that the company's line will be wholly steeled from Lake Superior to a point 130 miles west of Edmonton by Dominion Day, or a straight track of 1,365 miles. They will also build 200 miles this year in Alberta and Saskatchewan, to move the wheat crop.

All the bridges between Winnipeg and Edmonton are completed and a gap of fifty miles is all that is left of the track laying from Manitoba to Edmonton. The McArthur contract of 275 miles from Prince Arthur Junction to Winnipeg will be all graded in a few weeks.

Must Pay the Musicians.

Ottawa, April 29.—Local 180 of the American Federation of Musicians, has taken action forbidding any of its members from henceforth playing in any of the city churches without remuneration. It has been the custom to allow union men to play free in their own churches, but it is alleged that some have extended their services without cost to other churches, hence the drastic ruling of the union. It will result in the abolition of a number of local church orchestras.

Dual Language In Quebec.

Quebec, April 29.—Notwithstanding hard fighting by the railway and steamboat companies and others opposing the measure, Armand Lavergne's double language bill passed the Legislative Assembly. It provides that all public utility companies doing business in the Province of Quebec shall have their contracts drawn up in French as well as English. The measure was promoted by the Nationalist party.

Professor's Handsome Gift.

Kingston, April 29.—Announcement is made that Prof. William Nicol of Queen's, professor in minerology, is making arrangements to transfer to the account of the directors of the school of mines, the sum of $40,000, on condition that he be given a certain annuity.

It is understood the gift will go towards the erection of a new minerology building.

Hotbed of Tuberculosis.

Brest, April 29.—Rear-Admiral Adam has declared to the special committee of investigation that the reserve ships which cost enormous sums are valueless.

Surgeon Schief, one of the medical officers, stated that the arsenal was a hotbed of tuberculosis, 400 deaths resulting from this disease among the men attached to the arsenal annually.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

STORY OF FIRST MARATHON AND HOW THE CLASSIC RUN IS STILL THE HIGHEST HONOUR

The Young Greek Soldier Who Ran Over the Famous Course Died From the Terrible Strain—How the Long Grind Effects the Action of the Heart.

WHO SHOULD BE MARATHONERS

"Victory!" gasped the young soldier from Marathon, as he tottered into Athens; then he died.

His over-taxed, outraged heart literally burst. He had volunteered to run the entire distance from the battlefield of Marathon to Athens with the news that the Greeks in far less force had beaten the horde of invading Persians and had driven them back to their ships with great slaughter.

And that is why we have the twentieth-century Marathon, a relic of the classic days of so long, long ago. To-day, when the Marathan craze with its heartbreaking pace has caught the whole country, we are lacking just one year of living 2,400 years after that first great Marathon run which cost the runner his life.

Marathon was a plain on the northeast coast of Attica on which lay four villages smiled upon by the southern sun—Marathon, Probalinthos, Oinoe and Tricorythos. They formed a tetrapolis, or city made up of four towns. It was divided from the plain of Athens by Mount Pentelicus and the hilly district of Diacria.

The plain of Marathon derives its chief fame from that great battle of Marathon—maker of history—when an army of 10,000 Athenians and 1,000 Plataeans utterly routed a horde of 100,000 Persians. The great Greek soldier, Militades, commanded the little force from Athens; Datis and Artaphernes led the Persian host. Artaphernes was the nephew of King Darius of Persia, who had sent this mighty force to conquer all Greece and make it tributary to him.

But Militades triumphed with a force only a tenth as great. He drove off the arrogant Persians to their ships, they leaving 6,400 dead upon the field. Militades buried 192 of his men on the field, and afterward the grateful Greeks erected a vast tumulus in their honour.

The City of Athens awaited the outcome of the expected battle, almost hopeless. Were they to lose their all and be vassals of a barbarian, or were they to continue, free and true, able to preserve their classic ideals?

The First Marathon

And Miltiades knew all this. He knew they needed the news. He knew, too, that a man can run for twenty-six miles faster than a horse can run.

"Who will take the news of the victory to Athens?" he cried.

"I will," said a youthful soldier, stepping from the ranks.

But this was no sawdust track or macadamized road over which the bearer of the glad tidings had to run. It was up hill and down dale, over sand and rock, through mud and water. On, on, on, he ran, nearly naked, striving to get there at the earliest moment with his glad tidings.

All Athens was waiting news from the front. At length, far down the road, the guards on the outskirts of the city saw a tottering figure slowly running down the road that led from the plains of Marathon.

Who was he; what news did he bring? Slowly the young man dragged himself into the great plain where the Athenians were wont to meet. He gasped out his message of victory and died. He had run 26 miles and 385 yards, which to-day has become the classic Marathon distance.

The best historians say that this young hero, who not only fought in the battle, but ran from Marathon to Athens afterward, was Pheidippides. Herodotus, "Father of History," does not mention his name, however.

And why was it possible in those ancient days for men to run so far and fast? And women, too? Because of centuries of training. Pheiddippides had been an athlete ever before he was a soldier. He came from a family of athletes, undoubtedly. No doubt his mother, as a girl, had been a runner, too.

And how did they train for these sublime events in their lives? Primarily, they led the simple life. A regular diet was prescribed for those who wanted to excel in athletics. The Greek athlete eschewed wine and drank nothing but warm water. He ate new cheese, boiled grain and dried figs. Meat was not allowable.

Of such people came the runner of the original Marathon, who gave nis life to do the distance without pausing for a rest. No doubt, too, the Marathon hero had taken part in the sacred Olympic games, or else he could never have made the run after fighting all day in battle.

The Olympic Games.

Every few years, accordingly as the moon, which marked the Greek midsummer, drew to its full, a pilgrimage of all that was best and vigorous in Helias—ancient Greece—ended at the little plain of Olympia, in Elis, the small state on the western coast of Peloponnesus, a flat space with natural barriers of mountains and river, some fifteen miles from the sea.

Long before the beginning of the festival heralds went forth throughout Greece to proclaim a truce, during which all fighting must cease between city and state, and between state and state. A whole month of peace was proclaimed so that the Hellenic youth should be able to travel unmolested from the uttermost boundaries of Hellas in order to make the offering of their piety and their vigour to the Olympian Zeus at Elis.

The plain of Olympia was sacred ground. It was dedicated to Zeus—or Jupiter—their god of gods, and contained on its northmost side the altis, or sanctum. In this sanctum was the temple of Zeus and the temple of Hera. There were altars to Aphrodite, or Venus, and to Demeter. This sanctum was adorned by some of the most beautiful examples of Grecian art, including the exquisite statute of Zeus by the great Greek sculptor Phidias.

But there were no more Marathons in those days. Never again was that historic race ran until 1896, when, at the new Olympic games, the Greek Government instituted the Marathon race.

Who Should Run?

Who is fit to run a Marathon?

The first answer is—no person under eighteen years of age, and really he ought to be older than that. Few realize the strain on the heart. The boy who tackles a Marathon to-day will feel its ill effects twenty years from now in his heart action. There must be strict training, plenty of good food, plenty of sleep, no intoxicants and careful attention to details. Luck never won a Marathon—any trainer will tell the novice that axiom.

"Hypertrophy of the heart," said Dr. Arthur L. Derchfield, of New York, captain of the New York University track team and a middle distance runner, "is the result of a continued excessive indulgence in athletics. It seems to me that the warning would be timely.

"Boys in the high school, college men, athletic club members, alternately train and race to the limit of their endurance for the period of a few months. Then they lay off and perhaps dissipate for the remainder of the year. The effect is a general enlargement of the heart or a general weakening of the system.

"In these strains, at first, the walls of the heart, especially of the left ventricle, become enlarged, and finally, if work is not stopped in time, the organ fails to do its work and ultimately collapses."

And thet is what the Marathon does. Pheidippides died for something worth while. But thousands of half grown lads, striving to win a Marathon—all physicians agree—are in danger of killing or crippling themselves for no reason at all, except for a cup and a little one-day glory.

THE TRACK FOR MARATHON DERBY WILL BE LAID OUT ON GRASS

Toronto, April 28.—The Canadian Marathon Derby at Hanlan's point Saturday will be run over the five-lap grass track, laid just inside the clay track.

A survey of the clay track yesterday showed it to be a few feet short of being a full quarter, and in addition the new stands had made it too narrow at one end for a field of runners, so to avoid all chances of fouling or possible confusion in the scoring on a track of irregular measurements to the mile, it was decided to lay a five-lap grass track 30 feet wide inside the clay course. The grass course will be very easy on runners' feet and if it is dry, will be fast too. The race will be run rain or shine, starting at three o'clock, Saturday," said F. H. Elmore, the secretary of the promoters. "we will wait for no man. The new track brings the start and finish both in front of the grand-stand."

To-day and to-morrow the runners will put on the finishing touches for the big race. Yesterday despite the rain A. C. Wood, P. C. Sellen, W. F. Cumming, Charlie Petch, R. Booth, and Red Hawk, all took long walks. Billie McNeil galloped ten miles right in his own kitchen—jogging up and down in practically the same place—a favorite training stunt of his.

Tom Eck got a phone message from Fred Simpson to-day, saying he was in great shape after a five-mile ramble. Simpson will be up to-morrow night.

David Bennett, the veteran, wired that he would be in from Cleveland to-morrow, and Forbes and Graham, the Montreal men are due Friday morning. Charlie John, the Caledonia Indian, is expected to-night, and Sol. Mintz will leave Tom Coley here to-night. Yesterday, Harry Lawson, who was considering the question of turning pro. and entering the race, announced that he was not in shape to meet such a good field and decided not to enter.

Y. M. C. A. BOYS DEPARTMENT

Big Programme Arranged for Younger Members of the Association.

The endeavour the Y. M. C. A. boys' department is going to make next month to break the Examiner road race time for the Lakefield to Peterborough course is creating much interest. The boys will get into shape for the event and will go at the task in earnest. Wilsons' time, 55 mins., 16 seconds is very fast and was made under ideal conditions. Each boy will have to do his mile in about 5.30.

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES

The Torontos are doing well on the road. Yesterday they made it two out of three from Baltimore, by beating Jack Dunn's bunch 4 to 3, in an interesting session. The Maple Leafs got two runs off their pitcher Stanley before a man was out in the first innings, and he was chased to the bench. Desau was sent in to stop the Canadians, and he did not succeed very well as good hitting in the fifth gave Toronto two more. McGinley pitched for Toronto and was effective in pinches, while he was given good support, making the only error himself.

Skeeters' First Loss.

The Skeeters had their first setback of the season, Buffalo turning the tables on them and walloping them to the tune of 6-2. Coettell, the new pitcher, who held Montreal to one hit last Saturday, was good until the lucky seventh, when the Bisons landed on him hard, and he had to be yanked out in favour of Skillman. Taylor held the Skeeters to seven scattered hits, two of which, however were triples. Knott, Buffalo's catcher had two three-baggers.

The other games were off on account of bad weather and Toronto climbs back into second place.

The National League.

The Chicago Cubs, world's champions, by winning yesterday for the fourth consecutive time, are back at the head of the National League column. The Cubs beat Cincinnati yesterday by 6-5, winning out by making four runs in the ninth on four hits and two errors. Reulbach made his first appearance of the season with the Cubs, and although wild was effective, holding the Reds to eight hits. Ewing pitched for Cincinnati and the champs found him for ten safeties.

Won in the Ninth.

There was another ninth innings circus at Philadelphia, where Brooklyn, after having been held by Foxen to two hits in the eighth innings, fell on the ex-Skeeter for two doubles, a single and a triple, which, with a pass, a double steal and an error, netted five runs. Brooklyn won 6-1. Scanlon pitched good bal for Brooklyn. Grant of the Phillies, made five singles in five times up.

Fielding Was Poor.

Boston gave Chappelle very poor support, making five errors behind and the result was that New York won 5-3. New York headed in the eighth on a pass to Bill O'Hara, followed by three hard hits.

St. Louis Hit Some.

St. Louis hammered Pittsburg pitchers for thirteen hits and won hands down by 8-2. The Pirates sent in Maddox, but he was soon chased and Leifield received the same treatment before the game was over. Beebe held Pittsburg to six hits.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

In the American League Detroit won again, and are firmly set in the lead. Mullin's great pitching made Cleveland easy for the Tigers, who won by 8-1. The Naps only got four hits off Mullin, who won his fourth consecutive victory in decisive fashion. Cy. Young was wild and had to be taken out, and Perring, who succeeded him for Cleveland, was ineffective, the Tigers fattening their batting average to the extent of 12 hits.

Quinn's First Loss.

Quinn, New York's new pitching star, lost his first game in two years yesterday. He worked for the Highlanders against Boston, and was touched up pretty hard and no wonder. The team behind him made nine errors, enough to take the heart out of a veteran major leaguer to say nothing of a recruit. Boston won 12-2.

The Senators Won.

Washington beat Philadelphia 3-2 in ten innings, a wild throw to the plate by Baker, letting in the winning run. Unglaub's fielding was the feature. Groom pitched for Washington and Coombs and Vickers for Philadelphia. The two teams will attend the funeral of Catcher Powers to-day, and there will be no game.

The Chicago-St. Louis contest yesterday was called off on account of the Arctic condition of the weather.

WITH THE RUNNERS.

With a Windmill running in Saturday's Marathon Derby, the starters shouldn't have any trouble with their wind. Simpson promises to make at least one of the field look like a Sellen plater, but there is a Cumming runner from the ranks of the Irish Canadians that he may have to look after. With Marsh and Meadows and a Wood in the crowd it sound as if the race was going to run across country, but keep your Hatton the running game isn't going to the dogs even if there is a Coley in the field of starters. Booth will probably carry his own refreshments, but its a dollar to a Graham bun that one of the Montreal men will be Hawked out of the race before the distance is negotiated.

• • •

In some of the Toronto books Simpson is quoted as an 8-5 favourite for the Canadian Derby on Saturday, with 1-2 for place money and no show money taken. Marsh is second choice at 2-1. The longshot is nobody else than our old friend R. J. Hatton who had to bow the knee to Dave Hartley here last Spring. Hatton is at 100 to 1 to win, 40 to 1 for place and 30 to 1 to show. If he DID happen to come home and you DID happen to have a dollar or two on him but then, what's the use of dreaming!

THINGS IN GENERAL IN SPORTING WORLD

Jim Harrison is in active training for the two big walking matches which come off next month, the first in Milwaukee, commencing May 10, and the second here, starting May 24th. The local ped is already in good shape and is confident of making a good showing in both walks, although he knows that he is going up against a classy field of walkers in both events. The same bunch of splendid long distance men that will face the starter in Milwaukee will be here for the big local walk and Peterborough sporting enthusiasts will see a field of real walkers this time.

• • •

In order to make the Brantford-to Hamilton Marathon on May 24th, the most successful race ever held in Canada, and to give the first Canadian Marathon a good start, the Hamilton Spectator has announced that it will send the first Canadian to finish in this race to Athens, Greece, in the spring of 1910, to compete in the Olympic Marathon which will take place there on May 1st, in connection with the Olympic games of 1910. The Athens Marathon was won in 1906 by Billy Sherring of Hamilton from a field of 56 of the world's most famous Marathoners, and it is the belief that the Brantford-to-Hamilton race can develop a man well able to duplicate Sherring's feat. The first Canadian to finish in the race on May 24th will have all his expenses in connection with such a trip paid by the Spectator, and in addition he will receive a handsome gold medal. The second and third men in the race shall receive handsome silver cups, while each starter to finish will receive a pretty commemorative medal. Should the race be won by an American runner, he shall receive a silver cup, and the first Canadian to finish shall get the free trip to Athens.

In addition to the big Marathon, the Spectator is holding a race for boys, 17 and under, over a seven mile course, from Ancaster to Hamilton, the race to take place at the same time as the Brantford to Hamilton race is being run. The latter race will leave Hamilton at 9 o'clock, while the boy's race will leave Ancaster at 9.30. Three handsome cups are being offered as prizes. Entry blanks and all particulars can be obtained from M. M. Robinson, the Spectator, Hamilton, Ont.

"I want to inspect a 'diamond' with my sweetheart" is an excuse a young office clerk offered to his employer so as to get away to see a ball game.

• • •

A Philadelphia exchange says that it is not possible for a team to make three three-base hits and two singles in one innings without scoring a run. How about this: First two men hit out three-baggers and are caught at home trying to stretch the hits, two out; next man triples, next man bunts and is safe, man at third being held; next man bunts and beats it, man still held at third; next man hits the ball, but it hits a base runner, and goes as a single, three out. Three triples and three singles.

Milwaukee News, April 28th.—Milwaukee will be the Mecca in the pedestrian world the week of May 10 when the first international championship walking match starts at Schlitz park. Tom McGrath of San Francisco has sent in the entry of William Stanley, the champion of the Pacific coast. August Raddatz, the German walker, who claims he has walked over 20,000 miles over the country roads of his native country, has sent in his entry. Albert Casey, who is now in the city, may enter the contest. James Graham, of Buffalo, N.Y., has sent in his entry. Graham gained fame a few years ago by going over the Niagara falls in a barrel. J. Wahshaftig, of this city, has also entered. Mr. H. C. Messier, who will have charge of the race, says there will be over a dozen of the best walkers of the world who will toe the mark on the opening night.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, April 29th.—The market opened quiet and unchanged from last night. After a slight hesitancy the upward tendency was resumed and as the advance proceeded the market broadened and became exceedingly active. C. P. R. opened 1½ higher and held most of the rise up to noon. There was a better market in his issue than for a long time, and the activity was looked upon with much favour. London sent over large buying orders for the stock, which showed a two-point advance there. B.R.T. was boosted up easily to near its former high record and the Eries were active and strong on the disposal of the bond issue matter. The pool in Colo. Fuel put that issue across 40 quite easily. The tendency seems to be to still higher levels.

Chicago, April 29.—Wheat opened strong with May a cent and July ⅜. An absence of selling pressure was noted again to-day and buyers had to bid the market up to get anything. There was a decided narrowing in trade in the May option, which becomes cash in two days. Neither side seemed disposed to do much and after the first half hour it was an even break. Shorts were nervous, however. Corn ran up easily and then sold off as quickly. Trade small. Oats quiet.

Liverpool.—Wheat ⅛d. to ⅜d. lower; corn ⅛d. lower.

OBITUARY

MRS. WM. BRECKENRIDGE.

One of the oldest and best known residents of Peterborough passed away yesterday at her home, 108 Boundary Road, in the person of Mrs. Wm Breckenridge, relict of the late William Breckenridge, death terminating an illness of about two years from dropsy. The late Mrs. Breckenridge was born in Ayrshire, Scotland, on Nov. 4, 1838, and was married in 1860 to her late husband, and she had been a resident of Peterborough for the past thirty-six years. She was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and was widely known and respected in this city. Her many friends will regret to learn of her death.

She is survived by sons and two daughters. They are Matthew, residing in Peterborough; Thomas, of Woodstock, Ont., William of Chicago; David, of Wardner, B.C., and John of Calgary, and Miss Maggie at home, and Mrs. George Irwin, city.

The funeral will take place on Monday afternoon, May 3rd, at 2.30 o'clock, to Little Lake Cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS

UDY—McGREGOR

A pretty wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Londry, 616 Aylmer street, when Miss Gertrude McGregor, daughter of the late Gregore McGregor, was united in marriage to Mr. Harry Udy of this city.

Miss Agnes Hall played the wedding march, and the bride was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. Londry.

Mr. and Mrs. Udy were the recipients of many very pretty and useful presents, among which was a handsome couch from the Perkins Ince Co., in whose employ Mr. Udy has been for some years.

BAKER CALLS SIMPSON TO WIN

Dick Baker, the former Y.M.C.A. Harriers trainer, who is now in Toronto, writing to a member of the Examiner staff, calls Simpson to win Saturday's race. Dick formerly handled Simpson and knows whereof he talks. He figures that none of the other fast ones will go the route.

CAN'T RESIST CIGARETTES.

Smoker of Seventy a Day Asks Commitment to Hospital.

St. Louis, April 28.—Harry Boyd, aged twenty-four, who gained fame three years ago by rescuing eleven boys from drowning in the Mississippi River here, was placed in the City Hospital observation ward by his own request. Boyd said he couldn't resist a craving for cigarettes, was smoking seventy daily, and asked the physicians to keep him where he couldn't get them until cured of the habit.

THE COQUETTE

Theer is no doubt that Washington Irving knew what he was talking about when he said—

"He who keeps undisputed sway over the heart of a coquette is, indeed, a hero."

Never confuse a flirt with a coquette. They are as different as chalk and cheese. A flirt is a harmless creature, who flirts just for the sake of flirting, and has no serious intention. A coquette is a dangerous person who deliberately trifles with a man's affections.

The coquette is the callous sportswoman who kills for the sake of killing, and, having killed, leaves the game on the moorland to rot.

When the coquette tires of single blessedness, she tampers with matrimony, and plays upon the vanity of a man until she persuades him to propose. Her self-consciousness is tickled by the submissiveness of man, and she breaks the hearts of at least half a dozen before she finally consents to take one "for better or for worse." A month after the "nuptial feast." the man commences to repent and kick himself.

Coquettes provide plenty of work for judge and lawyer, for they inevitably pay a visit to the Divorce Court! Bah! Coquettes should be hounded out of society, and marriages with them forbidden by the State.

Imagine a girl who is pretty, and fully aware of the fact. Follow her downstairs in the morning, and hear how she complains of the "same old breakfast." Take her out to lunch at the most fashionable restaurant in town, and she how she eyes the gowns of other women. Satisfy her longing for "something decent to wear," and take her to the most expensive costumer, and then note how she complains that she is still looking for a dressmaker who "knows her business."

She makes new friends, spends all her time at social funtions, has boxes at theatres (for which her husband pays), and her one aim in life is to satisfy her craving for novelty. Matrimony is no ban to her, but rather an aperatif to surreptitious love-making.

If a man falls in love with a coquette, let him be on his guard; let him go big game shooting in Central Africa, or let him live alone in the desert—but never, never let him marry her!

The Gordian Knot.

When one of Uncle Sam's sailor's, a man named Gordon, formerly serving on one of our vessels in a West Indian squadron, was taken to the Naval hospital in Washington he described with grewsome vividness to his companions there his adventure with a shark off one of the islands in the West Indies.

"I had jest fell over the bulwarks," said the able seaman, "when along comes a big shark an' grabs me by the leg."

"I never disputes none with sharks," said the sailor. "I let him have the leg."

A Composer's Compliment.

Wagner once said he would prefer to go to Vienna to hear the waltzes of Strauss to hearing Italian opera. On a birthday of Mme. Strauss some years ago she had as guests many celebrated musicians. She passed around a fan on which the different composers and players were writing their names and excerpts from compositions of their own. When it reached Brahms he penned the first measure of the "Blue Danube" waltz and signed beneath, "Not, I regret to say, by your devoted friend Johannes Brahms."

An Opinion.

'Say, paw," said little Rollo, "why do they call George Washington the father of his country?"

"I dunno, son, u[illegible] it was because his country kept [illegible] ustling to keep it out of troubl[illegible] and then came to look at him as a sort of old fogy whose advice didn't amount to much anyhow."

What He Wanted.

"Be careful, young man. You know the old saying, 'Marry in haste and repent at leisure.'"

"That's why I'm rushing things. What I want is leisure."

When fortune fails us the supposed friends of our prosperous days vanish.
—Plautus.

THE LUMINOUS HALO.

Psychic Explanation of an Oft Witnessed Phenomenon.

I was summoned one day to the Saltpetriere in Paris to see a woman who lay in a bed in the dark. She was a woman whose body, nerves, brain, had been teased and tortured for years in psychic and occult experiment. What mental perturbation was racking that brain I did not know, and the physicians at her bedside did not know. With clinched hands and teeth and eyes open wide the woman lay there. Her breathing was irregular and not deep. What we saw was this: A luminous halo of a vague orange hue that circled her head, even as in the old pictures of martyred saints you see the heads mooned with faded gold. This halo was fluctuant. It came and went. It was a light that flickered, grew, faded, formed itself anew.

A miracle, this aureoled head?

If you want to call it that. Words are not of great importance. It was a miracle when it glowed around the head of a martyr tortured in the arena, so tortured by pain and fear that his dissociated psychic centers produced the phenomenon of the exteriorization of luminous energy.

Perhaps it were better to call it at once a miracle and a prescientific fact —a fact, that is, which is occult, but is in the way of becoming known.

I asked Dr. Frere what he thought of this miracle.

"I have often seen it," he said. The field of his experiments was the madhouse at Bicetre. There many neuropathic patients abide, and often in cases of severe headache or of religious ecstasy he has seen these fluctuant aureoles around the head.

"The rays are often twenty centimeters in extent, quite regular, forming a perfect aureole," he explained.

There is, then, a form of energy endowed with luminous properties emanating from the human body under certain conditions.—Vance Thompson in Hampton's Magazine.

THE LAND OF BIG GAME.

British East Africa as It Appears to the Hunter.

A brown village of thatched huts squatting in a trampled clearing of the forest and backed by thickset trees so closely laced with a living tapestry of woven green that the aching tropic sunlight can scarcely penetrate; slim, naked blacks slipping like shadows among the broad leaved bananas and rubber trees, staring furtively as your bearers file slowly past them; a lonely station far up or down river, where a haggard white man sits to receive tribute in the name of his trading company, marks an outpost of civilization in this jungle land. And through and under it all are the fevered glare of sunlight, the ceaseless drowsy whisper of the woods, the hot, dry scents of the parched earth, or, if the rains have come, all the land about will lie cloaked in steaming vapor, the sultry air as thick and humid as the air of a greenhouse at home. There you have the Kongo as the white man knows it —the Kongo or the jungle of Uganda. But all of this is only a part of what we have chosen to call and to picture as the dark continent.

For there, too, is the desert, widely different in all its aspects from Kongoland. On the slope of the rising ground that lifts from sea level at Mombasa and climbs to nearly 8,000 feet before it drops again to the lesser level of Victoria Nyanza is another vast waste as typical of Africa as this jungle country—the desert, as it is called, the plains of bush and grass. Six months of the year—from October to April—it lies half drowned under tropic rains. From April to September only occasional showers fall, and the wide plateau grills under the staring sunlight, all yellowing in the glare. Here upon these uplands is found the great variety of big game, the vast herds of wild things that have made and still make Africa the greatest shooting country in the world. This is British East Africa as the hunter knows it.—C. B. Taylor in Everybody's.

An Alibi.

The milkman stood before her nervously twirling his hat in his hands.

"So," she said sternly, "you have come at last."

"Yes, madam. You sent for me, I believe," he replied.

"I wished to tell you that I found a minnow in the milk yesterday morning."

"I am sorry, madam, but if the cows will drink from the brook instead of from the trough I cannot help it."

A Queer Dish.

A great dish at Egyptian harem feasts is that of a lamb roasted whole. After the manner of a nest of Chinese boxes, each smaller than the other, the lamb is stuffed with a whole turkey. the turkey with a chicken, the chicken with a pigeon, the pigeon with a quail and the quail with a becafico, the smallest bird known, except a humming bird. The lamb is roasted over a slow fire until it is almost ready to fall to pieces.

Try This.

Fasten a key to a string and suspend it by your thumb and finger, and it will oscillate like a pendulum. Let some one place his hand under the key, and it will change to a circular motion. Then let a third person place his hand upon your shoulder, and the key becomes stationary.—London Express.

MAY DAY WILL FIND LABOUR CIRCLES PEACEFUL IN PETERBOROUGH AFTER YEAR OF GOOD BUSINESS IN SPITE OF TIMES

Business Men, Merchants, Hardware Men, Manufacturers Have All Enjoyed Prosperity And Are Looking Ahead to Even Better Year—Interviews With Prominent Business Men.

NO STRIKES ARE REPORTED

May Day (Saturday) will find things moving satisfactorily in Peterborough, and as far as can be learned there is not the slightest indication of strikes or labour troubles of any sort.

Manufacturers, builders, merchants, in fact, business men of every line, interviewed by the Examiner to-day all tell of renewed activity, not exactly of the boom variety, but a steady, increasingly noticeable volume of business, which shows every indication of continung throughout the season, and making the year one of general prosperity.

All the varied interests throughout the city and district tell the same story in different terms, but it all spells "prosperity." The past year has been, comparatively speaking, a good one, and prospects for a busy year are now looming up most encouragingly.

The railways are carrying goods into the city in the same manner, if not busier than when the best boom was experienced. Real estate men are quite satisfied. They report sales good and land is more than holding its own in value and prices are really increasing.

City Going Ahead.

That the city is steadily growing is shown by the large number of new residences which are proposed for this summer and which, in many instances, are now in the course of erection. Churches and public buildings are also springing up and men of means are showing an inclination to invest either in real estate, building, or in some good business. Merchants say they find orders improving and collections are reported most satisfactory. Bank clearings show up favourably when compared with those of the past two years.

Reports from the district around Peterborough show that the farmers are getting busy and are looking for a splendid year. In many localities the seeding is going on steadily, and is well under way. In the other districts many of the farmers are waiting for warmer weather before they go on with their work, but all are busy and look for as fine a crop as they have ever had.

West is Booming.

The influx of new settlers into the Canadian West is rapidly making itself felt in manufacturing lines, and several of Peterborough's manufacturing houses are shipping a large portion of the stock turned out during the winter. The banks report that funds available for all legitimate business propositions, and it is one of the most favourable features of the whole general situation that the banks take such a cheerful view of the prospects.

In regard to local industries the following brief references speak for themselves in regard to the conditions as they have been experienced and as they are expecteed to follow:

The Colonial Weaving Co.

In connection with this company Mr. R. R. Hall, the President, said: "The operations of this Colonial Weaving Co. afford a splendid index of the manufacturing conditions in Canada, inasmuch as they manufacture woven labels placed upon boots and shoes, underwear, shirts, clothing of all kinds, and other articles. The Company must first receive the orders from the manufacturers before it is at liberty to manufacture these labels. If the number of orders is small it is a true index that there is a curtailment of the business which requires these labels. In last year's business there was a curtailment, as may be judged from the falling off in the amount of orders received by the local companies. It is satisfactory to note that since the first of this year the company has been running at its fullest capacity, and the orders being received are far in excess of the plant's capacity. The company has recently applied to the city council for their site and a fixed assesment in accordance with the provisions of the by-law voted upon by the ratepayers two years ago. As soon as a satisfictory by-law is passed by the city council the company proposes to at once advertize for tenders and to erect a building 50 feet by 200 feet. When the biulding is fully installed with the machinery, the company requires, it will give employment inside of two years to upwards of 100 hands."

Collier Cunningham Co.

"The past year has been very satisfactory. An excellent field has been opened up for all the Company's electrical manufactures in the West from the prairie provinces through to the Pacific Coast. The demand for the goods has kept the works busy, and prospects for the year are decidedly encouraging."

Drummond and Duffus.

"There has been no falling off in the past year in our line of business. Farm implements, carriges, and general supplies have been in good demand and accounts have been met by customers practically as soon as in past years. The business this Spring has been very good."

The William Hamilton Co.

"Lots of orders have been received and prospects are excellent. The moulding shop is particularly busy. During the past weeks the business has been as good as it ever was before in that single shop. Five tons of castings daily have been handled. There are thirty men now in the moulding shop. It is expected that the number of employees will be increased during the remainig months of the year."

Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Co.

"Fuel dealers have found the latter part of the winter very good. The delayed warm weather has maintained the demand for coal and has greatly increased the sale of wood, which is going out rapidly."

Canadian Cordage Co.

"The Company will turn out more twine this year than ever before in its history. The output is sold in Canada and the United States, hence during the last year the Company has been able to give more constant and continuous employment to its employees. It is unfortunate, however, to note that the margin of profit is extremely close on account of binder twine being upon the free list and subject to the world's cometition."

These experiences may be taken as a criterion for the great majority, if not all, of the other local industries.

EIGHT LIVES LOST IN NEW YORK HOLOCAUST

Examiner Special (2.45 p. m.)

New York, April 30.—Eight lives wer lost, six persons are missing and fourteen others are in the hospitals as the result of an incendiary fire which gutted the six-storey double-decked tenement house at No. 37 Spring street in the heart of the Italian quarter today. That the loss of life was not trebled was due entirely to the fact that the Mulberry street station house was only a half block away and the police helped get the frightened inmates down the fire escapes. Officer Brossner, a former ball player, saved five babies Seven babies were thrown down to him in almost as many seconds and the big policeman managed to catch five of them, while one other had its brains knocked out on the surbstone, when it slipped through his hands, and another's skull was fractured by striking his helmet and bouncing off.

THE CROWN'S COURSE IN THE KINRADE CASE

Toronto, April 29.—In the event of an interpretation of the decision by the Divisional Court that would mean the quashing the warrant for the arrest of Florence Kinrade, as issued by Coroner Anderson, it is understood that the Crown does not intend to waste any time in appealing. The course which it is reported will be pursued is one which has never been resorted to in Ontario before, but which is nevertheless provided for in the statutes. It is the issuing of what is known as a Crown Office subpoena. This is a declaration which can be issued only by the Attorney-General in person; no subordinate having the requisite authority to do so.

It is a declaration which states that in the Attorney-General's opinion the ends of justice will be served by the appearance in court of the person served, and that that person's presence is forthwith commanded. Failure to comply with the requirement is to be visited according to the statute with a most severe penalty. While the Crown will not discuss the step that it contemplates it is generally understood that this Crown Office subpoena alluded to in the arguments before the Divisional Court would meet the requirements.

The possibility of having recourse to a Crown Office supoena, it is said, was discovered only after a diligent search by the Department for several days.

It is an old English form of practice and is not contained in the Canadian criminal code. There is a general clause, however, which makes the English criminal law as it was in 1790 the law of Canada in all points not excepted or otherwise provided for by Canadian law. This subpoena even in the English courts has seldom been brought into use.

Coming from the Attorney-General himself, and from no one else, the application must be in the form of a sworn statement as to the pressing need for the appearance of the witness.

Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright said this afternoon at 2 o'clock that in view of the uncertainty following the judgment of the Divisional Court it was improbable that the inquest in Hamilton would be gone on with to-night.

Millbrook Threatened By A Fire Fanned By High Wind

Millbrook, April 30.—With a high wind blowing at a rate that was practically a gale, a fire that broke out in a blacksmith shop here at midnight threatened for a time to develop into a conflagration that might have easily devastated a large part of the village. The wind blew the sparks and flames in the direction of Phexton's lumber yards and for a time there was great excitement among the citizens, who had been called out by the clanging of the historic old fire bell. The fire brigade with its apparatus did good work and the assistance of the crowd was a great help. After a time the wind's course veered, carrying the flames in an opposite direction and eliminating all danger to the nearest buildings. The blacksmith shop was badly burned. The origin of the fire is unknown.

QUESTIONS TO BE ASKED AT THE ASTRONOMICAL MEETING

In connection with the meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society on Tuesday night next, the following questions have been handed us by parties interested.

Why does a given place change its latitude; and how much?

When will the maximum sun spot period occur again?

Do sun spots affect the weather?

What is the earliest trace we have of Halley's comet? Has it changed its appearance since first seen? When will we likely see it?

When was the last total eclipse of the sun seen in Ontario, and when will the next one occur?

What force would be required to permit of any substance, such as an iron ball, being thrown away from the earth entirely?

Is the interior of the earth id molten condition?

TO GIVE SERMON ON TEMPERANCE

A Redemptorist Father Will Speak on Sunday Morning.

A special sermon on temperance will be preached on Sunday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral at the eight o'clock and half-past ten o'clock masses. Rev. Father McColl, in announcing this special event, states that it will be preached by a Redemptorist Father from Toronto. It is learned that a splendid speaker will come to the Cathedral on this occasion and a very interesting discourse may be expected.

EXPENDITURE AND DEBT.

Mr. R. F. Sutherland, the able member for North Essex, was most effective in his reply to Mr. Foster's criticism of the budget, particularly with reference to extraordinary and capital expenditure and public debt. His argument summarized shows that in 1884 the net debt of Canada stood in round figures at $181,000,000, and that in 1896 it had reached $258,000,000—an increase of $77,000,000. During that period the Conservative Government expended on capital and special account $94,000,000. That is to say, all that extraordinary expenditure except $17,000,000 was added to the public debt, or, in other words, less than 20 per cent. of the amount which they spent on extraordinady and capital account was paid out of revenue during the period, and 80 per cent. went to increase the public debt.

Contrast this with the record of the present Government. In twelve and three-quarter years it has spent on capital and extraordinary account the sum of $212,000,000; up to March 31 it had increased the debt by $65,000,000, the difference being $147,000,000. It provided not 20 per cent. but 69 per cent. of that capital and extraordinary expenditure out of current receipts, and added but 31 per cent. to the debt. In spite of this, Mr. Foster asks why does not the present Government lay aside money in order to meet this debt?

Dealing with the per capita debt and the rate of taxation, Mr. Sutherland pointed out that when the Liberals came into power the debt per head of the country amounted to $50, and that on March 31 last it had fallen to $45, or $5 per head less than in 1896. Well might he predict that if the influx of population continues, when the present Government shall have been in power as long as its predecessor was—eighteen years—the net debt of Canada, notwithstanding the enormous amount expended on capital and extraordinary account, will still be less than $50 per head.

Mr. Foster has practically admitted that apart from the requirements of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, the increase of the public debt has been very trifling. On March 17th, 1908, he declared in the House that "up to the present time, leaving out 1908, there has been under this Government, a comparatively small increase of the debt." So that practically his criticism bears upon the large expenditure for the great railway project. The years 1884, 1885, and 1886, were a period when the Canadian Pacific Railway was under construction, just as the Grand Trunk Pacific is to-day, and during 1884 the public debt was increased $23,695,135, during 1885 $14,245,841, and during 1885 $14,245,841, and during 1886 $26,751,414, or a total increase for the three years of $64,000,000. If, says Mr. Sutherland, this enormous increase in the debt of the country in those years when the Canadian Pacific was being constructed, was fair and right in Mr. Foster's judgment, why is it not equally proper that the debt should be increased now, when we are engaged in the construction of another great transcontinental railway?

WHY DO GOOD THINGS FAIL?

Wm Watson, the English poet, is prosaically indignant because John Davidson, another poet, was allowed to die in want—people wouldn't buy his wares. Mr Davidson is in very good company, and should not complain. Some of our greatest poets have starved to death, but they live in immortal renown. We have such great lack of appreciation in this country and in this very city. That our mortuary poets have to pay the newspapers for the privilege of having their inspirations printed, argues a lack of appreciation, or, to be on safe ground, lack of merit. Seriously this material age so absorbs our souls that, the getting of money is the only thing worth while. Culture, refinement of taste, love of music, and the higher enjoyments have not very much appealing force. For the past several years every musical entertainment, every concert of a character a little higher than the highest "ragtime," has failed to secure the attendance of more than a corporal's guard. Yet a house or hall can be packed for a comic opera especially if an alluring demonstration of hosiery is to be expected. Tinsel, in attire, tune and tone, spangles spotlights, and lightness, instead of light, seem to be irresistible appeals. A battle by amateur bruisers can attract a large clientele, but amusement appeals in higher forms are made to the vacant faces of vacant chairs. We have had of late visits from distinguished dramatic artists. Thomas Shea, Louis James and Henry Ludlow, and were heard by a handful of auditors. "Painting the Town," vulgar to banality, packed the house. We had the visit of a splendid grand opera company, the Italian, which presented the standard operas, with an artistic effect and dramatic completeness never heard or seen out of the largeer cities, yet they were patronized by audiences which would be small as a congregation for one of our smaller churches, or a rainy Sunday. We had Dr. Grenfell, the greatest philanthropist of history, whose cause appealed to the highest elements of our nature, yet he could only half fill the opera house. We have had organizations like the Toronto Symphony Orchestra, which did not attract an audience much larger than the orchestra itself. The J. M. Hamilton Imperial Scottish Concert Company sang to the "wood family,"—empty seats. The same happened to Miss Hope Morgan and her splendid support. The Edith Miller Concert Company, the very best musical organization that has visited us in recent years, did not have enough oudience to kill the echo of the hall. We had a few nights ago a concert given by the very best musical talent of the city, yet only 165 persons were in attendance, even when the proceeds were devoted to the most deserving charity in existence, the Children's Aid Society. What is the reason that there is such public indifference—it looks almost like antipathy—to the good in music and art?

This condition is unfortunate and the most charitable explanation of its existence is that Peterborough is too small and too large for success to attend ventures that appeal to the higher culture of our citizens. If we were smaller such events would be rare and would attract large audiences of people with an appetite for entertainment. We are too large for such influences to operate. The public are subjected to a surfeit of amusement offerings, beyond our population capacity—and only those which cater to the mass of the people are favoured with reasonably large attendance.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Toronto electric light will cost six cents per kilowatt, if you know what's watt.

The average husband can sympathize with the deposed Sultan of Turkey. Fancy one wife's "I tld you so," being multiplied by fifteen or twenty.

The Toronto Star is publishing a series of stories told by M. P. P's. at Ottawa." It is only by consulting constituents that one can get a proper idea of the "stories" told by their representatives.

It seems as if the United States had no president. We have only heard from President Taft once since March 4th, and that was at a "ball game," where, in one strenuous moment, he issued a proclamation to somebody to "soak de empire!"

FROM HIS HIGH ESTATE

The abdication of Abdul Hamid, and his peaceful replacement by a Sultan who owes his place to the European rather than the Asiatic influence in the Empire, is an event of cardinal importance. For a century there has been a demand that the Christian-killing Turk be driven from Europe; it looks now as if he had gone, as if Turkey were hereafter to be as much a European state as Greece, or Servia, or Bulgaria, or Roumania, which have been successively wrested from the Moslem domination. It looks reasonable to expect that hereafter Turkey will cease to be subject to reproach on account of the treatment of Christian populations in Europe. Immunity for Armenians and others in Asiatic Turkey may take longer to obtain.

For the average student of European history, what has happened is the opposite of what was expected to happen. The nations have been lending money to Turkey until she was thought to be bankrupt in finances and destitute of leadership and public spirit. It was thought the hour of dissolution would come when, crowded from outside, Turkey's weakness would be conclusively demonstrated. Instead of that there has come forth, in the Committee of Union and Progress, as strong an organization for government as any in Europe. Weakness in the sight of Europe goes out with Abdul Hamid; strength, self-reliance, military and diplomatic, comes in with Schefker Bey. The capacity of the new men has been put to a very severe test, for it is accepted as certain that both the Bulgarian declaration of independence and the Austrian seizure of territory were intended to increase, and did increase, the difficulty under which the reformers laboured. It is a shrewd guess that German influence was not far away when the Moslem troops were induced to mutiny in support of the Sultan and against the Young Turks. Hereafter, with strong men of European tendencies in control at Constantinople, neither Austria nor Germany will be able to make any serious encroachment on the Turkish estate. Years ago, Europe feared that Russia meant to swoop down on Constantinople, and France and England joined with Turkey to protect it. Nowadays it is Germany and Austria that get credit for the desire to bear down upon the Adriatic and the Euxine. If it turns out, as some day we may learn, that England, Russia and France have been financing and otherwise supporting the revolution which has changed Turkey from a weak power into a strong one, there need be no surprise, for it is there the interest in promoting such a change is strongest.—Montreal Herald.

'ROUND THE STORES.

Home furnishers will find many suggestions just now in the large and varied stock of furniture displayed in the warerooms of Clegg's Furniture Store. Bed-room furniture especially appears to have received intelligent attention—every piece seems to have been bought with an intimate knowledge of the requirements of the season and of the wants of this locality.

An extensive line of top coats for young men with full back, new style pockets and cuffs, made of good woollen mixtures, will be found at Messrs. Lang and Maher's. This firm is running a reduction sale at present, and should enjoy a large clientele among the most conservative dressers, both in the city and county.

If you have much outside painting to do this spring or summer, your paint bill may be considerably reduced by taking advantage of the sale of Robertson's paints, at the Best Stove and Hardware Co. Builders and contractors should get wise and lay in a stock, as the prices advertised look like a decided drop. The house owner who is keen to keep down the expense of repainting, should not miss to put in an early attendance at this sale of paint. See the advertisement in tomorrow's Examiner.

Spring hats for men are shown in the varied shapes and colours at Merrill and Meredith's, of both English and American make. This firm is becoming rival distributers of the most up-to-date hats. They are devoting extra attention to hats and haberdashery, and particular dressers are finding the smartest novelties here very moderately priced. There is a tendency towards smaller shapes, but the big men will find plenty of hats from which to select. Merrell & Meredith's buyer has made a study of the styles, and apparently the most fastidious will be well pleased with the stock and store displays. Anyway, the hats are here, and the time has come.

"Can you tell me the best place to buy a good cough remedy?" was the question. "Being a stranger to the city, perhaps you don't mind telling me the name of some good druggist." The answer that came was unprejudiced. "Well, I never need to try any cough remedy myself, but Madill's Cough Syrup is well spoken of by people here I know; his drug store is on the corner of George and Hunter streets—it's easy to find."

People who take great care of their lawns may not care to be told that if they would only learn to love the dandelion they would save themselves a lot of worry and trouble. For, after all, the dandelion is not half the pest that lawn owners make it. It has a beautiful flowers and a dainty leaf, and it is much superior to the crocus, which gardeners plunge in their swards for floral effects. Apropos of the lawn question, it may be mentioned that an extra good quality of lawn grass may be procured at the drug store of J. D. Tully.

Just now you have choice of a bountiful plenty of new footwear at Stenson's shoe store. Every age, sex and size may be suited, as well as any taste and purse. All the popular styles and leathers are shown. The "Queen Quality" shoe for women continues to hold its attractiveness.

Papering a house is not an expensive undertaking if you go about it right. If one thinks about for a moment, there certainly is nothing that makes your home look more untidy than soiled or shabby paper on your walls. Now that house-cleaning time is so general, it is a good idea to have the papering done, too—then the one cleaning would do. The new spring wall paper patterns are marked at very low prices this season, and the special sales at Stratton's Bookstore are noteworthy for their discounts from regular prices, so that savings seldom offered may be had just now. Watch the Peterborough Bookstore bargains.

The "Progress" brand of clothing for young fellows shown at H. LeBrun & Co.'s are the kind that their admirers say "set the pace." One look and you'll admit they are in correct line with the popular styles. Made by clever tailors and possessing that fit and form that pleases, makes them the ready sellers that they are.

PRESCRIPTION DRUGGIST

Was Troubled With Weak Back For Years.

Could Not Perform Household Duties. Doctors Attended Without Avail.

Mrs. Arch. Schnare, Black Point, N.B., writes: "For years I was troubled with weak back. Oftentimes I have lain in bed for days, being scarcely able to turn myself, and I have also been a great sufferer while trying to perform my household duties. I had doctors attending me without avail and tried liniments and plasters, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I was about to give up in despair when my husband induced me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and after using two boxes I am now well and able to do my work. I am positive Doan's Kidney Pills are all that you claim for them, and I would advise all kidney sufferers to give them a fair trial."

Doan's Kidney Pills are a purely vegetable medicine, realizing quick, permanent relief, without any after ill effects. A medicine that will absolutely cure Backache and all forms of Kidney and Bladder Disease.

A medicine that strengthens the kidneys so that they are enabled to extract the poisonous uric acid from the blood and prevent the chief cause of Rheumatism.

Price 50 cents per box, or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THIRD READING THURSDAY.

Conservatives Will Offer Amendments to G.T.P. Loan Bill.

Ottawa, April 30.—The debate on the second reading of the G.T.P. loan bill was continued yesterday afternoon. Hon. Mr. Fielding attended a dinner at Government House last night, and the bill was not proceeded with. On Thursday next, when it will be up for its third reading the Conservatives will move several amendments.

Mr. Nantell (Terrebonne) continued the debate yesterday and was followed by Mr. McCall (Norfolk) who moved that work on Quebec-Moncton section be stayed until the Quebec bridge was rebuilt. Martin Burrell (Yale-Cariboo) said the Conservative party could be depended upon to stand by any project that made for real development of Canada.

E. A. Lancaster (Lincoln) said that G.T.P. legislation had been generous to the point of charity.

Mr. Fielding informed Mr. Borden that the Government would have to borrow the money to lend to the G.T.P. He thought four per cent. would cover all the charges. To Mr. Foster he said seven millions of the money would go to the Grand Trunk, which had loaned the G.T.P. the money. Mr. Ames thought the G.T.P. should pay whatever the loan costs the Government.

To Mr. Lennox, the Finance Minister said the engineers had reported that the remaining three millions would complete the prairie section.

James Conmee has given notice of amendments to his bill to incorporate the Ontario & Michigan Power Co.

He proposes to strike out the clause declaring that the works to be undertaken are "for the general advantage of Canada," the clause requiring the company to be prepared to furnish one-half the power generated to Canadian consumers is struck out, and a clause substituted to the effect that the company shall export no power until it has received a license to do so under the Electricity and Fluid Exportation Act. The quantity to be exported may be limited by order-in-council to the surplus after the Canadian consumers are supplied. Expropriation powers shall not be exercised on lands on the Nepigon river except such as may be required for transmission lines, nor shall they be exercised as to any storage dams now constructed or hereafter constructed by the Arrow River & Tributaries Slide & Boom Co.

Gouin May Soon Resign.

Montreal, April 30.—A statement made by Premier Gouin during the debate on the annexation of Ungava, which generally escaped unnoticed at the time, is being taken up by many members of the Legislature as being of special significance. He said:

"I am looking forward with keen anticipation to the consummation of the project of the annexation of that great and fertile country. After this has been accomplished, I shall be able to withdraw, happy in the consciousness that before doing so, I have made my province larger and happier."

The obvious conclusion is that Sir Gouin will then resign the Premiership and prabably to accept a seat on the bench.

Is Kitchener Coming?

Ottawa, April 30.—While considerable interest is evident in military circles in the report that Lord Kitchener is to tour Canada during the coming summer, and make an inspection of Canada's defences for the information of the War Office, no official intimation of the proposed visit has as yet reached the Militia Department.

"We do not, however, infer from this," said a prominent officer, "that Lord Kitchener is not going to pay us a visit. On the contrary, it is quite likely that Kitchener should prefer to take the Canadian route on his voyage home from India. I should not be surprised were he to spend some time in the Dominion."

Shots Stop Fugitive.

St. Catharines, April 30.—At noon yesterday Emil Bieber, twice convicted of forgery, and awaiting deportation to Germany, suddenly bolted. High Constable Boyle took after him, and after a chase of nearly a mile, recaptured him, but he had to fire two shots before Bieber would stop.

Tunnel Work Fatal.

Windsor, April 30.—Gus Smith, employed as a pipefitter at the Michigan Central tunnel, was stricken on the street with an attack of "bends," caused by long continued work under compressed air, and died yesterday at the hospital.

SUFFERED 5 YEARS WITH RHEUMATISM

I have been troubled with Rheumatism for 5 years, one of which I have been unable to do any work whatever. Have spent much money on other remedies until I purchased from my druggist, L. T. Best, Kingston, one box Gin Pills on his recommendation. The result was beyond my expectations. The first box banished all traces of Rheumatism. I now keep Gin Pills in the house and take one occasionally. My sincere thanks are due you for your wonderful remedy which has done so much for me.

Serious Allegations.

Cooksville, April 30.—James Farrell of Streetsville Junction was fined $50 and costs for having liquor on his premises for sale without a license. Incidentally, he swore that while searching the premises License Inspector Oro had removed a roll of bills amounting to $154 from the till, and that the money was never returned to him. A boarder in the house, Hugh Whitty, also swore that he had watched the inspector take a $2 bill out of his valise while his room was being searched for concealed liquor.

The magistrate at the conclusion of the cases stated that in his opinion a charge of perjury should be laid against both men.

Suffragette Sues Mayor.

Montreal, April 30.—The mayor of Montreal faces a suit for $5,000 damages preferred by a leading Montreal suffragette, Mrs. Wright, on the ground that she was handled with undue violence by the police when arrested at the mayor's command for smashing a civic inkpot with a civic paper weight during a stormy denunciation of his worship. The trouble originated when Mrs. Wright, accompanied by a sister Socialist, demanded help on the ground that the city was bound to furnish aid or work to unemployed.

Must Build Ten Miles This Year.

Ottawa, April 30.—In opposing the third reading of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway Bill in the Senate, Hon. Thomas Davis declared that the C.P.R. had no intention of building. The C.P.R. had recently sold fifty millions of stock, but their program in Canada was only to build to the extent of eighteen million dollars, while they were actively building and acquiring property abroad. He moved in amendment that the company be required to build ten miles this year. The amendment was carried by 26 to 22.

Carpenters May Strike.

Niagara Falls, Ont., April 30.—Ontario Officer McNamara of the local force apprehended Mrs. Ida Taylor at Windsor on Wednesday upon a charge of disposing of real estate, located here, with intent to defraud creditors. Mr. Vanderslays of this city is the complainant. When the case was called yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Fraser a stay of proceedings was secured by counsel for defence. Sureties were required in two sums of $200 each. Mrs. Taylor was formerly a resident here.

Pleads Guilty to Theft.

Brampton, April 30.—Eugene Lockwood of Long Branch appeared before Magistrate Shaver at Cooksville yesterday on the charges of theft and on a charge of horse stealing.

Lockwood admitted that he broke into the summer cottage of J. Johnston, Etobicoke, on April 2, and took several pairs of rubber boots, a revolver and other articles. He was remanded until May 7, to give the authorities time to regain the stolen horse, the property of R. W. Parks of Cooksville.

Russia's Financial Difficulties.

St Petersburg, April 30.—Count Witte speaking on the budget at a meeting of the Council of the Empire, said that the Jewish disabilities caused a powerful body of Jewish financiers abroad to boycott Russian securities, while Russia's recent alienation of German financiers has led to a further contraction in the market dealing in these securities. The Russian debt had risen to $5,900,000,000, an increase of $1,450,000,000 in five years.

Last of Huge Fine.

New York, April 30.—The American Sugar Refining Co. of New Jersey and the New York Corporation of the same name yesterday paid into the United States treasury about $900,000, completing a payment of approximately $2,000,000 in settlement of fines and claims made by the Government in its recent charges of fraud on the part of the sugar company.

It's Never Too Late.

Cornwall, April 30.—Daniel Terro and Mrs. Louis Dophinas, two residents of Cornwall, were married here by Rev. Vicar-General Corbet. The bride's name was Arsilda Dasault, and this makes the second matrimonial venture of both parties. The groom is 82 years of age and his bride 67.

CATTLE MARKETS.

LONDON, April 29.—London cables for cattle are steady, at 13c to 13¾c per pound for Canadian steers, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9¾c to 10c per pound.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, April 29.—The railways reported the receipts of live stock at the City Market for Wednesday and Thursday as being 102 carloads, consisting of 1583 cattle, 2437 hogs, 351 sheep and lambs and 360 calves.

Exporters.

There have not been enough export cattle on sale all week to make a market, and any prices quoted would be purely nominal. Our last quotations were from $5.40 to $5.75 for the general run of cattle offering, and $5.80 to $6 for something extra choice and properly finished. Export bulls are worth from $4.50 to $5.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots, which were scarce, sold at $5.30 to $5.50; loads of good, $5 to $5.25; medium, $4.60 to $4.90; common, $4 to $4.50; cows, $3.60 to $4.50; butcher bulls, $4 to $4.60.

Stockers and Feeders.

Harry Murby reports nothing doing in feeders, all of which were bought to kill if they had any flesh of any account. Mr. Murby only got two loads all week, and they were stockers, 400 to 600 lbs. each, at $3 to $3.30 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers.

There would be about 50 milkers and springers delivered on Wednesday and Thursday. There were buyers from Quebec, Montreal and Ottawa, all looking for cows, and this caused a strong market at an advance of $8 to $10 per head. Prices ranged from $35 to $68 each, and had there been a better class, more money doubtless would have been paid.

Veal Calves.

Receipts, fairly liberal with quality a little better, but there is still plenty of room for improvement and then not be any too good. Prices ranged from $3 to $5.50, with a few of the best at $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

The run was light, with prices firm. Ewes, $4.50 to $5.25; rams, $3.50 to $4.25; yearling lambs, of good quality, $7.25 to $7.75 with a few very select at $8 per cwt.; common yearlings, $5 to $6 per cwt.; spring lambs $3 to $6 each, with a few extra lambs at $8 each.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris reported prices as follows: Selects, f.o.b. cars, at $7.25 country points; selects fed and watered at the market, $7.50, and off cars unfed and unwatered $7.75.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, April 29.—Cattle—Steady; prime steers, $6.30 to $6.65.

Veals—Receipts 200 head; active and 25c higher; $6 to $7.75.

Hogs—Receipts 3600 head; slow and 5c to 15c lower; heavy and mixed, $7.70 to $7.75; yorkers, $7.40 to $7.70; pigs, $7.25 to $7.40; roughs, $6.50 to $6.75; stags, $5 to $5.75; dairies, $7.40 to $7.60.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 2800 head; active; ewes steady; others 10c to 25c higher; lambs, $4.50 to $7.70; yearlings, $6 to $6.50; wethers, $5.25 to $5.60; sheep, mixed, $2 to $5.25.

New York Live Stock.

Calves—Receipts 891; market steady; common to good veals, $5 to $7.50; city dressed veals, steady at 8½c to 12c; country dressed, do., higher, at 9c to 11c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 5178; market steady to firm. Clipped lambs sold at $7 to $7.25; clipped sheep, $4.50 to $5.60; unshorn, do., at $6.50.

Hogs—Receipts 1142; feeling steady.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, April 29.—Cattle Receipts estimated at 3500; market steady to strong; beeves, $4.80 to $6.90; Texas steers, $4.40 to $5.50; western steers, $4.50 to $5.50; stockers and feeders, steady to strong; cows and heifers, $2.30 to $6; calves, $4.50 to $5.65.

Hogs—Receipts estimated at 16,000; market steady; light, $6.80 to $7.80; mixed, $7 to $7.45; heavy, $7 to $7.45; rough, $7 to $7.15; good to choice heavy, $7.15 to $7.45; pigs, $2.75 to $6.85; bulk of sales, $7.25 to $7.35.

Sheep—Receipts estimated at 10,000; market strong; native, $3.60 to $6.10; western, $3.60 to $6.15; yearlings, $6 to $6.10; lambs, native, $5.75 to $8.45; western, $5.75 to $8.45.

Cheese Markets.

BELLEVILLE, April 29.—There were 340 colored and 222 white cheese offered here to-day; 11 7-16c bid for white, 11⅝c for colored. Sales, 155 white, 55 colored, at 11½c, and the same on the street for colored.

KINGSTON—Fifty boxes were sold at 11½c. There were only 145 boxes registered.

Ran Into an Open Switch.

Montreal, April 30.—The Rutland express from New York ran into an open switch at Iberville yesterday morning. The engineer threw on the emergency brakes and stopped the train just as it crashed into a freight on a siding. The brakeman of the freight had a leg broken.

Coal Agreement Renewed.

Philadelphia, April 30.—Peace between the mine workers and operators in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania is assured for another period of three years. The agreement continuing in force until March 31, 1912, the awards of the anthracite coal strike commission was signed in the board room of the Reading company here yesterday. The mine workers' union is not officially recognized, the members of the miners' committee simply signing the agreement on behalf of the representatives of the anthracite mine workers.

Reciprocity Committee Busy.

Washington, April 30.—The committee appointed by the conference held in Detroit last week for better trade relations with Canada, called at the White House yesterday and presented the resolution adopted at that meeting to the President.

The President told his callers that there was some sentiment in Congress for the demands of the conference, but refrained from giving any expression of his own opinion.

Million Dollar Fire.

Chicago, April 30.—One fireman was killed, another is missing and eight were seriously injured in a fire which destroyed elevator B. of the Illinois Central Railroad here early yesterday. The conflagration was discovered in the height of a violent electrical storm. The loss is estimated at $1,000,000.

No Canal Planned.

Ottawa, April 30.—Replying to Capt. Tom Wallace in the House yesterday, the Minister of Railways said the Government had not considered the building of a canal from Lake Wilcox, Whitchurch Township, York County, to the town of Newmarket, and no survey had been made.

SAD NEWS TO SCHOOL BOY

Standard for College Matriculation Will Be Raised—Average Must Be 50 Per Cent—No More Scraping Through By a Hair's Breadth.

WILL HAVE TO PLUG MORE.

Toronto, April 30.—The new University Matriculation Council will take charge of the university matriculation examinations so far as the determination of the standard examiners, etc., is concerned, although officers of the Education Department will preside at the examinations.

The report of Dr. Falconer's address, as announcing the ultimate abolition of the junior matriculation examination, was incorrect.

"At least if the 'junior" matriculation examination is abolished, it will be because the 'senior' examination (one year in advance and corresponding to the 'first class'teachers'examination) has taken its place," said President Falconer.

"Our purpose is to make the matriculation examination more difficult, to stiffen it," continued the President. "To this end we have arranged to increase the percentage on each paper this year to 40 per cent., and are considering the adoption of an 'average' regulation for the future, such as is done in the case of entrants for the Normal Schools. It is proposed, although not decided, to compel every one not only to obtain 40 per cent. on each paper, but 50 per cent. on the average for 1910, and raise this to 60 per cent. for 1911 and thereafter."

Will Not Recognize

When asked about the universities' attitude to the Education Department's system of "approved" and "non-approved" High Schools, Dr. Falconer replied that the universities had decided not to recognize these, and the distinction will apply only to teachers' examinations. The Education Department, as was announced some time ago, will allow pupils from "approved" schools to dispense with the papers on grammar and arithmetic.

The university authorities of the Province have gone further, and have decided to dispense with the examination in these two subjects altogether for this year, although no decision has been reached as to next year. The difficulty in accepting the Education Department's list of "approved" schools, Dr. Falconer said, was that there was no provision for an inspection and similar division of the many private schools and colleges that presented candidates for matriculation.

NORWOOD LOSES VALUED CITIZEN

Mr. A. S. Harrison for Years a Prominent Merchant Goes to Lindsay.

Mr. A. S. Harrison, one of the most popular citizens, is moving to Lindsay, where he has purchased a grocery business. Mr. Harrison is an experienced and up-to-date groceryman and Lindsayites will find an A1 citizen and a good business man. He was in business here for a number of years, but on account of some trouble with his eyes was compelled to dispose of his business about 18 months ago. The trouble having now disappeared he has decided to re-enter business life. We regret that he is leaving Norwood as he is an enterprising and useful citizen, serving for some years on the Board of Education and also as a member of the town council for a time. In church life his worth is also recognized, he having for considerable time, filled the office of treasurer of the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Harrison is also greatly esteemed, having been a life-long resident of Norwood. They expect to leave the first of the week for Lindsay.—Norwood Register.

MARK STREET CHURCH HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Was Held on Wednesday Night and Was an Enjoyable Affair.

On Wednesday evening the annual meetings of the Mark St. Methodist congregation was held in the school room, with a good attendance of the members.

Reports of an encouraging nature were given from the various boards and societies of the church, showing that a good measure of prosperity had attended their work during the year.

During the evening, pleasing solos were rendered by Mrs. W. Sargent, and Miss Gertrude Howson, and a cornet solo was given by Mr. Symmonds.

Refreshments were served by the ladies and before the closing a genial half hour was spent in social intercourse.

"PARSIFAL," THE PLAY OF THE AGE

A Beautiful Production With an Uplifting Influence—Local Engagement May 8th.

The great uplifting influence of a worthy presentation of "Parsifal," never to speak of its fine dramatic and scenic appeals to an audience, has been recognized everywhere by everyone that has been fortunate enough to see it performed. There is an inspiration in the character of Parsifal alone that revives in every heart the moral courage to go forth and conquer, and there is hope beneficent in the spectacle of poor Kundry's upliftment, as well as in the spiritual healing of the wounded Amfortas.

Theatregoers owe a debt of real obligation to the enterprising managers, Martin and Emery, who made it possible for those outside of the Metropolitan centres to see Wagner's great art work. Without any fear of contradiction, these enterprising impressarios can claim the most successful and popular presentation of "Parsifal" in America. Last season's extended tour comprised a long series of successes that have fully established these managers as capable earnest and honest producers, whose promises were fulfilled to the letter and whose representations were more than realized in every city visited. It goes without stating that their tour this season will be even more successful.

John Lane Connors and Virginia Keating, who are so favourably rembered in the parts of Parsifal and Kundry, are still with the Martin and Emery organization. Several changes have been made in the cast, in order to add greater strength and a more forceful ensemble. Chief among those is the selection of W. F. Harmon, for Klingsor and L. S. McKee for Gurnemanz. Jane Hampton has been retained in the part of Herzeleide and Richardson Cotton in Amfortas.

"Parsifal" is due at the Grand, Saturday, May 8, for an engagement of two performances, matinee and night.

The early hour of commencement will be strictly adhered to. The evening performances begin promptly at 7:45 and the darkened auditorium will prevent showing late comers to their seats until the conclusion of the first section. The matinee will commence at 2 o'clock. Doors open at 1:30 p.m.

Trustees Of Queen's University Approve Of Removal From Church

Trustees Want a Conference With an Assembly Commission—Are in Favour of Removing From the Charter Denominational Restrictions—The Council's Resolution.

LONG STANDING QUESTION.

Kingston, April 29.—After a long discussion regarding upon the advisability of making Queen's University a non-sectarian college, the Board of Trustees last night decided to ask that a commission be appointed from the General Assembly, which meets in June, to consider with them whether such a step would be in the best interests of the University.

Divided in Opinion.

The trustees were far from being a united body upon this subject. Some believed it would be in the best interests to have the university made entirely non-sectarian. Others felt this would be a mistake, and urged that there was no necessity for such a step. The decision was almost a compromise between the two parties.

When the question was first raised strong opposition was presented to the trustees against petitioning to have the university sever the bonds which connect it with the Presbyterian church.

Not a New Issue.

This is not a new issue. Last year it was carefully considered by the trustees, and at that time the following resolution was passed: "The trustees beg to express their opinion that the altered conditions with which the University has had to deal in these later times call for the removal of the denominational disabilities in the charter of the University."

Those opposed to separation yesterday took strong exception to the phrase "denominational disabilities." There were no such disabilities, it was claimed. Separation from the Presbyterian church would not mean any increased grant from the Government. The University was already getting all the support from that direction for which it could hope for some time to come. By appealing to the Presbyterians for aid, it was felt better results could be obtained than would be possible were the University separate from that Church. That this Church connection prevented others giving to the University the party opposed to separation did not think was correct.

An Interesting Debate.

The debate between Professor Cappon and Professor Ryan was one of the most interesting which occurred during the discussion. The former a staunch Presbyterian, was in favour of separation from the Presbyterian Church, while the latter, a Roman Catholic, urged that there was little to be gained and much to be lost by such a step.

During the day the University Council, largely opposed to separation, adopted the following resolution:

"That the University Council, having regard for the recent action of the trustees, would approve of any wisely directed effort, on the part of the trustees, in harmony with the Church, to remove from the charter such denominational restrictions as might impede the development of the University."

It was in consideration of this resolution that the trustees last evening decided to ask that a commission be appointed from the General Assembly to work with them in investigating the changes which might well be made to advance the interests of Queen's.

Some Features Of The Big Examiner Saturday Edition

The principal sporting event of the present year will be held to-morrow when the Canadian Derby, open to all residents of Canada will be run at Hanlan's Point, Toronto. The contest forms the principal topic of conversation whenever two of the sporting fraternity get together and there will be the greatest interest taken in the race locally from the fact that Fred Simpson is one of the contestants. Realizing that fact the Examiner has made preparations for an exhaustive account of the race and as fast as the returns are received they will be rushed into print. It is the intention of the Examiner to run a special edition which should be on the street at 6 o'clock containing a complete account of the event from start to finish.

This will only be one feature of the Examiner's Saturday number which will be packed with unusual and interesting reading and illustrations. A most interesting article on Prince Rupert, the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific, profusely illustrated will give the Examiner readers some insight into what promises to speedily develop into one of the most important of Canadian cities. The article is written in a breezy delightful style that makes it interesting if only from a literary standpoint.

School teachers and educationalists generally will find in Mr. Barton Earle's next article in his series on "Our Schools and Teachers," some statements that will intensely interest them. It is written in Mr. Earle's best style and will be well worth reading.

Mr. A. B. Cutting's instructive series of articles on the "Methods and Principles of Landscape Gardening," which have been read with so much interest and profit during the past two months will be terminated in to-morrow'-s issue as announced by Mr. Cutting last week.

To-morrow will see the last for some months of Mr. F. M. DelaFosse's engrossingly chatty papers on "Famous Authors and Their Works." The author will be out of the city for several months, and the series will necessarily have to be discontinued until his return.

Sporting enthusiasts will find much to interest them in to-morrow's edition of the Examiner in addition to the report of the Canadian Derby. Among the other features will be photographs of the principal starters in the $10.000 American Marathon in New York, one week from to-morrow, in which Fred Simpson will be the representative of Canada.

Don't be without Saturday's Examiner, which will be special quality throughout, and will contain all the local news, the cream of the foreign intelligence and the usual bright newsy sporting page as well as the magazine features for which this paper is becoming noted.

Another "Indian List" Man Was Fined To-day For Being Drunk

George Martin, another blacklisted man, was fined ten dollars for having been drunk yesterday. He appeared at the police court this morning. Two charges were preferred against him, one offence having been committed on Wednesday and the second on Thursday. He pleaded not guilty to both. A conviction was made in the latter one and he was dismissed on the first.

Inspector Stewart stated that Martin was put on the blacklist. He swore that the prisoner had kept liquor in his shop and persons on the "Indian list" were in the habit of staying around there.

P. C. Meharry said that he served the prisoner with a summons yesterday. Last night in a local theatorium Martin was sleeping in a seat. He was then the worse of liquor.

Martin in the witness box said that he was a shoemaker and admitted having been served by the inspector. When asked wher he got his liquor he replied that he never had any whiskey either yesterday or the day before. He positively denied that any liquor had ben brought to his shop. He did not have anything to drink last night.

Mr. Dickson Nicholls, an employee at the "Crystal" stated that the prisoner was sitting in the back seat. He was very quiet but witness could not say that he was intoxicated.

Mr. A. Sawers was called. When aswed if he saw the prisoner lying on the floor drung in his shop, replied that he did not. He could not say that he was drunk.

Mrs. Sweeny said that she did not know the prisoner. She saw a man lying on the floor of Martin's shop on Wednesday, but could not say whether the man was drunk or sick. She did not know who it was.

P. C. McGinty and P. C. Meharry saw the prisoner when he was brought to the police station. He would take him to be drunk.

Navigation Companies Agree Upon Settlement Of The Case

After two doys had been spent in receiving the evidence in the case of the two Navigation Companies, before Judge Hodgins in the session of the Admiralty Court, a settlement was reached last night on the advice of the Judge, the two parties agreeing upon an amicable arrangement. The judge considered that it would be more advisable for the principals in the case to hold a conference in the endeavour to arrive at some satisfactory agreement. Each party concerned retired for consultation. After some time it was found that they were still far apart and on returning to court so reported to the judge. Then his honor addressed a few words to the two principals, Mr. P. P. Young, president of the Stony Lake Navigation Co., the plaintiff, and Mr. W. H. Robertson, presidetn of the Otonabee Navigation Co., the defendants. He pointed out the fact that the costs of the case would be considerably above the amount of the damages that could possibly be shown, therefore a settlement was most desirable for both parties. He recommended another conference and adjourned the court until 9.30, this morning, asking the principals to get together in the meantime.

Last night the desired settlement was accomplished and both parties are satisfied.

The Stony Lake Navigation Co. received $150 as their claim and each party pays its own expenses, and half the costs of the court.

KNIGHTS WERE AT HOME TO FRIENDS

Pleasant Evening Spent With the Peterborough Council of the K. O. C.

The Knights of Columbus held another exceedingly enjoyable "At Home" last night in the Foresters Hall, Simcoe street. There was a representative gathering of the members of the society with their wives and friends and the younger set was also in prominence. Mr. A. Letellier won the gentleman's prize in the progressive euchre games. Afterwards there was dancing which provided a pleasure to the majority of those who were present. Refreshments were provided and altogether a very pleasant evening was spent with the local council of the Knights of Columbus.

The Ladies' Aid of George Street Methodist Church will hold an At Home and Fruit Sale in the Sunday School Room on Friday evening, April 30th at 7:30 o'clock. Sale of home-made cookery and candy. Good programme. Admission Free. ttf

MUST GET DOG TAGS BEFORE TO-MORROW

To-morrow is the first of May and all dog owners who have not the necessary tags for their canines then, will be prosecuted. There had been only sixty-eight issued up until this morning and that means that there is a large number who have yet to pay the tax. Chief Roszel gave out his annual warning this morning to the reporters for all those who are negligent in getting tags.

Monthly Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid will be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the church parlours.

Twelve Kinds of Paints and Varnishes

But instead of trying to remember the names of 12 kinds, simply remember "Sherwin-Williams Brighten Up Finishes." The name is new but the paints, varnishes, stains and enamels it embraces are all old, standard and well known goods. Ask the Sherwin-Williams dealer in your locality for Brighten Up Finish for floors or stove pipes or bath tubs, or whatever it is you want to finish. He will give you a SPECIALTY for that purpose, not a paint that is made to serve every purpose under the sun and consequently all but worthless.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS BRIGHTEN UP FINISHES include Family Paint, Bath Enamel, Aluminum Paint, Special Radiator Enamel, Varnish Stain, Stove Pipe & Iron Enamel, Empress Liquid Gold, Imperial Gold Enamel, Enamel, Porch & Lawn Furniture Enamel, Flat Black, Screen Enamel, Durable Household Varnish. MISS KINRADE WILL HAVE TO TESTIFY

Miss Kinrade Will Be Called to Stand on Monday.

STAUNTON OUT-MANOEUVRED

Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall Rules That Coroner Anderson Cannot Compel Her to Attend the Inquest, But Attorney-General Can—Hearing May Be Private—Habeas Corpus Possible.

Toronto, April 30.—Coroner Anderson's bench warrant demanding the presence of Florence Kinrade at the Hamilton inquest is worthless outside the boundaries of the County of Wentworth.

So say the Divisional Court, in a praiseworthy prompt decision on the points argued on Wednesday by G. Lynch-Staunton, K.C.

But

The inquest is scheduled to resume on Monday afternoon next at 3 p.m., with Miss Kinrade as the first witness.

For the crown, lawyers have unearthed a new process of law which may be invoked to get around the other discomfitting obstacle. It is by resort — for the first time probably in the history of Ontario courts to the issuance of a crown office subpoena for Miss Kinrade, an English procedure.

Only the Attorney-General in person can apply to the judges at Osgoode Hall for this document. He represents the presence and testimony of the witness to be absolutely necessary in the interests of justice. Refusal to obey such a summons is stated to be a "very perilous proceeding." The penalty lies with the judges issuing the subpoena. The procedure is possible under the general clause which makes English criminal law as it was in 1790 the law of Canada in all points not excepted or otherwise provided for by Canadian law.

Of course, Mr. Lynch-Staunton will endeavor to dig up more technicalities and it is not unlikely will seek refuge in a writ of habeas corpus. But if so, the legal talent at the disposal of the crown can be trusted to find some way out of that difficulty.

So that Miss Kinrade's presence in Hamilton on Monday seems assured. But whether it will result in voluminous reports in the newspapers is not so certain. Should counsel for the defence request that the examination be held in private, the coroner, with whom decision rests, may not prove disobliging.

To Be Dyspeptic Is To Be Miserable.

Dyspepsia is the prevailing malady of civilized life. It is largely due to gross errors in diet, over-eating, too free indulgence in stimulants and over-taxing the stomach with indigestible food, eating too rapidly without chewing the food sufficiently, indulging in hot biscuits, pastry, pickles, confectionery, etc.

Constipation, headache, heartburn, sour stomach, distress after eating, belching of wind, faintness, and fullness and distention of the stomach are a few of the many distressing symptoms of the poor, weary dyspeptic. Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach, stimulates the secretion of the saliva and gastric juice to facilitate digestion, removes acidity, purifies the blood, and tones up the system to full health and vigor, and thereby cures dyspepsia and all its tributary diseases.

Mr. Amos Sawler, Gold River, N.S., writes:—"I was greatly troubled with dyspepsia, and after trying several doctors to no avail, I commenced taking Burdock Blood Bitters and I think it is the best medicine there is for that complaint."

WESTERN ONTARIO AGAIN RAVAGED

Western Ontario Is Chief Sufferer in Canada.

VERY COLD IN THE EAST

Hamilton, London and Western Cities Are Badly Tied Up by Storm Which Started in the Southern States—Street Railway Service Interrupted — Chatham Collegiate Tower Struck by Lightning.

Toronto, April 30.—The storm that swept over Ontario yesterday and raged all last night has caused an immense amount of damage, full particulars of which have not begun to be recorded.

It was stated at the observatory last night that the storm area extended over Western Ontario, and as far east at Kingston, while the storm centre hovered over Illinois. A continuation of bad weather is promised for many hours yet, with probable rain and a little higher temperature.

The storm, like the recent hurricane, developed in the southwestern States. In the early hours of yesterday morning it centered over Kansas, but moved on into Ontario.

A despatch from Chicago last night said: "A squall with the wind blowing 45 miles an hour, and rain descending in torrents, struck Chicago at 6.15 o'clock to-night. Wires went down in every direction and communication with other cities was completely severed. Peoria is experiencing the worst storm in its history," was the last message sent from that city just before communication was cut.

A Niagara Falls wire says: A severe snowstorm visited this city yesterday, about three inches of snow falling. The storm was accompanied by a severe east wind and thunder. The storm will check seeding and may harm fruit, which is forward in many sections.

A Windsor despatch says: "A severe sleetstorm prevailed in this district last night and to-day. Two street cars collided in Detroit yesterday and a lady passenger sustained injuries which will likely prove fatal.

Gurdeon Corning a prominent banker of Saginaw, Mich., dropped dead in battling through the storm to reach his home.

Eastern Ontario seems to have escaped the snowy visitation, but exceptionally cold weather for this time of year is reported at Ottawa, Brockville, Belleville, Lindsay and elsewhere.

In western Ontario the storm seemed especially violent, as usual, and London got its share, the street railway service being completely tied up in the morning.

So heavy was the snowfall in Hamilton and vicinity that the street railway and radial service were badly hampered during the morning, when the mercury dropped several points below zero.

Thunder and lightning with snow accompaniment was what the people of Sarnia had to endure. The temperature in the morning was at freezing point.

The town hall of Peterboro was struck by lightning and the clock destroyed. Snow was also much in evidence.

At Chatham in the early hours of yesterday morning the tower of the Collegiate Institute was struck by lightning and gutted by fire.

Sleighing was a popular pastime at Woodstock yesterday. A foot of snow fell. At St. Thomas the record was six inches.

Out west it continues very cold and snow has fallen in parts of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Loan Office Raided.

Montreal, April 30.—The Montreal office of D. H. Tolman, a money-lender who has agencies in all the important business centres of the United States and Canada, were raided by the high constable and his officers yesterday at the instance of the [illegible] Detective Service and everything placed under seizure. Two young women, Tessie Devaney and Josephine Lamoreux, found in charge of the place, were arrested.

Hoodlums Get Off Lightly.

Brantford, April 30.—Eight Harrisburg young men were mulcted $90 in fines yesterday as a result of the series of disturbances in that village. William Kay and E. Dargis, ringleaders, were fined $5 each.

An old man, Joseph Knight, was the complainant. On three occasions, the disturbers had threatened to hang him, and he had also been dragged along the ground with a rope around his neck.

Cost of Round the World Voyage.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary of the Navy Meyer yesterday declared that the sixteen battleships of the Atlantic fleet, which had made the voyage around the world, were in excellent condition. The voyage had cost only $1,500,000 more than if the battleships had been at home, assigned to ordinary duties.

United States Population.

Washington, April 30.—The next census will show that the nation's population is less than 90 millions.

BRITISH DEFICIT MUCH INCREASED

Chancellor Tells How Deficit Is to Be Made Up.

CANNOT STOP NAVAL WORK

Mr. Lloyd-George In His Budget Speech Declares That Any Check In Increase of Armament Would Be Lunacy—Increased Expenditure Must Be Met by Heavier Drafts on Revenue Sources.

London, April 30.—Accumulated wealth and "the trade," which the liquor business is popularly called in the Liberal Government's budget David Lloyd-George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, presented in the House of Commons yesterday, are made to bear the burden of the £15,762,000 ($78,810,000) deficit of the fiscal year, incurred by the old-age pensions and the race with Germany for Dreadnoughts.

"Socialism and confiscation," the wealthy classes already are crying and a few are clutching at the hope that the House of Lords, which represents these classes, may throw out the budget entirely, but this is improbable. Increased income taxes, death and legacies duties, a tax of 20 per cent. on future increases in the value of lands, due to the enterprise of the community, taxes on motors, to be devoted to keeping up the roads, ad stamp taxes on sales of property are the principal levies upon wealth.

MR. LLOYD-GEORGE.

The Government gets its revenge for the rejection recently by the Lords of its licensing bill, by increasing the taxes on some classes of public house and the customs excise duties on spirits.

A tax of three pence in the pound on sales of liquors also is imposed, and this is likely to antagonize the liquor interests and the workingmen.

On the other hand, the latter are placated by provisions made for labor exchanges for the unemployed, expenditures for afforestation and the promise of an industrial scheme as well as the satisfaction of knowing that the rich are to carry the greater share of the load.

The first comments of the members of both parties indicated astonishment at the number and the sweeping nature of the changes in the country's financial system.

"The maddest budget ever introduced," Sir Frederick George Banbury termed it during the course of a speech in which he declared that the new budget included every fad on the face of the earth.

Austen Chamberlain denounced it for imposing so large a proportion of the nation's burdens on a few people by different devices.

Mr. Lloyd-George proposed to provide the necessary additional revenue as follows:

By reducing the amount placed in the sinking fund by £3,000,000 ($15,000,000), and by a revision of the income tax and estate duties. The tax on unearned incomes will be increased two pence, to one shilling, and two pence in the pound, and the tax on earned incomes over £2,000 will be raised to one shilling. Persons earning under £500 a year are granted a special new abatement of £10 for every child under 16 years of age. On incomes exceeding £5,000 a year, there is to be a supertax of six pence in the pound.

It is estimated that the extra yield from the income tax will be £3,000,000, while the super tax is expected to bring in a full year £2,300,000. But the income from this source is estimated for the current year at only £500,000.

With regard to the death duties the minimum and maximum rates remain unchanged, but there will be an increase in the intervening scale estimated to yield an additional revenue of £2,550,000.

It is calculated that a revision of the legacy and succession duties will produce an additional revenue of £1,370,000.

Another proposal is an increase on a sliding scale of the stamp duties on share transactions, calculated to yield an extra £1,400,000.

Another proposal is to tax land values and mineral royalties. It is estimated that these will yield this year £530,000, and increase annually.

Tea and sugar remain unchanged.

The increase in the duties on spirits, with a customs excise of 45 pence per gallon, is expected to produce additional revenues of £1,600,000.

It is proposed also to increase the duty on manufactured tobacco from three shillings to three shillings and eight pence a pound, and to make an equivalent additional to the duties on cigars, cigarettes and manufactured tobacco.

Together, these sources are expected to yield a total revenue of £1,900,000 a year.

Airships to Populate Arctics.

Boston, April 30.—H. Helm Clayton, formerly of the Blue Hill Observatory, in an address before the Boston Scientific Society yesterday, predicted that the perfection of flying machines would result in the populating of the Arctic regions.

ALF. SHRUBB CALLS MARSH TO CARRY OFF THE BIG DERBY

Famous Little Britisher Says That Welshman's Speed and Stamina Will Win for Him To-morrow.

SIMPSON A DANGEROUS ONE.

And So Is Coley, But Shrubb Expects Marsh to Beat Them Out —Distance Too Much for Sellen, Meadows and Company.

There is no accurate line upon the men at all, outside of Fred Simpson, John D. Marsh and Tom Coley. All these are runners who have gone the route before, but at that, two of the three have not stayed in other long races.

Simpson went down in the Svanberg race, April 18, and Coley could not stick out the route in the Canadian Marathon trials last spring.

Marsh has never broken down in long races, but he has had his head beaten off at shorter distances by men he can, and in most cases has, walloped in longer journeys.

Alfred Shrubb fancies Marsh.

"The Canadian Derby I regard as the referee, to-day, upon his return from New York. "There are ten dangerous men in the line-up, but after looking them all over I pin my faith to John D. Marsh. Marsh is a plugger, a good strong fellow, with sturdy legs, lots of bottom and courage. Unless Fred Simpson is greatly improved since he ran John Svanberg, Marsh will beat him. Tom Coley, if he is right, should be a factor, too. There are three or four cracking good 15-milers in there, too, but I don't think any of them will last the route. Sellen is in grand shape right now, but I don't think he can go the route any more than I can. Of course if he can he will win on his early speed. Wood, Meadows, Cummings, and the Indian, Red Hawk, are all 15-milers, and I doubt their ability to go all the way. Of the rest of the field I know nothing, and there is always a chance for the proverbial dark horse to come up, but at that I think Marsh, Simpson, and Coley will fight it out for the honours."

Shrubb is right about the speed merchants, but the speedy boys are the ones that upset all calculations in these long races. They start in to tear things up early, and some good reliable, plugger gets the fever of impatience, goes after them too early in the race, and kills himself, leaving some more phlegmatic and less fancied individual to come on and get a slice of the prize melon. Then, again, a fast man who gets a nice long lead early is liable to lay in behind a plugger, and with gritted teeth hang on till the bitter end and win out a race, which on form he has no license to win.

Look at Shrubb himself in the Marathon Derby. He hung on and all but won. Had St. Yves weakened a trifle on end, Artful Alfred would have been there at the pay station looking for 5,000 simoleons, marked "P. T. P."

Percy Sellen, Abbie Wood, W. F. Cumming, and Fred Meadows have this speed stuff under their belts, and may uncork a winning streak at any place. There are a whole lot of people who haunt Varsity track who are sweet on the little Mississauga Indian, Red Hawk. They whisper it around that he lifted Fred Simpson's scalp regularly in training stunts before Simpson defeated Appleby.

A belated entry arrived yesterday for the Marathon, bringing the total to 20 entries. The latest is Charles Green, of Caledonia. His entry was delayed in the mail.

LOOKING FOR MAN TO BEAT GOTCH

Montreal Promoter Going to Europe to Look for Championship Possibility.

Montreal, April 29.—George Kennedy, the Montreal wrestling magnate, whose ramifications extend over North America, is bound to find somebody who will defeat Gotch, and is going after him.

He says he is going to find him if he has to go as far as darkest Africa, but his travels will probably not extend beyond Bosnia, Servia, Bulgaria and the dark fastnesses of Asia Minor.

Yusuf Mahmout told him before they parted that there was such a man and Kennedy is bound to find him.

He has just made arrangements with a man of European and Eastern reputation to act as his guide, interpreter and courier, and his trip will last about two months.

The date of his departure has not yet been finally settled but will be in a month or so.

Pierri and Mahmout sailed for England. It is Pierri's intention to accompany the wrestler back to Bulgaria for the purpose of getting another Turk to bring to this country this fall. Mahmout has told both Pierri and Kennedy that he knows a young Turk living high up in the Bulgarian mountains who can throw Gotch sure.

It will be a race for a man between the two and Kennedy expects to win and get a few others besides.

EXAMINER AND PACIFICS TIED

Will Play Off for the Championship of the Bowling League To-morrow Night

It's the Examiner A or the Pacifics for the Bowling championship.

Last night the Examiner team hooked up with the Iroquois, and by taking two out of three from the Indians placed themselves on a level with the Pacifics, so that the final series between the two leaders which will be played to-morrow night, will settle the long drawn-out struggle between the two. The Examiner A and the Pacifics have been fighting along close together all through the double schedule, and when the Bankers were forced to drop out by the removal of two of their members it was seen that it was between the other two for the honours.

Last night's game was anything but a classy affair. The rolling on both sides was wretched, but the games were close and interesting on that account. The Indians won the first game by eight pins, but the Examiner grabbed off the second by eleven and won the third by a substantial margin.

There will be great interest in tomorrow nights' game for the championship and no doubt a big bunch of bowling enthusiasts will see the final rolled off.

The scores last night were as follows:

KING EDWARD BOYS ORGANIZE

Will Have a Ball Team in the School League if the Organization Is Formed.

The King Edward School team has organized for the coming season. The officers are:

Hon. President—Inspector Mowat.
President—Mr. F. R. Kerr.
Secretary-Treasurer—C. Martin.
Manager and Captain—W. Taylor.
Delegate for meeting of School League—Mr. Richardson.

The team will be picked from the King Edward School boys. They would like to see the City School League formed and hope to try and encourage it along if possible.

The committee to look after the necessary wants for baseball are: W. Jackson, E. Wise, M. McClenan, H. Williamson.

DOINGS IN THREE BIG LEAGUES.

Features of Yesterday.

Only one game was played in the Eastern League yesterday, as the result of the snow storm and general cold weather. Torontos were billed to perform at Jersey City, but the conditions made baseball impossible. Montreal and Baltimore were the gladiators in the only battle on the circuit and the Royals had the better of a slugging contest, winning 11 to 6. The Caseyites took revenge on the champs' pitchers for what Manser, Merritt, Goettell and Company, of Jersey City had done to them and landed on pitchers Maroney, Pearson and Russell for fourteen hits bunching them well. Winters, the ex-Tiger, was touched up for thirteen but was given errorless support while Dunn's hired men were piling up five misplays.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

One game formed the programme in the American League yesterday, the Highlanders receiving another bad hammering at the hands of Boston. The Bean Eaters won 10 to 4, by driving Newton's delivery to all parts of the arena amassing thirteen hits. Cicotte held Stallings' men to seven and was never in difficulty.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

The Cubs' winning streak was broken after five straight victories in the National, when they dropped the second game of a double-header. The Cubs won the first game 5 to 4, driving Pitcher Gasper out of the box in the sixth. Rowan, his successor gave Chicago the game with a base on balls and a wild throw. Browne pitched for Chicago and won his second victory.

In the second game it was a pitcher's battle between Fromme and Kroh, each allowing five hits. The Reds won 3 to 2, getting two runs in the seventh. It was a well played battle all the way. Kroh made his first appearance of the season for Chicago and did good work. Johnny Evers, one of the greatest second basemen the game has ever known, joined the Cubs yesterday and will be ready to jump into the game in another week.

KICKERS' COLUMN.

On account of the football riot at Glasgow the Football Association at Glasgow decided, by fifteen votes to eleven, to cancel the competition for the season and withhold the Scottish Cup and medals for the year, to mark their disapproval of Saturday's riotous scenes. An amendment to replay the final match out of Glasgow was defeated.

It is now suggested that betting was the cause of the trouble. Certain heavy bettors of the respective teams are known to have been highly incensed at the occurrence of the two successive draws. Hampden Park, the scene of the "battle," was yesterday more like a ploughed field than the finest football enclosure in the kingdom.

Doctors, who are attending the injured, state the crowd behaved like demons, using atrocious language and yelling like savages. The pavilion they say, resembled a slaughter-house. Many of the wounds received were inflicted by barbed wire torn from the barricades. The Queen's Park Club have closed their ground for the season, and Glasgow bows her head for the loss of her fair name in the sporting world.

Enthusiastic Meeting of the Club Was Held Last Night — Lawn Tennis Will Be a Feature This Year—Courts are Being Made.

THEY HAVE PLENTY OF SPACE.

Lot at the West of the Green Will be Devoted to That Purpose — Opening of the Season.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held last evening in the Dominion Bank chambers, the skips for the season were selected. There was a good attendance of members of the club and great enthusiasm was shown.

The following skips were chosen: Dr. Greer, D. Belleghem, Dr. Marshall, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, R. Kerr, W. M. Lang, J. E. McIntyre, E. Runnalls, R. M. Waddell, W. E. Talbot, T. E. Pratt, Dr. Holloway, W. J. Thompson, T. Brightman, Fred Dixon, J. Meyers, Dr. Caldwell, W. McIlroy, D. Kerneghan, L. M. Pearson, T. B. Yeates, R. Cottrell, S. Sharp and D. H. Moore.

These skips are requested to select their vice skips and report to the secretary at once.

It was decided to open the season with the president vs. vice-president match followed by a local tournament for which substantial prizes will be awarded.

The club decided to change its name to the Peterborough Lawn Bowling and Tennis Club.

Tennis will be adopted by the bowlers and the lot at the west of their green will be converted into courts. Work has already commenced and when the warm weather comes it will be ready for use.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, April 29.—Stocks opened higher, gains running from ¼ in Copper, Steel and St. Paul to a full point in C. P. R. London sent higher prices and was a fair buyer during the early trading taking C. P. R., U. P. and little Steel. The same firmness so long in evidence now characterized the early market here. Dealings were not large, but there seemed to be a scarcity of stocks and the market advanced easily when bids were made. There was a better tone to the industrials lead by the copper and smelting issues while B. R. T. was a strong leader for the traction group which showed nice advances all around. At noon the market was still dull and firm, holding the early advances.

DOCTOR SAID ONLY ZAM-BUK COULD CURE HER ECZEMA

In view of the numerous cures which Zam-Buk has worked when all else has failed, there is little wonder that in the end the doctor attending Mrs. J. P. St. Denis, of 305 Thompson Street, Winnipeg, should tell her there was nothing but Zam-Buk could cure her. The result showed the farseeing wisdom of this practitioner, and having been completely cured by Zam-Buk, Mrs. St. Denis gives her experience for the benefit of other sufferers.

She says: "Eczema started on one side of my face and nose. At first my nose felt sore, similar to what one feels when having a bad cold. I paid no attention to this, thinking it would pass away in a day or so, but to my surprise it got worse. The nose then became swollen and hard, and turned a purplish red, as well as part of the cheek on that side of my face. As the disease developed, pimples and ulcers broke out, then the skin cracked in places and peeled off in flakes, leaving my face and nose raw and sore. This condition re-acted on my general health, and I became very ill. I could get no sleep at night because of the irritation and the pain, and my face was in such a shocking condition that for two months I did not go out of the house. I applied remedies which were supposed to be good for skin diseases, but in vain. My doctor also treated me, but without effect, until one day he said that the only thing which would now be likely to cure me was Zam-Buk.

"Acting on his advice, I procured a supply and found that even the first few applications had a soothing effect on the sores. I left off everything else in favour of this balm, and applied it liberally every day to the affected parts. In a remarkably short time, considering the obstinate nature of my disease, we saw traces of improvement, which encouraged us to persevere with the Zam-Buk treatment. Zam-Buk reduced the discolouration, then the hard swelling began to show traces of leaving, the sores seemed to be less angry, and in about three weeks' time most of the sores were healing nicely. To cut a long story short, I continued with the Zam-Buk treatment until my face was cleared completely of all traces of the troublesome and painful eczema."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cuts, lacerations, burns, eczema, ring-worm, poisoned wounds, festering sores, bad leg, and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a cure for piles. Druggists and Stores everywhere sell at 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. You are warned against cheap and harmful imitations sometimes represented as "just as good."

WITH THE RUNNERS.

The Longboat-Shrubb race at Montreal on Saturday, May 8th, at 15 miles, is not likely to stir up a great deal of interest. It is a foregone conclusion that Shrubb will win it easily. Longboat might have given the Englishman a battle at that distance two years go, but there seems nothing more to this race than that the Indian will start—Shrubb will finish alone.

On May 16th Shrubb runs St. Yves at Montreal.—Toronto Telegram.

LONGBOAT HAS CHANCE.

Tom Flanagan was wise enough to cinch the interesting distance for a contest between Shrubb and Longboat at 20 miles on May 24th at Scarboro. That ought to make a fine race if the Indian will train at all. It is too far for Sshrubb, but he is a wise runner and can do that distance.

ALF. SHRUBB CALLS MARSH TO CARRY OFF THE BIG DERBY

Famous Little Britisher Says That Welshman's Speed and Stamina Will Win for Him To-morrow.

SIMPSON A DANGEROUS ONE.

And So Is Coley, But Shrubb Expects Marsh to Beat Them Out—Distance Too Much for Sellen, Meadows and Company.

There is no accurate line upon the men at all, outside of Fred Simpson, John D. Marsh and Tom Coley. All these are runners who have gone the route before, but at that, two of the three have not stayed in other long races.

Simpson went down in the Svanberg race, April 18, and Coley could not stick out the route in the Canadian Marathon trials last spring.

Marsh has never broken down in long races, but he has had his head beaten off at shorter distances by men he can, and in most cases has, walloped in longer journeys.

Alfred Shrubb fancies Marsh.

"The Canadian Derby I regard as the referee, to-day, upon his return from New York. "There are ten dangerous men in the line-up, but after looking them all over I pin my faith to John D. Marsh. Marsh is a plugger, a good strong fellow, with sturdy legs, lots of bottom and courage. Unless Fred Simpson is greatly improved since he ran John Svanberg, Marsh will beat him. Tom Coley, if he is right, should be a factor, too. There are three or four cracking good 15-milers in there, too, but I don't think any of them will last the route. Sellen is in grand shape right now, but I don't think he can go the route any more than I can. Of course if he can he will win on his early speed. Wood, Meadows, Cummings, and the Indian, Red Hawk, are all 15-milers, and I doubt their ability to go all the way. Of the rest of the field I know nothing, and there is always a chance for the proverbial dark horse to come up, but at that I think Marsh, Simpson, and Coley will fight it out for the honours."

Shrubb is right about the speed merchants, but the speedy boys are the ones that upset all calculations in these long races. They start in to tear things up early, and some good reliable, plugger gets the fever of impatience, goes after them too early in the race, and kills himself, leaving some more phlegmatic and less fancied individual to come on and get a slice of the prize melon. Then, again, a fast man who gets a nice long lead early is liable to lay in behind a plugger, and with gritted teeth hang on till the bitter end and win out a race, which on form he has no license to win.

Look at Shrubb himself in the Marathon Derby. He hung on and all but won. Had St. Yves weakened a trifle on end, Artful Alfred would have been there at the pay station looking for 5,000 simoleons, marked "P. T. P."

Percy Sellen, Abbie Wood, W. F. Cumming, and Fred Meadows have this speed stuff under their belts, and may uncork a winning streak at any place. There are a whole lot of people who haunt Varsity track who are sweet on the little Mississauga Indian, Red Hawk. They whisper it around that he lifted Fred Simpson's scalp regularly in training stunts before Simpson defeated Appleby.

A belated entry arrived yesterday for the Marathon, bringing the total to 20 entries. The latest is Charles Green, of Caledonia. His entry was delayed in the mail.

LOOKING FOR MAN TO BEAT GOTCH

Montreal Promoter Going to Europe to Look for Championship Possibility.

Montreal, April 29.—George Kennedy, the Montreal wrestling magnate, whose ramifications extend over North America, is bound to find somebody who will defeat Gotch, and is going after him.

He says he is going to find him if he has to go as far as darkest Africa, but his travels will probably not extend beyond Bosnia, Servia, Bulgaria and the dark fastnesses of Asia Minor.

Yussuf Mahmout told him before they parted that there was such a man and Kennedy is bound to find him.

He has just made arrangements with a man of European and Eastern reputation to act as his guide, interpreter and courier, and his trip will last about two months.

The date of his departure has not yet been finally settled but will be in a month or so.

Pierri and Mahmout sailed for England. It is Pierri's intention to accompany the wrestler back to Bulgaria for the purpose of getting another Turk to bring to this country this fall. Mahmout has told both Pierri and Kennedy that he knows a young Turk living high up in the Bulgarian mountains who can throw Gotch sure.

It will be a race for a man between the two and Kennedy expects to win and get a few others besides.

ALF. SHRUBB,
Referee of Canadian Marathon Derby to-morrow, who picks John D. Marsh to win.

KING EDWARD BOYS ORGANIZE

Will Have a Ball Team in the School League if the Organization is Formed.

The King Edward School team has organized for the coming season. The officers are:

Hon. President—Inspector Mowat.
President—Mr. F. R. Kerr.
Secretary-Treasurer—C. Martin.
Manager and Captain—W. Taylor.
Delegate for meeting of School League—Mr. Richardson.

The team will be picked from the King Edward School boys. They would like to see the City School League formed and hope to try and encourage it along if possible.

The committee to look after the necessary wants for baseball are: W. Jackson, E. Wise, M. McClenan, H. Williamson.

DOINGS IN THREE BIG LEAGUES.

Features of Yesterday.

Only one game was played in the Eastern League yesterday, as the result of the snow storm and general cold weather. Torontos were billed to perform at Jersey City, but the conditions made baseball impossible. Montreal and Baltimore were the gladiators in the only battle on the circuit and the Royals had the better of a slugging contest, winning 11 to 6. The Caseyites took revenge on the champs' pitchers for what Manser, Merritt, Goettell and Company, of Jersey City had done to them and landed on pitchers Maroney, Pearson and Russell for fourteen hits bunching them well. Winters, the ex-Tiger, was touched up for thirteen but was given errorless support while Dunn's hired men were piling up five misplays.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

One game formed the programme in the American League yesterday, the Highlanders receiving another bad hammering at the hands of Boston. The Bean Eaters won 10 to 4, by driving Newton's delivery to all parts of the arena amassing thirteen hits. Cicotte held Stallings' men to seven and was never in difficulty.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

The Cubs' winning streak was broken after five straight victories in the National, when they dropped the second game of a double-header. The Cubs won the first game 5 to 4, driving Pitcher Gasper out of the box in the sixth. Rowan, his successor gave Chicago the game with a base on balls and a wild throw. Browne pitched for Chicago and won his second victory.

In the second game it was a pitchers' battle between Fromme and Kroh, each allowing five hits. The Reds won 3 to 2, getting two runs in the seventh. It was a well played battle all the way. Kroh made his first appearance of the season for Chicago and did good work. Johnny Evers, one of the greatest second basemen the game has ever known, joined the Cubs yesterday and will be ready to jump into the game in another week.

KICKERS' COLUMN.

On account of the football riot at Glasgow the Football Association at Glasgow decided, by fifteen votes to eleven, to cancel the competition for the season and withhold the Scottish Cup and medals for the year, to mark their disapproval of Saturday's riotous scenes. An amendment to replay the final match out of Glasgow was defeated.

It is now suggested that betting was the cause of the trouble. Certain heavy bettors of the respective teams are known to have been highly incensed at the occurrence of the two successive draws. Hampden Park, the scene of the "battle," was yesterday more like a ploughed field than the finest football enclosure in the kingdom.

Doctors, who are attending the injured, state the crowd behaved like demons, using atrocious language and yelling like savages. The pavilion they say, resembled a slaughterhouse. Many of the wounds received were inflicted by barbed wire torn from the barricades. The Queen's Park Club have closed their ground for the season, and Glasgow bows her head for the loss of her fair name in the sporting world.

GOLF

At the meeting of the lady members of the Peterboro Golf and Country Club, which was held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Gardiner was appointed Capt.; Mrs. Aylmer and Miss Moore for the handicap committee, and Mrs. R. R. Hall and Miss Aylmer for the house committee. The first monthly competition will be held May 12th, at 3 o'clock.

Enthusiastic Meeting of the Club Was Held Last Night—Lawn Tennis Will Be a Feature This Year—Courts are Being Made.

THEY HAVE PLENTY OF SPACE.

Lot at the West of the Green Will be Devoted to That Purpose—Opening of the Season.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club held last evening in the Dominion Bank chambers, the skips for the season were selected. There was a good attendance of members of the club and great enthusiasm was shown.

The following skips were chosen: Dr. Greer, D. Belleghem, Dr. Marshall, J. E. A. Fitzgerald, R. Kerr, W. M. Lang, J. E. McIntyre, E. Runnells, R. M. Waddell, W. E. Talbot, T. E. Pratt, Dr. Holloway, W. J. Thompson, T. Brightman, Fred Dixon, J. Meyers, Dr. Caldwell, W. McIlroy, D. Kerneghan, L. M. Pearson, T. B. Yeates, R. Cottrell, S. Sharp and D. H. Moore.

These skips are requested to select their vice skips and report to the secretary at once.

It was decided to open the season with the president vs. vice-president match followed by a local tournament for which substantial prizes will be awarded.

The club decided to change its name to the Peterborough Lawn Bowling and Tennis Club.

Tennis will be adopted by the bowlers and the lot at the west of their green will be converted into courts. Work has already commenced and when the warm weather comes it will be ready for use.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, April 29.—Stocks opened higher, gains running from ⅛ in Copper, Steel and St. Paul to a full point in C. P. R. London sent higher prices and was a fair buyer during the early trading taking C. P. R., U. P. and little Steel. The same firmness so long in evidence now characterized the early market here. Dealings were not large, but there seemed to be a scarcity of stocks and the market advanced easily when bids were made. There was a better tone to the industrials lead by the copper and smelting issues while B. R. T. was a strong leader for the traction group which showed nice advances all around. At noon the market was still dull and firm, holding the early advances.

In view of the numerous cures which Zam-Buk has worked when all else has failed, there is little wonder that in the end the doctor attending Mrs. J. P. St. Denis, of 306 Thompson Street, Winnipeg, should tell her there was nothing but Zam-Buk could cure her. The result showed the far-seeing wisdom of this practitioner, and having been completely cured by Zam-Buk, Mrs. St. Denis gives her experience for the benefit of other sufferers.

She says: "Eczema started on one side of my face and nose. At first my nose felt sore, similar to what one feels when having a bad cold. I paid no attention to this, thinking it would pass away in a day or so, but to my surprise it got worse. The nose then became swollen and hard, and turned a purplish red, as well as part of the cheek on that side of my face. As the disease developed, pimples and ulcers broke out, then the skin cracked in places and peeled off in flakes, leaving my face and nose raw and sore. This condition re-acted on my general health, and I became very ill. I could get no sleep at night because of the irritation and the pain, and my face was in such a shocking condition that for two months I did not go out of the house. I applied remedies which were supposed to be good for skin diseases, but in vain. My doctor also treated me, but without effect, until one day he said that the only thing which would now be likely to cure me was Zam-Buk.

"Acting on his advice, I procured a supply and found that even the first few applications had a soothing effect on the sores. I left off everything else in favour of this balm, and applied it liberally every day to the affected parts. In a remarkably short time, considering the obstinate nature of my disease, we saw traces of improvement, which encouraged us to persevere with the Zam-Buk treatment. Zam-Buk reduced the discolouration, then the hard swelling began to show traces of leaving, the sores seemed to be less angry, and in about three weeks' time most of the sores were healing nicely. To cut a long story short, I continued with the Zam-Buk treatment until my face was cleared completely of all traces of the troublesome and painful eczema."

Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cuts, lacerations, burns, eczema, ring-worm, poisoned wounds, festering sores, bad leg, and all skin injuries and diseases. It is also a cure for piles. Druggists and Stores everywhere sell at 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. You are warned against cheap and harmful imitations sometimes represented as "just as good."

WITH THE RUNNERS.

The Longboat-Shrubb race at Montreal on Saturday, May 8th, at 15 miles, is not likely to stir up a great deal of interest. It is a foregone conclusion that Shrubb will win it easily. Longboat might have given the Englishman a battle at that distance two years go, but there seems nothing more to this race than that the Indian will start—Shrubb will finish alone.

On May 16th Shrubb runs St. Yves at Montreal.—Toronto Telegram.

LONGBOAT HAS CHANCE.

Tom Flanagan was wise enough to cinch the interesting distance for a contest between Shrubb and Longboat at 20 miles on May 24th at Scarboro. That ought to make a fine race if the Indian will train at all. It is too far for Sshrubb, but he is a wise runner and can do that distance.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mr. Max Cameron is home from S. P. S., Toronto, having completed the 1908-09 term.

Mr. Garnet Greer has completed his course at Queen's University, receiving his degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Mr. Robt. Fair has recived an invitation to be present at a luncheon on board the new White Star liner Laurentic, on Tuesday, May 11th.

Mr. T. G. Wanless, of Vernon, in Okanagan Valley, B. C., is visiting at the home of his parents, 675 Water street, after an absence of 17 years.

Mrs. Perks, Miss Perks and Master Walter have returned, after spending the winter in Montreal, and are again occupying "Oakhurst," Gilmour street.

Miss Sadie Kennedy has returned from Chicago, where she has spent the past three months attending her mother, who has been seriously ill. The friends of Mrs. Kennedy will be pleased to know that she is greatly improving in health.

The ladies of the sewing circle of St. Peter's Cathedral, who have been meeting weekly in one of the rooms of the T.A.S., concluded the season's work yesterday. One of the surprises of the afternoon was the presentation of a handsome pipe with case to Mr. P. Kane, caretaker, for his many little kindnesses during the winter.

Mr. F. M. Dela Fosse, of the editorial staff of The Examiner left this morning on the noon C.P.R. express for St. John's, whence he will sail tomorrow at noon on the C.P.R. steamer Lake Erie, to visit relatives in England, at Bath and other places in the vicinity. He will spend several months in England and while there will write a weekly letter for The Examiner containing the cream of the English news, written in his usual breezy fashion. The many Old Country people living in Peterborough will no doubt enjoy these contributions, while they will be interesting to Canadians from the fact that they will be written from a Canadian standpoint.

Yesterday evening the members of The Examiner business and editorial staffs said farewell to Mr. Dela Fosse at an informal but most enjoyable little luncheon at Hooper's Palm Parlours. Different members of the staff wished Mr. Dela Fosse a pleasant voyage and an enjoyable visit in England, and he was presented with a handsome pipe as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the members of The Examiner forces.

Fined For Trying To Steal Free Ride On C. P. R. Freight Train

John McGathern was fined five dollars at the police court this morning for attempting to steal a ride on a C.P.R. train. He pleaded guilty and when asked if he had anything to say he replied that he had wanted to get o Toronto and did not have any money. His fine was made payable forthwith but being without money he would have had to take the ten days had not a local clergyman came forward and paid his fine.

LOST OR DAMAGED FREIGHT.

The Canadian Freight Association Seeking to Lessen the Evil.

To prevent the trouble and expense caused by freight being lost or damaged in transit the Canadian Freight Association is circulating amongst the freight agents of the different railways an illustrated booklet which shows why freight is lost or damaged, and how this source or loss can be avoided. In the brochure a strong point is made of the absolute necessity for having all freight shipped in proper shape and plainly addressed.

Amongst other things that freight men and shippers should remember the booklet makes the following points:

"Shippers and consignees blame the carrier when a shipment of freight fails to reach destination or is delivered to consignee in a damaged condition. But a small number stop to think it is more their fault than the carrier's. In the beginning, the fundamental rule of carriers in accepting merchandise was the requiring of each package to be plainly marked, showing full name of consignee and destination. From a willingness to oblige patrons this vital requirement has been so far "sidetracked," so to speak, that it is not unusual for boxes, bales, bundles, and pieces to be accepted without any marks. Coupled to the disappearance of full marks came the gradual decline in the strength of packages in which goods are shipped. Boxes and sacks are made of thinner material, crates are substituted for boxes, and sacks are now being used by some shippers for articles which should not be shipped in them. To insure the prompt and safe delivery of goods, it is necessary for the shipper to plainly mark each and every package, bundle or piece of an less carload shipment, showing this information: Consignee's name in full; bill of lading destination in full; state in which destination is located; if more than one station in same state of same name, full name of county must be shown; all previous shipping marks must be obliterated.

The name of consignee and destination must be legibly written or stencilled, and as far away from any other writing or marks possible. It is a great help to all when shipper's name and location are also shown, with the word "from" preceding them.

Every package, bundle or piece offered for shipment should be presented to carrier in condition to stand the wear and tear not only via all rail routes, but also the additional handling incidental to transportation via rail and water routes.

Lever Brothers, Toronto, will send you free a cake of their famous Plantol toilet soap, if you mention this paper.

OBITUARY

MARTIN KENNEALDY.

The death occurred last night of one of the oldest and best known residents of Otonabee, when Mr. Martin Kenneally passed away at Keene at the age of eighty-three years. The deceased had lived in this vicinity for the greater part of his life, havng come to Canada when a young man. He was born in the county of Tipperary, Ireland. The deceased kept the hotel in Keene for a number of years and was widely known.

He is survived by four sons and four daughters. They are Michael and Dennis, of Keene, Patrick and William, of Peterboro, Mrs. O'Neill, of Hastings, Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. J. McCann, Keene, and Miss Josephine at home.

The funeral will take place to-morrow (Saturday) morning at 9 o'clock, from the Roman Catholic church, Keene, to St. Peter's cemetery, Peterborough.

Prince Rupert, The Pacific Terminus Of The New Trans-Continental As It Is To-day And Its Possibilities For The Future

Story of the Birth of What Promises to be One of the Most Important Cities in the West.

HOW CITY WAS NAMED.

Its Geographical and Other Advantages Make the Future of Prince Rupert Look Especially Bright.

HARBOUR AT PRINCE RUPERT.

As the gaps in the construction work of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in the West and the National Transcontinental system in the East grow smaller and smaller, the importance of the Pacific terminus of the new road—Prince Rupert—grows larger and larger.

Interest n the place to-day is not based on what it really is but on what it will be some day. Yesterday a wilderness, to-day a camp and to-morrow a bustling seaport town and terminus of a great railway system.

History is in the process of making rapidity in that section of the country. The canoe of the hunter and the sailboat of the trader make way for the commercial liner which will link up the new port with the bee hives of industry and teeming millions on the Oriental side of the ocean who are expected to provide a market for considerable quantities of Canadian products.

On land the tortuous trail through the mountain passes gives way to the iron pathway and the haunts of the explorer and trapper are laid bare to the gaze of the wayfarer.

Looking at the matter chronologically one might naturally enquire how the place got its name. To be any kind of a place at all a place must have a name. There are lots of places scattered around the world bearing names which have given rise to much controversy as to their origin. Prince Rupert, in centuries to come, will make no such trouble if our successors take the trouble to preserve records.

Having decided upon Kaien Island, a few miles south of Port Simpson, as terminus of the new road, the management of the Grand Trunk Pacific set about finding a suitable name for it. With this object the directors offered a price of $250.00 for the best name not to consist of more than ten letters. Over twelve thousand competitors submitted names and the award was made to Miss McDonald, a lady whose family has been closely identified with the pioneer days of the Canadian Northwest. Miss McDonald's name, for the new port was Prince Rupert, which words contained twelve letters. Two other competitors, who complied with the conditions offerred the name Port Rupert containing ten letters, and to each of the three the directors gave $250.00 after deciding on Prince Rupert, though that name was not eligible in the terms of the competition.

Prince Rupert, the dashing young cavalier, was really the first British Canadian business magnate. He was the chief promoter of the Hudsons Bay Company, and its first governor in 1670. In that year Charles the II. granted a charter to the Prince and seventeen other noblemen and gentlemen, incorporating them as "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England trading into Hudsons Bay, and securing to them the sole trade and commerce" of all those seas and straights, bays, lakes, rivers, creeks and sounds in whatever latitude they shall be, that lie within the entrance of straits commonly known as Hudsons Straits, togther with all the land and territories upon the countries and coasts, confines of the seas, bays, etc; aforesaid that were not actually possessed by the subjects of any other Christian Prince or State."

The first settlement of the country thus granted, which was to be known as Rupert's land, were made on James Bay, at Churchill and Hoyles Rivers. What a lovely charter and how it would appeal to the average company promoter of the present day.

Prince Rupert is situated 550 miles north of Vancouver and 40 miles south of the Alaskan boundary. It is in the same latitude as London and has a climate whose mean temperature is about the same as the British Metropolis.

The selection of the Pacific coast terminus was one of the most important tasks with which the builders of the new road had to deal. Many things had to be considered. It must have a harbour second to none, and lie where the rails could reach it without seriously lengthening the line or increasing the gradients. The entire north coast was searched and every harbour sounded before a final decision was reached. The result is that the future metropolis of the north coast will look upon a harbour that is all that could be hoped for. Although practically landlocked, it has a mile wide roadway, and is sufficient in size to shelter all the ships that are likely to come to it, great as are the possibilities of this new port.

It is claimed that because Prince Rupert is the nearest port to Japan and the East, and thus on the shortest line from Liverpool to Yokohama—the shortest route around the world—it is bound to lie on the All Red route when that project is realized.

The city was all planned in advance of any building and nothing was overlooked which would add to its beauty and symmetry, so it is claimed, but that remains to be seen when the hopes of the founders are more fully realized. The site is a picturesque one. The land slopes back gently for distances ranging from half a mile to two or three miles. Here and there the ground rises apruptly, providing the necessary fall for drainage, while a shore line, five or six miles in length, sweeps around the front of the city to be. The view from these elevated stations and from back of the town site is a charming one. On the opposite shore mountains slope down the water side. To the northwest, through a channel studded with islands, is situated the famous Indian village of Metlakahatla, known on the coast as the "Holy City." Prince Rupert lies in the centre of the salmon fisheries of British Columbia and in the immediate vicinity of a large number of canneries, which ship their product throughout the world. Here also is found, off the banks of Queen Charlotte Island, the finest halibut fishing that is known to exist, tons of these fish being taken annually to supply eastern markets. When the railway is completed this traffic will be greatly augmented.

The location is also on the route of the Sail up the Sound, which for wild grandeur, excells almost anything to be found in the world from the deck of the sea going ship while the trains of the new railway will traverse some of the finest scenery to be found on the American continent.

Over these rails, and down Prince Rupert, will flow the commerce of all that new west, bound for the seas and for the East. But commercial advantages is not the only point in Prince Rupert's favour. Its climate is agreeable; the rainfall is not greater than that of any other ports of the province, and the atmosphere is cordially tempered, without extremity either way.

The discovery of Prince Rupert attaches to J. H. Bacon, now resident in the place as supervising engineer of the company's works. Early in March the drawing for lots will be conducted under the auspices of the railway company and the Canadian Government and within a few weks there will be the greatest building boom proba-

ANTHONY HOPE

Copyright, 1906, Anthony Hope Hawkins

She threw herself back, crying low: "Ah, if we could strike one blow—just one—for the oath we swore and for monseigneur! Then perhaps I should be content."

"To go with me?"

"Perhaps—if in striking it what I should think best didn't come to me."

"You must run no danger anyhow!" he cried hastily and eagerly.

"My friend," she said gently, "for such as I am today there's no such thing as danger. Don't think I value my position here or the title they've given me, poor men! I have loved titles"—for a moment she smiled—"and I should have loved this one if monseigneur had lived. I should have been proud as a child of it. If I could have borne it by his side for even a few weeks, a few days! But now it's barren and bitter—bitter and barren to me."

He followed the thoughts at which her words hinted. They seemed to him infinitely piteous.

"Now, as things have fallen out, what am I in this country? A waif and stray! I belong to nobody and nobody to me."

"Then come away!" he burst out again.

Her deep eyes were set on his face once more. "Yes, that's the conclusion," she said very mournfully. "We Essex people are sensible, aren't we? And we have no imagination. Did you laugh when you saw me proclaimed and heard us swear?"

"Good heavens, no!"

"Then think how my oath and my love call me to strike one blow for monseigneur!" She hid her eyes behind her hand for a moment. "Aren't there fifty—thirty—twenty, who would count their lives well risked? For what are men's lives given them?"

"There's one at least, if you will have it so," Dunstanbury answered.

There was a knock on the door, and without waiting for a bidding Zerkovitch came quickly in. Lukovitch was behind and with him Lepage. Ten minutes before the valet had ridden up to the city gates, waving his handkerchief above his head.

Sophy gave a cry of pleasure at seeing him. "A brave man, who loved his king and served monseigneur!" she said as she darted forward and clasped his hand.

Zerkovitch was as excited and hurried as ever. He thrust a letter into her hand. "From Stenovics, madame, for you to read," he said.

She took it, saying to Lepage with a touch of reproach, "Are you General Stenovics' messenger now, M. Lepage?"

"Read it, madame," said he.

She obeyed and then signed to Lukovitch to take it and to Dunstanbury to read it also. "It's just what you've been saying," she told him, with a faint smile, as she sank back in the high oaken seat.

"I am to add, madame," said Lepage, "that you will be treated with every consideration—any title in reason, any provision in reason too."

"So the general's letter says."

"But I was told to repeat it," persisted the little man. He looked round on them. Lukovitch and Dunstanbury had finished reading the letter and were listening too. "If you still hesitated, I was to impress upon you that the guns would certainly be in Slavna in less than a week, almost certainly on Sunday. You know the course of the river well, madame?"

"Not very well above Slavna, no."

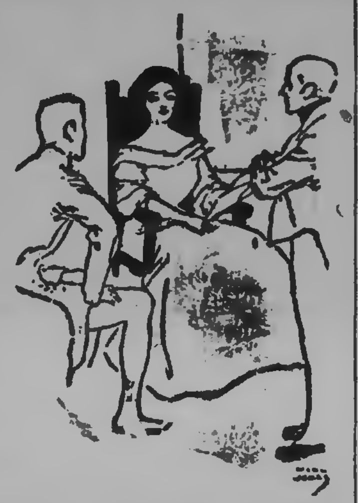
"In that case, which General Stenovics didn't omit to consider, I was to remind you that Captain Lukovitch probably knew every inch of it."

"I know it intimately," said Lukovitch. "I spent two years on the timber barges of the Krath."

"Then you, sir, will understand that the guns will certainly reach Slavna not later than Sunday." He paused for a moment, seeming to collect his memory. "By Wednesday evening Colonel Stafnitz will be at Kolakol. On Thursday morning he'll start back. On that evening he ought to reach Evena, on Friday, Rapaka." Lukovitch nodded at each name. Lepage went on methodically. "On Saturday the lock at Miklevni. Yes, on Saturday the lock at Miklevni!" He paused again and looked straight at Lukovitch.

"Exactly, the lock at Miklevni," said that officer, with another nod.

"Yes, the lock at Miklevni on Saturday. You see, it's not as if the colonel had a large force to move. That might take longer. He'll be able to move his company as quick as the barges travel."



"It's just what you've been saying," she told him.

"The stream's very strong. They travel pretty well," said Lukovitch.

"But a hundred men—it's nothing to move, Captain Lukovitch." He turned round on them again and then turned back to Sophy. "That's all my message, madame," he said.

There was a silence.

"So it's evident the guns will be in Slavna by Sunday," Lepage concluded.

"If they reach Miklevni on Saturday—any time on Saturday—they will," said Lukovitch. "And up here very soon after!"

"The general intimated that also, Captain Lukovitch."

"The general gives us very careful information," observed Dunstanbury, looking rather puzzled. He was not so well versed in Stenovics' methods as the rest. Lukovitch smiled broadly, and even Zerkovitch gave a little laugh.

"How are things in Slavna, M. Lepage?" the last named asked.

Lepage smiled a little too. "General Stenovics is in full control of the city—during Colonel Stafnitz's absence, sir," he answered.

"They've quarreled?" cried Lukovitch.

"Oh, no, sir. Possibly General Stenovics is afraid they might." He spoke again to Sophy. "Madame, do you still blame me for being the general's messenger?"

"No, M. Lepage, but there's much to consider in the message. Captain Lukovitch, if monseigneur had read this message, what would he have thought the general meant?"

Lukovitch's face was full of excitement as he answered her:

"The prince wouldn't have cared what General Stenovics meant. He would have said that the guns would be three days on the river before they came to Slavna, that the barges would take the best part of an hour to get through Miklevni lock, that there was good cover within a quarter of a mile of the lock"—

Sophy leaned forward eagerly. "Yes, yes?" she whispered.

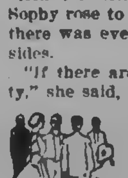
"And that an escort of a hundred men was—well, might be—not enough!"

"And that riding from Volseni"—

"One might easily be at Miklevni before Colonel Stafnitz and the guns could arrive there!"

Dunstanbury gave a start, Zerkovitch a chuckle, Lepage a quiet smile. Sophy rose to her feet; the star glowed; there was even color in her cheeks besides.

"If there are fifty or thirty or twenty," she said, her eyes set on Dunstanbury, "who would count their lives well risked, we may yet strike one blow for monseigneur and for the guns he loved."



"Five!" cried Sophy.

Dunstanbury looked around. "There are three here," he said.

"Four!" called Basil Williamson from the doorway, where he had stood unobserved.

"Five!" cried Sophy, and for the first time since monseigneur died she laughed.

"Five times five and more if we can get good horses enough!" said Captain Lukovitch.

"I should like to join you, but I must go back and tell General Stenovics that you will consider his message, madame," smiled Lepage.

Chapter Thirty-one

IN the end they started thirty strong, including Sophy herself. There were the three Englishmen—Dunstanbury, Basil Williamson and Henry Brown, Dunstanbury's servant, an old soldier, a good rider and shot. The rest were sturdy young men of Volseni, once destined for the ranks of the Prince of Slavna's artillery. Lukovitch and Peter Vassip led them. Not a married man was among them, for, to his intense indignation, Zerkovitch was left behind in command of the city. Sophy would have this so, and nothing would move her. She would not risk causing Marie Zerkovitch to weep more and to harbor fresh fears of her. So they rode "without incumbrances," as Dunstanbury said, laughing. His spirits rose inexpressibly as the moment of action came.

Their horses were all that could be mustered in Volseni of a mettle equal to the dash. The little band paraded in the market place on Friday afternoon. There they were joined by Sophy, who had been to pay a last visit to monseigneur's grave. She came among them sad, yet seeming more serene. Her spirit was the happier for striking a blow in monseigneur's name. The rest of them were in high feather. The prospect of the expedition went far to blot out the tragedy of the past and to veil the threatening face of the future. As dusk fell they rode out of the city gate.

Miklevni lies twenty miles up the course of the river from Slavna, but the river flows there nearly from north to south, turning to the east only four or five miles above the capital. You ride, then, from Volseni to Miklevni almost in a straight line, leaving Slavna away on the left. It is a distance of no more than thirty-five miles or thereabouts, but the first ten consist of a precipitous and rugged descent by a bridle path from the hills to the valley of the Krath. No pace beyond a walk was possible at any point here, and for the greater part of the way it was necessary to lead the horses. When once the plain was reached there was good going, sometimes over country roads, sometimes over grass, to Miklevni.

It was plain that the expedition could easily be intercepted by a force issuing from Slavna and placing itself astride the route; but, then, they did not expect a force to issue from Slavna. That would be done only by the orders of General Stenovics, and Lepage had gone back to Slavna to tell the general that his message was being considered—very carefully considered—in Volseni. General Stenovics, if they understood him rightly, would not move till he heard more. For the rest risks must be run. If all went well, they hoped to reach Miklevni before dawn on Saturday. There they were to lie in wait for Stafnitz and for the big guns which were coming down the Krath from Kolakol to Slavna.

Lukovitch was the guide and had no lack of counsel from lads who knew the hills as well as their sweethearts' faces. He rode first, and while they were on the bridle path, they followed in single file, walking their horses or leading them. Sophy and Dunstanbury rode behind, with Basil Williamson and Henry Brown just in front of them. In advance, some hundreds of yards, Peter Vassip acted as scout, coming back from time to time to advise Lukovitch that the way was clear. The night fell fine and fresh, but it was very dark. That did not matter. The men of Volseni were like cats for seeing in the dark.

The first ten miles passed slowly and tediously, but without mistake or mishap. They halted on the edge of the plain an hour before midnight and took rest and food. Each man carried provision for two days. Behind them now rose the steep hills whence they had come, before them stretched the wide plain, away on their left was Slavna, straight ahead Miklevni, the goal of their pilgrimage. Lukovitch moved about, seeing that every man gave heed to his horse and had his equipment and his weapons in good order. Then came the word to remount, and between 12 and 1, with a cheer hastily suppressed, the troop set forth at a good trot over the level ground. Now Williamson and Henry Brown fell to the rear with three or four Volsenians lest by any chance or accident Sophy should lose or be cut off from the main body. Lukovitch and Peter Vassip rode together at the head.

To Dunstanbury that ride by night through the spreading plain was wonderful, a thing sufficient in itself without regard to its object or its issue. He had seen some service before, and there was the joy of that. He had known the comradeship of a bold enterprise; there was the exaltation of that. He had taken great risks before; there was the excitement of that. The night had ere now called him to the saddle, and it called now with all its fascination. His blood tingled and burned with all these things. But there was more. Beside him all the way was the figure of Sophy dim in the darkness and the dim silhouette of her face—dim, yet, as it seemed, hardly blurred; its pallor stood out even in the night. She engrossed his thoughts and spurred his speculations.

What thoughts dwelt in her? Did she ride to death and was it a death she herself courted? If so, he was sworn in his soul to thwart her, even to his own death. She was not food for death, his soul cried, passionately protesting against that loss, that impoverishment of the world. Why had they let her come? She was not a woman of whom that could be asked therefore it was that his mind so hung on her with an attraction, a fascination, an overbearing curiosity. The men of Volseni seemed to think it natural that she should come. They knew her, then, better than he did!

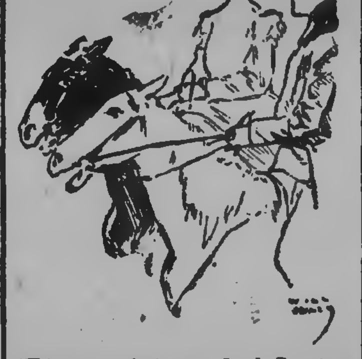
Save for the exchange of a few words now and then about the road they had not talked. He had respected her silence. But she spoke now and, to his great pleasure, less sadly than he had expected. Her tone was light and witnessed to a whimsical enjoyment which not even memory could altogether quench.

"This is my first war, Lord Dunstanbury," she said. "The first time I've taken the field in person at the head of my men!"

"Yes, your majesty's first campaign. May it be glorious!" he answered, suiting his tone to hers.

"My first and my last, I suppose. Well, I could hardly have looked to have even one—in those old days you know of—could I?"

"Frankly, I never expected to hold my commission as an army officer from you," he laughed. "As it is I'm breaking all the laws in the world, I suppose. Perhaps they'll never hear of it in England, though."



"This is my first war, Lord Dunstanbury," she said.

"Where there are no laws left you can break none," she said. "There are none left in Kravonia now. There's but one crime, to be weak, and but one penalty, death."

"Neither the crime nor the penalty for us tonight!" he cried gayly. "Queen Sophia's star shines tonight!"

"Can you see it?" she asked, touching her cheek a moment.

"No, I can't," he laughed. "I forget; I spoke metaphorically."

"When people speak of my star, I always think of this. So my star shines tonight? Yes, I think so—shines brightly before it sets! I wonder if Kravonia's star, too, will have a setting soon—a stormy setting!"

"Well, we're not helping to make it more tranquil," said Dunstanbury.

He saw her turn her head suddenly and sharply toward him. She spoke quickly and low.

"I'm seeking a man's life in this expedition," she said. "It's his or mine before we part."

"I don't blame you for that."

"Oh, no!" The reply sounded almost contemptuous; at least it showed plainly that her conscience was not troubled. "And he won't blame me either. When he sees me, he'll know what it means."

"And, in fact, I intend to help. So do we all, I think."

"It was our oath in Volseni," she answered. "They think monseigneur will sleep the better for it. But I know well that nothing troubles monseigneur's sleep. And I'm so selfish that I wish he could be troubled—yes, troubled about me; that he could be riding in the spirit with us tonight, hoping for our victory, yet very anxious, very anxious about me; that I could still bring him joy and sorrow, grief and delight. I can't desire that monseigneur should sleep so well. They're kinder to him—his own folk of Volseni. They aren't jealous of his sleep—not jealous of the peace of death. But I'm very jealous of it. I'm to him now just as all the rest are. I, too, am nothing to monseigneur now."

"Who knows? Who can know?" said Dunstanbury softly.

His attempted consolation, his invoking of the old persistent hope, the saving doubt, did not reach her heart. In her great love of life the best she could ask of the tomb was a little memory there. So she had told monseigneur. Such was the thought in her heart tonight. She was jealous and forlorn because of the silent darkness which had wrapped her lover from her sight and so enveloped him. He could not even ride with her in the spirit on the night when she went forth to avenge the death she mourned!

Does Your Backache?

If you are a woman and you have this symptom get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound without delay.

Backache seems an invention of the evil one to try woman's souls. Only those who suffer this way can understand the wearing, ceaseless misery.

We ask all such women to read the two following letters for proof that Mrs. Pinkham's medicine cures backache caused by female diseases.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I have been a great sufferer with a constant pain in my back. I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for it, and the pain has disappeared. I feel like a new woman since that awful pain has gone, and may God bless the discoverer of that great and wonderful remedy."—Mrs. Peter Gaffney, 548 Marcey Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world about it.

"I suffered from female troubles and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I am ready to tell every one what this medicine has done for me."—Mrs. Emma Imse, 833 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made thousands of cures of such cases. You notice we say has cured thousands of cases. That means that we are telling you what it has done, not what we think it will do. We are stating facts, not guesses.

We challenge the world to name another remedy for female ills which has been so successful or received so many testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

SCRAPING THE STOMACH

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 6, 1908.

I suffered for many months with dreadful Stomach Trouble, with vomiting and constant pain, and I could retain practically nothing.

My doctor stated that I must go to the hospital and undergo an operation of scraping the stomach and be fed by the bowels for weeks. All the medicine the doctor gave me I vomited at once. I was dreadfully alarmed, but I dreaded an operation and had refused.

I had heard of "Fruit-a-tives" and the great success they were having in all Stomach Troubles, and I decided to try them. To my surprise, the "Fruit-a-tives" not only remained on the stomach, but they also checked the vomiting. I immediately began to improve, and in three days the pain was easier and I was decidedly better. I continued to take "Fruit-a-tives" and they completely cured me.

A CO-OPERATIVE POULTRY ASSOCIATION.

From Farm and Dairy.

A Co-operative Poultry Producers Association was recently organized in Eastern Canada at a well attended meeting held at Macdonald College, Que. Many poultry associations throughout the Dominion have been organized mainly for show purposes. The one recently organized at Macdonald College has for its primary object the encouragement of the co-operative spirit among producers, and of bringing producers and consumers closer together. Other objects of this association are: To encourage the adoption of the best breeds and types of utility poultry; to encourage the small producers to form local branches, or circles, for mutual assistance and co-operation in selling; to aid in establishing a uniform and recognized standard of dressed poultry and eggs; to keep the producers in touch with those buyers who put a premium on quality; to do everything possible to promote good fellowship among poultrymen, and to advance and dignify the poultry industry.

INDEPENDENCE

The idea of this co-operative association was started during the poultry short course at Macdonald College, where a provisional committee was appointed and various poultrymen in Quebec and Eastern Canada communicated with. Their efforts culminated in the recent meeting, and the forming of the Co-operative Association. At the organization meeting, Prof. Elford pointed out that at present each farmer markets his produce independently of his neighbor. The practice results in increased cost and decreased prices owing to the lack of uniformity. Producers in each locality by forming themselves into a co-operative circle could prepare and market their stuff through one, and thereby increase the uniformity of their products and also their returns. The establishment of such circles is to be one of the first efforts of the association.

CO-OPERATION.

In the past there has been an absence of co-operation among poultrymen. There has been too much competition. Poultrymen have been afraid of one another and have been working without system: in fact, consumers and producers have been wide apart. The newly formed association will endeavor to draw them together. It is not intended that the organization shall act as middlemen—that is, it will not buy from the producer and sell to the consumer. The aim is purely co-operative in relation to the former.

The officers of the newly-formed organization are: Hon. pres., Dr. Robertson; hon. vice-pres., Mr. A. G. Gilbert; pres., Mr. A. P. Hillhouse, vice-pres., Bro. Liguori; second vice-pres., Mr. Peter White; auditors, Messrs. G. O'Hara and T. Ward; executive committee, Messrs. L. T. Ogilvie, Brockville; L. P. Shorthall, Washburn; A. G. Taylor, Dewittville; J. G. Morgan, Stanbridge; Mr. George Robertson, Ottawa; Mr. Chapman; Mr. Cochrane, Mr. K. Fisk, N.B.; Mr. H. Baird. At a meeting of the executive committee, F. C. Elford was appointed sec.-treas.

Watering Small Seeds and Seedlings

From Farm and Dairy.

T. Newman, Russell Co., Ont.

If any of the readers of Farm and Dairy have only a small quantity of small seeds or seedlings to water, say a box or two or a pot or two, an excellent way is to stand the boxes or pots a few inches away from a wall, or a few boards placed to act as a wall, and syringe the wall hard with water a few feet over the boxes. A fine close mist will be thrown back over the seeds or seedlings in the boxes without disturbing a particle of soil or the finest seed. It is surprising how soon this fine mist penetrates the mould.

Another way is to stand the pots or boxes in an inch or two of water. By capillary action the whole of the mould will soon be wet through without disturbing the seeds or seedlings in the least.

Mother Gave Her Child Away.

Had Given up all Hope of Living. Heart Trouble was Cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. Andrew Savoy, Grattan's, N.B., writes:—"In the year 1905 I was taken sick and did not think I could live any length of time. My trouble was with my heart and people told me that nothing could be done for a case like mine. I consulted the very best doctors but they could do me no good. For seven weeks I could hardly cross the floor. I had no pain, but was so weak nobody in the world can believe how I felt. I had given up all hopes of living and had given my little girl to my sister-in-law.

"One day a friend came to see me, and calling me by name, said, 'Lizzie, if I were you I would try a dose of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills as they are good for heart trouble.' My husband got me a box, but for two days I was not feeling any better, but on the fourth day my husband said, 'I believe those pills are doing you good.' I was able to say, 'Yes, I feel a good deal better this morning.' He said, 'Well, I will get you another box right away.' I took two boxes and three doses out of the third one, and I was perfectly well and have not been sick since then.

"I will never be without them in my home for God knows if it had not been for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, I would not have been alive now."

Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SOUND ADVICE FOR THE MILKER

From Farm and Dairy.

The Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station has been giving some attention to the milker as a source of bacterial infection in milk. A recent bulletin gives some information on this subject, based upon practical observation and experiments conducted at the station, that every dairyman should ponder over. Among other things it says:

The kinds of bacteria that the milker is likely to introduce into the milk include nearly the whole list of those found in milk. It seldom occurs to the average milker that it is as necessary to wash the hands before milking as before eating a meal of victuals. The number that come from soiled clothes and dirty hands which get into milk are large. The hands of a milker working around the farm during the afternoon were tested, just before milking time, for the number of bacteria that could be washed off in a quart of sterile water. The number was found to be 45,000,000. This washing did not remove all the bacteria, but it did remove all those that would have dropped off during the milking. Another experiment was tried to determine how many bacteria were left on the hands after thorough washing with soap and water. The number that could be washed off them in sterile water was found to be 900,000. These two experiments show that 98 per cent. of bacteria can be washed from the hands.

The clothes of the ordinary dairyman carry immense numbers of organisms with dust from all sorts of contamination. The milker has a much wider range for the collection of a larger number and greater variety of organisms than the cow. The only proper attire for a milker is a white suit and cap to be worn only at milking time. A white suit shows dirt very readily, and when made of white duck will last a long time and can be sterilized almost indefinitely.

The milker may not only be the source of a very large number of harmless bacteria, but the largest source of disease germs that get into milk. The milker may be the immediate source of disease germs or may transmit them to another person. The disease germs that get into milk are largely from human origin, infectious diseases that pass from individual to individual. A grave mistake has been made in the past by allowing persons ill with contagious diseases to enter a cow stable or dairy where milk is handled. Many an epidemic of diphtheria, scarlet fever and typhoid has been traced to a case of illness on a dairy farm, which was not properly quarantined and cared for. One high grade milk handling concern requires that if a case of contagious disease arises in the dairy of one of its patrons, that the milk supply be withheld till the patient has passed the danger limit of conveying the disease germs. The milk produced, however, is paid for during the quarantine. It is very difficult to make the average individual understand or even believe that our worst diseases are caused by special kinds of bacteria, and that these bacteria can be transmitted to a healthy individual, who is likely to contract the same disease.

Peterboro Spring Stallion Show.

From Farm and Dairy.

The inaugural spring stallion show held by the West Peterboro Agricultural Society on Saturday last was a distinct success. The market square was thronged with a large number of farmers and others interested in horse breeding. Great interest was manifested in the 21 horses exhibited. The number and the quality of the exhibits were a surprise to on-lookers. Many of the exhibits would have done themselves proud at the leading horse fairs; in fact some of them have in the past carried off high honors at Toronto and elsewhere.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Imported Clydes, R. D. Dundas, Springville; J. F. Staples, Ida; Wm. Kearns, Frankhill. The Canadian-bred Clydesdale, Merriman, owned by Nicholls & McIlmoyle, Lakefield, and which was illustrated in Farm and Dairy last week carried off first honors in his class. James Collins, Otonabee, captured first in the three year old imp. Clydesdale class. John Young, of Ennismore, took first in three year old Canadian Clydes. S. F. Redmand, of Otonabee, and McIntyre & Whittington took first and second respectively in two year old imported Clydes. Other noteworthy winnings were Jacob Brown, of Peterboro, first in the Percheron class; Dr. Hassard, Markman first in Hackneys; and Ira Natkan, Millbrook, first in Standard breds.

COLD CLIMATES FOR DAIRYING

From Farm and Dairy.

Is the production of milk an industry that can be more successfully carried on in a cold than a warm climate? If so, then Canada is well situated for a business of this kind. In discussing this question one of our exchanges says:

"The production of milk is likely to always remain a business more adapted to cold climates than to warm climates. In cold climates, the production of grass is more abundant than elsewhere, and grass is the best food for the making of milk. Further south the soil does not naturally cover itself with grass but sends up a larger and woodier growth.

The northern part of the temperate zone of the northern hemisphere is particularly adapted to the production of milk, both on account of the climate and the soil and also on account of the kind of people inhabiting it. As we go north, the importance of the lacteal fluid increases till we find the inhabitant of the region just below the Arctic circle living on the milk of the cow and the milk of the reindeer.

The coldness of the soil water in cold climates is a great help to dairying. It makes it possible to draw from the ground through the whole year water varying in temperature from thirty-five to forty degrees. In some of the localities far to the north the water from the ground even in summer has the temperature near that of ice water.

Great as has been the development of the dairy industry in cold climates, we may assume that its importance is scarcely being realized and that the time will come when the cow will be a much greater factor in the prosperity of this region than at present.

A higher grade of butter can be made in cold climates than in warm climates, as the undesirable bacteria are not so abundant in the air. In winter time there are no germs to speak of in the air, and when the land is covered with snow the germs are entirely lacking except in the warm stables. This is a great help in the keeping of the butter.

PUBLIC STOCK SALES.

From Farm and Dairy.

"I believe that breeders of pure-bred stock can secure better results by public sales than by selling privately," said Mr. G. A. Gilroy, of Glen Buell, to a representative of Farm and Dairy, who visited his place recently. Mr. Gilroy is a well-known breeder of Holstein-Friesian cattle and is the President of the Canadian Holstein-Friesian Association.

"If a breeder," said Mr. Gilroy, "can once secure the confidence of the people that his sales will be conducted on honest lines, he is almost certain to obtain higher prices for his stock. Sometimes a cow when sold is in the best possible condition, but she goes wrong after the sale. When such an animal is sold privately, the purchaser often kicks and claims that there was something wrong with her when he purchased her. Such complaints are not made when the animal is sold by public sales.

LETTER WRITING TROUBLESOME

"I find that it is a great task to try and answer all the letters that I receive from farmers who claim that they want to purchase stock. They ask for pedigrees of animals and each of them expect a long reply. This letter-writing is a difficult matter for the average breeder to attend to. When the stock is sold by auction, the pedigrees of the animals can be given in the sale catalogue and the greater portion of this correspondence can be avoided.

"At a sale, eight or ten men are likely to get interested in an animal. When this happens, the seller is much more likely to obtain a high price for that animal than he would have, had he sold it privately.

"Fifteen or 20 times a year, I have to drive to Brockville to ship stock. It is a distance of 10 miles. In this way, I lose a great deal of time. If my stock was sold at a public sale, the work would all be done at one time. I think that breeders should co-operate more in holding these sales. If breeders in different sections would hold joint sales, they could advertise their sections and could save expense in advertising their sales.

"It is a great advantage to a section to become known as a centre for some special line of live stock. When I have to leave home to purchase some pure-bred Holsteins, I like to go to centres in the United States where there are a number of breeders living near together. I feel that if one or two of the breeders have not got the kind of animal that I want, some of the others will be likely to have them and I can thus save considerable money in travelling expenses. In Canada, where there are several breeders of one class of stock, they will find that they will all be benefited if they will co-operate in arranging sales and in attracting buyers to their sections."

PRUNING THE APPLE ORCHARD.

From Farm and Dairy.

A. E. Sherrington, Bruce Co., Ont.

The time of pruning that I prefer is the latter part of the winter, that is, after the severest frost is over, so that the cells of the wood where wounds are made may not be injured by frost. For removing large branches, a saw with fine teeth should be used so as to leave a smooth surface. All dead and decaying branches should be removed, also branches that are growing crossways or rubbing against other limbs. In removing large limbs, two cuts should be made, so that no splitting or peeling of the bark below the cut will take place. The cut should be made close to the main branch or body of the tree. In so doing, the healing over is much quicker. Avoid cutting very large limbs, if possible, but if necessary, then cover the wounds and keep them covered with paint or wax so as to prevent decay. In fact, it is wise, and it is my practice, to paint all wounds over one inch in diameter.

Prune so as to leave the branches at moderate distance apart and growing straight out from the body of the tree, aiming to have a well-balanced top. Avoid cutting out bearing branches that are growing down near the forks of the tree. Never cut out the centre, as it has a tendency to weaken the tree. Retain the leader if possible. Having removed all large branches with the saw, now take a ladder and the pruning shears and go all round and through the tree thinning out the small twigs so as to let in the light, sun and air. My idea in pruning is to give the tree a general thinning, aiming to prune so as to leave the bearing wood evenly distributed throughout the tree.—From a pamphlet issued by The Ontario Fruit Growers' Ass'n.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

FREE TO YOU AND EVERY SISTER SUFFERING FROM WOMEN'S AILMENTS.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.

I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from women's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhœa or Whitish discharge, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths, also pains in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weakness peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete 10 days' treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week, or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer, if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all, old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhœa, Green Sickness, and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always result from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten days' treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address:

WOULD YOU CONVICT— ON CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE?

The POST-MORTEM LETTER

A TRUE STORY

(Copyright, 1909, by the New York Herald Co. All Rights Reserved.)

DISTRICT ATTORNEY William Travers Jerome says:—"During the twenty years of my observation of legal matters in New York I have never known of a criminal case in which a defendant was convicted by circumstantial evidence and was subsequently proved to have been innocent, but I have known of several cases in which conviction was obtained on direct testimony subsequently found to have been perjured.

"People have an erroneous idea concerning circumstantial evidence. They think it means flimsy or faulty evidence. Circumstantial evidence consists of the simple, hard facts surrounding an act. The facts that every business man uses every day for the successful conduct of his business are the same kind of facts that make circumstantial evidence.

"Circumstantial evidence is the best kind of evidence if the rules laid down in law to govern it are followed, as they are always followed nowadays. These rules are sufficient to prevent danger of a wrong. Another safeguard is the juror, who is apt to be only too suspicious of circumstantial evidence. It is sometimes difficult to induce a jury to give a just and reasonable weight to circumstances."

IT began with a robbery, of itself sufficiently a mystery, which led the authorities through a devious maze to that which was accepted officially as the light. But when the machinery of justice had ground the grains of satisfactory truth from the matter a darker element was found commingled and interspersed therein. So the case of a simple burglary became almost inextricably confused with that of a murder and the loss of Mme. Andrecht's plate and jewels served as a mere preliminary to the death of the Corporal Ruhler.

Mme. Andrecht occupied for the greater part of the year a commodious house with a large shaded garden, which backed along the bank of the river toward the outskirts of the town. It was her custom to visit a country seat for two of the spring months. Upon her return from such an absence on a certain June day she found her residence in such a condition that led her to notify the police immediately.

Word of a burglary spread quickly among the neighbors and a curious crowd gathered about Mme. Andrecht's home even before the officials were fairly at work with their investigation within. Among the clatter it was noised that the case had fallen to the share of one of the youngest commissaries of police, who recently had distinguished himself by the capture and conviction of a notorious band of footpads. Amid wise nodding heads it was passed about that the thieves had best hide themselves well, for Jacob Hundert was the bloodhound that would follow fast and far upon their traces.

Evidence of a leisurely and complete looting was writ large throughout the ancient house. Apparently the person or persons concerned had had ample time in which to make a selection of the most valuable articles in the place, accommodating their best convenience in packing and making away with the plunder. A stout cupboard in which both plate and money had been stored by Mme. Andrecht had been broken open and the contents stolen, as had also a strong box used for the storage of her jewels.

Jacob Hundert applied to the matter the calm penetration and keen understanding that had recommended him for advancement beyond the claim of his years. In part his remarkable success had been due simply to his adoption of practical methods in the pursuit of criminals at a time when the traditional procedure of the detective department had fallen upon ancient and futile ways. Having first trained himself to some knowledge of the habits of evildoers, to which acquirement he was easily led by bent of nature, he brought into play a faculty for cold reasoning and impersonal logic that pointed the path, in many instances, through intricate possibilities. Beyond this he had something of the essential power of throwing himself into the mental attitude of the man upon whose track he was placed, achieving, with his combination of gifts, a series of results that seemed to verge upon the miraculous. He was to find a situation to test his best powers in the business at hand.

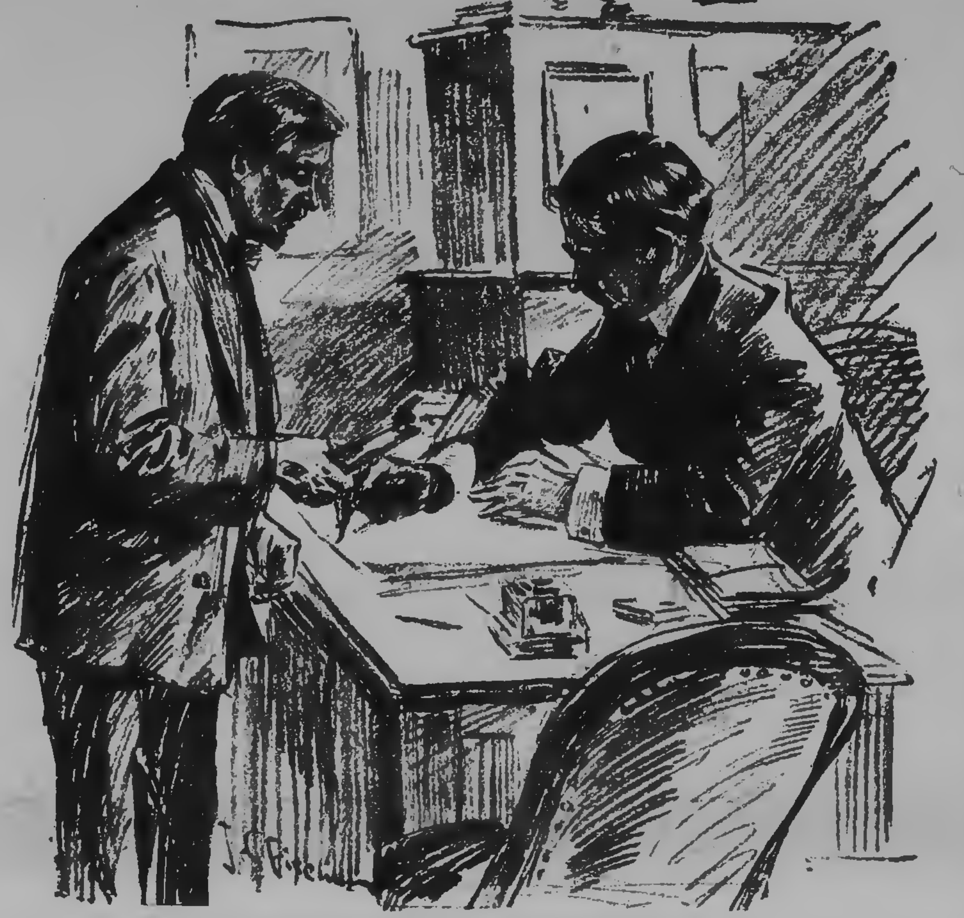
In examining the Andrecht house Hundert was struck particularly by an unattached circumstance. The cupboard had been almost taken apart, with much patience and care, so as not to injure the joints beyond repair. Nor could he conceive a possible explanation for this. Even supposing the robbery to have been the work of professional housebreakers it was still sufficiently remarkable that the locks should have been removed and the hinges unscrewed with such regard for the ultimate condition of the piece of furniture. One used to such affairs, or one unused, would have wrenched the doors apart with a twist of a steel blade or split a door with heel or hammer.

Date on Charred Paper.

He was writing out his preliminary report when one of his assistants brought to him a scorched and tightly rolled stump of paper, which evidently had been used as a torch. It had been found in a corner, where the first searchers had overlooked it. Hundert unfolded it carefully and spread it out before him on the table. It was black, save for a date some four months old, penned in ink upon a lower corner. He included it in his inventory, and set it aside as promising some clew.

One of his first steps was to make inquiry among the neighbors as to what had been seen or heard about the house during the absence of its owner. In the course of this he questioned Leendert Van Vonder, a prosperous small dealer in woollens, whose place adjoined at the right along the bank of the river. Van Vonder at first showed some reluctance in meeting the queries of the commissary, but on being pressed unfolded a circumstance of moment.

At a little distance further away to the right along the river was an inn, kept by the young Nicholas Deeskirk, who, two years before, had married a maid in the employ of Mme. Andrecht. Their attachment had fallen under disfavor with the aged woman, who saw herself deprived of an efficient servant, and during its course she forbade the girl to receive her lover on the grounds. Van Vonder had been aware of this prohibition and of the way in which it was evaded. Keeping watch he had seen that Deeskirk nightly threaded a secret path across the intervening estates and through the hedges to the forbidden garden, where he kept his tryst with the maid.



HE WAS WRITING OUT HIS PRELIMINARY REPORT.

Van Vonder, as he told Hundert, had almost forgotten these nocturnal journeys of the innkeeper when, some five days before the discovery of the robbery, he had found a crumpled handkerchief in the very gap of the hedge that had been used by Nicholas Deeskirk in time of courtship. This handkerchief, which he now handed to the official, bore the embroidered initials "N. D." It was natural enough, he explained, that he should marvel as to what attraction brought the innkeeper back along his old tracks so recently.

Hundert, while fully alive to the significance of the initialled handkerchief, set himself to clear the available field somewhat further before making a move. He circulated quietly among the folk of the quarter and addressed his inquiry to the financial standing of Deeskirk. He found, by the aid of those secretly in the employ of the police, that the innkeeper was laboring under a load of private debt, accumulated through frequent clandestine attendance at the gaming board. So troublesome were the claims, he was able to observe, that Deeskirk had failed to meet several honest obligations through the sharper necessity of paying and concealing his less respectable creditors.

Meantime the commissary made a study of the twisted spill of paper which had been discovered in the Andrecht house. The sheet had been burned across the top and its exact original use was not apparent. In comparing its texture and shape with commercial forms he made no headway. But following the point with a pertinacity that increased as it continued to evade him he gained a fact of considerable importance. He turned to an examination of official blanks and documents and in this way found that the paper in question was part of an excise receipt.

The Scrap of Paper.

Seeking out the excise officer for the district Hundert laid the scrap before him and asked him if he could in any way identify it. The officer thought he could, since the date was in his own handwriting. He inspected his records and showed that on the day indicated he had given receipt for a tax on a barrel of rum received by Deeskirk. With this fact to aid the presumption that the letters "N. D." on the handkerchief indicated Nicholas Deeskirk the man was placed under arrest charged with the robbery.

Strong confirmation of the suspicions of the authorities resulted from a search of the prisoner's house. A large sum of money brought to light from the false bottom of a chest fitted poorly with his known necessitous situation of late. None of the plate or jewels was found, but doubt of the guilt of the accused was banished from the popular mind when the commissary presented to the magistrates an account book of Mme. Andrecht's, included in the list of missing articles and discovered in the cash drawer of the inn.

The case against the accused was topped the same day. A dealer in wood applied for an interview with Hundert and offered his testimony. It appeared that a week before the return of Mme. Andrecht he had made demand upon one of his customers, a carpenter, Isaac Van Malken, of certain sums long owing him. The carpenter had fobbed him off for a time, but finally had produced two old silver candlesticks, which he desired him to accept as part payment of the debt. Seeing small chance of reimbursement by other means the merchant had consented. He now believed the candlesticks to be the property of Mme. Andrecht. A messenger was sent with the articles to the aged woman and returned with full identification of them. The apprehension of Isaac Van Malken was immediately ordered.

The carpenter answered the summons like one who is prepared for questions, and gave his explanation readily. He said that he, in his turn, had been creditor to Nicholas Deeskirk. Shortly before the wood merchant made his demand he had applied to the innkeeper for money, and after some dispute had accepted the candlesticks and a silver coffeepot in part settlement. At the same time, he said, he had sworn not to dispose of the articles in the town, at Deeskirk's earnest request, the innkeeper representing that he had an urgent private reason for keeping word of the transaction from his family. He offered an entry in his accounts as proof of his statement and a recent receipt from him for twenty gulden among Deeskirk's papers apparently established his testimony firmly.

The matter was ten days old, and the innkeeper was already convicted and sentenced by the universal voice when a strange event cast a new color upon the case. The chief magistrate received a letter from a small town twenty miles distant, as follows:—

"Before I leave the country and betake myself where I shall be beyond the reach either of the court or of the military tribunal of the garrison I would save the unfortunate person who is now under arrest. Beware of punishing the innkeeper for a crime of which he is not guilty. Let the judge pay attention to this remark. You may spare yourselves the trouble of inquiring after me. If the wind is favorable, by the time you receive this letter I shall be far at sea. JOSEPH CHRISTIAN RUHLER,

"Late Corporal in the Garrison."

This remarkable communication was turned over to Hundert. He visited the garrison and sought information from the commandant. It was easily learned that Corporal Ruhler had been missing since nearly two weeks before the discovery of the robbery. He had left no hint of his destination, nor even of his intention to leave town. His military kit was complete, save for his clothes of daily wear, nor were his private belongings gone. He had last been seen while leaving the barracks of an evening, and neither word nor trace of him had since come to the notice of any one. He had been posted as a deserter.

Body Washed Ashore.

Full upon these facts came the climax to the mystery. Hundert was leaving the garrison when one of his men brought word that a party of fishermen returning from the sea up the river had dragged to shore a large tun, or barrel, floating low in the water. Inside was found the naked body of a man bearing marks of violence. Upon being taken to the offices of the police it had been pronounced to be that of Corporal Ruhler. It had been in the water about two weeks.

Examination established beyond all doubt that murder had been done. The corporal had been killed with some dull edged instrument, apparently an axe, three blows having been struck upon one side of the head. The arms and chest were covered with bruises such as might have been received in a struggle. The body had been bent double and jammed into the barrel with great force.

Holding a letter written to deflect suspicion from an accused burglar and purporting to come from a man who was dead by violent means, Hundert struck direct for the point in starting to discover the writer. To his mind the matter hung upon the identity of the person who would attempt to frustrate justice by turning pursuit upon the trail of one who could never be found, barring some such accident as had in truth found him. Who could pick the best possible suspect so cleverly? Only one who knew that the indicated suspect was dead, as the commissary saw it. And such knowledge was a strong supposition of guilty knowledge.

His first care was to take the letter about the town to such persons as had had dealings with the corporal. Ruhler had been assigned to duty in the commissariat, with the power to make small purchases for the garrison. It was no difficult task, therefore, to find a shopkeeper who could show specimens of the corporal's handwriting among his accounts, and Hundert was able to obtain several of these. He thus armed himself at the start with proof that the letter was not by any chance actually written by Ruhler, for the characters were by no means similar. He took this precaution to set aside a possibility that the body had not been rightly identified and that the man was still alive or had been at the time the communication was penned.

Ruhler being removed from the problem, the young commissary took the square position that the innkeeper was in some way concerned with the writing of the letter, patently directed with the purpose of clearing him of the charge of burglary. He made his way the next day to the town from which the letter had come. It had impressed him that the hand in which the missive was written was singularly correct and scholarly and he made immediate inquiry for the names of the public letter writers of the place, confident that it might easily have been the work of one of the clerks who undertook such commissions for the unlettered. He also had in mind the fact that one desirous of covering his traces and disguising his hand would turn naturally to a hired amanuensis.

In the course of his investigation he visited a young deaf mute who was highly regarded as a copyist and did excellent engrossing and writing, gaining therefrom something of a local reputation. He was such a one as a stranger might be recommended to by a townsman. The commissary produced the Ruhler letter and conducted his examination by the aid of slate and pencil.

"Did you pen this letter?" he wrote.

"Yes," came the answer through the same medium.

"On whose order?"

"I don't know his name."

"Was he a resident here?"

"I don't think so."

"Would you know him if you should see him again?"

"It is probable that I would not. He came here at dusk and gave me a rough draft, which he desired me to copy and send. I was sitting beneath a lamp and he wrote his commands on this slate, giving me the money at the same time. I did not see him well. He was a man of average height and age. I was short of paper and used the half of the sheet he left me to copy the draft on."

The Woman—

This avenue being closed, to all appearance, Hundert proceeded at another angle. He returned to town and resumed his study into the matter of stationery, through which he had accomplished the identification of the excise receipt. The paper upon which the letter had been written was not unusual in appearance, but on questioning the merchants who dealt in such commodities the commissary was assured that [illegible] not quite correspond with any of the ordinary [illegible]. After an exhaustive inquiry he found one man who could match it exactly from his stock. In running over the names of the persons concerned in the case to find if any were counted among the customers of this dealer Hundert halted at that of Mme. Andrecht. The aged woman, he learned, had purchased writing paper at the shop about a year before.

Back to the Andrecht house he hastened. Mme. Andrecht aided him intelligently to lay his hands on a vital fact. She had had a package of this identical writing paper in the cupboard that had been robbed. It had gone with the rest of the stolen articles. Thus the letter was connected with the burglar, the letter was also connected with the murderer, and the position was warrantable that the burglar and the murderer were one and the same person.

The case against Nicholas Deeskirk for the burglary was well nigh perfect, but the commissary did not deceive himself concerning the one circumstance and its inadequacy. It merely served to indicate the way for further investigation.

He recalled that he had noticed stains in the cellar of the inn during his first search there for the missing valuables, and he turned his attention upon these. He returned to the place and went over it carefully. There was no difficulty in establishing that the marks, partly removed from the flooring by an insufficient attempt to clean it, had been caused by blood. What was of some little importance, he was able to find a single short human hair, a trifle of no value by itself, but fitting well into the hypothesis he was slowly constructing. Ruhler's hair had been black. This hair was black.

Hundert also discovered an axe in the woodshed back of the inn. The lined depressions of the grain in the handle had absorbed some dark substance. On examination by physicians this coloring matter was pronounced to be blood. In a crack in the haft, near the head of the axe, was found a very small splinter of bone. The axe could have caused the wounds from which Ruhler died.

The commissary achieved his triumph in the matter by the aid of an old shoe raked from a heap of refuse on the river bank near the inn. There was no particular reason why he should have noticed or appropriated this article beyond impulse and the general alertness with which he surveyed all possible parts of the situation. On carrying this to a shoemaker he was told that such shoes were supplied to the soldiers. Carrying this line of questioning into the garrison, he was able to add to his case the fact that a pair of Ruhler's shoes left in his kit bore the same peculiarities formed by wear as those shown on the one he held. Aware of the importance of this personal and intimate bit of evidence, he supported it for the use of the prosecutor by showing that no two men wear leather in exactly the same manner.

The Supposed Motive.

The motive remained behind. Ruhler had been a quarrelsome, vindictive man, tenaciously greedy of the small perquisites that fell to him through his power of purchase. It was shown that Deeskirk had rebelled at paying the tribute demanded by the corporal in exchange for placing orders for spirits at the inn and that there had been a sharp falling out between them. Ruhler had advertised Deeskirk as a cheat, and the innkeeper had threatened to take up the matter at the garrison. There had been high words at a chance encounter two days before Ruhler's disappearance. Deeskirk was known as a man of hasty temper, as many witnesses could testify. The final circumstance was established by a private in the garrison who had been the last to see Ruhler alive. He swore that the corporal was walking toward the inn and was not half a block distant from it when he passed him.

Through a peculiarity of the law it was thought well to place Deeskirk upon his trial for the robbery first, that his connection with this crime might be used as evidence in trying him for the more serious offence. He was found guilty of burglary, and was then tried for the murder of Corporal Ruhler. A second verdict of guilty was quickly rendered.

* * * * * * *

It was a characteristic of the commissary, Jacob Hundert, that he brought to his work no personal animosity, as he brought no friendship for the individuals who came within the range of his duties. His was purely a mathematical mind, devoid of sentiment, an ideal machine for the uses of justice. He approached a case as Euclid did a problem, with clear, unclouded logic and the absence of mixed purpose. The conviction of a criminal meant nothing to him more than that his theorem had been resolved in such a way that the minds about him were impressed with the soundness of his reasoning. There was no personal satisfaction in a verdict of guilty procured by his activities, nor did such an incident give him pause in any inquiry.

This quality of the man, the dominant note in his nature, gave the accused an advantage that held level the scales against the persistence in investigation that made for conviction. For the mind of Hundert, once given the premises and turned toward solution, did not turn aside until further hypothesis or analysis or grouping of the facts seemed quite useless.

So it was that the mere fact that Deeskirk was started for the gallows signalled no rest in the matter. There were still points worthy of attention. If the case he had collected thus far was sufficient to convince a jury of the guilt of the accused, that was their lookout, not his. He was concerned only with the play of men and circumstances. His it was to study and dissect actions and appearances and motives. What he found he passed along, but he refused to take the attitude of other or ordinary men toward his chosen work.

He was interested, at this stage, to discover just what the innkeeper had done with the articles still missing. He was sure, for his first step, that the goods had been taken away by boat from the back of the garden. The innkeeper owned no boat. Neither did Mme. Andrecht, nor any of the intervening neighbors. Hundert set out to discover which of the available small craft had been stolen or borrowed for the theft, which was very like the familiar needle in the haystack task.

He proceeded, and this was the highest possible proof of his efficiency, caution and even mind, not on a line of questioning that would tend to incriminate Deeskirk more than any other.

Who had loaned or rented or missed his boat at the hands of any person during the month? This was his inquiry, and it brought upon him masses of useless information that he patiently threshed, while the time for execution drew near and he gave it not a thought.

The Boat Clew.

To cut a wearying business to its bare results he struck upon a scent after a canvass of half the land owners upon the river within the town. A manufacturer of hosiery, who owned a sizable craft which he kept moored at the foot of his garden some distance from the Andrecht estate, supplied it.

"Of a night some five weeks gone now," said the man, "there came to me Isaac Van Malken, the carpenter, who most pressingly desired that I allow him use of the boat for the night. On my inquiring what use he planned for it he gave as his intention to aid certain bankrupt persons to leave the town by stealth. I told him I would be party to no such evasion, whereupon he shifted ground. He said he really wanted it for a fishing, but had feared to tell me the truth lest I think he would dirty it. So I lent it him.

"The next day there was my boat, but it held no traces of fish or the wet and clutter of a fishing. I was angry, for after all, I supposed, the rascal had been helping some bankrupt, perchance some criminal, to flee."

To the commissary this simple tale bore a significance. Here was Isaac Van Malken again, who had already felt the breath of suspicion in the case, and whose testimony had gone far to connect the innkeeper with the robbery. On his way home Hundert selected from that collection of pigeonholes of facts that was his memory the unexplained precision and care with which the cupboard had been taken apart. Did not this suggest a carpenter, a man used to the careful treatment of furniture?

Rapid developments followed. Hundert arrested Van Malken, and the first application of stern pressure brought full confession. A search of his house brought to light all the missing articles. He had robbed the Andrecht place with the aid of his apprentice and housekeeper, taken off the goods in the hosiery merchant's boat and perjured himself against Deeskirk. He accounted for one of the independent accusatory circumstances against the innkeeper, that of the account book discovered in the cash drawer. His apprentice had visited the inn and slipped it into the hiding place while the public room was deserted. Of the other parts of the evidence he could tell nothing.

But if Deeskirk was innocent of the burglary the whole structure of the case against him crumbled. What of the letter written on stolen stationery? What of the excise receipt? What of the initialled handkerchief? Hundert set himself to test the validity of these clews, which now conflicted with the known facts.

He came again to Leendert Van Vonder, the woollen dealer and next door neighbor to Mme. Andrecht, he who had been so accommodating with the handkerchief. He questioned closely, sharply. The man was not so ready, his story contradicted his former statement in trifling details, he became confused. Next day he and his wife were missed. They were pursued, captured, brought back and confined. Finally they confessed, implicating two more persons, Hans Stuyver, a baker, and his wife. The true story of the puzzling affair, involving a remarkable scheme of manufactured evidence, was as follows:—

The Van Vonders and the Stuyvers frequently played cards in the woollen dealer's kitchen with Corporal Ruhler. All four hated him on account of his disposition to quarrel and because he tyrannized over them in the matter of the garrison orders, for which he made them pay dearly. A dispute arising after an all night session, the baker struck him. He threatened vengeance and they all set upon him. The woollen dealer made final settlement for old scores with an axe.

They were still discussing means of disposing of the body, which they packed in a barrel, when morning came. It was the day the burglary next door was discovered, and they heard the excitement of the crowds. Quickly gathering the facts and fearing that the police would search the quarter for the thieves and thus come upon the body, they patched up the scheme to avert suspicion from their doors. The baker had in his pocket an old excise receipt which he had picked up on the floor of the inn. He burned the top of this, twisted it, mingled with the crowd, and dropped it unobserved inside a window of the Andrecht house, where it was found a few minutes later. Why should it not be Nicholas Deeskirk as well as another? What they most needed was to gain time.

Van Vonder's wife had saved a handkerchief dropped long before by the innkeeper in his courtship days and found by her. This afforded a handy confirmation. The body in the barrel was tumbled into the river the next night.

Van Vonder was the man who had given the order for the letter to the deaf mute. It chanced that he had borrowed several sheets of writing paper from Mme. Andrecht some time before, and it was on one of these that he had sketched the rough draft. He had taken this step through remorse, feeling the weight of guilt on his own conscience and sure that, whoever was guilty of the burglary, it was not Deeskirk. He also saw a chance to prevent an attempt to trace Ruhler. If he could induce the authorities to believe that the corporal had committed the robbery and had fled the country he would save an innocent man and protect himself at the same time.

The stains in the innkeeper's cellar were, as he had maintained throughout, the results of having slaughtered a pig. So were the marks on the axe. The shoe in the back garden was actually one that had been worn by Ruhler. The murderers had tied the clothing in a bundle and sunk it. The shoe must have floated loose and been dragged ashore, probably by some idle boy along the river bank. Even the excess of money in the inn was accounted for, that being the property of Deeskirk's father. His secret gambling debts were facts and had weighed [illegible] against him.

Thus Hundert, the commissary, worked [illegible] second half of his problem in time to save an innocent man's life. The four guilty persons were executed and the carpenter was punished for his theft.

WORK OF INSTRUCTORS FOR 1909.

From Farm and Dairy.

The Dairy Instructors have this year, as usual, been required to take special instruction at the Dairy School Kingston, in preparation for the work of the season. The western men met at Guelph, and had a very profitable week's work under the direction of Prof. Dean and Mr. Frank Herns, Chief Dairy Instructor for Western Ontario. The Eastern men had a somewhat longer course at Kingston under the supervision of Mr. G. G. Publow, Chief Dairy Instructor for Eastern Ontario, and who is now also Superintendent of the Dairy School.

The instructors will go to their respective districts better prepared than ever to render valuable service to the makers in the cheese factories and creameries. While instruction and assistance to the factorymen will occupy most of their time, they have been directed by the Department to give as much time as possible in an effort to improve the raw material as received from the producer. In the past the Instructors have found it impossible to call upon many of the producers, and for the most part, have confined their visits to those places from which the milk had not reached the factory in first class condition. While an effort will be made on the part of the instructors to visit as many farmers as possible this season, it is hardly likely that they will find time to give attention to the improvement of the raw material to the extent that we would hope f[illegible] In those cases where the raw material shows evidence of lack of care, the effect of poor water, unsuitable feed, or some other condition, which resulted in a deterioration of the milk, the instructors will endeavor to make a personal visit to the premises of the producer. The factorymen will be urged to co-operate in an endeavor to still further improve the quality of the raw material.

A full census of the factories and creameries will be secured early in the season, with a view to publishing from the Department of Agriculture a complete list for the season of 1909.

The Instructors will observe the work not only of the chief makers in the factories, but also those who act as assistants. This information will be of value when issuing certificates or permits at the beginning of 1911 to those who have been employed in factory work during the season of 1909 and 1910. It will, therefore, be in the best interests of the chief makers and their helpers to keep their work well in hand at all times, and to see that cleanliness is observed in all details.

It is the intention of the Department to call together the two chief instructors and Prof Dean with a view to deciding upon the form of certificates or permit to be issued. Announcements will be made in due course, so that factorymen will know the requirements entitling them to certificates or permits. In any case the certificate or permit issued will give due recognition to the ability of experienced factorymen, even if they have not had the advantage of a Dairy School training.

The names of the Instructors together with their respective syndicates for 1909 are given below:

Mi-o-na will cure your dyspepsia or any other stomach trouble by building up the flabby walls and making the stomach so strong that it will digest food without pepsin or other artificial aid.

Wm. Madill is the agent for Mi-o-na in Peterborough and he says to every reader of the Examiner whose stomach is weak, who has indigestion or dyspepsia, that Mi-o-na is guaranteed to cure or money back.

The price is only 50 cents a large box, and one box is all you need to prove that you are on the right road to health and happiness.

Mr. Geo. Linder, of corner Mill and Park streets, Elmira, Ont., says: "For about ten years I have been severely troubled with stomach trouble and indigestion so bad that I could not retain my food after eating. I could not eat meat, or scarcely anything and had headaches and constipation. I secured a package of Mi-o-na with the result that now after having taken two boxes I am entirely cured and can eat anything, digest perfectly and am feeling fine. Mi-o-na also overcame my constipation. I am only too glad to publicly endorse and recommend Mi-o-na."

FOSTER PREDICTS WARM WAVE FROM APRIL 30 TO MAY 4

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Last bulletin gave forecasts of disturbance to cross continent 1 to 5, warm wave April 30 to May 4, cool wave 3 to 7. This disturbance is expected to develop very cool weather and, after the central dates, dry weather and it will continue dry till after May 10. First week of May will not bring good crop weather. I am of opinion that farmers better hold their grain. So long as the wheat corner continues grain is high enough, but if the prices should break much below those that ruled during the corner, farmers should wait; prices will come up again and stay up.

Next disturbance will reach Pacific coast about 6, cross Pacific slope by close of 7, great central valleys 8 to 10, eastern states 11. This disturbance will bring high temperatures and, for five or six days, good crop weather and then back into very bad crop weather. Most rains of the month will fall during after part of this disturbance as the cool wave comes in. But these will not be growing rains on account of the unusually cool weather.

Severe Storms

This disturbance will bring severe storms. The storm cycle of Venus and Jupiter and the moon will all unite their electrical energies, and all weather features will largely increase in force or intensity. It is the electrical storms, tornadoes, hurri-the storm features to grow in intensity. These features are temperature, wind, weight of the atmosphere as measured by the barometer, rain, hail, snow, lightning, thunder storms, electrical storms, tornadoes, hurricanes, cold waves, heat waves, cloudiness, clear skies, frosts. All these features are increased as to intensity or force at some points in each cycle and these cycles are under the control of the sun, earth, moon and planets.

I am expecting a frost wave to pass across the continent May 12 to 19 and advise all sections where frosts sometimes occur at that season to guard well their tender plants. That will be the "blackberry winter," and it portends a bountiful blackberry crop. This is an old tradition that seems to have some read foundation.

Advice to Young Men

I am of opinion that agriculture is to be the best business our young men can prepare themselves for. The world is becoming over-populated as compared with the past and much greater demands are sure to be made for the products of the soil than have heretofore been made.

The world will support ten times the number of people that now live on it, but not by the loose methods of agriculture that prevailed during the last century, and scientific farming will be the best business that any young man can engage in. Avoid the cities. Very few families survive city life beyond the third generation. Of all the unpromising lives a young man can aspire to, the one to be most avoided is a government clerkship. Once in a government office and you are forever lost. A young man of good qualities can make no greater mistake and no other is competent for a government clerkship.

His Lucky Leap.

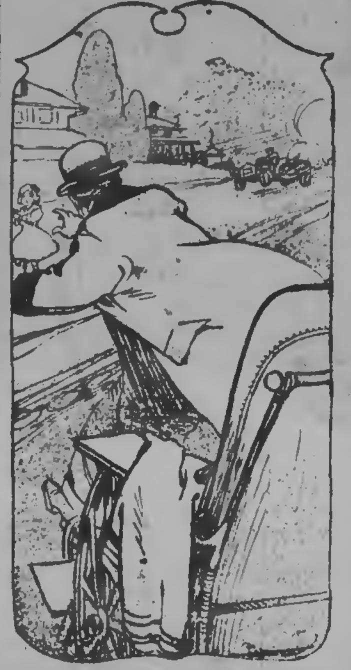
By ANNETTE DUMOIS.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

When Rud Grayson, the big center rush of the Crescent team, toppled like a falling tree with his full, hard, bunched 230 pounds on top of Don Laidlaw there was a howl of joy from Grayson's side, for with the downfall of Laidlaw the Scythian team was doomed.

That night the spectators of the great event of the upper ten athletic season went home well pleased that they had seen a desperate and perfect game. But Don Laidlaw was left a wreck for life by it. "Something" had happened to his back. What the "something" was the doctors and surgeons didn't seem able to say. At any rate, they agreed that probably he would never walk again unless "something" favorable happened, and that was not at all likely.

"Life is full of sarcasms, and this seems to be one of them," murmured Laidlaw, despite his illness still a fine looking young fellow, as he was being propelled down the avenue in an invalid's chair.



LAIDLAW GOT ON HIS FEET, STUMBLING AND STAGGERING TOWARD THE CHILD.

He turned to the attendant and said: "Wheel me into that sunny corner and then run over to the library and fill this list. There; that's something like it. This wind cuts like a knife."

Laidlaw watched the man disappear around the corner with a sense of irritation foreign to his hitherto bold and almost cheerful acceptance of fate.

"Hang it all! I wish there was some artistic way of leaving this world," he muttered. "Who would have thought one short year would make such a change in one's prospects? Then full of life and pluck and now a husky babe in a perambulator!" He laughed in spite of his fit of despondency.

The laugh vanished almost at once. He was thinking, and thinking hard. He always did think of that same one thing—of the girl to whom he had intended to propose on the very night of the game.

"Kismet!" he muttered. "I wonder if she cares—much? She is sympathetic when we meet and in a manner that doesn't sting. Bless her! To think that that's all over now!" And Don sighed heavily over his blasted hopes.

"Oho-ho! What a funny baby carriage! Ain't you dot any tootsies Mr. Man?" piped a little voice.

Laidlaw turned his head quickly. A golden haired tot stood close beside him. Her big brown eyes, with golden lights in them, gazed wonderingly with the frankness of babyhood straight into his astonished gray ones.

Laidlaw was fond of children, and she was a welcome interruption to his thoughts. He answered cheerily: "Hello, kid! Where did you escape from? You'll catch your death out here without a hat and those bare legs," noting the blue flesh above the tiny white socks. "Where's your nurse or whoever has you in tow?"

"Over dere," answered the baby vaguely, pointing across the park that ran down the middle of the broad avenue.

"Come up here in my lap," coaxed Dan, "and when James comes back you shall have a ride in my gocart."

"Let me see 'em," persisted the mite.

"What?" questioned the puzzled man.

"Footsies," replied the infant.

"Oh, my feet! Yes, I've got feet, though they're not much use at present." Laidlaw pulled the rug aside. "Now, are you satisfied, my lady?"

She surveyed his No. 9's approvingly and said, "Dess me come now," and climbed into his lap.

In the midst of an interesting conversation Toodles, as she called herself, said abruptly, "Sissie dot you on her tabo!"

"Oh, has she? What on earth is a tabo?" queried Laidlaw.

"On her tabo, vere she does her hair—pitchur card, wiv funny sings on here," and she patted his shoulders, "an' wood sings down dere," rubbing her plump little knees.

"Oh, a picture of me in football togs, I suppose. What is Sissy's name?" asked Laidlaw.

"Vy, Sissie. Oh, dere is nursie! Doodby!" she interrupted and, sliding from his lap, ran toward the park.

As she reached the middle of the street her wee sandal came off. Laughingly she held it up to Don, making a pretty picture as she stood in the sunlight.

At that instant a thunderous chug-chug-chug reached Laidlaw's ears. With unspeakable horror the helpless man saw a runaway touring car, with a white faced chauffeur yanking desperately at the wheel, bearing down upon her.

"Run, baby, run!" shrieked the young man, but Toodles never moved.

With an awful wrench that seemed to tear soul and body apart Laidlaw got on his feet, stumbling and staggering toward the child.

A long reach, a quick clutch, and he rolled over against the curb with the little one safe in his arms just as the monster thundered past.

Presently he drew himself up on to the curbing and tried to soothe the whimpering Toodles.

"Nassy sing get baby!" she sobbed.

"Thank God it didn't!" said Laidlaw fervently, trembling violently with the reaction, while the pain in his back shot and stung and raged through his nerves and brain like white hot iron.

"Mercy! Mercy on me!" cried the nurse as she reached them. "You have saved her, sir! Oh, how can I thank you?" And she hugged the child passionately to her. "Naughty baby! What is the name of the gentleman that I may tell it to Mme. Vernon?" she pleaded.

"Never mind!" answered Laidlaw hastily. "Take Toodles home now. I'll come to see you some day, little one," he added as he kissed the red lips.

"Vernon? So that is Maud's baby sister. She was a nondescript bunch of white clothes the last time I saw her. And Sissie has my picture on her 'tabo.' Oh, pshaw; that doesn't signify anything."

The astounded look on his attendant's usually impassive countenance encouraged Laidlaw to make another effort to surprise him. "I actually believe I can walk with your help, James," said he, with a gasp, as he pulled himself up and sank into his chair.

"I felt something snap in my back as I jumped; that's all I know," said he later when questioned by the doctor.

"Hm-m!" said the great surgeon as he prodded up and down Laidlaw's spine. "It is unquestionably a case of"— Then followed something that sounded most alarmingly Latin.

"You can call me any old name you like, doctor, if you'll only let me walk," answered the happy fellow.

"With care—with great care—we shall do very well," smiled the oracle.

Mrs. Vernon and Maud called that afternoon to thank their "hero," as Mrs. Vernon persisted in calling Don, to his great discomfort.

With maternal instinct, fully aware of Don's state of mind, his mother offered to show Mrs. Vernon her cherished orchids, leaving the young people to gaze at each other with beating hearts.

"How can I ever repay you, Don?" questioned the girl. "My baby sister! Oh, thank God for—both!"

He could scarcely hear her sweet voice, but, grasping a ruffle on her gown, pulled her gently nearer. "Shall I tell you how?" he asked eagerly.

"[illegible] Don," with a sweet, shy note of surrender in her soft murmur.

"Kiss me, sweetheart, with all that it means to us both," begged the invalid.

"That was a lucky jump," remarked Don Laidlaw later. And two shadows faded apart silently at the sound of voices in the conservatory.

Abnormal Twilights.

Twilight, which is normally due to the refraction of the sun's light by the atmosphere, is occasionally modified by other natural causes. Rosy glows in the west after sunset are particularly common in the vicinity of Bordeaux, France. These are not the usual sunset glows, but appear in the sky 45 degrees above the sun and are supposed to be due to reflection from high clouds too thin to be seen in ordinary light. The same invisible clouds may also cause abnormal prolongation of twilight, as on the first day of last July in this same region, where a watch could be easily read up to four minutes of 10 p. m., whereas on the following night it could be read only till a quarter past 9, a difference of forty-one minutes. Owing to the presence of the thin clouds above described these long twilights are of use to astronomers as an indication that the night will not be favorable for astronomical observations.—Philadelphia Record.

A VALUABLE WEED.

The Teasel That Is Used to Raise the Nap on Cloth.

Our readers who never saw a teasel (spelled also teazel and teazle and even tassel) can imagine a fir cone or "swamp cattail," set all over with little stiff hooks. It is the bur (or tassel or flower head or thistle top) of the plant dipsacus, and so identified is it with cloth dressing that this use of it gave it its botanical name, Dipsacus fullonum, or fuller's teasel.

However familiar to people who live in lands where the teasel is extensively grown the fact may be that the prickly heads of that plant are universally used to raise the nap on cloth, a multitude of persons in his country probably never heard of it and will be astonished to learn in what enormous quantities the plant is raised.

In France alone several thousand acres of land are exclusively devoted to the cultivation of the teasel. French manufacturers use many thousand dollars' worth of the prickly heads and export thousands of tons of them, valued at perhaps millions of dollars. Hundreds of tons are produced in Austria, England, Belgium, Poland and the Crimea.

The prickles of the teasel have a small knob at the end, and this, mounted on an elastic stem and set with great precision on the central spindle, affords a little brush, such, it is said, as the utmost mechanical skill has never been able to rival, at all events at the same price.

DELICATE LITTLE CHILDREN MADE WELL AND STRONG

The little ones are frail. Their hold on life is slight. A slight disorder may become serious if not promptly attended to. At the very first symptom of trouble Baby's Own Tablets should be given. This medicine promptly cures indigestion and all stomach troubles, constipation, diarrhoea, and brings the little teeth through painlessly. You can give the Tablets with equally good results to the new born baby or well grown child. Mrs. R. G. Flewell, Uxbridge, Ont., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and find them a perfect medicine for stomach and bowel troubles." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Good Reason.

It was a kindly custom in a certain village for the wealthier inhabitants to make good the loss which a poorer villager might sustain through the death of a pig. Old Major Currie, however, had but recently returned from India; he therefore was astounded at receiving a visit from a laborer's wife.

"Lost a pig, eh?" he repeated gruffly. "Well, I haven't got it. I don't collect pigs!"

"Beggin' your pardon, sir," faltered the woman; "but, you see, the pig died."

"Well, d'ye want me to go to the funeral, send a wreath, or what, woman?" he fumed.

"Oh, no, sir; indeed, no!" was the reply. "But we're poor folks, sir, and we thought that, bein' the biggest pig in the neighborhood, you'd give us a little 'elp."—London Tit-Bits.

Refusing the Cure.

"Cultivate the acquaintance of women if you can," said the woman to the girl. "Surround yourself by women. They are certain protection against calumny. Women who have many women friends are never so awfully much talked about. It's policy."

"Is that what you have done?" asked the girl quietly.

"No," answered the woman. "You know it isn't. I'd rather be dead than to have to associate with women."—New York Press.

A Light Burden.

A frail little slip of a girl with a sweet, worn face toiled up the hill under the weight of a robust infant who must have weighed nearly as much as she did.

"My dear child," exclaimed a sympathetic passerby, "you ought not to carry that big baby. Isn't he dreadfully heavy?"

"Heavy? Why, no, indeed, ma'am," she smiled. "He's my brother!"—Delineator.

In the course of life how many persons stop on their way and fall because, like Atalanta, they let the gold apples seduce them.—Honore de Balzac.

Servant Girls in Defoe's Day.

It is evident from the comment below, found in "Gleanings After Time," that there is nothing new to be said on the servant question:

Defoe, castigating the extravagances of his time, fell foul of the downward spread of fashion. His theme was a familiar one—the heinousness of a servant girl's attempt to imitate her mistress' costume.

"Her neat leathern shoes," Defoe's amusing indictment runs, "are now transformed into laced ones with high heels, her yarn stockings are turned into the woolen ones with silk clocks, and her high wooden pattens are kicked away for leathern clogs. She must have a hoop, too, as well as her mistress, and her poor linsey woolsey petticoat is changed into a good silk one, four or five yards wide at the least. Not to carry the description further, in short, plain country Joan is now turned into a fine city madam, can drink tea, take snuff and carry herself as high as the best."

Vivisecting Thieves.

Breaking into houses where funerals have just taken place and plundering them is spoken of by the Berliner Tageblatt as a trick of the thieves of that city. While this may be a new form of criminality in Berlin, says the writer, it is really only an imitation of an incident described by Dion Cassius as having taken place 2,500 years before Christ. The historian says that when the consort of the emperor was laid away in the mausoleum at Memphis a band of Greek marauders entered the deserted palace of the pharaoh and took all the precious stones and metals and the women slaves and reached the banks of the Red sea with their plunder. Only two of the band were captured, and they were turned over by the ruler to the wise men, by whom they were vivisected in the interest of science. No matter how much the robbers of the modern houses of mourning may be despised, they need not fear that form of punishment.

An Anticlimax.

"I just dropped in to thank you for that medicine you sent home by my wife last night," said the grateful patient, grasping the doctor warmly by the hand. "I've been laid up off and on for years, have tried all the patent medicines on the market and been treated by every doctor in the neighborhood, but your medicine was the only thing that ever did me any good."

"It's a pleasure to have you come here to tell me this," replied the doctor, highly elated. "Most of my patients are not so thoughtful. But that prescription is my pet favorite, and I never yet knew it to fail to cure a cough if taken in time."

"Cough?" echoed the patient. "Why, I didn't take it for my cold. I used it as a liniment for my rheumatism."

"What do they mean by an endurance test?"

"Two chaps bragging about their respective makes of automobile."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

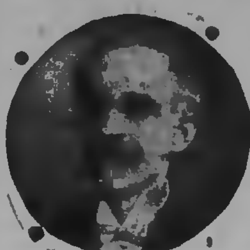
SAFE EYE-GLASS FITTING



Selling eye-glasses out of a stock like scissors or thimbles is a dangerous practice that is altogether too prevalent.

There should not be the faintest doubt in the mind of any person who finds the need of wearing glasses, that they are identically, scientifically fitted to the eyes.

We offer you safe spectacle fitting. And that is the only kind you should be satisfied to accept. There is nothing on this earth dearer than a cheap pair of spectacles that you have chosen yourself, simply because you can see with them.

Bank of Montreal

Established 1817

Capital Paid Up, -	$14,400,000
Reserve Fund, - -	$12,000,000
	$26,400,000

The Bank of Montreal at the end of its fiscal year, October 31st, 1908, added another $1,000,000 to its Reserve Fund, thus further emphasizing its great strength and stability.

With a Saving Department at every one of its many Branches, it offers the opportunity for all, who so desire, to avail themselves of its many advantages by opening a Savings Account.

A Savings Bank account is the best safeguard against misfortune, being always ready and available, and earning interest all the time.

Consideration for one's family demands that all heads of households should provide against the day of adverse conditions, and there is no simpler way than by laying systematically from time to time a portion of income or earnings in a Savings account.

Deposits can be made from One Dollar up, and withdrawals can be made at any time, without notice or delay.

TO ROUSE GERMANY.

Mrs. Carrie Catt Will Seek to Inspire German Suffragists.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Woman's Suffrage alliance, who has been touring Austria-Hungary for some time, will hold a suffrage meeting in Berlin. She hopes to arouse the fair sex of the fatherland to join their militant sisters of England and America in a vigorous demand for the ballot. The German suffragists, who are organized, but very ladylike in their propaganda, are preparing to give Mrs. Catt a cordial reception. They have engaged one of the biggest halls in Berlin for her meeting, and delegates from all parts of the country are to imbibe inspiration from the vigorous American agitator.

Mrs. Catt is well known in Berlin through her activity at the international woman's congress held there in 1904. The International Suffrage alliance was formed on that occasion through the initiative of the late Susan B. Anthony, who was also there, and Mrs. Catt was made the first president.

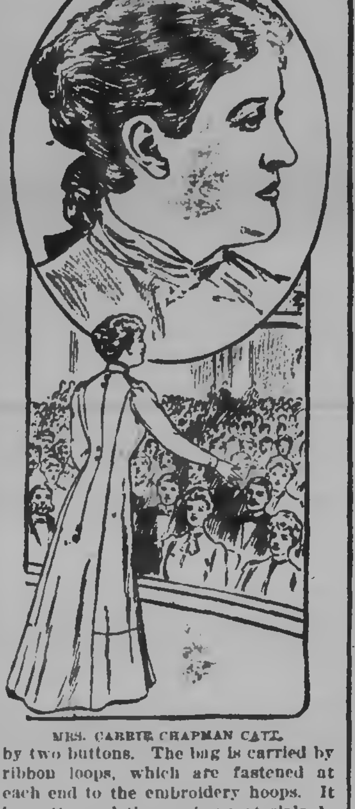
The suffrage movement is particularly backward in Germany, owing to restrictive laws which have long debarred women from participating in political activity of any sort. Votes for women have hitherto been supported only by the Social Democratic party, which makes equal suffrage for both sexes one of its regular platform planks. The leading Teuton suffragist is Dr. Anita Augspurg, a woman of great culture and oratorical skill. She is a lawyer, writer and accomplished stump speaker and has been in jail once or twice as the consequence of clashes with the police in political campaigns. She is the logical candidate for commander in chief of the German suffragist forces if they respond to Mrs. Catt's call and decide to assume the offensive.

Sewing Tips.

Hemming on lightweight wool goods should be done by hand and with a short needleful of split silk. This does away with the tight twisting of the fine single silk and in consequence makes a prettier hem. Another good plan is to use the ravelings of the material, as this is a perfect match and, having the same sheen as the material, does not show if a chance stitch goes through.

In stitching a pocket on the outside of a garment run the stitching half an inch above the edge of the pocket. This prevents the body of the garment from tearing, as is so often the case when the pocket is put on in the old way. When stitching around a cuff or wristband on the machine always turn the sleeve wrongside out, then set the presser foot inside the wristband.

A nice little embroidery bag is made of cretonne covered with two embroidery hoops and finished at the ends with cardboard covered with cretonne just the size of the hoops. In other words, the bag is built like a barrel, with an opening at the side. This opening is held together by lacing with ribbon or by two buttons. The bag is carried by ribbon loops, which are fastened at each end to the embroidery hoops. It is pretty, and the sewing materials do not get lost when thus protected.



MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT.

Papering Rooms.

If you must do your own papering of rooms, select a paper of medium weight and one with figures that will match easily and not cut to waste. The old paper should first be removed and the wall cleaned and rubbed smooth.

Wet the old paper with a whitewash brush dipped in warm water. The paper will come off easier if it is possible to steam it awhile. Scrape off with a scraper or hoe, wash the walls and scour or scrape off uneven places. Then take a roll of the new paper, trim the right hand side of it, hold it up to the wall and arrange it so that the pattern will show evenly at top and bottom. Then cut off a length and use it as a guide, matching all the rest by it. In cutting the ends fold the paper together so that you will cut it perfectly square across.

Make a paste of wheat flour, smooth and a little thicker than molasses. Have ready a long table, a stepladder and a whitewash brush. Begin papering at the side of a mantel or some place not much exposed, so that when finished, if it does not exactly match, it will be little noticed. Lay the breadth face down on the table; brush over a thin covering of paste. Turn up the lower end half a yard so that when laid against the wall it will not stick at the bottom till the upper part is properly hung, then take the piece by the top, raise it from the table, support it by one arm and put it up to the wall, keeping clear of it, however, until you fasten the top and see that it hangs square. Then follow it down from the top, rubbing across it with a clean cloth so that there will be no wrinkles.

Apply the next piece the same way, being careful to match the figures. It is easiest to cut the paper lengthwise when you reach a corner, matching the figures, of course. When you paste the lower part of a breadth, mark it along the surbase with the shears, then cut off at the marked line.

Select papers with reference to the situation of the room. A room that is not very well lighted should have a paper with a light, warm colored ground or it will look somber.

Helpful Suggestions.

When altering a waist it is a mistake to move the shoulder seam to the front. A better plan is to let it drop backward instead of forward.

In sewing a bias edge to a straight edge the former is apt to become stretched unless carefully treated. To avoid this the bias edge should be placed underneath, and it will then be sewed in evenly.

An overwide armhole should always be avoided. Don't, in order to avoid a tight blouse, cut a large armhole so as to give more play to the arm. A far better plan is to ease the side seam. A wide armhole causes the blouse to be pulled out of place at the waist when the arm is lifted.

Always press a seam after stitching it. Press with a hot iron, and if the ironing board is too big to be handled quickly use a rolling pin wrapped in a steam cloth. It answers the purpose equally well and is infinitely easier to handle.

In fitting a waist too deep a round must not be cut for the neck at the outset. It is better to cut the neck a little too small at first and then try the waist on and outline a semicircle in front with a row of pins, cutting it evenly on a flat surface after removing the waist.

Bad For the Complexion.

A noted skin specialist has declared that chocolate and potatoes are the two worst things a woman can eat who has regard for her complexion. Of these the former is much more injurious.

It used to be that we shunned these staples of diet only when there was too much flesh. Then we learned, says an exchange, that potato was bad for the digestion. Now that our skins suffer as well, it would seem as if their doom were sealed.

But with the soda water fountains to tempt and the greatest potato eaters in the world—the Irish lasses—famed for their exquisite skins, there is still a probability that neither chocolate nor the "praty" will be tabooed immediately.

Leak In Gas Pipe.

"I cannot understand how you escaped blowing yourself up," said the older housekeeper to the young one, as she rushed out to learn the cause of a somewhat sharp explosion. "Don't you know better than to hunt for a leak in a gas pipe with a lighted match?

"Let me tell you a secret my grandmother taught me years ago. Paint the pipe with a thick soapsuds, and where there is a leak the escape of gas will blow up soap bubbles about the crack.

"Quite simple, isn't it, but it will save you a bad start to your nerves, if not explosions that are dangerous."

To Freshen Fur.

Fur coat collars and, in fact, any kind of fur neck dressing are apt to become soiled and altogether dull looking just at the back on account of rubbing on the hair.

It is a good plan to shake talcum powder into the collar when putting it away, shaking it out again when needed for wear the next time.

Done frequently, this will retain or restore the gloss to the fur, as the case may be, while for light furs, such as chinchilla and ermine, it will be cleansing.

Children's Answers.

Tommy is rather mischievous, and the other night before going to bed he locked the back door and hid the key. His mother reproved him next morning. Then she said: "Where did you hide it? Daddy looked everywhere for it before we went to bed."

"But, mother," protested Tommy, "if he looked everywhere, why didn't he find it under the hat stand?"

MME. PARREN.

A Grecian Woman Who Advocates the Suffrage Cause.

Mme. Callirrhoe Parren is one of the progressive women of Greece who have been instrumental in bringing their countrywomen into alliance with the women's movement in other lands through the Council of Women. This body of Grecian women has entered with spirit into the work of extending educational facilities to all the people of Greece and the great work of international peace and arbitration.

The Grecian women are home loving women and hold the duties of homemaking and child rearing higher than anything else. But they feel that there is need for women to help in the public housekeeping that the world outside the home may be as wholesome as that within. Early marriages are common in Greece, and large families are the rule.

The women, too, have begun to study educational methods and are planning the establishment of a school on the American model that will serve as an object lesson to the government of Greece and arouse the people to a sense of their lack of progress in the public educational system.

It is a comparatively short time since the University of Greece has admitted women to its classes. Scores of Grecian women are now annually graduated from its various courses.

The National Council of Women of Greece, of which Mme. Parren is a distinguished member, sent her as its representative to this country at the Chicago Columbus exposition.

A Masculine Viewpoint.

Now that some women's clubs are beginning to regard love from a purely pathological viewpoint Cupid is unceremoniously elbowed aside and the legally licensed physician of commerce takes his place—all of which might mean a laugh if there were not in it something of ruthless cynicism. Love reduced to its physiological elements may bring a pulseless satisfaction to the immune ladies who prefer to regard it as an interesting abstraction, but this will hardly satisfy the rest of the world. I am not so much of a sentimentalist, said a man recently, but I confess to a feeling of ironic resentment when I hear love discussed like an attack of mauve lumbago, lavender chilblains or nile green biliousness. And, while it has come to this in one part of the country, in another women are saying that love is born

Remarkable Breach Of Promise Case

CHARLES
DOROTHY

Special Correspondence.

Lowell, Mass., May 1.—"It is the only way."

The woman gripped the pen hard and signed her name to the formidable-looking paper as the lawyer indicated.

A fashionable-looking society woman she was, handsome, refined, gentle. But her face was haggard and ghastly, like that of a corpse, and her eyes were wide open, as though she stared at horrible things. Only her lips were firm.

All the town of Lowell knew her as an estimable and admirable wife and mother—a wife of 17 years' standing, a mother of four beautiful children. Mrs. Clairette Bunker they called her.

Lowell respected her as a woman because of rumours that were afloat—about domestic unhappiness in her home. They blamed the man, who, they said, owed his wife an absolute loyalty in word and deed.

And so the woman was suing for—

No, not divorce.

Such things are unhappily common.

The woman was suing for breach of promise.

"We were never married," she said, with set lips and a voice devoid of emotion.

"We were never married," she repeated in a tense whisper. "You are the first person in the world to know. Now everyone will know."

"He was going to leave me—to leave me and my children without a name, or a home, or even the right to look decent people in the face," she sobbed. "He laughed at me, and askd, 'Well, what can you do about it?'"

For a moment she paused and ran through the cards. Disgrace in the eyes of the world, the revelation to her children, the horror of knowing what her friends' attitude would be—she counted the cards against her.

"But it's the only way," she decided, stiffening. "It would come out. He knows that there is no legal tie to hold him if he cares to go. And he is determined to go. I can't hold him. I would rather have my friends and my children know now, through my story, than later through his."

Then she gathered herself together to deliver a truth which she had learned through sleepless nights and hours of horror.

"No matter how much a girl loves a man, or how much he loves her, regardless of anything and everything else, she should absolutely insist on the marriage ceremony. She cannot read the future. The ring is her protection, her insurance."

Pople had wondered a little when they heard that Mrs. Burleigh and Charley Bunker were married. Mrs. Burleigh had been the wife of Geo. W. Burleigh, member of a good old New England family. Mrs. Burleigh's family and upbringing were above criticism. She was refined, well educated and had taught school.

Bunker, on the other hand, was a poor man, a fruit peddler, without education or particular promise.

That they were married no one in Lowell ever dreamed of doubting. Bunker introduced her everywhere, she says, as his wife. She signed checks as Mrs. Bunker, and had accounts at the Boston stores in that name.

With his taking up Mrs. Burleigh, Bunker's fortunes took a turn for the better. He became established as a fruit merchant. The business grew by leaps and bounds. In time the cash receipts alone amounted to $1,200 a day. He bought a big home, hired a retinue of servants. He worked hard, getting up at 4 in the morning. His habits were exemplary.

In his fight for success, Mrs. Bunker was at his side. At first she worked in the store, she solicited orders, she waited on customers. She helped with the books. She kept a fashionable boarding house with as many as 170 boarders. She sacrificed for him.

"On a dozen and one occasions we arranged to have the ceremony performed. We both regarded it as only a form, both thought of ourselves as being really married.

"Then prosperity came, and after a while he changed. I guess he wanted a younger, prettier woman.

"I begged him for the sake of my children, to marry me. He could get a divorce the next day, I told him. I offered to renounce everything if he would only legalize the children."

A POWERFUL AND EFFECTIVE CURE

For Catarrh, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma.

Soothing Balsams Are Carried to the Sore, Congested Membranes — Cure Quickly and Completely.

Diseases of the breathing organs are, as you know, excited by germs so minute that only the microscope can reveal them; they are lodged in the tissues, develop there, and cause all the trouble. That is how consumption starts.

If the cause of the disease can be carried by air, why not the remedy? This conclusion lies at the root of the Catarrhozone treatment. The instrument through which you breathe fragrant, healing Catarrhozone splits up into minute particles this invaluable healing and curative agent, thereby enabling the air to carry it to the remotest ramifications of the breathing organs, and diffuses itself over their entire surfaces.

CATARRHOZONE ALWAYS CURES.

It would be absolutely impossible to breathe through a Catarrhozone inhaler without carrying this liquid to the remotest parts of the breathing apparatus. Upon healthy tissue it has no action, but upon diseased tissue and upon the micro-organisms which infect diseased tissues its action is so wonderfully curative that the disease is completely abolished. Then the tissue heals.

EARLY TREATMENT IS WISE.

Catarrhozone is an ideal remedy for diseases of the throat, lungs and nasal passages. If you have catarrh, or bronchitis, or asthma, all are equally curable by Catarrhozone. These diseases are all modifications of an inflammatory condition of the lining membranes of the throat and nasal passages. Under these conditions we call it catarrh. When it extends to the bronchial tubes, we call it bronchitis. The condition is the same, the causes which produce the diseases are identical, and the remedy, Catarrhozone, acts equally promptly and efficiently upon the different forms of this disease. Your case is curable. Get Catarrhozone to-day; two months' treatment (guaranteed) price $1; small size 50c. Sold by all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

PRINCE RUPERT—TRANS-CONTINENTAL TERMINUS

ly ever seen in a new city. The company expects that this boom will far surpass that which brought Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Los Angeles and Vancouver into existence and that another decade will see on the Pacific end of the line a metropolis which will rival those to the south, which have the advantage of age and "Yankee push."

Already the Dominion Government has expended $200,000 in the construction of plank streets and sidewalks, although there has been no settlement. This has been done on the basis of a population of 10,000 persons which is the minimum expected after the drawing of the lots, for there have been practically numberless applications and a host of enquirers as to the terms.

In spite of the fact that there has been no population as yet, much has been done in the way of improvement, both as to the town site and harbour. The clearing of the property of the growth of timber has been nearly completed and the engineering corps has been busily engaged in laying off the lots. A wharf, 1,500 feet long, running out into water that is 26 feet deep at extreme low tide, has been constructed, and on the day that the distribution of lots takes place the buyers will find conditions created which only require the magic touch of the real estate boomer to establish a new Empire in the new region. The modern method of building ships, and railways, of digging canals, and performing other prodigious feats become so familiar as cause no special comment. But a ready made city is in innovation even in an age which delights in upsetting the custom and traditions of its predecessors. The Grand Trunk Pacific had but very few precedents to follow in the creation of Prince Rupert. In this instance all the old traditions in town building have been reversed. When by an agreement with the construction of the new road, it was agreed that not an acre should be sold until every point with respect to drainage, sewerage, water supply and general effect had been considered. First of all ample terminals for wharves and railway yards were provided for. The arrangement and disposition of every acre of land in the town site have been provided for in advance before the real estate speculator comes into his own.

Of course a great many of the glowing things which have been said about Prince Rupert are true while about some others there may be an element of doubt and several of the prognostications about the place may not pan out. Quite naturally the vender of a property is going to crack it up to the skies and believe every word he says. Everything may not come out as planned, things hardly ever do, even with great corporations which plan very carefully and methodically, but it will be a great thing for Canada as a whole if all the great expectations about Prince Rupert are realized.

Those who have been up to Prince Rupert spying out the land, are not so enthusiastic about the place. One man states that the harbour is not free from dangerous rocks, as the general run of reports would indicate and another thinks the appearance of the town site is not enticing.

The bluffs and conspicuous features will prove likely to be the troublesome spots in putting down the foundations. Then naturally Railway and Government favourites are getting the best sites and are having buildings erected. However, money will be made and lost in Prince Rupert within the next few months and investors should be careful before investing any in Prince Rupert.

The Methods And Principles Of Landscape Gardening

How and When to Mow the Lawn---What to do With Weeds---Water Well or Not at All---Top-Dress to Stimulate Vigour of Growth.

The beauty and permanency of a lawn depends not only upon the work of preparation but also upon the care and attention that it receives. Unless the turf is well looked after from the beginning to the end of the growing season, it will soon become unsightly. Mowing, weeding, watering, and fertilising must be done intelligently.

Mowing the Lawn

It is not well to mow a newly-made lawn until the grass is three or four inches in height. Give the grass a chance. Do not cut too closely, at first. When mowing is commenced, however, it is necessary to repeat it about twice a week. Frequent mowings increase the body of the sward. In dry seasons it may not be necessary to mow so often.

To maintain an even surface of turf, the grass must be cut with an up-to-date lawn mower. There are many of these on the market. It is well to select one that will do the work easily and well. Every person that has a lawn should have a hand lawn mower. They are inexpensive and will last for many years. For parks, public squares, large estates and other places where the lawn is of a large area, it is necessary to use a horse or power lawn mower. They do the work much more rapidly than the hand mower and are cheaper in the end.

There is a difference of opinion as to whether or not the trimmings or clippings of the grass should be removed when cut. Some gardeners advise leaving them to decay and, as they say, to enrich the surface of the soil. It would seem however, that actual experience discredits this theory and shows that soon such a thick mat of decayed leaves is left at the roots of the grass, that it moulds, smothers the grass and even kills it. It is said that many dead patches seen on lawns are the result of leaving the clippings thereon. Amateurs whose lawns are small, should rake off most of the clippings. It is easier, of course to leave them where they lie, but it is not in the best interests of the turf to allow the clippings of all summer to remain there.

Weeding Lawns

In many lawns, weeds are persistent nuisances. No matter how careful has been the selection of seeds and fertilizers, weeds will make their appearance. Frequent mowings will destroy many young weeds but too frequent cuttings in dry weather often weakens the grass and sometimes weeds get the upper hand.

In a newly-made lawn, it is necessary to keep a careful watch on the weeds. They should not be allowed to get a sufficient start to make them troublesome. Dandelions, narrow-leaved plantains, docks and weeds of that class can scarcely be gotten rid of except by spudding, and unless this operation is performed when the weeds are young, it may not be a satisfactory, especially in the case of old dandelions. A spud may be purchased at a hardware store or from seedsmen. Run the instrument (which resembles a wide screw driver or chisel) downward alongside of the root to loosen the soil so that it may be pulled out whole. Except in the case of young dandelion roots, do not be content with simply cutting off the crown of the plant below the surface of the soil. After using the spud, immediately use a pounder to fill up the holes that otherwse would afford lodgement for seeds that are blowing about freely. These spots may also be seeded with grass seed to advantage.

Dandelions may be treated with chemicals but where they are very prevalent the process is slow. A few drops of sulphuric acid (oil of vitriol) poured on the crown of each plant usually will kill them. Spraying is also advocated for killing young dandelion plants. A 20 per cent. solution of sulphate of iron is used. Dissolve two pounds of sulphate of iron in a gallon of water, stirring with a stick to hasten solution. Apply with a hand sprayer. Use one gallon of this solution to one square rod of greensward. A second application may be necessary. The grass will be blackened and appear killed but in a few days it will recover and grow with increased vigour. Old dandelion plants cannot be killed by spraying. On these, apply dry sulphate of iron to the heart of the old plant. If this is repeated once or twice, it will kill the old plants. Where the lawn is large and the dandelions plentiful, either of the foregoing operations may require too much time and expense. In such cases, the only thing to do, is to plough up the turf and make the lawn over again

Weeds are more prevalent on thin lawns than on those that are thick and velvety. By improving the turf, by means of fertilizing and additional seeding to thicken it, most weeds will disappear. Keep the mower going as it will do much towards keeping down most weeds.

Watering

Watering is an important factor in the successful treatment of lawns. Constant moisture is essential for vigour and colour in the turf. When the conditions that have been mentioned are complied with, there need be no failure with the lawn if it is situated where there is a good water supply. Lawns in cities should have a generous provision for artificial waterings. It is best to apply the water towards evening or in the early morning. Give a good soaking. It is useless merely to sprinkle the grass. The water must be applied in sufficient quantities to percolate into the soil down to and below the grass roots.

Top-Dressing

In the fall, lawns, tennis courts and all kinds of sporting greens should receive a top-dressing of well-rotted barnyard manure or other fertilising material. Stable manure is valuable for the purpose, if it is well rotted and free from weed seeds; course manure is objectionable, being unsightly, ill-odoured and certain to contain undesirable seeds. Apply only a moderate dressing, evenly spread.

An earth mulch composed of equal parts of good clean soil and well-rotted manure is better than manure alone. Secure the materials about six weeks before time for application which is in the months of October or November. Mix them and turn over occasionally. A mulch of this manure not only fertilises the soil but also, when spread evenly, it tends to smoothen any irregularities of the lawn surface.

The following spring, as soon as the ground is settled, rake off the manure or course remnants of the earth mulch. The rains and melting snows of winter and spring will have washed the soluble plant food out of the mulch into the soil. Thus, the turf will receive a stimulant and a protection that will bring forth a new degree of density and a brighter colour for the new season. Some nitrate of soda, about 75 pounds to the acre, may also be applied in spring, just as growth starts.

Concluding Remarks

The foregoing and preceding articles do not exhaust the subject of landscape gardening. They were penned with the view of giving a few pointers, chosen more or less at random, to those readers of the Examiner that may be interested in the adornment of their homes. The big subject of landscape architecture is sufficient to fill many volumes with carefully prepared material. One or more phrases of it is treated in every issue of "The Canadian Horticulturist," a national magazine published in Peterborborough, and devoted exclusively to the dissemination of horticultural knowledge. In a short series of articles, such as have appeared in recent issues of the Examiner, only the fundamental principles can be considered. The writer hopes that some persons may have found something of interest as well as profit in what has been told. The story of the out-of-doors brings us close to nature.

CHATS ABOUT FAMOUS BOOKS AND THEIR AUTHORS

By F. M. D.

May 16, 1660. "This evening came Mr. Pickering on board like an asse, with his feathers and new suit that he had made at the Hague. My Lord, very angry for his staying on shore; bidding me a little before to send for him, telling me that he was afraid that, for his father's sake, he might have some mischief done him, unless he used the General's name. This afternoon Mr. Edw. Pickering told me in what a sad, poor condition for clothes and money the king was, and all his attendants, when he came to him first from my Lord; these clothes not being worth forty shillings, the best of them. And how overjoyed the King was when Sir J. Grenville brought him some money; so joyful that he called the Princess Royal, and Duke of York to look upon it as it lay in the portmanteau before it was taken out.

May 17.—Before dinner, Wm. Edw. Pickering and I, W. Howe, Pim, and my boy to Scheveling, where we took coach, and so to the Hague, where walking, intending to find one that might show us the King incognito, I met with Capt. Whittington (that had formerly brought a letter to my Lord from the Mayor of London) and he did promise me to do it, but first we went and dined. At dinner, in came Dr. Cade, a merry mad parson of the King's. And they, too, got the child and me (the others not being able to crowd in) to see the King, who kissed the child very affectionately. Then we kissed his and the Duke of York's, and the Princess Royal's hands. The King seems to be a very sober man; and a very splendid court he hath in the number of persons of quality that are about him, English, very rich in habit.

May 23.—The King with the two Dukes and Queen of Bohemia, Princesse Royalle, and Prince of Orange, came on board, where I, in their coming in, kissed the King's, Queen's, and Princess's hands, having done the other before. Infinite shooting off of the guns, and that in a disorder on purpose, which was better than if it had been otherwise. All day nothing but Lords and persons of honour on board, that we were exceedingly full. Dined in a great deal of state, the Royalle company by themselves in the coach (the council chamber of a battleship) which was a blessed sight to see. . . . . All the afternoon the King walked here and there, up and down, (quite contrary to what I thought him to have been) very active and stirring. Upon the quarter-deck he fell into discourse of his escape from Worcester, where it made me ready to weep, to hear the stories that he had told of his difficulties that he had passed through, as his travelling four days and three nights on foot, every step up to his knees in dirt, with nothing but a green coat and a pair of country breeches on, and a pair of county shoes, that made him so sore all over his feet that he could scarcely stir. Yet he was forced to run away from a miller and other company that took them for rogues. His sitting at table at one place, where the master of the house, that had not seen him in eight years, did know him but kept it private; when at the same table there was one that had been of his own regiment at Worcester, could not know him, but made him drink the King's health, and said that the King was at least four fingers higher than he. At another place, he was by some servants of the house made to drink, that they might know that he was not a Roundhead; which they swore he was. In another place, at his inn, the master of the house, as the King was standing with his hands upon the back of a chair by the fireside, kneeled down and kissed his hand privately, saying that he would not ask him who he was, but bid God bless him whither he was going. Then the difficulties in getting a boat to get into France, where he was fain to plot with the master thereof to keep his design from the foreman and a boy, (which was all the ship's company) and so get to Fecamp in France. At Rouen he looked so poorly, that the people went into the rooms before he went away to see whether he had not stole something or other. So to my cabin again, where the company still was, and were talking more of the King's difficulties; as how he was fain to eat a piece of bread and cheese out of a poor body's pocket: how at a Catholique house, he was fain to be in the priest's hole a good while in the house for his privacy. (Priests in those days were so hunted and harried that in many private houses secret chambers were made, wherein to hide them.)

Jan 30, 1661. Fast day.

The first time that this day hath been yet observed; and Mr. Mills made a most excellent sermon upon "Lord, forgive us our former iniquities," speaking excellently of the Justice of God in punishing men for the sins of their ancestors. To my Lady Batten's where my wife and she are lately come back again from being abroad and seeing of Cromwell, Ireton and Bradshaw hanged and buried at Tyburn.

July 6th, 1661.

Waked this morning with news brought me by a messenger on purpose that my uncle Robert is dead; so I set out on horseback and got well by nine o'clock to Brampton, where I found my father well. My uncle's corps in a coffin standing upon Joynet-stools in the chimney in the hall; but it began to smell and so I caused it to be set forth in the yard all night, and watched by my aunt.

September 11th, 1661.

To Dr. Williams who did carry me into his garden; where he hath abundance of grapes; and he did show me how a dog, that he hath to kill his the cats that come thither to kill his pigeons and do afterwards bury them; and do it with so much care that they shall be quite covered; that if the tip of the tail hangs out, he will take up the cat again, and dig the hole deeper, which is very strange; and he tells me that he do believe he hath killed above 100 cats.

December 24th, 1662.

By and by comes La Belle Pierce to see my wife and to bring her a pair of peruques of hair as the fashion now is for ladies to wear; which are pretty, and are of my wife's own hair, or else I should not endure them.

January 6th, 1664.

This morning I began a practice which I find, by the care I do it with, that I shall continue, it saving me money and time: that is, to trim myself with a razor; which pleases me mightily.

January 21st, 1664

Up, and after sending my wife to my aunt Wight's to get a place to see Turner hanged; I to the 'Change'; and seeing people flock to the city, I enquired and found that Turner was not hanged. So I went among them to Leadenhall Street, at the end of Lyme Street, near where the robbery was done; and to St. Mary Axe, where he lived. And there I got for a shilling to stand upon the wheel of a cart, in great pan, above an hour before the execution was done; he delaying the time by long discourses and prayers, one after another in hopes of a reprieve: but none came, and at last he was flung off the ladder in his cloak; a comely-looked man he was, and he kept his countenance to the end. I was sorry to see him. It was believed there were at least 12,000 or 14,000 people in the street.

January 10th, 1661.

I did give my wife's brother 10s. and a coat that I had by me, a close-bodied, light-colored coat, with a gold edgeing in each seam, that was the lace of my wife's best petticoat, that she had when I married her. He is going into Holland to see his fortune.

March 18th, 1663-4.

To church and within the grave-maker chose a place for my brother to lie in just under my mother's pew. But to see how a man's tombes (Pepys must have meant bones) are at the mercy of such a fellow; that for sixpence he would (as his own words were) "I will justle them together, but I will make room for him" speaking of the fullness of the midle isle where he was to lie.

August 7th, 1664.

I saw several poor creatures, carried by the constables, for being at the conventicle. They go like lambs, without any resistance. I would to God they would either conform or be more wise and not be catched!

September 22nd, 1664.

Home to bed, having got a strange cold in my head, by flinging off my hat at a dinner, sitting with the wind in my neck.

Note.—In Lord Clarendon's Essay "On the Decay of Respect paid to Age," he says that in his younger days, he never kept his hat on before those older than himself, except at dinner.

Lack of space precludes and further extracts from the diary. At some future time perhaps, an opportunity will offer to make further excursions with a most delightful volume.

WAS FINED 10 DOLLARS

Smith Farmer, on the Black List, Appeared in Court Charged With Being Drunk on Saturday, the 17th of April.

HE PLEADED GUILTY

James Kennedy, of Smith, was fined ten dollars at the police court this morning for being drunk after having been placed on the black list. He appeared before the magistrate Saturday and pleaded guilty. His Worship, when enlarging the cases of the hotelkeepers, alleged to have sold the liquor to Kennedy, also reserved judgment in Kennedy's case. This morning he imposed the minimum fine which was paid forthwith.

Probabilities.

Fresh to strong southwesterly to northwest winds, cool; occasional light rain or snow. Sunday, fresh to strong north westerly winds, mostly fair and cool.

BONIFACE CONVICTED

A Local Hotelkeeper Was Found Guilty of Selling Liquor to a Man on the "Indian List" on April 17th Last—In Court To-day.

A HEAVY PENALTY.

For selling liquor to a blacklisted man, a local hotelkeeper was fined forty dollars and costs at the police court this morning. The case against him was taken up last Saturday, but judgment was reserved until to-day. The defence argued that the notice of blacklist was served on the bartender and not on the proprietor. His Worship concluded that the hotelkeeper was responsible for the actions of his servants towards keeping the law. In this case, he said, the bartender got the notice and it was him who sold the liquor.

The charge against another hotelkeeper for a similar offence was dismissed.

VERY EARLY POTATOES

Mr. W. Miles, Weller Street, is Once More Miles Ahead of His Competitors and Breaks His Own Record by One Month And Six Days.

ARE LARGE SIZED ONES

Winter may linger in the lap of spring as the shameless old rogue is doing now but that does not matter to Mr. Wm. Miles, Weller street. He gets firs under the wire this year as he has done in two former years, by placing upon "the editor's table," May 1st, tuberous tributes to his gardening enterprises in the form of half a dozen new potatoes of edible size and quality. They were started in a cellar transplanted to the open air and protected by glass. He has always been miles ahead of any competitor and this year he is a month and six days ahead of his own record last year. Accompanying Mr. Miles' contribution are three or four small potatoes about the size of filberts growing at the base of cuttings of potato vines. Mr. Miles carries away the cake.

N. B.—His potato vines are not troubled with bugs.

A COUNTY COURT CASE.

Walter Allan, of Harvey township, appeared before Magistrate Edmison to-day, charged with having assaulted and abused his brother's wife, Mrs. Albert E. Allan, also of Harvey. The affair is alleged to have happened on Tuesday, April 20th. The case was not ready to be proceeded with and the Magistrate demanded a guarantee that he would appear when called. A marked cheque for $200 was given. The date has not yet been set for trial.

Tenders Are Being Called for Work of Changing the Interior of Former Bank of Montreal Building for Peterborough Club—Entrance Changed

SHOULD BE SUITABLE

Tenders have been asked for proposed changes to the former Bank of Montreal building, corner of Simcoe and Water Sts. This will be occupied by the Peterborough Club as club rooms when the alterations have been made. The entrance now on Simcoe St. will be closed and will give place to a window. The stairway will be moved and the position of the room on both stories will be changed accordingly to the plans perpared by Mr. John E. Belcher. When completed the Peterborough club should have commodious and costly quarters.

Young Man Said to Have Devised a Novel Scheme of Making a Little Needed Spending Money—His Plan of Doing Business.

WOMAN COMPLAINED

A woman called at the police station this morning and complained that some young man called at her place and wanted to collect money for a dog tag. She owned a canine but said that she had paid the tax. Chief Roszel told her that if there was anyone going around it was a fruad, he was working and citizens should not pay any attention to him. The place to get the tags and to pay the money was at the City Clerk's office. The woman said that she did not give the young man the money. However, she did not think that that was the way to get a tag.

SOLD 3000 RAT PELTS

CATCH HAS FALLEN OFF

Yesterday was Rat Day. The Indian muskrat catchers from Chemong brought in the last of their pelts and received the high price of 41 cents for each skin, without any being culled. Lech and Son, hatters and furriers, had a mound of pelts in their rear shop yesterday, being all that was valuable of nearly 3,000 rats. Dan Whetung, George Taylor and other Indians from the village brought in their catches and received a fair amount of money. The price last year was 40 cents. The catch has been barely half of what it was last year. After April 30 trappers are not allowed to have rat pelts in their possession, and hence the Indians made sure to be all in within the legalised time.

BUILDING PERMITS FOR APRIL MORE THAN THREE TIMES TOTAL FOR SAME MONTH LAST YEAR

Two topics of conversation among a large majority of the citizens which are now running hand in hand are—the weather and industrial prospects. Regarding the former it will gradually present itself whether predictions which some will offer are substantiated or not. Similarly, labour conditions will surely but slowly present themselves and the prospects which contractors and builders say they see may materialize and they may not. There is a public feeling which is looking forward to a return of good times, of work in plenty, and wages at a pleasing figure.

While the future can scarcely be dealt with, a comparison may be made with conditions last year which should afford considerable encouragement. For instance the amount of the building permits for the first four months show up less favourably than for the same time during 1909, and April, this year, has seen a greater amount of activity.

The Actual Figures

The records for the two years may be compared as found by an Examiner reporter in the Building Permits Book in City Treasurer Adams' office.

1908—Jan. 1st to April 30—$26,605.00.
1909—Jan. 1st to April 30—$87,281.00.

A further examination show that the April of this year brought the figures up in splendid style. The amount of permits issued during those months were as follows

April, 1908—$24,910.00.
April, 1909—$78,121.00.

For the first three months last year the total of the permits amounted to $1,695.00. This year for the same time the total was $9,160.00.

The total for the year 1908 was $238,963.00.

The above figures tell their own story and it is hoped that the succeeding months will show increases of corresponding volumes.

Of the 42 permits during April of this year 20 were for brick veneer houses, 6 for solid brick, and 10 for lumber.

In April, 1908, there were 34 permits, 12 of which were for brick veneered buildings.

Recent Permits

The following is a list of some of the more important permits taken out during the month that has just passed, most of which are for residences:

J. C. Shook, McDonell street—$4,000.00.
Geo. Sloan, Chamberlain street—$1,800.00.

D. D. Mann's Name Stands For Big Things In Canada

Toronto, Canada, May 1.—Donald D. Mann—this is a name that stands for big things in Canada. One of the stronegst of the new leaders of the Dominion, Mann is called the J. J. Hill of the north.

The building of the Canadian Northern, paralleling the Canadian Pacific from Port Arthur to the ocean, the Ontario Power Co. at Niagara Falls, the Canadian Pacific short line through Maine—these are some of the big enterprises which bear Mann's name.

With his wonderful success, carved from the native resources of his country, Mann has remained the most loyal of Canadians. He is a pronounced opponent of reciprocity, taking the position that Canada is strong enough to stand on her own feet before the world.

Mann was born in Ontario in 1853. He got the western fever early, and started with nothing as a subcontractor on the Canadian Pacific, then building out of Winnipeg. Operating on credit at first, he took long chances, but chances always backed by the shrewdest judgment. He won, and won again.

Before he was 30, Mann had completed a number of big contracts, and uniting his fortunes with young Wm. Mackenzie, had begun to make his name known all over Canada.

In his later years Mann has carried through gigantic contracts all over the world. He has done work all over South America, and is an authority on the railroad possibilities of China. The Canadian Northern proposition was undertaken by him and his partner on their own initiative, while the Dominion parliament was spending years of debate as to whether the governments should put in a transcontinental railroad in Canada.

DETAILS OF THE GREAT RACE

J. D. Marsh Wins the Big Canadian Marathon To-day After a Terrific Battle all the Way With Meadows and Woods---Sellen Set Pace in Middle Stages and Was Responsible for Broken Records but Blew up in the Sixteenth Mile---Wood Who Held Back for the First Twenty Miles Took the Lead in the Twenty First. The Time Was 2 Hours, 39 Minutes and 47 Seconds. Breaks St. Yves' Record.

(Special Wire to The Examiner.)

Hanlon's Point, Toronto, May 1.—1 p.m.—The five-lap track upon which the Marathon gallopers will run this afternoon is in good condition despite the bad weather of the past few days. There has been a general impression that the track would be heavy on account of the rain, but this is not the case. The sand soil of the Island has absorbed the wet like a sponge. It rained heavily during the night, but this morning the weather conditions were better. It is much warmer and although the weather is unsettled the track is drying up fast. There will be a record attendance, although the race is not due to start until three o'clock the first boats over this afternoon were comfortably filled. The stands are covered and should rain come this afternoon the spectators will be sheltered.

The keenest possible interest is being taken in the race and it is a heavy betting proposition, there being much Simpson and Marsh money in sight. Some of the wise ones who saw Simpson on his arrival last night, and who were impressed by the fit air he wore, have plunged on him, affecting his price.

It is expected that nineteen out of the twenty entrants will face Controller Geary at three o'clock. Graham, the Montreal runner, wired last night that he would not be here as he met with an accident in training.

The probable starters are:

Fred Simpson, of Peterborough.
Red Hawk (Henry Jackson), the Mississauga Indian, from Penetang.
John D. Marsh, of Winnipeg.
W. F. Cumming, of the I.C.A.C., Toronto.
Wm. McNeil, of the I.C.A.C., Toronto.
R. Booth, Deer Park.
R. J. Hatton, Toronto, ex-Canadian distance champion.
A. C. Wood, Montreal.
Edward Fabre, Montreal.
Ceasar Guala, King Edward Hotel staff, Toronto.
Fred Meadows, of Guelph, the Rockwood flyer.
David Bennett, of Hamilton.
Charlie Petch, of Toronto.
Tom Coley, of Thorold.
Percy Sellen of the I.C.A.C., Toronto.
Peter John, of the Six Nations Reserve.
Robert Redding, of Toronto.
A. Windmill, of Toronto.
Chas. Green, Caledonia.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto, 2.30 p.m.—So far there are about two thousand people present and the weather is dull and cloudy and rain before the race is over would not be asurprise.

RACE STARTED AT 3.08.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto, 3.08 p.m.—Controller Geary started the field of sixteen runners sharp at 3.08, with little Abbie Wood, the Montreal galloper in the lead. Four of the entries did not show up. Wood started the bunch at a sharp pace.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—At the end of the first mile, John D. Marsh, the Welsh runner, was leading by a small margin, with the others close up.

Marsh at the Second.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—John D. Marsh is still leading at the end of the second mile and is going strong and well, the Welshman looking good. Close behind him is Percy Sellen, the gallant little runner of the Irish Canadians, who seems to enjoy the pace that Marsh is setting. Fred Simpson is back a little but is running well within himself and is evidently following the plan of campaign he outlined last night, when he said that he was not going out after the early leaders.

Coley Comes On.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—Striding merrilly along in the lead John D. Marsh finished the third mile of the big Marathon ahead of the heap, but Sellen is clinging like a leach to his pace, and Tom Coley of Thorold, has closed up. Simpson is coming along with his usual steady gait and not a bit worried by the pace the leaders are setting. Alfie Shrubb, the referee of the pace, picks Marsh to win.

At the fourth mile Marsh still leads with Sellen and Coley in the next places. The four miles were negotiated in 22.09, which is good time under the circumstances.

Making Fast Time.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—With John D. Marsh still leading at the fifth mile the runners in to-day's race are well bunched and are cuttin a pace that will cause some of them to crack up before they have put many more miles behind them. The fifth mile was finished in 27.56, which is four seconds faster than St. Yves' time for the distance in New York. Sellen is still second, but Abbie Wood of Montreal, had chased Tom Coley from third place. Simpson is up with the bunch and running easily.

Simpson Spurts.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—Fred Simpson is evidently tired of seeing the runners ahead of him and during the sixth mile put on a livelier pace, coming right up on the leaders. The Peterborough Indian is striding along like he did against Appleby, and looks all to the Apricots. His spurt put him in third place, where he has settled down to take the pace of Marsh, who is still leading, anld Sellen, who is at his heels. The six miles was done in 33.38, while St Yves' time in New York was 33.51.

Windmill Blew Up.

During the seventh mile Windmill the English runner, blew up, and gave up the struggle to keep up with the pace. Marsh still led at the end of the seventh, with Sellen second, and Simpson third. The Indian is coming nicely. Time for seven miles 39.20. St. Yves' time in New York 39.42.

Simpson Still Third.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.— At the end of the eighth mile the position of the leaders was as follows: Marsh, first; Sellen, second; Simpson, third: all running strong and well. Time for the distance, 45.06, which is thirty seconds better than the Frenchman's time. The last mile was run in 5.24.

Sellen Takes the Lead.

Hanlon's Point, Toronto.—By a magnificent spurt Percy Sellen, the little Irish Canadian, took the lead from John D. Marsh, at the ninth mile, amid wild cheers from the crowd. Sellen kept right on going, after he passed Marsh, and is now leading by twenty-five yards. Marsh is second and Simpson third, leading the second division. All the leaders look fit, but the pace is too hot, and there will be trouble before long. Time for nine miles, 50.53. St. Yves' time, 51.19.

Records Are Broken.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—Sellen is still leading the ten miles being negotiated in 56.24, which is faster than in any of the previous professional races. Marsh is second and Simpson third. The two leaders are jockeying each other for the place, which is causing the remarkable time. It is alternately snowing and raining. Pat Powers, President of the Eastern Baseball League, is present, and is taking a dep interest in the race. Petch, the young Toronto runner, is plodding along well behind and contented to do his own pacing. All records are broken so far.

Sellen Going Away.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—The Irish Canadian runner is setting an awful pace and is going right away from the field. It hardly looks as if he would last as all the professional records are going by the boards. He is seventy-five yards ahead of Marsh, who is fifteen yards in front of Abbie Wood. The rest of the field is two laps behind Sellen, with Simpson leading the squad. They are running well and expecting the leaders to blow up. The time for 12 miles was 1.08.11, 25 seconds ahead of St. Yves' time.

At the thirteenth mile Sellen had increased his lead on Marsh and was two hundred yards ahead with Wood third. Simpson still leads the second squad. The time for thirteen milas. 1.14.11.

Marsh is Gaining.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—Percy Sellen is evidently tiring. His terrific spurts during the ninth and tenth miles have taken it out of him, and during the fourteenth mile, Marsh came up on him steadily cutting his lead from 200 yards to 80 yards Wood is still third. Simpson is fourth —two laps behind Sellen. Time, 1.20. 18, two seconds behind St. Yves'.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—Marsh is coming steadily up on Sellen, and at the fifteenth mile was but twenty-five yards behind. Wood is third and the rest of the field in the same positions. The pace has slackened, although Sellen is gamely trying to stick to the pace. Time for fifteen miles: 1.26.31.

Sellen Quits.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—True to the predictions of the wise ones on the side, Percy Sellen, who had been leading from the ninth mile, and who was responsible for the record breaking time, blew up in the sixteenth mile. He had been weakening during the past three miles. Marsh now leads.

Marsh Still Leads.

Hanlon's Point, Toronto.—At the sixteenth mile the order was: Marsh first; Wood, second; Simpson, third. The Indian is coming up on the leaders. Time for sixteen miles, 1.33.59.

At the seventeenth mile the order remained the same: Marsh, first: Wood second, and Simpson, third. The others are gradually coming up Time, 1.391.05.

Marsh Gaining.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—Marsh is making a great showing in the big Marathon. In the eighteenth mile he drew away from the field and lead at the end by two laps. Wood was second and Simpson third. Cumming has blown up. Time for eighteen miles, 1.45.24, only twelve seconds behind St. Yves' time.

At the eighteneth mile Simpson was three laps behind Marsh and two behind Wood.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto.—The order at the nineteenth mile remains the same: Marsh first, Wood, second: Simpson, third. Time 1.52.55.

Meadows Third.

At the twentieth mile, Marsh is still leading with Wood second. Fred Meadows, the Guelph boy, who had resisted the temptation to go out in front early, has spurted, and left Simpson, holding third place.

Wood Takes Lead.

Abbie Wood of Montreal is still second in the Derby. During the twenty-first mile he sprinted and gained on Marsh, who is now leading by 100 yards. Meadows is third. Time 2.04.44.

Marsh Still Ahead.

Hanlan's Point, Toronto,—At the twenty-second mile the standing was —Marsh, first; Wood, second; Meadowe, third. Time 2.11.14.

Hanlan's Point, T ronto.—If J. D. Marsh holds out he will win to-day's big Marathon. At the twenty-third mile he was one lap ahead of Wood, with Meadows third. Time 2.17.53.

Hanlans' Point, Toronto.—At the twenty-fourth mile, the order was: Marsh, 1; Woods, 2; Meadows, 3.—Time 2.24.40.

Twenty-fifth mile.—Order, Marsh, Woods, Meadows,—Time 2.31.20.

MARSH WINS.

Time—2.30.47.

The order at the finish was:

John D. Marsh, first.
Abbie Woods, Montreal, second.
Fred Meadows, Guelph, third.
Fred Simpson, Peterborough, fourth
Tom Coley, Thorold, fifth.
Red Hawk, Midland, sixth.

Marsh won by three-quarters of a lap.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE DESTROYED SMITH FARM HOUSE AND $500 WORTH OF NEW MACHINERY

A fire of mysterious origin which broke out last night about 10.30 o'clock, in the frame house on the Fred Milburn farm, Chemong Road, totally destroyed the building and sheds with the contents and as a result Reeve R. N. Scott, of Smith, will be a heavy loser. He had leased the buildings for storage purposes, and a large amount of new machinery purchased last summer was ruined. A new binder, a new mower, horse rake, seeder, ploughs, and other articles of farm machinery were stored there and will be a total loss, as there was no insurance at all on the contents.

Mr. Scott, who was in the city today, estimated his loss at about $500. The origin of the fire was a mystery to him.

"I am inclined to think," he remarked "that someone might have gone in there for shelter and started a fire in the stove. There was a bed in the house, and it might have been that an intoxicated man had gone to bed after starting a fire and lost his life in the house. I intend to search the ruins as soon as they are cold."

There was no fire near the house.

Twentieth Anniversary Of Elevation From Priesthood

BISHOP O'CONNOR
Who To-day Celebrates his Twentieth Year as Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Peterborough.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor Has Been in Charge of the Diocese of Peterborough for Twenty Years—Celebrated High Mass at St. Peter's Cathedral This Morning.

His Lordship Bishop OConnor this morning celebrated the twentieth anniversary of his consecration to the bishopric of the diocese of ePterborough. Instead of the customary low mass at eight oclock at St. Peter's Cathedral His Lordship pontificated at a solemn high mass.

He was assisted by Rev. Father McColl, deacon, and Rev. Father McFadden, subdeahon. There was a large congregation present and the children from the three schools were well represented.

At the conclusion of the mass His Lordship spoke a few words to the congregation He was pleased to see such a large attendance of the people on this particular occasion. It showed that the people were possessed of a true interest in his welfare. He asked for a continuance of their prayers that he might be enabled to minister to them for many years to come.

Bishop O'Connor, during the past year has given close attention to the Church of the Sacred Heart, which is now nearing completion in the south end, and which was begun under his directioan. He shas visited the building frequently and has given attention to its construction in every sage His Lordship takes an interest in his people of this parish and in fact of the whole diocese not only in their spiritual welfare but socially and otherwise.

WESTERN GRAIN ELEVATORS

The Dominion Department of the Interior has issued a map showing the position of the grain elevators and flour and oatmeal mills in Western Canada with tables showing their individual and collective capacity—in bushels and flour capacity, which gives one a very agreeable idea of the wonderful development of the Canadian West. In the three Provinces of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan, there are 650 grain elevators with an aggregate capacity of 42,868,900 bushels. In the other provinces of the Dominion there are eighteen elevators with a capacity of 28,697,700 bushels, making the total capacity of the grain elevators of the Dominion, 70,566,600 bushels. Manitoba has fifty flour and oatmeal mills with a daily capacity of 17,365 barrels—flour 16,615 barrels and cereals 750 barrels. Saskatchewan has 25 of these mills with a daily capacity of 3,365 barrels; Alberta has seventeen mills with a daily capacity of 1,530 barrels. And this is only the beginning—we have merely touched the hem of the garment.

BEAUTIFY THE CITY.

To-day, in this issu e,is printed the ninth of the series of able articles by Mr. A. B. Cutting, editor fo the Canadian Horticulturist, in "The Methods and Principles of Landscape Gardening"—lay sermons on the gospel of Civic Beauty. The present article brings us, the foundation having been well and truly laid, to the mowing of the lawn, the problem of weeds and the way to apply water. It is to be hoped that these articles have been perused, with profit, which must have been the case if they have been read at all. If they have served to develop what is most needed, and, unfortunately, most lacking—general esprit de corps among our lawn owning citizens, the yhave done a great deal. People who desire to have fine lawns and great surroundings and succeed, can point to them as having come up trough great tribulation—the apathy, if not overt obstruction, of the civic authorities, the ravages of vagrant dogs—especially curs of low degree—postmen, bill-deliverers, delivery boys, who make unfenced lawns a highway from door to door, combine to make eternal vigilance the price of a good lawn and neat premises.

We seem to need a lot of education before we come to the highr level of general good taste and solicitude for civic beauty.

THE REALLY LIVE WEST

We think we are alert and alive in Peterborough, but when we see the pace the western Canadian strikes, it gives one a sort of head-swimming sensation. The town of Rivers—where in the world is Rivers?—it is no wonder you ask—for it is a Manitoba town little more than six months old. We told you that the building of the Grand Trunk Pacific would dot the West with new farms, new towns and new cities, and they are springing into being almost in a night, like Jonah's gourd, but unlike that energetic vegetable they last. The town of Rivers is a hustling youngster. It is, as said about six months old, but it has a Board of Trade, with all the city frills. It has a president, Daniel Herbert, and a secretary, who parts his name in the middle, R. Morris Saunders. This Board of Trade has issued a beautiful booklet advertising the advantages of Rivers — a devisional point on the Grand Trunk Pacific; 140 miles west of Winnipeg; an elevator ready to store 350,000 bushels; water power for milling and other purposes; population 750 and rapidly increasing, etc., etc. The pamphlet contains photogravures of "a portion of the business district"; of "Second avenue, looking east," a double page "panoramic view six months after the first building was elected"; the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway station and the Canadian Bank of Commerce "the Korman Block." Rivers is a type of hundreds of other places which have sprung up. It is a type of the West where all is hurry and go. Nobody ever bothers about the first three-quarters of the track—they are always "on the home stretch," with the winning post big in their eye.

The Twentieth Century belongs to Canada.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

STEADILY IMPROVING

We Canadian are getting to be a busy people and, if we grow in graces of life, culture refinement, and devotion to high principles as rapidly as we are getting on materially we have a great and even a glorious future to look forward to. Old Country financial papers point with pride to the fact that hard times touched Canada less heavily than any other country. We spent and are spending so much in national development work that there was less financial disturbance than would have otherwise been possible. We were hit hard enough; but we are recovering rapidly. We thought 1907 was a banner year in all respects but in some ways 1909 is promising to be even better. In the matter of commercial activity, and industrial activity to a large extent, the bank clearings are a reliable barometer. In 1907 in the second last week af April, the bank clearings at Montreal totalled 26 millions of dollars; in 1908 in the same week at the same place the bank clearings amounted to only 21 millions of dollars. In the same week of the same months this year the bank clearings at Montreal amounted to 35 millions, a gain of 14 millions over the lean year of 1908 and of 9 millions over the fat year of 1907. The world's confidence in Canada is practically attested by figures of immigration. The tidal year of 1907 broke all records; in 1908 the figures dropped to 150,000 new citizens and 1909 promises to reach the 200,000 mark, a great numerical increase, but greater in that the immigrants are of a better class, in respect of possessing larger capital than their predecessors; and the West is fairly obsessed by the land seeker who is coming almost faster than he can be settled—fitted into his place. Customs returns increasing show a quickening of commercial life. Increase of employment means more wages; these mean ability to purchase more goods and merchants are induced to import more largely. Building operations are improving and all along the line there are evidences of improvement of advance and betterment of national conditions.

For the past ten years United States immigration (principally well-to-do farmers), averaged about 40,000 per year. This year American farmers entering Canada, with millions of ~~capital and effects, promise to reach~~ the 75,000 mark.

WOMEN THAT DO THINGS

Mankind, in his vaunted superiority, is wont to deny women business capacity and the capacity of doing things—to regard them as mere ornamental appendages to the plan of human affairs. But the management of the Young Women's Christian Association is living disproof of this contention. Great Britain is wailing over a financial deficit of some seven or eight million dollars and the United States is moving heaven, earth and—elsewhere, to scrape together revenue enough to make ends eet. Mr. Fielding, Dominion Finance Minister, has a surplus, though; and his example is infectious. The Young Women's Christian Association ends the year with a splendid financial statement, as far as administration goes. They report recipts, on account of their boarding department — the only purely business department—of $7,367,38 and expenditure of $7,293.70, leaving the handsome surplus of $74.20. During the year the Association has had 45 regular boarders and 96 transient guests; and has served 1,418 meals, besides. All business in this connection, has been done $75 within income, a splendid record from a business point of view. Miss K. H. Haycock, who had charge of this department, managed it with excellent business ability. All the purveying and catering—buying, selling, and serving was done without the interference of man, by the "weaker sex" alone, a striking proof of their capacity in the domain of affairs. Other departments, presided over generally by the energetic secretary, Miss McCalla, show equally good results. Though their management does not involve buying or selling, they involve the application of the most essential elements of good business system and its energetic and judicious application; in this respect our Board of Works might well take a leaf out of the Y.W.C.A.'s book. The full text of the annual report appears in another column and there is no need to specify. It is only necessary to point out that the educational side, the moral side and the social side of the wants of young women and girls with defective opportunities for early education or without early good influence or present home associations, have been well looked after. Nine classes have been conducted in various branches, including the useful as well as more ornamental—elementary English, French, dressmaking, wood-carving, home nursing, literature, domestic science, etc. In these there have been 252 pupils enrolled. In addition there have been religious services and addresses, and social entertainments. A well-conducted gymnasium afforded opportunities for physical culture, and a series of addresses on literary and art topics have been given. One of these was that of Prof. Young, of Toronto University, on "Michael Angelo," and so rich was this illustrated address, in information, inspiration, and adjustment of artistic taste that the Association on this lecture alone, might have rested its claim to laurels for doing good work in this direction. These facts demonstrate two things—that the Y. W. C. A. is doing a good work well; and that women, especially such as those now in charge, are capable of giving careful and effective management. Necessarily such an institution must depend upon public liberality; and anybody can contribute to its support with the confidence that whatever is given will be wisely and judiciously employed and faithfully accounted for.

You forget too much,
That every creature, female as the male,
Stands single in responsible act and thought.—Browning.

CANADA AND IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

The Brockville Times is one of the jingo journals of the fire-eating class. It speaks of sending Canadian Dreadnoughts to Great Britain as cavalierly, as if that were no more difficult than sending so many boxes of cheese. It goes in for compulsory military training, and a standing army. It says our volunteer force is no good—in these words, "if we are not to have a good militia force, why waste five or six million dollars on a useless force?" Who dares say that our volunteer force is "useless." On more than one occasion they have "made good" in the crucial test—actual campaigning. In 1866, 1870, and 1885, they were tried and by no means found wanting. In South Africa six various contingents answered the call of Empire, and took the field and took Cronje, too; they distinguished themselves in every way. They not only held their own with, but showed the way, in some cases and respects, to, the regular forces of the British Army, the best fighters in the world. These men were the products of the drill, training and esprit de corps of the "useless" Canadian volunteer militia. What good purpose do the jingoist extremists hope to serve by talking vaporous inanities, and insultingly disparaging a respectable force—respectable in more ways than one—like the volunteer militia of Canada?

A Dreadnought costs fifteen million dollars, two would cost thirty millions. We have no Dreadnoughts to send Great Britain. But we have wheat. Wouldn't it be better to send thirty million bushels of wheat to Great Britain as a gift than to send one or two or half a dozen floating killing machines?

A paragraph in the last number of "John Bull," which, by the way, is pretty thoroughly jingo, says:

> Napoleon said that an army marched on its stomach. Possibly had the stomach (and feet) of the French army been looked after a little better in 1870, the Franco-Prussian War might have ended differently. Anyway, since that war, the French Tommy Atkins has been much more carefully fed than formerly; and in Morocco we saw how within half-an-hour of the evening halt all the men were served with a hot meal of sufficient quantity if somewhat monotonous in composition. Everyone who has followed armies in the field knows how important a person is the army chef; even Kipling has admitted that boys of the bulldog breed may run away from worse soldiers if led to battle on empty bellies. A trifle more consideration on this point might have saved us some nasty experiences in India years ago, and in South Africa more recently. It is to be hoped that Mr. Haldane will see to it that our Army is well provided with cooks. This week in Paris, there was a regimental kitchen contest; and some of the papers have been funny over the fact that soldiers were asked questions about the amount of salt necessary to cook seven pounds of potatoes, and how many onions must be used to make a good stew for a company of troops. Yet it is conceivable that such matters may be really interesting to the French soldier in the next war, when he has marched his thirty miles laden with the heaviest military pack carried by any fighting man since the noble Roman.

Translated into plain English the above paragraph means an assertion of the supreme importance of the commissariat department of an army. An army on campaign, would be as useless without bread as without powder. In the defence of the Empire, situated as Canada is, we are in a pretty good position to propose that if other parts of the Empire will do the fighting, we'll do the feeding. Canada is now spending from 100 to 200 millions—the latter figure is the Conservative guess—in preparing to feed the armies of Britain and the empire—both the industrial army, enlisted for life, and the fighting army. Seriously considered this means that in building canals, national railways and other ways of transportation, we are preparing the uncounted acres of Canada to grow countless bushels of bread for the Empire. If the Mother Country gets into trouble in the form of war she can, if needed, put her full force in the field and Canada will furnish the real sinews of war, and in the meantime, which may be a long time, Canada can be building up her shipping and naval strength, and not only furnish, but be able to deliver, bread to the fighting Britons beyond the seas. Further elaborated the idea is that Canada can be effectively strengthening the empire in adding to her own strength by devoting her resources to the development of her own resources. We have adopted the policy of providing a national naval defence force. We have the nucleus of a standing army in our splendid volunteer force; we contemplate systematic military drill of our school boys. We can do all these in connection with the great work of developing our great country. We can fill our unlimited acres with millions of population that will become stalwart Canadians. Canada can, in these ways, be doing more yeoman service to the Empire and incidentally to humanity than by maintaining a costly standing army, whose burden would be mightier than its benefits; than by building and maintaining a mighty navy, that would be ballasted with the best part of the national resources.

Truly has Milton said that peace hath her victories no less renowned than war.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The London Advertiser blasphemously speaks of the "Niagara power elephant."

Not many years ago heretics were roasted for the public edification; now they, as some people consider them, are lionized or rewarded with theological college professorships.

The cost of Niagara Falls power comes to the people of London the less as an electric shock. It is estimated that the citizens will have to assume a financial responsibility of $1,306,000 before a wheel is turned. The Londoners will be in a position to envy Brantford and Hamilton which get power by private arrangement 10 per cent. cheaper than London gets it through the beneficent source of government supply.

The unsophisticated often think that the life of great statesmen is one great holiday of state pageantry and heavy dinners; that a British minister with a salary of $20,000 is in clover. Tay Pay O'Connor tells us that the working day of Earl Grey, Secretary of Foreign Affairs is frequently seventeen or eighteen hours, and such is the tension of his important office that out of office hours his mind is busy with problems of world-wide moment; a diplomatic cigar stub, dropped carelessly may produce an universal international explosian and flare-up.

Testimony From a High Authority as to the Value of Orange Meat.

IN an address to the Canadian Association of the Master Bakers at their convention held in London, Ont., August 14th and 15th, 1906, Professor Harcourt, of the Guelph Agricultural College, said among other things as follows; Various types of breakfast foods may be roughly divided into the following classes: 1st, The uncooked, such as granulated oats, etc., which require long cooking to make them palatable and aid digestion; 2nd. Partially cooked, such as rolled and flaked grains. In this process the cell walls are ruptured by the crushing, consequently they require less time in their preparation for the table; 3rd, Cooked foods; 4th, Foods termed pre-digested, such as Orange Meat, etc.

A large number of foods have been analyzed and some of the results are incorporated in the following table. In nearly every case the figures are the average of a number of analyses:

	Calories per gram.
Orange Meat	3,968
White Bread	2,721
Entire Wheat Bread	2,406
Graham Bread	2,610

This shows the great advantage in favor of Orange Meat as a heat producer.

Many Families Are Changing Their Abodes According To A Long Established Custom

"If we had ten more vans or waggons we would not have had enough to handle business yesterday, "said Mr. Wm. Buller this morning in answer to a question as to whether there were any Peterborough people changing the place of their abode in accordance with the well established custom initiated in years immemorial.

"Families are moving from one end of the city to the other and it is not entirely a rare occurrence to carry out the effect of a family from one house and a few days later to bring in to the same house the goods of another family.

Moving day is May first and apparently there has been more activity this year than is generally met with. At any rate the laires and penates of more than one household have not yet become acqpainted with their new domains. Without implying anything definitely there are persons who, when their neighbour moves away, are kind enough to say that they find it cheaper to move than pay rent or that it is easier to move than to "houseclean." It must be admitted that in each case it was a woman who made the remark, but of course they meant it simply as a plaisanterie.

The big, newly painted van is having a busy time this week transferring the abodes of many citizens who may enjoy moving-day and all its bustle which to the average property holder never occurs more than once in a lifetime and which is shunned by the true home lover.

Strongly Advocates Ball Playing At Central Park

Editor of The Examiner—

Dear Sir,—I notice in last night's issue of your paper an article to the effect that Mr. D. W. Dumble had decided that baseball and other games were to be prohibited at Central Park. Surely our worthy police magistrate has not carefully considered the matter or he would not have come to such a mistaken idea. With all his police court experience, one would fancy that the magistrate would welcome anything that tends to keep boys out of mischief, instead of devising means of getting them into trouble. It is a certainty that if the boys are deprived of playing ball, they will devote their attention to something far more harmful. They must have an outlet for the exuberance of their youthful spirits and baseball supplies the necessary safety valve without harm to any one.

Surely Mr. Dumble does not expect that an armoury building and a school can be placed in the centre of a park and that the soldiers of one and the pupils of the other will keep off the grass. It strikes the writer that in front of such buildings is a poor place for a flower garden. Play grounds are necessary for school children and no better play ground could be found for the pupils of the Collegiate Institute than the park and that the public appreciate that fact, is shown by the way in which they have been taking advantage of their opportunities since they moved into the new building.

Does Mr. Dumble and those who are with him in this movement ,imagine for a moment that a flower garden will be as useful or as beneficial as a playground? Why not level the park off nicely, have a green sward constructed, remove some of the superfluous trees and let the boys have a chance. They will not hurt the grass any. They have played games on the oval for years and there is no finer lawn in the city. The cry that is going up just now for beauty spots, will drive people away. First the Horticultural Society comes along with a proposition to turn the whole of Victoria Park into a beauty spot, and now they want to do the same with Central Park. The next proposition is to adopt a similar policy with Jackson Park, and let the people go out into the country if they want to see real, able-to-be-walked-upon grass.

Flower gardens are all right in their place, but don't take the only central play ground in the city for that purpose. It would be better if the authorities, instead of driving the boys away from the park, would devote their attention to the people who have made paths that resemble the erratic wanderings of a vagrant cow, all over the lawn.—Yours,

"A FRIEND OF THE BOY."

Irl Hicks Sees More Than One Thunderstorm In Month Of May

His Monthly Statement of What the Weather Man Has Stored Up for Mere Mortals—Warm Weather Will Be Felt—A Few Cool Snaps Too.

DIVERSITY OF CONDITIONS.

Irl Hicks has a somewhat varied programme for the Weather man during the month of May. There is fine weather predicted, and between the lines are storms and cloudiness, with the month closing cooler.

A reactionary storm period is in progress as May comes in. Low barometer, cloudiness and rain will pass eastwardly over the country from 1st to 3rd, breaking into electrical storms in many localities on the 2nd. The reaction to higher barometer, westerly winds, and fairfi, cooler weather will follow in regular order immediately behind these storms.

A regular storm period is central on the 6th, covering the 4th to the 8th. By the 5th, western sections will show decided rise in temperature, with corresponding fall of the barometer. Cloudiness and rain will attend and move promptly eastward over the country during the 6th, 7th, and 8th. The Mars period will practically fade out after this period, although its presence may be noticeable up to the '0th. A decided change to cooler, with probable frost at night, will set in behind the storms to the westward about the 7th, and during the 8th, 9th and 10th, this change to fair, cooler weather will follow close on the western sides of storm areas, reaching in its eastward progress, most parts to the Atlantic coasts. If "seismic shakes" are to occur during the first half of May, in every probability they will fall within three days of the 5th, or during the Moon's sweep from the celestial equator on the 2nd, to greatest declination south of the 8th.

A reactionary storm period falls on the 11th, 12th and 13th, and but for the fact that all central parts of our continent are in the focus of solar energy, storm-producing causes are about at the minimum at this period. ly winds and fair, cooler weathmediately behind these storm areas. to the 20th. A decided change to As a rule there is an abnormal tendency to daily cycles of thunder storms for several days in succession in much of this month, but the indications are that disturbances will be light at this reactionary period The barometer will react to higher, and change to decidedly cooler will appear from about the 12th to 15th. It is very common for frosts to occur in most parts to the northward between the 10th and 15th of May, but there are no decided probabilities of heavy frosts at this time.

Warm Weather.

A regular storm period will be in force from the 15th to the 20th, having its center on the 18th. The Moon's passage over the celestial equator on the 15th, so nar its perigee on the 16th, and ne won the 19th, will hasten storm conditions at this time. Sudden change to very warm will appear westward on the 15th, attended by falling barometer and other decided indications of coming storms. These conditions will widen in extent and grow more intense as they move eastward, causing a series of heavy rain, wind and thunder storms from about the 16th to 20th. There are no abnormal reasons to apprehend dangerous storms at this time, and yet tornadoes are entirely possible. Those who observe with any degree of care will readily forsee any such danger. Heat, humidity and low borometer always precede dangerous storms, and for many hours in advance all these conditions are manifest. Even the birds and beasts show that they experience bodily discomfort with instincts of approaching danger. With a reliable Barometer and Hygrometer to consult, such a thing as being surprised by a tornado, or other violent storms, is simply an impossibility. These faithful instruments always give timely warning ,and no home or public building should be unprovided with them. Another probable "seismic period" lies about the 17th to the 21st, central on the 19th. Change to higher barometer and much cooler will be natural from about the 20th to the 23rd, the change of course, passing progressively from west to east, carrying with it fair and clearing weather.

A reactionary storm period is central on the 23rd, 24th and 25th. The storm diagram shows that this period is at the centre of a Mercury period, which fact increases the chances of active disturbances at this time. Thick, prolonged cloudiness, with storm paroxysms on the storm days, are characteistics of the Mercury periods. Only moderate and brief changes in weather conditions will take place between this and the closing storm period of the month, causing a prolonged threatening of weather, with possibly cooler about the 26th and 27th.

A regular storm period covers the 28th to 31st, being central on the 29th. The period s at the culmination of the Mercury disturbance and is apt to bring several days of threatenng, stormy weather. From Saturday the 29th, to June 1st, a series of daily thunder storms with possibly some severe wind storms, should not be unlooked for. The outlook for May this year seems better and more placid, upon the whole than for two or three years past.

These forcast pages are closed up on April 2nd, hence the only seimic period since our April issue was printed was from March 19th to 23rd. See page 41 of our 1909 Almanac. The only earthquake reports that have reached us snce oud last issue were exactly in the period, a quake lasting thirty seconds being reported from northern Spain and the Killidini districts, on March the 20th, within twelve hours of the centre of the perod named in our Almanac, also "subterranean rumblings and seismic jarring" occured in the lava bed regions, Klamath Falls, Oregon, for several days immediately leading up to March 24th. The dispatch reporting the quake n Europe, added, that it "was prophesied a fortnight ago by Emil Marchand, director of the Observatory on the Pic Lu Midi, in the Pyrenees." Prof. Marchand must have seen a "Hicks Almanac," as our forecast was almost a year ahead of him.—Eh?

All our passengers know that our forecasts for March and far into April called for continued, stubborn cold. Uu to this date such has been the case, wth indications that spring will be late.

GROWING BOYS AND GROWING GIRLS

Need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Give Them Health and Strength.

Growing boys as well as girls need such a tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to keep the blood, rich, red and pure and give them health and strength. Mrs. Edward Koch, postmistress at Prince's Lodge, N.S., tells the great benefit her little son has derived from the use of this world famous medicine. Mrs. Koch says—"My little son, Reginald, had been troubled with anaemia almost since birth. He was always a sickly looking child, with no energy and little or no appetite. His veins showed very plainly through his skin and he had several serious attacks of stomach and bowel trouble, and on one ocasion his life was despaired of by two doctors who were attending him. His little body was slowly wasting away until he was nothing more than a skeleton. He was peevish and fretful and a misery to himself. Having read and heard so much of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I determined to try them in his case, and after giving them to him for a couple of months they certainly worked wonders with him. To-day he is fat and healthy looking; he has a hearty appetite, is able to play like other children, and is bright and energetic, instead of dull and listless as he used to be. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have changed my puny, sickly child, into a rugged, hearty boy."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured this sickly boy because they went down to the root of the trouble in his blood. That is why they never fail. Bad blood is the cause of all common diseases like anaemia, (bloodlessness) eczema, paleness, headaches, indigestion, kidney trouble, neuralgia, rheumatism and the special ailments that only growing girls and womenfolk know. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills don't bother with mere symptoms, they cure diseases through the blood. They don't cure for a day—they cure to stay cured. Do not take any pills without the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around each box. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ONE OF THE HAPPY HOMES IN CANADA WHERE PE-RU-NA IS USED IN THE FAMILY.

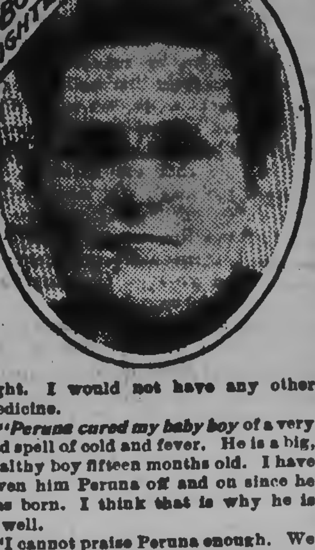
The fatality of acute diseases during hot weather among children, is well-known to the medical profession. From year to year the average practicing physician changes his tactics and his remedies. One year the physician uses certain remedies with confidence and enthusiasm. The next year he is liable to adopt new remedies. But through all the changing vicissitudes of the medical profession in their treatment of infantile ailments, Dr. Hartman has clung with unwavering confidence to Peruna. Thus it is that Peruna has become a household word in many thousand families. In catarrhal derangements of the bowels resulting in summer complaint, diarrhoea and sometimes cholera infantum, a few doses of Peruna given in the early stages check the disease before it has reached a threatening severity. Many mothers, from Canada to Mexico, give cheerful testimony to the benefit of Peruna in the many catarrhal ailments to which the family is liable, both summer and winter.

MY DOLLY IS WELL TOO.



MRS. ETTA BOOKER AND DAUGHTER.

Mrs. Etta Booker, Dundurn, Sask., N. W. T., Can., writes: "I suffered with internal catarrh until I wrote to Dr. Hartman, and after taking treatment as he advised I can say I am now cured of this most trying affliction, for which I am truly thankful. I think Peruna the best medicine for catarrh. I never felt better in my life than I do at present."

In a later letter Mrs. Booker says: "I can truthfully say from experience Peruna is a most wonderful medicine, and in the case of my little daughter, Elsie Booker, it did all I could wish for, and I am entirely willing that you may publish a testimonial in regard to her cure."

Ailing Children.

Mrs. Schopfer, 5020 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"In the early part of last year I wrote to you for advice for my daughter Alice, four years of age. She was a puny, sickly, ailing child since she was born. She had convulsions and catarrhal fevers.

"I was always doctoring until we commenced to use Peruna. She grew strong and well.

"Peruna is a wonderful tonic; the best medicine I have ever used.

"I was in a very wretched condition when I commenced to take Peruna. I had catarrh all through my whole body, but thank God, your medicine set me all right. I would not have any other medicine.

"Peruna cured my baby boy of a very bad spell of cold and fever. He is a big, healthy boy fifteen months old. I have given him Peruna off and on since he was born. I think that is why he is so well.

"I cannot praise Peruna enough. We have not had a doctor since we began to use Peruna—all praise to it."

Child Now Healthy.

Mrs. G. W. Heard, of Howth, Texas, writes to Dr. Hartman in regard to her baby girl, Ruby:

"My little girl was two years old this January. She had some derangement of the bowels. She was a mere skeleton, and we did not think she would ever get well.

"She had been sick three or four months, and after giving her less than one bottle of Peruna she was sound and well.

"I found the Peruna splendid for wind colic, with which she was troubled when she began to improve in strength and appetite.

Baby With Indigestion.

Mrs. J. M. Brow[illegible], [illegible]nnegan, Mo., writes:

"My little daughter, three years old, was troubled with a very bad cough, which remained after an attack of catarrhal fever, which was a great deal worse at night. She would wake up out of her sleep and cough until I feared she could not stand it. Nothing that we gave her seemed to do her any good.

"I then concluded to send for Dr. Hartman's book, entitled 'The Ills of Life,' which I promptly received. I at the same time commenced giving her Peruna. She has taken one bottle in all, through which she has obtained a complete cure.

"She also since her birth was troubled with indigestion, but since she has taken Peruna she can eat almost any kind of food without any bad results.

"She is now as well and happy as any little girl can be. When our friends say how well she looks, I tell them Peruna did it. I shall always be a friend of Peruna, as I consider it the best medicine for coughs and indigestion we have ever tried, and will recommend it to any one similarly afflicted."

Child Benefited by Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Frits Roethe, Pinckneyville, Ill., writes:

"I feel real well, and am glad I am able to say this. One of my children had a fever for five months, nothing would help him. The doctor said it was malarial fever, but his medicine did not help him at all.

"I then gave him Peruna, and it helped him immediately, and so far he has not had another attack of it.

"When I wrote to Dr. Hartman I was unable to do my housework, now I am entirely relieved."

LABOUR REPORT FOR THE MONTH OF MARCH

Mr. Arthur Sharp, correspondent to the Labour Gazette from Peterborough has the following report of the conditions during March.

The general condition of labour has improved somewhat since February. Spring building is showing signs of getting under way. Permits are being taken out and everything put in shape to start as soon as the weather will permit. The Weatherstone Company has built a new factory for the manufacture of mats. Knox Church will build a new church this spring; it will be of brick with stone front and will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000.00. The Wm. Hamilton Co., has received a large contract from the Railways and Canals Department of the Dominion Government for the supplyng of lock machinery for twenty four locks on the Trent Canal. The contract amounts to about $80,000. Retail merchants reported business improving. Banks found money easier.

Condition of Local Industries

Agriculture.—The farmers are doing very little at this time of the year except those who have a sugar bush and who are busy making maple sugar.

Lumbering.—In so far as the cut of logs is concerned the past winter has been one of the best for many years and this despite the fact that few of the lumber companies sent up to the woods their regulation quota of men. Th men are coming down from the bush now and the drives will begin as soon as the ice in the rivers and streams begin to break up. The lumbermen express great satisfaction at the reports they have received of the season's work in the woods. The camp in Anstruther of the McDonald Lumber Co., closed on the 1st of the month and about seventy of the men returned to the City.

Condition of Particular Trades

The building trades were quiet, but some are getting material on the ground and will start as soon as weather permits. Painters reported work active for this time of the year. Plumbers, gas and steamfitters were not doing much. Iron moulders and car makers, were busy. Electric workers have been active the last month, but brass workers have not been very busy. Boat builders and canoe workers have been very busy. Pattern makers have also had a good month. Printers have been active this month, also pressmen. Journeyment tailors and garment workers have had a quiet month, but are becoming busy. Cigar makers reported business dull. Tanners and curriers were busy, also leather workers and saddlers. There was little work for unskilled labour.

District Notes

Haliburton.—Malloy & Bryans stave mill started up, employing about 25 hands. W. Laking and Austin and Sowan are getting their mills in shape and will be running in a week or so.

Apsley.—The County Council is about to erect a new bridge at McCall's Mill.

Lindsay.—The Planing Mill has been re-opened and a full staff of men has been engaged; the firm expects to be busy for some time.

The Proof of The Demand for The Gillette Safety Razor

Five years ago, the Gillette factory was a single room with a handful of employees.

Since 1904, the Boston factory has been enlarged four times. The buildings shown above have four acres of floor space and house seventeen hundred workers.

The world-wide demand for "The Gillette" necessitated the establishment of factories in Montreal, London, Paris and Berlin. In Canada, the "GILLETTE" is made in the largest and most up-to-date plant in the Dominion that is devoted exclusively to the manufacture of safety razors. The world over, "The Gillette" marks the final achievement in razor-making.

OUR SCHOOLS AND TEACHERS.

In my last article I dealt, principally with the teachers in the Public Schools. In this, I shall deal, mainly, with those in the Collegiate Institute. From the very nature of the subject, however, many of my remarks will apply to both. This is particularly the case with what I am now about to call the reader's attention.

Since teachers are human, they will have their preferences; and they would be something more than human, if they could always avoid showing those preferences. This natural leaning towards favouritism is universal, and should not be too strongly condemned, but a feeling of this kind shows a weakness in human nature, and demands that those who have charge of others, and especially of the young, exercise constant viggilance, and summon to their aid all that is best within them to prevent, as far as possible, its manifestation. Until we can realize the essential unity of the universe, and that all souls are the same in the sight of the Infinite, we cannot hope to free ourselves from this feeling of preference, or begin to understand the tremendous results of our influence on our fellows. The Ancient Mariner, when he shot the Albatross, little knew the result that would follow a violation of that law of love which proclaims the oneness of all things; and how impotent are we to compute the result of offending "one of these little ones."

We, who have been teachers, know how often we have offended in this way, and those of us who have attended school can remember how we have suffered from, let us hope, our teachers want of thought; but we cannot tell the full effect of our experience on the formation of character, and on the course of our after lives.

But what shall we say of the teacher, who, from an unwillingness to give himself trouble; from a desire to exhibit his own cleverness, or that of his favourite pupils; or, on account of some petty spite against parent or child, will persisetnly ignore a number of his pupils, sometimes for a whole term, regardless of the cruel injustice of his conduct.

That this is done, and pretty generally done, in our Collegiate Institute, there is no doubt; and that it has been done for years, by certain teachers is also true.

The public know it, and talk about it; the parents know it, and feel aggrieved; the children know it; and, even the favoured ones, despise the teachers for it; members of the Board of Education know it, and discuss the question of redress; and the writer is prepared, if called upon, to give specific examples.

Will any respectable person of Peterborough say that the teacher against whom such a charge can be proved should not be summarily dismissed?

I will not say that the charge is true of all the teachers in the Collegiate Institute; but I believe it is too generally true, and that there are two teachers, of whom, for a long time, it has been particularly true.

This fact—and it is a fact—is another proof that the average teacher takes no real interest in his pupils: but seeks his own ease, or his own aggrandisement.

It is true that the capable and faithful teacher is always inadequately recompensed, financially and otherwise; but the same may be said of the best men in other walks of life. This, however, is but a poor excuse for the heartless selfishness shown by teachers such as I have described; and, besides, the salaries of Peterborough teachers will compare most favourably with those in other cities and towns.

No wise teacher will punish a pupil for disrespect shown to himself. If he were to do so, he would go far towards showing that he merited the treatment he received. I know that some will say, after reading what I am now about to write, that I am not living up to this ideal. I can only reply that throughout these articles I have aimed at correction and not at punishment. I have used strong language; but desperate diseases require heroic treatment.

It is a favourite thought of mine that to love and to be loved is the natural desire of all hearts. Hate, itself, is but a form of love. Browning, in "One Word More," says of Dante that he "loved well because hated," and that he "hated wickedness that hinders loving." The desire to love is the cause of hate, and the intensity of the one is in direct ratio to that of the other. We hate because people do things that prevent our loving them, and nothing can be more pleasing to the normal man or woman than for those who have excited their hatred to do something which will call forth their love.

I have long desired, and still hesitated, to relate a little personal experience in connection with our schools—desired from a belief that it might do good and hesitated, lest it might lead to injury. I had no ill-will towards anyone at the time, and certainly have not now; but I feel that by a statement of the simple facts, trifling as most will think them, I do but bare justice to some, and may be the cause of others being more thoughful in the future.

Shortly after the opening of the new building in Central and Dixon Parks, I decided, one morning, to visit the Collegiate Institute in the forenoon, and the Normal School, in the afternoon of the same day. My going had nothing to do with business either immediate or remote. Indeed, I seldom mention business to teachers, and would not be able to recognize but very few of the city teachers if I met them on the street. I went simply as an old teacher, visiting two prominent educational institutions.

At a suitable time I called at the building in Central Park, and, directed by a teacher or pupil, rapped at the Principal's door. The door being largely made of glass, revealed the Principal, writing at the board, and the pupils, seated at their desks. As this is a very important institution, they, of course, remained seated on my entrance. But, I was forgetting. I am not in yet. Teacher and pupils, not suspecting, that it was only a poor, old man, looked up when I rapped. The former went on with his writing until he had finished, when he graciously permitted me to enter. The time was not long, it is true; but it was long enough to show the pupils that I was treated with marked discourtesy. The effect on me is a matter of little consequence; for what right has an old tacher, very poor, and without influence, to look for considerate treatment? But what about the effect upon the pupils which is a matter of great consequence? I do not remember whether I was asked to take a seat; but, though I was not very graciously received, and was not introduced to the pupils, I seated myself, and—rested.

The subject was Latin Grammar; but, as I am not an authority on Latin Grammar, and care little for Grammar of any kind, I remember nothing further, except that the subject was presented with more than usual gracefulness.

At the close of the lesson, though I had been for seventeen years a teacher in the institution, no offer was made to show me through the new building; and, though I told the Principal that I was not acquainted with his subordinates, he did not propose an introduction.

I have given this incident as it occurred. It may appear, to some, of little significance. I, being, in a measure, prepared for it, was not seriously affected. But, was the treatment I received such as a teacher who really loved his pupils would like them to imitate? Would the Principal have acted the same, if I had ben a rich and influential man? Is such conduct consistent with the claim of being, in the best sense of the word, a gentleman? It will not serve him to speak of my unworthiness. Let him think of what he owes to himself. This, it is true, is not the highest ground to take; but it will answer the present purpose.

I am not yet through with my visit. The principal lady teacher showed me, at my request, the English Master's room. I introduced myself to Mr. Stubbs, and was cordially received. There are some teachers so full of themselves that there is really but litle room for anything else. There are others who lose all thought of self in their interest in the subject. Mr. Stubbs seems to belong to the latter class. He does not appear to aim at teaching Mr. Stubbs, but rather at inspiring his pupils with a love of poetry. I am convinced that the Board has in him, not a selfish, money-grabbing, narrow, bigot, on whom all that constitutes poetry is wasted, but a man of kindly, sympathetic nature with a soul responsive to poetic truth. My chief regret in connection with my visit, which ended with the hearing of Mr. Stubbs' classes, was that my reception, on the whole, had been such as to convince me that subsequent visits would be unwelcome and that I could not feel free to call occasionally to meet Mr. Stubbs with his class.

My next article will deal with my visit to the Normal School, and other matters of public interest.

FOUR GENTLEMEN ADDRESS BOYS ON EVILS OF CIGARETTE SMOKING

Splendid Meeting of the Anti-Cigarette League Last Evening in the Y. M. C. A. Hall—Many Boys in Attendance.

A DESTRUCTIVE HABIT.

A large number of boys and young men were present at the meeting in the interests of the Anti-Cigarette League, held in the Y. M. C. A. hall last evening. It was decidely interesting and the remarks of the various speakers, along the line of the evil of cigarette smoking could not fail to impress the youth of Peterborough.

Rev. H. J. Keith, of Knox Church, occupied the chair. After opening devotional exercises, he said that the purpose of the meeting was to hear men in reference to cigarette smoking. He was sure that after hearing them they would all take a firm stand against the evil habit. Measures were being taken by the leading men of the country to prohibit young boys from cigarette smoking.

Inspector Mowat.

Mr. A. Mowat, Inspector of the city public schools, was the first speaker. He said that every boy present hoped some day to hold an important position. But to obtain this, one must be strong physically and mentally. A boy could not be healthy and go around with that pernicious little cigarette in his mouth. In his twenty years of teaching experience, he never had a boy distinguish himself who smoked cigarettes. In ninety-five years at Harvard University, a smoker never took the highest honours. The cigarette had a blighting effect on the mind and body.

Again, if a boy was to be strong morally, he must not smoke. Magistrates stated that ninety-five out of every one hundred boys that appeared before them were cigarette fiends. In closing, he entreated them to eschew the cigarette evil, that they might grow up strong, physically, mentally and morally.

Dr. J. E. Middleton.

Dr. Middleton began by speaking of the history of tobacco. When Christopher Columbus came to this country he saw the Indians smoking. He brought the habit back to the old land. Tobacco contained several substances, among them being one deadly poison, namely, nicotine. He spoke of the injuries of nicotine and the effect of it upon the body. From two to three drops of this poison will kill one, and as small a dose as thirty drops has been known to kill. Tobacco allayed the pangs of hunger and boys who smoked did not have proper taste of their food.

Mr. J. A. McKone.

Mr. J. A. McKone, in addressing the gathering, asked, why did boys use tobacco? He did not know any answer save it was because they had no sense. Cigarette smoking was a habit hard to break, so the best way was not to commence. In life one was supposed to do his very best. "Have we ever thought," he asked, "what a vast amount of ability was squandered by cigarette smoking? In his position, Mr. McKone placed a large number of young men in business positions and invariably the merchant in considering an application, asked if the applicant smoked. Scores of opportunities were lost by the use of the cigarette. The best scholars were the ones that did not smoke. The smokers did not keep their mind on their work, and from his standpoint he would not employ a boy who smoked.

Magistrate Dumble, K.C.

Mr. Dumble, the last speaker, was glad to see so many boys at a meeting which was called for the purpose of bettering their lives. Tobacco, he had learned, in his own experience, was not for boys. He did not think any parent wanted to see their boys smoke, and if boys acted on their mother's wish they would not use the cigarette. Children who defied their parents would not succeed. Fellows of strong character would easily forsake bad habits. They had to fit themselves for a life's work and to do this, must acquire clean and proper practices. Men made themselves slaves to tobacco, and were conquered by the little cigarette. The government passed a law prohibiting the sale of tobacco to boys under 18 years of age, in order that the country might not be overrun with weak, nerveless men.

In closing, he said that in his twenty-five years of experience, a large number of young men had come before him for petty thefts. They began by smoking cigarettes, and in order to satisfy their appetite, stole money to do so.

Mr. Davenport, who was largely instrumental in having the meeting held last evening, at the conclusion invited the boys to become members of the anti-cigarette league.

The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer. During the evening the Charlotte Street quartette sang a selection and music was rendered by an orchestra under the leadership of Mr. R. Common.

Not only is tea grown at a high elevation finer flavoured and more healthful than ordinary tea, but it is much more economical. That is why one pound of "Salada" will make more cups of tea than one and one-quarter pounds of any other kind. 144

CRESSMAN'S SHIP TO NEW ONTARIO

Large Consignment of Goods to Mr. D. W. Porter Who Did Not Forget Peterboro Merchants.

Mr. David Porter, of the firm of Porter has been very prosperous in tario, and who was formerly of this city, returned after a few months' stay to purchase a complete outfit of house furnishings for the large hotel which the firm has erected there. Mr. Porter has been very prosperous in New Ontario and has every prospect of making a splendid success of this new enterprise. He reports the growth of Cochrane as phenomenal and intends to have his business grow up with the new country. A. W. Cressman's house furnishing department is preparing to-day to ship nearly a carload of furnishings including Beds, springs, mattresses, bedding, window shades, carpets, wall papers, etc., to Porter and Cook, Cochrane, to fit up the handsome new hostelry. Mr. Porter did not forget the reputation of the Peterborough merchants and gave them the preference over those of the larger cities. It might be mentioned here that Cressman's are also furnishing a residence in Toronto this week. This progressive firm have established a reputation, not only in Peterborough but in other cities for their up-to-date home furnishing and decorating department.

CORRESPONDENT'S PLEA FOR BEAUTY AND COMFORT

Editor Examiner.

Dear Sir, The city is under a deep debt of gratitude for your valuable suggestions respecting the improvement of our streets, supplemented by Mr. Cutting's able articles upon lawns and parks. If there was an honest effort made by our citizens in general, and by the Council in particular to cary out the suggestions of you both, our city would not only become a desirable spot for permanent residents, but would also be the Mecca of summer tourists and pleasure seekers, situated as it is in close touch with both the Kawarthan Lakes and Rice Lake. But we would have to get rid of the stench spots about which our authorities are so indifferent. In some cities which I have visited it is a custom not only to sweep the sidewalks but to scrub them as well; but what encouragement is there in this dusty city where the watering cart has only made its appearance twice this year, which at best does its work irregularly and perfunctorily.

Yours truly,
CITIZEN.

Lachute, Que., April 30.—(Special). After fourteen years of suffering, which started from pleurisy, followed by by dropsical swellings, and culminated in Lumbago and confined him to his bed Malachi F. McAuliffe, a well-known resident of this place has entirely recovered his health, and he says without hesitation, "I am sure I owe it entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I was laid up with Pleurisy, which affected my kidneys," Mr. McAuliffe continues. "I suffered a great deal of pain, especially in my back. I was also terribly troubled with dropsical swellings, and finally, after many attempts to get rid of my trouble, I found myself compelled to give up and was confined to my bed with Lumbago. I tried many medicines but they failed to do me any good. Then I turned to Dodd's Kidney Pills, and after taking one box I felt greatly relieved. I took several more boxes and found myself completely cured."

HOME OF Y. W. C. A. IN PETERBOROUGH,
At Annual Meeting Last Night the Fourth Year in History of the Building was Passed Showing Flourishing Condition.

Y.W.C.A. Closes Another Year With A Repetition Of The Success Enjoyed In The Past

Miss Haycock Resigns After Four Years of Faithful Service—Miss McCalla Presents Comprehensive Report of the Work During 1908-9—Mrs. Robert Kilgour Present.

A MUSICAL PROGRAMME.

The fourth annual meeting of the Peterborough branch of the Young Women's Christian Association was held last evening in the gymnasium, which was tastefully decorated for the occasion. There was a good attendance of members and directors, who were well pleased with the encouraging reports presented, showing that 1908 was most encouraging in every respect. The scope of the Y.M.C.A. has been increased by the addition of several new departments. The membership has been increased and the finances are in a flourishing condition. Much credit is due Miss McCalla, general secretary, and Miss Haycock, superintendent of the house department for the success achieved. The directors have been faithful in their assistance and the results of the year are considered most gratifying.

The library served last night as a dainty tea room, where refreshments were provided after the business meeting.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.

Before the general meeting the Board of Managers met and completed their report. One important matter was to choose a successor to Miss Haycock, superintendent of the House Department. Miss Haycock has accepted a position in Toronto, and leaves the Peterborough association on May 8th. She has been here for four years, since the building was thrown open, and has made a success of her department. General regret is expressed at her departure as she will be much missed At the same time all wish her every success in her new position. Her successor will be Mrs. W. J. Read, of Bobcaygeon.

ORDER OF THE EVENING.

Probably the most important feature of the evening was an address by Mrs. Robert Kilgour, of Toronto, the Dominion President. She was strongly supported the Y.M.C.A. summer school at Muskoka this summer, and expects to see a large number present this year. The following program was interspersed with the business of the evening:

Vocal Solo—Miss Edna Pringle.
Prayer—Rev. J. R. Webb
Piano Solo—Mr. R. J. Devey.
Remarks—The President.
Vocal Solo—Miss Pringle.
Piano Solo—Miss Gladman.
Doxology.

Mrs. W. M. Roger acted as chairman.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

The Board of Directors for 1909 have been appointed as follows: Mrs. Rogers, Mrs. A. Stevenson, Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, Miss M. Dixon, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Cressman, Mrs. R. Neill, Miss Wright, Miss Weir, Miss Rush, Mrs. (Dr.) Scott, Mrs. Garvin, Mrs. Mowry, Mrs. Nugent, Mrs. J. Wood Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter, Mrs. W. H. Hill, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Kerr, Miss Nicholls, Mrs. Waddell, Mrs. Devey, Mrs. R. R. Hall, Mrs. Palmer and Miss E. Morrow. The officers will be chosen at the first Board meeting.

BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Mrs. G. M. Stevenson presented the 18th annual report of the Board of Management. During the year 12 meetings have been held, with an average attendance of 11, not as large as last year. Regret was expressed at resignations of Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Roucher and Mrs. Lees.

Domestic science being taught in the Peterborough schools has made it difficult to carry on successfully the domestic science classes here and this branch was closed in December last.

Mrs. Burnet donated $15 to the department.

Credit was given Miss Haycock superintendent of the boarding house, which is so successful in this institution.

Thanks were expressed to Dr. Greer, Mr. Mowat, Miss Nicholls, Mr. T. F. Matthews, Mr. Adams, Miss Ross, Mr. Cornish, Sheriff Hall and Prof. A. H. Young.

The Finance Committee was congratulated upon its showing this year in connection with the public department, which shows a balance on hand of $87.39.

The paid staff consists of Miss McCalla, general secretary, Miss Coventry, physical culture directress, Miss Ranney, musical director, Miss Elliott, domestic science teacher and Miss Haycock.

Expressions of appreciation was extended to the three local papers

F. MORROW, Treasurer.

Miss K. H. Haycock, the superintendent, presented a very satisfactory report of the boarding-house department. It showed receipts of $7,367.37, and expenditures of $7,293.17, leaving a balance on the right side of the ledger of $74.20. There are forty-five boarders in the institution and during the year 96 transients have been housed, while 1,418 meals have been served to non-residents of the building.

In the absence of Miss Weir, Miss McCalla presented the report of the educational department. During the year weekly classes have been held in the following departments, and with the indicated attendances. Elementary English, 8; French, 4; dressmaking, 26; wood carving, 12; home nursing, 8; literature, 8; gymnasium, 65; domestic science, 39; junior class, 50; making a total average attendance in the different classes of 252 per week.

Report of the General Secretary

The report of the General Secretary for the past year was presented and is given in part as follows:

Owing to changes in the conveners of committees, and for other reasons, reports from a number of the committees have been embodied in this report.

As we review the work, which as an Association God has enabled us to do, we would return thanks for His goodness and love. While feeling we have fallen far short of what we hoped to accomplish, and of what we might have done, we are yet grateful for the measure of good which has attended our efforts.

Our work is four-fold: the physical, intellectual, social and spiritual development. In touching the lives and hearts of young women and in winning them for Christ, lies our all important work, to which we would have all the other activities of the Association but subordinate.

It was this desire and purpose which led the Devotional and Bible Study Committee to invite Rev. Elmore Harris, D.D., to come to us in October for a series of Biblical addresses. These studies from Ephesians and Exodus on the Church, were greatly blessed to those who were privileged to study under such a Spirit-filled teacher as Dr. Harris.

It was also our privilege to have with us in October, Miss Little, our Dominion Secretary, when she addressed a large Sabbath afternoon meeting. With such a stimulus we feel we should have a larger number of Bible classes to report. From September to December a Bible class for the study of the Sabath school lesson was held each Sabbath morning at 9.30. This was not continued after the New Year. A Bible class has been held each Friday evening. The attendance has varied. A mission study class has been conducted by Miss Brown, and attended by our Normal House girls. The Regeneration of Japan was the text book. In November, the World's week of Prayer was observed by Prayer meeting in the Boarding Home and $40 was sent to the Dominion Council for our foreign work in Japan, carried on by our representative, Miss Caroline Macdonald, B.A. We have this year assumed the support of Miss May Cook, B.A., our representative in India, and hope that the amount of our offering may this year be doubled.

We have enjoyed going to the Protestant Home once a month for a song service. The old ladies also enjoy our coming. We are now going regularly on two Thursday afternoons of each month. A half hour prayer service is held twice a month, led by different members of this committee. We hope it may be more largely attended this coming year.

Membership

While our membership has not been raised to the figures we have worked for, we feel that an increased interest and many new faces have been the encouraging outcome of our efforts, which we trust will result in a much larger membership. Our list stands now, sustaining members, 40; active members, 180; juniors, 40; 75 new names have been added during the year to our active roll.

Social Department

In preesnting the report of the Social Committee, we wish to thank all who have so kindly assisted us in our work during the past year, especially would we thank the Music committee, who have at all times so willingly helped. We began our work the 14th of October, on the occasion of our Educational rally. Later a very merry masquerade Hallowe'en party was enjoyed by a large number of our members. Our next effort, was to welcome the large number of Normal students, who accepted our invitation to meet Miss Anderson, the National College Secretary, at an afternoon tea. Following this, was the work done by the Committees in furnishing the beautiful Christmas decorations of cedar boughs, holly and many Christmas bells, which so wonderfully brightened our Association building during the vacation and for our New Year's reception.

In February, we enjoyed a second visit from Miss Little, when she addressed a large drawing room meeting in the interests of the Dominion work. The same week, a jolly Valentine party was given. On March 18th, two of the educational classes held a very enjoyable social evening in honour of the teachers, Dr. Greer and Mr. A. Mowat, whose work had been so appreciated by the respective classes. In addition to these, eight social evenings of a similar nature have been planned for our girls.

Our Reading Room and Library

Carlyle says, "A true university of these days ,is a collection of books." We have a library of two hundred books, but no new books have been added this year. We need new books, and would gratefully acknowledge such gifts, also a subscription for a magazine for our Reading Room table.

The following magazines are to found on our Reading Room tables: The Delineator, Ladies' Home Journal, Woman's Home Comainion, New Idea, Harpers, World Wide, London 1, from than taht cahthh London, Illustrated News, Canadian Magazine, Boston Cooking School Magazine, Record of Christian Work, Presbyterian, The Young Women ot Canada, The Sunday School Times, The Medical Missionary, Evangelia, Daily Montreal Witness, Peterboro Examiner, Review, and Times, also other magazines placed on the table, though no tsubscribed for. The Association desire to express it thanks to all magazine subscribers, to The Examiner, the Review and the Times, for kindly supplying the Reading Room with a copy of their respective papers, also to thank The Review for the handsome gift of a Webster's International Dictionary.

Junior Department

This work is partially reported in the Physical Culture Report, where the weekly classes for the boys, girls and intermediate girls are held. In addition to these classes, we are pleased to report a large Saturday afternoon class for little girls, who are not members of our Association. We feel we have succeeded in reaching and helping a large number of children of the city, who are not likely to come under the influence of the Association in any other way. At present, we have 85 names on the roll of our "Sunshine Club," with a growing average attendance. The children may come as soon after dinner as they wish, play in the Gymnasium, until 2.30, when they are called to order, and an adjournment made to the class room. The meeting is opened by a bright hymn, others follow. The Club song is "Jesus bids us shine." Prayer is offered; scripture texts arranged alphabetically, learned, and repeated, the roll called, pennies collected, a short missionary or other story told, when the sewing box is produced and for half an hour, many little fingers are busy with needle and bright material. When work is put away, a rush is made for the Gymnasium and another happy hour spent in games, in swinging, etc.

Recently another club has been reorganized among the junior members, "The Merry Maker's Club," taking for their motto, "Serve the Lord with Gladness." The devotional meetings are planned for each month, with one afternoon each week for athletics, basket ball will be followed by croquet and tennis, tramps in the woods, picnics, etc

Information and Employment Bureau

By means of the information and employment Bureau, a large number of lives are reached during the year. We can only trust that in our efforts to be of use, some good seed has been sown. This work is undertaken wholly with a view of helping young women and no charge is made for assistance rendered

It is almost impossible to give a definite report of work done by your Secretary. A secretary's life seems to be so largely one of faith and love Satistics of personal work and influence can scarcely be reported, but we believe are known to Him who has promised that His word shall not return unto Him void.

Personally, I would here place on record my deep gratitude and appreciation of much help and sympathy received from the Dominion Council through their kindness in sending Miss Gilfillan for ten days during my first month here. Also for repeated letters received from Miss Little with advice suggestions, and encouragement. I would express my appreciation and gratitude for the great kindness and support of the Board Members, House Members, Committee workers, teachers and all members and friends who have assisted in any way.

As a house family, we wish to express our regret that Miss Haycock, our efficient Superintendent, is so soon to leave us and take this opportunity to express our appreciation of the courtesy and kindness she has ever shown each member of her large family. Nor has Miss Haycock's interest and sympathy been confined to her department, in many ways has she helped in the public work.

The earnest prayers and continued financial support of the Christian men and women of Peterborough are requested, for united workers together with God, we shall overcome all difficultes and continue to enlarge our work. Real success may be ours if we ever remember the Association motto, "Not by might, nor by power, but by My Spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts."

Faithfully submitted,
Mary D. McCalla,
General Secretary.

MANY SCORES KILLED BY TERRIFIC TORNADOES

Atlanta, Ga., May 1.—An epidemic of cyclones and tornadoes, the like of which have not been known for years, swept through the south Thursday night and yesterday, leaving in their wake hundreds of dead and mangled bodies and the dismantled wrecks of property worth many millions.

An exact list of the dead and an accurate estimate of the monetary loss may not be compiled for days, but from along the path of the storm came tales of fearful loss of life and descriptions of whole towns and villages completely wiped out.

At ten o'clock last night careful estimates indicate that at least 50 people were killed in Tennessee alone, while the loss will not fall short of a million.

Six Killed In Chicago.

Chicago, May 1.—Six persons were killed and fifty injured in Chicago and environs during the storm Thursday night, according to reports received by the police and coroner.

Tidal Wave.

Detroit, May 1.— A tidal wave 10 feet high at South Haven on the east shore of Lake Michigan was the most unusual feature of the terrific wind and rainstorm which swept over Lake Michigan Thursday night.. The wave caused about $2,000 damage to waterfront property at South Haven.

At Fenton, where the storm approached the proportions of a tornado, the damage aggregated $30,000. Much live stock was killed all over the state. Streams are running out of their banks in many places. At Grand Rapids the Grand river has risen four feet and flood warnings have been sent out.

At Mercy of the Gale.

Windsor, May 1.—Half dead from exposure, in battling with the severe gale, Robert Carnegie, keeper of the Middle Island lighthouse, nine miles east of Put-in-Bay, and his assistant, were found on the shore of the latter island, where they had been tossed by the waves.

Late Wednesday afternoon, when the storm came up, a small skiff was torn loose from his moorings at the light, and swept out into the lake.

The keeper and his assistant put out in a small naphtha launch to overtake the boat. Shortly after leaving the island the rudder of the launch was lost and two of the blades of the propellor were torn away.

When they were found on the beach, it was discovered that the hands of both men had been frozen.

Struck by Lightning.

Chatham, May 1.—A heavy storm passed over this city on Thursday night, accompanied by sharp flashes of lightning. The Hotel Sanita was struck by lightning, causing considerable damage. The steeple of the First Presbyterian Church was also struck and badly damaged.

Forty-Five Cattle Burned.

Salem, Ont., May 1.—The barn of John Barber, near here, was struck by lightning yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, and burnt to the ground, together with forty-five head of cattle, six horses, and some sheep. The fire was so rapid that nothing was saved. A small insurance only was carried.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Loan Comes Up Again

Ottawa, May 1.—The Grand Trunk Pacific ten-million-dollar loan was again under fire in the House of Commons yesterday, and amid a great deal of criticism, which suggested that the voluminous information supplied to the Opposition on the subject had been imperfectly assimilated, two things stood out prominently. One was a straightforward plea by Mr. W. F. Maclean, applauded by a considerable section of the Opposition, for Government ownership of the Transcontinental, and the other the doleful assumption by the leader of the Opposition that the G.T.P. Co. do not intend to live up to their contract, particularly in respect to the eastern division of the road.

Mr. Maclean ventured to predict that within the next ten years the energies and resources of the Canadian people would be devoted to securing control of the great national highways of the country.

R. L. Borden alluded to the contract which contains an emphatic declaration that the object of granting aid to the G.T.P. was the development of Canadian ports. The Opposition at that time pointed out that the obligation should have been made binding on the Grand Trunk Co. as well as the Government, and declined those proposals. Mr. Borden pointed out that the condition which had arisen through the collapse of the Quebec bridge was exactly what the Grand Trunk Co. desired. The G.T.P. might accept the road from Winnipeg to Port Arthur and refuse to accept the line east to Moncton, which will not be completed till the bridge link is reconstructed. In the meantime traffic originating in the west might find an outlet through United States ports.

Could not that condition of affairs be remedied? It might be remedied at the present time by the Government insisting that the Grand Trunk, coming here under the guise of the G.T.P., shall agree on an amendment of their contract, which would absolutely prevent such a contingency as the diversion of the traffic to U. S. ports.

Mr. Borden also reverted to the question of grades, pointing out that the I.C.R. has only three grades exceeding one per cent., namely, two between Moncton and Halifax and one between Moncton and Quebec. The latter is but three or four miles long, and is a grade of 1.22 per cent., compared with the ten-mile one and one-tenth per cent. pusher grade on the National Transcontinental.

Hon. Mr. Graham assured Mr. Borden that the object of the Government was to develop Canadian ports. It must be borne in mind, however, that the more the rates were increased to the ocean ports the more the price to the producer would be reduced.

Referring to the question of grades, it did not matter what was the percentage of pusher grades as extra engines had to be added to push the trains over. The ruling grade of the G.T.P. was 4.10 per cent., whereas the ruling grade of the I.C.R. was 1 per cent., and trains could not be loaded beyond the capacity of engines to haul over that grade.

George Taylor criticized the Finance Minister for making the term of the loan ten years. Mr. Fielding held that it was wise to limit the loan to that term. As to the criticism of the Government for fixing the rate of interest at four per cent., that was exactly what the Conservative Government did in respect to the C.P.R. in 1884.

"Did you approve of that?" asked Mr. Lalor.

"That didn't matter," said Mr. Fielding. Looking back over the years he was glad that the loan was made and on the terms at which it was made. There had been criticism of the Conservatives at the time, but Mr. Fielding now believed that it was legitimate aid to a great enterprise.

E. Guss Porter asked if the Finance Minister would feel comfortable jingling the money of this poverty-stricken company, which he made out of the loan.

Mr. Fielding replied that he would feel more comfortable than the Conservatives felt when they made a loss on a loan to the C.P.R.

R. L. Borden commented on the fact that some of the rolling stock of the G.T.P. had been in use on the old Grand Trunk for two or three years.

Inasmuch, replied Mr. Fielding, as no part of the Government guarantee or obligation covers the equipment, it was no concern of the Government.

Czar to Tour.

St. Petersburg, May 1.—It is learned upon excellent authority that the Czar, traveling on the imperial yacht Standart and escorted by four warships, will leave on May 20 for a long cruise, in the course of which he will visit Sweden, Germany, England, France, Spain and Italy.

It is rumored that the Premier, M. Stolypin, will accompany His Majesty. This seems to have been decided with the view of disproving rumors current of late with regard to the replacement of M. Stolypin by a more reactionary Minister.

Two Drown In River.

Southampton, May 1.—Sam Cairns, engineer of the Saugeen Electric Light & Power Co. of Southampton, and Andrew Ruxton of Chippewa Hill, were drowned in the Saugeen river, two miles east of here, yesterday afternoon.

The two men were working on Denny's bridge, and slipped off. The recent rains have made the river very high and the current is very rapid.

Cairns leaves a wife and four children, and Ruxton leaves two sisters, Belle in Berlin, and Annie at Chippewa Hill.

30,000 Mariners Strike.

Buffalo, May 1.—One of the greatest marine strikes in the history of labor on the chain of great lakes began this morning, when over 30,000 men, members of the Lake Seamen's Union, left the boats controlled by the Lake Carrier's Association.

Kidnapper Collapses.

Mercer, Pa., May 1.—James H. Boyle, whose trial on a charge of kidnapping "Billy" Whitla, was yesterday continued till next Wednesday, collapsed late last night in the Mercer jail, and to-day is said to be in a critical condition.

Bass' Barley Wine for Invalids

For nutritive qualities, barley, of all cereals, ranks next in importance to wheat.

When malted it contains fat producing and nourishing properties.

Barley malt is rich in grape sugar, starch and proteids.

The diastase in the malt converts the starch into grape sugar.

The proteids,—the nourishing qualities of the barley,—by the same process, are turned into peptones and parapeptones.

To make this clearer, these proteids, when malted, are converted into a preparation that the most delicate stomach can digest.

When you use Bass' Barley Wine, you get the highest percentage of the nourishing qualities of barley which can be digested and assimilated without effort.

Many of the so-called malt extracts are nothing more than the by-products of the malt and hops of the brew.

From a nutritive point of view they are next to useless.

Bass' Barley Wine is made from pure barley malt and hops by the largest and most famous brewers in the world—Bass & Co.

Unlike most of the malt extracts, Bass' Barley Wine is guaranteed to be absolutely free from preservatives of all kinds.

Barley malt and hops when taken in the form of Bass' Barley Wine have not only great digestive power but great nutritive value.

Bass' Barley Wine will tone up the system, cure dyspepsia, insomnia, and nervous troubles, make firm, healthy flesh and build you up.

It's an excellent preparation for tubercular troubles, nursing mothers and all run down conditions.

Bass' Barley Wine costs 30 cents a bottle and has a nourishing value equal to three bottles of any other malt extract.

HOLLAND IS VERY JUBILANT OVER BIRTH

Birth of an Heiress to Crown Causes Great Rejoicing.

INDEPENDENCE NOW SURE

Infant Princess of Orange Removes Bogey of Absorption of Netherlands by a Foreign Power Upon the Death of Queen Wilhelmina—Heralds In Ancient Dutch Costumes Proclaim Birth.

The Hague, May 1.—Wilhelmina, Queen of The Netherlands, gave birth to a daughter yesterday morning. The condition of Her Majesty is most satisfactory, the infant princess is doing well, and Holland is celebrating the happy event from one end of the country to the other, with expressions of joy and gratification such as seldom before have been witnessed on the part of this placid people.

The political significance of the occurrence lies in the fact that there is now an heir to the throne of The Netherlands, a circumstance that very greatly enhances the chances of the country for continued independence.

The Queen was married to Prince Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin on Feb. 7, 1901. On two previous occasions the hopes of the people for an heir to the throne have been disappointed.

Here in the capital, in spite of the heavy downpour of rain, the streets are gaily decorated and great crowds are passing to and fro showing their gratification. The people read eagerly the special news issued free by the newspapers announcing the happy event.

Heralds accompanied by trumpeters clad in ancient Dutch dress made the rounds of the city, halting at the principal squares and other suitable spots to make, after due fanfares, the following proclamation:

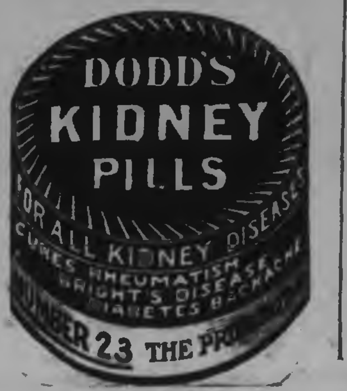
"Fellow-citizens: With great joy we announce the news that Her Majesty by the grace of God, has been delivered of a princess.

"The entire population of The Hague shares the feelings of deep joy of the Dutch people and is thankful for the blessing bestowed upon the royal house and upon the country. May the happy event strengthen the bonds uniting The Netherlands and the House of Orange. Long live the Queen! Long live the Princess of Orange!"

At the palace everything is quiet excepting at the entrance hall, which is crowded with people eager to sign the roll of congratulations.

Relief for Tabriz.

Tabriz, Persia, May 1.—The advance guard of the Russian expedition to relieve this beleaguered city entered the gates yesterday morning. It brought supplies for the starving people. Its progress was contested, but not seriously.



Effects of the Budget.

London, May 1.—The fresh burdens imposed upon capital by the new budget as announced by Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George in the House of Commons on Thursday, has not had much effect on prices on the Stock Exchange. Consols improved 1-8 at the opening owing to the comparatively small amount, $15,000,000, taken from the sinking fund, and the markets generally opened quite cheerfully on the theory that the Stock Exchange might have been worse hit.

The increased stamp duties, however, are heartily disliked. It is feared they will drive business away to other centres.

Toronto Boy Loses Leg.

Toronto, May 1.—Wm. Y. Muirhead, a Canadian Northern Railway clerk, fell under a train at Battle Creek, Michigan, yesterday, and lost a leg.

He had left the train for a short time and when he got back it had started. He ran and made a jump for the step, misjudged the speed at which the train was going and went between the two cars.

Lawyer's Tragic Death.

Harriston, May 1.—A. Hamilton, a lawyer, who at one time practiced in Palmerston, and later held a Government position in the west, came home in Ontario for his health. While visiting in the Township of Howick, some four miles out of Harriston, he suddenly left the house Wednesday evening for a walk. His body was found next day in the river.

A Marvelous Improvement.

It has remained for Canada to give to the musical world one of the most important inventions of the century. This is the Harmonic Tone-Prolonging Bridge, which is so marked a feature of the New Scale Williams Piano. This bridge isolates the tone from the plate, and makes each note clear and distinct. Those who have listened to the full, rich, mellow, singing tone of the New Scale Williams Piano can testify to its clarity volume and carrying power.

New Scale Williams Piano is perfectly balanced—treble, middle and bass being beautifully proportioned. This is a noticeable feature in concert work, and is highly praised by artists. Mr. E. T. Murray, leader of the famous "Black Watch" Band says, "The tone is more like a fine Baby Grand than an Upright." And the Harmonic Tone-Prolonging Bridge is but one of many exclusive features in these—Canada's finest pianos. 4

FRED SIMPSON OUTLINES HIS PLANS FOR TO-DAY'S RACE

Told The Examiner Yesterday That He Was Feeling in Fine Shape for the Contest---Considers Marsh Dangerous and Will Stick to Him and Coley---Not Afraid of the Fifteen Milers.

Fred Simpson left Peterborough yesterday afternoon for Toronto, where to-day he will start in the most important race of his professional career, the big Canadian Marathon. Seen by the Examiner yesterday before his departure he stated that he never felt in better condition. The cold that had been bothering him had almost entirely disappeared and he did not seem a bit uneasy about the outcome.

"It promises to be pretty cold over at the Island," he remarked, "but I will be ready for it this time and will wear a suit of Balbriggan underwear beneath my running suit which will keep me from being chilled through. If it is very cold I intend to wear a heavy sweater for the first twenty miles."

"What tactics do you intend to use to-morrow," he was asked.

"Well that's hard to say just now," was the reply. "But as far as I know now I do not intend to cut loose after the fifteen milers, but will hold myself in reserve for the last part of the race. Marsh and Coley are the dangerous men, especially the latter and I will remain with them most of the way. I fancy Sellen, Meadows and Wood will undoubtedly set the pace early, but I think that they will come back later on, and I won't kill myself chasing them although I will try and not let them get too far in front."

No matter what he does in to-day's race at Toronto, Fred Simpson will be a starter in the $10,000 Marathon Derby in New York city a week from to-day and will be called upon to go up against such well-known runners as Henri St. Yves, John Svanberg, Fred Appleby, Mat Maloney, Pat White, the Irish champion, Orphee and Cibot, the French team, who won the International six-day go as you please contest in Madison Square Gardens some weeks ago, and other crack runners. $5,000 is offered for first place and the Peterborough Indian may be counted upon to work his head off for the big end of the purse.

To-day the Examiner is enabled to publish for the benefit of its readers, new photographs of some of the latest arrivals in the running game on this side of the water and no doubt they will be appreciated by the sporting enthusiasts.

WHAT THE DERBY RUNNERS SAY OF THEIR CHANCES TO-DAY

Red Hawk: "I have had hard luck lately, but I think this is my chance. I don't care what kind of footing it is."

John D. Marsh, of Winnipeg: "It all looks alike to me—rain or shine, or anything else suits me."

Fred Meadows, of Guelph: "This is my first attempt at the distance, but I think with careful running can land in the front."

Wm. McNeill, of Toronto: "I'm not as young as I used to be, but I can average 6:30 to the mile, and I think that will about do."

R. Booth: "I feel strong and fit. I'll do my best."

Abbie Wood, Montreal: "I prefer a dry, hard track, but I guess I can negotiate the turf as well as any of them, and if it rains I'll last about as long as the bigger fellows. Size doesn't count in this game—Shrubb, Dorando, St. Yves, and Svanberg, are all little shorties."

W. F. Cummings, Toronto. "Few people know that I hold a B.A.A.A medal for five miles under 25 minutes, but no fancy running for me to-morrow—nothing but plugging. It is a long way from 15 miles home."

R. Redding, Toronto: "The heavier it is the better my chances."

David Bennett, of Hamilton: "I'll be tickled if it is heavy going; that is where my stamina and experience will offset the younger runners' ginger and speed."

H. J. Hatton, of Toronto: "I have beaten good young lads in trials. I'm not worrying about wheather or track."

Fred Simpson, of Hiawatha: "I'cm just as fit as when I ran Appleby. I can rsun on any sort of a track. I should win. I think Marsh is the man to beat."

Chas. Petch, of Toronto: "I can go the route, and I feel fifft to make them all step the last 10 miles."

Caesar Guals, the Italian: "I think I am as good as when I ran in Italy. To-day will tell the story."

Percy C. Sellen, of Toronto: "I would rsather have a dry, hard track and a warm day, but I like the springy turf. It will save my feet. I'll do well enough if it does not blow a gale and chill me to the bone."

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES.

Rain once more affected the campaign in all the big leagues yesterday and only one game was played in each instance, Montreal beating Baltimore in the Eastern, Philadelphia trimming New York in the National, and Detroit again winning from St. Louis in the American.

The Eastern League.

In the Eastern League Smith's pitching was too much for the Orioles who could not hit him opportunely, and as a result the Royals won handily by 3-0.

The National League.

Philadelphia, April 30.—After getting the lead in the first inning on Murray's home run drive, and holding it until the ninth, New York was beaten by Philadelphia to-day by 2 to 1. The home team made only two hits, each a double, off Marquard until the ninth, when Grant led off with a two-bagger. Shean sacrificed, and Grant scored on Schafer's fumble of Titus' grounder. Magee was forced out by Bransfield, who stole second. Osborne then won the game by a terrific drive to deep centre, scoring Titus. Herzog injured his ankle in tripping over the second base bag in the eigthth inning, and Schaffer took his place. Knabe was put out of the game by Umpire Truby—for disputing a decision.

The American League.

Detroit, April 30.—Detroit and St. Louis played on a damp field, in very cold weather, and the champions won 4 to 2. Graham went wild in the third, passing two men after Stanage hit, and Crawford's single, with an error, emptied the sacks. Bush's fielding saved the game for the home team. Detroit made four double plays Summers starting three.

"THE SCHEMING LIEUTENANT" WAS A GREAT SUCCESS.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan's sparkling comedy "The Scheming Lieutenant," was most successfully and acceptably presented by a number of the pupils of the Collegiate Institute in the Assembly Hall last night under the auspices and for the benefit of the Philomathean Society. The delightful vehicle in two acts and six scenes was played in admirable fashion and the young people, taking part won enthusiastic expressions of appreciation from the very large audience who found in the witty lines of the play and the clever acting of the cast, the nucleus of a very pleasant evening's enjoyment.

The frequent waves of laughter which swept through the auditorium indicated in no uncertain manner that the production had taken a strong hold upon the audience, and the young people taking part as well as their fellow pupils of the Collegiate must have experienced to some degree at least a feeling of pride that their efforts were meeting with success.

The work of the entire cast was surprisingly good. Their practice in the debating society has evidently been of much practical benefit to them. Their lines were delivered with expression and in clear tones that were perfectly audible in all parts of the hall, while stage fright was conspicuous by its absence. They showed that they had grasped the true spirit of the comedy and under their skillful treatment, its humour lost none of its force.

Of the play itself, little need be said. It is written in Sheridan's best vein and contains many humorous situations of which the cast took full advantage.

All the members of the case did excellent work and it would be unfair to specialize where all did so well. The pupils are indeed to be congratulated upon their presentation of the production.

During the evening several extra numbers were given that added to the interest. The school orchestra played several selections in spirited fashion and their efforts were received with loud applause. Mr. Kenneth Shock was heard to great advantage in a vocal solo "Loch Lomond", and had to respond to an enthusiastic encore. Dr. Parks gave a violin solo that was indeed a musical gem and the applause he received was merited. As an encore number Dr. Parkes gave "Annie Laurie."

The cast of characters was as follows

Lieutenant O'Connor—Cyril Moore.
Dr. Rosy—Alex Primeau.
Justice Credulous—Maxwell Dobbin
Sergeant Trounce—Stewart Anderson.
Corporal Flint—John Brightman
Mrs. Justice Credulous—Miss Katie Leary.
Lauretta—Miss Dennie.
Nora—Miss Bessie Read.
Soldiers and Countrymen.

JOHN SVANBERG,
Swedish runner, who beat Fred Simpson two weeks ago and who is entered in next week's big event.

EDMONTON TEAM IS WORKING OUT

Peterborough Boys Practising With the Westerners in Toronto—Leave on Tuesday.

Toronto, April 30.—While the Toronto team was storm-bound at Jersey City today, ideal weather conditions prevailed this afternoon at Hanlan's Point for baseball, and the Edmonton team of the Western Canada League, which reported here, had a fine practice on the Island oval.

The field, which last night was inches deep in snow, was as dry as a bone today, and Manager "Dinny" McGuire and his men had a great workout of the diamand, after fungo hitting to the outfield.

Knotty Lee, Harry Downing, Burridge, Smith, and other clever local players were in uniform, twelve in all, and they practiced from 2 o'clock until 5.

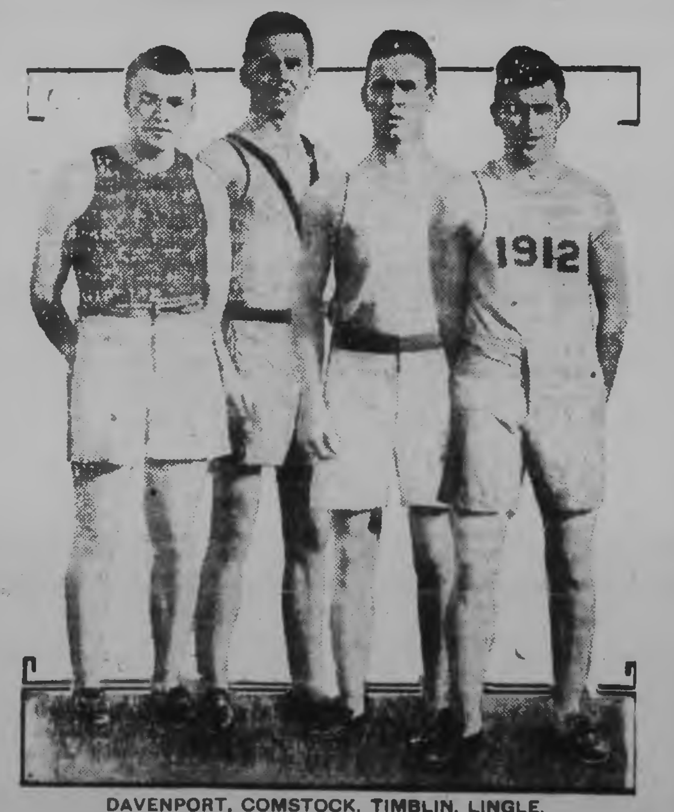
The team will leave for Edmonton on Tuesday.

Catcher Starnagle of the Toronto Club was an interested spectator at the practice.

LOCAL BASEBALL

A meeting of the members of the West Ends Baseball team will be held on Monday evening at eight o'clock in the Y.M.C.A. All the fellows that intend to play this summer with this organization are asked to be present.

CHICAGO'S CHAMPION RELAY TEAM.



DAVENPORT, COMSTOCK, TIMBLIN, LINGLE.
Chicago's crack one-mile relay team which won the college national championship at the University of Pennsylvania's games, in 3:26 4-5.

VICTORIA HARRIERS HARD AT WORK

Their Men are Working Faithfully for the Different Races on May 24th.

The Victoria Harriers are fast rounding into shape and will be in the pink of condition for the various events in which they will have representatives on May 24th. The Vics count on carrying some prizes on the holiday as the men are most enthusiastic and are training faithfully. This week has been a most profitable one in spite of the bad weather and the runs at night have been well patronized, the men turning out in the mud and rain.

It will be a case of watching the Vics all season as they have rounded up a number of fast men.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

At an enthusiastic meeting of the boys of the Y.M.C.A. last night, the Y.M.C.A. Stamp Club was formed under most encouraging auspices and promises to be a great success. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—G. T. Evans.
President—Ken Crane.
Vice-President—R. Langford.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. Eastwood.
Executive Committee—E. Brown and H. Armstrong.

The executive will meet on Monday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock and will draw up a constitution to be submitted to the club at the next meeting on Friday evening next at 7:30 o'clock.

All the members of the Y.M.C.A. are invited to join the new club.

LACROSSE CLUB IS TRYING TO ARRANGE GAME FOR MAY 24

Have Been Negotiating With Toronto Junction and Young Torontos for Holiday Game---Junctions Want $100 for a Contest---Millbrook Would Like to Play Here.

The lacrosse men are sighing for warmer weather as they are anxious to get out into the game. A number are in training and are taking runs nearly every night to get into shape for the opening of the season. At present the Peterborough Lacrosse Club is negotiating for a game here on May 24th, and will likely have a good team here for the holiday afternoon. Toronto Junction were approached as to their coming here for that day but they named $100 as their figure which was regarded as a trifle above market value. The Young Torontos have also been written to as well as the Brantford club, while Millbrook wants a game here on the holiday, so that it is almost certain that there will be a game here all right.

Walking

Byron F. Booth of this city is another local walker who has entered the seven night walking match at Schlitz park, starting May 10. Booth is an experienced long distance walker. Last year he walked between Chicago and St. Louis, Mo.

August O. Raddatz, the German champion, has sent in his entry to Manager H. O. Messier. Raddatz recently arrived in Chicago, having walked between New York City and the Windy city. He claims the championship of Germany, and while in that country has walked many thousands of miles. He tried to get on a match race with Edward Payson Weston when the latter passed through Chicago, but Weston refused. Raddatz says he will finish his training for the race here by walking from Chicago to this city next week.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Jim Harrison is one of the entries in this race and is now in splendid condition. He is of the opinion that he should be up in the money ranks.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 1.—The market was fairly strong with C. P. R., Western Union and the Colo. Southern stocks features. The bears attempted to depress the market but on the slight reaction became very dull, and it was then that good support in the specialties was manifest. During the second hour the market was quiet, although in most instances it was firm. The trading element did not seem able to bring about much liquidation when it attacked prices. At the same time possibilities over Sunday of serious labour troubles in France are to be taken into consideration, while the rather serious weather conditions existing throughout the country to-day are not to be ignored. Until these matters develop a little more and it is known whether a commodity clause decision will be handed down on Monday we expect the market to be rather quiet, with traders not inclined to do much either way. In the event of any good recessions we regard stocks generally as a purchase. The bank statement was good and the market closed firm with especial strength in C. P. R. and Penna.

"PARSIFAL'S" SCENIC ENCHANTMENT

Modern stagecraft—as confined to scenery and the many devices employed to create effects of an unusual or unnatural character—is as full of mystery to the uninitiated as was the unexplored ocean to the followers of Columbus. But just as the trackless ocean led to wondrously fair visions of a new world, so the mysteries of modern stageland provide scenes of enchantment that rival those of Aladdin and his lamp.

In the scenic production of "Parsifal," as in none other, human ingenuity, art and skill have succeeded in creating effects that impress the mind as actually belonging to the realms of fairyland. In the first scene in the third act, the curtain reveals the sorcerer, Klingsor, in his awesome abode, commanding Kundry to appear. The grim shadows of the place just reveal the darker forms of the magician and his slave. In a twinkling, the scene has vanished and the spectator looks in astonished bewilderment on a garden of flowers and playing fountains, where a company of fair girls dart here and there amid the tinted loveliness, in all the abandon and beauty of youth and charm. In an instant, while the spray of the fountains forms rainbow webs aginst the delcately coloured background, and while the gay laughter of maidens fills the air, the Utopian vision is blotted out, a desert appears where flowers bloomed, and prone in the arid sand lie spent and withered human forms.

In Martin and Emery's production of "Parsifal" at the Grand, matinee and night, Saturday, May 8, this and other equally marvellous stage illusions, will be seen. The performance will be a masterly effort, as the members of the visiting company have been chosen for proved ability and special aptitude in the various roles.

Owing to the unusual length of the performance the first curtain will rise at 7.45 sharp. The matinee will commence at 2 pm. sharp. Doors open at 1:30 p.m. Auditors shoulds be seated at that time as the darkened auditorium will prevent showing anyone to their seats during the rendition of the first act.

GRANDFATHER CLOCKS NOW MADE IN PETERBOROUGH

Messrs. Frank Clarke & Son, Jewellers, Are The Enterprising Manufacturers

It will be interesting news to our citizens to learn that Messrs. Frank Clarke & Son, the enterprising jewellers, of this city, corner George and Brock streets, are now manufacturing Grandfather clocks of handsome models. Within recent years, the demands for these inspiring clocks has been steadily increasing. Home decorators have seen the growing popularity of the dignified grandfather clock as an interior embellishment, and have utilized their skill in designing them in artistic elegance. The cost has also become so reasonable that there is no reason why every well-to-do family should not possess one.

Mesrs. Clarke & Son are making a number of designs of these clocks, which are very highly spoken of. The beautiful cases are made in golden oak mahogany and other woods, and finished and polished in a high state of perfection. The cases are the handiwork of Harper & Sons, of Dalhousie street, who are experts in fine cabinet work. In order to meet the public demand, the models, while they differ in design, they differ only in small details, according to the type desired. They are built to stand the test of time, so that they may be handed down from one generation to another.

Messrs. Clarke & Son import the works, and personally adjust them, so as to guarantee every clock to be a reliable time-keeper. Careful selection of parts, careful workmanship, and careful testing is absolutely necessary, so that the every-day performance of the clock gives assurance of perfect accuracy. These are fine, brass-finished, imported movements, with striking hours and half-hours on cathedral gong. The dial has raised, polished brass figures and other ornamental and useful details. Enquiries concerning these clocks will be promptly answered, or they may be seen at the jewellery store of Clarke & Son.

MESSRS. ALEXANDER & MILLER COMPLETE ANOTHER CONTRACT

They Install Two New Motors in J. J. Turner & Sons Manufactory.

The firm of Alexander & Miller, electrical contractors, have just finished an important contract for J. J. Turner & Sons, sail, tent, and awning makers. The execution of the work called for the installation of two three-phase C. G. E. motors, which have been rendered necessary by the increased business of the firm. The installation was done with that good judgment, care and promptness, which has characterized Alexander & Miller's work, and which proves so satisfactory in every case.

A pattern or a style that is becoming to a slender man will be unseemly on a stout man.

One great advantage of getting Clothes tailored the Semi-ready way is the fact that our tailor can study his client and show him patterns that suit his personality, and styles that blend with his individuality. It makes no difference to the Semi-ready dealer what you want, a check or a plain cloth. He can add to your inches by an arrangement of stripe pattern or decrease a generous girth by using judgment in the selection of a design which "pulls in" an abundant waist.

LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN.

The matter appearing in this space from time to time is furnished by the Temperance and Moral Reform League of this City, who have arranged for its Publication.

TRAVELLERS AND LOCAL OPTION.

Citizens of Peterborough who are aafrad that the adoption of local option may lower the standard of Peterborough hotels and keep travellers away from the city would have been interested in a conversation that took place between two commercial travellers and the writer, in a hotel in Belleville. It started when the two travellers commenced kicking because one of the hotels, in a place near Peterborough where local option carried last January, had advanced its rates without giving any improvement in the meals served or the comforts provided. Their resentment was directed against the hotelkeeper. They claimed that he was taking advantage of the situation to over-charge the travelling public who had been his regular customers for years. Both expressed pleasure over the fact that the temperance people purpose taking over a hotel and managing it themselves.

When asked point blank whether or not they thought local option a good thing, the older of the two men replied, "I did not at one time but I do now." To this the younger of the two said, "That's the way it was with me. Now, however, if I had a thousand votes I would give them all for local option."

On being asked what had led him to change his mind the elder of the two replied: "The village of Winchester now is under local option. Before local option, when I used to go there, there were two hotels near each other. Nearly every night I was there, there was sure to be a fight in one hotel or the other. One night one man chased another out of the bar and into the room where I was sitting. The fugitive caught up a poker from under the stove and tried to brain the man who followed him. For a few moments I thought I was going to be the witness of a murder. Another night a local pugilistic world-beater gave the proprietor of the hotel a bad thrashing and for doing so he was set on and beaten into a pulp. Such things are unnerving. The crowds used to hang around the hotel drinking and singing until the early morning hours. I was never sure of being able to get a good night's rest.

"Since local option has come into force the temperance people of Winchester have subscribed about $25,000, and erected one of the best hotels between Montreal and Toronto. It is splendidly managed and has every comfort. The meals furnished are excellent. The rates have been advanced from $1.50 to $2.00 a day, but I am willing to pay the difference for the sake of the extra comforts I enjoy. There are no more rows around the hotel at night, the way there used to be and it is a pleasure to stop at the hotel.

"In hotels where liquor is sold I am never sure of a good night's rest. At one hotel I was at, a drunken crowd kept up their singing and shouting, in a room across the hall from mine, until four o'clock in the morning, although they were asked repeatedly to desist. There is none of that where there is local option.

It Helps Business

"Local option helps business," continued the same speaker. "Collections are better in towns where local option is in force. It frequently happens that if there is a hotel near, your customers will invite you over for a drink. These men spend so much time in the hotels they neglect their business. After local option carries they are right on their job, their business improves and they are more prompt with their payments.

Less Expense

"I cannot see why it is necessary for a hotel keeper to advance his rates after local option carries, because his expenses must be greatly reduced. He does not have to pay a big fee for a license, he saves the salaries and stealings of one or more bartenders, his taxes are less, his fire insurance is reduced, he does not keep open so late, so that his light bill is less and he saves in other ways.

"The hotel keepers, to a great extent have themselves to blame that local option is makng such headway. The yallow such rows around their places when they sell liquor, both the local people and the travelling public become disgusted. The hotel keepers need not claim that it is the church cranks and women who carry local option. There are a great many steady drinkers who vote for local option. One of my customers told me one time that he was going to vote for local option because the saloon near his store had got too much of his money and of his father's money before him. He added that his father, also, was going to vote for local opton."

Both the travellers agreed that there has been an improvement in the hotel accommodation at Stirling since local option came into force. One said, "It is funny if, when we see prohibition sweeping over the States the way it is, we cannot carry local option in Canada."

SOME POINTS FOR PETERBOROUGH CITIZENS.

That the young men of Peterborough have an even better idea than many of the older citizens of this city of the curse of the liquor traffic, is indicated by the following excellent paper that was read last Sunday afternoon, at the meeting held in the Crystal, by Mr. Walter Garbutt, representing the Young Peoples' Society of Murray St. Baptist Church:

The history of strong drink is the history of ruin, of tears and of blood. It is, perhaps, the greatest curse that ever scourged the earth. It is one of depravity's worse fruits, a giant demon of destruction. Men may talk of earthquakes, storms, fires, famine, pestilence, and war, but intemperance in the use of intoxicating drinks has sent a volume of misery and woe into the stream of this world's history more fearful and terrific than any of them.

It is the Amazon and Mississippi Rivers of wretchedness. It is the Alexander and Napoleon among the warriors upon the peace and good of men. It is an evil which is limited to no age, no continent, no nation, party or sex, no period of life. It has taken the poor man at his toil, and the rich man at his desk, the senators in the halls of state, and the draymen on the street, the young man in his festivities and the old man in his repose, and plunged them into a common ruin. It has raged equally in times of war, in times of peace, in periods of depression and in periods of prosperity, in republics and in monarchies, among the civilized and among the savages.

IN ANCIENT TIMES.

Since the time that Noah came out of the ark, and planted vineyards, and drank of their wines, we read in all histories of its terrible doings, and never once lose sight of its black and bloody tracks. States have recorded enactments against it, ecclesiastical penalties have been imposed upon it, societies have succeeded societies for its extermination, but like him whose name was Legion, no man has been able to bind it.

It was strong drink that brought the original curse of servitude upon the descendants of Ham, that has eaten away the strength of Empires, wasted the energies of states, blotted out the names of families, and crowded hell with tenants. Egypt the source of science; Babylon, the wonder and glory of the world; Greece the home of learning and of liberty; Rome, the mistress of the Earth—each in its time had its heart lacerated by the dreadful canker-worm, and thus become an easy prey to the destroyer.

THE CAUSE OF MISERY.

It has drained tears enough to make a sea, and shed blood enough to redden the waves of the ocean, to say nothing of the treasure expended thereon. Some of the mightiest intellects, some of the most generous natures, some of the happiest homes, and many of the noblest specimens of men, strong drink has blighted, crushed and buried in squalid wretchedness.

IT FILLS THE GOALS.

The jails, penitentiaries, almshouses and charity hospitals are tenanted by strong drink victims. It sends forth beggars and floods every city with bestiality and crime, and perhaps done more toward bringing earth and hell together than any other form of vice.

Whatever a man may have been, let him yield to the demon of strong drink, and it requires no prophet to tell what he will be. He inevitably goes down. Manliness fades out of his nature; the tokens of honour, intelligence and integrity vanish from the face that is flushed from excess and jaded with riot and debauchery, and with accelerated speed he hastens on the downward path. In his sober moments he often curses the instruments of his ruin, but he is powerless to escape the evils that encompass him; he knows not how to break the chains that bind him down. An outcast from all that is pure and high and holy. He may sometimes turn a solemn thought to the graves where slumber those whom once he loved and whose love for him endured while life remained, but memory stings him as with scorpion fangs. Reflection is bitter to his soul and his brain benumbed with the alcoholic poison is no longer thrilled with thoughts that wander through eternity, and he whose genius once irradicated the land, and whose eloquence charmed the listening multitudes, cracks his silly jokes, moistens his lips with the burning draught and stupefies himself until his brain and sorrow are forgotten.

Oh, it is a fearful thing to see men on whom God has set, as with his own signet, the impress of intellect and genius, debase themselves to this hell of sin and shame and misery, and yet men laugh and smile and dance as they tread the downward path, and only wake to their danger when they find themselves fettered with bands they cannot break and sunk in wretchedness from which they cannot escape. Let those who have not yet entered upon this dangerous road flee as it were for their lives from a path so full of peril, and let those who already find themselves entangled in these terrible snares cry out mightily to God for deliverance and hasten to escape ere it becomes impossible.

WOULD BE NO NEED FOR PRISONS.

If we could but dry up this one moral ulcer, and sweep away forever all the results of this one form of sin, we would hardly need such things as prisons, asylums, charity houses, etc. The children of haggard want would sit in the halls of plenty and the tears of orphan and widow and disappointed hope would dwindle in a goodly measure. Disease would be robbed of much of its power. The clouds would vanish from thousands of afflicted homes, and peace would breathe its fragrance on the world, almost as if the day of its redemption had come.

This condition of affairs would be grand and the sooner we drive liquor from our midst the better. The temperance cause is a cause for Christ and if we have any desire to have Christ's kingdom come on this earth we must do our best to get rid of this accursed drink business. We cannot have Christ's Kingdom and whiskey too, so now it is up to us here in Peterborough to say which we will have.

I venture to say that if the questions of "whether or not we should let the Kingdom of God come on earth" was put before the public to be decided by their votes that not one vote would be polled against its coming. Now, I think you all agree with me when I say that, and yet, knowing that it is impossible to have it, and the liquor business together, how is it that men will vote against its abolition, and not only vote against it but use their influence and power to prevent it? And, I'm sorry to say that some of these very men are church members and will bow their heads and repeat the Lord's Prayer. You know what that asks for as well as I do and you also know the sin those persons are committing in doing that.

Is there one in this meeting who is classed with those whom I have just mentioned? If so, may God forgive you and may He also convict you of your sin that you will never rest until you have meekly on your knees, begged for forgiveness and reconcilation and in doing so promise, as did Saul of old, to do all in your power to bring about the extermination of this awful traffic and live a life for Christ.

WORK HERE IN PETERBOROUGH

We do not need to go outside of Peterborough to find temperance work to do. We can find abundance of it right here in our midst. Why, within a month, death has visited two homes in our city and carried away two of our citizens who might now have been living good, strong, healthy lives had it not been for liquor. Liquor did not kill them outright but it so weakened their system that when disease set in they were not able to withstand it and soon perished. Hard deaths they were too. One with consumption and the other with pneumonia.

Are we doing our duty in this matter or do we just put on our Temperance and Christian clothes on Sunday? I hope not. Let us decide today that we will do our best for the cause of Christ and of Temperance, and as a previous speaker said sometime ago, "Let us not win local option next January by a snap vote, but with an overwhelming majority." Make every home a committee room to talk over this matter and every chance you get to do something good, do it and you will be abundantly rewarded.

CAMPAIGN NOTES.

Where are you on the local option question? Have you shown your colours yet or are you still on the fence?

Occasionally we read in the papers of ministers who oppose local option. In such cases a little investigation generally shows that they are themselves addicted more or less, to the liquor habit. When such men take a stand against temperance they are apt to cause more harm than they can remedy by years of faithful work.

If you will follow the police court cases in Peterborough from day to day, you will soon see what liquor is doing for this city.

Every drunken man who staggers down the streets and lanes of Peterborough is a walking advocate of local option. No wonder the saloon keepers do their best to keep such results of their traffic out of sight.

CITY'S HEALTH HAS BEEN IMPROVED

Small Number of Contagious Diseases During April as Compared With March.

The city during the month of April has been fortunately free from disease. Only one case of diphtheria was recorded and four of scarlet fever. This showing is very satisfactory compared with the long list during March. This has been the number of cases quarantined by the police. According to rumour there may have been others which were not reported as demanded by law.

Constantinople, May 3.—Thirteen political offenders tried and condemned to death by Court Martial, were hanged in the city to-day. The most conspicuous points were chosen, and thousands of people gathered to look upon the bodies swinging from the improvised gibbets. The sight was a most sickening one. The prisoners took their fate coolly and walked to their death with great courage. The victims included the assassins of Mazim Pasha and those who promoted the uprisig of the Marines in the Kassim Baracks.

PARK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH DEDICATION

The dedication of the new Park St. Baptist church will take place on Sunday, May 9th, 1909, at 3 o'clock. The Dedicatory Prayer will be offered by Rev. J. R. COMMEMORATED THE 74th ANNIVERSARY OF ST. ANDREW'S Excellent Sermons Preached There Yesterday—Rev. Dr. Gandier of Knox College, Toronto, Gave Interesting Discourse in the Morning.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS.

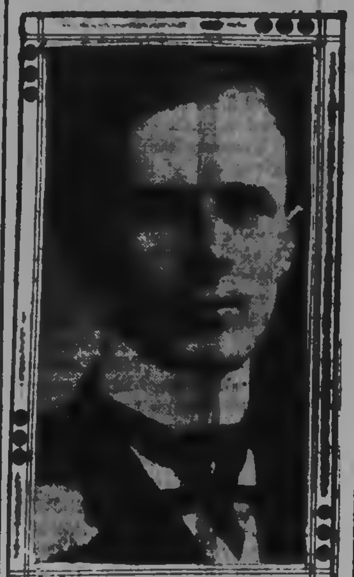
St. Andrew's church celebrated its anniversary with large congregations at both services. Rev. Principal Gandier, principal of Knox College, Toronto, was the speaker at the morning service, and Rev. Dr. Taylor of Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, preached in the evening. St. Andrew's church is going ahead steadily under the pastorate of Rev. J. G. Potter and each anniversary marks the completion of a year that was more successful than the one that preceded it.

At the morning service, Principal Gandier preached an able sermon, setting forth the claims of Knox College as an institution worthy of the suport of the Presbyterians of the province. The christian church, said Principal Gandier, was the most complete embodiment of and gave the truest expression to the spirit of God. All through the ages since it has been founded the church had held this position, even in the darkest days.

The church wielded a tremendous influence upon society. It might be said that the church moulded society. Take the church out of the world and mankind would suffer the severest blow that it could be given.

Principal Gandier spoke of the great need that existed to-day in the church for leaders. Now the most perfect training it was possible to obtain was wanted for the ministry in these days of doubt and inquiry on the part of so many.

The Presbyterian Church of Canada wanted men, strong men, trained men for its ministry. The supply of men for the ministry was totally inadequate for the demand. The field was widening rapidly, especially in the west and north. In addition to the work at home the Presbyterians of Canada had been alloted the great work of evangelizing fourteen million people in the Orient. To do God's work men were wanted for the ministry who had the best education possible to obtain, the highest training, and with a strong grasp of the things unseen and eternal. Money was needed, but men were wanted more than money.



REV. W. A. CAMERON,
Pastor of Bloor Street Baptist Church, Toronto, who will preach next Sunday at opening of new Park Street Baptist Church.

Principal Gandier told of the good work Knox College had done and was doing in the training of men for the Presbyterian ministry. The time had come when it was imperative that a new building must be had and arrangements had been made to dispose of the present building and site and to build a new one on a site that had been secured on the campus of Toronto University. Three hundred thousand dollars would be required to erect the new college and of this amount the City of Toronto was going to contribute a hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The Presbyterians of this province were expected to contribute the remainder of the amount required, and Principal Gandier trusted that Peterborough would do its share. It was a great work and it was worthy of the support and prayers of the people.

At the morning service Mr. Gordon Wright sang a solo, and Miss Lean the solo of the anthem "Praise Ye The Lord."

The Astronomical Society's Meeting Postponed To Thursday

Owing to the importance of the Sunday School gathering on Tuesday evening it has been decided to postpone the meeting of the Royal Astronomical Society which was to have been held on that night, until Thursday evening.

It will be question night and besides the answering of the specific questions which have already been received, opportunity will be given as each of the beautiful photographs are thrown on the screen, for all questions relating thereto. This feature should prove of great benefit as it will clear up many doubts concerning certain planets and their characteristics.

Over sixty new lantern slides have just been received by the Society and in themselves will prove very interesting and instructive. There are some 18 slides on the Moon, the majority of which were made from the famous photographs of this planet taken at the Paris observatory. There are also 12 slides on the Sun, showing the wonderful sun spots at close range and many other interesting features.

As these slides have been sent the local society for this occasion only, and will be returned immediately after Thursday evening, a good attendance is expected to enjoy the treat.

Will Likely Run A Big Excursion To Peterborough On June 1st

It is expected that there will be an excursion from Coldwater to Peterborough on June the first, bringing about eight hundred people to the city. It will be the annual event of the Coldwater Brand of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. They will arrive at ten o'clock in the morning and arrangements are under way to have the steamers take those of the excursion who wish, for a trip down the river.

The committee have communicated with Mr. Dennison, of the Hotel National in reference to the matter and if suitable arrangements can be made, the excursionists will come here.

Cheese Factories Throughout The County Opened This Morning

The cheese factories throughout the country were opened to-day under circumstances which could scarcely be called encouraging. Some of the makers probably thought as they looked upt upon the delayed fall of the beautiful that it was Christmas ime., but then, the cheese makers are a cheerful class and they know that it is only a batter of a few days before the weather conditions readjust themselves to the satisfaction of everybody.

All the factories throughout the county opened up for the summer's business this morning and on the 19th of the month the first meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board will be held.

Has Been Appointed Inspector Of Meters For Alberta Province

Mr. E. A. Roe, Stewart street, who has for some years been connected with the Canadian General Electric Company, in the electric meter department, has been appointed by the Dominion Government, inspector of electric meters for the Province of Alberta, and will levae Peterborough to take up his new duties as soon as he can arrange to sever his connection with the Canadian General. Mr. Roe has been looked upon as a promising and careful young man, who will no doubt efficiently discharge the duties of his responsible position in the West.

READ REVIEW OF SMITH'S NEW BOOK

Rev. H. R. Trumpour of All Saints Church at Ministerial Association Meeting To-day.

The regular meeting of the Ministerial Association was held this morning at the Y.M.C.A. Assembly Hall. Rev. H. J. Keith, the president, occupied the chair and the attendance was very good. While there was the regular routine of business, there was nothing of particular interest to the public. Rev. H. R. Trumpour, rector of All Saints' Church, read a very interesting review of Goldwin Smith's book, "No Refuge But in Truth."

LICENSE REDUCTION.

Less than a quarter of a century ago Peterborough apparently made a business of selling whisky. On Feb. 23, 1885, the license committee reported recommending the granting of twenty shop licenses. The by-law based on this report reduced the number of shop licenses to ten. The motion for the reduction was moved in committee by "Councellor McClellan, seconded by Councellor (the late Arthur) Rutherford." The fee for a shop license was $180.

A PROGRESSIVE TOWN

The town of Welland has often been held up by the Examiner as an example of energy and systematically directed enterprise of a live Board of Trade, Council and leading citizens. Another prof of the justification of this claim, is that the population of the town has increased 500 during the past year, and now stands at 4,500. This growth is no boom but is accounted for by the large addition to its manufacturing industries and these are accounted for by the energy of the citizens. Welland employs a new industries commissioner, who keeps his weather eye open and backed by an energetic and wide-awake Board of Trade sees that new industries are secured, not merely negotiated for. In addition Welland is much favoured by possessing cheap power and water transportation. In the latter respect Peterborough, with the completion of the Trent Canal will be on even terms; and our prominent citizens in authority and otherwise should be casting about for additional power. What we have available, will not last long, it is to be hoped. We should get new industries to exhaust it as rapidly as possible.

THE BRITISH LAND TAX.

Hon. Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, has struck the land lords in a vital spot. It is the privileged classes that are behind the clamour for big war, and naval expenditures. These require money, and to raise money requires taxes. The Chancellor, in his new budget, imposes a tax on land values—unoccupied lands. If the jingoes want to fight they must furnish the ammunition. It appears that there is to be a considerable tax upon future values of land, due to the growth and enterprise of communities. This is getting close to the single tax principles. With millions hungry for bread in Great Britain there are millions of acres of land lying idle or kept only for pleasure and game preserves. Without questioning or approving the right to hold these lands under these conditions, it is plain that the privilege should be paid for. Of course there will be intense opposition and strong influence will be exercised to prevent the adoption of such a measure; but there will be opposition to any form of taxation whatever. Taxation of those best able to bear the burdens, or those upon which such a tax would be no burden, is far better than "protective" tax, which would add to the burdens of the poor who are perpetually confronted with the problem, often unsolved, of making ends meet. Hon. Lloyd George has done well in his budget to avoid taxation of the necessaries of life, which would mean additions to the burdens of the masses.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Toronto's viaduct proves to be a mere word-duct.

The latter day hat is a severe blow to woman suffrage. Would any sane man trust a ballot to a hat like that?

It is safe betting, says the Toronto Star, that Sir James Whitney couldn't obtain a three-fifths majority for Ontario's new coat of arms.

New Ontario promises to be the silver-mounted-section of the Dominion. Another new find, bigger than Cobalt, or Gowganda, is reported thirty miles south of the latter.

Fourteen tons of silver are being paid weekly in old-age pensions in Great Britain. The jingo editors are asking "why this waste?" That money had be better spent in building Dreadnoughts and forging bayonets."

Emperor William of Germany, may consider himself all-puissant, but his game has been blocked in one direction by a mere baby. In the event of there being born no heir to the Crown of Holland, Emeperor William proposed to gobble up the Dutch. To Latinize a popular phrase of commendation, laurea pro the baby of Wilhelmina!

Mr. Gillespie, in an article in the University Monthly for May, says that in twenty German States having a population of 5,700,000, or considerably less than Canada, there were in 1896 2,400 industrial, and technical special schools. What a great country Germany would be if it got the war bee out of its bonnet.

President Taft threatens to swing the club—to veto the tariff revision bill of the United States Congress, considering himself elected on a pledge to revise the tariff downwards, and if Congress doesn't do this he will "bust up" the revision with his little veto. President Taft, in some ways, has more power than King Edward or Emperor William.

THE BRITISH SAILOR.

No naval battle is won by ships and guns, but by the men who handle them. In a recent speech Lord Charles Beresford said: "It is the human element that wins battles, and only the human element."

It is a truth that has been too generally overlooked in discussing the comparative strength of navies. In British history the fact crops up over and over again that victory goes, not to the larger ships or the more numerous fleet, but to the men who refuse to be beaten. If two hostile ships of anything like equal strength meet and engage, one resolved to emerge victorious or not at all, while the other is resolved to emerge whatever happens, the result may be predicted.

A writer in one of our English exchanges states that "our real fighting strength is 128,000, plus 22,950 officers and men—equal, not to a two-power standard, but to the combined navies of Europe; men, however, who are not conscripts, but who have volunteered for a sea life from love of the sea."

This is where the real strength of Britain lies, in her men of the sea. They know their business; they like it; they are numerically strong; they have centuries of success behind them, and a faith in themselves that would prove a great moral asset. In all important aspects the British navy is still in a class by itself.—Toronto Star.

THE SCHOOL BOOK "SAVING"

London Advertiser

Premier Whitney announces that as a result of the new contract for the publication of school readers the people of Ontario will this year be saved upwards of half a millon dollars, and that in each succeeding year there will be a further saving of $125,000.

A little investigation proves this claim to be ridiculous. The Premier bases his estimates on the maximum prices at which the old readers were permitted to be sold under any circumstances, although it is well known they were almost invariably sold at a substantial discount. In Toronto the average cost per pupil per year for readers for ten years past has not exceeded 11½ cents. But even conceding this point, it is not difficult to see how far the Premier is astray in his calculation. The last published report of the Minister of Education—that for 1907—contains the following table, giving the number of pupils in the public and separate schools of the province in that year, with the cost of the old readers at the maximum prices:

First Reader, Pt. I.	112,552	14,255 20
First Reader, Pt. II.	60,194	9,029 10
Second Reader	84,622	16,924 40
Third Reader	89,371	26,811 30
Fourth Reader	85,752	34,300 80
		$98,320 80

It will thus be seen, from the report of Premier Whitney's own minister of education, that at the maximum prices school readers cost the supporters of public and separate schools in Ontario less than $100,000. How, then, is it possible, under this new school book deal, to save the people half a millon dollars the first year, and $125,000 each subsequent year? By what process of mathematical juggling does the Premier arrive at such a conclusion?

The Hamilton Times points out that as a matter of fact if any reduction in prices is effected, it will be through the charging of the cost of the readers to the people's account, through the provincial treasury, instead of allowing it to appear in the price of the books. For many years the existence of a "school book ring," or monoply under previous governments, was alleged, but the giving of a ten year's contract to the Eaton Company is in no way different. Besides, in requiring parents to purchase new readers when those in use are admittedly excellent, means an increase of expenditure rather than a saving.

THE NEW BABY.

(Montreal Herald)

The baby girl just born at the Hague has been welcomed with wild acclaim by the people of Holland, because the poor, helpless little creature, by its mere existence, promises to interfere with the design of German statesmen to get hold of Holland and keep it for their own. Fancy a new born girl in the role of defender of her country against the war lords of Berlin.

It isn't that the youngster, even if she grows up, can do so very much, but as long as she is there Holland will have the undisputed right to say into what sort of alliance she, as occupant of the throne, may enter, and if she weren't there they know very well, these Hollanders, what scope there would be for bickering and quarrelling as to whose friend should be next to sit upon the throne of Holland. It isn't so long since there was a dispute about who might or who might not marry a Spanish princess, and before the argument was over Prussia had seized two French Provinces and carried South Germany, long unwilling, into a consolidated empire. Holland knows whence comes the rivers that reach the sea at her ports, and she knows that at the first opportunity Germany would follow the Rhine to its mouth. Countries with powerful, aggressive neighbours do not like dynastic difficulties; they are too apt to be costly. Of course, the Dutch are a stubborn people, as conquerors from Caesar to Napoleon have learned to their cost, and if no heir to the throne had come along they might have let go the throne and declared for a republic, which they would have been quite able to conduct. Being a heavy, slow-moving people, and withal much attached to their great historical house of Orange, they are overjoyed at the prospect of being spared that necessity. Even in their joy they are showing the war lords how difficult may be the task these latter may be meditating.

Apart from the question of national security, the situation in Holland is not unlike that in England when Victoria was born. The coming of that little lady had also been anxiously awaited, for, when George IV., being separated from his queen, had the misfortune to lose his only daughter, Princess Charlotte, there was no security for the crown in the next generation. The king's brothers were constrained to marry in the interest of the monarchy, something very disconcerting to bachelors so confirmed as they, if we may judge by the diverting Mr. Creevy. The little daughter of the Duke of Kent wasn't entirely welcome to all her royal relatives when she did come, and when her father died, while she was still an infant, they would have packed her off out of the country, but for the shrewd intervention of her uncle Leopold, and, we may be sure, the opposition of the people which could have been counted upon if the attempt was made. The little girl at The Hague may not have the trials of the one born near ninety years ago, but there is no reason, under Providence, why her birth should not as amply secure the succession.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Furnished by J. N. Barber.—

New York, May 3.—Stocks opened about one-half lower all around. The market for the first two hours ruled very dull and a trifle heavy, but transactions were on a very limited scale, and price changes only fractional. Wire communication was still interrupted to some sections, and this had a restricting effect on business. About noontime it became known that a decision in the commodity clause case would be handed down to-day, and the market became very active. When it was announced that the government had won in this celebrated case prices gave way immediately, being led down by Reading, which lost three points at once. Then it was said that there was a misunderstanding over the decision and that Reading had really won and the market jumped up, Reading rising four points in that many minutes. The general market followed slowly.

Iron and steel industries show good improvement.

Amn. Beet Sugar annual report shows best year in company's history in spite of trade depression elsewhere.

Early reduction expected in Bank of England rate, and probably next Thursday. Reduction in Continental rate likely to follow.

Toronto.—Nothing much doing in Cobalts. Markets unchanged to fraction lower.

Baring says: "C. P. R. is good for eight points more. I look for a strong market all this week, and advise purchasers on any recession.

Town Topics: We expect continued absorption of the standard securities with frequent moves toward higher levels and renew suggestion to buy on reactions.

New York.—Engagements of $1,000,000 [illegible] shipment to Paris to-morrow have been made to-day.

Grain News.

Chicago, May 3.—Wheat opened unchanged from Saturday, but immediately rose about a cent and then settled back and quieted down. The bad weather the country over is a big bull card on wheat and the present advance shows that the present price of wheat is not due to manipulation, but to actual conditions. The situation can't get much worse and any change would seem for the better. Therefore, we would advise against buying wheat at these prices. Corn and oats unchanged.

Liverpool close; wheat ⅛ and ⅝d. higher; corn, ⅝d. higher.

When it finally became known that the Reading had really won a big victory the market became tremendously active and strong. Reading rose nearly eight points and the general market gained about three all around, with especial strength in the U. S. steels. The close was strong at the highest of the day.

TWO PRACTICAL SAIL MAKERS ARRIVE TO-DAY

Have Been Engaged by J. J. Turner and Sons for Important Department of Factory.

Two experienced sailmakers arrived in the city to-day, having been engaged by Mr. J. J. Turner to work in his factory. One was Mr. Barnes, from London, England, who brought with him, his wife and three children. The other was Mr. Gavini, of Kingston, Ont. The city's population was thereby increased by six persons. As these two men are finished workmen they will prove valuable additions to Turner's sail-making department.

HER PHYSICIAN ADVISED

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Columbus, Ohio.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during change of life. My doctor told me it was good, and since taking it I feel so much better that I can do all my work again. I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fine remedy for all woman's troubles, and I never forget to tell my friends what it has done for me."—Mrs. E. Hanson, 304 East Long St., Columbus, Ohio.

Another Woman Helped.

Graniteville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."—Mrs. Charles Barclay, R.F.D., Graniteville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills. In almost every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

KINRADE INQUEST RESUMED TO-NIGHT

Detectives Said to Have Strengthened Theory in Kinrade Case.

FAMILY LEAVES TORONTO

Miss Kinrade and Mother Closely Shadowed by Sleuths Take Train for Hamilton—Hints Given In Previous Examination Will Probably Be Elaborated by New Evidence—Baum to Testify.

Hamilton, May 3.—Evidence of a significant character along a line which has been more or less clearly suggested more than once at previous sessions of the Kinrade inquest will be brought forward by the crown at the resumption of proceedings this afternoon.

Florence Kinrade having been served with a warrant the crown is not taking any further steps to ensure her presence, but should she fail to appear, no little surprise will be given the authorities, as her counsel, George Lynch-Staunton, K.C., has practically given an assurance that she, with her parents, will be in attendance. It is stated that there is a liability of a fine of $400 for non-recognition of the obligation imposed by the warrant.

What is not so certain, however, is that there will be no hitch in re-opening the inquest. Mr. Lynch-Staunton strongly desires that it be in camera, but the crown is understood to be favorable to the admission of newspapermen at any rate.

Coroner Anderson says that if it is left to him to decide the reporters will be admitted. The reporters will be present unless the crown officials or Attorney-General Department issues an order for their exclusion.

The reason for the close association with the case of the specialists, Dr. Bruce Smith, and Dr. Clarke, will, it is believed, be better understood as a result of to-day's development. The psychological aspect will be very prominent. It will be shown also that the recent visit of detectives to the Herkimer street house has added an important link in the chain of reasoning, it is said.

As to the actual circumstances surrounding Ethel Kinrade's death nothing new has been learned. The revolver hasn't been found, and it is learned that the authorities have just about abandoned hope of its discovery.

The crown's intention is to have no more adjournments, except from one day to another. No coroner's jury verdict is expected to-night, but it is thought the evidence may be wound up Tuesday night. Miss Kinrade and her father and mother will be the first witnesses Monday, and the evidence of "Jimmy" Baum will be taken at length. Miss Kinrade's examination will be finished by 6 p.m. or 6.30 p.m.

Kinrades Leave Toronto.

Toronto, May 3.—The Kinrade family left for Hamilton on the 11.20 Grand Trunk train last night. They drove from 28 Homewood avenue, where they have been stopping, in two taxicabs to the depot.

Thiel detectives, who have been watching the house started in pursuit, but were not provided with means of swift locomotion. A crowd of curious saw the Kinrades enter the taxies at the door. One man who attempted to follow on foot, gave up the chase in half a block.

It is understood, however, that the departure of the Kinrades was "covered" by the detective agency, and that the train carried one or more of the men who have been working on the case.

The Real Peril.

Vancouver, B.C., May 3.—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie-King, Minister of Labor, Canadian representative at the recent opium conference at Shanghai, has returned from Japan, China and India. He said:

"The real peril so far as the Orient is concerned, lies not in the possible movement of labor from Asia to America; that can be regulated, but in the almost certain movement of capital from America and Europe to Asia, once the industrial possibilities become known, and a greater degree of stability and security of investment is offered."

His Definition.

"Pa, what is an 'interior decorator?'"

"I'm not quite sure, Wilfred, but I think it's a cook."—New York Times

NO WOMAN

CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL.

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that this system of sewerage be not clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which those afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural.

They help the kidneys to flush off the acrid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you.

Mrs. M. Bryanton, Spring Valley, P.E.I., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. They were so bad at times I could not cross the floor for the pain. I tried a doctor but he did me no good at all. I sent to my nearest druggist and got f boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that after taking them I have had no more trouble for nearly three years now."

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

In ordering specify "Doan's"

BROWN VS. WHITE.

India's Troubles Are Purely a Matter of Race.

Victoria, B.C., May 3.—Lord Fred Hamilton, son of the Duke of Abercorn, and a prominent British diplomat and traveler, has arrived here, returning from India where he attended his son's wedding to the daughter of the Governor-General, Earl Minto.

He said the seditious movement in India had been caused by the abolition of the censorship of the press, which allowed the Bengals to scatter their sedition broadcast. The leaders had lately adopted gramophones to spread sedition, and the officials are in a quandary.

"They can't arrest a gramophone, you know," said Lord Hamilton. "It is a mistaken idea, though to say the movement is against British rule. It is purely racial, brown against white, Bengalis are alone spreading sedition, and owing to these tribesmen being despised by other tribes the movement is slower in spreading than it otherwise would."

Funeral of China's Emperor.

Pekin, May 3.—The funeral march to the tombs with the body of the late Emperor will take four days, and the entire route is to be over the great highway especially constructed for the procession. The coffin is massive and heavy. The inside is lined with cypress wood; then comes a covering of catalpa wood, which in turn is encased in rhinocerous hide, while the whole is covered with a stout shield made from the hide of the water buffalo.

The widow of the late Emperor will travel to the tomb by rail, leaving here on May 3.

The Imperial tombs will not be completed for two years, and the actual interment of the body of Kuang Hsu will have to be deferred for this length of time. They will cost, when completed, considerably more than $1,000,000.

Three Lions to Roosevelt.

Nairobi, May 3.—Four lions are trophies of ex-President Roosevelt's camp in the Mau Hills, and the two hundred or more native followers are joining with the party in the celebration of the unusually good luck. Roosevelt's gun brought three of them to earth, each on the first shot. The fourth of the jungle kings fell before the rifle of Kermit Roosevelt.

Lions have been plentiful in the hills for the past month, and the English hunter, F. C. Selous, has been out for several days, laying plans for their extinction. Mr. Selous accompanied the former president, who also was attended by the usual retinue of beaters.

Burns Raps Scaremongers.

London, May 3.—At a banquet given Saturday night by the International Arbitration League, in honor of the visiting German labor leaders, John Burns, President of the Local Government Board, denounced the journalists who are provoking the Anglo-German war scare.

The scare, however, he declared, would be short-lived, as the people were aware that the scaremongers were the same as had lured them into the Boer war.

He believed that the people would never see an international war, involving France, Great Britain, Germany and Russia.

200 Deaths From Storm.

Atlanta, Ga., May 3.—The storm which for three days has been sweeping with destructive effect eastward across the Southern States, Saturday night passed out into the Atlantic Ocean.

The havoc wrought in its path included probably 200 killed, twice as many injured, and property worth several millions of dollars destroyed, and business and communication well nigh demoralized.

Saturday, in its passing off to sea, it apparently had lost none of its vicious energy with 34 more deaths in Georgia.

Japan's Artillery.

Tokio, May 3.—The Japanese War Department has been testing a new field piece, that it effective to five miles and fires 6,000 rounds at the rate of 20 a minute. A new method of recoil and some new sighting apparatus has been invented for the ordnance.

The two new battleships just laid down at Yokohama and Kure, are to be larger than the Dreadnought, their dimensions being 20,800 tons, length 480 feet, breadth 85.6 feet, with speed of 20 1-2 knots.

$330,000 Asked for Picture.

London, May 3.—The famous Holbein portrait of Christiana of Denmark, which as a loan from the Duke of Norfolk, has hung in the National Gallery for twenty-eight years, has just been sold by the duke to an art dealer, with an option that the nation may purchase it within a month, for $330,000.

The National Gallery has no resources and an appeal has been made to the public to prevent the picture going to America.

Fizzle In New York.

New York, May 3.—Ungracious May Day weather here spoiled the plans of the industrial workers of the world for a "monster parade, mass meeting and demonstration in behalf of labor." Fewer than 3,000 of the expected 50,000 persons turned up for the parade, while only about 400 men with umbrellas stood in Union square, chosen for the public meeting, and listened to the speakers. There were a number of meetings held under roof during the afternoon and evening, and for the most part well attended.

Unknown Man Killed.

Brockville, May 3.—The body of an unknown young man awaits identification at Ma[illegible] town, a short distance west of Brockville, on the line of the G.T.R. Saturday night he was either struck by or fell from a freight train, on which he is thought to have been stealing a ride.

Tragic Deaths Killed Mother.

Chatham, May 3.—Grieving since last summer, when two of her sons were killed in a C. W. & L. E. electric car smash here, Mrs. John Pleasance, wife of the proprietor of the Rankin Hotel, died yesterday. She never recovered from the shock of losing her sons.

Jap Fleet at Frisco.

San Francisco, May 3.—With the booming of salutes and the exchange of official visits, the Japanese training squadron, commanded by Rear-Admiral H. Ijichi, anchored within a cable length of Rear-Admiral Swinburne's Pacific fleet in San Francisco Bay Saturday.

Union Strike at Poughkeepsie.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y., May 3.—The union painters, tinsmiths and plumbers of this city, 250 in all, will go out on strike to-day to force the masters to refuse to [illegible] contracts on buildings where work of other trades has been done by non-union workers.

Rev. Canon George Rogers died at Lethbridge.

There were no May Day disturbances in Paris.

The second national peace conference opens in Chicago to-day.

Alex. M. Scott of London, Ont., celebrated his hundredth birthday on Sunday.

The postoffice and a number of stores at Elk Lake were burned on Saturday.

A new lake steamer has been contracted for by the Erie & Western transportation line.

It is reported in England that Earl Grey's term as Governor-General is to be extended a year.

The young son of Mr. Archibald Hogg was drowned near Chatham by falling into a roadside ditch.

30,000 Words In Question.

Cambridge, Mass., May 3.—Cut down over night by some 30,000 words to 1,470, because the judges refused to admit it, a record-breaking hypochetical question in the case of Chester Jordan, on trial for the murder of his wife, was read in court Saturday. It recited the facts of the case and concluded with these words:

"Taking all these things into consideration, was such a person capable at the time of the commission of the act, of knowing its nature and penalty?"

Royalist Marquise In Jail.

Paris, May 3.—A crowd of 200 young Royalists, of both sexes, with bunches of flowers in their hands, gathered at the Palace of Justice Saturday to greet the Marquise de Vasselot when she surrendered herself to the police after her condemnation by default to five days in jail for having taken part in the recent Joan of Arc manifestations. The marquise was escorted by her admirers to prison, where she was locked up to serve her sentence.

Editors Arrested.

Indianapolis, May 3.—Delavan Smith and Charles R. Williams, proprietors of The Indianapolis News, were formally arrested late Saturday afternoon and in the United States District Court they were released by Judge Anderson on $5,000 surety, each giving bail for the other. They are charged with criminal libel in the Panama Canal matter. They will fight extradition.

Where Is Abdul's Gold?

Constantinople, May 3.—A particular search is being made for the hoards of cash which Abdul Hamid is reported always to have had on hand. He has also great sums invested abroad. None, however, has been found as yet, although the former Sultan must have had at least a few hundred thousand pounds in the domestic exchequer.

Healey Succeeds O'Brien.

Cork, May 3.—Maurice Healey, Independent Nationalist, was on Saturday elected a member of Parliament to represent the city of Cork, in place of William O'Brien, the Nationalist member who recently resigned his seat. Healey received 4,706 votes; Crosbie, Nationalist, polled 3,547.

From Boiler-room to College.

New York, May 3.—From the engine-room of a hotel to a professorship in a university is a step few men have taken, but this is what has happened to J. C. Jurgensen, who has quit his job at the Hotel St. Regis to take the chair of engineering plant instruction at Columbia. He will begin his duties next fall on his return from a visit to his native home, Copenhagen.

To Prevent Massacres.

St. Petersburg, May 3.—The Russian Ambassador at Constantinople has been instructed to join with the other ambassadors to have the Turkish Government take measures to prevent a repetition of the massacres in Adana.

Textile Workers to Strike.

Montreal, May 3.—At a meeting on Saturday night of 250 textile employes, a majority voted in favor of a strike to-day. About 200 quit work, but their places can easily be filled.

PARISIAN SAGE

Puts Hair on Your Head and Keeps It There

What's the use of being bald? What sense is there in deliberately allowing your hair to turn gray? Do you want to look old before your time? Give up the thought; old age will come all too soon.

Look after your hair. Parisian Sage will kill the dandruff germs, and is the only preparation, so far as we know, that is guaranteed to do so.

Man or woman, no matter how old you are, Parisian Sage will make you look younger.

Why not go to Wm. Madill, corner of Hunter and George streets and get a large bottle to-day, it only costs 50 cents, and your money back if it does not cure dandruff, stop falling hair, or itching of the scalp. It will make your hair luxuriant, bright and beautiful and it is the most refreshing, pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

SEVERAL ENGLISH FAMILIES ARRIVED

On the C. P. R. and G. T. R. Trains This Morning—Came Out on S. S. Canada.

A number of immigrants arrived from the old country this morning on both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. trains. There were about six families got off here. They sailed from Liverpool on the Steamship "Canada," on April 22nd, arriving at St. John's last Friday.

Some of the men had positions to go to while one man got one shortly after he arrived. Farmers are badly in need of help and none of the new arrivals ought to be without work.

Last Meeting Of Literary Society Was Marked By An Enjoyable Lecture

Miss Ella Brady Addressed the Ladies of St. Peter's T. A. S. on "The Dream of Gerontius" on Friday Night.

ENJOYABLE PROGRAMME.

The last meeting of the Ladies' Literary Society of St. Peter's T.A.S. for the season 1908-1909 was held on Friday night, and the unusual large and appreciative audience was present. Miss Minnie Coughlin occupied the chair and presented the following musical programme:

Duet—Miss Sullivan and Miss Hattrick.

Vocal Solo—Florence Gardiner.

Vocal Solo—Miss O'Dette.

Duet —Misses K. White and M. Murty.

Violin Solo—Misses Dorris and McCarthy.

The event of the evening was the reading of an essay on "The Dream of Gerontius," by Miss Ella Brady, who treated the subject entirely from a literary standpoint. She divided the composition into two parts—the first describing the death bed scene and the second the flight of the soul to the gates of Purgatory. The dream is a rare poetic rendering into English verse of that high ritual, which from the deathbed to the Mass of Supplication encompasses the faithful soul. It pierces indeed beyond the veil, but in strict accordance or analogy with what every Catholic holds to be there. It teaches us the great mystery of how the spirit feels when its fleshly ties to earth is severed, and we soar with the soul into those unknown and untried regions. We are invited to follow a soul through its last agony and upward flight to leave it where its Guardian Angel must leave it for a while in the place of its final purification.

What gives this remarkable poem its distinguishing characteristic is, that while to a superficial glance it seems to tread a well-known and beaten track, it is in truth, a vigorous flight of the imagination into a region scarcely entered before. Gerontius unveils to us all the processes of his mind in its embarcation and its voyage over the untried sea, with an air of sober reality which carries conviction of truth along with it. By a strong effort of thought, the poet has so placed himself under new conditions of existence, so projects himself into his own future, that we do not dream of questioning the accuracy of his description. Gerontins is the representative of that noblest type of man—the Saint.

Holy resignation to the divine will and ardent love of God compose his character so far as we are made acquainted with it. When the drama opens Gerontins is lying on his deathbed. He is conscious of the utter collapse which follows the withdrawal of God's sustaining power—he discerns the nearness of death. Feeling his strength fast failing he beseeches his friends to pray for him; and it is during the recital of their prayers that the voice of faith is heard; the hand of faith is seen stretched out to grasp the things invisible and external. Gerontius gathers his remaining strength together and rouses himself to make this last profession of faith and to make the best use of the short interval left him by preparing to meet his God. Alone, the spirit utters its beliefs, while it seems to be falling into an abyss. The friends who kneel around his death-bed repeat their Litany, and call earnestly on the Deliverer of all His faithful of old in their time of trouble, to give help and comfort to His dying servant now. Strengthened by their intercession Gerontius commends his departing spirit to His Lord and yields it up in peace.

In the second division of the poem we accompany the now freed spirit into the unseen world, and from this moment whatsoever happens can only be "dreams that are true, yet enigmatical." Gerontius goes to sleep—he dies—but soon awakes to find himself refreshed by a strange sleep, followed by an "inexpressive lightness, and a sense of freedom." Now ensues a subtle analysis of the mind's workings, the strange power of divining the unknown by the known. In the midst of its conjectures the soul becomes conscious that it is no longer alone. A mystic heart-subduing melody reveals the presence of the Guardian Angel, in the hollow of whose hand it is being borne to judgment. In conversation with the Angel, it discovers something of the marvels of its present state. It discovers that it is in the "immaterial world," where intervals are no longer measured by "the swing this way and that of the suspended rod," and that it is hastening to its Judge's presence with a flight not ruled by space or time, yet rendered slow by its own impatient desire—"It is the very energy of thought which kepes thee from thy God." And now, as the soul speeds onward to the goal of its long desire, it encounters the baffled powers of the evil beings, who are hungering after it, and endeavouring to renew in it the old spirit of rebellion; and in spiteful mockeries accuse God's servants of obeying Him, only for interested motives. But the soul, instead of becoming afraid is filled with serenest joy and all its fear of judgment is fled. But pain is still before the soul—pain, not longer of temptation and fear, but of fiery and purifying desire of love at finding itself so unworthy of God. The soul learns that its veriest sharpest purgatory will be the agony which from "the face of God, shall smite it with a keen and subtle pain";

"There is a pleading in his pensive eyes
Will pierce thee to the quick and trouble thee,
And thou wilt hate and loathe thyself."

The whole scenery of the creation, fall, redemption, and the soul's approaching agony is made known to the soul in the songs of angels, through whose hosts he is borne, till again he hears the prayers and intercessions of those kneeling around his death-bed ascend from the earth "as dew in summer even," and borne into the very presence of God. Before the throne the Great Angel of the Agony intercedes for this fresh penitent and his pleading obtains for the soul the sight of Him whom it loves. The eager spirit darts from the hold of its Guardian Angel and with an intemperate energy of love flies to the feet of its Redeemer. The keen sanctity which encircles the Crucified now seizes it and it lies passive and still before the awful throne. That one moment of the Beautific vision soothes by its sweet remembrance the coming ages of the soul's anguish.

The golden prison—Purgatory—opens its gates, and the souls in Purgatory are heard chanting their solemn praise—"In the morning we shall be filled with Thy mercy." "We shall be glad according to the days of our humiliation." The soul, "without a sob, or a resistance," is consigned by its Guardian Angel to its cleaning sorrows.

So ends a poem which not only elevates our thoughts, but at the same time sends them down deeper, but the feeling left in our souls by its peculiar and serious harmony is best expressed by Cardinal Newman's own melodious words and must be read in the original to be appreciated.

During the evening the Secretary, Miss Kate McGrath, read the annual report which gave evidence of a very successful year for the society.

"Uncle Dudley" Thinks That The Teachers Will Have To Be On Their Guard In The Future

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir, — When the Carman-Jackson controversy was in full swing it was treated as infantile prattle by the great majority. When the Sultan of Turkey was chased from home we read the headlines in the papers with little concern, and while Dreadnoughts are being built for 98c per dozen, we do not quake with fear. These disturbances are too far away to cause us to lose much sleep.

But, alas, the dark wreaths of smoke from the old drill shed fire have returned to Central Park in the form of a little war cloud. Education is a subject which is of vital interest to all of us. Yes, the battle has begun. On Saturday afternoon the mine was sprung and page ten of the Examiner contained the boom, bang, of the artillery of the attacking force.

The plaintiff has said his "say" and the defendants are doubtless preparing a strong case. In fact one can easily imagine that every orifice in the grand Collegiate edifice is bustling with the cadets' musketry and the lawn surrounding the building has been transformed into a deep sea upon which an armada of Dreadnoughts is keeping an eternal vigilance. In addition, one sees, or thinks he sees, huge signs bearing this strange device:

Cross Dog kept here.
Educational spies not welcome.

If Mr. Barton Earle's unveiled insinuations concerning the alleged discourtesy, selfishness, inefficiency, favouritism, laziness, ingratutude, bigotry and money-grabbing, displayed by the Collegiate staff is true and proven so, he should receive the Victoria Cross and a formal demonstration in his honour on May 24th. Indeed it is only a public-spirited hero who could express such opinions in the columns of a newspaper. However, it can be said that there are less offensive, quieter and even more effective ways of righting a wrong—if such exists.

There is not a shadow of a doubt that Mr. Barton Earle's theory on hate and love is scientifically correct as expressed in his own words: "We hate because people do things that prevent our loving them." The thoughts of the Collegiate staff concerning Mr. Earle would be worth more than a penny apiece, but perhaps it would be in the interests of universal peace to keep those thoughts in cold storage till their "heat" is absorbed. To the teachers this injunction might be offered: Keep your coats on, boys, Mr. Carnegie endorses the peace movement!

Only half the story has been told. The teaching staff of the Normal School is entitled to a heaping measure of sympathy when one considers the nerve-racking suspense under which they will live during all this week. For, indeed, are they not warned in advance that they will receive their "medicine" next Saturday?

Will it be sweet or will it be bitter?

They are to be pitied as they ponder day by day on their impending fate.

Now, Mr. Editor, it is to be hoped that Mr. Earle will not refrain on this account from publishing the remaining articles of this series as he is undoubtedly causing the learned ones in our community to sit up and take notice. The result of last Saturday's essay will be that the class rooms in the several schools will be marked, "Private during class hours," or a properly qualified official will be appointed in each school to entertain visitors "according to Earle (Hoyle)."

Of none but thee I will complain—
There's none I love so well;
But far from thee I grieve in pain,
To whom I've bid farewell.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this opportunity of pouring a little soothing-syrup on the disturbed waters of the sea of learning in this city, I am,

Yours for peace,
UNCLE DUDLEY.

OBITUARY

MRS. FREDERICK NICHOLLS

Death came with startling suddenness to Mrs. Nicholls, wife of Mr. Frederick Nicholls, second vice-president and managing director of the Canadian General Electric Co., at her beautiful home, 13 Homewood Place, Toronto, on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Nicholls sat down to dinner with the family about 7 p.m., apparently in her usual good health. Shortly after dinner she retired to her room, where she was stricken with apoplexy and died shortly afterwards without recovering consciousness.

Deceased was Miss Florence Greburn, of Ottawa, but the greater portion of her married life was spent in Toronto. She was a lady of charming personality, charitable to a degree and greatly beloved by her large circle of friends and acquaintances. The intelligence of her untimely demise will be received with general regret. Besides her husband she leaves a family of four sons and three daughters. The sons are Henry G. P., Walter, Frederick, Jr., and Norman. One daughter, married Mr. Ernest Proctor, and the other two, Hazel and Bessie, are at home. Mrs. Nicholls was a member of the Anglican Church.

The funeral which was private, took place to Mount Pleasant cemetery, Toronto, on Friday.

MR. PORTER

The death occurred to-day of Wm. H. Porter ,aged 70 years, resident of Smith township, having hired a number of years at Bridgenorth and Selwyn. Some four years ago he moved to Hamilton to make his home with Chas. H. Mann, at whose residence, 132 Young St., his death took place at 11 a.m. Mr. Porter has been in ill health for some time, but his sudden demise was quite unexpected, heart failure was cause of death, as he was about as usual through the morning. Mr. Mann and sister were attracted in the dining room by his fall, and rushing to his aid, found him helpless and in a fe wseconds he passed away in their arms. The funeral will take place on Monday a.m. at 10.30 o'cloc kto the Hamilton cemetery.

IZAAC SMITH.

Mrs. F. H. Rieger, 739 Water St., received a telegram from Ingersoll this morning, conveying the sad intelligence of the death of her father. Mr. Isaac Smith. The death occurred on Sunday. Mr. Smith was 53 years old. The funeral will be held in Ingersoll on Wednesday afternoon.

Dangers Of Intemperance Emphasized In Able Sermon

Rev. Father Derling of Toronto Spoke at St. Peter's Cathedral Yesterday Morning in the Cause of Total Abstinence From Strong Drink.

THE VALUE OF SOBRIETY.

"No drunkard shall possess the kingdom of God."

Taking these words of St. Paul's as his text, Rev. Father Derling, of Toronto, preached an able sermon at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday morning on Temperance, or rather total abstinence from intoxicants. In plain and impressive words he clearly set forth the dangers of this vice, gave illustrations of the ruin and degradation which it entails and concluded by emphasizing the necessity of every man belonging to a total abstinence society and in this city to St. Peter's T. A. S.

The world of to-day, Father Derling said, is a world of socities. In every walk of life they are found. Men realize more can be accomplished by united efforts than by the endeavours of individuals. The influence of the devil is found in some societies and the church needs a society to undo the evil for which they are responsible. There was no society which confers so great and so many benefits upon the individual as the total abstinence society. Father Derling spoke in praise of St. Peter's T. A. S., which was doing a great deal of good. The zealous pastor, who has given it his every thought, would not rest content until all the men of the parish were members. He would do so for good erasons. He would do so for good reasons. The good shepherd does not wait until the sheep falls in the ditch. He is ever on the alert and as a spiritual shepherd he must look after his flock.

Manifold Sins.

The drunkard sins against nature, his fellowman, his God, and his religion. By the fifth commandment we are commanded to take a reasonable care of our bodies, not exposing them to dangers. Father Derling here detailed many ways in which intemperance ruins the bodies which God entrusted to our care. It also degradates the soul, the image and likeness of God, by destroying the will, killing the power of faith and causes all idea of God to disappear. The drunkard neglects his Christian duties and it is almost a miracle to bring back to God a man who has been using liquor in excess.

By the virtue of charity we should give a good example to others. The husband and father destroys the happiness and peace of his home by his curses and quarrels while intoxicated. Instead of setting a good example he is often the cause of bringing others to a condition like his own.

The first commandment states we must honour and worship God. The drunkard blasphemes the name of God by his foul oaths and curses, and is a scandal to his church. More harm is done by one drunkard in this manner than by one hundred others.

"When your priests and pastors exhort you to become a total abstainer," Rev. Father Derling said, "it is to protect you against these crimes." He paid a glowing tribute to the abstemious man, the husband and father who is true to his home duties, who is an honour to religion to Almighty God and to society. The example of such a man is more beneficial than one hundred sermons. By keeping free from strong drink a man can more easily lead a good Christian life and will more easily work out his eternal salvation.

FARM AND DAIRY'S NEW FEATURES

That entertaining and instructive farm weekly, Farm and Dairy, which is now published in Peterborough, is becoming more and more popular. Its frone cover is an education in itself. Photos of farm houses, farm buildings, rural scenes, illustrations, of improved types of stock, cattle, sheep, pigs, and poultry and cartoons, all in good season, enliven the cover.

All who read Farm and Dairy are loud in its praise. Many expressions are heard, of how this farm weekly has came to the front. Subscriptions for Farm and Dairy can be secured at this office, by taking advantage of our special clubbing rate with that paper. Sample copies may be had by aplying to Peterborough, direct.

A special Farm Improvement number will be issued May 6th, which is the fourth in a series of a set of eight special magazine issues to be issued throughout the year. This magazine number contains much information of value to the farmer, on the improvement of his farm.

The Farm Water Supply in Its Installation with several illustrations, by J. R. Philip, of Huron Co., forms the introductory article. It alone is worth the subscription price. Rural telephones, fencing, roofing, underdrainings and many other kindred subjects are handled in this special issue by all well known authorities.

Special plans and drawings of farm houses, with a timely article on the Model Farm Home, by Dr. Helen McMurchy, will be a feature of the Household Department. The regular departments of the paper are not curtailed in any way, in the issuing of these special magazine numbers.

Complete plans for an up-to-date piggery are furnished by Mr. J. H. Grisdale, of the Experimental Farm at Ottawa. A large number of illustrations will appear in connection with the special articles.

You cannot afford to miss this issue, if you are thinking of improving your farm this year. The issue is full of good live and economical hints, that may be worth many dollars to you.

THE WEATHER.

"Variety" is the weatherman's watchword, at present, and during the past few days this little earth has been served with changes of all kinds. Wind with rain, and wind with snow, have made things disagreeable as could be wished for at this season of the year, and if the sun were to peep from behind a cloud he would hardly be recognized, so long has his welcome face been absent. Those people who will tell you to look cheerful, spread happiness, and at all times be as pleasant as you can; people of this cult are having their own time in maintaining that sunny smile, and when some one says, according to custom, "Fine Day'" they usually answer "Rotten" in no uncertain tone. The Spring hats, feathers and dresses, are like Spring chickens: Some are half hatched, and others are making a desperate effort to survive. Yesterday the millinery display was neither general nor was it up to the standard. The Easter parade has not happened yet, but wait, there is still a chance, Sarah. In a week or two you will have every chance to show that new outfit, so drive slow, the May Bells will soon be ringing in the wildwood.

Scene from "Parsifal," Martin and Emery's big production, which comes to the Grand next Saturday, May 8th. Matinee and night. Plan opens Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Christ's Purpose In The Building Of His Church

Able Sermon Preached Yesterday Morning at St. Paul's Church by Rev. Dr. Taylor of Cooke's Church, Toronto.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

A most scholarly discourse was preached at St. Paul's Church yesterday morning by Rev. Andrew T. Taylor, D.D., on the occasion of the aniversary. Large congregations were present both morning and evening, Rev. Principal Gandier, D.D., of Knox College, delivering an inspiring sermon at night.

Rev. Dr. Taylor's remarks were given an attentive hearing. He is a forcible speaker and his sermons yesterday could not fail to impress those who were fortunate enough to hear him. The musical service was of an exceptionally high order. At the morning service Miss Helen Davies and Mr. Harold Lee sang solos in an acceptable manner. During the offertory the choir rendered the anthem. "I heard the voice of Jesus say," with solos by Miss Davies and Mr. W. McIlroy.

The Sermon

Dr. Taylor based his discourse on part of the eighteenth verse of the sixteenth chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel, "I Will Build My Church." This, the speaker said, was a portion of the graphic dialogue between Simon Peter and Jesus Christ. Two ideas were expressed in the words of the text, the nature of the foundation of Christ's Church and the purpose and determination of it. It was to the latter of these that Dr. Taylor directed the attention of his hearers. The speaker took each word and dealt with the significance of them.

The first one conveyed the thought of the Master mind, the model character of Jesus Christ. The most essential thing to the whole institution of the church was the Spirit of the Saviour. Then the speaker noted the significance of the words "I will build it." If one compared building with creating, he said, he would catch the true meaning of the word. In building, material things were much in evidence but God created from nothing. Thus, he asked, what were the materials with which Christ built His Church. He constructed it of both the human and divine elements. The Catholic Church said that Christ founded His Church on Peter. Others said that it was founded on Peter's confession, but the speaker believed that it was founded on Simon Peter, possessed of a conviction.

Christ's Church

Christ did not say "I will build a church," but He called it "My Church." It was not to be a Presbyterian one which, the speaker remarked, was but a fragment of Christ's Church. He meant every one that represented Him. The Church of Christ was a vital collection of those who followed the Saviour. As one read through this passage of Scripture he would at once see the sublimity of Christ's purpose, the Master's exhortation to bring together in one fellowship those that believed in Him, to develop spiritual training. That all might be one in Him was His constant prayer.

Secondly, He desired the promulgation if His Gospel to the ends of the world. All Christians must work. Christ's plan was that each one should be individually responsible to Him. The reverend gentleman urged his hearers to consecrate their talents to Christ in His service. No more was expected of one than he was able to give. The work of the church was no child's play. It was just as neces*sary now as it was in the early days.* The same conditions exisited to-day. Many were giving plenty of money to the church but were doing no real spiritual work. They were hiring, as it were, others to do their share.

In closing he said that the supreme thing in this life was to make men and women like Christ, the performance of Christ's purpose.

C. G. E. Anglers Prepare For Summer At Annual Meeting

Elected Officers for the Season and are All Ready to Re-commence Their Jaunts to Rice Lake—Will Probably Get a New Wharf Near the Cottage—They Should Have Pleasant Season.

A FEW REMINISCENCES.

"Izaac Walton will never be dead while the C. G. E. Angling Club is in existence," some one has been recorded as saying, and to keep alive the good sport the Jolly Knights of the Angle held their annual meeting on Saturday night and are now once more prepared "to fish in (the) troubled waters" of Rice Lake. The coming summer promises much pleasure, and if the Official Liar does not have a busy time recording the new and original stories that will be fished up during the midsummer months it will not be o naccount of the barrenness of his fellow anglers.

On the walls of their cottage at the forks of the Otonabee, where it enters the lake in a double course there are many inscriptions placed by members of the club, and one or two of these are published herewith, it being the only opportunity for so doing, and furthermore to let the public know that the C. G. E. Anglers are the kind of fishermen in which Walton himself had most interest. For instance "Cap" Brundrette is reported responsible for this inscription in the little gilded frame on the north wall of the dining room.

"The pleasant'st angling is to see the fish
Cut with her golden oars the silver stream,
And greedily devour the treacherous bait."

The above is inscribed "Shakespeare," and on investigation the quotation has been found correct.

Jack McCabe reminds his fellow anglers that angling is an art, by the verse in the little dark frame in the lounging room, beside the window facing the river. It runs thus:

"But should you lure
From his dark haunt, beneath the tangled roots
Of pendent trees, the Monarch of the brook,
Behooves you then to ply your finest art."

It was remarked on the side that this is a standing rebuke to several of the anglers, who catch their 12-pounders in Hiawatha from Billy Naugon, and some of the other professionals. On second consideration their names will not be given out this year, but if there is a repetition during 1909 no mercy will be shown in future. How are they found out? Easy money! Chef Trombly can tell at a glance whether it is fresh from the water or whether an Indian had it with several others in a tin pan behind his shack.

The officers.

Commodore Wilson was chairman for the meeting which was fairly well attended. The election of officers resulted as follows:

Commodore—J. G. M. Wilson.
Captain—W. Brundrette.
Sec.-Treas.—J. J. McCabe.
"Royal" Chef—J. Trombly.
Guide—P. L. Allison.
Bard—E. Maybee.
Official Liar—R. Dobie.
Scullion—R. J. Martin.
Cabin Boy—T. Byers.
Rear Admiral—R. M. Roy.
Executive, Committee—J. G. M. Wilson, J. J. McCabe, Geo. Tovey, Fred Shannon, A. W. Patterson and W. Brundrette.

The initiation of the new members will be held shortly, the exact date for this important event not having been decided upon yet.

A New Wharf.

The club is considering the question of trying to secure a wharf near the cottage this year and strong hopes are held out for the realization of this expectation, as it will not only be a boon to the anglers but will also be a great convenience to a number of the farmers in that vicinity who come to Peterborough every Saturday.

COMING CHORAL FESTIVAL, "THE DAUGHTER OF JAIRUS"

To be Presented in St. John's Church Within the Present Month—St. John's Choir, Assisted by Eminent Soloists and Effective Orchestra.

A choral festival of more than ordinary interest is preparing for presentation by St. John's choir in the present month under the able leadership of the organist and choirmaster, Mr. R. J. Devey. St. John's possesses one of the largest purely voluntary choirs in Canada, with a membership of over fifty voices, and a library ranging from simple anthems to oratoria solos and choruses. Sir John Stainer's well known work, "The Daughter of Iairus," will be given, having as soloists Miss Helen Davies, Mr. H. Morphet, Mr. G. Chandler and Mr. Barbon, Toronto. The local Grand Opera House orchestra, complete, with Tympani—from Toronto—will furnish effective accompaniments with the organ, and Handel's "Hallelujah" chorus will be the final number.

By kind permission of the Rev. Canon Davidson, the festival will take place in St. John's Church. All residents of the city interested in choral music are asked to communicate with the conductor, Mr. R. J. Devey, at his home, 285 Park street, by letter or telephone, 1323.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

No production ever given in either

No production even given in either Europe or America has caused as much talk and discussion as "Parsifal," which Messrs. Martin and Emery will offer at the "Grand" next Saturday, May 8, matinee and night. Church and laity, press and theatregoers have vied with each other as to the significance of "Parsifal" and after the stormy comment finally subsided, the universal opinion was that "Parsifal" was vital, dramatic and triumphant. Messrs. Martin and Emery's organization has been touring the continent for the past three years, meeting with signal success in all cities wherever presented.

THAT AWFUL PAIN IN THE BACK

Lots of men, and women too, are limping about the house—groaning in easy chairs—or tossing about the bed—because of that nagging pain in the back. The old standbys—hot vinegar, porous plasters, liniments, etc.—don't do any good any more. You see, you are a bit older now. The kidneys are not as strong as they used to be. And even those "blistering" liniments and plasters won't stimulate the kidneys.

Your trouble is kidney trouble. The kidneys are not diseased, they are overworked and strained. The bowels and skin—which help the kidneys to rid the system of waste matter—have not been doing their share of the work. The kidneys have had to do too much.

What you need is a medicine to cure the bowels, liver and skin. This medicine must cure the Constipation by acting on the liver and thus make the bowels move regularly and naturally. This medicine must heal and strengthen the kidneys, and thus relieve the congestion. "Fruit-a-tives" is this medicine. It is the most effective Kidney Remedy known, and keeps these vital organs in a vigorous, healthy condition. For aged people, for those who work hard, for tired-out women, "Fruit-a-tives" never fail to stop that severe pain in the back and build up the whole system. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

DISASTROUS FIRE VISITS NORTH BAY

New Block of Stores and Offices Completely Gutted.

INCENDIARISM IS SUSPECTED

Damage Amounting to $70,000 Is Done to McKeown Block — Store Where Fire Originated Had Lights Full on When Flames Were Discovered and Burglars Are Blamed For the Destruction.

North Bay, May 3.—About 1.30 yesterday morning North Bay was visited by a disastrous fire, the fine new McKeown Block, with stores and offices, being completely gutted. The loss will exceed seventy thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance. Smoke was seen issuing from the basement of Beamish and Smith's clothing store.

There is strong suspicion that the fire was of incendiary origin, due to burglars. When the stores in the building were closed Saturday night the electric lights were turned off, but when the fire was discovered the lights in the store where the blaze originated were on.

Losses and insurance: McKeown Block, owned by D. J. McKeown, $20,000; insurance $1,000; Beamish & Smith, $24,000, insurance $17,000; Begg Bros., $2,000; insurance $1,500; Dr. Wickett, dentist, loss $1,000; insurance $500; G. L. T. Bull, lawyer, loss $1,500, on library and furniture, no insurance; kindergarten piano and furnishings, loss $500, no insurance; Aimee Tusson, township constable and tax collector, loss $100.

Insurance companies affected are: Western, London & Lancashire, Monarch, Phoenix, Yorkshire, Commercial Union, Sovereign, Ontario, London, Montreal, Merchants, Sun, North American, Northern, Hartford and Union.

An investigation will no doubt be held, as several recent fires have had the same earmark of being set by looters to cover up their tracks.

Detectives Climbed In Window.

New York, May 3.—Horace Creeley Robinson of New York, Montreal and Paris, who is said to be well-known throughout this country as a seller of "Marconi wireless" and other stocks, was arrested here Saturday night on a warrant from San Jose, Calif., charging him with having failed to make delivery of Marconi stock for which he had received $800 from F. B. Brown of that city.

Robinson's arrest was not accomplished without difficulty. Detectives went to an apartment where he was supposed to be staying, but were informed that he was not there. Doubting this they procured a ladder and climbed through a second-storey window and found him.

According to the detectives he resisted arrest until they were compelled to use their clubs.

Jail for Running Away.

New York, May 3.—James Hazen Hyde of New York, former vice-president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and his chauffeur, Ladwice, yesterday were condemned by default, Hyde to one month's imprisonment, and a fine of $100, and Ladwice to a month's imprisonment and a fine of $30.

They were charged with running into a public taxicab last October and injuring a passenger.

The complainants charged that after the accident Ladwice sped away. Under a law passed last July flight after an accident is a special offence.

A Drama to Last Five Evenings.

St. Petersburg, May 3.—Count Tolstoi's novel, "War and Peace," is now being dramatized here, and will be staged by permission of the court officials at the Imperial Opera. The novel will form one of the longest plays ever presented on a European stage, the adapters having worked it into fifty scenes, the performance of which will cover five successive evenings.

A Tribute to His Excellency.

London, May 3. (C.A.P. Cable.)—Describing the decision of Earl Grey to remain in Canada for another year, as the best piece of personal news received from the outer Empire for a long time, The Sunday Observer says: "Britain never sent out a more inspiring pro-consul. No representative of the King could have done surer or more splendid work."

Gravedigger's Error.

Brantford, May 3.—William Dunne and Patrick Jones were charged at the Police Court Saturday with unlawfully disturbing the remains of the son and daughter of Mrs. Carolan, in the Catholic cemetery. Jones is the gravedigger, and in enlarging Dunne's lot, the two bodies were removed. Mrs. Carolan heard that two other bodies were put back in their stead.

Magistrate Livingston has ordered the graves to be unearthed to allow the woman to establish the identity of the remains by some jewelry. The magistrate refused to accept the plea that a mistake had been made, but since rectified.

$60,000 for New McGill Chair.

Montreal, May 3.—It was announced at McGill convocation that a committee of four millionaire friends of the university had raised a fund of $60,000 to endow a professorship in science to perpetuate the name of the late Dr. Harrington of McGill. Principal Peterson announced that the recent anonymous donator of $25,000 to the McGill fund was R. B. Angus.

The first Chinese lawyer to be turned out by McGill also took his degree of B.C.L., a student named Peter Hing, winning the distinction. The convocation also granted the first degree of Ph.D. from McGill, which was won by R. W. Boyle of the college faculty.

Sir Edward Clouston Returns.

Montreal, May 3.—Sir Edward Clouston, Bart., vice-president and general manager of the Bank of Montreal, returned from Europe yesterday, and announces that a good number of British investors and moneyed men will come over to Canada this summer. He believes that the recent imperial budget will have a marked tendency in directing a good deal of surplus holdings here.

Sir Edward said that Lord Strathcona had recently accepted the presidency of the Anglo-Persian Oil Co., a large enterprise recently floated in London, the issue being subscribed from eight to ten times over.

Highest Mason In U. S. Resigns.

Milwaukee, May 3.—Henry L. Palmer, sovereign grand commander of the supreme council, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rites, of the Northern Jurisdiction of the United States, has resigned, owing to ill health. This is the highest Masonic office in the United States, and has been held by Mr. Palmer since 1873—a remarkable record. Until his successor has been elected, Lieutenant Commander Lawrence of Boston will occupy the high office.

Man Dead In Woman's Dress.

London, May 3.—The body of a man dressed completely in woman's clothes, from dancing shoes to corsets, was found Saturday night on the seashore of Cornwall, near Penzance. The wrists and ankles were shackled and there were severe bruises across the eyes, which suggested foul play.

The body was identified as that of a London visitor to Penzance, who had been missing since April 26.

Grand Jury Indicts Nineteen.

Jackson, Mich., May 3.—The Grand Jury, which spent nearly five weeks investigating the administration of the state penitentiary here and into allegations that a plumbers' trust existed in Jackson, has returned twenty indictments against nineteen persons. Prominent among those indicted is Allan N. Armstrong, former warden of the prison, against whom there are several counts charging the receiving of bribes. John C. Wenger, deputy warden, whose testimony is alleged to have conflicted with that of Armstrong, is indicted on a charge of perjury.

Blow to Von Buelow.

Berlin, May 3.—Chancellor von Buelow's plans received an apparently decisive defeat Saturday at the session of the financial commission of the Reichstag, which rejected the death duties in the Government's finance bill.

The commission adopted a resolution substituting a tax on land increments and calling on the Government to consider an additional tax on increased value of personal property.

Smallpox Scares Senate.

Ottawa, May 3.—A son of Senator A. H. Comeau, who arrived from Digby, N.S., last week, has been removed to the isolation hospital here, suffering from smallpox.

The incident has caused some uneasiness on the Senate side of the Parliament buildings, where young Comeau spent some time with his father. The Senators' room has been disinfected, and he is quarantined at his boarding-house.

A Queer Visitor.

Chatham, May 3.—The residence of C. S. Lemon at 11 Adelaide street, [illegible] of David Holmes, at the [illegible] avenue and Adelaide street, were entered by a mysterious burglar last Saturday night. From his actions, it is thought that the intruder must have been a lunatic. Tracks indicate that he was barefooted.

Bonfires Save Fruit Crops.

Grand Junction, Col., May 3.—Two hundred thousand smudge pots in which fires were kept burning through the night by an army of men, women and children, probably saved from destruction by cold the fruit crop of the Grand Valley, estimated this year to be worth three million dollars.

THREE VESSELS LOST ON LAKE MICHIGAN

Seven Men Go Down With the Schooner George Nester.

LIGHTER IS FOUND ADRIFT

Batavia Is Towed Into Port on Lake Michigan Without Her Crew and Men Are Believed to Have Perished—Crew of Russia Numbering Twenty-Two Escape Death in Small Boats Saturday.

Detroit, May 3.—Three vessels lost, one of them with her crew of seven men, and a fourth craft found floating deserted on Lake Michigan, with the fate of her crew unknown, is Saturday's summary of disaster from the storm and ice on the great lakes.

The ships are the Nestor of Detroit, with all hands; the package freighter Russia, and the Aurania. The steel lighter Batavia was found adrift and deserted on Lake Michigan.

On the bleak and rocky shores of Huron Island Saturday night the schooner George Nester of Detroit was torn to pieces by the furious gale that swept over Lake Superior, and all of her crew of seven were lost.

The furious waves made it impossible to launch small boats from either the Schoolcraft or the lighthouse tender Marigold, which were close behind, to go to the rescue of the seven men aboard the schooner. The Nestor went to pieces rapidly, and every member of the crew was lost. The Marigold made efforts to take the imperilled men off the wreck with life lines, but unsuccessfully.

It is not yet definitely known just how many men composed the crew of the Nester. Nearly all of the crew shipped at Cleveland, and the vessel's log, which held the records, was, of course, lost. At the office of the Nester estate in this city it was stated that there were only seven men aboard. The names of those lost, so far as known, are: Captain George Dubeau, aged 36, of Algonac, Mich.; Peter Prockett, aged 45, seaman, of Algonac, and Fred Douillard, aged 18, seaman, Algonac. Capt. Dubeau leaves a widow, while Prockett leaves a widow and five children.

The Russia was sent to the bottom in Lake Huron by the same storm. She was bound for Duluth on her first trip of the season, with a full cargo of freight. When twelve miles off Detour the Russia's cargo shifted, and the steamer began to fill. Captain John McLean of Port Huron and his crew of 22 launched their small boats into the raging sea and succeeded in saving their lives. They arrived at Detour yesterday.

It is a strange story of marine mystery which the big Ann Arbor car ferry No. 1 brought into port with her yesterday when she arrived towing behind her the big steel lighter Batavia, which was built in 1904 for the Lehigh Valley Transportation Co. The car ferry found the lighter tossing on the waves south of Fox Islands with no crew aboard. In the dining-room was evidence that there had been a crew. The dining-room table was set as for dinner. But nothing except the severed hawser indicated a possible solution of the crew's whereabouts. Marine men think that the evidence which the hawser bore of being cut may mean that the tug or steamer which had the lighter in tow found it necessary in the gale to cast her loose, and if so probably took off the crew before leaving the steel hulk at the mercy of the storm. Lighters of this style usually carry, marine men say, crews of four to ten men.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

FRED SIMPSON ALWAYS A FACTOR HAS RARELY BEEN A WINNER

Career of the Peterborough Redskin Since He First Broke Into the Running Game---Has Started in Thirteen Races and Has Won But Two, Although He Has Always Been Close---Win Over Appleby His Only Professional Victory.

Once more has Fred Simpson started in a long distance run, and once more has the Peterborough Indian been beaten. Since he broke into the running game two and a half years ago, the Redskin has been an enigma even to those who knew him best. A dozen times have his friends lost confidence in his ability as a runner to regain it again as the result of reports of wonderful training stunts or for some other reason, only with the same result a defeat for the Ojibway Thunderbolt as the people of Georgia poetically named him. One sporting enthusiast on Saturday, after the result of the race was known dubbed him as an in and outer, but that title is hardly correct for the simple reason that the Indian has never been "in" although he has always appeared just about to get "in". The reports of his training feats in Georgia had prepared his supporters for a greatly improved runner when he came back to Canada. Then came his defeat at the hands or rather at the feet of Alf. Shrubb. Simpson was ill and not in shape that night and his friends looked for better things the next time out, and their faith was justified when he beat Fred Appleby. Then his unexpected trimming by Svanberg, the week after, upset all caluculations but it was explained by the fact that Simpson was in no condition as the result of his gallop in the Arctic weather of the week before. Most people expected him to win Saturday's race or at the worst looked for second money. No one imagined that the Thunderbolt would be beaten by Abbie Wood, the little shrimp of a fifteen miler from Montreal or Fred Meadows, the Guelph boy whose distance until the last few weeks had been five miles. Fourth in a field which was supported to comprise only a couple of tried Marathoners is not class even in the face of the record breaking time. Marsh assisted by Percy Sellen's spectacular sprint in the middle stages hung up a new record, but the fact remains that two men were not considered capable of negotiating the distance at all, hung on at the pace set by Marsh and out-ran the Indian.

Simpson has another chance on Saturday when he will be a starter in the $10,000 Derby in New York, but he will have his work cut out for him with St. Yves, Dorando, Marsh, Cibot, Orphee, White, Maloney and other cracks in the running. His showing in this field which is supposed to be much faster than the Toronto bunch will be watched with interest.

Simpson's record in the running game is interesting. As will be seen form the following dope the Peterborough Indian has always been a contender but very rarely a winner.

His First Appearance.

His first appearance was in the Examiner Road race on Thanksgiving Day, 1906, the same day Tom Longboat made his debut. Unknown and not considered in the calculations at all, Simpson gave Wilson and Best an awful argument for the whole ten miles and finished a bang up third. Dick Baker fancied his style and took hold of the Redskin. He trained faithfully the following spring but did not break into a race until July, when with the late Ben Howard, he started in a ten mile contest at Lindsay, and won with Howard second and a pair of Toronto runners in other places. With the hope of landing the classic Hamilton Herald Race, Simpson was kept hard at work from early in the fall until Thanksgiving Day, preparing for the struggle around the bay. The story of the thrilling race that day is still fresh in the minds of the enthusiasts who remember how Simpson struggled along in the rear for fifteen miles and then came on and passed man after man to chase Tom Coley into town and finish a good second.

There was nothing more that fall, except a one mile race with A. W. Haddleton, the Irish Canadians' short distance man at the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' indoor meet at Brock St. Rink, in which Simpson fell in the last lap and the visitor went on and won all alone.

All winter Simpson kept himself in shape by skipping and other exercises and as soon as the snow was off the ground last spring he was out on the road getting in shape for the summer campaign.

The announcement that Canada would send a team to the Olympic games acted as a spur on the Redskin and he and his trainer Dick Baker determined that he would catch a place among the Marathoners. The trial Marathons held in Toronto therefore were Simpson's next races. In the first Ontario trial he was fourth being preceded home by Harry Lawson, W. B. Goldsboro and Billy Wood of Brantford in that order. The second trial for the Provincial winners resulted in Simpson getting the same position, being beaten by the same three men although Wood was second, and Goldsboro, third. Fourth, however was enough to give Simpson a chance on the Olympic team and across the pond he went with the other Maple Leaf runners.

During the preliminary training, the cable flashed the word across that Simpson had beaten the other members of the Canadian team by over half a mile in a twenty mile workout negotiating the distance in 1.59 and that J. H. Crocker, manager of the team had picked him as winner of the historic Marathon. Peterborough people settled back to wait for the announcement that he had galloped home in the lead and already planning a reception on the Sherring scale.

The story of that spectacular race is still vivid in the minds of all who follow the running game. They recollect the heart breaking and vain efforts of poor, gallant little Dorando, the despised, unknown Italian, to reach the tape before he collapsed. They remember the awarding of the race to J. J. Hayes, of the United States, they recollect the plucky run of Con Heffernon, of South Africa, they remember that Forshaw, and Welton, the Americans, were next in order. They recollect the collapse of Tom Longboat and that little Billy Wood of Brantford led the Maple Leafs that day, but they also remember that Simpson who was at least expected to at least head the Canadians, was sixth.

On his return from England Simpson did not give up the running game although he cut loose from his manager and went on alone. He decided to enter the Montreal Herald Race on October 24th last fall and after chasing at Tom Longboat's heels for ten miles had to drag back and eventually finished sixth. He was not in shape for a hard race that day, but at that his performance then was one of the best he has given either as an amateur or a professional and he worried the great Longboat for over half of the distance as he had rarely been worried before. (That was before Longboat had raced with Alfie Shrubb of course).

Second Again at Hamilton.

Simpson's next appearance was in the Hamilton Herald Race where once more he finished second. This time it was Hans Holmer, the Halifax speed marvel, who chased in ahead of the Indian. Simpson ran a fine race that day making a mistake at the beginning by sticking to Tom Coley too long, he cut loose towards the last stages, cut down Percy Sellen and other good men who were ahead or him and was crowding Holmer on end. That was Simpson's last appearance as an amateur.

As a Professional.

Last winter, Tom Eck, who had never seen the Indian, but who had been impressed by his showing, took hold of him and he hade his professional debut against Alf. Shrubb in a relay race in New York in January in which Simpson held his own.

Then came Simpson's training trip to Georgia, and his spectacular performance on his return to Canada when he set the athletic world agog by smashing the Canadian indoor and outdoor records for ten miles in a trial run in Riverdale Rink, Toronto. This feat gave him a chanec with Shrubb who beat him half a mile in twelve. Then Simpson took on Appleby at 20 miles and the English champion quit at his own distance giving Simpson hsi second victory and his first professional win. The race with Svanberg in New York followed and Simpson quit, for the first time in his life, in the sixteenth mile and finally, Saturady's race in which fourth was his fate.

The summary of his record shows clearly that the Indian has always been a factor. It is as follows:

Amateur Races.

Lindsay Race.—July 1st, 1907, ten miles, first.

Harriers' Meet.—December 3rd, 1907 one mile, second.

Ontario Olympic Trial.—Toronto, May, 1908, fiften miles, fourth.

Provincial Olympic Trial.—Toronto, June, 1908, twenty miles, fourth.

Olympic Marathon. — Shepherd's Bush, England, July 1908, twenty-six miles, 85 yards, sixth.

Montreal Star Race.—Montreal, October 24th, fifteen miles, sixth.

Hamilton Herald Roce.—Hamilton, Thanksgiving Day, 1908, nineteen miles, 178 yards, second.

Professional Races.

Toronto, April 10th.—Twenty miles against Appleby, Simpson won by himself.

Toronto, May 1st.—Marathon distance, fourth.

There is the dope. Simpson has started in thirteen races, one at one mile, two at ten miles, one at twelve miles, two at fifteen miles, two at nineteen miles and a fracton, two at twenty miles and three at the Marathon distance. Of these he has won one, one at ten miles and another at twenty, but he has never been further back than sixth, has been second twice and has only once failed to accomplish the distance he was supposed to go. Always a contender, rarely a winner seems to be right. Figure it out for yourself.

THE PACIFICS ARE CHAMPIONS OF PETERBORO BOWLING LEAGUE

Final Game Was Played on Saturday Night and the Best the Examiner "A" Could Do Was to Take One Out of Three Games---Close Finish to a Remarkably Hard Fought Contest Which Has Continued Throughout the Entire Season---The Prize Winners.

The Pacifics team composed of Messrs. McIlroy, Jack Connors and B. A. Lillie, are champions of the Peterborough Bowling League, annexing the title by defeating the Examiner A team in the final game on Saturday night. The Pacifics won two out of three games and therefore win first in the League by one game. The race throughout the double schedule has been close all the way for a long time, while the Pacifics, Examiner A and the Bankers battled for supremacy, gradually drawing away from the other League teams and when the Bankers were eliminated by two of their men being removed, the race narrowed down to a duel between the other two leaders. So close was the contest that when the Exams took two games from the Iroquois last week they were tied with the Pacifics for the honours.

Saturday night's bowling was not marked by the classy bowling that might naturally be expected from two teams palying off for the championship, but the low scores are accounted for by the fact that the players realized the importance of every ball and probably lost considerably through over anxiety and nervousness. The newspapermen got away to a good start by winning the first game by six pins, but they fell off in the last two, and the Pacifics showed a corresponding improvement in form and won handily leading on the total pinnage by 44 pins. Lillie was high man for the night with 495, while McIlroy was a close second with 486. The scores follow:

Examiner A
Glover	166	153	105	424
Lacheur	160	149	143	452
Cairns	186	141	153	480
	512	443	401	1356
Pacifics
McIlroy	160	155	171	486
Connors	116	161	142	419
Lillie	176	167	152	495
	452	483	465	1400

J. D. MARSH'S GREAT WIN.

Toronto, May 3.—John D. Marsh, of Winnipeg, won the Canadian Marathon Derby at the Island on Saturday, and accomplished an exceptionally fine performance. The winner had to stand off the determined pace-making of Percy Sellen for the first sixteen miles, and then do the same with Abbie Wood, of Montreal, who ran a surprisingly good race from end to end. Wood finished second and Fred. Meadows third. Fred Simpson, the Ojibway Thunderbolt, was fourth and Tom Coley fifth. These shared in the money. Henry Jackson (Red Hawk), Charlie Petch, Dave Bennett and Guala were all the others that were on the track when Marsh finished, all well back, and all out.

The time, 2.34 47, was the best that has been done in any of the Marathons run this season, and, though the track was a trifle short, it makes Marsh a good enough man for any company. The weather was cold, with a raw wind and an occasional snow-flurry, but the attendance, some four thousand persons, indicated the continued popular interest in this form of entertainment. There could hardly be said to be a really strong drawingcard in the big field, which was largely made up of runners who hoped to make a reputation in this event, but they drew a great crowd under unpleasant weather conditions for spectators and competitors alike.

The affair was well managed, and carried out without a hitch.

Of the twenty runners on the card only four failed to put in an appearance. These were Edward Fabre and Chas. Graham, of Montreal, and the Indians, Peter John and Charles Green.

The pace that was set by Marsh and Sellen told its tale early with some of the inexperienced runners, and some fell out before going five miles. The two leaders went away from the others till they had at one stage an advantage of three laps, or three-fifths of a mile. Wood was waiting, and probably waited too long, as when Sellen quit after going just under seventeen miles Wood was left in second place, with a couple of laps the worst of it. Some of this he was able to make up, but Marsh was really never in danger, and at the finish he was about a lap and a half in front of Wood. Fred. Meadows was something of a surprise, and made a gallant effort in the last miles, when he was believed before the race to be likely to find a Marathon distance too far for him.

Simpson and Tom Coley were disappointing. Marsh's long experience and his good record made him look the best of the starters, but Simpson was believed to have here an opportunity to establish himself as a front-rank man in the game. He was not equal to the opportunity, and was outrun all the way. Coley likewise seemed outclassed. Charlie Petch stayed through till the winner had covered the full distance, but was ready to quit long before, and frequently slowed down to a walk. Cesare Guala also stayed to the end, but at his pace he ought to go fifty miles, as it was not as good as a fast walk. Dave Bennett was running thirty years ago, and had all his old gameness, but the younger men have taken it up where he left off. Dave was on the track to the end, though.

The others dropped out at various stages, none of them displaying any ability that justified their starting against good men.

"MARSH IS MAGNIFICENT: I WAS DOWN TOO FINE"

—FRED SIMPSON

"Marsh ran a magnificent race and the pace was terrific from start to finish," said Fred Simpson, on Saturday night, when he arrived from Toronto on the midnight train. The Indian spent the night at the Windsor Hotel and left for Hiawatha yesterday to rest up for a few days for the $10,000 Derby in New York.

Speaking of the race and his own showing Simpson said: "I was trained down too fine and didn't have it in me when the time came for it to be needed. I thought I was all right before the race started and the early clip did not bother me as I thought the leaders would come back to me later on. However, I found that I was weak when I should have been strong, and when the nineteenth mile came and I should have been fighting my way up on those in front I found that I hadn't enough left in me to do what I wanted. I sprinted and gained half a lap but it weakened me and I could not hold off Meadows, the Guelph boy passing me and taking third place. I was able to finish all right but I did not feel myself after that sprint."

Simpson thinks Marsh is a grand runner who will give any one in the world a battle for his life at the Marathon distance. The showing of Meadows was a big surprise to the Indian. "I didn't think he would go the distance," he said, "but I expected Wood would prove dangerous, and he was. The pace was hot from the start, Sellen being responsible for the fast going in the early stages."

"I worked pretty hard in training in the last two weeks before the race, and I guess I did too much. I will take things easy next week and will content myself with a short walk each day to keep from getting stiff. I expect to leave for New York on Thursday morning, and hope to make a better showing there."

KELLY AND TOMMY DALY WILL MEET HERE AT 10 ROUNDS

Peterborough fight fans will have another opportunity in the near future to see another great boxing bout. Jimmy Kelly, who gave such a clever exhibition against Corney Burns a week ago, has been matched to go ten rounds against Tommy Daly, the well-known Toronto boy, and the match will be pulled off in the Auditorium Roller Rink in the next ten days. Every follower of the game knows that Daly is as pretty and effective a boxer as the Queen City ever produced. He is, of anything, more clever than Kelly, and has a punch in either hand that may put the elusive Buffalo boy to sleep before the battle is over. At any event it will be a real fight all the way.

A good preliminary will be put on, and it looks from this distance like a good night's sport.

WITH THE RUNNERS.

Despite the interest Toronto takes in the running game, the result of Saturday's race does not indicate that the Queen City has had much success in developing long distance men. Saturday's winner hails from Winnipeg; Abbie Woods, the second man, from Montreal; Fred Meadows, the third man, from Guelph; Fred Simpson, from Peterborough; Tom Coley, from Thorold, and Red Hawk, from Midland.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

FRED SIMPSON ALWAYS A FACTOR HAS RARELY BEEN A WINNER

Career of the Peterborough Redskin Since He First Broke Into the Running Game---Has Started in Thirteen Races and Has Won But Two, Although He Has Always Been Close----Win Over Appleby His Only Professional Victory.

Once more has Fred Simpson started in a long distance run, and once more has the Peterborough Indian been beaten. Since he broke into the running game two and a half years ago, the Redskin has been an enigma even to those who knew him best. A dozen times have his friends lost confidence in his ability as a runner to regain it again as the result of reports of wonderful training stunts or for some other reason, only with the same result a defeat for the Ojibway Thunderbolt as the people of Georgia poetically named him. One sporting enthusiast on Saturday, after the result of the race was known dubbed him as an in and outer, but that title is hardly correct for the simple reason that the Indian has never been "in" although he has always appeared just about to get "in" The reports of his training feats in Georgia had prepared his supporters for a greatly improved runner when he came back to Canada. Then came his defeat at the hands or rather at the feet of Alf. Shrubb. Simpson was ill and not in shape that night and his friends looked for better things the next time out, and their faith was justified when he beat Fred Appleby. Then his unexpected trimming by Svanberg, the week after, upset all caluculations but it was explained by the fact that Simpson was in no condition as the result of his gallop in the Arctic weather of the week before. Most people expected him to win Saturday's race or at the worst looked for second money. No one imagined that the Thunderbolt would be beaten by Abbie Wood, the little shrimp of a fifteen miler from Montreal or Fred Meadows, the Guelph boy whose distance until the last few weeks had been five miles. Fourth in a field which was supported to comprise only a couple of tried Marathoners is not class even in the face of the record breaking time. Marsh assisted by Percy Sellen's spectacular sprint in the middle stages hung up a new record, but the fact remains that two men were not considered capable of negotiating the distance at all, hung on at the pace set by Marsh and out-ran the Indian.

Simpson has another chance on Saturday when he will be a starter in the $10,000 Derby in New York, but he will have his work cut out for him with St. Yves, Dorando, Marsh, Cibot, Orphee, White, Maloney and other cracks in the running. His showing in this field which is supposed to be much faster than the Toronto bunch will be watched with interest.

Simpson's record in the running game is interesting. As will be seen form the following dope the Peterborough Indian has always been a contender but very rarely a winner.

His First Appearance.

His first appearance was in the Examiner Road race on Thanksgiving Day, 1906, the same day Tom Longboat made his debut. Unknown and not considered in the calculations at all, Simpson gave Wilson and Best an awful argument for the whole ten miles and finished a bang up third. Dick Baker fancied his style and took hold of the Redskin. He trained faithfully the following spring but did not break into a race until July, when with the late Ben Howard, he started in a ten mile contest at Lindsay, and won with Howard second and a pair of Toronto runners in other places. With the hope of landing the classic Hamilton Herald Race, Simpson was kept hard at work from early in the fall until Thanksgiving Day, preparing for the struggle around the bay. The story of the thrilling race that day is still fresh in the minds of the enthusiasts who remember how Simpson struggled along in the rear for fifteen miles and then came on and passed man after man to chase Tom Coley into town and finish a good second.

There was nothing more that fall, except a one mile race with A. W. Haddleton, the Irish Canadians' short distance man at the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' indoor meet at Brock St. Rink, in which Simpson fell in the last lap and the visitor went on and won all alone.

All winter Simpson kept himself in shape by skipping and other exercises and as soon as the snow was off the ground last spring he was out on the road getting in shape for the summer campaign.

The announcement that Canada would send a team to the Olympic games acted as a spur on the Redskin and he and his trainer Dick Baker determined that he would catch a place among the Marathoners. The trial Marathons held in Toronto therefore were Simpson's next races. In the first Ontario trial he was fourth being preceded home by Harry Lawson, W. B Goldsboro and Billy Wood of Brantford in that order. The second trial for the Provincial winners resulted in Simpson getting the same position, being beaten by the same three men although Wood was second, and Goldsboro, third. Fourth, however was enough to give Simpson a chance on the Olympic team and across the pond he went with the other Maple Leaf runners.

During the preliminary training, the cable flashed the word across that Simpson had beaten the other members of the Canadian team by over half a mile in a twenty mile workout negotiating the distance in 1.59 and that J. H. Crocker, manager of the team had picked him as winner of the historic Marathon. Peterborough people settled back to wait for the announcement that he had galloped home in the lead and already planning a reception on the Sherring scale.

The story of that spectacular race is still vivid in the minds of all who follow the running game. They recollect the heart breaking and vain efforts of poor, gallant little Dorando, the despised, unknown Italian, to reach the tape before he collapsed. They remember the awarding of the race to J. J. Hayes, of the United States, they recollect the plucky run of Con Heffernon, of South Africa, they remember that Forshaw, and Welton, the Americans, were next in order. They recollect the collapse of Tom Longboat and that little Billy Wood of Brantford led the Maple Leafs that day, but they also remember that Simpson who was at least expected to at least head the Canadians, was sixth.

On his return from England Simpson did not give up the running game although he cut loose from his manager and went on alone. He decided to enter the Montreal Herald Race on October 24th last fall and after chasing at Tom Longboat's heels for ten miles had to drag back and eventually finished sixth. He was not in shape for a hard race that day, but at that his performance then was one of the best he has given either as an amateur or a professional and he worried the great Longboat for over half of the distance as he had rarely been worried before. (That was before Longboat had raced with Alfie Shrubb of course).

Second Again at Hamilton.

Simpson's next appearance was in the Hamilton Herald Race where once more he finished second. This time it was Hans Holmer, the Halifax speed marvel, who chased in ahead of the Indian. Simpson ran a fine race that day making a mistake at the beginning by sticking to Tom Coley too long, he cut loose towards the last stages, cut down Percy Sellen and other good men who were ahead or him and was crowding Holmer on end. That was Simpson's last appearance as an amateur.

As a Professional.

Last winter, Tom Eck, who had never seen the Indian, but who had been impressed by his showing, took hold of him and he hade his professional debut against Alf. Shrubb in a relay race in New York in January in which Simpson held his own.

Then came Simpson's training trip to Georgia, and his spectacular performance on his return to Canada when he set the athletic world agog by smashing the Canadian indoor and outdoor records for ten miles in a trial run in Riverdale Rink, Toronto. This feat gave him a chanec with Shrubb who beat him half a mile in twelve. Then Simpson took on Appleby at 20 miles and the English champion quit at his own distance giving Simpson hsi second victory and his first professional win. The race with Svanberg in New York followed and Simpson quit, for the first time in his life, in the sixteenth mile and finally, Saturady's race in which fourth was his fate.

The summary of his record shows clearly that the Indian has always been a factor. It is as follows:

Amateur Races.

Lindsay Race.—July 1st, 1907, ten miles, first.

Harriers' Meet.—December 3rd, 1907 one mile, second.

Ontario Olympic Trial.—Toronto, May, 1908, fiften miles, fourth.

Provincial Olympic Trial.—Toronto, June, 1908, twenty miles, fourth.

Olympic Marathon. — Shepherd's Bush, England, July 1908, twenty-six miles, 85 yards, sixth.

Montreal Star Race.—Montreal, October 24th, fifteen miles, sixth.

Hamilton Herald Roce.—Hamilton, Thanksgiving Day, 1908, nineteen miles, 178 yards, second.

Professional Races.

Toronto, April 10th.—Twenty miles against Appleby, Simpson won by himself.

Toronto, May 1st.—Marathon distance, fourth.

There is the dope. Simpson has started in thirteen races, one at one mile, two at ten miles, one at twelve miles, two at fifteen miles, two at nineteen miles and a fracton, two at twenty miles and three at the Marathon distance. Of these he has won one, one at ten miles and another at twenty, but he has never been further back than sixth, has been second twice and has only once failed to accomplish the distance he was supposed to go. Always a contender, rarely a winner seems to be right. Figure it out for yourself.

THE PACIFICS ARE CHAMPIONS OF PETERBORO BOWLING LEAGUE

Final Game Was Played on Saturday Night and the Best the Examiner "A" Could Do Was to Take One Out of Three Games---Close Finish to a Remarkably Hard Fought Contest Which Has Continued Throughout the Entire Season---The Prize Winners.

The Pacifics team composed of Messrs. McIlroy, Jack Connors and B. A. Lillie, are champions of the Peterborough Bowling League, annexing the title by defeating the Examiner A team in the final game on Saturday night. The Pacifics won two out of three games and therefore win first in the League by one game. The race throughout the double schedule has been close all the way for a long time, while the Pacifics, Examiner A and the Bankers battled for supremacy, gradually drawing away from the other League teams and when the Bankers were eliminated by two of their men being removed, the race narrowed down to a duel between the other two leaders. So close was the contest that when the Exams took two games from the Iroquois last week they were tied with the Pacifics for the honours.

Saturday night's bowling was not marked by the classy bowling that might naturally be expected from two teams palying off for the championship, but the low scores are accounted for by the fact that the players realized the importance of every ball and probably lost considerably through over anxiety and nervousness. The newspapermen got away to a good start by winning the first game by six pins, but they fell off in the last two, and the Pacifics showed a corresponding improvement in form and won handily leading on the total pinnage by 44 pins. Lillie was high man for the night with 495, while McIlroy was a close second with 486. The scores follow:

Examiner A
Glover	166	153	105	424
Lacheur	160	149	143	452
Cairns	186	141	153	480
	512	443	401	1356
Pacifics
McIlroy	160	155	171	486
Connors	116	161	142	419
Lillie	176	167	152	495
	452	483	465	1400

J. D. MARSH'S GREAT WIN.

Toronto, May 3.—John D. Marsh, of Winnipeg, won the Canadian Marathon Derby at the Island on Saturday, and accomplished an exceptionally fine performance. The winner had to stand off the determined pace-making of Percy Sellen for the first sixteen miles, and then do the same with Abbie Wood, of Montreal, who ran a surprisingly good race from end to end. Wood finished second and Fred. Meadows third. Fred. Simpson, the Ojibway Thunderbolt, was fourth and Tom Coley fifth. These shared in the money. Henry Jackson (Red Hawk), Charlie Petch, Dave Bennett and Guala were all the others that were on the track when Marsh finished, all well back, and all out.

The time, 2.34.47, was the best that has been done in any of the Marathons run this season, and, though the track was a trifle short, it makes Marsh a good enough man for any company. The weather was cold, with a raw wind and an occasional snow-flurry, but the attendance, some four thousand persons, indicated the continued popular interest in this form of entertainment. There could hardly be said to be a really strong drawingcard in the big field, which was largely made up of runners who hoped to make a reputation in this event, but they drew a good crowd under unpleasant weather conditions for spectators and competitors alike.

The affair was well managed, and carried out without a hitch.

Of the twenty runners on the card only four failed to put in an appearance. These were Edward Fabre and Chas. Graham, of Montreal, and the Indians, Peter John and Charles Green.

The pace that was set by Marsh and Sellen told its tale early with some of the inexperienced runners, and some fell out before going five miles. The two leaders went away from the others till they had at one stage an advantage of three laps, or three-fifths of a mile. Wood was waiting, and probably waited too long, as when Sellen quit after going just under seventeen miles Wood was left in second place, with a couple of laps the worst of it. Some of this he was able to make up, but Marsh was really never in danger, and at the finish he was about a lap and a half in front of Wood. Fred. Meadows was something of a surprise, and made a gallant effort in the last miles, when he was believed before the race to be likely to find a Marathon distance too far for him.

Simpson and Tom Coley were disappointing. Marsh's long experience and his good record made him look the best of the starters, but Simpson was believed to have here an opportunity to establish himself as a front-rank man in the game. He was not equal to the opportunity, and was outrun all the way. Coley likewise seemed outclassed. Charlie Petch stayed through till the winner had covered the full distance, but was ready to quit long before, and frequently slowed down to a walk. Cesare Guala also stayed to the end, but at his pace he ought to go fifty miles, as it was not as good as a fast walk. Dave Bennett was running thirty years ago, and had all his old gameness, but the younger men have taken it up where he left off. Dave was on the track to the end, though.

The others dropped out at various stages, none of them displaying any ability that justified their starting against good men.

"MARSH IS MAGNIFICENT: I WAS DOWN TOO FINE"

—FRED SIMPSON

"Marsh ran a magnificent race and the pace was terrific from start to finish," said Fred Simpson, on Saturday night, when he arrived from Toronto on the midnight train. The Indian spent the night at the Windsor Hotel and left for Hiawatha yesterday to rest up for a few days for the $10,000 Derby in New York.

Speaking of the race and his own showing Simpson said: "I was trained down too fine and didn't have it in me when the time came for it to be needed. I thought I was all right before the race started and the early clip did not bother me as I thought the leaders would come back to me later on. However, I found that I was weak when I should have been strong, and when the nineteenth mile came and I should have been fighting my way up on those in front I found that I hadn't enough left in me to do what I wanted. I sprinted and gained half a lap but it weakened me and I could not hold off Meadows, the Guelph boy passing me and taking third place. I was able to finish all right but I did not feel myself after that sprint."

Simpson thinks Marsh is a grand runner who will give any one in the world a battle for his life at the Marathon distance. The showing of Meadows was a big surprise to the Indian. "I didn't think he would go the distance," he said, "but I expected Wood would prove dangerous, and he was. The pace was hot from the start, Sellen being responsible for the fast going in the early stages."

"I worked pretty hard in training in the last two weeks before the race, and I guess I did too much. I will take things easy next week and will content myself with a short walk each day to keep from getting stiff. I expect to leave for New York on Thursday morning, and hope to make a better showing there."

Simpson pulled down $500 for fourth money in Saturday's race.

KELLY AND TOMMY DALY WILL MEET HERE AT 10 ROUNDS

Peterborough fight fans will have another opportunity in the near future to see another great boxing bout Jimmy Kelly, who gave such a clever exhibition against Corney Burns a week ago, has been matched to go ten rounds against Tommy Daly the well-known Toronto boy, and the match will be pulled off in the Auditorium Roller Rink in the next ten days. Every follower of the game knows that Daly is as pretty and effective a boxer as the Queen City ever produced. He is, of anything, more clever than Kelly, and has a punch in either hand that may put the elusive Buffalo boy to sleep before the battle is over. At any event it will be a real fight all the way.

A good preliminary will be put on, and it looks from this distance like a good night's sport.

PUTNAM'S PAINLESS CORN EXTRACTOR

WITH THE RUNNERS.

Despite the interest Toronto takes in the running game, the result of Saturday's race does not indicate that the Queen City has had much success in developing long distance men. Saturday's winner hails from Winnipeg; Abbie Woods, the second man, from Montreal; Fred Meadows, the third man, from Guelph; Fred Simpson, from Peterborough; Tom Coley, from Thorold, and Red Hawk, from Midland.

An Error Corrected.

In the Temperance column of this paper on Saturday, in the news furnished by the City Temperance and Moral Reform League, a contribution on the temperance question was published which it was stated had been read at the Gospel Temperance meeting a week ago by Mr. Walter Garbutt, of the Murray Street Baptist Church. This was an error. the paper in question having been read by Norman Allison, of George Street Church. The error is regretted.

TWENTY-FIVE IMMIGRANTS ARRIVED IN THE CITY

Among the passengers off the Dominion liner "Canada" that arrived in port on Saturday were some twenty-five persons from the Old Country, who got off at Peterborough and were joined by their friends at the C. P. R. station this morning. Mrs. C. Green, of Walton Abbey, Essex, England, mother of Mrs. George Leader, Thomas street, was among the number, who remained over in Peterborough. She has come out from the Old Country to live with her daughter and was warmly welcomed this morning on the arrival of the train.

IN THE SPORTING WORLD

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES

There was little doing in the big leagues on Saturday, owing to the bad weather, but conditions were better yesterday, and a number of games were played.

THE EASTERN LEAGUE.

Torontos received a bad beating at the hands of the Providence Grays yesterday. Providence had their batting togs on for fair, and beat the Kelleyites 13 to 3, getting no less than twenty hits. Moffitt started in to do the pitching for Toronto, but was chased after five hits had been made, but Hickey, who followed, was touched up for seven, and gave way to Connolly, who received the same medicine. At the same time. Barry, who pitched for Cobourg here two seasons ago, held Toronto to six hits.

Skeeters Won.

Good pitching by Merritt, gave the Skeeters a one-sided victory over Rochester. The Bronchos could not connect when there were men on bases, and lost 5 to 1, the Skeeters touching up Barger at opportune moments.

Royal Beat Newark.

Montreal trimmed Newark yesterday 4 to 2. Good stick work, when it was needed, and fast fielding in the pinches, resulted in a victory for the Royals, who got eight hits off Pitcher Mueller, while the Sailors got but five off Keefe.

THE NATION LEAGUE.

In the National League there was but one game on Saturday, Cincinnati beating St. Louis 8 to 7, in an exciting game. A rally in the ninth netting two runs, gave the Reds the game. Rhodes and More pitched for Cincinnati, and Berger and Kasper for St. Louis.

Cubs Drop Two.

On Sunday the Cubs lost two games to Pittsburg, and as a result the Chicagos have dropped away down to fifth place. They lost the first game 5 to 2, with Overall pitching, against Camnitz, and the second 6-0. Reulback and Hagerman working against Leifield. Camnitz was invincible after the first innings of the first game, while the Pirates hit Overall opportunely and stole bases at will. Wagner stealing second, third, and home. In the second game Leifield held the Cubs safe all the way, only three men reaching second.

Broke Even.

Cincinnati and St. Louis divided a doubleheader. The Cardinals won the first 5 to 4, and lost the second 13 to 3. Both games were featured by heavy hitting and poor fielding. Nearly all the pitchers in the stables of the two teams were used in the course of the double header. The Cardinals used Rowar, Ewing, Gasper, and Campbell, while the Reds had Beebe, Sallee, and Higginbotham, in harness. St. Louis had seven errors in the last game.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Detroit keeps on winning in the American League. On Saturday they took St. Louis into camp, 5 to 2, in a peculiar game which was marked by fine batting and sencational base running on the part of the Tigers, who uncorked a new pitcher named Works. Bailey pitched for St. Louis.

On Sunday Detroit nosed out the Chicago White Socks 6 to 5, Smith losing for the first time this season. Willett and Mullin pitched for Detroit. Ten hits were made by both sides, Addie Joss pitched grand ball for Cleveland against St. Louis, and the Naps won by 1-0. The Browns could only collect four hits, while Powell, who pitched for St. Louis, was touched up for seven safeties.

THE VICS. ARE IN TRAINING

The Victoria Harriers had a four-mile run on Saturday afternoon, there being a large turnout in spite of the bad weather. The Vics will meet at their club rooms to-morrow night, and will have another run. It is expected that all the runners will be out. George Fowler, of the Victorias, will start in the five mile race at Omemee on Victoria Day. A valuable cup is offered for the winner, the trophy at present being held by a Lindsay runner. With the Vics' good little galloper among the starters, there looks like trouble for somebody on the holiday.

The Beautiful Operetta, Princess Chrysanthemum will be given in Conservatory Music Hall, Wednesday and Thursday, May 5, 6. Admission 25cts. Children 15cts. 2d—103

LOCAL BASEBALL

There will be a meeting of the Church Baseball League in the Y. M. C. A. to-night, when a full representation of all teams intending to play in the League this year is expected. All clubs wishing to enter should have a representative on hand at to-night's meeting.

The Senior City Baseball League will meet to-morrow night at the Y M. C. A. It is high time that if the League is to be gone ahead with that some steps should be taken to get in under way, and therefore it is hoped that there will be a large attendance of those interested at to-morrow night's meeting. Every club that has any intention of joining should be represented.

The Intermediate League will hold a meeting to-morrow night in the Y. M. C. A. when important business will be taken up. Every club is expected to have representatives on hand.

Lever Brothers, Toronto, will send you free a cake of their famous Plantol toilet soap, if you mention this paper.

THISTLES BEAT THE MIDGETS

The Thistles defeated the Midgets in a lively juvenile ball game on Saturday in Central School grounds, winning 16 runs to 2. The Thistles had all the better of the argument, fielding cleaner and hitting harder. Mulhern pitched nice ball for the winners and was well supported. Harold Lees was a satisfactory umpire and the teams were as follows:

Thistles.—H. Outram, c; H. Mulhern, p; D. Pearson, 1b; R. Laing, 2b; G. Matthews, ss; H. Long, 3b; L. Pearson, lf; V. Miller, cf; V. Pearson, rf.

Midgets.—Halpin, c; Callaghan, p; W. Stratton, 1b; W. Barrie, 2b; Smith, 3b; H. Parker, ss; Latimer, lf; Donaghue, cf; B. Lees, rf.

ATHLETIC CLUB TO MAKE USE OF OLD CHURCH

The Park St. Athletic Club will take possession of the Old Park St. Church on Thursday evening, May 13th for amateur athletic purposes.

One rooom will be fitted up for a reading room, and another for a dressing room.

The main body of the church being reserved for basket-ball and other pastimes.

The club will welcome any young man, who is willing to act the gentleman into its membership, irrespective of race, colour, or creed.

The boys will also be accommodated after four in the afternoon, and every Tuesday and Friday evening from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

The local Y.M.C.A. has kindly offered to co-operate in so far as they can, with the work.

All interested are asked to meet in the club rooms, Thursday evening, May 13th, to help reorganise the club, and also get the building in shape.

SHE TRAVELLED ALL THE WAY TO FLORIDA TO SEE IF SHE STILL LOVED HER HUSBAND

Remarkable Story of the Life of Mrs. Wilder, the Wife of a Rector—"I Wanted a Real Husband," She Says to Reporter.

HEART DISAPPOINTMENT.

Springfield, O., May. 3.—"Hello. there! Mr. Reporter. Don't get scared at this oufit I'm wearing. It's only my way of doing things. I've got a gold mine here in this little greenhouse and I'm taking care of it."

This greeting was given to the reporter who called at the home of Mrs. Carrie Widler, estranged wife of the Rev. Alfred J. Wilder, rector of the First Episcopal church at Daytona, Fla. Mrs. Wilder is living with her parents in Springfield. She gained considerable notoriety through a sensational visit recently to the home of her husband in the land of flowers.

Attired in man's suit of blue overalls and high laced boots, her sleeves rolled up to the elbows, the rector's wife, happy as a lark in Springtime. was busy planting carnation slips in her litle garden outside the greenhouse.

Mrs. Wilder told about her visit to her husband.

"I had a burning curiosity to know whether I still loved Mr. Wilder or not," she said. "I convinced myself that I don't. He wasn't at home when I got there, so I forced an entrance through the window. His photograph was on the mantelpiece in his room. I took it down and gazed at it a long time. I made up my mind that I don't love him any more. I came home satisfied."

The rector's wife clipped off a few carnations. Pretty, petite, fascinating, and 25, she threw back her head jauntily. The man's broad-brimmed straw hat she was wearing blew aside, revealing a full, round, laughing face that beamed with smiles over the recollection of her invasion of her husband't home.

"When I marry again I won't marry a cigarette fiend," she continued. "That man smokes cigarettes by the thousands. It was one of the reasons why I left him, but not the principal reason. I am going to push my divorce suit and get a decree. Then I will marry some young man that I am sure will make a good husband."

"Did you love Rev. Wilder when you married him?"

"I thought I did, but I guess I must have been mistaken. You see, our courtship was so short that we did not have a chance to get intimately acquainted with each other. After we were married he began preaching to me about spiritual love. The more he preached the more I became dissatisfied. It made me sick. I wanted real love—the affection of an ordinary husband. I wasn't looking for a heavenly companion just yet.

"As the days wore on the situation did not improve, so I left him and he went to Florida.

"About a month ago I got a desire to see him again and study him. I wanted to know for sure whether or not I really loved him. The desire grew so strong that I took a trip to Daytona, his present home.

"As he was away, I lifted a screen from the window and climbed in, thinking I would wait for him. I took a bath in the rectory and made myself presentable, then sent a messenger to tell him I had come and was waiting to see him. He was cruel enough to send word to me that he could not come and that I might as well go home.

"But I remained over night in Daytona, hoping that he would return. The next afternoon I returned to his room and slept awhile in his bed. That evening I started to my home in Springfield, thoroughly convinced that I do not love him."

The romance started on Easter Sunday, three years ago. Rev. Alfred J. Wilder, pastor of the Heavenly Rest Episcopal church in Springfield, and "Babe" Howell, as she was familiarly known, startled society circles of the city by hurrying to the home of another Episcopal minister and getting married. Rev. Mr. Wilder had just preached his usual Sunday evening sermon. His young bride had appeared in black-face vaudeville in local theatres a few weeks before.

Two months later, Mrs. Wilder suddenly left her husband and was guarded in her home by her parents. She was not allowed to receive visitors or to talk to any one. Within another month, Rev. Mr. Wilder resigned his pastorate and accepted the charge at Daytona. One year later the wife filed suit for divorce in the Springfield courts, alleging gross neglect of duty.

Months passed and the suit was not tried. Wilder filed suit in the Florida courts, asking that the marriage be annulled for the reason that it was never consummated. He claimed that at the time of the wedding his wife's parents were greatly opposed to the union and that he made a secret agreement with his bride that they should live together for three months as man and woman, but not as husband and wife. Before the three manths had elapsed he haid the woman's parents got her to leave him. On these grounds he hopes to secure his decree in Florida. The wife denies the secret agreement.

$85,000,000 FOR NEW RAILROADS IN WESTERN CANADA

Winnipeg, Man., April 30th.—Approximately $85,000,000 will be spent by railroads in actual construction in Western Canada during 1909, according to statements made by head officials of the various companies. The construction campaign laid out by the Canadian Pacific is the most costly and calls for the expenditure of over $20,000,000. James J. Hill will spend $15,000,000 on the Great Northern and subsidiary companies in Western Canada, together making a fourth trunk system across the prairies westward from this City. The Canadian Northern intends to spend some $11,000,000, part of which will be for the extension of its main line towards the Pacific coast. A like amount will be spent by the Grand Trunk Pacific on its main line between Winnipeg and the Pacific Ocean but the bulk of the money used by this company during 1909 will be on its branch lines.

This year Melville, Saskatchewan, the headquarters of the Grand Trunk Pacific in Western Canada, appears to be the most favoured in town, for the Company has announced that at least three branches will be built from there this year. One will run northwesterly to Prince Albert, another north-easterly to the Hudson's Bay, while a third will run to the American boundary passing through Regina en route. These three lines will be the most important ever built in Western Canada, as far as American farmers and homeseekers are concerned, for they will give direct access to the rich mineral deposits and famous Peace River Valley, north of Prince Albert, while the other northerly line give direct communication to Hudson's Bay and the short wheat route to Europe.

The remainder of the $85,000,000 will easily be expended by the almost innumerable companies chartered to build lines in all directions, covering Western Canada with a net work of railroads like a spider's web.

The only cloud on the horizon is a prospect of a shortage of labour but it is said this will not be very serious owing to the large immigration promised from all quarters of the globe.

(Regniald F. Robinson, Winnipeg, Man.)

HERPICIDE'S MISSION.

It Takes Away the Dread of Birthdays.

Nothing is more annoying to men and women of middle age than to see those unmistakable signs of age—thin hair and grayness—approaching. But science has discovered that these conditions are no longer "unmistakable" evidences of old age, for the dandruff germ theory proves that even very young people may suffer hair loss, while those fortunate enough to escape the ravages of the scalp germ, retain their abundant locks to a ripe old age. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ and removes the risk of appearing old before your time. Save your hair and your feelings, by using the genuine Herpicide Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Perceval's den in Burkeley hall was hung with the usual conglomerate collection of trifles on which college youths pride themselves. Strangely enough, however, though otherwise complete, it lacked one of the essentials—indeed, a vital essential—of a student's room decorations. There were no photographs.

The other fellows had pictures girls in evening gowns, girls in street costume, girls in golf garb, girls on horseback, girls afoot—always girls. But not a girl's picture adorned Perceval's den except one lonely small miniature, and that stood far withdrawn, hidden on the back of his desk.

Randolph Chase hauled it out on one occasion before Perceval could reach him with a detaining hand.

"What a queer little girl!" Randolph said.

"Put it back," Perceval said shortly, his face aflame.

"Such a mop of hair and such a little face!" said one of them.

"Put it back!" Perceval's tone rasped with irritation. "Put it back, Randolph!"

Randolph, after one glance at the younger man's countenance, set the miniature back on the desk hastily. "Oh, if you feel that way about it," he apologized.

But the next night when he was alone with Perceval he said: "I don't want to be inquisitive, but I was awfully interested in that girl's face. Who is she?"

Perceval was standing at the window, looking out upon the elm bordered street, where the big electric lights cast great shadows.

"That," he said without looking around—"that girl, as you call her, is Mrs. Perceval Moore."

"What!" Randolph's tone expressed extreme incredulity. "You surely don't mean"—

Perceval whirled around. "That I am married? Yes."

Randolph whistled. "Well, of all things!" he said. And after that there was silence.

Then Perceval came over and flung himself into a chair opposite Randolph. "I've simply got to tell somebody, Chase," he said. "I'm in an awful fix, and she's the dearest and truest and best little thing in the world."

Randolph reached over and picked up the miniature again. "She truly looks it," he said after he had studied it for a long time.

Perceval choked a little before he answered. "She's an angel, Randolph."

"Then what's the matter?" Randolph questioned.

Perceval leaned forward.

"I've deceived her. She doesn't know that I am in college. She thinks I am earning a good salary in business."

"Well, son," said Randolph Chase, "it seems to me that sort of deception is a kind that a girl can forgive easily enough. I guess she won't be wildly indignant when she finds that next year. It is next year that you come of age, isn't it? you'll have a big pile of money coming to you. Any girl would be tickled to death to find that."

Perceval shook his head. "Not Annabel," he declared. "Isn't her name dear and old fashioned, Chase?"

"Yes," Randolph agreed. "But why will she object to a million, Perceval?"

"Because she will say that I lied to her," Perceval said slowly, "and Annabel can forgive anything but a lie."

"Out with it!" Randolph probed. "Tell me the whole story. It must be a queer one, and if you don't mind my saying so, old man, she must be a queer girl."

"That's just what she is," said Perceval. "I met her last year at the beach. She was such a quaint, queer little thing that she attracted me. She always wore white, and I would find her sitting on the sand singing little songs to herself. There was an old sea captain to whom she talked a good deal, and I got him to introduce us.

"Well, she had read a lot of books on social equality, and she just simply didn't have any use for the gilded youth with money. What Annabel wanted was a man who worked, preferably with his hands, but, failing that, one who lived in the thick of the fight for existence. And she meant it too. And that is where I fell.

"I was head over heels in love with her," continued Perceval forlornly, "and I simply wouldn't let her go. So I let her believe that I was working my way up in business. The first lie was simple enough and looked like one of those things that could be squared easily enough afterward. But, oh, Chase! I had to back that lie up with details on details until I had lied to her at least ten lies to the hour. Well, we were married before I left in the fall. I wasn't of age, and she wasn't, and she wouldn't leave home until I could support her without hampering my business career.

"I knew I had to come back to college or get dad down on me, so I told her to stay," groaned Perceval. "But I made her marry me for fear something might come between us, and I couldn't stand that, Randolph. But think how I'll appear to her, for I've lied in every letter, telling her how business was, and all that."

The young fellow's voice broke. Randolph held out a sympathetic hand.

"She'll forgive you, all right," he said. "But you sit right down tonight and confess, old man. It's not only the right thing, but the best policy, to be perfectly frank with her, and if she's in love with you she'll forgive you."

But Perceval shook his head. "I don't dare," he said huskily. "I am so afraid I'll lose her, Randolph, and she is the dearest thing in the world."

"You have said that before," Randolph remarked patiently. "I think you are making an awful mistake, but it will have to work itself out if you won't take any advice."

Then he went to his own room and smoked another pipe on it, and after that he wrote a letter.

And in three days came a letter to Perceval. "Dear boy," it began, "I must come to you at once. Things at home are in a dreadful state. I will tell you when I reach you. I know you haven't much for us to live on, but I have a little money in the bank that I have saved from my allowance, and I shall follow this note at once. Expect me on the 10:30 a. m. Friday.

"ANNABEL."

"And this," said Perceval desperately as he showed the note to Randolph, "is Thursday. What am I going to do with her when she gets here, Randolph?"

Randolph smiled inscrutably. "Find some rooms in a cheap quarter and set up housekeeping."

Perceval's face brightened. "And go out every morning and make her think I've gone to work? You are a genius, Randolph."

It took the two men several hours to find a little furnished apartment that would seem suitable for a young couple with little money. Perceval grumbled disconsolately. "I hate to put my jewel in such a setting," he said.

"Tell her the truth," Randolph again advised, "and you won't have to put up with such cheap things."

But Perceval refused. The next morning he met Annabel at the station, and together they went to the little cheap apartment, and here Annabel wept on his shoulder.

Her account of the trouble at home was somewhat vague, but she was enthusiastic over the thought of her housekeeping. "It will be lovely to work for you," she said.

But Perceval found it anything but lovely. He hated to see her soft white hands in the dishwater. It made him wince to see her bending over the flaming stove, and even the joy of her presence could not take away his sense of infinite guilt.

And so he grew thin and pale and worn.

"You are working too hard," Annabel said one night. And when he shook his head drearily his little wife crept out to the janitor's room and telephoned to some one.

"He is punished enough," was her queer message. "Can't you have him go to his old quarters tonight and have it over?"

The next night Perceval said to Annabel: "I have an engagement with Randolph. You won't mind if I leave you, will you, dear?"

"Of course not," she acquiesced. "I can get along just this one time."

Randolph told him that he wished to borrow some of Perceval's books. "I knew they were in your rooms, and I thought you wouldn't mind coming over," said he, "so I took the liberty of asking you to desert your wife for one evening."

As the two men entered the luxurious quarters Perceval sighed. "To think of my condemning Annabel to such hideousness as that apartment we are living in!" he said, leaning down to turn on the low electric lamp on his study table.

The light flared up and showed the cozy room, the little fire already lighted in the open grate, the blue flame burning under the brass teakettle.

"Why, what?" Perceval demanded like the big bear in the fairy tale. "Who has been living in my room?"

From behind a tall screen came a little figure in white.

And when Randolph had explained that he had taken chances and had written the truth to Perceval's little wife and Annabel had explained that she had known he was going to school and not to work ever since she had come to him, and, oh, didn't he know that she would love him if he was rich, Perceval drew a long breath of happiness.

"I don't deserve it," he confessed, with his eyes shining, "and we can't live in these rooms, Annabel. But I am going to take my chances with dad, and when he sees what a dear little, queer little thing you are he will give in, and if he doesn't I can earn my living like a man now that I am square with you, sweetheart."

Made the Most of It.

A famous big game hunter visited the Swazis one winter, and the king took a liking to him and loaned him, on his first hunt, the court praiser. The praiser's business was to laud the king and the king's favorites. The white hunter on his expedition had bad luck. He only shot a rabbit. But as he passed with his retinue through the Swazi village on his return the praiser marched before him chanting in a loud voice:

"The great white huntsman has killed a rabbit! Let all the Swazi people hear. It was as big as an ox, as fierce as a lion and as swift as a buck. The brave white huntsman killed it alone and unaided. He killed it with his thunder tube. Listen, ye people! The white huntsman has killed a rabbit! It was as terrible as a tiger, as large as an elephant, and yet the huntsman from afar, the great white slayer, he alone has killed it!"

Character of the Montenegrins.

Nowhere is love of country more intense than among the Montenegrins, to whom exile is the greatest of punishments. When Mr. W. J. Stillman was there in the seventies all the free men were away fighting, and he observed how, when a messenger was wanted, the official took a man out of the prison and sent him off, with no fear that he would not return. One such messenger was sent to Cattaro, in Austrian territory, with 3,000 florins for the bank, and duly came back. Another asked a Russian at Cattaro to intercede with Prince Nicholas for his release from prison. "But you are not in prison!" said the Russian. "Oh," said the man, "I have only come down for a load of skins for So-and-so, but I must go into prison again when I get back to Cetinje." One guard watched all the prisoners when they sunned themselves out of doors, and if he were called away a prisoner would take his rifle and do duty for the time.—London Chronicle.

Heard at Breakfast.

"I used to be a weather prophet in my home town," confided the new boarder as he speared a potato with his fork.

"Sh!" commented the comedian boarder laconically.

"Yes, and every time I look at that steak it reminds me of a winter's day."

"How so?"

"Cold and raw."

"Quite clever. How does the coffee strike you?"

"That reminds me of a November day—cloudy and unsettled."

"Good. And do you notice that the landlady is watching us?"

"Yes, and she reminds me of a March day."

"Tell us why."

"Because she is cold and stormy."

And the look that the landlady passed down to that end of the table would have congealed a redhot stove.—Chicago News.

Lincoln's Speeches and Writings.

Lincoln's great speeches are short, but how fit in expression, how packed with meaning! Take, for example, the one delivered to his friends on the eve of his departure for Washington. Like the second inaugural or the address at Gettysburg, it contains no superfluous word. Every one fits into place as perfectly as the carpenter's braces and timbers into the completed building.

As a writer, Mr. Lincoln was most painstaking. He sought always the simplest, shortest and best word. He knew that the simplest and shortest word usually is the best. The real secret of his greatness as a speaker and a writer, however, lay deeper. It was the supreme greatness of his soul which shone through his words that charmed and still charms the world.—J. A. Edgerton.

A REAL MONTE CRISTO

The Tragic Career of Picaud, a Cobbler of Paris.

HIS RISE TO GREAT WEALTH.

That romantic creation of the brain of Alexandre Dumas, "The Count of Monte Cristo" had a counterpart in real life in France in the last century. This is the tragic story:

In 1807, when Napoleon was at the height of his power, Francois Picaud was a sturdy young journeyman cobbler of Paris, full of health and animal spirits and happy in the love of Marguerite Vigoureux, a young girl of his own station in life. On the eve of his marriage hidden enemies denounced him to the imperial government as a spy. He was cast into prison, where he remained, forgotten by the world, for seven years.

Among his fellow prisoners was a wealthy Milanese priest, who treated him like a son and bequeathed to him 7,000,000 francs on deposit in the Bank of Amsterdam. Furthermore, this ecclesiastic told Picaud the secret of a hiding place in Italy where were concealed jewels to the value of 1,200,000 francs and specie amounting to three millions.

When the empire was overthrown in 1814 Picaud was one of a vast number of political prisoners throughout France who were given their freedom. He proceeded to gather the priest's treasure and to plan vengeance upon his enemies. Who they were he did not know.

Disguised as an Italian priest, he succeeded by bribing the least guilty of the conspirators and discovering the entire story of his undoing. The leader in the plot he learned was one Loupain, who had married Marguerite Vigoureux, prospered and become the proprietor of one of the handsomest cafes in Paris.

Picaud went to the capital and under a suitable disguise obtained work as a waiter in Loupain's establishment. Fellow servants there were Guilhem Solari and Gervais Chaubard, who, with Loupain, had denounced Picaud in 1807. The pretended waiter was not long in bringing his vengeance to a consummation. Chaubard was the first victim of his wrath. His body, pierced by a knife, was found on one of the bridges over the Seine. Loupain was disgraced, reduced to penury and finally stabbed to death in the Tuileries gardens. Solari was poisoned and died in frightful convulsions.

But speedy retribution overtook the implacable avenger. One night Picaud was seized, bound and borne to an abandoned quarry. In the darkness a terrible voice said:

"Picaud, what name are you passing under now? Are you still the priest Baldini or the waiter Prosper? You wished for revenge. You have sold yourself to the powers of hell. Ten years you have given to the pursuit of three wretches you should have spared. Me you dragged down to perdition. The diamond by which you bribed me was my destruction. I killed him who cheated me. I was arrested, condemned to the galleys and escaped only after years of torture. My one thought has been vengeance on the priest Baldini. You are in my power. Do you know me? I am Antoine Allut. How much will you pay for bread and water?"

"I have no money," groaned Picaud.

"You have sixteen millions. These are my conditions: I will give you something to eat twice a day, but for each meal you must pay me 25,000 francs."

However, the cupidity of the prisoner proved stronger than his hunger. He underwent terrible suffering without any signs of yielding until his captor, goaded to fury at the prolonged obstinacy, threw himself upon Picaud and stabbed him to death.—Bookman.

GAVE THE SALUTE.

The Old Soldier Obeyed the Command of the Young Officer.

At Siboney during the Spanish-American war a young lieutenant of a volunteer regiment was officer of the guard one day, and as he was strutting about in his new khaki uniform he noticed a man dressed in what looked like the cast off clothes of a private soldier coming toward him.

The man was apparently fifty-five to sixty years old, of dark complexion, with hair and mustache streaked with gray, and was clad in a faded blue army shirt, open at the neck, khaki trousers covered with mud tucked into boots in the same condition and a gray campaign hat much the worse for wear and having several holes cut in it for ventilating purposes.

He was strolling along, with his hands in his pockets, and passed the young lieutenant without a salute or a sign of recognition of his rank.

This was more than the young officer's dignity could stand, and he stopped the man with a sharp "Halt, there!"

The man halted and faced about, and the lieutenant asked:

"Are you in the army?"

"Yes, sir," was the reply.

"Regulars or volunteers?"

"Regulars, sir."

"Haven't you been in the service long enough to know that it is customary to salute when you meet an officer in uniform?"

"I know that, sir, but down here we've sort of overlooked salutes and ceremony."

"Well, I haven't, and I want you to understand it. Now, attention!"

The man stood at attention.

"Salute!"

The salute was given.

"How long have you been in the service?"

"About thirty-five years, sir."

"Well you have learned something about army regulations and customs this morning. Remember who gave you the lesson and when you meet me in uniform salute. I am Lieutenant —— of the ——. Now, what's your name and regiment?"

The man who had received the lesson had been smiling slightly under his mustache. Now he straightened up, saluted again and replied:

"General Adna R. Chaffee, sir, commanding the —th division."

When the dazed lieutenant found the use of his tongue again and began to excuse himself the old general said kindly:

"That's all right, my boy. You were right. Of course you didn't know. I suppose I do look pretty rough, and an enlisted man should salute an officer, even if we do overlook it sometimes. Always stick as closely to regulations as that and you will make a good officer."

The old soldier nodded pleasantly to the still bewildered young man and walked away.

A Slight Difference.

Uncle Bob, who lived in Washington and worked at the war department, was at the old home for a few days. Little Ted was a devout worshiper and tagged about after his uncle all day long, listening to him and asking questions. Finally he delivered himself of an important matter.

"Uncle Bob," he said, "do you ever see the president in Washington?"

"Oh, yes; often. I see him nearly every day."

"Uncle Bob," asked Ted solemnly, after careful thought, "does the president see you?"—Woman's Home Companion.

Her Retort.

It is always gratifying to meet a person who is contented with his lot. For that reason it would be delightful to make the acquaintance of the woman who had the last word in a suffragist controversy. The writer of a suffragist communication in a newspaper wrote sadly that "woman is nothing but a female relative of man; the man is the noun, the woman is the preposition." "Well, what do I care?" was the triumphant retort. "The preposition governs the noun."

Highly Encouraging.

One fine day, just as I was walking on, I got the trac (blue funk) and could not speak my lines. I turned hopelessly and with pleading eyes toward the leading lady, who could not go on with her part until I had spoken; but, for all help, she hissed at me from between her teeth, "Parle donc, petit animal!" (Go on, speak, you little beast.) Of such was the "encouragement" I received on one memorable occasion.—Coquelin's Reminiscences in London Telegraph.

Both Interested In Berkshires.

The Massachusetts maid was in a romantic mood. "I am dreaming," she murmured poetically, "dreaming of the dear old Berkshire hills of my native state."

"Berkshires?" echoed the Chicago youth, somewhat bewildered. "Er—was your father in the pork raising business?"

And the look that the Massachusetts maid gave him would have congealed radium.

A LOST MINE.

The Tragic Legend That Is Associated With Bald Mountain.

The legend of a lost mine has given to Bald mountain, in Placer county, Colo., a fascinating interest for prospectors. Tradition is that early in the fifties of the last century three men disappeared from an immigrant party going over the old Gap trail. Search for them was without avail, and they were finally reported dead by the searchers.

Where or how they wintered no one knows, but the following spring, ragged, shoeless and demoralized, they filed into Michigan Bluff. Their blankets were converted into sacks, and with them they brought gold dust to the amount of $10,000 or $15,000.

Spending but a single night within the confines of civilization and giving no information as to the location of their large claim, they were followed on their return trip, and a few weeks later their murdered bodies were found in one of the dreary canyons that scar the face of the desolate peak.

Since then many a man has sought this lost mine, but apparently its immunity is as certain as that of the treasure of Captain Kidd.

Pensive Butlers.

The fashion of building houses with the entrance doors practically on a level with the street gives the observing stroller on Fifth avenue some humorous glimpses of butlers on duty. In the house of one of the most fashionable families in town the butler can be seen standing behind the bronze grill and glass doors staring disconsolately out at the passing throng for most of the afternoon, while across the street from this house the same kind of an entranceway often discloses a glimpse of a functionary of the same class seated in a poetical attitude by a circular marble table, his head supported by his hand. Outside of a hospital they are probably the saddest looking men in New York.

A Happy Family.

A woman, going to her mouse trap the other morning, found a mouse in it, with six little mice as well.

They had, of course, been born after their mother's capture—an amazing thing. But more amazing still was the fact that they lay in a small round nest like a bird's nest, a nest made of bits of paper, thread, straw and shreds of linen and flannel.

The woman, instead of drowning forthwith the mother and her brood, retired and from the next room watched the trap secretly. Her watch was soon rewarded. Another mouse trotted up with great caution, thrust a straw through the bars and a few moments later returned with a shred of pink calico. The captive mother, with these contributions, proceeded to complete her nest.

This incident so moved the woman that on retiring that night she put a handsome piece of cheese in the trap and opened the tiny door. When she came down in the morning mother and young and cheese were gone. The nest alone remained to witness to the truth of her tale.—Exchange.

Worth Seeing.

"What's the matter with the people here?" he asked. "What are you all running so hard for "

"Can't stop to talk, stranger," the man answered over his shoulder as he rushed on.

Men dashed out of their stores, slammed the doors and sprinted up the street, some in aprons, some in shirt sleeves. An epidemic of madness seemed to have struck the place.

The town policeman sauntered along at last. Policemen never hurry.

"What's wrong?" the stranger asked.

"Ain't nothin' wrong," said the policeman. "The railroad agent just got a telegram that the down express is comin' through in a few minutes with snow on the roof, and the boys have gone to fetch their families down to the depot to see the sight."—Newark News.

GOT THE WHOLE VOTE.

A Pledge That Was Freely Given and That Was Easily Kept.

It is related of a certain candidate for office in a certain Kansas campaign that he billed himself for a speech in a southern Kansas town on a certain October day and wrote ahead to a number of friends there to give him "tips."

One of them told him to see a certain colored man upon his arrival in the town. "If you can get the vote of this negro," wrote the friend, "you can get the vote of the whole negro population in this town. Don't fail to see him and get him to your way of thinking."

About the first thing the candidate did after registering at the hotel was to look up this negro. It was only a little while after the introduction that he was calling the negro by his given name, filling his pockets with cigars, passing him compliments and generally "giving him the taffy." The negro took it all and enjoyed the occasion immensely. The candidate spent several hours in the negro's company and after he thought the proper degree of warmth had been obtained broached the real object of his friendship:

"Say, John, I want the negro vote of this town."

"All right," replied John. "I'll vote fo' you, sah. I'll vote fo' you. I'm fo' you, sah."

"That's all right," said the candidate. "That's all right. I'm sure you will. I'm sure you will. But I want to have the whole negro vote of this town. I want to get all."

"Dat's all right," responded the negro. "I done said I'd vote fo' you. I'm yo' friend. I'll suttinly cast my vote fo' you."

"But, say, John, I know that," said the candidate. "See here, I'll be frank. The fellows told me that you are a big man among the colored folks down here and that if I got your vote I'd get the whole negro vote in this place. Do you catch on?"

"Sho," replied John. "Sho I do. You'll git de whole niggah vote, all right. Dey won't be trouble 'bout dat, sah. You see, I'm de only niggah in dis here whole town."—Mobile Register.

FEATS OF STRENGTH.

A Blacksmith Who Fairly Outdid Augustus the Strong.

Not all the world's strong men have been performers on the public stage. Indeed, instances might be multiplied in which the feats of professionals have been equaled or excelled.

Charles Louvier, a carpenter of Paris, found it child's play to roll a tin basin between his fingers into a cylinder. On one occasion he carried off a soldier on guard who had gone to sleep in the sentry box and deposited both the box and the soldier on a low churchyard wall near by.

Another man who sometimes found his great strength a source of amusement was a Danish locksmith, Knut Knudson. While standing in a window on the ground floor he lifted with one hand half a bullock from the shoulder of a butcher who was toiling past with his load.

Augustus the Strong, the elector of Saxony, once entered a blacksmith's shop to have his horse shod. To show his suit how strong he was he picked up several horseshoes and broke one after the other, asking the blacksmith as he did so if he had no better. When it came to paying the bill the elector threw a silver piece on the anvil. It was a very thick coin. The blacksmith took it up and broke it in half, saying, "Pardon me, but I have given you a good horseshoe, and I expect a good coin in return." Another piece was offered him. He broke that and five or six others. Then the humiliated elector handed him a louis d'or, saying "The others were probably made of bad metal, but this gold piece is good, I hope."

An Italian, Luigi Bertini of Milan performed a similar feat. Besides horseshoes, he broke nails a finger thick.

The Duke of Grammont, the minister of Napoleon III. frequently astonished the women at court by bending a twenty franc piece in his hand.

Early Italian Surgery.

Benvenuto Cellini (1500-1571) tells of early Italian surgery. He had got a bit of chipped steel in his eye, "so far into the pupil that it was impossible to get it out, so that I was in very great danger of losing that eye. But the surgeon came to the rescue with the pigeons. The surgeon, making me lie upon my back, with a little knife opened a vein in each of their wings, so that the blood ran into my eye and I was thereby greatly relieved. In the space of two days the bit of steel issued from my eye, and I found that I had received considerable ease and in a great measure recovered my sight."

Live and Learn.

Among the words given out for analysis recently by a district school teacher in Pennsylvania was "bank-note." The instructor's astonishment may be imagined when one male pupil turned in the following unique paper:

"Bank-note is a compound, primitive word, composed of 'bank' and 'note.' 'Bank' is a simple word, meaning the side of a stream; 'note,' to set down. 'Bank-note,' to set down by the side of a stream."—Lippincott's.

Atchison's Most Generous Man.

They tell of an Atchison man who was going down street with a girl. She was one of the kind who believes in the power of the gentle hint, and as they passed a candy store she said:

"Doesn't that candy smell good?"

"Yes," the man replied, "let's stop here and smell it awhile!"—Atchison Globe.

Two Mills Using Same Quality of Wheat May Not Produce Same Quality of Flour

The quality of flour largely depends on the milling. Two mills might grind wheat of the same quality and the product of one far outclass the other. It is not only the high quality of the hard wheat used, but also the superior milling facilities, that places "PURITY" flour so far above all others. Our milling plant at St. Boniface, Manitoba, cost nearly $1,000,000, and is one of the most perfectly equipped mills in the world. The wheat itself is subjected to the most wonderful system of cleaning and scouring, passing through twenty distinct machines. Fifty-five steel rollers, the largest in Canada, reduce the wheat into flour. Then it is purified and dressed by "bolting" it through silk sifters of fine mesh. Not a "branny" particle or speck of dust is ever found in "Purity" Flour.

You may have to pay a little more for Purity, but baking results, quality and quantity, prove it is worth far more than the slight difference.

We have two other modernly equipped mills at Brandon, Man., and Goderich, Ont.

ANALYSIS OF
ST. LAWRENCE GRANULATED SUGAR
THE STANDARD OF PURITY

Laboratory of Provincial Government Analyst.

MONTREAL, 22nd February, 1909.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that I have drawn by my own hand ten samples of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Co's Extra STANDARD GRANULATED SUGAR, indiscriminately taken from four lots of about 150 barrels each and six lots of about 450 bags each. I have analyzed same and find them uniformly to contain 99-99/100 to 100 per cent of pure cane sugar, with no impurities whatever.

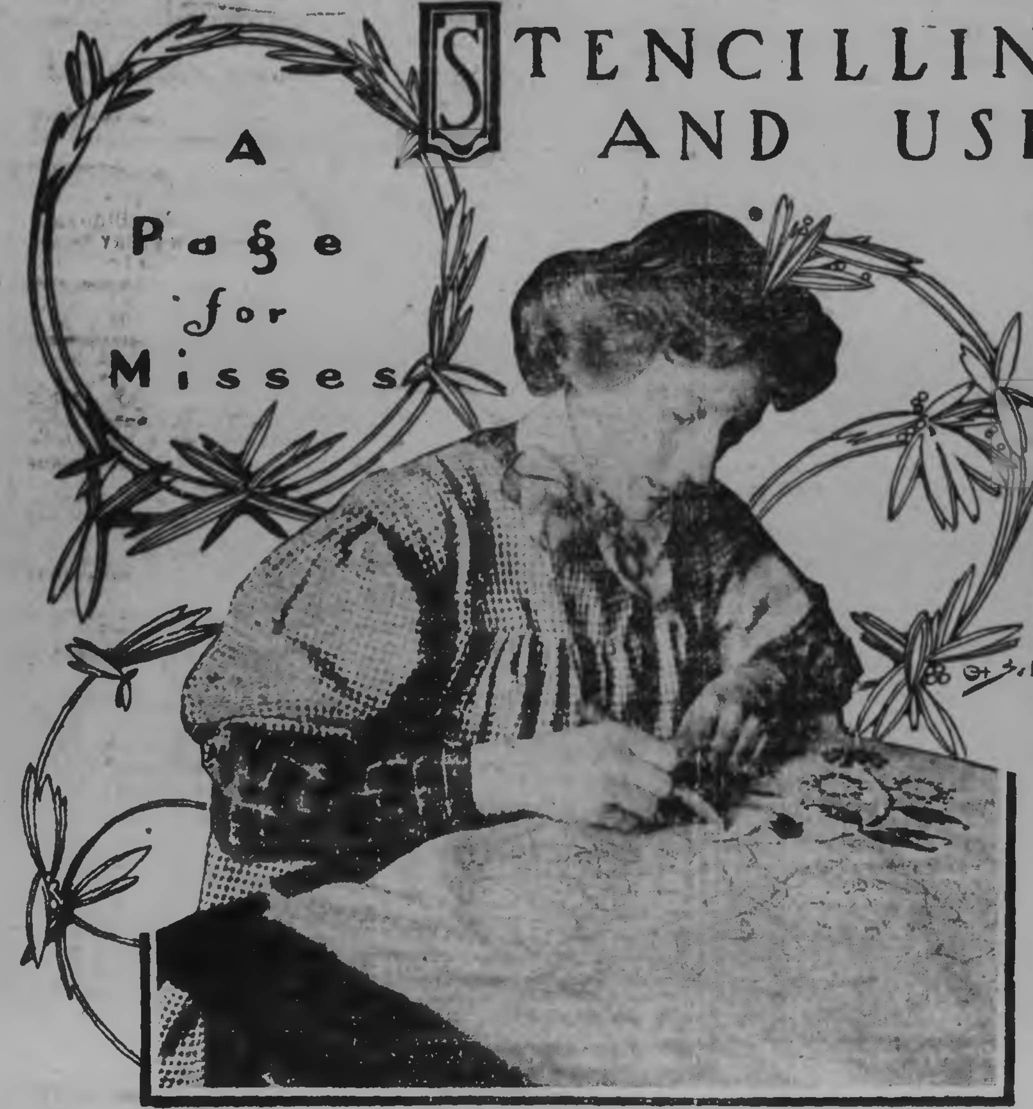
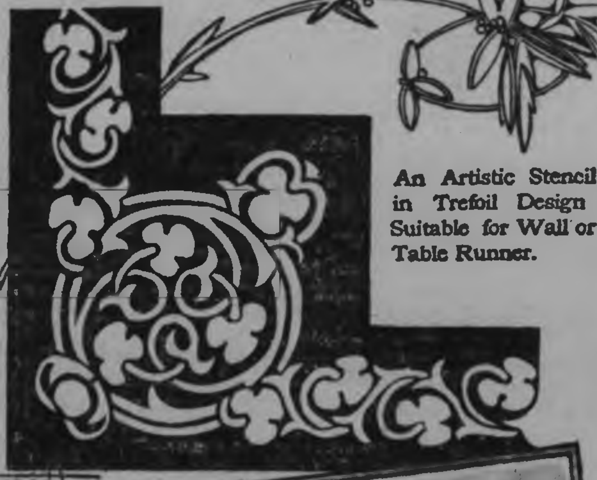
STENCILLING AS AN INTERESTING AND USEFUL ACCOMPLISHMENT.

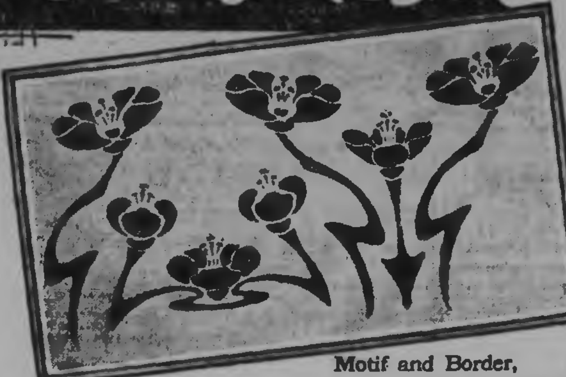
A Page for Misses



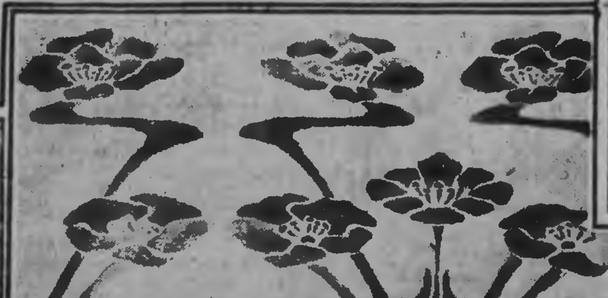
How to Cut a Stencil Pattern.

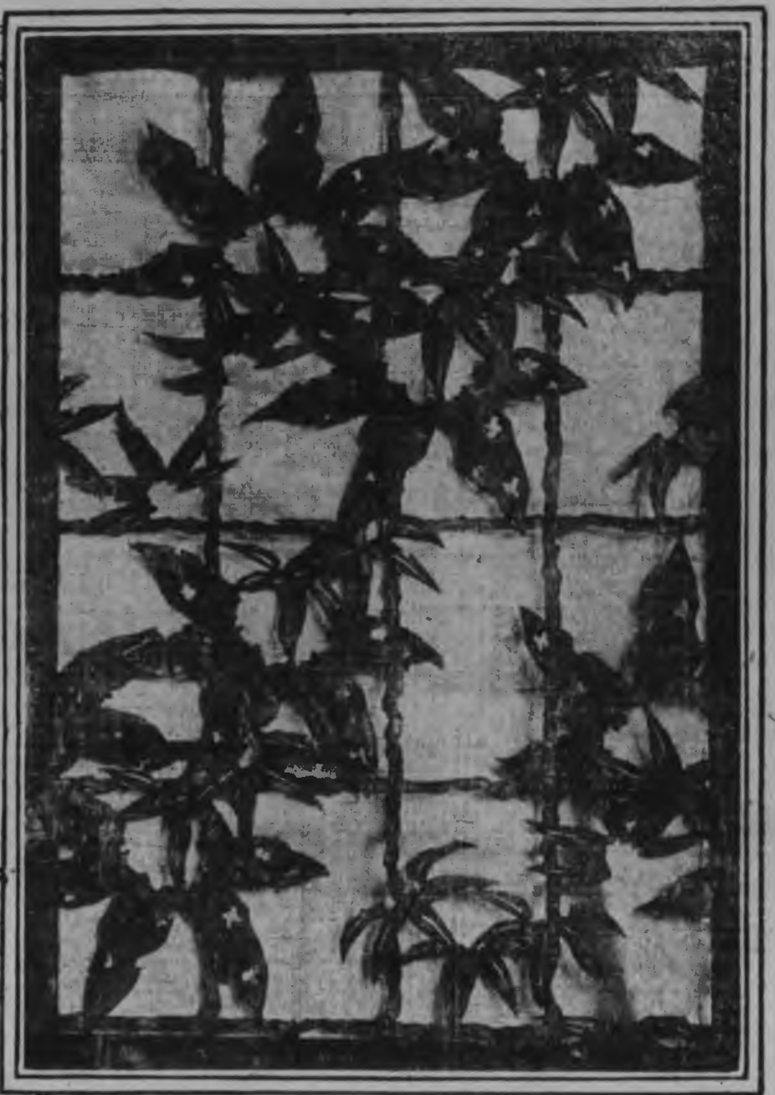


An Artistic Stencil in Trefoil Design Suitable for Wall or Table Runner.

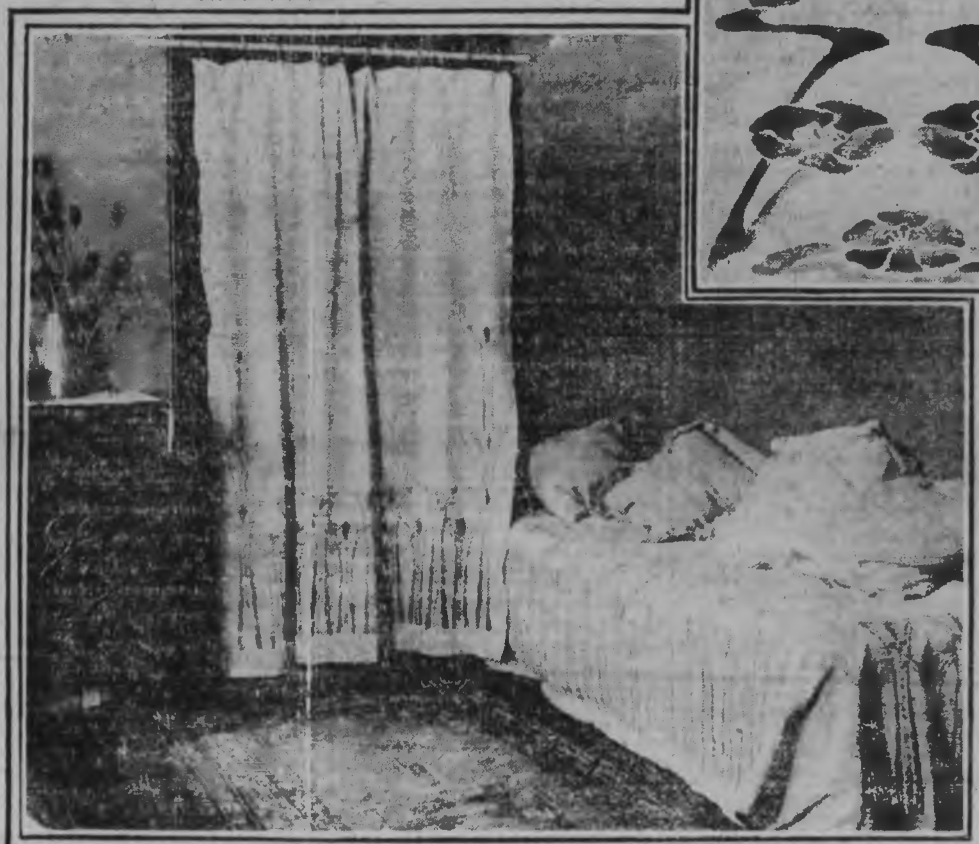


Motif and Border, Side Walls and Frieze.





Stencilling on Glass in Stained Window Effect.



Frequently the Same Motif Is Carried Out in All Draperies.

AS the time approaches for the town house to be abandoned for the summer cottage, the thought of cool, pretty furnishings for the girl's own room is a subject foremost in the minds of those who have a definite idea as to what they want. Every girl likes something novel and original for her own particular sanctum: something that will individualize it and make it stand out from the more stereotyped apartments of the family in general.

Now, it is always possible to go into the shops and buy pretty hangings and quaint furniture, but a girl can never depend upon having any particular style exclusively her own. Ten chances to one a half dozen of the girls in her set will have precisely the same. So to furnish a room in an artistic way and at the same time to weave a bit of the occupant's individuality into it, there is nothing which quite equals stencilling.

A room in which stencilling figures is bound to be different in treatment from any other: it is also bound to possess a distinctively decorative note. Of late many clever artists, both men and women, have put their minds on this form of decoration because it stands as one of the important handicrafts. There is no end of stunning designs to be bought if one knows where to get them—and for very small sums at that when the value of the work from an artistic standpoint is considered.

Not only is it possible to get special designs for curtains, bed hangings, portières, screens, bureau covers and table runners, but now that the latest craze is for stencilled walls some exceedingly handsome border designs and motifs can be bought which are unique and the effect of their application very charming. It can be seen, then, what really artistic color schemes can be carried out, since the walls as well as the draperies are stencilled.

One of the daintiest rooms in which stencilling figures has just been finished by a girl who is to be one of the Easter brides. Possessed by the idea that she wanted her own room to look as "springy" as possible to suit the season, she consulted a stencil artist, with this result:—Grayish green cartridge paper was laid on the walls, the filling being carried quite to the ceiling. A border or frieze was then stencilled, in which conventionalized crocuses, with their pale yellow blossoms and grayish green foliage, figured as a motif. For the side walls there were clusters of the crocuses stencilled over the surface at intervals, but not too close together to be monotonous—only to effect an artistic simplicity.

It is real joy to enter this room. No decided contrasts to offend the artistic taste greets the visitor; only the soft freshness of a spring morning. At the windows hang cream colored, unbleached muslin curtains, stencilled with the crocus pattern, and the same material forms the bedspread, which is edged with fringe; the table runner, table cloth, divan cover and sofa pillows. Rustic window boxes filled with yellow crocuses growing are set in the deep embrasures and complete one of the most novel and at the same time one of the most restful scenes of decoration ever attempted.

The difficulties of stencilling are probably fewer than occur in most any other form of decorative work. It is something that any girl may do. Certain precautions are to be observed, but a little practice enables one to overcome these stumbling blocks easily.

While familiarity with the art of stencilling may carry the worker into the realm of design, it is by no means necessary to study it. For since designs already prepared can be bought at prices ranging from 75 cents for a simple design up to $4 for one suited to a pair of portières, it is possible for a girl to pick up the work by herself, though if she really desires to do good work a course of eight or ten lessons will be quite sufficient to familiarize her with every branch of the art. In this way many discouragements may be avoided. From that point she can go on by herself, buying her designs or having them designed for her for small sums. Of course, if it happens that some particularly elaborate piece of work is to be done or some new kind of material used it is always possible to consult a teacher or take a few extra lessons.

If you should go into the studio of a stencil expert probably the first thing she would teach you would be the cutting of the stencils, for though those she uses for her pupils are already cut out, many of the stencils bought in the shops are only traced, the cutting out process having to be done by the operator.

For this purpose a sharp stencil knife is needed, and here a wide latitude is allowed, for, although there are special knives made for the purpose, very frequently one prefers some old knife that has been previously sharpened down. One that has been cut off square at the end like a putty knife will be found valuable in making sharp turns. Special attention should be given to the handle; it should be large enough not to unnecessarily tire the worker or cramp her hand.

A stencilling outfit can be bought for $5, and this will include brushes, knives and a limited supply of colors. Stencil paper at eight cents a sheet—a specially prepared, oil soaked cardboard—comes for the purpose. Once the design is drawn by the aid of impression paper on the stencil board—this is supposing the novice is learning the whole process—it is tacked down firmly on the work table and a piece of glass slipped underneath. Experts who are very sure of their hands frequently dispense with the glass, but a table that has been cut into may deflect the knife at some critical point, and thus spoil the design, so it is best to make use of the glass underneath.

With the stencil knife firmly grasped, the design is then cut out, care being taken to leave in a certain number of "bridges," so that the design will hold together.

"This," says the expert, "is one of the trials of the novice. She doesn't plan for bridges, and is dismayed when the work is done to find that either the solid part of the design falls out altogether or else it skews so that there is danger of stencilling the design unevenly. I consider this point a most important one to be noted if a girl is to cut out her own designs. Frequently one wants to leave a long sweeping line, such, for example, as that which occurs in the peacock; in that even it is necessary to leave in a number of bridges. Experience will soon indicate one's limitations in this respect.

"Once the design is cut out and ready to apply to the material, which may include a wide and most interesting selection of textiles, it is tacked down to the table over sheets of blotting paper, which are used to absorb any superfluous color.

"Now we come to the application of the colors, which is, above all, the most difficult step in stencilling. The tendency is either to get the color too thin so that it runs or to put it on too thick, and so give a dauby appearance. Transparency is an important consideration. Three mediums are used in stencilling, oil colors thinned with turpentine or naphtha; dyes and the opaque colors, which are much the same as those used in kalsomining.

"I, and I think most persons who stencil, prefer oils thinned with naphtha. For heavy fabrics like burlap turpentine may be used with perhaps better results, though to many the odor of turpentine is most offensive. It doesn't evaporate either so quickly as the naphtha, though I have found that where the odor of turpentine remains for a long time it is due to the quality of the liquid rather than anything else. One great advantage of the use of oils is that articles stencilled with it can be put right in the tub and laundered without injury. These Russian crash curtains, for example, have been washed several times, and you see the design is still perfect. A stencilling outfit includes a certain number of brushes suitable for the work.

"The colors are mixed with a palette knife until thin enough to run easily, and here I might say it is best to mix sufficient color for the entire piece of work, so that there will be no variation in tone. This is kept in open mouthed glass jars. It is well to try the color on an extra sample of the goods first in order to see if the paint is the right consistency.

"In the matter of materials there is a wide and pleasing selection and all within reasonable limits. Cheese cloth, which of course is most inexpensive, is pretty for stencilling and cotton rep at eighty cents a yard is also an attractive fabric to work in. Coarse linens to be bought for from twenty-five cents up to $2 a yard are admirable for certain purposes.

"Corduroy is admirable for stencilling and makes the most artistic divan covers, long curtains and portières. It is really quite cheap and is bought for from twenty-five cents upward. Russian crash at from fifteen cents to fifty cents is smart looking, but has the disadvantage for beginners of having an uneven surface to work upon. Arras cloth at $1.25 a yard is also a popular material. A fabric that is especially liked is grass cloth, a light weight textile that comes in various colors and is only ninety cents a yard double width. One shade, a pale gold, is stunning in effect.

"A girl who just returned from the Flowery Kingdom made use of this pale gold grass cloth in a most delightful manner. In her luggage she brought with her a fine collection of Japanese prints. It was her aim to make her room a suitable background for their reception. So she had the walls done in a soft warm gray, most restful to the eyes. Upon the kalsomined surface she stencilled an odd little Japanese motif.

"The use of gray for room coloring is, by the way, one of the novelties of the season. Green has been used so extensively that nearly every one has become surfeited with it, and the substitute has proven most acceptable, as it forms an admirable background for color schemes.

"Beside the Japanese motif—a series of conventionalized circles—a narrow border resembling somewhat the Greek key design bordered the windows and doors and was carried about the room close to the ceiling. Pale gold grass cloth curtains stencilled in a shadowy design in a deep amber covered the windows and wicker furniture stained gray was used. Japanese cotton rugs in black, white, gray and gold covered the floor. The room was perfectly stunning and one of the most daring color schemes I have ever seen in an American house.

"A Welsh rabbit set is being done just now by a young girl for a wedding present. It consists of a table runner of coarse gray Russian crash stencilled in an effective design, done in orange and onion color. With it go a set of plate doilies about twelve inches square, hemstitched and stencilled to match the runner. There are many small pieces for the table which are most effective when stencilled; for example, an oval centre for a polished library table. One recently done was of amber silk velour, stencilled in a Japanese design in browns. Similar pieces are made to lay over a handsome tray to prevent marring or discoloration.

"In the way of personal belongings there is of course the kimono, which is very stunning when stencilled. One girl has just finished such a pretty one made of old blue rajah with a band of black rajah for a trimming. Inside this band there is a stencilled border—Japanesey in effect—done in black. These filmy scarfs of gauze or chiffon, so popular for evening wear, are charming when stencilled in some shadowy pattern and in harmonious coloring. This spring with the fashionable mode for chiffon there is no end of opportunity for the application of stencilling, and some perfectly charming robes can be originated at very little expense by the girl who is clever with her fingers.

"A side line in this art is what is called batik work. It is allied to stencilling, and yet is somewhat different. For instance, a design is drawn on the material and afterward covered with a chemical preparation which prevents the dye, into which the entire material is afterward dipped, from sinking in at this point. After dyeing this preparation is then removed by a special process, which leaves the pattern intact. Frequently the entire fabric is again dipped, which of course colors the pattern but leaves it a different tone from the body of the material. It is extremely pretty and effective, but so much work that comparatively few attempt it. A sense of color harmony is invaluable to a girl going in for stencilling, but possessing the fundamentals of this knowledge the rest is quite easy."

Paper Lamp Shades for the Country House

THERE are many country houses still dependent for light upon the old fashioned lamps or candles, nor is this looked upon by the owners as a hardship, but rather as a pleasant reminder of simpler times before the days of speeding automobiles and telephones, which make it impossible ever to escape one night away from earshot of the "madding crowd." Again, an oil lamp is essentially an ornament. There are no disfiguring wires attached to it, and the light which it sheds is always soft and becoming.

There are, of course, gracefully pretty lamps, and there are sadly ugly ones, but fortunately the chief glory is always the shade, so that even in a rented house which has been furnished with a taste quite different from what one is accustomed to it is possible to make any size and kind of shade that for small cost will transform the lamp into an attractive ornament in the room.

It is really true that many a girl who has found it impossible to make for herself even a simple coll[illegible] tie can manufacture a wonderfully effective lamp shade. The reason for this is that, while the collar may demand fine hand sewing, the larger shade calls only for effect, and the stitches, unless atrocious, will not even show. She should not allow herself to be discouraged, therefore, the girl who has failed miserably in trying to make for herself some small thing which looked so very simple, for undoubtedly she has sufficient taste and skill to put together the larger, more effective article which requires ingenuity and a certain artistic sense, perhaps, but does not demand skill in detail or fine work.

The best and most appropriate lamp shades for a country house are formed either of chintz or wall paper, or else of lace and fine linen, the latter being made separate from its foundation so that it can be readily washed.

In the chintz and paper shades it is necessary, of course, for the frame to fit the design of the material, or the design the wire frame, whichever is procured first, for the panel must be perfect in size for the wires of the shade. As this style of shade is generally fashioned from ends of chintz or paper that chance to be left after a room has been redecorated, it is wise to take a piece of the stuff along in purchasing the frame. Perhaps the prettiest shades are those with round panels in which the cluster of flowers or basket effect of the design of the paper will fit. No allover or stripe patterns are good for a lamp shade, and if these are used in the hangings of the room it is best to purchase separate chintz or paper coinciding only in color with the drapings of the room for which the shade is intended.

In making a paper frame the material must be first pasted to a strip of unbleached muslin or of heavier paper before it can be fastened to the wire. Chintz, of course, can be sewed at once to the frame and each panel bordered with a narrow silk or cotton braid or a flat band of narrow crochet lace, which should be white or cream to harmonize with the background of the material. A deep fringe of sewing silk, or perhaps cotton, will complete this shade, which in design is equally good for a tiny candle shade or as a piano lamp, all depending upon the pattern of the chintz or cretonne.

English or glazed chintz is extremely pretty for this style of lamp shade, and for a country bedroom is always charming in its stiff, conventional patterns. The soft tones of the French cretonnes, however, are still the favorite with many, and after all both are so attractive that so long as the colors are good there is no real choice between them.

PRACTICAL TALKS BY THE APRIL GRANDMOTHER

"THE Countess of Dedbroke is a goose-chinned lady simply because she has not learned to hold her head properly," observed the April Grandmother in a discreet whisper, as she studied an Anglo-American bride.

"She means to raise her chin high, but she only succeeds in sticking it out, and until she overcomes that habit she will never attain a distinguished bearing. One way of acquiring the Vere de Vere pose is to practise walking down stairs with the head held erectly and with the arms folded or the hands clasped behind the back. The habit of touching the baluster rail is the worst of all enemies to correct pose. When the world is truly civilized there will not be any balusters; they are inventions calculated to destroy feminine grace of bearing as well as to afford costing opportunities for reckless small boys.

"The girl who can descend a staircase with her hands clasped and her chin raised will be certain to hold her shoulders erectly and carry herself with an air of confidence which a consciousness of centuries of noble ancestry does not always bestow.

"At all times—sitting, standing or walking—remember to hold the head high," continued the April Grandmother. "When seated be careful not to nestle the chin into the neck, especially if it is inclined to be plump, for that not only destroys the poise of the head but causes the cheeks to sag, the chin to double itself, the throat to thicken and the shoulders to droop. All these are indications of old age which no feminine person under sixty summers and winters has a right to exhibit.

"The girl who allows her neck to wabble usually stands awkwardly. She is certain to sway toward one side or the other and by resting more weight upon the right foot or the left foot break down an instep arch or make a callous spot on a sole.

"The habit of holding the chin high does wonders for the waist line, as a girl unconsciously sits more erect, and that posture naturally helps to keep the back straight and strengthens the two large muscles which meet between the bust and the hips.

"The art of getting up and sitting down gracefully and easily should be carefully studied. There is a happy medium between bobbing up suddenly and joltingly and in rising lightly and noiselessly without a rustle of taffeta and a clicking of boot heels. But even to hop up is better than to rise laboriously, with the aid of chair arms and with the shoulders drawn forward and the head bent. The girl who does not hold her chin up never rises gracefully.

"To sit down as if afraid the chair might not sustain the weight or as though every one of the joints needed lubrication and every bone ached with rheumatism makes a girl look awkward, but it is better than to bounce upon a seat like a rubber ball. The bouncing girl never has a graceful bearing or a reposeful manner, and she usually is a nerve racking companion."

May Wine Herbs.

GIRLS who like to go a-Maying can have great fun in the woods gathering the delicate green herb known as waldmeister or sweet woodruff, which housekeepers who follow old customs like to leave to brew in their old fashioned home made May wine. Some people call the sweet woodruff the "boss of the woods," so rampant is it in the early spring all about the outskirts of our big cities, though it is diminutive in size, growing in clusters not more than two inches high. In its natural state it has no flavor and little odor, but the essence extracted from it when it is steeped is delicious.

To flavor wine is not its only use, for dried and put into muslin bags it makes an exquisite perfume for bureau drawers, while having the peculiar quality of retaining its scent, which grows sweeter with the years. It must always be dried in the shade, as the sun extracts too much from it, and the most satisfactory way to dry it is to put it loose into bags of some thin material and hang them up where the air will circulate through them for several days.

Dismissed From College Dr. Workman Claims Damages

Wants $5,000 For His Dismissal From College.

NO JUST CAUSE, HE SAYS

Late Professor of Hebrew and Old Testament Exegesis In Wesleyan Theological College, Montreal, Declares That He Was Wrongfully Prevented From Continuing His Duties at the College.

Montreal, May 4.—An action for $5,000 damages has been entered by Rev. Geo. C. Workman, D.D., through his attorneys, against the Wesleyan Theological College. In his declaration Dr. Workman, after reciting the fact of his appointment as professor of Hebrew and Old Testament exegesis in Wesleyan Theological College, at a salary of $1,600 a year, from May 1, 1904, proceeds to state that he occupied and fulfilled the duties of that position until the first of May, 1908, when, without his consent and without any legal or just cause therefor, he was dismissed from the position, and although he has ever since the first of May, 1908, been ready and willing to continue the duties of the position, he has been illegally prevented from doing so.

Foreign Sailors Prayed.

Fort William, Ont., May 4.—Capt. Logan of the Hutchison, an American boat with coal, arrived yesterday after a hard struggle across the lakes.

He left the Soo Thursday morning with a crew of five Italians and two Galicians. In the storm on the lake, the foreigners refused to work, and occupied themselves with their beads. The engineer was endeavoring to keep steam up himself by firing, as well as attending to the engines, but felt himself succumbing to the unequal struggle.

Logan headed the boat into the storm, but a great wave coming aboard sunk the deck nearly two inches, causing the hatches to spring out.

The Hutchison was within ten miles of the Aurania when that boat sank.

Telegraph Operator Arrested.

Saskatoon, May 4.—Albert Wisewell former C.N.R. operator at Humboldt, was arrested on a charge of stealing certain private telegrams sent by H. E. Perry, Liberal organizer, during the bye-election at Humboldt, sent through the C.N.R. office. Following the alleged theft Wisewell went to the States. Recently he returned, and while at Regina had certain letters photographed, negatives being secured by the police. Wisewell, when arrested, was with Sinclair Elliott, who was defeated by Hon. Mr. Motherwell in the bye-election in question.

Insane Woman Suicides.

Stafford Springs, Conn., May 4.—Driven insane apparently by the sight of a memorial card which she had ordered for her daughter, Elsie, who died about a month ago, Mrs. Bernard Rister yesterday morning beat Chas. E. Emory of Boston, who had called to deliver the cards, over the head with an axe, inflicting serious wounds; shot and killed her five-year-old son Bernard, and then took her own life by sending a bullet through her heart.

Row Over Onions.

Guelph, May 4.—A ten-cent dish of onions, and whether or not it had been ordered, resulted in a midnight row in the Greek restaurant on Wyndham street, during which Alex. Graham, last year of the lacrosse team at West Toronto, had his head so badly cut by a sugar bowl that he is now in the General Hospital.

Orilia Carries Bylaw.

Orillia, May 4.—The town of Orillia yesterday passed a bylaw to grant the E. Long Manufacturing Co., Ltd., a free site for a new factory and grant and fixed the assessment, etc. The bylaw carried by 1,107 votes to 30 against. The company agree to increase the employes by over 50 per cent. They now employ 70.

Girl Fatally Burned.

Morrisburg, May 4.—Lottie Dafoe, the 16-year-old daughter of Stanley Dafoe, [illegible], was burned to death Saturday. She was alone in the house [illegible]

MANY DON'T KNOW HEART AFFECTED.

More People than Aware of It Have Heart Disease.

"If examinations were made of everyone, people would be surprised at the number of persons walking about suffering from heart disease."

This startling statement was made by a doctor at a recent inquest. "I should not like to say that heart disease is as common as this would imply," said the expert, "but I am sure that the number of persons going about with weak hearts must be very large."

"Hundreds of people go about their daily work on the verge of death, and yet do not know it. It is only when the shock comes that kills them that the unsuspected weakness of the heart is made apparent."

"But undoubtedly heart weakness, not disease, is more prevalent nowadays. I should think that the stress of living, the wear and rush of modern business life, have a lot to do with heart trouble."

There is no doubt but that this is correct, and we would strongly advise any one suffering in any way from heart trouble to try a course of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Price 50 cts. per box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

FLUTTERING OF THE HEART.

Mrs. G. M. White, [illegible], N.B., writes:—"I was troubled with weak spells and fluttering of the heart. I was so bad I could scarcely lie down in bed. I procured a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they helped me so much I got another box and it has made a final cure. I cannot speak too highly of them. I think they are worth their weight in gold."

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

The Turkish Cabinet has resigned.

Rev. J. Roy Van Wyck, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church at Hamilton, has resigned.

A number of Italians employed on the street railway construction at Hamilton struck for better pay.

The British Government has suggested to the colonies that a conference on the defence of the Empire be held this summer.

The defence in the Levis forgeries blames Bank Manager Lindsay as the instigator of the crime for which Anderson is on trial.

The steamer Edwin F. Holmes collided with the dredge used in laying the Detroit river tunnel, and knocked a hole in the dredge's side.

Evidence brought out at the Hains trial yesterday tended to show that the act of Captain Hains in shooting Annis was not premeditated.

Three Men Electrocuted.

Paris, May 4.—A boy and two men were electrocuted in Paris yesterday before the eyes of several thousand spectators. The boy was walking along a fence flanking the tracks of the Belt Railroad, when he fell upon an exposed high tension cable and was killed instantly. A nearby workman rushed to the boy's rescue, but the instant he touched the body he fell dead. Another workman, ignoring the warning cries of the people, tried to save his comrade, and shared a similar fate.

Fire In Five-Cent Theatre.

Peoria, Ills., May 4.—As the result of the explosion in the film room of the Crescent Nickelodeum, plunging the entire front of the theatre in flames, W. W. Robinson, city editor of The Peoria Star, and manager of the playhouse, is dead.

More than three hundred persons were in the theatre, but no panic ensued, the crowd walking out of the theatre through the fire-enwrapped main entrance. Robinson dropped dead an hour later as the result of inhaling flames.

Policeman Shot Youth.

New York, May 4.—As a result of a wound received on Sunday in a struggle with a policeman over his father's arrest, Louis Prober, 19 years old, died early yesterday in the Brooklyn Hospital. Policeman Dillon, who says the revolver was discharged accidentally in a scuffle, is held at his station.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Active at Buffalo and Chicago.

LONDON, May 3.—London cables for cattle are steady at 13c to 13¾c per lb., for Canadian steers, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9¾c to 10c per lb.

Toronto Junction Live Stock.

TORONTO JUNCTION, May 3.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 65 carloads, composed of 1436 cattle, 70 hogs, 11 sheep, 35 calves.

Exporters.

Export steers sold from $5.50 to $6.05, one extra quality load being sold by McDonald and Halligan at the latter price. Export bulls sold at $4.25 to $5 per cwt.

Butchers.

Butchers' cattle sold well, fully as high as the best quotations on Thursday last week. Prime picked lots brought from $5.30 to $5.50; loads of good, $5.10 to $5.35; medium, $4.75 to $5; common, $4.25 to $4.65; cows, $3.50 to $4.75; bulls, $4 to $4.25.

Feeders.

A few short-keep feeders were bought, weighing 1150 lbs. each, at $5.10 to $5.35 per cwt.

Milkers and Springers.

Fred. Rowntree bought four milkers and springers at $45 to $[illegible] each.

Veal Calves.

Receipts were light, prices for the bulk ranged from $5 to $5.50 per cwt., but a few of good to choice quality brought $6 to $6.50 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Export ewes were quoted at $4.50 to $5; rams, $3.50 to $4.25; yearling lambs, grain fed, $7.25 to $8 per cwt.; common yearlings, $5 to $6 per cwt.; spring lambs, $3 to $6.50 each, with something of good weight and choice quality worth more money.

Hogs.

All kinds of prices were quoted. H. P. Kennedy quoted $7.15, f.o.b., cars, at country points, and $7.40 fed and watered. F. Puddy bought 6 hogs from a farmer's wagon at $7.60 per cwt.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, May 3.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending May 1, were 2120 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 2750 hogs and 540 calves. The offerings this morning for local consumption consisted of 900 cattle, 300 sheep and lambs, 1325 hogs and 250 calves.

A stronger feeling prevailed in the market for cattle and prices advanced fully ¼c per lb. This was attributed to the smaller run, the improved quality of the stock and the more active demand from exporters, out-of-town and local buyers. A feature of the market was the buying for export account to complete shipments for the first vessels sailing from this port this week, and 6c was paid for choice, stall-fed steers, and 5½c to 5¾c for good. The demand for supplies from local butchers was keener than usual, owing to the fact that they were well cleaned out of stock and on the whole quite an active trade was done in spite of the higher prices demanded. Choice steers sold at 6c, good at 5¼c to 6c, and inferior at 3c to 3¾c per lb. There were a number of good to choice bulls on the market for which the demand continues good and sales were made at 4½c to 5½c per lb. Fat cows were also more numerous than usual and met with good sale at 4c to 5¼c per lb. There were no new developments in the market for small meats, supplies being still very limited and especially so of sheep and lambs. There was considerable enquiry for this class of stock, but buyers found it somewhat difficult to fill their wants, and prices ruled firm. Yearling lambs sold at 6½c to 7c, and old sheep at 5c to 5½c per lb. A few spring lambs were offered, which met with a ready sale at prices ranging from $3 to $6 each, as to size. The trade in calves was active, of which the offerings were not excessive and prices were steady, at from $1.50 to $7 each, as to size and quality. On Friday and Saturday of last week there was a very keen demand from local packers for hogs and as supplies were limited a stronger feeling prevailed in the market and prices scored a further advance of 10c per cwt., with sales of selected lots at $8.45 per cwt., weighed off the cars. In consequence of the above and larger offerings this morning than were anticipated, an easier feeling developed and prices reacted 10c per cwt., and sales were made at $8.35 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, May 3.—Cattle—Receipts, 2750 head; active; strong and 10c higher; prime steers, $6.40 to $6.75; shipping, $6 to $6.40; butchers', $5.60 to $6.30; heifers, $4.25 to $6; cows, $3.50 to $5.50; bulls, $3.75 to $5.40; stockers and feeders, $4.25 to $5; stock heifers, $3.50 to $4; fresh cows and springers, steady, $28 to $55.

Veals—Receipts, 2200 head; active and steady; $6 to $7.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 14,800 head; active and steady; heavy and mixed, $7.50 to $7.60; yorkers, $7.10 to $7.50; pigs, $6.90 to $7; a few $7.10; roughs, $6.40 to $6.60; stags, $5 to $5.75; dairies, $7 to $7.50.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at 19,000; market 5c to 10c higher; beeves, $5 to $7.10; Texas steers, $4.60 to $5.75; western steers, $4.70 to $5.75; stockers and feeders, $3.60 to $5.60; cows and heifers, $2.40 to $6.25; calves, $5.50 to $7.50.

Hogs—Receipts, estimated at 44,000; market steady to shade lower; light, $6.75 to $7.20; mixed, $6.90 to $7.32½; heavy, $6.90 to $7.35; rough, $6.90 to $7.05, good to choice heavy, $7.05 to $7.35; pigs, $5.70 to $6.70; bulk of sales, $7.10 to $7.30.

The Insanity Plea.

"Sir!" said the young woman, with what seemed to be indignation.

The young man looked embarrassed.

"Yes, I did kiss you," he admitted, "but I was impulsively insane."

"That means that a man would be a lunatic to kiss me?"

"Well, any man of discretion would be just crazy to kiss you."

This seemed to ease the strain, and, no jury being present to muddle affairs, a satisfactory verdict was reached.—Philadelphia Ledger.

She Admitted It.

"What do you ask for this plaque?" inquired an old gentleman of the pretty girl in charge of a church bazaar.

"One guinea," she replied.

"Aren't you a little dear?" queried the old gentleman.

"Well," answered the pretty girl, blushing, "that's what the boys all tell me."

An Indestructible Color.

The indestructible floral color is yellow. You cannot, even with sulphurous acid fumes, destroy it. Take a heartsease and try. You will consume the purple tint easily enough, but the yellow will remain for all your filthy fumes.—Fry's Magazine.

Fair Warning.

Year after year an old farmer had listened in grim silence to the trains thundering by his land. Finally one day, his patience at an end, he dropped his plow and shook his fist at the passing express.

"Ye can puff an' blow all ye like, gol durn ye," he cried, "but I'm goin' to ride ye Saturday!"—Everybody's.

A PLAGUE OF ANTS.

The Vicious Insects Are a Nuisance in Southwestern Africa.

"Ants—white, black and yellow—are a great nuisance in Nigeria," says Charles Partridge in "Cross River Natives." "They march from place to place in military formation. Some carry their young, others bear food, and scouts and a fighting escort are always on duty. Their column looks like a long black snake curving along the ground.

"They leave behind them a well formed road about four inches broad and half an inch deep, worn smooth by the tread of the countless throng.

"They do not bite when the sun is high, but woe betide the hapless wight who comes in their way at other times! While traveling through the bush you occasionally find them in possession of a section of the road. Perhaps you are in the midst of them before you discover the presence of your small but fierce adversary. The first man bitten yells out something meaning, 'Ware ants!' and we all hurry forward, stamping vigorously. Those of us upon whom the little warriors have fastened tear off our clothes and nip the foes to death. My little black horse always wanted to turn back when he came to a column of ants. My dog Bob, a native, used to dance like a bear on hot bricks when the driver ants got between his paws and had to be held down while they were plucked out.

"One night I suddenly awoke with a feeling that something was amiss. All the household pets, such as snakes, lizards, rats, toads, centipeds and spiders, seemed to be bestirring themselves restlessly. No sooner had my foot touched the ground than I knew what it was, for a fierce bite told me that the driver ants were upon us.

"On lighting a candle I found a column marching across the floor and a whole regiment attacking my bed. I roused the assistant district commissioner, and eventually, using wisps of burning paper, we drove out the enemy. Fire or hot ashes are the best means to use for expelling them."

A HOTEL DINNER.

The Husband Ordered It, and His Wife Criticised It.

On the midnight train ride from town, where he and his wife had been entertaining one of his best patients at dinner and the theater, the suburban doctor spoke bitterly:

"What a dinner! And it cost $15. The cooking in these big hotels is atrocious. They smear sauces over everything. I suppose it is to hide poor materials."

"It isn't the fault of the cooking that our dinner was a failure. It was its selection that doomed it."

"What was the matter with the selection?"

"You should not have done the ordering. You have your meals chosen for you almost every day in the year. It is the women of people in our circumstances who ought to arrange the menus at restaurants. Look what you ordered! Bisque of lobster—a soup with a body of thick white sauce. Sweetbreads—cooked, as usual, with a cream dressing. Virginia ham with champagne sauce—a brown sauce as thick as molasses. Then for dessert you took a chance on pudding Reine Victoria—candied fruit and lady fingers swimming in soft custard."

"Well, how is a fellow to know? Lobster soup, sweetbreads, Virginia ham and pudding Reine Victoria—it sounds fine."

"But a woman knows that it is a wretched combination of splendid dishes. It is the woman's dull duty to choose menus for 365 days in the year. She learns a good deal about selection. Yet when a sum of money, equal to a week's food expenses, is to be squandered on one dinner at a hotel it is the man who seizes the menu and tries to look capable. He makes a failure frequently, as you did tonight. It would have been a pleasure for me to order a fifteen dollar dinner—a change from manipulating dinner for four on $1. But men feel too important in a restaurant to submit the menu to their wives for assistance."—Exchange.

New Art and Bad Figures.

"New art furniture is responsible for many ills," said the woman who notices things, "and the chairs are especially bad. Certain of the chairs positively are instruments of torture. Not only are they rigidly upright, but many of them give the impression that the backs lean forward instead of in the reverse direction. Have you noticed how common round shoulders are becoming among young persons? The only explanation, in my view, is that the new art chairs are responsible for it. They tend to make those who use them stoop and give them an apelike appearance. The proper chair is the most comfortable one, the one which rests the nape of the neck and muscles of the back and restores the upright attitude after exertion has bowed the body forward. To rest the body perfectly you must not only sit still—you must relax the strain caused by work. And a really comfortable chair will do this and cure round shoulders better than anything I know. One can imagine no more uncomfortable home for a man returning tired in the evening than one furnished with these new art abominations. After he has sat there for a little while he thinks with longing of the comfortable club easy chair, and he naturally goes to the club, where, at any rate, he can be comfortable. The ideal dining chair gives you support just below the shoulder blades and allows you to lean back. When the back of the chair comes any higher than that it will keep your body constantly strained and if its use be persisted in ultimately warp you. When people invite you to dinner why do the host and hostess always have comfortable carving chairs, while the wretched guests are made to feel before dinner is over that their backs are broken? I call that shabby hospitality."

SPRING WEARINESS

Are you feeling languid and all run down—is it hard for you to pull yourself together, and does everything seem too much trouble for you? Are you feeling irritable and bad tempered? No wonder if you are. The months of winter have tried you sorely and robbed you of more vitality than your system has been able to replenish. You are in need of a good tonic which will revive you and bring back that old-time vim and energy. PSYCHINE will do this.

Mr. James Stoliker, of Ridgetown, says:—"THERE IS LIFE IN EVERY DOSE. I cannot speak too highly of PSYCHINE, for it is the greatest medicine I ever used. I was just about 'All in' when I began the treatment, and in 3 months I was as well as ever. It is a great tonic for weak and run-down people. There seems to be new life in every dose." You cannot do without PSYCHINE at this time of the year. It is a necessity and will banish that run-down feeling, languor, etc., and give you new life. Send to DR. T. A. SLOCUM, Limited, Spadina Ave., Toronto, for a sample to-day, or purchase a bottle from your local Druggists or Dealer.

$26,400,000

The Bank of Montreal at the end of its fiscal year, October 31st, 1908, added another $1,000,000 to its Reserve Fund, thus further emphasizing its great strength and stability.

With a Saving Department at every one of its many Branches, it offers the opportunity for all, who so desire, to avail themselves of its many advantages by opening a Savings Account.

A Savings Bank account is the best safeguard against misfortune, being always ready and available, and earning interest all the time.

Consideration for one's family demands that all heads of households should provide against the day of adverse conditions, and there is no simpler way than by laying systematically from time to time a portion of income or earnings in a Savings account.

Deposits can be made from One Dollar up, and withdrawals can be made at any time, without notice or delay.

Mob Rescues Prisoner.

Morrisburg, May 4.—Police Chief Hall had an exciting experience while bringing Jos Lawande from Montreal to answer charges of smuggling. Immediately on boarding the train, he was mobbed by some fifteen to twenty men, a portion of whom were Assyrians, who pulled him and the prisoner out of their seats. In the meantime, one of the party produced a document written in French, which was all Greek to Chief Hall, and demanded the release of the prisoner. The mob pulled and pounded Chief Hall all the way from Lachine to Dorval, having him out on the platform twice. The last time he was forced to release his man. The mob also rifled Chief Hall's pockets.

Two Judges Accused.

Washington, May 4.—Making charges against Federal Judges John F. Philips and Smith McPherson of the western district of Missouri, Representative Murphy of that state yesterday introduced a resolution to investigate their contract in the litigation between the state and the railroad companies over the maximum freight law and the Missouri two-cent passenger rate law.

Murphy claims that the two judges accompanied certain railroad attorneys on a fishing trip, on which occasion members of the party were arrested for violation of the game laws of the state.

Shot at Poachers.

Buffalo, May 4.—Discovered fishing with seine in the Niagara river at Bridgeburg early yesterday morning, two Canadians were ordered by Game and Fish Protector Briggs of Bridgeburg, and his deputy, Luther Jeffries of London, to surrender, but the men jumped into the river. The officers emptied their revolvers, but did not hit the men. The men were picked up by a negro companion in a boat and rowed to the American side. Later they returned to Fort Erie.

Shot by Blackhand.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 4.—Frank Ross, a miner, who has been assisting the police in getting suspicious Italians out of McKeesport, a suburb, was mysteriously shot early yesterday, while passing a row of tenements occupied by Italians, and is not expected to recover. He told the police a dozen shots were fired.

FLORENCE KINRADE'S MEMORY LOSES GRASP ON PAST AFFAIRS

Miss Kinrade Says She Forgets Many Things.

LOVE AFFAIR WITH BAUM

She Admits That Her Correspondence With Young Virginian Lasted Until Two Weeks Before the Murder—Choir Engagement Was Very Short — Mrs. Kinrade Faints During Her Testimony.

Hamilton, May 4.—Florence Kinrade has survived the ordeal of six hours' sharp inquisition at the hands of such a brilliant examiner as G. T. Blackstock, K.C., and if she has not emerged with flying colors, as the saying is, neither has she been led into any apparent very serious admissions, so far as the subject of the enquiry is concerned. The enquiry adjourned at 11.30 to resume at 7.30 to-night.

The crown played a trump card in the production of a number of letters —the important discovery made last week in the Kinrade residence. They brought out one sensational point—that it was not until a fortnight prior to the tragedy that Florence Kinrade wrote Jimmy Baum, terminating their love affair, because she said, she now realized that her affections were centered on Montrose Wright.

It was brought out that there had been trouble in the Kinrade home between Florence and the others, following the discovery that a Christmas present from Baum to Florence had been intercepted and returned.

It was made evident, too, that the crown's investigation in the vicinity of Richmond and Virginia Beach had been productive of considerable results. Miss Kinrade was confronted with statements that persons with whom she had been more or less intimate, according to her own story, couldn't be discovered to exist, and, most surprising of all, that she wasn't known at Manchester Presbyterian Church, in which she had said she was soloist.

Mr. Blackstock's "My instructions are" were a frequent prelude to the introduction of statements so flatly contradictory to what Miss Kinrade had sworn that the wonder was how she could bear up with such apparent unshaken composure. Time and again she was compelled to retract statements.

The most important bit of evidence in the evening came when Mr. Blackstock asked:

"Did you write Baum between Christmas and New Year's and tell him that if he had written a letter it must have been intercepted by your people, as you did not receive it?" "Yes."

"Your mother and Ethel did not tell you they had intercepted Baum's letter?" "No."

"And you were angry when you found it out?" "Yes."

"You continued writing love letters to Mr. Baum until Feb. 10, two weeks before the tragedy?" "Yes."

"And in one you say that sometimes you think you would go crazy with your trouble. What had that reference to?" "I don't know."

"What had that reference to, Miss Kinrade? Was that a joke?"

"No. They wanted me to marry, and he had wanted me to marry him and go on the stage, and I was very much undecided."

When Mrs. Kinrade, the first witness, was called, Mr. Lynch-Staunton formally asked that the enquiry be continued in private, emulating U.S. grand jury methods, which he thought were a desirable innovation for Canadian courts.

"As you say," replied the coroner, "there have been some misrepresentations made, and it is for that reason that I cannot grant your request. I think it will be far better if further investigation will be corrected by public opinion."

Later, Mr. Lynch-Staunton actually appealed to Mr. Blackstock to continue the enquiry in private, but the coroner declined to accede.

Care was also taken by counsel for the defence to secure for Florence Kinrade all the legal "protection" from answering incriminating questions that was available and once or twice was objections taken to Mr. Blackstock's line of enquiry.

Both afternoon and evening, the court was crowded, indicating that the extremely liberal policy of issuing passes was still in force.

The air of the small room was heavy soon after 8 p.m. and an excited buzz of voices indicated high expectations. Outside was a crowd of several hundred, and on the arrival of the carriage containing the Kinrade family there was a general scuffle to get a view of their faces as they alighted and hurriedly passed the portals. The solemnity of the occasion seemed to weigh little upon the spirits of the gathering, and Coroner Anderson had to enjoin order by threatening to clear the room.

Miss Kinrade's examination, which began at 4.05 p.m., lasted over two hours, until adjournment, while she again bore the brunt of attack for three and a half hours at night, she being the sole witness. Through it all she retained apparent absolute self-possession and answering deliberately, if vaguely, a constant fire of interrogations. At 10.20 p.m. Mr. Blackstock informed her she might withdraw if she wished, but she choose otherwise, and for another hour calmly endured her ordeal.

Miss Kinrade betrayed no nervousness other than an occasional restless swaying. Her gaze wandered often but always returned to her examiner.

Action On Conmee's Power Bill Is Deferred For Several Days

Action on Conmee's Power Measure Is Deferred in Commons.

OPPOSITION FIGHTS HARD

After Stiff Debate Mr. Fielding Finally Consents to the Committee Merely Reporting Progress Again—Canada Life Bill Is Also Left Over Until Friday — Premier Whitney Is Interested.

Ottawa, May 4.—Having amended his bill incorporating the Ontario & Michigan Power Co. to meet, as he thought, all the objections that had been offered to it, Mr. James Conmee found, when the House got into committee, that he had reckoned without the Premier of Ontario. In the interval members of the Opposition had consulted Sir James as to the propriety of allowing the amended bill to go through, with the result that they appeared yesterday with instructions to continue the opposition. The consequence was a blockade which lasted from 11 o'clock until 9 in the evening, when, recognizing the futility of continuing the discussion further, Hon. Mr. Fielding agreed to allow the bill to stand over for a few days more.

Mr. Blain opened the discussion yesterday morning, saying that Premier Whitney had expressed the view that Parliament should leave the question to the Ontario Legislature, as being one of provincial jurisdiction. Mr. Conmee declined to recognize Sir James Whitney as an authority on this point. On the banks of the Pigeon river is a location, the patent for which goes back some 50 years, and that it is so situated as to destroy the claim that the province owns the land along the river bank.

What would the House profit by defying the expressed wish of the people of Ontario? queried Claude Macdonnel, who believed the bill ultra vires.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier contended that the Dominion had exclusive jurisdiction. The whole difficulty was over the power of expropriation; it would expedite matters if they could pass the other parts of the bill, and come to this point at once.

Mr. Blain remarked that the principal promoters are American capitalists, who know that the Ontario Government will give such large powers to no man, friend or foe, in the country or out of it.

Mr. Conmee confessed that he had no regard for the Ontario Government's power policy.

Mr. Magrath asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier if the Canadian section of the Waterways Commission had been consulted in regard to the bill. Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied in the negative.

Haughton Lennox argued in the afternoon in favor of the retention of all available water power in Canada for the development of our own industry. Such a policy would force Americans who desire to use the power to establish industries in Canada.

Assuming, for the sake of argument, that jurisdiction rests with the Dominion, would it be a good policy to alienate Canada's wealth of power without providing for some form of compensation? asked Sam Sharpe.

Sir Wilfrid repeated that jurisdiction rests with the Dominion. As to the wisdom of allowing the exportation of power he had an open mind.

F. E. Carvell stated that the property at Pigeon River Falls was the private property of a Mr. Stewart since 1856, and had passed out of the hands of the province.

Mr. Macdonnel opposed the bill on the other ground that the bill did not specify where the work was to be erected and Mr. Lennox described the company as simply exploiters who wanted to export Canada's power into a rival country.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier commended Ontario for conserving the water powers of crown lands, but did not believe that the province contemplated expropriation of private property.

Dr. Sproule said that the interference of the Government with the provincial rights of Manitoba and British Columbia was the cause of the defeat of the Liberals in these provinces at the last election. Was Sir Wilfrid inviting also the condemnation of Ontario?

Mr. Blain asked that the bill be returned to the private bills committee in order that a representative of the Province of Ontario might present the case of the province.

Mr. Middleboro cited a New Brunswick case to show that the province had all the authority to grant the powers asked for in this bill, and had had jurisdiction.

Edmund Bristol could not understand why the Premier should not find it consistent with the dignity of his position to let the bill stand for three or four days to allow the Premier of the Province of Ontario to express his views.

Just before 6 o'clock J. E. Armstrong asked the Premier to definitely state his objections to delaying the bill until the province was heard from.

In the evening Mr. Armstrong reminded the House that he had asked Sir Wilfrid Laurier for a reply, but, that as he was not present, Mr. Fielding might answer. Mr. Lennox followed up on the same line and Mr. Fielding thereupon held conversation with Mr. Conmee and the Liberal whips. He then crossed the floor to the Opposition and discussed the situation with the Conservative whips, after which he moved that the House rise and report progress. He said that the business of the House could not make much headway on the present lines, and in view of the notice by Sir James Whitney regarding the bill, the measure would be delayed for a few days.

Another bitter discussion arose last night in the Commons over the Canada Life Bill.

The proposal to send the bill back to the banking and commerce committee was defeated, but further consideration of it was deferred until Friday.

Van Horne on Reciprocity.

London, May 4.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Sir W. Van Horne, interviewed in London regarding the possibility of reciprocity between Canada and the United States, said:

"I consider that there are only about 6 1-2 per cent. fools in Canada. So long as the percentage doesn't materially increase we are in no danger of reciprocity, or such reciprocity as would throw down all the customs barriers."

Non-Union Bread Causes Riot.

New York, May 4.—Two men were in Gouveneur Hospital and ten were under arrest yesterday as a result of disorders arising from the strike among the bakers on the east side.

Schulem Rubenstein entered Michael Novak's restaurant and wine cellar early yesterday, and when he found a loaf of bread without the union label he struck the proprietor. Novak's wife threw a bowl of sugar at Rubenstein, fracturing his skull. A riot followed.

Good Coachman; Bad Chauffeur.

Lakewood, N.J., May 4.—Despondent over his troubles with his employer's motor car, owing to his inexperience as a chauffeur, is believed to have been the cause for the suicide of Carper Harbell, aged 52, chauffeur for Parke Wright of Buffalo. Harbell drowned himself by lying down in comparatively shallow water. He had been for many years coachman for the family and was recently given charge of the auto.

Castro May Sue France.

Paris, May 4.—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, is consulting with lawyers here with a view to bringing a damage suit against the French Government for his recent expulsion from Martinique, based on the fact that he was forcibly placed aboard a ship at Martinique and compelled to return to France, without being given the option of choosing his destination.

Aeroplanes for British Army.

London, May 4.—Wilbur and Orville Wright, aeroplanists of Dayton, Ohio, visited the War Office yesterday morning and had a conference with War Secretary Haldane and Major-Gen. Sir Charles F. Hadden, master-general of the ordnance, at which a proposal that they supply the British Government with one or more aeroplanes, was discussed.

Bar Children From Shows.

Albany, May 4.—After Sept. 1 next, it will be a misdemeanor to admit to a kinetoscope or moving picture performance, or in any place of entertainment, injurious to health or morals, any child under the age of 16 years, unless accompanied by parents or guardian. A bill embodying this prohibition was signed yesterday by Governor Hughes.

A Juvenile Raffles.

Kingston, May 4.—In broad daylight, a 10-year-old lad went into the tailor shop of Crawford & Walsh, took $6 from the till and fled. He was caught and admitted his guilt and was given the cat-o'-nine-tails by the police. He had told the clerk he wanted to look at the directory, and when the clerk went upstairs "tapped" the till.

Pulled Off Some Wreckage.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 4.—Upon arriving in the Soo yesterday afternoon Capt. MacKie of the steamer Glenellah reported having pulled up on his anchor when opposite Whitefish, considerable wreckage, presumably from an 800-ton tow barge.

Arrested for Murder.

Winnipeg, May 4.—Acting on instructions received in the name of the Czar, the provincial police yesterday arrested J. Buchgolz, near Sifton.

He is wanted at Baden, Russia, on a charge of being implicated in a murder committed there July 10, 1906.

Labor Troubles at Victoria.

Vancouver, B.C., May 4.—There are rumors of coming labor troubles along several lines in the building trades. The outcome is uncertain, as neither contractors nor journeymen are willing to speak freely on the matter.

Thirteen Hanged.

Constantinople, May 4.—Thirteen civilians and soldiers, sentenced by the military courts to death for murder, were hanged in different parts of Constantinople at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Dancer Goes to Jail for Week.

Montreal, May 4.—Millie de Leon, burlesque dancer, was yesterday sentenced to a week's imprisonment for an immoral dance.

THE TERRIBLE PUNISHMENT THAT HAS BEEN INFLICED ON CAPT. HAINS

Even Though He May be Acquitted, the Soldier Who Shot an Unarmed Fellow-Being, Will Never be the Same---A Remarkable Contrast With Brother Thornton, Who Has Twice Escaped on Charges of Murder.

The Vampire

'A fool there was and he made his prayer
(Even as you and I)
To a rag and a bone and a hank of hair,
(We called her the woman who did not care)
But the fool he called her his lady fair
(Even as you and I)

Capt. Hains Going to Court, Support ed by a Deputy on Either Side.

Oh the years we waste and the tears we waste
And the work of our head and hand
Belong to the woman who did not know
(And now we know that she never could know)
And did not understand).

The fool was stripped of his foolish hide,
(Even as you and I)
Which she might have seen when she threw him aside,
(But it isn't on record the lady tried)
So some of him lived, but the most of him died
(Even as you and I)

New York, May 4.—Capt. Peter Hains lives in a world of dead things.

Look at him in court.

Gaunt, thin, hopeless, he sits huddled in his chair, his overcoat on, his collar upturned. You notice his eyes first—they startle you. They are open, wide open, but absolutely without expression. They see nothing. They peer motionless, lightless—at nothing.

His hands, like claws, with bony wrists, protrude from his sleeves. They are always moving, restless, whether he walks or sits still. They grip the chair arms. They tug at the scanty, stringy beard. They twist and crochet his hair into fantastic peaks.

Capt. Peter Hains is on trial for his life. He, a soldier, shot down an unarmed man.

He looks like a dead man. He lives with dead things—his blasted home, his ruined honour, his hideous memories.

He isn't the gallant young army officer who was always on the firing line in the Spanish war. He isn't the nervous, energetic, ambitious army engineer of the Philippines. He isn't the man who rushed home half insane to hear a horrible story, and who went repeating to himself for days scraps from Kipling's "Vampire"—things about "A fool there was," and "The woman who did not care."

He isn't even the tortured man strung to the highest pitch who coolly shot down Wm. Annis.

"So part of him lived,
But the rest of him died."

"He is dying by inches right in the court room," says his father, Gen. Peter Hains.

Freedom will bring nothing to this man. Life looks bleak and barren and lone ahead.

• • • • • • •

Turn from the picture of Peter Hains and look at his brother—at Thornton Hains, the strong, virile, dominating personality whom opposing lawyers called the real slayer of Wm. Annis—Thornton [illegible]—who has already stood trial for killing.

"Talk about the trial for publication?" his strong, harsh voice boomed over the telephone.

"Maybe you'd rather have me write it"—his voice was hard—"I can do those things. If I write anything, I've got to be paid a lot of money for it. With this trial our expenses are running into the thousands.

"What?—Oh, the newspapers have printed a lot of lies about me. I don't give a damn, though.

"If I did, I'd get a gun and kill some of the reporters.

"What are my plans? Well, as soon as my brother gets cleared, am going to sea. I'm an accredited shipmaster. I'll try to get a ship. After while I expect to be master of a steamer."

This man, too, has gone through the fire—has been twice tried for his life. But his wife and honour haven't been destroyed. He is looking ahead, forceful, confident, unworried.

HAD BUSY MORNING

Mr. Geo. Howson Received Forty Immigrants Yesterday, Thirty-one of Whom Were Sent Out to Farms—Farmers Met New Arrivals.

ARE EXPERIENCED MEN

Forty immigrants, new arrivals, crowded in Mr. Geo. H. Howson's little office yesterday morning, after arriving on a special train from Montreal. Quite a number of farmers were also present, the arrangements having been made some time ago. Of the forty, thirty-one were sent out to farms, and the others will likely be disposed of in a few days. There were 18 men, four women, and nine children, who are now in the farming district, and all the arrangements were satisfactorily carried out. The farmers got the men who had been allotted to them some time ago, and all were gone by 2 o'clock. A man with his wife and three children were somewhat disappointed. A place had been secured for them, but the farmer accepted another family in the mantime. Thy are now waiting for a place.

VERANDAH IS BROKEN

Grocer's Runaway Horse Swung at Corner, Snapping Off the Posts Like Ten Pins—The Balcony Left Unsupported.

A MERRY LITTLE JAUNT

A spirited runaway occurred this morning when the delivery horse of W. H. Hamilton's started from in front of the store on Simcoe street. The reason for so doing is known only to the horse itself. The going was lively until Queen street was reached, when it suddenly decided to turn at Queen street corner and run north to Hunter street. Its intentions were good, but it took too much latitude in swerving at the corner with the result that it picked off a post or two from Mr. J. H. Savigny's verandah on the north east corner, and continuing on up the street was soon brought to a standstill. The balcony over the verandah had to be supported with several long planks. There was no danger sustained by the horse and the waggon was not injured.

OPEN NEW ARMOURIES

Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, Will be Here on Victoria Day to Formally Open Peterborough's Fine New Military Quarters.

MAKING PREPARATIONS

The programme for the formal opening of the new Armouries and the Military demonstration here on Victoria Day has been practically completed. It is expected that the officers of the St. Catharines and Brantford Regiments will arrive here, either to-night or to-morrow when the programme will be submitted to them for approval.

It is announced that the Armouries will be formally opened by the Honourable William Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, who has consented to be present on that occasion.

The officers of the 57th Regiment have been working hard in the arrangement of the programme for the 24th, and nothing will be left undone to make the celebration the most successful in the history of the City.

THE AWAITED RESULT OF THE EXAMINER NEWSBOYS' TWO MONTHS' ACTIVE CAMPAIGN IS NOW ANNOUNCED

Veeman Gains $25 Prize by Securing 52 New Customers for The Examiner During the Two Months---Others Have Done Well

THE LIST OF WINNERS.

To-day the Examiner is enabled to publish the result of its news boys' contest which concluded on Saturday, after a two months' campaign that was marked by success all along the line. The boys entered into the spirit of the contest with a will and the result is that they have increased the circulation of the Examiner to a considerable extent as well as appreciably augmenting the finances of the youthful contestants. The boys found little difficulty in selling the Examiner and in securing new customers and the contest has proved a pleasant and easy way for the boys to secure a little pocket money and they have worked faithfully to increase heir number of customers.

As will be sene from the schedule given below, Veeman, the boy who won the contest got not less than 52 new customers to take the Examiner during the past two months, and other prize winners have made gains nearly as creditable.

The winners may receive their checks by calling at the Examiner office on Friday.

Following is the list of winners:

	Gain.	Prize
Veeman	52	$25 00
Taylor	47	20 00

SCHOOL SAVINGS BANKS

Mr. R. A. Mulholland, Port Hope, and Mr. Angus Mc Murchy, K. C., C. P. R. Solicitor, Toronto, are in the city to-day in the interests of the introduction of the School Savings Banks system into the schools of Peterborough.. They will address the Board of Education to-night, and perform the easy task of justifying the local adoption of a system whose advantages and wholesome influence upon the character of our future citizenship cannot be overestimated. It is hoped the members of the Board will assume an attitude of open-mindedness and sympathy with the subject to be presented. A few years ago the Board was "almost persuaded to be Christians" in the matter of school savings banks, and it is to be earnestly hoped there is yet a saving remnant of conviction which will yield results. Lack of thrift is the cause of at least three-fifths of our poverty and destitution, but thrift—national thrift, if the system is generally adopted, will, in even one generation, be a national characteristic, with all the national advantages it implies.

Take care of the pennies, and the pounds will take care of themselves.

Early Closing For The Barbers Begins May 15

After May 15th, the men who have been accustomed to drop into their favourite barber shop a few minutes before twelve o'clock on Saturday nights will find themselves about an hour late and will be up against a closed door.

The reason for this condition of affairs is that the City Council last night at its regular meeting amended the hours of closing as requested by a petition which had been signed by all but two of the barbers of the City, which asked that the shops should be closed at 11 o'clock on Saturday nights and on the nights preceding holidays. The barbers have been complaining of the twelve o'clock closing and will no doubt be glad to learn that their by-law has been passed by the Council.
been passed by the Council

Ald. Hicks asked that this matter be left over for thirty days, as he had no information upon it but the rest of the Council were satisfied with the request and it went through.

Has Graduated From Ontario "Vet" College

In the report of the names of those who graduated from the Ontario Veterinary College in last evening's Toronto News, appeared the name of Dr. J. B. Gibson, who before entering college was associated with Dr. Johnston of this city. He passed his examinations very successfully and is now practising in Vancouver, B. C.

Young Man Asked To Be Placed On The Blacklist

A young man called at the police station this morning and asked to have his name placed on the blacklist. Apparently unable to give up the drinking habit in any other way, he decided to have the hotelkeepers barred from giving him liquor. Magistrate Dumble filled out the necessary papers and the young man will now be unable to secure a drink.

20 YEARS IN MINISTRY

Rev. J. G. Potter Will Pass That Mark on Monday, May 10th.

Twenty years in the Ministry of the Presbyterian Church will be Rev. J. G. Potter's record on Monday, May 10th. In 1889 he was ordained at Merrickvale, Ont., where he served for four years. Afterwards he spent four years with the congregation of the Southside Church, Toronto, and in 1896 came to Peterborough, where he has been in charge of St. Andrew's Church. Rev. Mr. Potter's career in Peterborough has been marked by sturdy work in the cause of God and righteousness.

Fell From Top Of Ladder And Broke His Arm

Leonard Fuller, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Fuller, 57 Gilmour stret, met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. The little fellow with his mother was spending the day at his grandmother's home on Mark street, East City. The child was playing on a ladder when he fell from one of the upper rungs and broke his arm at the wrist. A doctor was called and set the fracture.

MISS WALLIS' SUCCESS.

Her Works Accepted in Paris—A Decided Honour.

The many friends of Miss Katherine E. Wallis will be pleased to hear of her success in the salon this Spring, she having had four of her works accepted. This is the utmost any one can exhibit who is not an "associature." Two ofthese were portraits; studies for which Miss Wallis made during her visit in Canada last summer.

THE INQUEST TO CLOSE TO-NIGHT

Jimmy Baum Will be the Principal Witness of Session.

Examiner Special (2:45 p.m.)

Hamilton, Ont., May 4.—The general impression here is that the Kinrade inquest will be closed this evening, providing the jurors consent to sit long enough. The crown officials will say nothing but it is understood that they have decided not to recall Florence Kinrade, and that Jimmy Baum will be the first witness called this evening, followed by Mr and Mrs Kinrade. It is not known that the Crown has any more witnesses with the possible exception of Detective Pender, who may be put on the stand. It is the general belief the jury will return an open verdict, but a crown offcer stated this morning he thought it would be stronger than that.

FIRED FIVE BULLETS INTO HIS NEPHEW IN CROWDED COURTROOM

Doctor Who Had Been Wronged by His Relative Could Not Stand the Strain When He Was Confronted With Him in Court and Shot Him Down With a Revolver---Desert Triumphs Over Civilization.

Detroit, Mich., May 3.—When Dr. Geronik K. Boyajian returned to his home here last week, after a long trip, he found his wife cool toward him. That night, as she was asleep she mumbled words and phrases over and over. The doctor listened.

"I love you—Harotoon—darling," the physician made out these words. Harotoon Gastanian was a nephew of Dr. Boyajian, brought by him from Armenia to be educated in medicine. He lived in the Boyajian home. The physician drew his own conclusions. He paced the floor of his own apartments all night.

If it had happened in Armenia, he would not have hesitated. A bullet—or tow—would have squared the account instantly. But he had lived 12 years in America, had been educated in Yale, his impetuous instincts had been cooled by civilization and its ways. There was the law—that was the American way. He had both arrested.

But when Dr. Boyajian faced the two in court, the hot blood of ancestors would not be denied. He drew a revolver and began firing.

Three bullets for the man, his nephew, fatal; one for the woman, his wife, which pierced her hat, another for the American magistrate, Justice Jeffreys, which just missed—these told the story of the Armenian husband's revenge.

Deputies overcame him, while women and men in the court room fought and trampled each other in the effort to escape. Dr. Boyajian was charged with shooting to kill.

As Bastnian lay dying on the operating table at the hospital he struggled for words to clear the name of the woman.

"We have done nothing wrong," he murmured.

Will Address The Board Of Education At To-night's Meeting

Messrs. R. A. Mulholland, of Port Hope, and Angus McMurchy, of Toronto, and Solicitor for the C. P. R., will address the members of the Board of Education, the Inspector and the principals of the city public schools, at the regular meeting of the Board this evening. They will speak on the subject of introducing into the local schools the system of penny savings banks. The Toronto schools have the savings banks and the introduction of them has proved a great encouragement to the scholars to save their pennies.

The matter has been previously discussed by the school board, but nothing definite was ever decided.

Dog Poisoner In West Ward Has Gained Ill Will Of The Residents

A resident of the West Ward called at the Examiner office this afternoon to give fair warning as he said to a particular neighbour against whom the whole vicinity is up in arms. There have been some valuable dogs disappearing recently and the manner in which they have gone is arousing the whole neighbourhood. The poison route is the person's favourite way and there is going to be a vigilance committee formed within the next few days if there is a continuance of the state of affairs as mentioned above. Among the latest canines to fall was a dog belonging to Mrs. Pierce, a favourite with the children in that section and a dog of more than ordinary worth. It is this kind of work that has aroused the people and some kind of an attempt will be made to stop the practice.

Independent Engineer Will See Plans For The New Bridge

The plans and specifications for the new Smith st. bridge as drawn up by City Engineer Hay, will be submitted for the approval of an independent engineer, in all probability Mr. Walter Francis, C.E., now of Montreal, and formerly of Peterborough.

Ald. Turner introduced the matter at the meeting of the City Council last night and suggested that the Council take some steps to have an independent engineer report on the plans in order that the City might be on the safe side. He made a motion to that effect.

Ald. Hicks agreed with Ald. Turner, and seconded the motion, which included the clause that the chairman of the Board of Works should write Mr. Francis and find out what he would charge for an opinion on the plans. It was carried.

Was Presented With Locket On His Departure For West

Mr Harry Mann, who leaves tomorrow for Grand Forks, B. C., was the guest of honour at a gathering of his friends at the residence of ex-Alderman Tovey last evening. A very enjoyable time was spent. During the evening Mr. Mann was presented with a handsome gold locket suitably inscribed, by Mr Claude Sherwood on behalf of his friends, while the following address was read by Mr. Fred Haskill:

We, the undersigned take great pleasure in presenting you with this gift, and hope when you gaze upon it, that is after you are through with admiring what may be between the lens, you will remember the boys who looked upon you as one of the closest and best friends one would care to meet.

We are sorry you are severing your conections from us, but hope you will accept this locket as a small token of friendship, and wish you every success and prosperity in the golden West.

THE UNSPEAKABLE TURK

Abdul Hamid, Sultan of Turkey, it is stated shed tears as he lost his throne. Served him right; for all the weeping he may do will never atone for the tears and blood his cruel misrule and personal acts have been the cause of shedding. Evidence was found in his palace to show that the deposed Sultan planned the Armenian massacres; and he had planned the massacres of all the foreigners in Constantinople, including the ambassadors, and this would have been effected, but for the timely interference of the Young Turks' forces. The day the constitutionalist army entered Constantinople—the beginning of the Sultan's end—which didn't come half soon enough—he was so enraged on the arrival of the army that, to give some relieving outlet to his disappointed lust for human slaughter he caused his harem favourite, a beautiful Circassian, to be called to him and shot her dead. It is a disgrace to humanity, a disgrace to civilization, a discredit to civilized Europe that so cruel and sanguinary a tyrant and utter beast should have been allowed to live, not to speak of ruling, so long. A court marshal will result in bringing home his many cruelties to the deposed Sultan and his death will end a life that has made his Dominion the habitations of cruelty, and saturated its soil with tears and blood.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

Would the admission of Newfoundland to the Confederation be wise and comfortable? A strenuous people who drop obnoxious political leaders into the deep, would add to the liveliness which Mr. Foster and George Taylor impart to our political proceedings. Sir Robert Bond, one of the dead lock political leaders in the course of the present general elections, attempted to land on a hostile shore, and was pushed into the water. There is probably no political significance, in this incident, other than emphasizing the intense political bitterness that exists. In the last general elections in November there was a straight party dead lock. the Government leader, Sir Robert Bond, electing 18 supporters, and the Opposition leader, Sir Edward Morris, 18 also. This condition represented a decisive moral defeat for Sir Robert Bond, who had a majority of 18—29 to 9—in the previous legislature. Sir Robert clung to power for four months and might have been hanging on yet if the Governor, Sir William Macgregor, had not called a session of the Assembly for Feb. 25th. Sir Robert Bond retired, and Sir Edward Morris became Premier. A dissolution followed, and polling in the general election takes place next Saturday. What will be the result? The dead lock will, doubtless, be broken, but who will win? The chances are said to favour Sir Edward Morris, as a change of 500 votes in his favour spells success for him.

LOOKING FAR FORWARD.

Boston, in the United States, has awakened. It proposes to be the site of an International World's Fair—of course the greatest in history—in 1920, to celebrate the landing of the Pilgrims and the founding of New England. The Boston Herald devotes sixteen of its long columns to an advance notice of the great exposition to commemorate the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers and "the consequent establishment of Republican Government with its principles of civil and religious liberty in the western world." As usual our American cousins are a little behind us Canadians, who, last summer, celebrated the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of this country. But that's the fault of the almanac. The Bostonese are beginning in time as the tercentenary date does not fall till 1920, ten years hence. And all this time will be needed to prepare for the tremendous success it is expected to make the exposition. And it should be a great success. In the 300 years that have elapsed since the blue law legislators landed at Plymouth, a great nation has grown up, rich in all the material resources of civilization. The Pilgrim Fathers didn't exactly introduce the principles of civil and religious liberty, they introduced a narrow puritanical form of bigotry, represented by laows and witch burning. It was not till a century and a half after their landing that republican principles effectively asserted themselves. As great or greater religious tolerance and civil and religious liberty came to Great Britain without the help of the ex-patriated Pilgrim fathers; and after three hundred years civil and religious liberty has there been a higher quality—respect for law and order—as we have it in Canada, developed in the United States. Canada antedated the abolition of slavery in the United States by over a generation and never adopted lynch-law. eYt the Pilgrims' landing makes a splendid point d'appui for patriotic effervescence. They indicate the starting point of the most remarkable national evolution known in the world's history, and whether or not they were alone responsible for the United States as they exist, they represent a splendid rallying point for the world in 1920. Boston is a fitting centre for such a demonstration. The blue laws of "the fathers" are still retained in the higher culture blue laws which Boston imposes upon all who enter its pale.

PRACTICAL LAY MISSION WORK

The Examiner has received the eighth annual report of the Reading Camp Association, an organization which operates from end to end of the Dominion, carrying educational effects and influences among the quarter of a million men who must live six or eight, or ten months, or the year round in camps like lumber and railway and other construction camps. These camps composed of all sorts of men from the coarse, the brutal, to the youth, fresh from a humble but virtuous home, are thrown together and the malign influence at last predominates over the moral, separated from refined or even, in some cases, decent association and benign influences. To the majority of our readers, the work of the Reading Camp Association is quite unknown, yet it is a work in which all who love their fellow men should be interested. This Association aims to uplift the men who toil in our Canadian lumbering, mining, fishing and railway construction camps. It is interdenominational, embracing every Christian effort and ministering to men of all creeds. The method of the Association is this—an instructor, generally a undergraduate, sometimes a graduate, is sent to a camp. On his arrival he erects a tent and fits up tables and benches for it. The tent is supplied with newspapers, magazines and books. Perhaps there is also a globe, a blackboard, a few chemicals, some maps and possibly a travelling library sent by the Department of Education. With this equipment the camp school is ready for work. Every day the instructor puts in his ten hours as a common labourer. At night he teaches his classes. During the last eight years, ten thousand men have gone to school from one to two hours a night, ten months in the year and over twenty thousand men have had an opportunity to live like decent Christian citizens by reason of school, reading room, library, club and church. The benefits of these reading tents are suggested by the remarks of a man who has informed himself by actual observation and contact with them, when he says: "Just what a boon these reading tents are to the men of a camp no one can imagine who is not acquainted with the conditions existing there. What a stay they are to the young fellow, who leaves a godly home for the bush or the construction camp and is cooped up for days and nights together in the company of the vilest words and lowest ideals it were possible to imagine. What a harvest the Destroyer of men's lives reaps in these places. Surely both church and state owe a duty to the man in the camp that he may be saved for Christ and for Canada to manhood and to citizenship." Any person wishing to learn more of the work done under the auspices of the Reading Camp Association, will receive, on application to Mr. A. Fitzpatrick, B.A., Superintendent of Camp Education, 1123 Traders' Bank, Toronto, an illustrated report of the work done last year. This work at large is heartily commended for it is practical philanthropy, which does for the men concerned, what church missions as organized cannot, or, at least, do not, do. The visits of missionaries are too spasmodic, they come with a moral aloofness and a suggestion of patronage that may not exist, or be meant—who ever knows that he is patronizing in manner;—the personal contact is imperfect; and personality counts. It is only by the help of teachers that foreigners learn English as a medium of higher instruction. We owe a duty to the heathen within our gates, rather than or before our duty sends us to the heathen beyond the seas. In the nomadic life of the camps mentioned the Reading Camp plan seems to be the most practical way of reaching the minds and commanding the sympathy and confidence, of the men it is aimed to benefit. It tends to the making, and preventing the unmaking, of good citizens.

SCORES HIGHER CRITICS

The following is a reprint of some strong words used in a sermon preached by Rev. J. E. Starr, a former Peterborough pastor:

"Liars" and "infidels" were the epithets which Rev. J. E. Starr applied to the higher critics when preaching at the Berkeley Street Methodist Church last night. The preacher likened the work of the critics to the incident related in the Old Testament when Jehoiakim, the King, destroyed with his penknife the scroll on which the prophecies of Jeremiah were written. Even to-day people were "slashing the Bible." They were using the penknife whenever they treated the Bible contemptuously and set at naught its warnings. It was done by infidel critics and people who set up to be very religious and who were at the same time very wicked. Some of the disciples of this school had the assurance to tell people that by their slashing they made the Bible a better book. "The deepest reason," he declared, "for their slashing and rejecting is pride of culture, of wealth, of position, but the source of it is pride of heart. The Bible just thunders its denunciations of sin, and to those who are known sometimes as ladies and gentlemen the idea is repugnant. They refuse to accept the Bible" They did not want anything preached about repentance, sin, hell and everlasting punishment, but asked for sermons about things which would bring a tear to the eyelash. "The higher critics in their pride," Mr. Starr continued, "are telling us that the early narratives of Genesis are myths. They are cutting out whole books as the stuff that dreams are made of,' and then they have the hardihood to say with condescension that the Bible is a better book. They're liars!"

This scepticism was not a new thing. It was two hundred years old and was the same as that in "The Age of Reason." Yet it was being peddled in press and pulpit as "new light." "It is called," said Mr. Starr, "rational criticism, modern thought It is downright wickedness, destroying the faith of thousands and stabbing my country in its mast vital part."

HAD HER GRAVE CLOTHES READY

But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Mary Malcolm's Bright's Disease.

One More Indisputable Proof That the Old Reliable Kidney Remedy Will Cure the Most Deadly Form of Kidney Disease.

Toronto, May 3.—(Special).—Mrs. M. Malcolm, who lives at 153 Clinton Street, this city, states that it has been proved beyond a doubt in her own family that Dodd's Kidney Pills not only check Bright's Disease, but cure it completely and clear it right out of the system.

Mrs. Malcolm's daughter, Mary, was taken ill with this terrible kidney ailment. A doctor attended her continually for nearly a year when he had to admit he could do nothing more for her. She was so far gone that the last rites of the church were administered and the dying girl's grave clothes were prepared.

As a last resort, Dodd's Kidney Pills were tried, and to the surprise and delight of the family the girl improved almost from the first dose. In a week's time they were able to take her out for a little while, and she kept on improving until she was completely cured.

That was seven years ago. To-day Miss Malcolm is a good-looking young lady, strong and healthy in every way. Speaking of her cure, she says: "I am sure I owe my recovery entirely to Dodd's Kidney Pills, and if I am ever ill again I am sure I shall take no other medicine."

GALWAY NEWS.

Examiner Special.

Galway, May 3—Last Monday there was a very pretty wedding, when Miss Laura McNamara, only daughter of Thos. McNamara, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Thos. Curtin, eldest son of David Curtin. The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Mary Curtin, while the groom was supported by Mr. Thomas McNamara, brother of the bride. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. P. J. O'Leary, the happy couple returned to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding dinner was served. The evening was spent in cards and dancing, after which the bride and groom left for their future home at Mt. Irwin, and their many friends join in wishing them a long and happy married life.

Mr. R. Mansfield, of Toronto Junction, spent Easter with his parents at Kinmount.

Mr. Sylvin Doherty has returned home after a long absence.

Mr. Dennis Byrne of Union Creek, left last week for Gowganda.

The ball held on Easter Monday by the C. M. B. A. was a grand success. There were a great many attended from King's Wharf, Bobcaygeon, Lindsay, and other places, the muddy roads being no obstacle.

Miss L. Treehett and Mr. M. Cam of Lindsay, have returned from home after spending a few days in Kinmount.

Mr. Jack McNamara, who attended his sister's wedding in Galway, returned to the North Shore again.

Miss Nellie Allen of Bobcaygeon, has been visiting her parents here for the past two weeks.

Miss Gertie Allen has returned home from Rochester.

Miss B. Byrnes of Toronto, is visiting her parents at Union Creek.

Mr. Neddie Allen has purchased another fine horse.

We are all glad to see that Miss Pearl Ferguson is able to be around again after a severe illness.

Mr. Dannie Allen is visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss Lizzie Hickey, who has been very ill, is up and around again.

Miss Mary Sheehan was the guest of Miss Bee Dolan last week.

We expect some of the mines to be opening up by next week, which will employ a number of the men.

Mr. Ed. Allen was in Kinmount Saturday on important business.

Mr. Norman and Jack Young of Union Creek, were renewing old acquaintances last Sunday.

Miss Nora Collins intends going to Gowganda for her summer holidays.

Miss Lila Mitchell has returned home from Lindsay and we are all glad to see her again in our midst.

Miss Minnie and Davie Henderson entertained a number of their friends one evening last week.

SIMPSON'S FORMER TRAINER SAYS INDIAN WAS STALE ON SATURDAY

Dick Baker Gives The Examiner His Impressions of the Canadian Derby: "Marsh is a Dandy, But Watch Out for Woods Next Time"---Is Simpson Handled Right?

Dick Baker, the former trainer of the Y. M. C. A. Harriers, who handled Fred Simpson during the most important of his amateur races, writing to the Examiner, from Toronto, has the following to say of Saturday's race: "It was the best race I ever saw, and Canada can hold her own with the best of them yet. Simpson was a disappointment as usual. He is stale; he had no life in him, and I don't like the way he is handled, for he certainly can do better. He had no attention after the race, until I was asked to go down with him and give him a rub, and he had no attention after the race with Appleby until he got to his hotel. It doesn't do him any good to go so long after a race without being attended to."

Referring to the race itself "Dick" states that after Sellen quit Simpson was in third place still going along as usual, with his steady stride, making no effort to alter his position. Soon after Meadows came on strong, and before twenty miles was reached had passed Simpson and was in third place. "It was clearly seen" said the writer, "that Simpson was out of the race. He was running heavily and was taking nourishment very frequently. Tom Eck brought Mrs. Simpson out on the track, but no use, Fred was too far gone, and could not go any faster. It was a great disappointment to the crowd. Of any runner Simpson was the one the people wanted to see win.

"There is no use mincing matters. Marsh is a dandy, and deserves to get credit for he ran a wonderful race, but watch Wood when they meet again. He will profit a lot by this race. Meadows was the surprise of the contest. He certainly would have been nearer up at the finish had he had enough confidence in his ability to stay the distance. He finished good and strong. It was a great race and worth going miles to see. It was shown that we have some good men who will make the best of them go to win in New York on Saturday.

"I saw Simpson after the race, and in my opinion he is overworked and stale and it will be some time before he will be in any kind of shape to win the race.

There were some people who thought the track was short, but to settle disputes it was measured and I took the measurements down. It was found correct so that the record will stand."

HOAGLAND BEATEN IN HANDICAP RACE

The Auburn Daily Advertiser says: With 400 people on their feet shouting for their favourite, Ted Crook, the Marathon runner, won the novelty race at the Roller Rink, last evening, by defeating Willard Hoagland by three-quarters of a lap. The handicap was a big one, Crook running 20 miles while Hoagland walked 14, square heel and toe and at many points it looked as if the handicap was a trifle too large. On account of the grouch that the weather man had on last evening, the crowd was not as large as expected, but the people who were present were very enthusiastic and they made a big noise and did a heap of rooting for their favourite. One feature that has played an important part in all of the other races, but was not to be found last evening, was the band. The fans have grown to think a lot of this conglomeration of players who have become experts at playing "It looks like a big night to-night," in seven keys, and the Teutonic aggregation was missed last evening. Before the race, Crook told a representative of the Advertiser that he had endeavored to get the band but he had been unsuccessful.

The two men were sent away at 8 12 20, both starting at a killing pace. Both racers realized that the race would be a hard proposition and both made a noble attempt to be in the lead at the finish. The first mile was run in 5 49¼ by Crook, and was walked in 8 13 by Hoagland. The fans had the race doped out in fourths, that is, when Crook ran five miles, Hoagland should have walked three and one half miles, and when Crook had run ten miles, Hoagland should have walked seven miles. As the men neared the quarter post, the enthusiasts watched the score board with much interest and a great shout went up when the Hoagland rooters saw that he was two laps ahead. The time was 29 38 for Hoagland and 30 35 for Crook. During the second quarter, Hoagland still kept up the heavy grind and when the half way post was passed he was four and one half laps ahead of the runner. Not being satisfied with this lead, he pushed on harder than ever and at the three-quarter post he had increased the lead to five and a half laps. It began to look rather dubious for Crook, but he seemed to know what he was doing, and when he reached the seventeenth mile he began to loosen up and at the sixteenth lap of the last mile he had closed up the five and half lap gap and was neck and neck with Hoagland. It was then very easy to win, and the Fall River man crossed the tape three-quarters of a lap ahead of the Auburn walker. The last half mile was the best part of the whole race and it brought nearly every man in the house to his feet. The official time for the race was: Crook, 2 04⅗; Hoagland, 2 04 50.

MILLBROOK HAS LACROSSE TEAM

Villagers Organize Club With Strong Set of Officers and Will Begin Practices at Once.

Millbrook, May 3.—The Millbrook Lacrosse Club has organized for the season with the following officers:

President.—W. T. Wood.
Vice-President.—H. A. Sims.
Treasurer.—P. Handley.
Secretary.—F. Burnham.
Manager.—W. J. E. Gillott.
Trainer.—G. Carvett.
Captain.—T. Donnelly.
Executive Committee.—O. McGill, H. Southworth, W. O. Brian and T. Donnelly.

It was arranged to hold practice on Monday and Thursday evenings of each week.

JERRY EDMUND WITH WINNIPEG MAROONS

The Winnipeg Free Press refers to Jerry Edmunds as follows:

Little is known here of catcher Anderson, the new player signed on from Lacrosse, but Manager Lohr has had a good opportunity to size him up. "You see," said President Pulford to the Free Press yesterday, "the catcher is half the battle, and it will be necessary to have two men to go behind the bat, while the other will be a heavy hitter in the outfield. Jerry Edmunds is making good from all reports I have received, but we want to be on the safe side early in the season, and are endeavoring to get two stars for this position."

Jerry is signed to catch for the Winnipeg Maroons and has already shown up well in the practices.

MRS. W. WHITTOM HAS BOUGHT FAST ONE

Owns "Billy W" With a Mark of 2.12¼ The Talk of the Horsemen.

A valuable addition has been made to Peterborough's list of fast moving horseflesh by a recent purchase. Mrs. Wm. Whittom has bought "Billy W" which with a mark of 2.12¼ should make things lively at the Turf Club's meets. He was secured from a good stable, the name of which has not been made public. The wise ones around town are whispering that "Billy W" is some class and should make the locals look like canal horses. He will be entered in any races that are held here and will likely be seen for the first time on May 24th, at the matinee.

LOCAL BASEBALL

The King Edward School team defeated the Lansdowne street team last night in the first part of a baseball game by 13 runs to 3. The School team had all the better of the game, and pounded their opponents' pitchers hard throughout. The balance of the game will be played to-morrow night. The batteries were W. Taylor and B. Taylor for the King Edward School and Anderson, Neary and Eagleson for the Lansdowne street team. R. Sullivan was a satisfactory umpire.

It will be some time before the Riverside will be in a condition to play there. The ground is flooded with water extending almost into the diamond while centre field is a minature lake upon which one could paddle a canoe. With the park by the river under water, the Oval as yet unfit for use, and Central Park turned into a "beauty spot," the ball players are having troubles of their own finding grounds upon which to indulge in a little practice.

HOAGLAND TO BE HERE TO-MORROW

Champion Walker Coming to Arrange for the Big Six-day Walk in Brock Street Rink, Commencing May 24

W. A. Hoagland, the crack Auburn, New York, walker, and one of the most popular athletes who ever visited Peterborough will arrive in the City tomorrow to finish his training for the seven day contest in Milwaukee commencing on Monday, and to make arrangements for the big walk which will take place here during the week of May 24th. The sporting editor of the Examiner received a letter from the walking machine in which he stated that he was sure the walk here would bring out a field of from 12 to 15 starters, and would result in about the best squad of long distance men that ever got together on one track. All the good men who are going to Milwaukee will be here for the race, and several others who could not afford the time to go West will also be on hand. Hoagland would like very much to see Jim Stacey, the phenom unearthed by George Stevens last summer, in the race. He has heard a lot about Stacey, and wants to see if the lanky Toronto boy is as good as he has been cracked up to be.

ORPHEE AND CIBOT ARE GREAT PAIR

Dave Hartley Thinks Well of the French Team who are Running in the $10,000 Marathon in New York on Saturday.

"They are a great pair," said David Hartley to the Examiner last night, when asked his opinion of Cibot and Orpzhee, the French tea of long-distance runners, who are entered in the $10,000 Derby in New York on Saturday. The veteran Peterborough walker should know, as he had an opportunity to observe their work for six days, during the recent international go-as-you-please contest in Madison Square Gardens, in which Hartley was an entrant, and which was won handily by the Frenchmen.

"They have the stamina and twenty-six miles will be nothing to either of them," remarked Dave, "and I think they have plenty of speed, too. Why, Cibot did over nine and one-half miles in the first hour of the race, and he had six days' work to follow upon that, too. They are tall and lithe and have a nice, easy swinging stride, which gets them over the ground fast and with little effort. It is hard to say which is the better of the two, as they run alike as well as look alike. If I am not badly mistaken they will give the other Marathon men a hard race on Saturday, and may prove a big surprise."

CHURCH BASEBALL LEAGUE WAS RE-ORGANIZED FOR SEASON

Enthusiastic Meeting at Which Arrangements Were Made for the Opening of the Season----Officers Elected Last Night--Mr. J. Pilling is the New President.

A meeting of the Junior Church Baseball League was held in the Y. M. C. A. last night for re-organization purposes. The meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlours, with President E. N. McWilliams in the chair. In the absence of the secretary, Mr. E. Read, the minutes were read by Mr. Mort Johnston, who acted as secretary pro tem. The treasurer's report was read and adopted. It showed a surplus on hand of $5.50 which will help to start the new year.

It was with regret that the resignations of President E. N. McWilliams, and Secretary Treasurer E. Read were received.

On the suggestion of President McWilliams a motion was passed, authorizing the ministers of the various churches to sign the certificates of the players in their respective clubs. This will save the president considerable trouble in enquiring into the eligibility of the players.

Officers Elected.

Patrons and Patronesses—The ministers and their wives of the various churches represented in the league.

Hon. President.—T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P.
President—J. Pilling.
Vice-Pres.—H. R. Hassard.
Sec.-Treas.—C. Curtis.

The Executive Committee will consist of one representative from each club in the league.

The meeting was then adjourned to meet at the call of the new president. In the meantime an effort will be made to induce a number of other clubs to join the league so that a big season's fun may be had.

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES.

Torontos were beaten by Providence again yesterday, and as a result Joe Kelley's gladiators have dropped down into third last place. Yesterday the Grays gave them a dose of kalsomine to the tune of 4 to 0. They could not hit Lavender when hits meant runs, while the Grays bumped Rudolph at opportune moments, bunching their safe ones in the fourth and eighth innings. Mullen and Kelley were out of the game through illnes and Jimmy Frick, who subbed at second for Mullen had two hits.

Skeeters Lost Again

The Jersey Skeeters were also beaten yesterday, Rochester white-washing them 5 to 0. The Jerseys could do little with Holmes' pitching, getting only three hits off the Broncho twirler, while Rochester hit Manser easily.

A Comedy of Errors

Baltimore and Buffalo between them made fourteen errors yesterday, but Baltimore hit the ball on the nose getting fifteen hits off Pitchers Knapp, Vowinkle and Malarkey, the Orioles winning 12 to 5.

Flater Too Good

Flater, the Sailors' new pitcher, worked for Newark against Montreal yesterday, and too much for the Beavers, shutting them out with four hits, Newark winnig 2 to 0. Smith held Newark to five safe ones but they were bunched in the first innings and counted for two runs.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

In the National League Chicago suffered their fourth consecutive defeat at the hands of the Pittsburg Pirates. Passes, clean-hitting and clever base running gave Pittsburg an easy victory by 9 to 2. Wagner's all-round playing being the feature of an otherwise listless game. The Pirates pounded Pitchers Coakley, Fraser and Pfeister for fourteen hits, while the best the Cubs could do with Willis was eight.

St. Louis Beat the Reds

St. Louis beat Cincinnati 5 to 3, mainly owing to good pitching by Higginbottom, who held the Reds to 5 hits. St. Louis had asked for waivers on the twirler just before the game, but may change their mind now. Fromme and Karger were on the slab for Cincinnati and were touched up freely.

The Polish Puzzle Again

Covaleskie, the Polish puzzle, was as usual, too much for the New York Giants, and Philadelphia won 5 to 1. New York only hit the Giant killer safely three times and narrowly escaped a shutout. Ames and Crandall worked for the Giants.

Some Heavy Hitting

Boston, after getting a six-run lead on Brooklyn yesterday, in the fourth innings weakened so much that the Trolley Dodgers tied the score in the eighth. The Bean Eaters, however, hammered in two runs in the ninth and won out. Five pitchers were used. Boston getting fourteen and Brooklyn mercy throughout, while Chicago batted Willett hard enough to win.

Red Socks Won

The Boston Red Socks beat Washing by 7 to 1, by bunching hits in the fourth and eighth innings. Cheeh, ten hits. Tuckey, Mattern and Dorner pitched for Boston, and Pastorius and McIntyre for the Superbas.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

Detroit's winning streak in the American was stopped by Chicago yesterday, the White Socks taking the Tigers into camp by a score of 4 to 0. Doc White had Jennings' cubs at his who pitched for Boston was effective with men on the bases.

Hal Chase Day

It was Hal Chase day at New York and the Highlanders celebrated the return of their great first baseman by presenting him with a silver loving cup, and by trimming Philadelphia 9 to 6. The game was featureless and slow. Schitzer, Dygert and Kraus pitched for the Athletics and Lake and Warhop for New York.

SPORTING SPARKLETS

The Review remarks that it is a wonder that some one doesn't write a book on Marathon running for the benefit of the beginners. It might be stated for the benefit of our contemporary that the Spaulding Athletic Library has published a very complete text book on Marathon racing in which Mat. Maloney and other American runners give much helpful advice, and that Alf. Shrubb, the British speed marvel, published a book on running some years ago in which Marathon racing is touched upon at some length. Both of these books are available for beginners.

MAKE A CHANGE

A New Back for an Old One—How It is Done in Peterboro

The back aches at times with a dull feeling, making you worry and restless, sharp pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, it is agony to bend, stoop or lift. The rubbing of liniments or application of plasters does no good in these cases, they do not reach the cause. To get rid of these symptoms and exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one follow the example of this Peterborough citizen. Mrs. T. DeRussia, of Mary and Bethune strets, Peterborough, Ont., says: "I believe Booth's Kidney Pills, a remedy of exceptional merit in quickly relieving backache, caused from disordered kidneys. I frequently suffered with a dull. heavy pain in the small of my back. It would extend around my sides and into my shoulders. Headaches were frequent and often accompanied by spells of dizziness. Booth's Kidney Pills were recommended by a friend and I procured a box at McDermid and Jury's Pharmacy. I soon found them to relieve me, and I have had no trouble since, and can credit this only to Booth's Kidney Pills."

THE LECTURE WAS HIGHLY APPRECIATED

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt gave his most amusing lecture on "The Evolution of a Boy" before the Men's Association of the Park St. Baptist Church last evening, and a most enjoyable evening was spent. There was a large attendance of members and the lecture was much appreciated. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Dr. Langfeldt at the conclusion of his lecture for the treat he had given his auditors.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Furnished by J. N. Barber.—

New York, May 4.—After yesterday's sensational closing many looked for a big wide opening in stocks today; but were disappointed as the initial transactions were on a small scale and generally a fraction lower than last night. For half an hour the quietness continued and then the bulls took hold and speedily had prices soaring again under the lead of Reading, although Union Pacific was right there too. At noon the market had broadened out and was fully as active and as strong as yesterday afternoon, and general advances had been scored, nearly all the active issues participating. It looks as though the long delayed bull movement had finally gotten into full swing and that prices would be put a good deal higher.

Regular Meeting Of City Council Marked By Very Little Except Business Of Routine Nature

City Fathers Heard Reports and Communications and Passed Several By-laws—Other Matters Were Considered Last Night by the Council.

THEY ALL WERE PRESENT

There was little outside of routine business at the regular meeting of the City Council last night and the session was through at a comparatively early hour with everything running smoothly. Outside of the hearing of reports and communications and the passing of several by-laws, the city fathers had little to occupy themselves with. There were present Mayor Rush, Aldermen Hicks, Duffus, Duncan, Morgan, Buller, Bradburn, Gillespie, Turner, Metheral, McIntyre, Morrow and Phelan.

A letter was received from Mr. Harper, secretary of the 57th Regiment Band, for the usual yearly grant. This was referred to the Finance Committee.

The request for privileges to erect boat houses on city property were granted under the usual conditions.

Communications

The following communications were received and dealt with:

From C. J. Schmidt in reference to the blocking of the Downie street creek, which has before caused sickness in his family and is now injuring his building.

The council was to have taken this matter up two years ago but failed to do so.

From the Seymour Power and Electric Co., Limited, of Campbellford, re power.

Taxes Statement

Total amount on roll	$150,356.60
Total amount deposited	153,039.03
	$6,317.63
Less 2 per cent. discount on first payment	2,290.45
Balance	$4,027.18

Total amount collected and deposited during month of April $1,391.69.

From Mr. R. R. Hall, for the Colonial Weaving Co., asking that they be required to employ only 50 hands for ten months of the year for three years, and that the city have the new by-law confirmed by the legislature.

From Mr. T. F. Matthews, asking for a refund of $10 paid for plumbing license for James Findley, and which was not granted.

M.M. Callaghan and M. S. Smeaton applied for permission to build a boat house, 350 feet north of the C. P. R. bridge.

From Dr. B. R. Poole, drawing the attention of the council to the dangerous condition of the crossing at Sherbrooke and Stewart streets. He had a shaft broken at this place and wants the city to pay for it.

From the Ontario Metal Culvert Co., asking for a share of the city's business.

A petition for electric lights at the corner of Smith and Reid streets, and Reid and Victoria avenue, was received.

From R. F. McWilliams on behalf of Mr. Robert Baker, asking for the privilege to appear before the committee to explain the circumstances of his fall near the Cereal works.

From residents of Mark and James streets, asking that a hydrant be placed at the corner of those streets.

From the Board of Education, asking that a ten-foot walk be constructed through Central Park.

A further letter was received from Mr. Kennedy in reference to his fall.

From Park Street Baptist Church, asking for a granolithic walk in front of the new church, and an extension of the wooden walk on the west side of Stewart street, south, to the corner of the new granolithic walk.

Reports were presented by the Fire, Water and Light Committee, Property Committee, Board of Works, Legal Committee, Finance Committee and Committee of the Whole Council, and were adopted.

Alderman Phelan moved, seconded by Alderman Morrow, that the treasurer be authorized to pay for gravel for the Board of Works on the certificate of the engineer. Carried.

On motion of Aldermen Buller and Hicks, the treasurer was instructed to issue a check for $550 to R. Hull, for the purchase of the new team of fire horses, and also to issue a check for the amount of his commission.

A by-law provding for the construction of sewers on different streets in the city received its several readings and was passed.

A by-law appointing T. Quartermaine clerk of the engineer's office at a salary of $650 per year was passed.

Alderman Duffus inquired if this expenditure was necessary in view of the fact that the council was endeavouring to practise economy this year and was informed by Alderman Hicks and Alderman Duncan, both former chairmen of the Board of Works and by other aldermen that such an official was needed.

The by-law to provide $120,000 for the new water works dam and pumping station received its third reading and was passed.

Alderman Duncan called the attention of the chairman of the Board of Works to the fact that there was a hydrant on Perry street which had been leaking badly and asked that it be attended to.

Alderman Phelan stated that this hydrant as well as others in the city was being repaired.

Alderman Morgan asked what was to be done with the watering trough in East City, which should have been connected with the sewer long ago. Residents in the vicinity had been complaining for some time.

Alderman Phelan promised that the matter would be taken up at once.

"Why not pass a general resolution giving East City all that it asks for," suggested Alderman Hicks.

Alderman Duncan said that the market was not being kept clean and he thought that Mr. Ball should see to it that the premises are kept in a better condition. He wanted a resolution passed that Mr. Ball be notified to keep the market clean or be dismissed. The matter was left in the hands of the chairman of the Property Committee.

Alderman Morrow inquired as to the report of Mr. Chipman, the expert on sewer construction, and was informed that Mr. Chipman had been away and that it had been impossible to get a report from him, but that the matter would be gone ahead with.

WINNIPEG MAN CURED OF RHEUMATISM

Remarkable Case of Cure After Specialists Failed.

Winnipeg, Man.—A prominent resident of this City, who for personal reasons does not wish his name mentioned publicly, but who permits us to show his letter to interested enquirers, writes to say that he was suddenly taken with excruciating pains in the back and side, which were pronounced by his physicians as Rheumatism. Hot applications were at once resorted to, the usual medicines administered, supplemented by electrical treatment, but all to no purpose. In his desperation he took Gin Pills on his own account, and in a few hours after taking the first Pill the pains commenced to subside. He continued taking them and in 48 hours he had not an ache or a pain left.

Gin Pills are sold at 50c a box—6 for $2.50. Send to us if your dealer does not handle them.

A LARGE ADDITION TO PUBLIC LIBRARY

Hastings People Will Have Many New Books—Interesting News From The Village.

Hastings, May 5.—An old and respected resident of Percy has passed way in the person of Mr. James Adams, who departed this life on Sunday, 25th inst., at the ripe old age of 80 years. The deceased was widely known and highly respected, having ben a resident of the township for many years. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his widow, one son and two daughters. The remains were interred in the Trent Valley cemetery on Tuesday following.

Mrs. J. Gillespie and Miss Belle Humphries visited friends in Keene last week.

Mrs. E. Valleau spent the past week in Norwood the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Cuffe.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Buchanan have been in town, the guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. J. Carter.

Hastings cheese factory commenced the season's operations on Monday, 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Douglas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Collins.

A large congregation assembled in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening to listen to the Rev. Mr. Barrett's address on 'A Model Husband,' which was ably handled by the reverend gentleman. The choir rendered choice music, solos being taken by Miss Annie Jamieson.

Miss Annie Wilson visited with friends in the country on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglashave moved into the house lately vacated by Mr. and Mrs. J. Lynn and which was formerly owned by Mr. L. Wildman.

Miss Annie Lamey has been visiting in Warkworth at the home of Miss Garvey.

New books to the number of about 100 have been added to the public library which makes this department very creditable to our town.

Miss Fisher, who has been the guest of Mrs. A. Wilson for the past two weeks, has returned to her home in Toronto.

When the steamer "Rainbow" was launched last week it was discovered that some repairs were necessary before passengers could be carried. She will, however, be ready to begin her Saturday trips to Peterborough on May 8th.

Mr. John Dodd, who has been seriously ill, is, we believe, on the road to recovery.

Mr. Jas. Knight, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Knight, has gone to Norwood for a second season in the cheese factory at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, of Havelock, paid our town a visit last week.

The movement which has been on foot for some time for enlarging and improving the interior of the Methodist Church, has assumed business-like proportions. The plans and specifications are in the hands of Mr. Blackwell, of Peterborough, and tenders are to be called for as soon as possible. The proposed improvements will add greatly to the outside appearance of the building, besides enlarging the seating capacity and otherwise beautifying the interior of the church.

We regret to chronicle the demise of Mr. Thos. Ireland, of Percy, who pased away at his home at the age of 78 years. Mr. Ireland was an old and respected resident of the township and was held in high esteem by those who knew him best. A widow and grown-up family are left to mourn his loss. Interment took place in the Warkworth cemetery.

Mr. F. Runnels and family have moved into the house formerly occupied by Mr. J. Welsh.

The new dredge is nearing completion and it is expected it will be ready for use as soon as the water has sufficiently subsided. The paint, which is being applied, is making a decided improvement in its appearance and it will soon be ready for launching.

Miss Annie Peters of Peterborough, is visiting under the parental roof.

Master Trevor Clarry is in Millbrook, visiting with his grandmother.

Any person who drinks 25c tea and once tastes 30c "Salada" will see that it is not only finer in flavour, but that, as one pound makes many more cups, it is economical to use. 145

Regiment Will Have $200 To Entertain Holiday Visitors

The 57th Regiment will be assisted to the extent of $200 from the city in entertaining the visiting regiments from St. Catharines and Brantford on May 24th, instead of the $100 voted to them by the Reception Committee.

Last night at the regular meeting of the Council, Ald. Bradburn moved, seconded by Ald. Morrow that $100 of the sum saved from the pay for hydrants be added to the $100 already voted to the Regiment.

Ald. Buller took exception to this. He thought that the money should be added to the appropriation of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, pointing out that there were many petitions for lights and hydrants that could not be granted simply because the Committee had not enough money. Ald. Hicks suggested that before any action was taken, that the Council should hear the Report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, and this was read by Ald. Buller, the last clause recommending that the money be turned over to that Committee. Ald. Hicks seconded the adoption of the Report.

Ald. Bradburn moved that the clause be amended by adding the words "less $100 to be applied to special grants."

Ald. Morrow was of the opinion that the clause should be struck out altogether. He wanted to see the Committees keep united in their appropriations this year.

Ald. Turner pointed out that there would be other deputations before the Council in a short time looking for assistance to entertain visitors and the Council would have no funds available for that purpose.

Ald. Buller again stated that his Committee needed more money and that there would be an overdraft this year.

Finally however, a compromise was agreed upon to the effect that $100 of the money saved from the hydrants should be turned over to the Regiment, and that the balance should be given to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

New Power Company Wants To Do Business In This City

At the meeting of the City Council last night the following letter was received from the Seymour Power and Electric Co., Ltd., of Campbellford. It will be taken up by the Special Power Committee.

Toronto, April 30, 1909.

S. R. Armstrong, Esq.,
City Clerk,
Peterborough, Ont.

Dear Sir,—The Seymour Power and Electric Co. expect to complete the construction of a 4000 h.p. power house about the [illegible] late in the present year and to supplement this very shortly with a larger installation on water powers already controlled by the Company. We have been given to understand that the City of Peterborough is desirous of largely increasing the supply of power available for consumption in the city and its suburbs. If this information is correct we would be glad if you would inform us officially upon what terms and conditions our company would be permitted to do business in your city. We do not desire any special or exclusive privileges of any sort, or any contracts for the sale of power to the municipality, but wish to secure the same rights and privileges to our business which are extended to merchants handling any line of goods. As the construction of the transmission line to your city from our power house will require about four months time and an expenditure of considerably more than $100,000, we would ask that this enquiry be given prompt attention in order that we may complete our constructions during the summer months, if satisfactory arrangements should be made.

Signed Seymour Power and Electric Co., Limited

The Sunday School And Its Dependence On The Pastor

Rev. Canon Green Points Out the Importance of the Pastor Placing Deepest Sympathy in the Work of the Sunday School—An Interesting Address at St. John's Last Night.

SUNDAYSCHOOL CONVENTION

The relation of the Sunday School to the Church and the dependence of the Sunday School upon the pastor, were probably two of the chief points which were emphasized by Rev. Canon Green of Orillia during the course of his address upon "The Pastor and the Sunday School," in St. John's school room last night. The occasion was the first session of the annual joint Sunday School Convention of the City and County Sunday School Associations.

The attendance was very encouraging and a large majority of the ministers of the City were present. Rev H. J. Keith, President of the City Association was in the chair. Rev Canon Davidson welcomed the gathering and stated that he recognized the honour of having the meeting in St. John's Sunday School Room. Rev. Mr. Keith thanked the rector of St. John's for his cordial expression of welcome and stated that it was very much appreciated.

The business portion of the meeting followed the opening prayer and hymns. Mr. F. E. Kerr, the secretary, read his report which was adopted, and Mr. A. J. Johnston presented the treasurer's report showing the total receipts of the year to have amounted to $74.38 and the balance on hand to be $20.22. This report was also adopted.

It was moved by Rev. J. G. Potter, and seconded by Mr. Richard Lees, that Messrs. R. J. Devey, H. P. Kennedy, John Hill and A. J. Johnston constitute a nominating committee to report at the Tuesday session at 11 o'clock.

The Address

Rev. Canon Green is President of the Ontario Sunday Schools Association. His sermon was based upon the words of Christ when he said to St. Peter after [illegible] had denied Him, "Lovest Thou Me."

Any person who ha[illegible] true, sincere love for souls, and k[illegible] their lesson can easily teach them. If they have studied that which they are to teach, they will be overflowing with their subject and eager that they may meet their class. Unless the pastor is thoroughly in sympathy with the Sunday School he will kill it.

Having buried his Sunday School, he will slowly kill the church. The officious and the half-hearted pastor will neither have a good Sunday School. The pastor who is co-operative, who is in true sympathy with it will have a strong and efficient school. The Sunday School is the basis of the church. If you want to win people for Christ you have to get them when they are young, when they are children. The pastor must first be the children's friend. If he is in sympathy with them and deeply interested in their spiritual welfare he will have his Sunday School filled to the doors.

What Is Being Taught

He should know what every teacher is teaching. He is responsible for what is taught and should therefore be the teacher of the teachers. He should know the eccentricities of the individual teacher, he should have their love and he should be in close toch with them. It will pay a pastor a thousand times to give his whole soul to the work.

Rev. Canon Green in fine words portrayed the power which is enjoyed by the pastor who truly loves the children of his school, and the latter in turn dearly loving him. The true pastor knows every child in his Sunday School, and can name them individually. He knows their joys and their troubles.

"If you were to take out the Sunday School you would have few people in the churches."

How can a pastor know the boys and girls of his Sunday School? This was explained in a practical and simple manner, which could be worked out in any church. The Sunday School is dependent upon the pastor for his deep interest in it and its progress. He looks out for a whole-souled, zealous and religious man of the congregation whom he selects as Superintendent of the Sunday School, not as warden, or delegate, but in this the most important of all the lay officers in the church work. The pastor should be well acquainted with him, should have him at his home, and should let the children of the Sunday School see that he deeply loves the Superintendent.

Rev. Canon Green stated that the Church and Sunday School should not be separated, nor should there be any idea of such a state of affairs. It should be one grand whole family or home.

The Library Books

The importance of the pastor knowing the character of the library books, being a sort of censor, was given stress. Or there should be a committee to read them in order to guarantee that the books of the Sunday School are such as will benefit children and not as may frequently be the case, be harmful to them. Rev. Canon Green spoke warmly of the value of such institutes as that now being held and he hoped they would be encouraged and carried out from year to year.

Lastly, he emphasized the good done by teaching the missionary spirit in the Sunday Schools. Let the children give themselves to Jesus Christ, and they will in a few years prove a great source of strength to the church.

In conclusion a vote of thanks was passed to Rev. Canon Green on motion of Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. E. A. Pearson.

This morning, devotional exercises were led by Rev. Dr. Talling.

The forenoon was taken up by a series of conferences. That of primary workers was led by Mrs. E. D. Lewis. The first feature discussed was that of the room, which should be well lighted and ventilated: should be seated with comfortable chairs, on which the children can sit with their feet resting on the floor. There should be a blackboard and tables, if possible. Where there is no separate room a part of the general room should be curtained off.

Some time was taken up with a discussion of the classification. The elementary grade, according to the Louisville Convention, should consist of three divisions—the beginners, who cannot read; those who are able to read a little, and those who can read up to, say, twelve years.

The teacher should love children and study to understand them. Remember days that are important to the children. Do not forget them when they are sick. Know them on the street. Read Mrs. Lamereaux's "The Unfolding Life." Teacher should be reverent and inculcate reverence. Be patient. Have a varied programme. But I always contain welcome to new pupils, missionary exercises, prayer, and birthdays, and of course, the lesson. The order should vary.

Intermediate Conference.

This was led by Rev. R. W. Clark, of Millbrook. How to win and hold the confidence of the scholar. Be interested in what interests the pupils. Be courteous and kind to the children. Be there to greet them when they arrive. Recognize them.

This is a formation period in the life of the child, and therefore responsibilities devolve on the teacher. Teachers should take a "teacher training course." Should never be absent from the school unless for a valid reason. A reason that would be sufficient for the minister absenting himself from the pulpit would be sufficient excuse for the teacher.

Adult Bible Class.

Mr. J. A. Jackson, of Toronto, led this conference and urged the importance of getting the work well started in every Sunday School. The oragnized class has definite lines of work assigned to persons appointed for that purpose. You have a class working under organization instead of an individual. A lengthened discussion took place on the queston of the benefits and means of using the organized class.

"PARSIFAL"

Of all the characters in "Parsifal," which Martin and Emery bring to the Grand, Saturday, May 8th, for two performances, matinee and night, there is none more forceful and thrilling than that of Klingsor, the magician and master of evil. Representing hatred, craftiness, deceit, envy and intellectual pride, this creation of Wagner's genius exercises an influence of baneful malevolence, besides which the diabolism of Mephistopheles in "Faust" utterly pales.

It was absolutely imperative that an actor of peculiar and tried ability should be secured to present the convincing side of the elusive character of Klingsor. Managers Martin and Emery discovered just the man in W. F Harmon. With many years and experience with companies organized by the Frohmans and the Liebler Co., in prominent character parts, Mr. Harmon has proved a fine acquisition to the Martin and Emery company. In the scene between Klingsor and Kundry in the chamber of magic, Mr. Harmon's portrayal of the sorcerer partakes of the supernatural.

During the Parsifal engagement here the custom of beginning the performance at an early hour will prevail. The curtain will rise promptly at 7:45, and for the matinee the curtain will go up at 2 p.m. sharp. Doors open at 1:30. Sale of seats commences Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The auditorium being in darkness during the first act will prevent showing late comers to their seats until its conclusion.

THE KNOX YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY

Entertained St. Paul's Society Very Pleasantly Last Night.

An enjoyable social evening was held by the Knox Church Young People's Society last night, at which St. Paul's young people were entertained.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams was in the chair after the devotional and business was transacted, the Rev. Dr. Gray was called upon for an address. His was an excellent lecture, to both ladies and gentlemen present. He urged them to have one thing, as their aim, and do it well. He spoke of the bright future there was for those who will take the opportunities and work hard at whatever lot was their's. He referred to both the physical and spiritual strength needed to make a man. The advice given to both the societies, as those who had their lives before them, was strong and to the point. The musical programme was as follows:

Vocal solo—Miss Dawson.

Dialogue, "Train To-morrow"—Miss Eva Bartley, Messrs. Merven Williamson and William Shepherd.

Duet—Misses Long (encored).

Recitation—Miss Eva Bartley.

Each person was supplied with a card and pencil, the one getting the most names on the card was given the prize.

It was won by Miss Long, who had 120 names. Refreshments were then served. Mr. Laing, the president of St. Paul's Young People, replied to the President of Knox Young People for the pleasant evening spent together.

The bright and well-attended gathering closed with the national anthem.

Mrs. McPherson will talk on missions next Monday, the 10th inst.

DETECTIVE WELLS TO THE PREMIER

Asks That Some Action be Taken in the Barton Murder Mystery.

The following copy of an open letter to Sir James P. Whitney, from Detective Wells, has been received by the Examiner.

Sir James P. Whitney,
Prime Minister of Ontario,
Toronto, Ont.

Sir,—

Re Barton Murder Mystery

Again I ask, as I have repeatedly asked before, that you open up the Barton Murder Inquest. I suggest, Sir, that you name Dr. James Anderson as Coroner, and that George Tate Blackstock, K.P., be engaged as Crown Investigator. I would like you to give these gentlemen the same latitude in the continuation of the Barton Murder inquest as they have had in the Kinrade Murder Inquest. I will supply Mr. Blackstock with all the information that he will require in connection with this matter.

The officials of the Attorney General's Department are charged with incompetency, and with trifling with the advancement and promotion of criminal justice, also with squandering the people's money. The Crown Investigator should, therefore be privileged to put Deputy Attorney General Cartwright, Policeman Greir, and Rogers in the witness box. If this is done, I will state in advance that some startling disclosures will be brought out. Your Government would then have to continue the investigation of this woman's death, with the result that she would likely yet be indentified and her assassin named.

Mr. Blackstock, it appears would be privileged to go further; he can question these men, not only on the conduct of their work in the Barton murder case, but he can question them on the conduct of their work covering the past five years. It would be a good thing for the public at large if a search light were turned on the operations of this department.

Now, Mr. Prime Minister, you are quoted as saying in the Public press that you invite fair and just criticisms, yet when fair and just criticism is levelled at your officials, you shut your eyes and ears and take no notice. You answer these criticisms by permitting your officers to hand out slippery and bull-dozing information to the Public press. In other words you allow them, Sir, to throw dust in the publis eyes to cover up their incompetence and their brazen faced work.

You said, Sir, three years ago, "Lay your charges and I will investigate." The charges have been made and laid, and you have not investigated. In addition, the Toronto Evening Telegram of Nov 9th, told you in their columns that the Provincial Detective force was a headless concern, and that men were given work to do who had not the ability, education or business training to carry out the work intrusted to their care. This has been demonstrated beyond contradiction in the Barton murder mystery.

On the 21st of July, the Toronto Globe said "Clean out the Department from the Cellar to the Attic." The Hamilton Herald also callled upon you to investigate.

Let the writer again remind you, Sir, that if you still continue to ignore, and do not investigate the charges in the manner I have suggested, as you have promised you would do, then Sir, you will be looked upon in the eyes of the Public as a Welcher and a Bluffer. You are not fulfilling your promise, and by so doing you are deceiving the people and shirking your duty and responsibility to the public of Ontario.

Yours very truly,
W. G. Wells.

Mrs. Thomas G. Ranton of Boston, accompanied by her daughter Mary, is spending a months' holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sutherland.

Mrs. Geo. Kerr and Mrs. W. G. Rankin, of Gilmour street, left to-day for Ottawa, where they will attend the annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada (Eastern Section). They are representing St. Andrew's Church. Mrs. Walter Roger is representing St. Paul's Church. The meetings began this afternoon at two o'clock in the Bank Street Presbyterian Church, Ottawa.

The graduating exercises of the Nicholls Hospital Nurses' Class of 1909 will be held in the Collegiate Institute Hall on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock. The graduates will receive their Diplomas and Medals and an interesting musical programme will be given. There will be no charge for admission, and all interested are invited to attend.

Rev. J. R. Webb Elected To The Presidency Of City Association

At one of the sessions of the convention of the County and City Sunday schools to-day the report of the nominating committee appointed to nominate the officers of the City Association was received and adopted. The members of the committee were Messrs. R. J. Devey (convener), H. P. Kennedy, John Hill and A. J. Johnston. The report is as follows:

President—Rev. J. R. Webb.
1st Vice-President—Mr. R. J. Devey.
2nd Vice-President—Rev. G. W. Henderson.
Secretary—Mr. F. E. Kerr.
Treasurer—Mr. A. J. Johnston.
Superintendent of Teacher Training Department—Mr. A. Mowat.
Superintendent of Home Department—Mr. T. W. Robinson.
Superintendent of the Primary Department—Miss Hazel Dean.

The executive committee consists of the above officers and the Superintendents of all the Sunday Schools in the city.

Rev. H. J. Keith, the retiring president has been particularly instrumental in bringing the local association to a strong condition, and during the past year has realizing its importance as a church factor, given it particular attention. The report was adopted as read.

Agreement With The Weaving Company Was Considered

Messrs. R. R. Hall and A. B. Coulthard, representing the Colonial Weaving Company, waited upon the committee of the whole Council last night in regard to the resolution passed by the Council at its last meeting affecting the company. Mr. Hall asked that the clause, which provded that the Company should employ 50 hands for twelve months in the year should be changed to fifty hands for ten months each year for the next few years, and that when the company complies with their agreement in regard to erecting new buildings the $200 deposited by them should be refunded by the Council, whether or not the Legislature confirms the by-law.

The Council was willing to make the change and a resolution to that effect was carried.

OBITUARY.

MRS. JASON ELLIOTT.

The death occurred at noon to-day of Mrs. Jason Elliott at her late residence, Alberta street. She had been ill for weeks with a lingering illness. She was 66 years of age. Her maiden name was Elizabeth McPherson, she being the daughter of the late John McPherson. She was a woman highly esteemed and was a faithful member of St. Andrew's church.

The funeral will take place on Thursday at 2.30 o'clock to the Little Lake cemetery.

Human at Least.

An American player who fulfilled several London engagements under the late Sir Henry Irving tells a story of a young man employed as the tragedian's dresser when Irving was the lessee of the Lyceum theater. The young fellow had been recommended for the place by Clarkson, the celebrated wigmaker. Irving was as exacting in matters of makeup as he was in everything else relating to stage equipment, and he succeeded in impressing Clarkson with a deep sense of responsibility.

Shortly after his entering upon his new duties Clarkson called upon his former employee. As Clarkson had noticed that he did not get as many orders for wigs from Irving as he formerly did, he had begun to suspect that the dresser was accountable.

"Are you making Sir Henry's wigs?" Clarkson demanded without preliminary.

"Sometimes."

"Do you call that a wig?" sneered the caller, pointing to an article on the dressing table. "Do you mean to tell me that you believe that thing looks at all like a wig?"

"No, sir, I don't," hotly replied the dresser, now considerably irritated, "but I do mean to say as how it looks like the 'air of the 'uman 'ead!"—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Giving Advice.

Professor—What is the matter with Mr. ——?

Voice From the Rear Seat—Aw, cut it out!

Caustic.

"Does your representative in congress entertain much?"

"No," answered the caustic constituent, "he doesn't entertain; he only amuses."—Washington Star.

Not What It Was For.

When Miss Julia Bryant, daughter of William Cullen Bryant, was a little child an aged lady, who was for a time a neighbor of the poet and his family, had been shown into the parlor of the house, where she was making her first call. She found the small Julia seated on the floor with an illustrated volume of Milton in her lap. Although she knew, of course, that it must be the artist, not the author, in whom at that early age the child was interested, she asked genially by way of beginning an acquaintance:

"Reading poetry already, little girl?"

Julia looked up and regarded her gravely. Then she explained, with an air of politely correcting inexcusable ignorance:

"People don't read poetry. Papas write poetry, and mammas sing poetry, and little girls learn to say poetry, but nobody reads poetry. That isn't what it's for."

Then He Landed.

"Beauty is a woman's most important attribute," said a New York beauty doctor. "She who increases beauty is woman's greatest benefactor. Husbands, brothers, even fathers—in their inmost hearts beauty is the thing they desire most to see in their feminine relations. Only the other day a gray, fat old gentleman entered a newspaper office and said:

"'Are you the managing editor?'

"'Yes,' was the reply.

"'I suppose that on you, then,' said the visitor, 'rests the responsibility for this morning's reference to my daughter Patty as Fatty. Take that!'"

An Ungallant Rascal.

"I suppose," said the angular spinster, "that you never had a romance?"

"Dat's where youse is wrong," replied the unlaundered hobo. "I wunst had a sweetheart wot wuz a dead ringer fer youse."

"And did she die?" asked the angular spinster as she helped him to another hunk of pie.

"No, ma'am," answered the hobo. "When leap year come round she asked me t' marry her—an' I run away from home."—Chicago News.

Dead Heat.

A schoolmaster who is in the habit of selecting extracts from his morning newspaper for dictation exercise read the other day a passage in which occurred the term "dead heat."

"Jones," said he, addressing an inattentive pupil, "what do you mean by 'dead heat?'"

"Please, sir," the youngster replied, "it's the heat of the place bad people go to when they're dead."—London Schoolmaster.

THE GREEN MORAY.

A Savage and Voracious Eel Found In Bermudian Waters.

The experienced sea fisherman takes care to kill every large conger eel as soon as it is brought into the boat. The conger has not only extraordinary jaw power—it can triturate shellfish, shells and all—but is also so abominably active that the fisherman's opinion of it coincides with that held of the Indian by the western plainsman, "No good conger except dead conger."

Ugly and savage brute as the conger is, it is a lamb compared with its relative, the green moray of Bermudian waters. This great eel is of an unnaturally brilliant green and has an eye which is the very epitome of intense and malignant ferocity. It is voracious and savage beyond words. The negro boatmen have such a holy horror of it that they absolutely refuse to allow a moray into the boat. An acquaintance of the writer, a marine officer, fishing in a small boat off Bermuda, hooked one of these fish, but as soon as his boatman saw the hideous head above the water he whipped out his knife and made to cut the line. The officer shouted to him to stop, but had to threaten to throw the man overboard before he would put up his knife. When the great eel was pulled over the side the negro went absolutely ashy with fright. As for the moray, no sooner was it in the boat than it doubled upon itself, and its jaws met with a clash in its own side, cutting out a chunk of white flesh as neatly as a scoop would cut cheese. That was enough for the officer. He picked up a boathook and forked the uncanny creature overboard—Chambers' Journal.

A MANUFACTURED CLIMATE.

Methods of the Paris Market Gardeners In Forcing Nature.

The gardeners of Paris get their products on the market weeks before the regular season for them. This forcing of nature is described by Ernest Poole in Success Magazine.

The secret is simply this: The French maraichers have manufactured a climate to suit them. As one observer has said, "They have moved the climate of Monte Carlo up to the suburbs of Paris."

Some new prodigy of modern science, this? Not at all. Only enormous expense in money and in time. The gardens, whenever possible, are placed on land with a slope to the south and are well protected by walls on the north and east, walls built to reflect light as well as to give protection from the northeast winds.

The ground is practically covered with glass, not as in a greenhouse, but by glass frames in the open, "three light" frames of uniform size, 12 by 4½ feet, and also by glass bells. These, too, are of a uniform size, about the shape of a chapel bell, a little less than seventeen inches in diameter and from fourteen to fifteen inches high. The French call them cloches. You may often see over a thousand frames and over 10,000 glass bells in one two-acre plot in the suburbs of Paris.

A more recent innovation is the employment of hot water pipes run under the soil, making of the earth a veritable steam heated hotel, with this essential difference, that the hotel keeper here is desperately eager, not to keep his guests, but to persuade them to leave on the earliest possible day.

He Came Back Hard.

"That boy," said the Billville farmer, "beats my time! Jest now when I quoted Scripter to him he come back at me hard!"

"You don't say!"

"Shore! I told him to git a hoe an' foller the furrow. 'Thar's gold in the land,' I said. An' what do you reckon he made answer?"

"You tell it."

"'Father,' he says, 'I don't keer fer the gold o' this here world. I've laid up treasure in heaven!'"

When Icing Runs.

When boiled icing runs and has been taken off the stove before it has spun a heavy enough thread it can be given the proper consistency, even though added to the white of an egg, by standing on the stove on an asbestus plate and being stirred constantly until it begins to stiffen.

Military School Needed.

There is considerable dissatisfaction in militia circles just now over the tardiness of the Militia Department to establish a regular military school in Montreal, promised time and again the past six years by Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia. Commanding officers find it very difficult to secure young subalterns, because they are unable to go to St. Johns for instruction to qualify for their lieutenant's rank from provisional appointment. Officers of the brigade are not slow in condemning freely the treatment the officers and men of Montreal are receiving at the hands of the Military Council. Minister and City Council, who agreed to at once provide a site and barracks, if St. Helen's Island was sold them in its entirety for park purposes.

The corporation agreed to vote $25,000 towards the establishment of a branch of the permanent infantry corps in Montreal. So far nothing is yet in sight for the school and barracks. All the commanding officers contend that the barracks and school should at once be established on the large Government property at Lafontaine Park. It is pointed out that the place would be near at hand for those requiring instruction to pass their examination for lieutenant's rank. The drill ground at Lafontaine Park is roomy, and the place to give the young aspirants practical work in drill of all kinds. As one experienced colonel remarked to The Standard the other day, "if something is not done very soon regarding the permanent military in Montreal, the Militia Department will very soon have a demoralized brigade for the sheer want of young officers."—Montreal Standard.

Must Do It at Home.

A Toronto gentleman living on the outskirts, and very proud of his garden, was troubled a year or so ago with the chickens of the man next door, and after careful mental application devised this scheme of ridding himself of the nuisance and avoiding an open breach. One night he carefully secreted a number of eggs under the bushes in his back garden. Next day when his neighbor was strolling about he came out with a basket and after passing the time of day and a remark or two to the effect that it was likely to rain, proceeded under the gaze of the poultry owner to gether up the eggs he had planted the night before. For ever after that the obnoxious birds were kept at home.

Audience Left Him.

There have been many amusing scenes in the House of Commons which, fortunately, did not cause any particular disorder. The late Dr. Landerkin when in Opposition was one of the most obstreperous of the critics of the then Conservative Government. He was a man of wonderful resource, and was not easily sidetracked. One day he was keeping the House sitting late by reading from a volume of Parliamentary statistics, when the leader of the House had to resort to the expedient of moving the adjournment. This was duly carried and Mr. Speaker left the chair Landerkin kept on talking till the chamber was entirely cleared, when, for lack of an audience, he gave up.

The Bayonet.

The bayonet was due to the fortunate inspiration of a Basque soldier, who, when he and his regiment, having expended their ammunition, were driven to bay on a mountain ridge near Bayonne, suggested that they should fix the long knives with which they were armed into the musket barrels and charge the enemy. This advice, which was followed with complete success, was the means of introducing the weapon to the notice of military Europe.

What He Lacked.

It is related of a South American general, who was extremely well pleased with himself, that once when about to sally forth to a grand dance he surveyed himself contentedly in the mirror and then soliloquized thus:

"Ah! Thou hast all—bravery, wealth, position, good looks. Ah, what dost thou lack?"

Whereupon his orderly, who, unknown to the general, was close at hand, remarked:

"Sense, general, sense!"

ANOTHER PIONEER HAS PASSED AWAY

Mr. John H. Clysdale Came to Canada When Young—Struggled With Unbroken Country and Raised Splendid Family.

Examiner Special.

Lakefield, May 4th.—In the death of John H. Clysdale on April 26th, one of the oldest and best known and respected citisens of East Peterboro, passed away. Mr. Clysdale was born in Castle Blainy, Ireland, of Scotch ancestry, eighty years ago. With his parents and other members of the family, he came to Canada when eleven year sold and settled in the township of Dummer, where they hewed out one of the first homes in that part of this county.

Mr. Clysdale was married to Eliza Jane Finlay over fifty-five years ago, and was blessed with seven sons and six daughters, one of whihc died when three years of age. The other twelve children, together with his faithful wife, was at his bedside during the short illness preceding his death and the seven sons acted as pallbearers. The remains were laid away in the Lakefield cemetery at two p.m., April 28th.

The members of the family are Samuel F., of Lakefield; John M., of Caledonia, Wm. M., of Lakefield; T. E., of Grand Rapids, Minnesota; A. G., of Lakefield; A.M., of Peterborough; M.S., of Cottlesloe; Mrs. Mary E. Cordwell, of Westwood; Mrs. A. D. Payne, Lakefield; Mrs. Thos. Jones and Mrs. W. M. Bell, South Dummer; and Mrs. Geo. Edwards, of Cottesloe.

In religion the deceased was a Baptist and a valued member of his church. He was a liberal in politics. Among the many floral tributes was a beautiful pillow from his twelve children: Those from a distance attending the funeral were Mr. John Finlay of Norwood, Mrs. Robt. Harrison and Mrs. Kidd, of Peterborough. —Com.

WARSAW'S TEAM TO PLAY FIRST GAME

Meet Keene on May 8th in First League Game.

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, May 4th.—Mrs. A. W. Smithson is visiting relatives at Millbrook.

Mrs. J. B. Forster is spending a few days at Peterborough.

Miss Isabella Selkirk visited friends at North Dummer last week.

Mr. C. Nicholson, Lakefield, is a guest of Mr. Albert McQuaige.

Mr. Barton Earle, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Roy, Peterborough, and Mr. O. B. Earle, Winnipeg, were guests of Mr. A. F. Choate on Sunday.

Mrs. S. R. Payne visited friends in Norwood on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan, of Lakefield, moved into Mr. G. W. Reid's apartment house on Thursday. Mr. Allan has secured a position with Mr. Hugh Kidd.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Mitchell moved with their household effects to Hastings on Monday.

The first football match of the season in the Midland League will be held on the grounds here on Saturday evening, May 8th, commencing at 6.30 p.m. The Keene team, which is to meet the locals, has been making considerable preparation, and a good game is looked for.

Mr. Nathan Payne is being congratulated on his success at the shooting matches of the Warsaw Rifle Association, held in October last year, when he won a handsome silver salver, presented by the government. Mr. Payne received the salver on Saturday last and it is a very handsome one, being in size about 15 inches in diameter, and of elaborate design and workmanship. It is a prize well worthy of competition, and several of the members of the local club are going in for one this year.

Constable Clements made a successful capture in the person of an Assyrian peddler minus the necessary license, on Thursday of last week. The arrest was made a couple of miles east of here and the law breaker taken to Peterborough the following morning, where he appeared before Magistrate Edmison and was fined.

A runaway team belonging to Mr. Hugh Dodds caused considerable excitement on Water St. for a few minutes on Thursday afternoon last. The team which was left standing in front of Mr. A. Help's blacksmith shop, strayed away unnoticed and apparently unaware that they were 'loose' until someone made an effort to stop them, when they quickened their pace and made a wild dash for the Warsaw Milling Co.'s plant, where they were turned and headed across the bridge and were finally corralled in the vicinity of the Baptist church.

Scene from the great Mystic Festival Play, "Parsifal," at the Grand, next Saturday, May 8. Matinee and night. Plan opens to-morrow (Thursday) morning at 10 o'clock.

A SURPRISED MINISTER

"For many years I have been a sufferer from bronchial catarrh, and had despaired of anything like a cure. Judge of my pleasant surprise when I first used Hyomei, which brought complete relief. Hyomei has been a veritable godsend."—Rev. Charles Hartley, Sardinia, Ohio.

Thousands of catarrh sufferers have given up in despair. They have tried stomach dosing, snuff, sprays and douches without success, and now believe catarrh to be incurable.

But Mr. Madill, the druggist, holds out hope to all distressed. He sells a remedy called Hyomei which is guaranteed for catarrh, colds, coughs, bronchitis, asthma and croup.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is medicated air, full of the healthy virtues of the mountain pines. You breathe in the delightful antiseptic air, and as it passes over the inflammation, kills the germs, and drives out the disease.

A complete Hyomei outfit, including a hard rubber inhaler, costs but $1.00, and an extra bottle of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, costs but 50 cents. See Mr. Madill about it to-day.

OMEMEE CANINES ALSO POISONED

News Budget From Northern Hamlet—Happenings of General Interest.

Examiner Special.

Omemee, May 4.—The Rev. Mr. McRae, of Toronto, preached an edifying discourse from the pulpit of the Presbyterian church on Sabbath afternoon. It is possible that the same clergyman will occupy the same pulpit next Sabbath.

On Wednesday last Inspector J. H. Knight of Lindsay, paid an official visit to our Public Schools.

A five-mile Marathon and other races are billed for Victoria Day. The prize for the five-mile race is a silver cup.

Our trappers report a very good season for muskrats and a favourable price for the pelts.

Mr. Wm. Smith of Mount Pleasant, was a visitor to Omemee on Friday. As was also Mr. Harry Bland.

On Sabbath morning, in Christ Church, communion service was conducted by the Pastor, Rev. J. H. Teney.

The poison-route seems to capture many canines. About five or six have travelled it this Spring.

The funeral of a venerable old lady, in the person of the late Mrs. Gabriel Balfour, took place on Saturday forenoon to the Emily cemetery. The deceased had reached the advanced age of 87 years, and was highly respected, as was evidenced by the large concourse of people that attended the obsequies. The relatives have the sympathy of our village and surrounding district in their hour of sad separation from a loved one.

Mr. Stanley Lowes, Miss Pearl Lowes and Mrs. H. J. McLean of Mount Pleasant, called on Omemee friends on Wednesday last.

The water is so high in Pigeon River that it interferes with the mills. The Messrs. Courtney had to close down their saw-mill, as the wet goods drowned their fires out. The water has subsided enough to resume cutting, but it is still at a dangerous height.

Miss Cora Magee begins this week her duties as a public school teacher at Tory Hill. May she prosper in the noble calling.

The Public Library Board is putting on a high-class concert for the evening of Victoria Day. Watch for bills at an early date.

Manager Magee has been unable to train his ball team on the diamond but expects to have them in batting condition by the 24th inst., when the base-ball contest occurs.

Mr. C. Evans assumes the role of domine, this week, in one of our county schools. Success to Mr. Evans in the most noble profession.

Mrs. Isaiah Thornton of Colborne, has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Sandy.

Spring seems unwilling to leave Winter's lap. Perhaps Mars attracts her Winterward, but, be that as it may, we are not proud of the vagaries of the weather of last week's end and Sunday; we would be more comfortable without frost and with a little warm sunshine. We have had a long spell of frigid conditions. The farmers must be hard up for feed for their stock. We want leaves for Victoria Day. Grumbling is useless—with folded arms we serenely smile.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mitchell drove out to see Mount Pleasant friends Sunday week.

Mrs. (Dr.) Sutton's father is her guest.

Mr. Bert Morden has become a resident of our village.

A large contingent from Omemee were at Lindsay's Spring Show on Saturday. It was pronounced an unqualified success.

Rev. J. H. Teney of Christ Church, has resumed his ecclesiastical duties after an illness that foreboded pneumonia; but, thanks to speedy and efficient medicinal aid the disease soon abated, and we are pleased to see Mr. Teney about as usual.

HER NAME'S SHADOW.

By ESTHER SANGBORN.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

If she had not been named Beryl perhaps Miss Stanhope would not have thought herself so hopelessly plain, so thoroughly and utterly unattractive. But that name—so beautiful, so poetical, sounding like an utterance in one short burning word of a womanly beauty almost divine—was as a curse to her.

It made her morbid. She shivered lest people learn it and smile at the incongruity.

Superconscious of her angles, her lack of color and dark circled eyes, reflected in every shop window, Beryl wondered why she had been named so incongruously. She almost cried when a wizened old woman with a parchment skin, in charge of a fruit stand, answered to the name of Violet. What would she, Beryl Stanhope, be like twenty-five years hence?

She could not free herself from the tormenting thought. In old age, with ugliness intensified, she must still hear the musical Beryl applied to her, a name designed for a round, milk skinned creature, with hair like corn silk and eyes the color of a calm sea, the cool, restful blue that is more nearly green.

She was reasoning to silence her ever renewed womanly hunger for beauty of person when she tapped at the studio shared by her brother and Lindley Wood. Her brother was out, but Wood was painting feverishly, a seldom seen exultation on his serious face.

"Come in, Miss Stanhope," he called hospitably. "Dick will be back in a jiffy. We are both making hay while the sun shines this week. Miss Cuyler is kindly posing for us, and she leaves the city Monday."

Beryl had not glanced at the model throne, but at this she turned quickly and caught her breath with a little gasp. A girl with the sheen of corn silk in her hair and eyes like a lapis lazuli sea was silhouetted against a background of pale green plush.

A sharp pain that Beryl did not know was envy shot to her heart as she drank in the sumptuous coloring of the nonchalant beauty. Recovering her composure with an effort, she returned Miss Cuyler's greeting and stepped forward.

"Are you and Dick working on one theme, Mr. Wood?" she asked. "May I see?"

"Not one theme," answered Wood. "Dick is doing an Andromache, but mine is only a study, an ideal head. I'll be very glad of your criticism, Miss Stanhope. My work fails to satisfy me."

Lindley Wood's pictures usually received praise from his friend's sister, but for once there were no exclamatory remarks. After a long look she drew back a step with heightened color.

"Wherefore the name?" she asked haughtily.

"Beryl?" said Wood unconcernedly, touching up the round white throat on his canvas. "That is just a fancy of mine. Haven't you names to fit your ideal types? I would not think of painting a blond Judith or a dark Rosamond. I've always had a liking for the name of Beryl!"—with boyish eagerness—"and Miss Cuyler happens to look my conception of it. Do you like the pose?"

"Very much," she replied, thankful she could say so honestly. But there was a strange inflection in her voice, despite her effort. Lindley Wood's keen ear caught it, and he responded with swift artistic intuition.

"You see something wrong with it," he exclaimed. "I want to know what it is! Be frank, and tell me why you do not like my Beryl."

The living Beryl trembled foolishly as she buttoned her coat. "Seek to please the institute committee, not me," she laughed. "My opinion is not worth that doleful expression, Mr. Wood. Tell Dick I shall expect him early." And, with a nod that included the model, she left the room.

Over their tete-a-tete dinner that night Beryl tried to question her brother about Lindley Wood's interest in Miss Cuyler. But she could not. Her brother had been strangely preoccupied of late, and table conversation was monosyllabic.

"Wood hasn't been here for some time," he remarked suddenly, and Beryl, surprised in her thoughts, was glad that the doorbell spared her a reply. When Dick returned his friend's name was not mentioned.

Beryl sa [illegible] ng in the little parlor when her brother went out "to usv some 'cans,'" he said evasively. When the door closed behind him she dropped her book and assumed ease.

Pacing up and down the rooms, she assured herself that she would go to work at something presently and forget the episode. But, try as she would, her heart was filled with bitterness that her brother's friend—her friend, too, she had once thought—should have been so heartless, so utterly contemptuous of her as to paint an ideal Beryl. "He could not have told me my shortcomings more brutally in plain words," whispered she passionately.

Then, seeing something white on the hall rug, she stooped and picked up a card. "Edith Cuyler," she read—her brother's Andromache and Lindley Wood's Beryl! In that moment she felt almost as if she hated both artists and their model.

A chaos of thoughts danced through her brain, but through it all she always saw the pink and white face that had smiled from Wood's canvas above her name.

Unable to stay indoors, she put on her wraps and went out, but even the clear ozone of the winter's night did not arouse her from the strange thrall put upon her by the card.

She turned into the block where some friends, the Stones, lived, but she had no intention of going in, for she knew that Edith Cuyler was staying there. Suddenly a pillar of flame shot from a building ahead. In a moment the street was a confusion of hoarse shouts and screams. Beryl stood still and watched the residents, like a stream of human ants, carrying valuables to safety. Then, as one awakening from a troubled dream recognizes the environment, she realized she was looking at the Stones' house and that it was afire!

Attracted by a shrill scream, she raised her eyes to the third floor. The beautiful Miss Cuyler stood in a window, her blond head silhouetted against a curtain of fire.

Beryl was conscious of a commotion in the crowd. Then a man in evening dress fought his way to the burning structure and went up the ladder with eager steps. At the second floor a tongue of flame lit his features, and Beryl almost swooned with horror as she recognized her brother Dick.

The next five minutes were each a fearful, anguish laden century to the watching girl. At any instant the walls might collapse and engulf them both.

She saw the cameo-like face, pearl white against that red curtain, brighten with hope as she recognized the coming hero. Beryl saw Dick lift her from the narrow ledge and begin the perilous downward journey with her arms around his neck.

They reached the second floor in safety, though the ladder swayed unsteadily. Willing hands held it as well as inexperienced people could, but danger threatened every step. Forgetting that she stood among strangers, Beryl clutched some one near. "I can't look!" she cried despairingly. "Oh, if they should fall!"

"Why, Miss Stanhope," answered an amazed, familiar voice, "why are you here?"

She clung to Lindley Wood with a little sob of relief. "Tell me," she begged pitifully.

By the necromancy of intuition he understood. "They are safe," he said, tucking her hand under his arm. "Let me take you home. You are icy cold. Dick is all right," reassuringly.

She trembled violently. To reassure her the artist assumed a light, jesting tone.

"If Dick and Miss Cuyler were not already engaged they will be now," he went on. "How can I manage, I wonder, to make myself appear equally heroic to you, Miss Stanhope?"

"Why?" in a gentle whisper.

"Because I love you," drawing her into the shadow of a building away from the crowd. "I was coming to say it, but it is easier to say it here under the stars than it would be in your lighted rooms. I can better endure your 'No' if you cannot see its effect."

"Your ideal Beryl is a cameo blond," she reminded. "I am plain"—

"What has my ideal Beryl to do with you?" he interrupted, looking his surprise.

"My name is Beryl," she answered. "Didn't you know?"

"No!" he cried emphatically, and instantly the memory of his words in the studio stood before him in letters of flame and he saw their significance. "Tom always calls you Sis and—and—I believed your initial represented Barbara. A blond Beryl may be my ideal on canvas, but the woman I love and would call wife has eyes like deep, dark wells. Don't draw away, dear! Miss Cuyler is only a model to me." He paused a moment, as she did not speak. "Perhaps there is some one else," he said sadly. "I dare not hope that you can care for me."

The hand on his arm tightened gently. "There is no one else," she said softly, "none but you. If you are satisfied I will never again complain or envy my—future sister—her beauty."

"Why should you?" cried he, pressing her to his heart. "Beauty of soul shines from your every lineament, my queen and wife, and—don't you know that you are a true type of dark beauty, anyway?"

ONE ON THE DOCTORS.

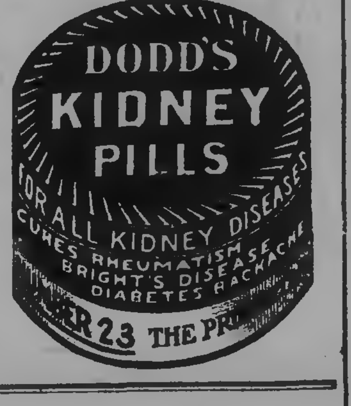
Madame J. Rioux, St. Moise, Que., says:—"Fruit-a-tives cured me of severe Liver Disease. Neither doctors nor any other remedy did me any good, but Fruit-a-tives promptly cured."

"Fruit-a-tives" always cure Liver Trouble, Biliousness and Constipation because they act directly on the liver. They stimulate the secretion of Bile, which decreases the quantity of blood in the liver and thus relieves the Congestion or Biliousness. With plenty of Bile to move the Bowels, there is an end to the Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a disordered liver.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes—prepared by a newly discovered process, and combined with valuable tonics and antiseptics. They are, without doubt, the most popular remedy in Canada to-day.

50c a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial box, 25c. If you can't get "Fruit-a-tives" in your neighborhood, these wonderful tablets will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price by addressing Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.



Too Long.

An old lady of his flock once called upon Dr. Gill with a grievance. The doctor's neckbands were too long for her ideas of ministerial humility, and after a long harangue on the sin of pride she intimated that she had brought a pair of scissors with her and would be pleased if her dear pastor would permit her to cut them down to her notions of propriety.

The doctor not only listened patiently, but handed over the offending white bands to be operated upon. When she had cut them to her satisfaction and returned the bibs, it was the doctor's turn.

"Now," said he, "you must do me a good turn also."

"Yes, that I will, doctor. What can it be?"

"Well, you have something about you which is a deal too long and which causes me no end of trouble, and I should like to see it shorter."

"Indeed, dear sir, I will not hesitate. What is it? Here are the scissors. Use them as you please."

"Come, then," said the sturdy divine, "good sister, put out your tongue."—London Telegraph.

Marlborough House.

Marlborough House is one of the numerous buildings of Sir Christopher Wren. It was built at a cost of £44,000, the whole of which was defrayed by the duke. Here the great duchess lived till her death in 1744, waging an incessant warfare upon the society of her time. Here, too, she received a deputation of the lord mayor and sheriffs of London while still in bed, an incident which was satirized by Gay:

Acquainted with the world and quite well bred,
Drusa receives her visitants in bed.

In the earlier years of the nineteenth century Marlborough House was rented by Leopold, king of the Belgians. It was afterward bestowed by the crown upon Queen Adelaide, the dowager of William IV.—London Chronicle.

The Savage Pike.

There are several instances on record of bathers being attacked by pike, and an old writer, Crull, tells of a giant pike inside which was found the body of an infant. Not long ago a good sized retriever which was swimming in the Thames just above Chitty's boathouse at Richmond was tackled by a pike, which bit one of its hind legs so badly as to sever an artery. It was another Thames pike which attacked that well known naturalist and fisherman, Mr. Cholmondeley-Pennell. He had actually landed the fish, when it sprang from the ground and fixed all its sharp teeth into his leg just above the knee. The creature hung so fiercely to its hold that a stick had to be used to pry its jaws apart.—Chambers' Journal.

Force of Habit.

In reward of faithful political service an ambitious saloon keeper was appointed police magistrate.

"What's the charge agin this man?" he inquired when the first case was called.

"Drunk, yer honor," said the policeman.

The newly made magistrate frowned upon the trembling defendant.

"Guilty or not guilty?" he demanded.

"Sure, sir," faltered the accused, "I never drink a drop."

"Have a cigar, then," urged his honor persuasively, as he absently polished the top of the judicial desk with his pocket handkerchief.—Everybody's.

A Want.

"I have here a device," said the inventor, "to increase the speed of motor cars."

The patent attorney frowned and shook his head.

"But what we really want," said he, "is a device to increase the speed of the pedestrians who have to dodge them."—Exchange.

And Catches Him.

"Man," declared the old fashioned preacher, "is a worm."

"And," said a man who had been married three times and who was occupying a small space in a rear pew, "woman is the early bird."—Chicago Record-Herald.

ORANGE MEAT LEADS

IN a long series of digestion experiments carried on by Professor Harcourt, of the Guelph Agricultural College, with the Human Subject, taking all the necessary precautions to insure accuracy, he determined the digestibility of various cereals and furnished the following results:

Percentage of the constituents digested

	Oraganic Matter.	Calories per gram.
Orange Meat	93.4	3,733
White Bread	98.1	2,468
Entire Wheat Bread	94.8	2,256
Graham Bread	92.5	2,296

According to his determination ORANGE MEAT is 50 per cent. more valuable as a food than bread.

To persistent users of Orange Meat a large reward is offered. A private postcard i nevery package of ORANGE MEAT gives details of how to get a cash prize of Seven Hundred Dollars, or a life annuity of Fifty-two Dollars.

Read carefully the private postcard in every package detailing particulars of a most remarkable Cash Prize offer.

TRICKS IN SMUGGLING

The Way Uncle Sam Is Swindled Through the Mails.

WATCHES IN WEDDING CAKE.

A Scheme That Was Disclosed by a Gleeful Girl Who Could Not Hold Her Tongue—Gloves That Came One at a Time and Corsets In Sections.

Too few people think it a crime to swindle the customs. For that reason many bright and brainy persons think hard how to get goods from abroad without paying toll to Uncle Sam. As most of the successful operators in this line are women, who have more time to think about such things than men, it can be imagined that the customs officers have to be eternally alert to protect the government.

The avenues through the steamship passenger route are pretty carefully guarded, and as comparatively few people go abroad the great mass of dwellers in this protected land are debarred from sharing in the humorous little game of hide the diamond or smuggle the silk. But there is another avenue that is being used enthusiastically by the anti-duty aggregation. It is the United States mail.

With the immense volume of foreign mail delivered to this country it is manifestly impossible to open and examine every package that seems to contain newspapers or merely a bulky letter to see whether or not some dutiable article is concealed therein. So far as it is possible, however, it is done, and the addressee has to go to the postoffice and pay duty on the amount at which the dutiable article is appraised.

The custom house experts at the postoffice have their hands full checkmating the clever moves of those who are constantly devising new ways to disguise dutiable things as innocent looking parcels.

"We used to pass cakes through without question," said one of the examiners. "It seemed too bad to lay hands on a Christmas pudding sent by relatives in England to some exile in this country. It also disturbed the sentimental side of a customs officer to demolish a section of wedding cake that had been sent from the old home in Germany to Fritz in America. So we let these sacred things pass through. But one day we had an awakening. One of the customs men heard that a neighbor had obtained a new watch from abroad. It had come through duty free, and the gleeful girl who was wearing it could not keep quiet about the clever way the postoffice had been deluded. It seems the watch had been baked right into the cake and had come through without discovery. Now, this forced us to take some step to prevent a repetition of such smartness, and ever after that we held on to all cakes or puddings that came in packages through the mail. A letter is sent to the person to whom the package is addressed, and this person (it is almost always a woman) has to come to the postoffice and cut the cake or slice the pudding right in front of the customs officer. Do we catch a Tartar occasionally? Well, you may take it for granted that any one who would try this trick is a Tartar, to begin with, and so we don't get off without a scene when the cutting time comes.

"A trick that fooled us for a time was the sending through the mail of one glove a trifle creased to give the idea that it was merely a worn glove that had been left in Europe by a tourist. With the glove would come a letter to that effect, 'You went away without one of your gloves,' etc. Of course we passed it through unsuspectingly. But we got so many of these that it began to look suspicious. So we held on to one of them, and by the next mail there came another glove from the same address to the same person. The glove was the fellow to the other. Then we got another left hand glove and later the right hand glove to match it. The trick was simple and admirable in its simplicity. Gloves were being sent through in quantities, one at a time.

"But the queerest trick we exposed the other day. A woman was accumulating a large stock of fancy corsets without troubling about the duty that should have been paid on them. The trick was to send half a corset through the mail. We knew of no rule about paying duty on half a corset. It appeared to us to be a mere remnant of the up to date woman's attire and not important enough to consider as dutiable.

"So we passed the half corset along and thought no more of it. But half corsets began to drop in with all too great frequency. It looked as though corset remnants had suddenly attained considerable importance in some one's estimation. So one of the men put it up to his wife, and she took something less than a fraction of a second to puncture the scheme. The half corset was useless in itself, but when the other half arrived there was a French corset ready for wearing.

"We find fine silks done up in packages of herbs, watches, diamond rings and bracelets concealed in the leaves of books in holes cut for the purpose and separate diamonds hidden away in bottles of transparent liquid where the gem is scarcely visible. No doubt many dutiable articles escape us, but we are getting wiser every day to the tricks of the mail smugglers."

"CAN I GET WELL?'
If Your Trouble comes from the Kidneys, or from Kidney Poisons in the Blood,
YES!

And if you have been ailing a long time don't lose your courage. It takes a little time—takes some constitutions longer than others. But Doan's Kidney Pills will gradually drain the poisons out of your system; the pain in your back will stop; the sediment in the urine will cease; there will be no rheumatic pains; you will feel freer and brighter, and when the last of the poisons have gone you will be well.

There is no way of getting the kidney poisons out of the system except through the kidneys, and no medicine so effective in taking them out as Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mr. W. Perkins, South Maitland, N.S., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know of the great cure I have obtained by using Doan's Kidney Pills. For six months I could not obtain a good night's rest, had to get up four or five times to urinate, and the urine was very thick and red. I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a very short time I was right and fit again. I am very thankful to have found so speedy a cure."

Disease of The Kidneys Brought on By Catarrh.

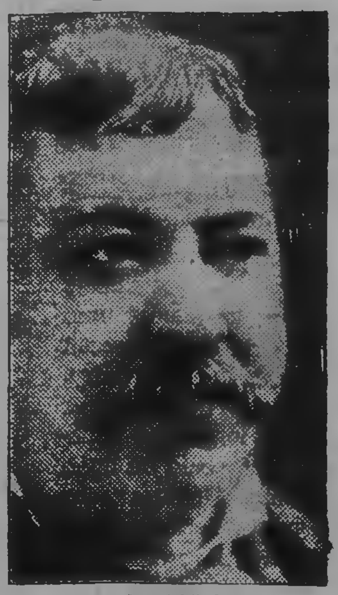
Pe-ru-na Made a Well Man of Me.

I Cannot Speak Too Highly of It.

Mr. George King, 453 St. Denis St., Montreal, Canada, a well-known business man of that city, writes:

"Peruna cured me from what the doctors were afraid would turn into Bright's disease, and after you have gone through the suffering that I have with catarrh of the bladder and kidney trouble, and have been cured you are pretty apt to remember the medicine that did the work.

"Peruna is a blessing to a sick man. Eight bottles made me well and were worth more than a thousand dollars to me. I cannot speak too highly of it. It is now four years since I was troubled, and I have enjoyed perfect health since. Every spring and fall I take a bottle of it and it keeps me well."



MR. GEORGE KING

CATARRH of the kidneys is a very much neglected disease.

It is not until the disease has a firm hold upon the kidneys that the patient begins to realize that there is some derangement of these organs.

The slight backaches, the feelings of lassitude, and other warning symptoms of kidney disease are overlooked.

They are not serious enough to detain the patient from his regular work.

Even when he discovers that the kidneys are affected, he does not recognize the difficulty as being caused by catarrh.

INTERNAL CATARRH REACHES THE KIDNEYS.

Catarrh is sometimes so very gradual in its approach and its earlier symptoms cause such slight discomfort that it is not noticed.

However, when it is once firmly seated in the kidneys it becomes a difficult disease to exterminate.

Indeed, catarrh of the kidneys is more serious than catarrh affecting some of the other organs of the body.

In the kidneys it is liable to terminate in Bright's disease or diabetes, both of which are recognized as very serious ailments, if not fatal.

The thing to be done, when catarrh of the kidneys is discovered, is to take some internal, systemic catarrh remedy, one that reaches the very source of the catarrh and removes the cause of the difficulty.

Such a remedy has been found in Peruna. It reaches catarrh, no matter where it may be located in the body—whether in the more exposed membranes of the nose and throat, or whether in the remotest part of the kidneys.

PE-RU-NA AN INTERNAL CATARRH REMEDY.

That Peruna is at once the safest and most reliable remedy for catarrh of the kidneys is proven by the many testimonials written by those who have experienced its benefits.

The testimonials given here are only specimens of the many testimonials on our records, pertaining to the relief afforded by Peruna in severe cases of kidney trouble.

Kidney Disease of Long Standing.

Mr. Samuel A. Paxton, 1118 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo., member I. O. O. F. and National Annuity Association, writes:

"I am a well man to-day, thanks to your splendid medicine, Peruna. I was troubled with catarrh and kidney disease of long standing when I first began using Peruna. I soon found I was getting better and continued taking it for four months. It cleaned out the system, leaving me well and strong and feeling better than I have in years."

Menu of an African Hunting Party.

In addition to the groceries and canned provisions carried in their outfits the hunters in East Africa depend for fresh provisions on their guns. Water buck, zebra and elephant are said to be tough eating and are mostly partaken of by the native porters, who keep elephant meat till it is quite high and gamy. Eland tastes like the best American beef; oryx, impala and all gazelles are edible and tender, but the delicacies of the East African Protectorate are the klipspringer and the dikdik gazelles. Hartbeest is hard except the prime cut along the backbone. An ordinary meal on safari consists of marrow soup, dikdik cutlets, roast guinea fowl, curried venison and cornflower pudding, with jam, washed down with tea or coffee.—London Letter.

His Success.

"John," said a Glasgow minister to his beadle one morning, "I would seem to have been more than usually successful in pleasing the congregation on Sabbath. To which of the three heads of my sermon would you attribute my success?"

"Weel, sir," replied the beadle, with something like a leer in his eye, "to tell ye the truth, congregations noo-adays concern themsel's less about the heids than the tails o' sermons. The ane you preached on Sabbath was considerably shorter than the general rin o' yer discoorses, and therefore a body was weel pleased wi't."

Hopelessly Out of Style.

"When we take charge of the government," says the wise old suffragette, "we will make some changes in the naval bureau."

"I should hope so!" agrees the enthusiastic young suffragette. "Why, bureaus are hopelessly out of style! We will have a combination wardrobe and chiffonier."

Fifty Dollar Dinners.

"Dinners at $50 a plate are as common in New York as five dollar dinners are in London and Paris," said a chef. "Our extravagant dinners are no better than the cheaper foreign ones. Their cost is caused not by the exquisite cooking of exquisite materials, but by the use of exotic foods whose expense is their chief recommendation. What do I mean by exotic foods? Well, I mean cane sugar instead of the ordinary beet root kind for the compote; I mean wild rice instead of the cultivated for the canvasback; I mean sole brought alive from England and sterlet from Russia, when our own native fish is better conditioned; I mean hothouse strawberries as big as apples, pears as big as cocoanuts and grapes as big as peaches, all tasting rather like raw pumpkin, but looking very fine in blizzard weather. Foolish foods; but, then, it's only foolish people who eat fifty dollar dinners."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Auctioneer's Hourglass.

An auctioneer of Philadelphia collects all sorts of objects pertaining to his ancient calling. He has, among other things, an interesting set of auctioneers' hourglasses. The auctioneer a century or so ago concluded a sale not by saying "Going, going, gone!" and rapping the counter with his hammer, but it was his better method to turn up a free running glass toward the end of the bidding and to end the sale irrevocably when the sand ran out. This saved confusion and dispute. The auctioneers' glasses in the Philadelphia collection are picturesque. One is of tortoise shell and mother-of-pearl. Another is of amber and gold. A third is of teak and ivory.

Appropriate.

A clergyman went to have his teeth fixed by a dentist. When the work was done the dentist declined to accept more than a nominal fee. The parson, in return for this favor, insisted later on the dentist accepting a volume of the reverend gentleman's own writing. It was a disquisition on the Psalms, and on the fly leaf he had inscribed this appropriate quotation: "And my mouth shall show forth thy praise."—Harper's Weekly.

Gave Him a Pointer.

George Ade was once stranded in a small town. He went into the barber's shop to get shaved and endured even unto the end. When the barber had completed his operation the humorist arose and, putting a handkerchief to his face, said gravely:

"Sir, you have missed your vocation. You ought to be an oyster opener."

Never Gives Up.

"I just had to marry him. He told me he never gave up anything he loved."

"Well, it's good to have a husband who loves one."

"Y-e-s, but I have learned that he loves money also."—Houston Post.

An Impediment.

"It looks as though my marriage with Miss Mullins would have to be postponed."

"What's the matter, old fellow?"

"She got married to young Dobson yesterday."

Queer Life In Johannesburg.

Here is an amusing description of queer life in a Johannesburg residential block: "Nearly every one has one room, and into this you cram nearly all your worldly possessions and learn all kinds of vanishing tricks and juggling feats, such as having a combination bed and piano, using your washing stand for your writing table and converting your hip bath by day with rugs and cushions into an armchair. In this abode of bliss you receive your friends, male and female, and, if the gentleman, sitting himself rashly on the bed-sofa, vanishes into the piano or the lady throws herself wearily into the hip bath armchair and it falls off the packing case with her inside it, no one will turn a hair. You will invite them to lunch or tea or dinner, which ever is approaching, and the gentleman will offer to go and buy chops or kippers and fetch the milk and when he returns will help you cook, and you'll sit together and eat it on the washing stand, which also does duty as a dinner table on such occasions."—London Standard.

The Chief Justice.

"There are very few people who know the proper designation of the man who presides over the supreme court," said the secretary of the senate.

"Generally he is referred to as the chief justice of the United States supreme court. In fact, he is the chief justice. That's his official title. Most of our presidents in nominating men for this office have fallen into the error of giving him the long title. When George Washington nominated Oliver Ellsworth of Connecticut for this post he described it as chief justice of the supreme court of the United States. Andrew Jackson made the same error in nominating Richard B. Taney. So did Abraham Lincoln when he appointed Salmon P. Chase. Grover Cleveland was the first president to give the correct designation. When he appointed Melville W. Fuller he nominated him to be chief justice and nothing else. Future nominations will be framed in this fashion."—Washington Star.

THE BUSY BEES.

How the Insects Work When They Are Collecting Honey.

Upon the approach of a bee to any flower it flies around the calyx almost always before alighting upon the flower itself. This is a cursory examination, and with its antennae outstretched and quivering it is evidently scenting the honey contained within.

Should this prove a fruitful flower and of the flavor required the bee settles on the center of the stamen and, clutching it with its four front legs, steadies itself with its longer outstretched two hindermost ones and withdraws the nectar by its proboscis, the wings of the body assuming a vibratory motion the while.

The bee's proboscis is a most important instrument. It is composed of about forty cartilaginous rings, each of which is fringed with minute hairs, having also a small tuft of hair at its extremity, where it is somewhat serrated. Its movement is like the trunk of an elephant and is susceptible of extension and contraction, bending and twisting in all directions. Thus, by rolling it about, it searches out the calyx, pistil and stamen of every flower and deposits its nectar upon the tongue, whence it passes into the gullet at the base.

The gullet, or first stomach, is the honey bag. No digestion takes place here. In shape it is like an oil flask and when full contains about one grain. It is susceptible of contraction and is so arranged as to enable the insect to disgorge its contents into the cells of the hive.

HIS HARDEST TASK.

The Bull the Matadore Found It Most Difficult to Kill.

There is no description of a bullfight in Mrs. Maud Howe Elliott's book, "Sun and Shadow in Spain," but there is a record of a meeting with a matadore in the studio of the court painter, Don Jose Villegas, and the ensuing conversation, a part of which revealed the bullfighter in an unexpectedly gentle light. It also makes plain the fundamental reason why Americans object to bullfights.

"How many bulls have you killed?" some one asked of the matadore.

"In twenty-five years I have killed 3,500 bulls."

"Were you ever afraid?"

"I have been afraid many, many times. On those occasions I put my trust in my legs and ran as fast as I could.

"The bull, however, is the noblest of animals and the bravest. He never makes a cowardly attack from behind. He is so frank. He is terrible, though. A man needs nerve to face him when he comes into the ring pawing the earth and bellowing."

"Will you tell us about the bull that was the hardest of all to kill?"

The matadore's face changed.

"He was a white bull," he said slowly, "and he didn't want to fight. When he first came in he put his muzzle in my hand. He followed me about like a little dog. I led him with the cloak wherever I wanted to go. Yes, that was the hardest bull of all to kill."

THE "GHOST FLUID."

A Test by Which May Be Discerned the Digital Effluvia.

There is an experiment, first made by Dr. J. Maxwell, advocate general at the court of appeals in Paris, a distinguished magistrate and physician, which may be repeated in any drawing room.

Place a screen covered with a dark colored cloth in front of a window so that the light falls full upon it. Between the window and the screen put the subject of your experiment. Let him hold his hands, palms toward the breast, finger tips touching, in such a position that they are projected against the dark background of the screen. Then bid him slowly separate his hands, keeping the fingers extended widely. Standing behind him you will observe a sort of bluish gray cloud which seems to unite one hand to the other. Eight people out of ten will see this, says Vance Thompson in Hampton's Magazine. In 300 tests made by Dr. Maxwell personally 250 folk of one sex and the other discerned the digital effluvia; about 5 per cent saw it tinged a decided blue, two saw it yellow in tone, and in one instance the spectator saw it of a reddish hue.

The experiment succeeds best in a warm room. Cold and damp work against it. The duration of durability is four or five seconds.

Rammed by a Shark.

The strangest shark story which ever came to the writer's ears was of a shark that charged a steamer. This was in Queen Charlotte's sound, and an account of the incident appeared in a Vancouver paper. The captain of the steamer, which was a small craft of only fifty tons or so, saw the shark on the surface on the port bow and could not resist the temptation of taking a shot at it with his rifle. He hit his mark, whereupon the monster, said to have been fully twenty feet in length, deliberately charged the steamer. The boat quivered from stem to stern, and the captain said afterward that it was like striking a rock. After this display of temper Master Shark had had enough of it and sank out of sight.—T. C. Bridges in Chambers' Journal.

The editor of a newspaper whose policy it is to print many letters from correspondents in neighboring towns recently received such a communication from his representative in one place as to which he was not quite sure. He could not decide whether the correspondent was unconsciously humorous or whether he was endeavoring to comply with the standing instructions of the paper to "always be on the lookout for any little touch of humor that may brighten up our columns." ROYAL
BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Thousands of millions of cans of Royal Baking Powder have been used in making bread, biscuit and cake in this country, and every housekeeper using it has rested in perfect confidence that her food would be light, sweet, and perfectly wholesome. Royal is a safeguard against the cheap alum powders which are the greatest menacers to health of the present day.

ROYAL IS THE ONLY BAKING POWDER MADE FROM ROYAL GRAPE CREAM OF TARTAR

COLOMBIAN ETIQUETTE.

Daily Handshaking and Greeting Consume a Lot of Time.

It was the third or fourth day out from Santa Marta, Colombia, and early in the morning when one of the South American passengers came on deck. Another South American arose from his deck chair, extended his hand and as the men shook hands inquired after the health of the newcomer, his wife and his children.

As they had parted company only about eight hours before in the smoking room, this seemed like unnecessary courtesy. The observer noticed that this happened in the case of all the Colombians on board, so he asked one man about it.

"It is a custom of the country," said he. "On the occasion of meeting a person for the first time each day it is etiquette to shake hands and to make inquiries about the health of the person so greeted and of his relatives. It would not be considered polite to do otherwise."

Continuing, this man told of taking a walk one day in Bogota with a merchant of the place. They were bent on business and were to cover a distance that might be made rather easily in ten minutes. Because of the necessary stops to make the customary inquiries and to shake hands with friends of the merchant the trip took nearly an hour.

The Drawback.

Being eager to know how his offspring, Haymow junior, was getting along in the big metropolis, Haymow senior one day repaired thither from his rural habitat and sought information of his brother, long since established in the city.

"Waal," said Haymow senior, "what do you hear about Ebenezer?"

"Oh, I understand," remarked the young hopeful's uncle, "that he is invaluable in his new job."

"I swan!"

"Moreover, I understand that the boss simply can't do without him."

"How you talk!"

"And Ebenezer'll be a partner within a year or so, according to what I hear from the same source."

Haymow senior stroked his beard, highly satisfied.

"By the way, who told you all this about Ebenezer?" he inquired.

"Ebenezer."

"Oh!"

Mixed Ownership.

A countryman, having been summoned to appear before the magistrate for not having a sign on his cart, was in due course brought before him. The magistrate asked him if he had anything to say for himself, and he replied that he had a difficult question to ask which he could not solve himself.

"The question is this," he said. "The wheels of the cart belonged to John the miller, and the body of the cart belongs to the vicar, and the bag of old bones (meaning the horse) belongs to me. Now, gentlemen, if you can tell me what name I can put on it I will have it done immediately."

He was let off.—London Answers.

Credit.

The suffragette raised her right hand.

"Give woman the credit she deserves," she cried, "and where would man be?"

"If she got all the credit she wanted, he'd be in the poorhouse," sneered a coarse person in the rear of the hall.

Comparative.

"You think Jinks is a better conversationalist than Smith? Why, neither one of them ever says anything sensible."

"I knew but it takes Smith longer to say it."

Then the Trouble Started.

The Husband—Well, say what you will, my dear, you'll find worse men than me in the world. The Wife—Oh, Tom, how can you be so bitter?—London Sketch.

An Impossible Man.

"Why did you marry me?"

"Because I thought you were different from other men."

"And now you want a divorce because you were mistaken?"

"No; because I was right."—Cleveland Leader.

ANCIENT ROME.

It Could Not Compare In Splendor With Some Modern Capitals.

Rome, even in the times of its greatest splendor, was poor in comparison with the modern world. Even in the second century after Christ, when it stood as metropolis at the head of an immense empire, Rome was smaller, less wealthy, less imposing than a great metropolis of Europe or of America. Some sumptuous public edifices, beautiful private houses—that is all the splendor of the metropolis of the empire.

Moreover, the palaces of the Caesars on the Palatine are a grandiose ruin that stirs the artist and makes the philosopher think, but if one sets himself to measure them, to conjecture from the remains the proportions of the entire edifices, he does not conjure up buildings that rival large modern construction. The palace of Tiberius, for example, rose above a street only two meters wide, less than seven feet, an alley like those where today in Italian cities live only the most miserable inhabitants. We have pictured to ourselves the imperial banquets of ancient Rome as functions of unheard of splendor; if Nero or Elagabalus could came to life and see the dining room of a great hotel in Paris or New York, resplendent with light, with crystal, with silver, he would admire it as far more beautiful than the halls in which he gave his imperial feasts. Think how poor were the ancients in artificial light! They had few wines; they knew neither tea nor coffee nor cocoa, neither tobacco nor the innumerable liqueurs of which we make use. In face of our habits they were always Spartan, even when they wasted, because they lacked the means to squander.—Guglielmo Ferrero in Putnam's.

Questions and Answers.

What tree bears the most fruit to market? The axle tree.

Why is a bank clerk well informed? Because he is continually taking notes.

Use me well and I'm everybody. Scratch my back and I'm nobody. What am I? A looking glass.

What great Scotchman would you name if a footman knocked at your door? John Knox.

RHEUMATISM IN THE SYSTEM

SIX YEARS CURED IN SIX DAYS

TO MFRS. "NERVILINE."

"The suffering I endured for six years with Rheumatism is beyond description. Every time I was exposed to cold or dampness meant that I had to go to bed. My muscles stiffened, my joints swelled, and any attempt at exertion brought on excruciating twinges. The pain shifted from one part to another and I was scarcely ever free from misery and sleeplessness. I took all kinds of liquid medicines, but they nearly all depressed my heart and I had to stop them. Then I was told of the wonderful power of Nerviline.

Nerviline

"If Nerviline had been made specially for my case it couldn't have been more successful. It sank right into the core of the painful part, gave me ease, allowed me to sleep, gave me the use of my arms and limbs—in fact, made a new man of me. I urge all Rheumatics to use 'Nerviline.'

A. E. TRAYONER,
"Justice of the Peace, Lancaster."

The most wonderful pain-subduing substances in the world are in Nerviline—that's why it penetrates so quickly, why it instantly cures pain that other remedies can't even relieve. You'll be surprised how quickly sciatica, lumbago or rheumatism are cured by Nerviline—seems almost magical the way it will cure a cold or sore throat. When the chest is sore and it hurts to draw a long breath, one rubbing with Nerviline is sufficient. So highly valued is Nerviline by those who use it, that many families consider it quite as good as a doctor for aches, pains, and minor ailments of every kind. Large 25c bottles are sold by all dealers.

HUMAN BAIT.

The Men Who Gather Leeches in the Swamps of England.

Pale and lean, he spoke in a low voice, crumbling a water cracker:

"Divin' is hard work, and sulphur minin' is hard work, but how'd you like to be bait at 4 shillin' a day? That ain't quite a dollar.

"I was human bait for a leech dealer in England all one spring. It was back in the eighties, but I ain't never recovered the healthy color and weight what I lost. I guess I never will now.

"Down Norfolk way I baited—down in the Norfolk broads. Broads is swamps. All them swamps, together with the mild, moist climate, makes Norfolk a great place for leeches. Me and a dozen other chaps was leech bait.

"We would wade in with our breeches rolled up to our knees, and as soon as we'd feel a leech on our legs we'd tear him off and drop him in a basket slung from the shoulder. Quick as thunder we'd do it, but he'd be considerable plumped out even in that little while. And when a dozen leeches settled on you together the last of 'em by the time you got round to him would be as fat and heavy as a lump of lead, whilst you'd be that much lighter natcherly.

"In the late spring the leeches took to deep water. Then the bait had to strip and wade in up to their chins. With all that surface to look after, we played a losin' game with the leeches. The quickest of us couldn't stand more'n four hours of it without most faintin' from weakness. And the pain! For some parts of the human bait is mighty sensitive, I tell you.

"The trade's died out now. There's no more call for leeches, and it's a good thing. Bein' bait is too hard on a man. It's worms' work."

SAFE BOTH WAYS.

The Way Rajah Birbar Saved His Head by Ready Wit.

Rajah Birbar, a boon companion of the Emperor Akbar, the great contemporary of Queen Elizabeth, was a notable wit. The story goes that the emperor once sent Birbar with a message to the king of Persia.

The latter, for some reason or other, bore a grudge toward the rajah and in order to see him lose the emperor's favor thought of a device.

He asked Birbar: "Which of us two is greater in power and majesty—I or Akbar? But, mind you, if your answer is in any way unfavorable to me I will order your head to be struck off."

"Your majesty," replied Birbar without loss of time, "is like the full moon, while the emperor, my master, resembles the crescent."

The king was highly pleased with his reply and let him go.

This news was, however, carried to Akbar, who was wild with rage when he heard it. When Birbar returned to his master's court he was asked to explain himself on pain of death.

"My comparison," said Birbar, "meant only this much and nothing more—that the decline of the Persian king's power had commenced, just as the full moon, after it is full, goes on waning, while your majesty is destined to rise on and one till, like the crescent becoming the full moon in time, it will shine forth with magnificent splendor of glory."

The emperor, who was a great patron of wit and wisdom, heaped the rajah with rewards.

Clerk's Elbow.

"To remove shiny spots from coat elbows and trousers seats," said a clerk—"I'll tell you how it is done."

The sun was strong on him as, upon his lofty stool, he munched his midday sandwich from thin, ink smeared fingers, but on his old clerk's coat and old trousers no shiny spots reflected the light.

"'Clerks' elbow' such spots are called," he said. "It's like housemaids' knee. To cure it you soak the glittering spot in cold water for half an hour. Then you take a teasel—that's a very stiff thistle—and you rub the spot with it till a nap or fuzz is raised up. Then with a clothesbrush you lay the nap down the right way, and, presto, the shine is gone!"

No Sand In Sandpaper.

"There is no sand in sandpaper," said the manufacturer. "It is powdered glass that does the business. That's where the broken bottles go to." He nodded toward a mass of broken bottles in the yard. "We powder the glass into half a dozen grades," he said. "We coat our paper with an even layer of hot glue. Then without loss of time we spread on the glass powder. Finally we run a wooden roller lightly over the sheets to give them a good surface. When in the past they made sandpaper of sand it wouldn't do a quarter of the work that glass paper does."

FILIAL DUTY.

An Example From the Chinese of a Good Little Boy.

In China the "Book of Filial Duty" has been employed to instruct the young for the last 2,500 years. In it are twenty-four examples for good boys. What these examples are like may be understood from the story of Wu Meng, example No. 20. Wu Meng, it seems, was very obedient to his parents. One day at the age of eight he noticed with pain that the mosquitoes annoyed his parents while they were trying to sleep. Presently he hit upon a plan to rescue them.

Says the author of this classic: "The buzzing of the mosquitoes sounds like 'ying ying,' and their united hum is almost equal to thunder. His tired parents are reclining on their bed, their countenances already sunk in slumber. Legions of mosquitoes fiercely attack them, alternately retreating and advancing. The insects disturb the dreaming sleepers, and with annoyance they toss from side to side.

"Wu sees them sucking his parents' blood, which causes his heart to grieve. His flesh, he thinks, can be easily pierced, but that of his parents is hard to penetrate. Lying on the bed, he threw off his clothes, and soon, feeling the pain of their attacks, he cried, 'I have no dread of you, nor have you any reason to fear me!

"'Although I have a fan, I will not use it, nor will I strike you with my hand. I will lie very quiet and let you gorge to the full.'"

Thus did the parents of Wu Meng get a chance to sleep in peace.

Isn't It True?

Eczema, Salt Rheum.

Eczema or Salt Rheum, as it is often called, is one of the most agonizing of skin diseases. It manifests itself in little round blisters, which contain an extremely irritating fluid. These break and subsequently a crust or scale is formed.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night or when the part is exposed to any strong heat, are almost unbearable.

The pre-eminent success which Burdock Blood Bitters has met with in permanently curing a disease of such severity is due to its wonderful blood cleansing and purifying properties.

No other remedy has done, or can do, so much for those who are almost driven to distraction with the terrible torture, as our thousands of signed testimonials can testify to.

Mrs. John O'Connor, Burlington, N.S., writes:—"For years I suffered with Salt Rheum. I tried a dozen different medicines, but most of them only made it worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters. I got a bottle and before I had taken half a dozen doses I could see a change so I continued its use and now I am completely cured. I cannot say too much for your wonderful medicine."

A Garden Of Roses.

By MARTHA COBB SANFORD.

Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.

The "tea garden" had flourished from the moment the idea of it had entered Natalie's pretty blond head. No tourist visiting this sunny southern spot would have thought of leaving it without sipping his favorite brand at least once out of the old fashioned Sheldon china.

There were many who continued to come day after day who were really not tea drinkers at all, only wicked pretenders. It is to be suspected that they found their refreshment in watching Natalie's graceful little figure as she sat behind the tall antique silver service under the rose covered pergola leading into the garden.

Among these pretenders, as any one in Bellair could have told you, were Dwight Ellsworth and the major. Dwight would never forget (and for that matter neither would Natalie) the day he and his father had brought their big dusty machine to a halt under the quaint little sign of the "tea garden."

Natalie herself, all fresh, crushable pinkness from the tip of her aristocratic little ears to the train of her gown had answered the tinkling bell. Could they be served to tea perhaps? The men managed to stammer it simultaneously. Most certainly they could, and would they follow Natalie?

Delightedly, indeed, they would. Indeed, the younger man registered in his heart the vow to follow her always, anywhere, although it was his first sight of her.

So out under the rose bower into the garden they trailed their dusty motor coats in the wake of Natalie's rose rivaling daintiness, and while waiting for the tea to be brewed they reveled in the picturesqueness of the spot.

"I THINK I KNOW WHAT HE SAID TO HER."

Against the gray walls of the quaint little stone house leaned the high stalks of Easter lilies, some already bursting into bloom. Flanking the trim little garden walks were roses in profusion, pink and yellow and red and white. Away off in one corner was a wide patch of dark green violet leaves.

"Think of violets outside of a hothouse!" exclaimed the younger man. "I suppose the privilege of picking them wouldn't come within the limit of any ordinary mortal's finances."

Natalie, approaching just then with a trim colored maid behind her, overheard and laughed delightfully.

"They are free for the picking," she answered, with charming hospitality—"to my guests."

Dwight's gallantry rose instantly to meet her graciousness.

"Could one encroach further," he asked, with polite humility, "and beg the lady of the garden to gather them for the guests herself?"

Natalie, blushing, for she was very young, tripped down the garden walk in a twinkling.

As she knelt in the cool, rich depth of green, her slender white hands deftly gathering the long stemmed violets, the sunlight resting on the gold of her hair, Dwight Ellsworth watched and utterly forgot to drink his tea, even in make believe.

Not so with Major Ellsworth. His attention was riveted on the silver spoon which he held in his hand.

"This must be a very old piece," he said, glancing up at Natalie as she showered upon them violets and roses and jasmine with the simple apology, "You might not happen to come again, you see."

"Do you know what the initials 'N. S.' stand for?" he added.

"Natalie Sheldon," she told him—"my great aunt's name, which is mine."

Major Ellsworth started.

"Natalie Sheldon!" he repeated. "Is your aunt still living, Miss Sheldon?"

"Oh, no!" Natalie answered. "She died very soon after the war."

"Very strange—very interesting," murmured Major Ellsworth absently. Then, speaking directly to Natalie again: "You see I have a spoon exactly like this in my possession. It belonged to my father, the real Major Ellsworth (I am major only by courtesy), and it was given to him by Natalie Sheldon, with whom he fell in love at the time of the war. After the war he lost all knowledge of her. I've often heard him tell"—

"Oh, you must meet mother," interrupted Natalie excitedly. "She knows all about Aunt Natalie's love affair. Oh, isn't this just like a story book?"

To the romantic tale of the days that the mother and the father of these two impressionable young people thereupon pieced together out of their fragmentary knowledge Natalie and Dwight listened with all their sympathetic young souls.

It was the old story of a southern girl falling in love with a young northern officer and of her father's relentless opposition to the match, even to forbidding the girl from ever writing to her lover or of letting him know her whereabouts after the war.

The girl had died of a broken heart. The man married, to be sure, but to his son he bequeathed with loving remembrance the little silver spoon marked "N. S."

On the strength of this mutual bond or sentiment it was natural that the Ellsworths—both father and son—fell into the habit of frequenting the little tea garden.

Not always at the popular social hour, to be sure. In fact, to Natalie's delight, they pointedly avoided that gregarious part of the day, sometimes deferring their visit till the sun had gone down, and, on rarer occasions still, till the moon even had stolen its way into the fragrant garden.

"I've brought you something tonight, Natalie," announced the major on one such occasion, unfolding from its crumpled tissue wrappings a tiny silver spoon. "You see," he added, "it really belongs to you, my dear young girl, and I thought that just now would be an appropriate time to give it over into your keeping—a sort of engagement present, you know."

"An engagement present!" gasped Natalie. "But I'm not engaged."

"Oh, well," laughed the major teasingly, "I may be a little anticipating, but"—

"Natalie!" called Dwight from the garden. "Aren't you ever coming? It's heavenly out here tonight."

"Then, again, I may not," continued the major, looking down on Natalie with affectionate understanding. "What do you think?"

"I'll tell you later," Natalie evaded archly, giving the major a hurried but very emphatic hug as she called out to Dwight to "wait just a minute."

"Was there ever such a night, Natalie!" exclaimed Dwight tenderly as side by side they strolled through the little moonlit garden.

Natalie was conscious of the tremor in his voice, but her mischievous mood was still upon her.

"Yes; I think I know of one," she answered, with a lingering emphasis upon the "one" that smote a hitherto untouched chord of jealousy in Dwight's worshiping heart. He had a rival, then. Natalie had only been playing with him.

"Who is he?" he blurted out abruptly. Natalie stared at him.

"I mean—when was it?" he corrected in confusion.

"Before the war," answered Natalie serenely.

Dwight's expression changed instantly.

"And the girl's name was Natalie," he added softly, falling into the trend of her thought. "And her lover's name was Dwight, and I think I know what he said to her."

No word from Natalie, but they had come to the rose arbor again, and all unconsciously she stopped and leaned against it, waiting for the words that should set her heart thumping.

"And he said," went on Dwight, taking possession of both her slender white hands, "you are the flower of my heart, beloved. Lift your sweet face, for I love you."

And Natalie raised her pretty head, and the lover lowered his till their lips met.

The roses seemed suddenly to exhale great waves of perfume and all the little leaves to tremble with delight.

A Memorable Wreck.

The most memorable wreck in the history of the American surf was that of the bark Mexico, stranded on Hempstead beach, Long Island, early in the morning of Jan. 3, 1837. She carried 104 passengers and a crew of twelve men. Four passengers and four of the crew were saved by a surfboat from the beach under the command of Raynor Rock Smith. All others were frozen to death, though the wreck was so close to the shore that their cries and even some of their words were plainly heard on the beach. It was the story of this wreck, as published throughout the nation, that led to the establishment of the United States life saving service.

The First Electric Lights.

John Hollingshead was the first man to use electric light in London. In 1878 he installed six arc lamps at the old Gaiety theater and startled the Strand. The price of gas shares fell immediately. The cost of the lamps was $200 a week, and he ran them for nine months. An attempt to plant one inside the theater at the foot of the grand staircase was a failure. The women objected to the fierceness of the light. One of them, for instance, "pretended to be very anxious that the secret of her soft complexion should not be discovered." Professor Erasmus Wilson said of electric light at that time, "With regard to the electric light, much has been said for and against it, but I think I may say, without fear of contradiction, that when the Paris exhibition closes the electric light will close with it, and very little more will be heard about it." Mr. Hollingshead, by the way, had fitted up the Gaiety as early as 1869 with an electric searchlight, which flashed the length of the Strand. But he soon withdrew that for fear of scaring the horses.

To Find Your Affinity.

Your affinity is your mate, but unless you know the six types of happy married folks on Olympus, up to date, you may miss yours. Jupiter, king of heaven, ruler of men, house and business, must marry Juno, the queenly woman, plump, domestic, wise as Minerva, yet loving as Venus. Venus should mate with Apollo; but, being fond of all men and usually pretty, a Venus woman marries any one, often several times. Marry and be petted and adored she must or die. Minerva, on the contrary, can be happy only with a Vulcan, a man her counterpart, wise, lofty, patient, a reformer, teacher and philosopher. Both have contempt for frivolity and meanness and vice. Most all of the elderly single women in the world, especially those descendants from Puritan or Calvanistic stock, are single just because they are the Minerva type and too wise to marry any one but Vulcans. And Vulcan men, being the best of their sex, are scarce.—Nautilis.

The Bride's Souffle.

"I have cooked a little surprise for you, dear," said young Mrs. Justwed, "an almond souffle for after dinner. I got the recipe from that new cookery book that came as a wedding present, and the instructions are most clear. Handy, isn't it, a book like that? I'm sure the thing will turn out a success."

Arthur smiled in a dubious sort of way and temporized about the success as he looked at the souffle.

"Can't say I like it," he said after the first mouthful. "Sure you got the instructions right, darling? It tastes very funny."

"Oh, yes!" responded Eleanor, with tears in her eyes. "I can say them by heart from the book. Just hear me." And she reached down the volume.

"Take half a pound of grated almonds"—

"Quite right," interrupted Arthur, following with his finger.

—"one pound of caster sugar; mix well with white of three fresh eggs"—

"Correct," said her spouse as she continued breathlessly.

—"add a pinch of white pepper"—

"Pepper! Great goodness!" said the unhappy man as he turned over the leaf.

—"two large carrots chopped into dice, a spoonful of mustard, four chopped onions and"—

"Stop! Stop! You must be wrong, I'm sure. Why, my dear, I thought so. You are muddling up almond souffle with Irish stew. You've forgotten to cut the leaves of this blessed cookery book."

No Object.

"Do you smoke cigarettes?"

"No."

"Why?"

"The doctor said it wouldn't injure my health."

A Popular Dye.

A small boy was one day sent for a pennyworth of indigo dye. He stopped to play marbles on the way and quite forgot what he was sent for. As he was determined to get it, he went into the chemist's shop and said to the assistant:

"What have people been dyeing with lately, please?"

"Influenza," was the answer.

"Ah! That must be it," said the boy. "Please give me a penn'orth"—London Illustrated Bits.

Saves Trouble.

"Why don't you come in occasionally between drinks," demanded the wife, "and see the play?"

"I don't need to," replied the bibulous husband. "The bartender is familiar with the plot, imitates the actors and also knows a lot of gossip about their personal and family affairs."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Enlightened.

"We all make blunders. I thought once I was a square peg when I was really a round one."

"How did you find out your mistake?"

"I got into a hole."—Boston Transcript.

The Drummer.

"I sometimes think," remarked the regular patron, "that the snare drummer should be the best musician in the theater orchestra."

"He usually is," said the drummer.—

Record Taxi Trips.

London, May 5.—A taxicab ride of more than 1,000 miles, the longest one on record, has been made by Chas. Klein, a New York playwright.

Calling a taxicab off the cabstand in the Strand, Mr. Klein ordered the much astonished chauffeur to head for Edinburgh.

From Edinburgh he proceeded to Glasgow, from which port a steamer was taken for Londonderry.

After an extensive tour through Ireland, Mr. Klein dismissed the taxicab man at the Queen's Hotel, Queenstown. The trip took five days. Mr. Klein is now on the way to New York on the Cedric.

An Actual Air Line.

Stuttgart, May 5.—At a meeting held here yesterday of the Wurtemburg Aerial Navy League a representative of Count Zeppelin declared that the company formed in connection with the Zeppelin Airship Construction Co. had undertaken to establish a regular line of airships from Lucerne or Friedrichshafen to North Germany, via Frankfort-on-the-Main. The actual route to be adopted will depend on the offers of landing-places made by cities on the line. It is hoped to open the line for traffic next year.

Double Execution In New Brunswick.

St. John, N.B., May 5.—At 6 o'clock yesterday morning Tony Arosha and Leon Sepeppil were led to the gallows to expiate their crime in murdering Edward Green on Dec. 20 last.

They walked bravely to their doom, although they were very pale. The black caps were placed, Arosha said "Good-bye boys," in English, to those around, and Sepeppil spoke in Italian. Radcliffe officiated.

Killed Two Cows.

Woodstock, May 5.—Acknowledging his guilt in connection with the death of two cows on the farm of Donald Murray of East Zorra, where he worked, Ernest Ault, a young Englishman, was sent back to jail on remand for a week. Ault shoved sharp sticks into the animals. Asked why, he said he didn't know. He is well connected in England, and has only been out here a short time.

English Journal In Pekin.

Pekin, May 5.—The issue yesterday of The Pekin Daily News, in English, signalizes Li Sum Ling's formal entry into the national journalistic field. As editor and manager of this paper Mr. Li will occupy a unique place in Chinese journalism and will be enabled to exert the greatest influence on the native press throughout the empire.

Non-Suited.

Chatham, May 5.—At the spring Assizes, before Justice Teetzel, the case of Frank Leitch v. the Pere Marquette Railway, was non-suited. Leitch was an employe of the company, and last August he met with an accident at St. Thomas, whereby his feet were crushed.

Poison In Sandwiches.

Kingston, May 5.—Citizens are aroused over the action of an unknown who has distributed sandwiches with paris green around streets to kill cats and dogs.

There is enough paris green in a sandwich to kill three children.

Murdered By "Person Unknown" Was Jury Verdict Last Night

Jury in Kinrade Case Brings in an Open Verdict.

GIRL INNOCENT SAYS BAUM

Young Virginian Makes Solemn Declaration of His Confidence in Miss Kinrade, and Says Person She Feared Is Guilty of the Crime—Probe Will Not End With Verdict Say the Authorities.

Hamilton, May 5.—The verdict was brought in at 11.50 last night by the coroner's jury after deliberation of almost exactly one and a half hours, thus ending an inquest which was without parallel with respect to duration and the herculean efforts put forth by the crown to elucidate the mystery of the tragic end of Ethel Kinrade in her home at 105 Herkimer street, Feb. 25, last. The finding is:

"We the jury assembled to enquire into the death of Ethel Kinrade, hereby find the deceased met her death by shot wounds inflicted by some person or persons unknown to the jury.

"Owing to the fact of the unreliability of some of the evidence produced, the crown is specially requested to continue this investigation.

"And we also desire to express our hearty appreciation of the able, courteous and kindly manner in which this investigation has been conducted by Coroner Anderson and counsel for the crown."

There was little of the dramatic in the rendering of the verdict. The court room was bare of the curious crowd which has packed it to suffocation during the long sessions of the proceedings.

Only the newspapermen, Coroner Anderson and jury were present when B. B. Spera, the foreman laid the document on the coroner's desk. He read it deliberately, pausing upon almost every word in the midst of a dead silence.

The open verdict was quite expected, and the significant comment and suggestion therein contained all that the crown had looked for, so it is learned. The absence of direct tangible evidence it has been felt all along would not justify any other kind of verdict, but the investigation will go on.

"Jimmie" Baum testified regarding Miss Kinrade's behavior in the south and said it was all that could be desired. On many occasions he said she seemed to be in terror of someone.

The dramatic moment of the whole enquiry was when counsel dismissed him and he asked permission to say a word. In a voice vibrating with emotion he made his statement.

"'Taint this little girl," he concluded, after warning coroner and jury that they were wrong if they thought Miss Kinrade committed the crime. If they caught the party who chased her from Portsmouth they would have the person who killed her sister.

It is stated that what Baum had in mind as a theory of the crime was that the mysterious Miss Elliott had come to Hamilton to persuade Florence to return to the south, and that Ethel found her in the house when she returned and was shot then by the strange woman.

Pinkerton Detective Pender declared that Miss Kinrade's conduct at Virginia Beach had apparently been irreproachable.

Thousands Are Dead And Atrocities Are Unabated

Turkish Soldiers Continue Massacres at Adana.

GIRLS TRADED FOR GUNS

Armenian Women Are Sold by the Soldiers After Fathers, Husbands and Brothers Are Shot—Dead Will Number 30,000 and Homeless 35,000—May Exterminate the Christians In Asiatic Turkey.

Adana, Asiatic Turkey, May 3, via Larnaca, Cypress, May 5.—Adana is still lawless. More people were killed in the city Monday. There are 30,000 dead in Adana province as a result of the massacres and 35,000 homeless and penniless refugees are wandering in the vilayet.

The deaths in Adana city alone are estimated at 6,500. Adana is terrorized by 4,000 soldiers, who are looting, shooting and burning. No respect is paid to foreign property. Both the French schools have been destroyed, and it is feared that the American schools, commercial and missionary, in Adana are totally ruined.

The new vali has not as yet inspired confidence. There is reason to believe that the authorities still intend to permit the extermination of all Christians. The troops here are making a pretence of throwing "water" on the flames; instead of water they use kerosene, and are thus purposely adding to the conflagration. Apprehension is felt here regarding the American missionary stations at Hadjin and Tarsus. All letters and telegrams sent out through Turkish channels are censored.

Tales of Cruelties.

Tarsus, Asiatic Turkey, April 24, via Constantinople, May 5.—Authentic details of the atrocities committed by the fanatical Mohammedans in the villages and farms in this district are now coming into Tarsus with sickening abundance. At least 10,000 persons lost their lives in this province, some estimates placing the total at 25,000. In one town of 4,000 people, there are less than 100 left, nearly all women and children. Entire families were burned to death in their homes. Hundreds of girls and women were seized and carried off to the harems.

At one place a party of 100 Armenians surrendered to the soldiers. The prisoners were taken to an open field, where the women were ordered to stand apart from the men. Every one of the men was then shot. In many cases they were done to death with their women clinging to them, trying to save their lives.

Turkish young men around Tarsus to-day are trading Armenian girls among each other for horses and modern repeating rifles.

There have been numerous instances of the murdering of women and children with deliberation and there are other instances where women were brought out one by one and shot down, the bystanders clapping their hands at each fresh execution.

Pastors Oppose Hats.

Guelph, May 5.—The Guelph Ministerial Association have passed a resolution in part as follows:

"That whereas we consider that the custom of women appearing in church with heads covered as of heathen origin, and whereas in certain public assemblies women appear without headgear, thus respecting the pleasure and profit of others, we, the ministers of Guelph, do respectfully and seriously request the women of our congregations with the usual magnanimity which characterizes them, to either remove their hats in church or wear ones of more modest dimensions.

Presbyterian W.F.M.S. In Strand.

Ottawa, May 5.—The third annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, western division, opened auspiciously yesterday afternoon.

An address on mission work among the Jews are given by Miss Marion Smith of Toronto. There were over 15,000 in Toronto all living in one section and all adhering to their original social and spiritual customs. The presidential address was read by Mrs. Shortreed of Toronto.

Four Arrests for Smuggling.

New York, May 5.—Four arrests were made yesterday by United States Marshal Henkel on charges arising out of the seizure of smuggled trunks at this port about a year ago. Those arrested are George C. White, dealer in dressmakers' supplies; Lorne B. Walker, a former employe of the customs' department; W. H. Kilgamon, a former salesman, and his wife. The Government is said to have been cheated out of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Wreck In Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—Great Northern passenger train No. 3, westbound, ran into a light engine at Delano, Minn., Monday night. Two day coaches were burned and about 20 passengers hurt.

Cold In Germany.

Cologne, May 5.—The cold weather that has prevailed for the past few days in the Rhine and Moselle Valleys has done enormous damage to the vineyards and orchards.

Barillier Set Free.

St. Catharines, May 5.—Charles E. Barillier yesterday afternoon appeared before Magistrate Campbell to answer to a charge of aggravated assault on his wife. He pleaded guilty. His wife was not present, but it was explained that she desired that no punishment be inflicted, if possible. Barillier had handed over $2,250 cash to his wife and had signed an agreement to give her about half of the expensive furniture in the home on Vine street and the couple mutually agreed to separate. Barillier further agreed to pay all the bills incurred by his act. The magistrate gave the prisoner a severe lecture on the evils of drink and a bad temper, and suspended sentence.

Graham Sues Forget.

Montreal, May 5.—The suit taken by Sir Hugh Graham, proprietor of The Star, against Rodolphe Forget, M.P. for Charlevoix, is causing a good deal of comment in political circles as the relations of the two gentlemen were extremely intimate during the campaign of 1904. The now defunct newspaper, The Journal, was printed the first few months in The Star office, and from this comes an action for $1,700. Sir Hugh claims that Mr Forget promised him responsibility, which the defendant absolutely denies.

Mother Breaks Down.

Flushing, L.I., May 5.—Mrs. Hains, the aged mother of Capt. Peter Hains, on trial for the shooting of W. E. Annis, yesterday broke down and wept as though her heart would break while testifying as to her son's peculiar actions.

Commission to Determine Sanity.

Edmonton, Alta., May 5.—At the Assizes yesterday the case of Gary Barrett, a convict charged with the murder of Deputy Warden Stedman, was adjourned till May 17.

The judge granted a commission of two physicians to enquire into the prisoner's sanity.

ATTACKED WITH AXE.

River Driver Arrested at North Bay For Assault.

North Bay, May 5.—Provincial Constable Connor arrested a man named William Dagg at Cache Bay Monday and lodged him in jail at Sturgeon Falls as a result of a murderous assault which took place last week on the Sturgeon river, about 20 miles north of Sturgeon Falls. Dagg was employed as a river driver on J. R. Booth's log drive, and in the same crew was Abe Welsh, his brother-in-law, with whom it is alleged he was on bad terms, on account of family differences arising out of a legacy. Dagg filled up with liquor one night at the hotel at Field Settlement, on the Sturgeon river, and the next morning attacked Welsh with an axe, cutting his head open. A fierce fight ensued, Welsh defending himself with a stick and disarming his assailant.

A short time afterwards, when the men were standing about the fire, Dagg suddenly sprang upon his brother-in-law and knifed him just above the heart. He was again disarmed and taken with the wounded man to Cache Bay.

Welsh is recovering.

Dagg admits his guilt and blames the liquor. The giving of a liquor license at a place like Field, in the heart of extensive lumber operations, has long been a source of regret.

FIGHT OVER A SHOP.

Rival Firms' Employes In Struggle For Possession.

Montreal, May 5.—Carsley's and Scroggie's departmental stores engaged in a pitched battle yesterday morning for the possession of the Scroggle store. The police were called in, and men were thrown through the glass doors into the streets in the excitement.

A couple of years ago Carsley bought the store occupied by Scroggle. Scroggle made no arrangements to leave, claiming that Carsley senior, before his death, had given his consent to staying another year, but he has no paper to that effect.

The Scroggie firm were notified on Monday that they could not sell goods yesterday. Carsley had men in the store all night measuring for counters, and when Scroggle and his men came at 8.30 they were let in, but told that they could not sell goods, that all they could do was to take their goods out. Only one door was open. They took a crow bar and opened the front door by force. Then they threw the men from Carsley's out by force, and, in doing so, threw Lalumiere, special constable, through the window of the front door.

Scroggie has had a writ issued asking Carsley to appear in the Criminal Court on a charge of house-breaking.

Prizes for Essays.

Ottawa, May 5.—The executive council of the Strathcona Trust for the Encouragement of Physical and Military Training in Public Schools has decided to offer prizes for the best papers upon the following subject: "The best method of introducing and developing a general system of physical and military training in public schools throughout the Dominion, upon the principle enunciated in the rules governing the administration of the Strathcona Trust." Six prizes of $250, $150, $100, $75, $50 and $25 respectively will be awarded. Competitors are limited to Canadian school teachers and pupils in Normal Schools. Essays may be written in either English or French and must reach the Department of Militia not later than August 1st next.

Chester Jordan Guilty.

Cambridge, Mass., May 5.—Chester S. Jordan was found guilty in the first degree, on a charge of murdering his wife, by a jury in the Middlesex County Superior Court yesterday, after being out 19 hours.

The woman's dismembered body was found in a trunk which Jordan had taken to a Boston lodging-house. The defence was "epileptic insanity."

Millionaire Single Taxer.

Cincinnati, May 5.—Headquarters of the Joseph Fels fund of America has been opened in this city, with Daniel Keifer in charge. The fund has been established by Joseph Fels, the millionaire manufacturer of Philadelphia and England, for propagation of single tax doctrine.

ANAEMIA

PETERBORO' SCHOOLS MAY BE EQUIPPED WITH PENNY BANK SYSTEM OF TEACHING THRIFT

Messrs. McMurchy and Mulholland Minutely Discuss Advantages of the System With Board of Education and Teachers—The Success Already Attained—Examples of the Good That Has Already Been Done.

REVIEW OF STATEMENTS.

The Penny Banks in schools teach thrift to the young.

As the twig is bent, so will it grow.

Through the practice, children learn the value of independence.

The system is simplicity itself.

"If the school does not teach habits that will make homes happy, the object of education is lost."—Mr. Dumble.

"I am pleased with the simplicity of the scheme."—Rev. Father McColl.

The advantages of the Schools' Savings Banks system were clearly and concisely presented to the members of the Board of Education, the principles of the Public and Separate schools of the City, and a large number of teachers assembled last night in the Collegiate Institute Assembly Hall.

Mr. R. A. Mulholland of Port Hope, and Mr. Angus McMurchy, K.C., solicitor for the C.P.R., Toronto, were the gentlemen who explained the system, giving its history, elucidating on the manner in which it is carried out, emphasizing many benefits which the children derive and pointing out its splendid success since it was incepted two decades ago.

Mr. L. M. Hayes, K.C., was chairman. The Board of Education after completing their business in the Board room adjourned to the Collegiate, where the assembly could be larger as desired. Mr. McMurchy was the first speaker. After congratulating the Board upon the splendid schools with which they had provided the City, he stated that thrift was the foundation of the prosperity of a great nation. It was no new idea. It was the small savings of the French peasants which enabled France to pay the indemnity to Germany after the Alsace war and France was not compelled to go outside her own borders for this immense sum.

No Fee to Gain

Mr. McMurchy stated that it was not from any sordid view or for a fee or a reward that he was interested in the Penny Banks in the schools. There was nothing mercenary in their visit, but that by introducing this system of saving into Peterborough, the children would form the habit of thrift. As the twig is bent so will it grow. We have not carried into execution the lessons of the thrift which characterised our forefathers. To-day the coppers and nickels of the youth are spent on useless and probably harmless enjoyments if they may be so termed.

A Peterborough man was responsible for the Penny Bank savings in schools. In 1877, Rev. D. J. McDonald, formerly of this city, instituted it in a small school in Toronto. During the first year, $530.00 was saved and in 1905, when it was taken over by the present system, $18,000.00 was the credit amount.

Another Peterborough Man

In 1882, Charles E. Clark left Peterborough for Toronto. Some years later he introduced the idea into three public schools in that city. The system was therefore inspired by Peterborough men, and to them Toronto owes it, also the other cities and towns that have adopted it.

After Mr. Fielding, Finance Minister, had given it a year's consideration, and after careful consideration was given it as it was being carried out in England, an Act was passed in 1903 by which the Penny Bank of Toronto was incorporated and the conditions were laid down by law. All the money is deposited with the Government, which allows an interest of 3½ per cent. on the daily balances. Three per cent. is paid out and the small margin of ½ per cent. is left to maintain the system and meet the expenses. The system is found in all Toronto Public Schools, in many philanthropic institutions and wherever thrift is encouraged Ottawa, Guelph, Galt, Port Hope and other towns have it in their public schools and the best of results are being experienced.

Points in Its Favour

Anything that teaches the child self-denial is a lesson for good. It creates a feeling of independence. One boy in a Toronto school saved $200.00. Mr. McMurchy explained that he did not have to draw any amounts from his deposit. The most of the money comes from the homes of artisans, labourers and the poorer class of people. During the depression of 1907, $20,000.00 was taken out of the fund. This was the time the collections were started to aid the people of Saskatchewan. The children's money was used in their homes and in many cases alleviated dire want.

The objection had been raised that it encouraged the child to be miserly. It is only the thrifty people who can afford to be generous. They have the means to lend. Generosity cannot come from those who have not the wherewithal to be generous. Furthermore no one who is not really gener-

WATER HIGH IN THE LAKE

Gasoline Launch Washed Out of Boathouse at Mount Julian and Sail Boat Goes Adrift—The Wharves are Under Water and Islands Flooded.

HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR.

Mr. R. W. Grubbe who went up to his cottage at Eel's Creek, Stony Lake, on Saturday, states that the water at Stony Lake is higher this year than he has known for some time past and that considerable damage has been done by the unusual flooding of the islands. At Mount Julian a large gasoline launch, the owner of which is at present unknown, was washed out of a boathouse and was carried out into the lake. It was noticed by some of the residents and rescued, but had a large hole stove in the side and sank near shore. At "Rocklands" the summer home of Mr. Roxborough, of Norwood, a large sailing yach which had been turned up on shore for the winter, was carried off and was drifting up the lake, when it wts seen by some people of the Dummer side of the Lake, who succeeded in bringing it back to "Rocklands."

The water is flowing over the big wharf at Mount Julian and when the boat called there on Saturday high rubber boots were necessary to prevent wet feet.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

Company Held Payment for an Alleged Old Account and Goods Were Not Delivered.

The case of D. McNair, who appeared before Magistrate Edmison, is somewhat out of the ordinary. He was charged with having secured an order from the trustees of S. S. No. 11, Smith, for school furniture, amounting to $23.00. It was stated that he was given an order, which he cashed, but the furniture was never received. In the evidence yesterday it was shown that McNair remitted the money for the supplies, but it was held for another account, which he is alleged to have owed. He stated that he did not know them. The goods were ordered last year, but as they were not delivered, the trustees became anxious. Magistrate Edmison reserved judgment until Monday.

THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

The First Church of Christ Scientist held their annual business meeting last night, and elected their officers for the ensuing year. The auditor's report showed the most prosperous year since the organization.

In January last, Mr. and Mrs. Todd tendered their resignations, but owing to the unanimous request of the members, they decided to continue as readers for an indefinite period.

Signed on behalf of the Church,
A. E. BIRCHARD,
President.

SCHOOL'S TROUBLE

The King Edward School Draining System is Giving Trouble—Condition Reported on at Board Meeting Last Evening.

TO CONFER WITH COUNCIL

The condition of the drainage and sewage of the King Edward School is not apparently any too good, according to the report presented by Mr. W. F. Nelson, at the meeting of the Board of Education last night. He states that on a recent visit, water to the depth of an inch or more was found in the basement, owing to the defective sewer. The inspector and the janitor complain of odours arising from the basement which necessitates the opening of the windows.

Mr. Dumble called particular attention to this report. It was a question that required prompt attention. Mr. Dumble gave an explanation of the conditions as far as he was acquainted with them. Moved by Mr. Dumble, seconded by Dr. Morrison, that the Property Committee confer with the City Council in reference to the proper draining of the King Edward School.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

Semi-Annual Meeting of the Belmont Club Held Last Evening.

The semi-annual meeting of the Belmont Club was held last evening in the club rooms, George St., when all the members were present. In addition to the business of the evening, which included the election of officers and reading of reports, a very enjoyable time was spent. A sumptuous supper was partaken of and a number of the members contributed musical selections which were much appreciated.

The membership has reached its limit now and the club, since its organization, six months ago, has taken a prominent part in both social and athletic circles. The election of officers, in the future, will take place only annually instead of semi-annually.

The officers elected were:
Hon. Pres.—Dr. McPherson.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—Mr. J. T. C. Lang.
President—Mr. O. Milburn.
Vice President—Mr. Joe Pollard.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Mr. N. Greenhalgh.
Secretary—Mr. W. T. Belleghem.
Treasurer.—Mr. W. E. Thornton.
Executive—Messrs. G. Miller, W. E. Martin, R. McKee, W. G. Wareham and R. Hall.

FOUR BOYS IN COURT.

Charged With Being Disorderly, But Case Was Not Proven.

On a charge of creating a disturbance at the corner of Smith and George streets, on Sunday evening last, four boys appeared before the Magistrate, at the police court this morning. They pleaded not guilty and there being not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction, the youths were dismissed. Two witnesses were heard who said that there was a gang of fellows who gathered around the above mentioned corner and created a disturbance. They couldn't say who they were and did not remember of ever seeing the accused on the corner.

MARATHON RACE AT ROLLER RINK

There will be a Marathon race on roller skates at the Auditorium Roller Rink next Tuesday night that promises to be a sensational contest throughout. A number of the best skaters of the city have been in training for weeks for this event and they will be in good shape when they start on their long trip on the rollers. The boys will go the full Marathon distance, 26 miles 385 yards.

"PRINCESS CHRYSANTHEMUM"

Don't fail to hear this beautiful operetta, to be given in Conservatory Music Hall, to-night, (Wednesday), and to-morrow, (Thursday), under the auspices of All Saints' Young Men's Guild. Prices 25 cents, children 15 cents. The play will be handsomely staged, the costumes brilliant and effective and the principals have made most thorough rehearsal in their several parts. It will be very interesting, not only because of the intrinsic merit of the play, but because it will encourage the performers and aid a worthy object, there should be a large attendance.

FORCE OF HABIT WELL ILLUSTRATED

The important part that habit plays in the life of everyone is charmingly illustrated by the experience of a well-known Peterborough lady. In her household, as in most other homes just now, house cleaning is the order of the day, and it happened that the lady's boudoir was in the course of a domestic cyclone that had caused the furniture to be shifted out of its usual place. In spite of this, while the lady was dressing her hair the other day, she took up her position in front of where the dresser mirror had usually been and went through the manoeuvres that are associated with this important feature of a lady's toilet, without noticing that there was no mirror there. The blank well answered her purpose equally as well as the glass would have done, but she thought all through the operation that she was making use of the mirror.

JUDGMENT QUASHED

Court of Appeal Gives Decision in the London Bribery Case.

Examiner Special (2:45 p.m.)

Toronto, Ont., May 5.—The judgment given by Judge Winchester in November, 1907, finding John O'Gorman, W. J. Mulloy, Dan Wiley, and Geo. M. Reid guilty of bribery in the London election case, was quashed to-day in the Court of Appeal, on the ground that the Court had no jurisdiction and that Colonel Denison, in committing them was without his powers.

"JOE" MARTIN BEATEN

Lost in Bye-Election in England—Other Results of the Polls.

Examiner Special (2:45 p.m.)

Toronto, Ont., May 5.— Joseph Martin, ex-Premier of British Columbia, was defeated by 2,627 votes in the Stratford-on-Avon bye-elections. Foster, Unionist, 5,374; Martin, Liberal, 2,747; Kincaid Smith, Ind., 478.

COLLEGIATE SPORTS.

Board of Education Grants $25 for Baseball Grounds.

The boys of the Collegiate Institute haye been provided for in the matter of grounds for athletic games and exercises. Dr. Burnham read the report of the Supervision Committee last night, in which it was stated that $25.00 had been granted for the purpose of securing the necessary location. The boys will have Riverside Park, on which to play their inter-form baseball games, and to meet outsiders in any games that may be arranged.

WEDDING BELLS

LOGAN—HAMILTON.

A quiet wedding was celebrated this afternoon at the residence of Mr. W. C. Taylor, 176 London street, when Miss Margaret Stella Hamilton, daughter of the late William Hamilton was united in marriage to Mr. John H. Logan, son of Mr. John Logan, Sherbrooke street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Talling, and was witnessed by a number of the immediate friends of both parties, the bride and groom being unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan will reside at 527 Concession street. The bride received a large number of handsome presents from friends who extend to them all the congratulations due to the occasion and the best wishes for a happy future.

RYAN—BURDICK

The wedding was quietly solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral this morning at 7 o'clock of Mrs. Catharine Burdick, of Peterborough, to Mr. Peter Ryan, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McColl, in the presence of a few intimate friends. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss McManus, while the best man was Mr. Edward English. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan will reside in Toronto.

JOHNSTON—HEAD.

The marriage of Miss Madeline Head of Otonabee, to Mr Wm J. Johnston, of Cavan Township, was quietly solemnized yesterday afternoon at the George Street Methodist parsonage, by the pastor, Rev. E. A. Pearson. The young couple were unattended. They will reside in Cavan.

McFARLAND—GILLIS.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the George street Methodist parsonage, when Miss Lennie May Gillis was united in marriage to Mr. Rudolph McFarland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. A. Pearson and the couple were unattended.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland will reside here.

CASE WAS SENT BACK

The Douro Election Protest Appeal Heard by Justice Meredith at Osgoode—Ed. Fitzgerald's Evidence Must Be Received.

NO COSTS TO EITHER PARTY

The appeal of Mr. D. Maloney against Judge Weller's decision in the Douro election protest case was all but dismissed at Osgoode Hall yesterday, when it was brought before Chief Justice Meredith. One point remains to be settled.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams contended for the plaintiff that the evidence of Edward Fitzgerald should have been taken. Judge Weller had refused and Justice Meredith sent the case back to Judge Weller to take the evidence of Mr. Fitzgerald.

Mr. E. A. Peck represented Reeve Moher.

GIVE THE HOTEL MEN A CHANCE

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—What I think is a very unfair thing is to ask the hotel keepers not too sell drink to a certain person without giving a description of that particular person to the different hotel men. How are these different hotel proprietors and bartenders to know every man that goes into their hotel and ask for a drink? and if they sell to a black-listed man they are fined when these different hotel men may be quite innocent of any wrong-doing. What I think would be right and fair is for all black-listed men to wear a badge or else supply each hotel keeper with a photograph of the black-listed men to hang up in their bars.

Hoping that this matter will be acted upon at once by the proper authorities and thanking you for the use of your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,
JUSTICE.

HALL'S BRIDGE NOTES.

Examiner Special.

Halls Bridge, May 5.—Mr. Harry Haines has moved into Mrs. Montgomery's house at the sand pit.

Mr. Greene has moved into his new house.

Mrs. (Rev.) Manghan is visiting friends in Peterborough.

Mrs. Jamieson, of Peterborough, is visiting friends here.

The cheese factory here opens on Monday, May 31st.

Talking machine concerts are in vogue again.

Our new constable had a trip north on the 30th. and to town on May 1st. Dame Rumour says "Be good." We have two constables now.

Mr. W. Blewett has a new canoe, the first turned out by the Buckhorn Boat Company.

Mr. Nicholls' boat has made quite a few trips lately to the (city) here.

The Sunday school here had a reorganization on April 30th. With the new helpers it gives promise of being better than for a long time.

The stork left a little girl at the home of Mr. Harry Haines. Both mother and child are doing well.

TENDERS FOR BOOTHS AND DINING ROOM.

Tenders will be received up to six o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, 12th of May, 1909, for refreshment booths for the season on the steamers Otonabee, Monarch, Water Lily and Manita, and for the dining room on the steamer Otonabee. This will be a favourable opportunity for a good, hustling caterer, who will have the full privileges as above on the Company's boats for the season, and will also be required to board the crews of the boats. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. For full particulars apply at the offices of the Company, Times Building, Hunter St. W. H. Robertson, President. 3d-105

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

Mr. Geo. H. Bowen, of Toronto, is a guest at the Oriental.

Mrs. W. J. Green, 375 Brock street, will not receive again this season.

Rev. Dr Langfeldt has returned from Toronto where he was attending a meeting of the executive of the Synod.

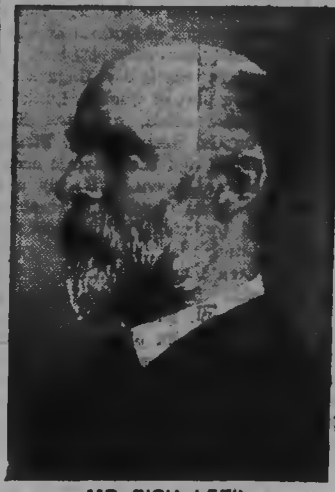
SIXTY FOOT STEAMER WILL BE PLACED IN TRENT WATERWAY TO MAINTAIN LEGAL FISHING

The "Maya," Formerly of the Bay of Quinte, Will be Brought Here in a Short Time—To Have Headquarters at Peterborough.

TO PATROL TRENT WATERS.

Within the next week or ten days the Provincial Government will put the steamer "Maya" in the Trent waters to protect the fish by preventing illegal methods in fishing.

Capt. Hunter, of Belleville, was in the city to-day in connection with the matter and from the information gained, the "Maya" will make a fine addition to the Trent fleet. It will patrol the whole Trent waterway from Healey's Falls to Lake Simcoe. It is a sixty footer, trim and fast and has been doing duty on the Bay of Quinte. It will be placed on flat cars at one of the lake shore towns and brought to Peterborough. It is learned that this city will be its headquarters. Nothing has been learned about the officials who will have charge of it. Captain Hunter left on the afternoon train for Belleville.



MR. RICH. LEES,
An active worker in the Sunday School Association, which concluded a successful convention last night.

ON CHARGE OF PERJURY

A Well Known Resident Arrested This Morning—Said to Have Sworn Falsely in Case Last Week.

WILL APPEAR TO-MORROW.

A well known resident of this city appeared before Magistrate Dumble at the police court this morning on a serious charge, that of having committed perjury while giving evidence in a case against him for being drunk after having been placed on the black-list. He stated most emphatically that he was not drunk while two policemen swore that he was.

This morning he did not plead nor elect and was remanded for trial until to-morrow morning.

Don't miss the C. G. B. Benefit Society concert at the "Grand" to-night. Moving Pictures, Vaudeville and Local Talent. Prices 10c and 15c. Some good seats left yet. Doors open at 7:30; performance 8:15. 105

DOWNEYVILLE FAMILY HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Examiner Special.

Downeyville, May 5.—A very pretty wedding took place at Downeyville on Tuesday, April 27, when Miss Agnes Murtha, daugther of Thomas Murtha, and Patrick Joseph, son of Patrick Collins, both of King's Wharf, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Father McGuire, performed the ceremony and the wedding march was played by the organist, Miss Mollie Brien. The bride wore a very pretty dress of pale blue voile with yoke and trimmings of white lace, and hat of white and pale blue. She was assisted by Miss Katie Perdue, who wore a white dress and hat of white, with pale blue trimming. Mr Joseph Flynn, nephew of the groom was best man. After the ceremony the young couple drove to the bride's home. They will reside on the Collins homestead King's Wharf. We wish them every happiness and a long life.

A very sad accident occurred here early Saturday morning before three o'clock, when a fire broke out in the home of Mr. William Fitzpatrick, east of Downeyville. The fire was caused by a lamp exploding in an incubator which was in the woodshed.

The occupants of the house, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, four children, and Miss K. Leahy, of Douro, were sleeping soundly when aroused by the loud crackling of the fire. It was with great difficulty they escaped with their lives and got the children out as it all fell in in five minutes.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's face was burned and it is feared he swallowed some of the flame, but he is recovering from the great shock and injuries.

The neighbourhood throughout are in sympathy with the family as no insurance was carried, and house, kitchen and woodshed, all were burned together with one hundred dollars cash which was in the house.

THE RACE PICTURES

Scenes of New York Marathon Derby at Royal Theatre Well Worth Seeing.

With the deep interest that is being taken in long-distance running just now Peterborough peopjle cannot afford to miss the motion pictures of the big $10,000 Derby in New York three weeks ago, which are being shown to-day and to-morrow at the Royal theatre. No more excellent sporting pictures have ever been seen in this city, and a visit to the Royal while the race scenes are on will be amply rewarded. The pictures clearly illustrate the most remarkable features of the sensational race. They show the spectacular duel between Henri St. Yves, the ultimate winner, and Alfie Shrubb, the grand little Englishman. They show the downfall of Tom Longoat, the Canadian running hero; they show the gallant run of the little Capri pastry cook, and Hayes, the American pluggers, being lapped time after time, and still hanging on, to finally landing the money.

The enormous crowd, the officials, the start, and many other features of what has been the most remarkable Marathon yet held, are pointed out in clear, steady pictures, which are worth going a long way to see. Over 10,000 feet of film were taken by the Vitagraph Company and of this quantity, over 10,000 feet of the best views were saved and the rest discarded, leaving a remarkable collection of race scenes. The pictures will be shown only to-day and to-morrow.

CANADA NOT WORRYING.

The United States senate is considering the Aldrich tariff bill, which provides that any country which imposes export duty, or its equivalent, upon its products shall, in respect of such products automatically come under the highest scale of duty authorized by the United States tariff. This is no doubt aimed at our pine and pulp, under the regulations of Ontario and Quebec, which provides that no pine timber or pulp wood shall be exported in an unmanufactured conditioh. Thus the Dominion Government and the people they represent are to be punished for the acts of the provinces over which it has no constitutional control. The United States are hankering after our timber and pulp wood, and are far more deeply concerned in buying them than we are in selling them. Such a law as that proposed will do far more injury to United States interests than it will to Canadians. We shall, at the worst, have to seek another market. No other market is quite as convenient as the United States, but if the latter will not buy our goods on our own terms and on conditions under which we think it our right and interest to offer them, then there will be no business doing. If the United States can stand such a trade embargo, then Canada can and will stand it. We have to choose between a destructive sacrifice of our resources or a restricted or possibly quite absent trade. When the United States abrogated the repciprocity treaty with this country, it conferred upon us a blessing in disguise. Their action compelled us to seek new markets; and more than that; it threw us upon our own resources and developed a feeling of independence which has not yet quite deserted us. If the United States want our pine, our pulp, or our wheat, they must allow us to decide the conditions upon which they shall have them.

Canada can well take the advice tendered to a man who spent a sleepless night over a maturing bill—"let the other fellow do the worrying."

THE KINRADE INQUEST

The Kinrade inquest has reached a fruitless ending; it has contributed nothing providing a solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Ethel Kinrade, who was found dead in her home in Hamilton last February with nine bullet wounds in her body. It looks to the lay mind as if the authorities had been travelling in a circle, as lost men do, around the central assumption of the idea that Florence Kinrade was the murderess of her sister, or had guilty knowledge of the perpetrator, and had thus restricted the scope of investigation and in a way to prevent pursuing it in a wider field. The only effect has been to harry the family fruitlessly and to add to the agony of its original affliction. The inquisitorial proceedings may have been justifiable to the legal mind, but to the lay mind they seem to have been frivolous—chiefly a contribution to the gossip element of a pink tea party. Every effort was apparently made to discredit and blacken the character of the witness, Florence Kinrade. Every effort was apparently made to trap her into contradictory statements. She was taken over a path of frivolous incidents and because she could not recall every trifling detail, the newspapers sneeringly referred to her conveniently defective memory. Because she could not be certain of what side of a street she walked on on a given date; because she could not remember what kind of stockings she wore on last Dominion day; because she wrote foolish letters, indulged in foolish flirtations, as eight out of ten girls have done and are doing every day; because of any and all such things, she was a light vain, weak and untruthful girl, and therefore she murdered her sister. That was the inference, that was the atmosphere of the inquisitorial process. With no good result effected, Florence Kinrade, on a vague suspicion, sedulously and cruelly exploited, has had everlasting suggestion attached to her character.

The inquisitorial fishing excursion instead of elucidating the Kinrade murder mystery has only deepened it. No wonder the jury demands a searching inquiry.

British justice assumes the innocence of the meanest criminal, till guilt is brought home by evidence.

GREATER QUEBEC.

Quebec is now the second largest province in the Dominion, but if it succeeds in its applicaton to the Dominion Government to annex Ungava to its area it will be larger than the two largest provinces—Ontario and British Columbia—combined; namely 706,873 square miles, while the combined area of Ontario and British Columbia is only 591,690 square miles. By contiguity Ungava is naturally a part of Quebec, lying to the immediate north, with the Hudson Bay on the west, Hudson Straits on the north, and the Atlantic ocean on the east. Ungava is largely a terra incognita, but must be of great value, judged by analogy. No part of the Dominion that has been explored has been found valueless, and it is probable that Ungava abounds in mineral and forest wealth. Manitoba may set up an objection to Quebec annexing the new territory and claim a slice of Ungava, but it is hardly probable that its annexation to Quebec will be seriously opposed by the other provinces, though it must be confessed that it will make the former province overpoweringly superior in territorial area. The enlarged province would be larger than all the otther provinces combined, except Alberta and Saskatchewan.

No great deed is done by falterers who ask for certainty.—George Eliot.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our Governor-General is Grey in our service yet; he is going to stay another year. Canada is well satisfied with the quality of its gubermaterial grey matter.

McGill University is lucky—it is continually getting gifts. The last is by Dr. Hersey—$10,000 towards keeping up the university standard of work in metallurgy. This is not, compared with other gifts, a large sum, but it is another big drop added to the stream of benefaction from private sources that has poured in upon this favoured seat of learning.

The expenditures made by Canada are for the purposes of lessening the burdens of the people by dividing them among a population increased by hundreds of thousands every year. The expenditures of European nations, Great Britain included, add directly to the kindness of the people, with no compensations but a long ist of warships and a big army roster. We spend to increase population; they spend to kill off population, either with shot or shell or starvation.

A good deal of money has been spent upon the improvement of the navigation of the St. Lawrence, east of Montreal. As a result we shall have two 15,000-ton steamers plying between Montreal and Liverpool this summer—from a port between eight hundred and a thousand miles from the open ocean. Through our canals we are capturing the bulk of the inland carrying trade of the central section of the continent. Through the St. Lawrence route we are capturing increasing share of the Atlantic passenger traffic.

Mr. J. Hilliard Carnegie, M.P.P., East Victoria, has been lifted out of his seat in the Legislature and tenderly placed in a soft seat at Osgoode Hall—distributing stamps at $1,800 a year. Personally Mr. Carnegie is to be congratulated, for personally he is a very good fellow, but politically he has lent himself to a breach of "the independence of Parliament." If a Liberal Government had in like manner, taken a member from his place in Parliament and put him in a soft situation of emolument at the public expense, the Mail and Empire would have howled itself hoarse in denunciation.

Canada is every day filling a large share of the field of vision of the World's eye, and Canadians come often into prominence. Sir Percy Girouard, of Northern Nigeria, a native Canadian, will in a few days preside over the formal ceremony of connecting the Central Nigerian and the Northern Nigerian Railway systems, and thus give connection from the Atlantic right across the African continent and with the Cape to Cairo, a more important work than that which he did when he took the railway from Upper Egypt across the Nile desert to Khartoum! This energetic young French Canadian, is a most creditable illustration of the unity of the Empire.

A CHANGE IS NEEDED.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

It has been well said that there is no perfection in human institutions, and the Public school curriculum of the Ontario Education Department is no exception to the rule. There are some parts of the curriculum which require immediate revision, and one of these is the department of history.

For 17 years the same text-book of Canadian history has been in use in the Public schools of Ontario. It is authorized "for use in the public schools," utterly ignoring the vast differences in the requirements and mental capacities of the children of the different grades. Its method is radically wrong, inasmuch as it encourages the old-fashioned but very undesirable habit of resolving the study of Canadian history into the memorization of dates, the names of governors and generals, the tabulated forms of the Treaty of Paris, Quebec Act, Constitutional Act, Act of Union, and British North America Act, tabulated causes and effects of wars and rebellions, and so on. This is not history, it is a direct negation of the true purpose of history.

Again, much light has been thrown upon Canadian history within the past few years as a result of the researches in the Canadian archives. Many assumptions made in the text-book have been proved to be the direct opposite of the truth. Anyone who doubts this should read the volume entitled "Documents Relating to the Constitutional History of Canada from 1763 to 1791," edited jointly by Dr. A. G. Doughty and Professor Adam Shortt, and a disillusionment will follow. "The Makers of Canada" series also throws much new light upon Canadian history.

Public school teachers can use nothing but the authorized text-book. The question is one of grave importance, and it is high time for the Education Department to repeal this law of the Medes and Perisians and provide a text-book of history adequate to the needs of the rising generation.

A knowledge of the past conduces to an appreciation of the present; an appreciation of the greatness of our present heritage is the strongest assurance of future development in the right direction. The story of Canada is a fascinating one; we want to encourage its study by the young idea, not discourage it, as we are now doing in the schools.

CANADA'S SHARE

Canada's share in the responsibility of Imperial defence, takes many forms, which, while they have the merit of not being burdensome, have the added merit of incidentally contributing to the victories of Canadian industry and of promoting development of Canadian resources. We can feed the armies and navies of the Empire, and in the process increase our poulation—the number of stalwart Canadians that can be counted upon to help with arms in their hands if, in the course of an imperial war, the outworks are carried and the contest reaches the citadel. We propose establishing a naval force for our own defence, but the common property in the event of need of the Empire. And, besides, we can make valuable contribution to the very bone and sinew of a navy—marines. Warships are mere junk unless manned with men and when these men are of the quality of the British blue-jacket. Britain's preponderance as a sea power is important beyond meeting the requirements of a two power war-craft standard. If the navy is to be increased in number of fighting bottoms, there will be need of more sailors, and Canada furnishes the greatest recruiting field in the world. It is a pleasant fact to state that Canada has a larger and hardier sea-faring population than any country in the world except Great Britain.

In regard to Canada's ability to assist in manning the Imperial navy, the London Advertiser has the following:

> According to official returns there were enrolled in this country last year 71,251 fishermen, or half the number of men required to man the British navy, and three times as many as were in the United States fleet during the war with Spain. In addition to these are 25,000 fishermen on the Pacific Coast, making over 96,000 "toilers of the sea."
>
> Hon. G. W. Ross made use of this information in a notable speech in the Senate this week in support of a resolution advocating Government provision for the technical education of seamen, with a view both to the development of the shipping interests of Canada and the formation of a trained body of men who could man ships of the proposed new Canadian navy. He pointed out that for success on land or sea education was indispensable, and held that what was being done in this way at present was altogether inadequate. A few lectures are delivered each year on seamanship and about 200 mariners are receiving naval instruction at eight points in Canada, so that it will be seen how meagre is the education provided.
>
> Senator Ross declared there was no parallel for this condition in any other line of business or professional life. During the past 35 years there have been 11,118 shipwrecks, in which 5,630 lives were lost, and $55,521,623 worth of property was destroyed, and the senator asked if any of these disasters would have been averted if the men in charge of the vessels had been better trained.
>
> Senator Ross does not agree with those who say the seamen would not take advantage of educational facilities. That was said of farmers when experimental farms were started, but the farmers made use of them, greatly to their own and the country's benefit. Mr. Ross declared his belief that if the plan be recommended were adopted a better-educated and better-qualified class of fishermen and seamen would be the result. Great Britain and the United States had set the example of establishing naval reserves and training both officers and seamen in special institutions, and to Mr. Ross the present seemed an opportune time to start the work, as it is proposed to begin the construction of naval vessels and officers and men would be needed for them when finished. He could see no reason why an institution for higher education of naval officers should not be established in Canada which could turn out the officers and even the admirals of the Canadian navy.
>
> In view of the assurance that the Government has now the question under consideration in connection with the scheme of naval aid to the mother country, Senator Ross did not press his resolution. The question raised, however, is an interesting and important one, and more is certain to be heard of it in the near future.

Canada ranks tenth in the list of ship-owning countries and second in sea-faring strength of population.

The graduating exercises of the Nicholls Hospital Nurses' Class of 1909 will be held in the Collegiate Institute Hall on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock. The graduates will receive their Diplomas and Medals and an interesting musical programme will be given. There will be no charge for admission, and all interested are invited to attend. 4d-104

SIX TEAMS WILL BATTLE FOR INTERMEDIATE RACE HONOURS

Arrangements Made for the Season Last Night---No Midland League Players Will be Permitted in the League This Season---Schedule Commences on May 29th.

The Intermediate championship race this year will be fought out between six teams, the Strathconas, last year's champions, the West Ends, T. A. S., Y. M. C. A., and Park Nines, all of whom played last year and the Rovers, a new club. The Park Nines played under the name of the Lakeviews last year, but the team is the same.

All six clubs were represented at the meeting of the League held in the Y. M. C. A. last night, at which there were present: Mr. J. T. C. Lang, president, in the chair, Secretary-Treasurer Jas. D. Clarke, L. Derocher, of the T. A. S.; F. Cressman, the Y. M. C. A.; W. J. Metheral, the Strathconas; J. McNirn, the West Ends; J. Mahoney, the Park Nines, and C. Gilbert, the Rovers.

The clubs paid their entrance fee to the secretary and the business of the meeting was commenced. It was decided to accept the offer of the Spaulding Company, to provide a trophy for the League if the Spaulding ball was used in League games.

The clause which bars Midland League players from playing in the League was sustained, although Messrs. Metheral and Derocher fathered a motion that the clause be struck out. The other four clubs were against the proposition and the motion was lost by a vote of 6 to 2.

The president and secretary were appointed a committee to interview the grounds committee of the Riverside Park, to make arrangements for the use of the grounds there whenever they may be obtainable.

It was decided that the schedule should commence on May 29th and a committee composed of Messrs Clarke, Metheral and McNirn was appointed by the president to draw up the schedule and present it at the next meeting.

It was decided that a double schedule should be played and that the games should be played on Saturday afternoon unless the two contesting clubs agreed to play evening ball.

W. DAVIDSON WINS BOYS' ONE MILE RACE AT Y. M. C. A.

Negotiated the Distance in 6.20 2-5 Last Night and Won by 60 Yards in a Field of Seven Starters---Race Was an Interesting One.

W. Davidson won the one-mile race held by the business boys of the Y. M. C. A. last evening, all by himself, beating six other starters by distances ranging all the way from 60 to 200 yards. He had little difficulty in stalling off his rivals and won handily in 6:20:2-5. The course was from the Y. M. C. A. along Murray street to Water street, along that thoroughfare to Smith street, to George street, and thence back to the starting point.

There were seven in the field which the boys' secretary, Mr. Geo. T. Evans started shortly before eight o'clock. They started off at an easy clip, running in a bunch for the first few yards, but Davidson soon cut loose from the bunch and had the finish all to himself. He crossed the line in good condition with his nearest rival, McWilliams, sixty yards back. Twenty yards back of the second man there was the liveliest kind of a battle for third place. Hunter and Irwin, who had been running almost together, sprinted for the finishing line, and Hunter just managed to win the place by a scant yard. Nicholls was a good fifth. Telford was sixth and Saxeby brought up the rear. Quite a large crowd of enthusiasts saw the start and finish of the race.

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES.

Joe Kelley's Torontos had their batting togs on for fair yesterday and hammered out fifteen hits against Pitchers Harris and Cronin, of Providence, making the first time that the slugging Grays have been outbatted this season. As a result of their prowess with the hickory, the Leafs won 6 to 5, scoring two in the ninth on a long drive by Goode, which brought in Weidy and Kelley. Houser had four hits, one of them a triple. Weidy and Mitchell distinguished themselves by a double steal on which the outfielder scored. The Torontos return home to-day with an even break on the road and commence a long home series at the Island to-morrow, with the Baltimore Orioles as their first opponents. McGinley pitched for Toronto yesterday.

Skeeters Lost

The Jersey Skeeters were beaten once more by Rochester, losing yesterday by 7 to 5, and the leaders are fast coming back to the rest of the bunch. The contest was marked by hard hitting on both sides, each having nine safeties. The pitchers were Goettell and Mason for Jersey City and Beecher and Snyder for the Bronchos.

Pitchers' Battle

In a pitchers' battle Montreal beat Newark 3 to 1. Wicker for Montreal and Frill for Newark, allowed only six hits each. The fielding was sharp and clean.

Herd Hit Hard

The Bisons turned the tables on the Orioles yesterday, winnig 6 to 1. The Herd batted fiercely and drove Pitchers Russell and Adkins to the barn, Staney finishing the game. Taylor pitched nicely for Buffalo.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

In the National League Pittsburg made it five straight from the Chicago Cubs, the Pirates winning a ten-innings' struggle by 1 to 0. Pittsburg uncorked a new phenom, Adams, of Louisville, who held the Cubs to six hits. Three-fingered Jack Browne pitched for Chicago and was invincible until he weakened in the tenth.

Three for Phillies

Philadelphia won from the Giants for the third day in succession, although the great Christy Matthewson was sent in against the Phillies. Mattie was touched up for four hits and gave a similar number of passes in the fifth and sixth, and retired in favour of Bugs Raymond in the Seventh. Philadelphia won 5 to 2, Moren holding New York to seven hits.

A Double-Header

Brooklyn and Boston broke even in a double-header yesterday. Boston won the first which was marked by freet hitting, by 7 to 6, four pitchers being sent out. Chappelle and White for Boston, and Hunter and Cutterson for the Suberbas. Scanlon was too much for Boston in the second game, holding them to five hits and Manager Lumley's aggregation won by 5 to 2.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE

In the American League St. Louis took another game from Detroit and the Tigers' lead does not look nearly as big as it did two days ago. The Browns batted Summer hard after the sixth innings while Rube Waddell held the champs to fiveh its. The big rube, however, gave six bases on balls in the first two innings.

"Oh You Cy"

Old Cy Young is still showing the youngsters the way to pitch winning ball. Yesterday he held the Chicago White Socks to four hits and Cleveland won by 10 to 2, touching up Frank Smith for thirteen average fatteners.

A Great Battle

Boston and Washington had a well played game yesterday, the Senators winning 1 to 0. Tannehill held Boston to three hits while the Senators got but two off Morgan. The latter, however, made a balk that resulted in the only run. Both sides played errorless ball.

Highlanders Slugged

New York had their eye on the Spaulding yesterday, and hammered out on 11 to 3 victory over Philadelphia, getting thirteen hits off Pitchers Vicker and Schitzer. Quinn worked for the Highlanders.

WITH THE RUNNERS.

Toronto, May 4.—Charles Elridge, representing Montreal Marathon promoters, is in Ontraio looking for Marathoners. He says the Montreal men behind him will put up $5,000 for a race there on May 24 over the M.A.A.A. track, and says Hans Holmer and Abbie Wood have already signed up. Elridge went to Hamilton to-day and will be back in Toronto to-morrow. He wants Simpson, Coley, Meadows and Marsh, and claims he will get Tom Longboat.

"THE CLEW" A NEW GAME.

Fun For Boys and For Those of Older Growth.

When people are indoors and have little new to occupy themselves with great fun can often be obtained from an impromptu game such as "the clew." It is played with paper and pencil, but first the players must exercise their detective skill.

A burglary has been committed; certain traces and things have been discovered. In the drawing room in the soft pile of the carpet are certain scraps of gravel. On a polished marble slab a wax candle had been fastened by hot wax; close to it a drop showed a distinct finger print. Two curtains, velvet curtains, had large squares cut from them. A low window showed four empty flowerpots inverted and placed on the sill—that window had not been opened. In the hall was a kid glove of small size. It is not necessary to go on putting together such things for the guidance of readers.

As soon as the clews are spread out on the table—good amateur photographers will supply, to increase the interest, a few photographs—the "detectives" are given so much time to make up a story. Results are read in turn. A prize goes to the best theory. This is a game that will give an endless amount of pleasure to a party of boys.

Another simple amusement is as follows: Paper and pencil only need be provided. Some one suggests that it will be amusing to consider and write down the names of two things which, could choice be made, the players would prefer to be in their possession when cast on a desert island.

A certain amount of time is allowed for the writing on the paper. At the end of the time the papers are turned over face downward on the table. In turn each player has to read what has been written. The rest of the company have instantly formed themselves into a jury, for the prize goes to the player who makes out the best case for his or her selection.

People anxious to make the game a success will open the proceedings by a dramatic little account of the wreck and the permission given to each passenger to take two things into the boats that can be easily carried and not weigh more than a specified amount.

Men Jealous of a Woman Writer.

One of the first of literary honors has been won by a woman. It is the Chauchard prize, given by the Societe des Gens de Lettres of France, and Mme. Jeanne Marni is the winner. There is not a literary man in France who is not eager to earn this distinction, and it is not strange that there have been many protests against the present award. Mme. Marni is the first woman to carry off the prize, and her name now is enrolled with that of De Maupassant. In announcing its decision the committee made known it awarded the prize upon the general excellence of Mme. Marni's work. The opinion also was expressed that her writing in almost every feature was superior to that of all the other contestants. This was putting the truth rather bluntly, for "all the other contestants" were men.

FOUR RESOLUTIONS WERE DEFEATED

Government Votes Down Amendments of Opposition.

CASE OF PURE HOSTILITY

Sir Wilfrid Thus Characterizes Conservative Attack on G.T.P. Loan Bill—Mr. Borden Seeks to Have Traffic Stipulations Inserted in Grand Trunk Pacific's Agreement — Bill Is Passed.

Ottawa, May 5.—The G.T.P. loan was debated again yesterday. In the afternoon R. L. Borden introduced a resolution calling for a Canadian traffic stipulation. It was defeated 108 to 70, the lowest Government but one this season. Amendments moved by Messrs. Ames, Middlebro and Meighen, were likewise lost, and the bill given its third reading.

Hon. G. E. Foster opened the attack yesterday morning and was informed by Hon. Mr. Fielding that all the Grand Trunk was doing was pledging its credit. He declared it turned out that the Grand Trunk has floated equipment bonds for three million pounds, the last million having been floated very recently. Of this amount $8,273,000 has been spent. Mr. Foster then declared that had Laurier been promoter of a company to build the road and had in his prospectus put his name to the statement by him in the House he would have been in the hands of the law for falsification.

"Blind hostility," was Sir Wilfrid's characterization of the Foster attack:

In answer to the question yesterday afternoon why they were not making use of the Intercolonial Railway, his reason was the same, he said, for which the Conservative Government in their day refused to make use of the Intercolonial for the C.P.R. transcontinental—it was unsuited. If they had been as generous to the G.T.R. as the Conservatives were to the C.P.R., the G.T.P. would have better securities to offer, said Sir Wilfrid.

R. L. Borden took issue with the Premier that the Conservatives were opposed to the building of the railway. They were only opposed to the methods by which it is being built. Mr. Borden moved his resolution, which was as follows:

"That the order for the third reading be discharged and that the said bill (G.T.P. loan) be referred back to committee of the whole House, with power to amend by adding effective provisions binding the Grand Trunk Railway Co., as well as the Grand Trunk Pacific, to fulfill the conditions upon which aid has been granted to the enterprise, namely, the development of trade through Canadian channels and Canadian ocean ports, and forbidding the diversion of Canadian traffic to foreign ports, except when specifically routed thereto by the shipper."

After Messrs Connee, E. M. Macdonald, Crosby and Loggie had spoken, the vote was taken and Mr. Borden's amendment was defeated 106 to 70.

Labor Victory.

London, May 5.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The bye-election for the Attercliffe division of the City of Sheffield has resulted in the return of the Labor candidate. Four candidates offered themselves: King Farlow, official Unionist; Muir Wilson, Independent Unionist, who contested the seat at the general election; R. C. Lambert, Liberal, and Mr. Pointer, Labor. The poll showed Pointer 3,531, Farlow 3,380, Lambert 3,175 and Wilson 2,803.

At the general election there was a straight party contest between Ald. Batty Langley, Liberal, whose unexpected resignation created the vacancy, and Muir Wilson, the former being sucessful by a majority of 787, the figures standing at 6,523 to 5,736. It is not, therefore, easy to institute a comparison, but at this bye-election the aggregate Unionist exceeded that at the general election by 447. This is a Labor gain.

Ask for Drink Censors.

Orange, N.J., May 5.—The first request which has come up in New Jersey that a governing body take advantage of the Hillery law for the appointment of a board of protectors was made to the Orange Common Council last night. Under this law, which is mandatory, it is the duty of the governing body of every municipality to appoint three discreet persons, whose business it shall be to designate all drunkards in the municipality and furnish the list of saloonkeepers who are forbidden to sell intoxicants, to those whose names appear on the list.

The Fencing of Railways.

Ottawa, May 5.—Counsel for the railways yesterday protested before the Railway Board at the recent order providing for fencing of right of way of railways improved cattle guards and improved farm crossings.

Chairman Mabee remarked that he had been told that railways could be fenced for $80 a mile. Mr. Phippen for the C.N.R. retorted that it would cost more like $500. The railways were asked to get some additional information.

Charge Withdrawn.

Midland, May 5.—Joseph Peak yesterday withdrew the charge of assault laid against License Inspector Fisher, resulting from a fight in court last week, and the men shook hands and departed together.

Protests Are Dropped.

Montreal, May 5.—It is understood that after a good deal of negotiations between the two parties, all of the contestations in the Province of Quebec have been dropped.

Pictures by Telegraph.

Paris, May 5.—A new apparatus for the telegraphic transmission of pictures, called the teleautocopyist, is displayed at the Academy of Sciences. It is purely mechanical, does not employ photography, works with great rapidity and does not require skilled manipulation.

FIG PILLS

The Greatest Stomach, Kidney and Liver Medicine Ever Known

Fig Pills are sold with a rigid guarantee to cure, or money refunded. Headaches, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Rheumatism, Pimples and Blotches removed at once.

Captain Strachan, of St. Catharines, says: "I have been a great sufferer for years with a bad stomach, bad breath and dizziness. I tried everything, but no cure, till I tried FIG PILLS, and to-day I am a different man."

Mrs. Sider, James Street, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have felt miserable for five years; my liver was all out of order, my skin was dry and hot, I hardly knew what it was to be without a headache; headache powders would relieve me just for a short time. I was advised to try Fig Pills, and my, what a change. My whole life is different; I am strong and healthy; Fig Pills cured me. I gladly allow you to tell others through the press. My sister, if you are not feeling well, my advice to you is to try Fig Pills."

Get a box to-day from your druggist, and if they don't help you, go back and get your money. Price 25c a box; five boxes for $1.00.

COUNCIL IS CALLED.

Mgr. Sbarretti Issues Notice of Plenary Conference.

Toronto, May 5.—In the Catholic Register yesterday, Monsignor Sbarretti issued his official call for the plenary council to be held in Quebec next fall. The conference will be for the purpose of widening the scope of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada. The conclusion of the letter is as follows:

MGR. DONATUS SBARRETTI.

"Our holy father, Pope Piux X., the Vicar of Christ on earth, among the innumerable cares of his supreme pontificate, manifesting another signal proof of his paternal solicitude for this chosen portion of the Lord's vineyard, has deigned after consultation with the most eminent father of the Sacred Congregation of the Council, to approve and praise the project of a Canadian Plenary Council to be held in the City of Quebec; and bp apostolic letters under date of March 25, 1909, to entrust to us, though unworthy, the office of convoking the same council and presiding over it."

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Seventy-seven persons were killed by automobiles in New York during the past twelve months.

Walter Wellman will make an attempt in August to reach the North Pole in a dirigible balloon.

Allan Stuart, convicted of theft, escaped from the Oshawa lockup by tearing up a portion of the floor.

Three children of Charles Crossman were suffocated in a fire that gutted the family residence at Sackville, N.B.

Western Conservatives at the Opposition caucus at Ottawa took a strong stand against any increase in the tariff.

Five hundred pianos and nearly ten thousand revolvers have been found in the Yildiz Kiosk, the palace of the deposed Sultan.

Joseph Scott, miner at the O'Brien Mine, Cobalt, fell 100 feet down the shaft yesterday, and died three hours later at Cobalt Hospital.

Evidence of the regular bribery of police by liquor dealers to secure immunity from prosecutions was given by the civic inquiry at Montreal.

The London Standard says Kitchener will leave Japan at Christmas for Vancouver. It is Kitchener's intention to make a special study of the armies of the oversea states, and it is believed he is to be appointed to the imperial committee of defence.

Youth Is Electrocuted.

Niagara Falls, Ont., May 5.—Jos. Cronin, 16 years old, of Chicago, a member the Paulist Chorister Society of that city, was electrocuted yesterday morning by an Ontario Power Co. cable carrying 11,000 volts. Francis Kepperling, aged 19, who was with Cronin, was badly burned about the hands.

Members of the Paulist Choir were here to give a concert and were visiting the Falls. Coming down hill from the convent they encountered three cables carrying 11,000 volts. Kepperling caught hold of one and was thrown insensible to the bottom of the hill, while Cronin, touching the same cable, was killed. Flames immediately broke out, burning the grass for 40 feet around and incinerating the body.

Kepperling said the hill was so steep that the two boys crawled down it backwards and did not see the cables until they touched them.

HAVELOCK LADY IS HONOURED

Presented With Silver Set by Ladies of Methodist Church.

Examiner Special.

Havelock, May 4. — On Monday evening, April 19th, about forty members of the Ladies' Aid and the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church gathered at the home of Mrs. Thos. Patterson and presented her with a silver fruit dish, a silver butter dish and knife, accompanied by the following address:

Havelock, April 19th, 1909.

To Mrs. T. H. Patterson,—We, a few of the ladies of the Methodist church have taken the liberty of invading your home this evening to express our feelings of respect and love upon this eve of your departure from our midst, and also our appreciation of your uprightness of life, genial hospitality and kindly disposition. As a member of our Ladies' Aid and W. M. S. your service has always been heartily given. When we remember, therefore, the lively and intelligent interest you have taken in the church, the deepest and tenderest emotions of our hearts are stirred and we shall ever cherish the warmest affections for you.

Please accept this silver fruit dish, butter dish and knife, as a small token of the high esteem in which you shall ever be held by us.

Signed on behalf of the ladies of our congregation.

Mr. Patterson replied in a few well-chosen words, in which he expressed their regret in leaving Havelock and their many friends, but hoped that they would be permitted to meet again in the years to come.

A dainty luncheon was then partaken of and the evening spent in various games and amusements. Speeches were also made by Rev. Balfour and Mr. Jos Knox.

The first football match of the season in District Four will be played on May 5th: Norwood and Havelock at Havelock. This will, no doubt, be interesting, being the first game of the season.

Mrs. Lemtau (nee Miss Janie Donnelly) we are sorry to report, is seriously ill at the General Hospital and underwent an operation there on Wednesday, April 28th. Her mother, Mrs. Donnelly, is still with her, and the last word received by the family here was to the effect that she was somewhat improving. Her many friends in town would hope for her speedy recovery to health once more.

The remains of Mr. Charlie Herrington was brought from West Toronto to Havelock on the noon train Friday, and taken to the Presbyterian church, where service was held and from thence to Maple Grove cemetery. The remains were met at the train by the I. O. F. lodge, of which deceased was a member, and carried to the church. The many beautiful floral tributes testified the high esteem in which the young man was held, both at West Toronto and Havelock.

The deepest sympathy of the people of town go to the bereaved family in this their great and sad loss.

The Southland Sextette will give their popular concert in the town hall of Havelock on Friday evening of next week, May 14th, under the auspices of the Methodist church.

Mr. W. Livingston, of town, was married to Miss Annie M. Davis, of Toronto, at the Methodist parsonage, on Wednesday, April 21st. The young couple will reside in town.

Miss Gladys Cain, we are glad to report, is rapidly recovering from the recent operation for appendicitis, and expects soon to be around again.

Mrs. Geo. Payne and children arrived here on Monday from England. Mr. Payne met them at Montreal.

Mrs. Jas. E. Fowler and children have returned home after a week's visit with friends at Peterborough.

Mr Standley has been engaged as clerk in J. W. Bryan's general store in the vacancy caused by Mr. Harry Buchanan, who intends going to Toronto to reside in the course of a few weeks. His many friends learn with regret of his intended departure.

Mr. R. J. Graham is spending a week in Parkdale, Toronto, the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Jas. Webb.

Miss Nina Welch of Springbrooke, is the guest of Miss Jessie Capp.

Mr Archie McIntyre has returned to town after spending the last few months at Leamington.

Miss Lottie Chiles was in town on Friday and Saturday.

Miss Jennie Barlow, who is engaged at E. P. Cuffe's millinery parlours, spent Sunday at her home here.

Mrs. McIntyre and Miss Annie have returned home after spending the winter months at North Bay, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. P. Cromar.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Taylor of Millbridge, were in town on Tuesday last.

A football match between Norwood eleven and the locals will take place at the park on Wednesday night of this week.

The great event, the amateur drama, "Imogene," or "The Witch's Secret," on the evening of May 19th, by the young people of St. John's church.

Miss Seabrooke, of Victoria, was the guest of Miss Maude Sexsmith, on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Holdsworth expect to be settled in the Rectory this week.

Local option went into effect in Havelock on Saturday, May 1st.

Miss Florence Howe of town, was the hostess at a "Birthday Party" at her home on the 20th ult., when a large number of her friends assembled to do her honour. During the evening Miss Florence was presented with a beautiful gold signet ring and a gold-plated jewel case.

Routine Business At Board Of Education's Regular Meeting

May Session Not Marked by Any Particular Business—The Text Books for Next Year Will be Advertized For—Twenty-six Applications for Janitor.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

The regular meeting of the Board of Education was held last night, with Mr. L. M. Hayes, K.C., in the chair, and the following members present—Messrs Dumble, Mason, Nelson, Hill, Fair, Dr. Morrison and Dr. Burnham.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

The following letter was read from Inspector Mowat:

"Regarding the disposal of the furniture of the old collegiate institute, I find that some of the more valuable tables, the library case, some teachers' chairs, and all the scientific apparatus and books were taken to the new Collegiate Institute. The balance of the furniture, consisting chiefly of pupils' desks, was stored in the third story of the old building, where it still remains.

This matter was left with the Property Committee, as the furniture referred to may be sold to schools needing it.

A letter was received from Mr. W. J. Dunlop, Secretary of the Historical Society, in which he said that the society desired to convey to the Board of Education its thanks for the use of a room in the Collegiate Institute for the societys' meetings during the winter. He further stated that the society was ready to settle any account for heat and light in connection with the use of the room.—Received.

Mr. W. J. Stacey, secretary of the Peterborough Teachers' Institute, asking for the use of the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute for the morning and evening sessions of the convention, Thursday, May 20, and the morning and afternoon sessions of Friday, May 21st.

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. Hill, the request was granted.

A communication from Mr. Barlow Cumberland, of Port Hope, was received. He acknowledged the resolution of appreciation the Board had passed upon receiving his offer to give a prize to the boys of the Collegiate Institute for proficiency in natural history as far as Canadian birds are concerned.—Received.

Miss F. E. De La M[illegible], superintendent of the Nicholls Hospital, wrote her thanks to the Board for the use of the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute for the graduating exercises on Friday evening next.—Received.

On motion of Messrs. Hill and Burnham the Supervision Committee was authorized to advertize for the supply of necessary text bokos for 1910.

Mr. J. H. Hodgson was appointed an examiner on the Entrance Examination Board for this year.

Mr. Nelson stated that he had visited the Collegiate Institute recently and had found the outer door on the west side closed. It was not in working order owing to the hinges having been twisted, being, apparently, too light. It was arranged that he and Mr. Dumble visit the school at four o'clock to-day in order to determine what action was necessary.

The Board then adjourned.

TWO MAGISTRATES TEST ZAM-BUK

CURE EFFECTED IN BOTH CASES.

Mr. F. Rasmussen, of 211, Marquette Street, Montreal, who is a Justice of the Peace, and a man not inclined to give praise except where it is well due, says:—"For many years I was troubled with a serious eruption of the skin. This was not only unsightly, but very painful. I first tried various household remedies, but as these proved altogether useless, I took medical advice. Not one, but several doctors in turn were consulted; but I was unable to get any permanent relief. Some time back I determined to give Zam-Buk a trial, and after a thoroughly fair test, I can say I am delighted with it. I have the best reasons for this conclusion; because, while everything I tried failed absolutely to relieve my pain and rid me of my trouble, three boxes of Zam-Buk have worked a complete cure. In my opinion this balm should be even more widely known than it is."

Mr. C. E. Sanford, J. P., of Weston, King's Co., N. S., says:—"I had a patch of eczema on my ankle, which had been there for over twenty years. Sometimes, also, the disease would break out on my shoulders. I had taken solution of arsenic, had applied various ointments, and tried all sorts of things to obtain a cure, but in vain. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, proved highly satisfactory, and cured the ailment.

"I have also used Zam-Buk for itching piles, and it has cured them completely. I take comfort in helping my brother-men, and if the publication of my opinion of the healing value of Zam-Buk will lead other sufferers to try it I should be glad. For the relief of suffering caused by piles or skin diseases, it is without equal."

For eczema, eruptions, ulcers, piles, blood-poisoning, varicose ulcers, children's sore heads, ringworm, salt rheum, cuts, scratches, bruises, and all skin injuries, Zam-Buk is a perfect cure. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Three boxes for $1.25.

COTTESLOE ITEMS.

Examiner Special.

Cottesloe, May 5th.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Batchan spent last Sunday visiting the latter's daughter, Mrs. Chas. Bolton, on the Scotch Line.

General sorrow is expressed in this community over the bereavement of Mrs. Edwards, by the death of her father in Lakefield last week.

Rev. P. W. Currie preached a timely and neded sermon in the church here last Sunday, on the subject of Sabbath Observance, and fairly and with a keen insight discussed the merits of the case.

Mr. John Saunders, who has been on the sick list for some time, is now on the way to recovery, though owing to advancing years, it is not as rapid as may be desired.

Rev. John Gray, D.D., of Knox College, Toronto, who was expected here in March last, has so far recovered from the effects of his recent accident that he has been able to resume his work and will preach at the service in the church here on Sunday afternoon next at the hour of 3 o'clock. He will also conduct both services at Warsaw and speak at a mass meeting there on Monday evening at 8 o'clock p.m., to which all the young people of this district will be cordially welcomed.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock, of 6th Line, spent last Sunday visiting the father of the former, on the English Line, of Dummer.

Mr. Chas. Peters leaves shortly to spend the summer in the Northwest. We all wish him renewed health and strength.

SUNDAY'S SERVICES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Warsaw Notes State Next Sunday Will See Important Event.

Examiner Special.

Warsaw, April 6.—Rev. John Gray, D.D., of Knox College, Toronto, will preach at both services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday night, May 9th, and will present the claims of that institution. Dr. Gray was expected in March, but owing to an accident he has been unable to come until now. He will also address a rally meeting of young people in the church on Monday evening at 8 p.m. on some current issues of Church Life and Work, and a cordial invitation is issued to all persons of all ages to come and hear this talented speaker to any of these three services that they may find is practicable.

Rev. P. W. Currie was in Peterborough the early part of this week in attendance at the County Sunday School Association. Mrs. Foster was the represntative of the Methodist Church of this place.

Mrs. Daniel Miller spent Sunday in Port Hope, the guest of her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bullock spent Sunday visiting the paternal home on the English Line, Dummer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clements spent Sunday last in Lakefield visiting friends.

Rev. P. W. Curr preached a very practical eloquent sermon on Sunday morning last, on the subject of Sabbath Observance.

Mrs. McIntosh, Sr., has returned to our vicinity from Peterborough, and is at present the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Luke Cooper.

Seeding operations are much delayed owing to the heavy rains.

Early Summer Costumes

THE first impression that is made on you when you step into our large show room is the striking difference that seems to pervade every corner where the New Summer Costumes and Gowns are displayed. There is not the usual sameness that is noticed in the ordinary displays of women's wear seen in nearly every ready to wear department. We pride ourselves in the fact that our showing is exclusive—away from all others and each Suit or Gown bears its own individuality. Some are similar in texture to others but the effect is so altogether different that this feature is lost sight of. ¶ One of the features is the entire Lace or Embroidery Coat Suit, the only material used other than either the lace or the embroidery, is a white Indian head linen inserted straps, the skirt is a white Indian head with either a row of wide embroidery near bottom or plain tailored with a row of large pearl buttons down front. ¶ The large button trimming is used to some extent on the skirt and the coats vary in length from 5/8 to 7/8, self trimmed or trimmed with Persian Cretonne (the new fad) All the new shades of the season, including, Ciel Blue, Naturel Linen, Hello, White and Champagne, mostly in linen or Indian head. ¶ The Lingerie are in very dainty styles, mostly Princess, beautifully trimmed with lace and fine embroidery, some of plain white or coloured Mulls and others of fancy flowered Organdies. ¶ A most pleasing and effective display—interesting too, to any woman, whether she is a prospective purchaser or not. Come and feast on the handiwork of "Dame Fashion". See the handsome new Coats in street and auto styles—everyone a style of its own.

PETERBORO SCHOOLS MAY HAVE PENNY SAVINGS BANK

ous can be thrifty. Thrift in youth teaches the child the value of saving and when trials come in advanced years, he does not have to depend on public charity.

Children have likewise shown that with their funds behind them, they do not ask their father for a dollar to buy mother or sister a birthday present, but they take it from their own means.

The average working man has not the opportunity to put his money in banks which open at 10 a.m., and close at 3 p.m. He is, moreover, in most instances shy and awkward upon entering a bank with his small deposit. Around him everything bespeaks wealth. He is not at home in these surroundings. It is men of this kind who take advantage of the Penny Bank and give their children regular sums to deposit. Illustrations were given by Mr. McMurchy where a family was kept from depending upon charity when the father became ill and was unable to continue his work for a time.

The system is of little inconvenience to the teachers. A critic had found upon examination at a school that 33 deposits were made in 7½ minutes with no disturbance to the class, which was proceeding with its regular work.

Mr. Mulholland

Mr. Mulholland spoke briefly. The tendency of children is to spend money as quickly as they receive it. The Penny Bank serves as a check upon this inclination. It teaches the idea of saving and the provident man is always a better citizen. Saving also strengthens character. To get the children enthused in the idea, the teachers themselves must be enthusiasic with it. Port Hope schools accepted the system two years ago. There is now on deposit $1,100 and 50 per cent. of the 700 pupils are depositors. The statement that the children become miserly has not only never been proven, but has been disproved.

Mr. Dumble's Remarks

Mr. D. W. Dumble stated that he was very much in favour of the plan. He had decided ideas of the necessity of training the child so that its habits will be good.

Self indulgence and the gratifying of the appetite for luxuries, from bull's eyes and all-day-suckers to more expensive things. Mr. Dumble mentioned cases of men and boys who had appeared before him and all their wrongs could be traced back to the fact that their appetites were given full sway in youth. The teachers would not mind the trouble. It is their duty to teach the children those things which will be of greatest importance to them in their old age, and will form good habits, which will remain with them through life. People who find their way to the police court are those who did not deny themselves. They lost their honour, self-respect, and their place in society. Their appetites finally mastered them and proved their ruin, because they did not practice self-denial. If the school does not teach those habits which will help bring happiness to homes, the object of education is lost. Intelligent economy is wanted among the people, and to accomplish this the Penny Bank seemed to be a good assistance and Mr. Dumble expressed himself as thoroughly in favour it.

Rev. Father McColl.

Rev. Father McColl stated that as a whole we are not a thrifty people. Our country is young and we have always had plenty, never having felt the pinch of poverty. Young men and women were, in general, a disappointment, as far as thriftiness was concerned. Rev. Father McColl favoured the scheme, and was particularly pleased with its simplicity and its success.

Inspector Mowat and Mr. Robert Fair also expressed their favourable opinions.

On motion of Mr. Fair and Mr. Hill the matter was referred to the supervision committee of the Board for consideration in detail.

The Resolution.

The resolution, as moved by Mr. R. Fair, and seconded by Mr. W. H. Hill, was read by the former, as follows:

Mr. Chairman,—Having heard Messrs. McMurchy and Mulholland on the advisability of establishing penny savings banks in connection with our schools, and believing that the matter is deserving of our most serious attention, and should be dealt with by the Board of Education, I would therefore move, seconded by Mr. W. H. Hill, that the matter be referred to the Supervision Committee together with the Principal of the Collegiate Institute, Principal of Separate School and the Public School Inspector, who may consult with their teachers, and that they bring in a report at the next meeting of the Board.

I would also couple with this motion the thanks of this meeting to Messrs. McMurchy and Mulholland for the trouble they have taken to bring the matter to the attention of the members of the Board of Education and the teachers of Peterborough.

The Chairman submitted the first part of the motion to the members of the Board of Education and it was carried unanimously.

The Chairman then submitted to the whole meeting the resolution of thanks to Messrs McMurchy and Mulholland, which was carried by a standing vote.

CARNIVAL AT THE ROLLER RINK

Successful Affair Held Last Evening—Big Crowd in Attendance—The Prize Winners.

There was a large crowd at the Auditorium roller rink last evening, on the occasion of a fancy dress and rube carnival. The band was present and rendered choice selections. The number in costume was large and the dresses worn were both pretty and comical, and many favourable comments were passed on the remarkably fine taste displayed by some in the choosing of their costumes.

The judges of the evening were Messrs. Titterson and Ed. Manning. They awarded the prizes as follows:

Best dressed man—Mr. Manden.

Best dressed lady—Miss Elliott.

Best comic costume (gent's.)—M. H. Staunton.

Best comic costume (lady's)—Miss Edna Davies.

Best dressed girl.—Miss Sullivan.

Best dressed boy—Master Perrington.

Valuable prizes were donated and judging from the applause accorded the decisions the winners were the choice of the audience.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 5.—Stocks opened unchanged from last night. The sharp advance in wheat took some of the edge off the market and there was considerable selling by traders who feared quite a setback on this account. When the wheat market opened strong, stocks reacted over a point, but there was some gilt-edged support offered and the bears seeing it did not press stocks for sale. The Harriman Pacific and Steels held like rocks and at noon had lost no ground. Some pool manipulation in the equipment issues put Locomotive and Car Foundry higher. At noon prices were at a standstill with the bull element seemingly content to hold their own and the bears very cautious.

Grain News

Chicago, May 5.—Wheat opened strong and active. May touched 129¼, the highest of the year in the first hour and July rose a cent above last night, to 117¼. The market was on a jump every minute. Shorts were chased to cover and had to bid the market up to get any wheat. Some bad crop reports came in from the Southwest and the weather has not shown much improvement. Carn and oats firmer.

Liverpool close: Wheat 1⅞d. to 2⅞d. higher; corn ½d. higher.

STORY OF AN "ICE SHOVE" ON RICE LAKE

We were bound down the Otonabee river. Rice lake was our objective point. It was early in April, so the river ice had to be contended with. The Mississauga Indian and I were in a 16-foot double cedar canoe—the safest kind; the birch bark kind are liable to crash against a rock or puncture on one in the rapids. We were in a long shore crack, paddling in the flood water that spread out from the marshes and drowned lands. Soon our channel ceased and we had to draw the canoe out onto the ice—a difficult and dangerous task. The fierce March winds and the hot April sun had honey-combed its surface, cracked and riven it in many places, until the whole treacherous mass was ready to plunge down stream with the swift swollen current.

Hawk drove the bow of the craft up on the ice edge, while he paddled fast in the stern to keep it there. I crept over the bow seeking a firm foot-hold and drawing the canoe a little bit further up. Like a big cat, the Indian stepped softly, but swiftly through the canoe, tip-toed out into the shaking ice and pulled the cedar clean out and stood upright on the other side of the bow. Each with a hand on the fore and aft deck combings, the Indian ahead, we dragged it across the slippery surface toward the next open water. At every step the rotten mass shook like jelly; ten steps more and we could launch her. Crash! the Indian's right foot broke through—but before he had time to sink he sprang backwards into the canoe. Its impetus once stopped threw me forward right onto the load; the craft trembling under its swiftly added burden broke through the ice and we floated safely in the hole we had formed. Hawk now stood upright in the bow and with the push-pole broke away into the next crack. This stretch of open water was as calm and cloud-reflected as any mill-pound, and we paddled along its ice-piled sides quite contentedly. "Muhmaje!" (it moves) the Indian cried out. With a swiftly turned paddle and several swift side-draws, we pulled the craft about for the shore. Behind us the calm water was already a turmoil of splashing cakes and crackling, toppling ice. Into an opening we dashed and like a crowd of wild horses, the ice shove careened past, groaning—ringing like bells where the thin cakes jangled together, mounting into shimmering hillocks where it lodged, turning over the huge tamaracks that lay on the river bank—all within two canoe lengths of where we lay in safety.

The wind was a mighty force now. I know we were watching the conflict between the wind and sun and the current against the ice from behind the big boles of the oaks. The wind had the whole immense field—hundreds of thousands of tons—in motion. On-on-up it came, an irresistible mass. First it slid over the shallows, just lifting itself in an angle; then it struck the boulder-built blind on the shore (our duck shooting house of last fall-); this went like a house of cards; then it seized the big rocks lying flat on the shore line and tossed these ahead as if they were foam instead of granite. Along came a slanting tilted cake of ice, giving a ride to a square of lime-stone of several hundred pounds weight, then the mighty grinding mass, filled with strange tinkling noises, seized a shore-grown ash tree and pulled it out of its quarter-century bed as easily as we would a green cornstalk—pulled it out taproot and all.

On came the creamy edged rolling mass of stones, crushed ice and big cakes. It swept over the sloping shore forcing up and carrying ahead every obstruction; the wind had it moving a mile an hour now, and devastion was in its rushing crest. Right beneath me was a big limestone boulder, beside which we had often cooked the early morning breakfast long before the birds were moving. The shove lifted this from its deep-set frozen bed, mounted it up on the steep bank until it met a deeply lodged granite rock and cracked it as easily as we would a walnut in the crackers. This destruction of a half-tap of limestone deeply impressed me as I watched the big cakes ride up the bank; stand erect, glistening and dripping in the sunlight; then topple over on themselves and slide back over the creeping hill with a ringing noise.—Bonnycastledale.

ous can be thrifty. Thrift in youth teaches the child the value of saving and when trials come in advanced years, he does not have to depend on public charity.

Children have likewise shown that with their funds behind them, they do not ask their father for a dollar to buy mother or sister a birthday present, but they take it from their own means.

The average working man has not the opportunity to put his money in banks which open at 10 a.m., and close at 3 p.m. He is, moreover, in most instances shy and awkward upon entering a bank with his small deposit. Around him everything bespeaks wealth. He is not at home in these surroundings. It is men of this kind who take advantage of the Penny Bank and give their children regular sums to deposit. Illustrations were given by Mr. McMurchy where a family was kept from depending upon charity when the father became ill and was unable to continue his work for a time.

The system is of little inconvenience to the teachers. A critic had found upon examination at a school that 33 deposits were made in 7½ minutes with no disturbance to the class, which was proceeding with its regular work.

Mr. Mulholland

Mr. Mulholland spoke briefly. The tendency of children is to spend money as quickly as they receive it. The Penny Bank serves as a check upon this inclination. It teaches the idea of saving and the provident man is always a better citizen. Saving also strengthens character. To get the children enthused in the idea, the teachers themselves must be enthusiastic with it. Port Hope schools accepted the system two years ago. There is now on deposit $1,100 and 50 per cent. of the 700 pupils are depositors. The statement that the children become miserly has not only never been proven, but has been disproved.

Mr. Dumble's Remarks

Mr. D. W. Dumble stated that he was very much in favour of the plan. He had decided ideas of the necessity of training the child so that its habits will be good.

Self indulgence and the gratifying of the appetite for luxuries, from bull's eyes and all-day-suckers to more expensive things. Mr. Dumble mentioned cases of men and boys who had appeared before him and all their wrongs could be traced back to the fact that their appetites were given full away in youth. The teachers would not mind the trouble. It is their duty to teach the children those things which will be of greatest importance to them in their old age, and will form good habits, which will remain with them through life. People who find their way to the police court are those who did not deny themselves. They lost their honour, self-respect, and their place in society. Their appetites finally mastered them and proved their ruin, because they did not practice self-denial. If the school does not teach those habits which will help bring happiness to homes, the object of education is lost. Intelligent economy is wanted among the people, and to accomplish this the Penny Bank seemed to be a good assistance and Mr. Dumble expressed himself as thoroughly in favour it.

Rev. Father McColl.

Rev. Father McColl stated that as a whole we are not a thrifty people. Our country is young and we have always had plenty, never having felt the pinch of poverty. Young men and women were, in general, a disappointment, as far as thriftiness was concerned. Rev. Father McColl favoured the scheme, and was particularly pleased with its simplicity and its success.

Inspector Mowat and Mr. Robert Fair also expressed their favourable opinions.

On motion of Mr. Fair and Mr. Hill the matter was referred to the supervision committee of the Board for consideration in detail.

The Resolution.

The resolution, as moved by Mr. R. Fair, and seconded by Mr. W. H. Hill, was read by the former, as follows:

Mr. Chairman,—Having heard Messrs. McMurchy and Mulholland on the advisability of establishing penny savings banks in connection with our schools, and believing that the matter is deserving of our most serious attention, and should be dealt with by the Board of Education, I would therefore move, seconded by Mr. W. H. Hill, that the matter be referred to the Supervision Committee together with the Principal of the Collegiate Institute, Principal of Separate School and the Public School Inspector, who may consult with their teachers, and that they bring in a report at the next meeting of the Board.

I would also couple with this motion the thanks of this meeting to Messrs. McMurchy and Mulholland for the trouble they have taken to bring the matter to the attention of the members of the Board of Education and the teachers of Peterborough.

The Chairman submitted the first part of the motion to the members of the Board of Education and it was carried unanimously.

The Chairman then submitted to the whole meeting the resolution of thanks to Messrs. McMurchy and Mulholland, which was carried by a standing vote.

CARNIVAL AT THE ROLLER RINK

Successful Affair Held Last Evening—Big Crowd in Attendance—The Prize Winners.

There was a large crowd at the Auditorium roller rink last evening, on the occasion of a fancy dress and rube carnival. The band was present and rendered choice selections. The number in costume was large and the dresses worn were both pretty and comical, and many favourable comments were passed on the remarkably fine taste displayed by some in the choosing of their costumes.

The judges of the evening were Messrs. Titterson and Ed Manning. They awarded the prizes as follows:

Best dressed man—Mr. Manden.

Best dressed lady—Miss Elliott.

Best comic costume (gent's.)—M. H. Staunton.

Best comic costume (lady's)—Miss Eona Davies.

Best dressed girl.—Miss Sullivan.

Best dressed boy—Master Perrington.

Valuable prizes were donated and judging from the applause accorded the decisions the winners were the choice of the audience.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 5.—Stocks opened unchanged from last night. The sharp advance in wheat took some of the edge off the market and there was considerable selling by traders who feared quite a setback on this account. When the wheat market opened strong, stocks reacted over a point, but there was some gilt-edged support offered and the bears seeing it did not press stocks for sale. The Harriman Pacific and Steels held like rocks and at noon had lost no ground. Some pool manipulation in the equipment issues put Locomotive and Car Foundry higher. At noon prices were at a standstill with the bull element seemingly content to hold their own and the bears very cautious.

Grain News

Chicago, May 5.—Wheat opened strong and active. May touched 129½, the highest of the year in the first hour and July rose a cent above last night, to 117¼. The market was on a jump every minute. Shorts were chased to cover and had to bid the market up to get any wheat. Some bad crop reports came in from the Southwest and the weather has not shown much improvement. Carn and oats firmer.

Liverpool close: Wheat 1¾d. to 2⅜d. higher; corn ⅜d. higher.

STORY OF AN "ICE SHOVE" ON RICE LAKE

We were bound down the Otonabee river. Rice lake was our objective point. It was early in April, so the river ice had to be contended with. The Mississauga Indian and I were in a 16-foot double cedar canoe—the safest kind; the birch bark kind are liable to crash against a rock or puncture on one in the rapids. We were in a long shore crack, paddling in the flood water that spread out from the marshes and drowned lands. Soon our channel ceased and we had to draw the canoe out onto the ice—a difficult and dangerous task. The fierce March winds and the hot April sun had honey-combed its surface, cracked and riven it in many places, until the whole treacherous mass was ready to plunge down stream with the swift swollen current.

Hawk drove the bow of the craft up on the ice edge, while he paddled fast in the stern to keep it there. I crept over the bow seeking a firm foot-hold and drawing the canoe a little bit further up. Like a big cat, the Indian stepped softly, but swiftly through the canoe, tip-toed out into the shaking ice and pulled the cedar clean out and stood upright on the other side of the bow. Each with a hand on the fore and aft deck combings, the Indian ahead, we dragged it across the slippery surface toward the next open water. At every step the rotten mass shook like jelly; ten steps more and we could launch her. Crash! the Indian's right foot broke through—but before he had time to sink he sprang backwards into the canoe. Its impetus once stopped threw me forward right onto the load; the craft trembling under its swiftly added burden broke through the ice and we floated safely in the hole we had formed. Hawk now stood upright in the bow and with the push-pole broke away into the next crack. This stretch of open water was as calm and cloud-reflected as any mill-pound, and we paddled along its ice-piled sides quite contentedly. "Muhmaje!" (it moves) the Indian cried out. With a swiftly turned paddle and several swift side-draws, we pulled the craft about for the shore. Behind us the calm water was already a turmoil of splashing cakes and crackling, toppling ice. Into an opening we dashed and like a crowd of wild horses, the ice shove careened past, groaning—ringing like bells where the thin cakes jangled together, mounting into shimmering hillocks where it lodged, turning over the huge tamaracks that lay on the river bank—all within two canoe lengths of where we lay in safety.

The wind was a mighty force now. I know we were watching the conflict between the wind and sun and the current against the ice from behind the big boles of the oaks. The wind had the whole immense field—hundreds of thousands of tons—in motion. On-on-up it came, an irresistible mass First it slid over the shallows, just lifting itself in an angle; then it struck the boulder-built blind on the shore (our duck shooting house of last fall-); this went like a house of cards; then it seized the big rocks lying flat on the shore line and tossed these ahead as if they were foam instead of granite. Along came a slanting tilted cake of ice, giving a ride to a square of lime-stone of several hundred pounds weight, then the mighty grinding mass, filled with strange tinkling noises, seized a shore-grown ash tree and pulled it out of its quarter-century bed as easily as we would a green cornstalk—pulled it out tap-root and all.

On came the creamy edged rolling mass of stones, crushed ice and big cakes. It swept over the sloping shore forcing up and carrying ahead every obstruction; the wind had it moving a mile an hour now, and devastion was in its rushing crest. Right beneath me was a big limestone boulder, beside which we had often cooked the early morning breakfast long before the birds were moving. The shove lifted this from its deep-set frozen bed, mounted it up on the steep bank until it met a deeply lodged granite rock and cracked it as easily as we would a walnut in the crackers. This destruction of a half-tap of limestone deeply impressed me as I watched the big cakes ride up the bank; stand erect, glistening and dripping in the sunlight; then topple over on themselves and slide back over the creeping hill with a ringing noise.—Bonnycastledale.

SPLENDID ADDRESSES GIVEN AT SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Rev. S. T. Bartlett and Mr. Matthew Parkinson Spoke to a Large Gathering of Sunday School Workers Last Evening at St. Paul's Church.

CONVENTION CLOSED.

The closing session of the Sunday School Convention at St. Paul's last night was marked by two addresses of unusual force and interest. The attendance was a most gratifying one, and must certainly have been of untold value to the large number of Sunday School teachers who heard it. The addresses were given in the most interesting manner, but the principal feature of them was the wealth of practical suggestion that was offered in a thoroughly practical way.

The first speaker was Rev. S. T. Bartlett, of Toronto, superintendent of Methodist Sunday Schools for the Dominion, and he dealt with the question of the worth of the Sunday school in his discussion of his timely and masterfully-handled topic, "Does the Sunday School Pay " He was followed by Mr. Matthew Parkinson, of Toronto, in a pithy and decidedly interesting and useful discourse on "The Organized Adult Bible Class."

Rev. H. J. Keith, president of the City Sunday School Association, occupied the chair and presided in his usual efficient manner.

Mr. Bartlett was very glad indeed of the opportunity to address the convention on that important subject.

In a convention like the one of last night it was impossible to tell who was who, as far as denomination was concerned, and that was a splendid thing. The speaker believed that more and more of those of all denominations were catching the spirit of the Master.

The whole Christian world was alive to the value of the Sunday School, and yet there were many in the Christian world who did not know its value.

"Does the Sunday-School Pay?"

Before we could determine whether the Sunday School paid we had to ascertain as to its character, its cost, its recompense.

What was the character of the work? It was not simply to inform the boy or girl in the Sunday School of the truth, but an appetite for that truth must be awakened and the way to employ the truth must be taught, that he or she may become an efficient worker in the Kingdom of God. The boy and girl must have the Bible for without it they could not be a man or a woman.

There was too much superficial work done by Sunday School workers. It should be borne in mind that God worked from the centre to the circumference—from the heart out.

God grew everything in nature, and did it in character and life. The Sunday School teacher made a big mistake to think that the teacher's mission was simply to inform the class about the Bible. The Sunday School work of to-day should be more thorough, and would be if the teacher realized that the Word of God was vital.

It paid the community, it paid the nation and it paid the Kingdom of God.

The teacher was to be pitied who thought that Sunday School work could be taken easily. The work of the teacher was to translate the great living principles of the Bible. Could that be taken easily?

The more that was put into the work the greater would be the compensation. The class must be impressed that the teacher was a living embodiment of what he or she was teaching. To do this cost something, but how great was the compensation? If efficiency was to be obtained in anything the price had to be paid. The speaker conveyed the impression by his latter remarks that it would cost diligence, patience and prayerful thought to deliver the message to the class properly.

"Go into the homes that have been touched by the Sunday School agency and brought more into a unit for the light of God, and would we not say it paid?"

Rev. Mr. Keith said he was sure all felt deeply gratified and greatly enlightened by the splendid address by Mr. Bartlett.

The Organized Adult Bible Class.

Mr. Parkinson said it was high time for the brawny men and high-minded women to wake out of their sleep for the day was at hand. Three great movements of the present time were the Students' Volunter Movement, the Laymen's Missionary Movement, and the Organized Adults' Bible Class

In the wake of the two first named came the Bible Class, which sought to do so much in the cause of Christ by effort and organization.

Why was this movement necessary? Nothing was successful for which there was not a place and the speaker gave convincing proof that there was a place for the Organized Adult Bible Class.

It was up to the church to reclaim the men and hold them, and the only way to bring them back was with that good old Anglo-Saxon Bible. With that Bible the Adult Bible Class defied the world.

Even if the Bible were only studied as a matter of literature or biography it was worth while. But it wasn't for that that the Bible should be studied. Its teachings gave comfort in the time of sorrow, and laid down a rule of life. The Adult Bible Class sought to group men and women around the study of this work.

The whole principle of the movement was an organized class. An organized class was a class at work, and an unorganized class was a teacher at work. The moment the teacher got the class at work it was bound to be a success.

"Will you have a little common sense about your Bible Class?" asked the speaker, "That about the only way I could say that, and I have come all the way from Toronto to say it."

The hearts of men and women must be interested in things that they were doing.

The speaker gave many forcible illustrations of things done that were "worth while," and showed beyond dispute that the Adult Bible Class was one of these. His word pictures were simple, touching and interesting, and his hearers listened with rapt attention.

It must be determined if results were to be accomplished, that the Adult Bible Class should be in the work for service, and that device must be of the highest.

On behalf of the audience at the request of the chairman, Messrs. Moore and Kid dspoke in warm words of the great value of the address.

Simpson Rennie, York Co., Ont.

What should be expected of a first-prize farm? All obstructions to cultivation such as stumps and stones should be removed, the stumps either burned or made into wood and the stones placed in neat piles where convenient if required for building purposes, but in no cases should any be thrown along the fence sides.

Where the land in its natural state is or would be wet, it must be tiled drained, for money cannot be made out of growing grain on wet land.

The fences should principally be what is called the straight rail, or wire. In the older parts of Ontario, at least where fences are to be built, the day of the old crooked rail fence is past. Where a farm is laid out into fields, each field should be supplied with a well painted gate and well hung on hinges so that it will swing clear back without dragging on the ground. If possible, for convenience in working, no field should have any gore. The plowing should be straight and evenly done, no high beginning, nor deep unsightly finishes. The grain should be evenly sown and well put in. When it grows up the crops throughout the farm should show a strong even growth, which indicates careful manuring.

Very few weeds should be seen throughout the farm, especially in the grain fields. The weed problem of late has become a very important factor in good farming. Just show me a man who knows how and keeps down the weeds and I will show you a prosperous farmer. The orchard should be carefully planted in straight rows and the trees should be well pruned, but not to excess. Many orchards are ruined by being pruned too severely. Again, the small fruit and vegetable garden should contain at least sufficient to supply the household. The vegetables should be grown in straight rows so that the cultivation can be done with a horse. Labor is too costly to do this work by hand on the ordinary farm.

All buildings should be conveniently situated to accommodate the whole farm, and the outside woodwork should be painted. The interior of the barn buildings should be neatly kept and convenient for the certain line of farming followed. The house should be neat and convenient but not unreasonably large. A large house is not only costly to build, but is costly to keep up in the way of heating, furnishing, cleaning, etc. All that should be desired, would be a house large enough to suit every convenience of the farm. The front lawn should not be very large either, but should not be without a few ornamental trees. The average farmer can't afford the time to keep a large lawn in trim condition; so it is better to have a small lawn well kept than to have a large lawn partially neglected.

Implements and vehicles should be kept under cover and in good repair. A few implements in good repair are far better than a whole building full of implements that are out of repair. I have been on farms where there was such an accumulation of old broken down implements and vehicles that there was scarcely room inside for the new. Would it not be better to dispose of the old and make sufficient room inside for the new which on no account should stand outside exposed ?

Cast[illegible]'s Plans.

San Sebastian, May 5.—Gen. Castro has told several persons here that he would leave Spain for Ecuador, where he would await events which would permit him to return to Venezuela "even by force."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The stilt contest that is going to be run off on Saturday afternoon by the boys of the Y.M.C.A. is causing much interest among the boys.

The following events have been arranged:

Fifty-yard dash.

One-hundred-yard dash.

One-quarter-mile run.

Running-broad jump

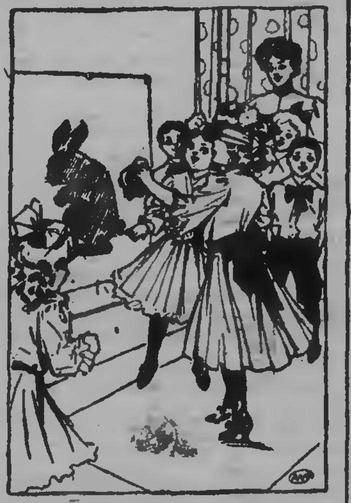
The stilts will have to be regulation length, blocks being 16 to 18 in. from ground. Races will commence sharp at 2 p.m., and will be run off in Central Park.

A BUNNY PARTY.

March Hare Entertainment In Honor of Small Girl's Birthday.

When the problem of entertaining in honor of a wee tot's birthday arises, nothing is better to decide upon than a bunny party, particularly if the function is to take place in March. All children are fond of these cute little animals, and they love to see them reproduced in favors and in the decorations. At a recent bunny party small tables seating five each were used, and in place of the conventional tablecloth covers of white paper damask were employed. These paper covers are dainty and artistic and can be thrown away when the party is over. Attractive favors were used at a bunny party described in Good Housekeeping. They were tissue paper caps, masks and boas, each rolled in a crape paper napkin, slipped in turn through an ornamental ring of cardboard which was covered with decorated crape paper to match the napkin. A brilliant poinsettia design was chosen, and it is very necessary to select a quality bearing a fast color guarantee in order that no stains may deface the pretty party dresses. The place cards were adorned with the tiniest carrots, pumpkins, lettuces and radishes modeled with minute perfection in tissue paper. Rabbits love vegetation and little folks love noise, so horns were made for favors and prizes. The required number of pasteboard horns were purchased and an investment made in tissue papers, tags, wires and a small tube each of glue and art paste. Around the mouth of each horn was fashioned a vegetable or fruit. Pumpkins, tomatoes and apples were stuffed with cotton and painted to look like the original.

For holding the ice cream baskets were made in the form of heads of lettuce. Rabbit heads cut from cardboard were glued to the handles of the baskets where they looked mighty pert and saucy. Paper plates were used decorated with poinsettias cut from the crape paper dollies. Each plate rested upon a mat composed of tissue lettuce leaves. In the center of each table, says Good Housekeeping, several horns were heaped, the arrangement being such that only the vegetable portions were visible, and their real nature was not disclosed until, upon a signal, each guest pulled a ribbon which had one end fastened to a horn and the other to one of the vegetable place cards.



PUTTING LETTUCE LEAF IN BUNNY'S MOUTH.

Additional favors were dancing rabbits, just grotesque enough to suggest the proverbial "madness" of the March hare. These were constructed in the same manner as the rabbit heads upon the lettuce baskets. They were glued to slender sticks, tissue wound and decorated with long tassels of glistening silver tinsel. Five of the sticks were wound with pumpkin yellow, five with lettuce green and others with poinsettia scarlet, the colors corresponding with those of the ribbons at the respective tables. On the apex of each mound of vegetables capered a bunny similar to those on the wand.

The simple refreshments consisted of lettuce and chicken sandwiches, creamed French peas served in ramekin cases, rabbit shaped cookies covered with maple icing and orange and chocolate ice cream. Among the games that were played was an exciting attempt to place a lettuce leaf in bunny's mouth, after the well known fashion of pinning the tail on the donkey. The piecing together of homemade cut-up puzzles and readings from "Uncle Remus" filled the remainder of the time.

A Makeshift Pillow.

"Don't choose that one," said the schoolgirl hostess as a classmate picked up a pillow gay with big red roses to tuck under her head. "That's my makeshift, and you might as well try to rest on the back of a porcupine as on that knobby thing."

"What is it stuffed with—corncobs?" asked the visitor. "I never felt anything so lumpy."

"They are convenient lumps that you will want to cultivate as soon as I let you into my secret. That is my patch bag. Instead of eiderdown it has old letters, receipted bills, rolls of material from my clothes that mother gave me for mending, extra balls of darning cotton and a couple of pieces of fancy work.

"There was no place to store the accumulation of stuff that one can't help collecting, so I hit on the plan of stuffing a pillow with it.

"You see that case buttons along the end, and whenever I don't know where to put a thing that must be kept in it goes. I try to keep it underneath the other pillows as a prop, but it is always the first one selected. I advise you to make yours with a less attractive cover."

As a Tonic Bass' Barley Wine Has No Equal

Two things are absolutely necessary to produce a successful malt extract.

To be of any value it must be aged and free from fermentation, otherwise it will not keep for a prolonged period.

It must be made from the choicest barley malt and selected hops.

Most of the so-called malt extracts are made from the refuse of the brew.

It's true that these are barley malt and hops but with the bulk of the nutritive principles taken out.

These extracts are bottled immediately after they are made.

To prevent fermentation taking place, while the malt is in the bottle, salicylic acid and other preparations are used.

Salicylic acid, if taken into the system for any length of time, brings on serious kidney troubles.

Bass' Barley Wine is made from the finest selected barley and choicest hops—not from the refuse of the brew.

To remove fermentation, it is matured for three years in casks before it is bottled.

When you use Bass' Barley Wine you are using an absolutely pure malt extract, which in process of making, has become partly digested.

For this reason, and on account of its pleasant taste, it is easily assimilated by the most delicate stomach.

As a tonic for nursing mothers, for insomnia, nervous troubles, etc. Bass' Barley Wine has no equal.

This wine is the finest product of the greatest brewers in the world—Bass & Co.

Bass' Barley Wine costs 30 cents a bottle

DO YOU TELL THE TRUTH?

Face the Fact Squarely and See if You Always Do.

Many a girl who would scorn a direct lie would be shocked to know that she comes short of perfect integrity. Learn to give full measure in all you do and say if you would not have your integrity questioned.

The girl who wastes the time of her employer may not think herself dishonest, but isn't she? There are times to play and times to work.

Each time you say, "No one will ever know," and bank upon it to do things not to be considered in the open you are wanting in integrity of conscience. Be honest with yourself and ask, "Why would I hate them to know?" It will save many an ugly break.

The girl who means to, but doesn't, is wanting in integrity of purpose. Meaning to and doing are as comparable as the head tones of Tetrazzini and a village soprano. Unfulfilled good intentions make for dishonesty of will power and tend to shiftlessness of mind.

The girl who doesn't pay her bills promptly may not think herself wanting in integrity, but if she is not altogether cheating others of their rights she is living on interest that should go to the bank account of another.

Cramming for examinations is rarely thought want of integrity yet—why not? It is dishonest to ourselves and to our parents. The good report is for surface brilliancy only.

What of the flatterer and the girl who tells a good story at any cost? Is her integrity what it should be? It may breed social success, but not a character to stand probing for truth.

There is something weak in the integrity of the girl who borrows and forgets to return, who is always late for engagements or fails to keep them entirely, who promises and fails to make good.

RAINY DAY WISDOM.

The girl who chooses the rainy day to overhaul all her belongings at once may wish she had not been so energetic if the sun fools her by coming out unexpectedly.

The girl who selects the rainy day to go in sloppy attire is a depressing sight for her family and generally gets fooled in her belief that "no one will call such a day."

Don't choose the rainy day to be so gloomy that crape on a door seems cheerful in comparison. If you must get low in your mind, when the sun shines is more opportune.

If you ever keep sweet, do so in a downpour. To scowl or fight one's inoffensive family when shut in the house by bad weather is as mean as cornering a woman to learn her age.

Instead of growling at the "beastly day," try the soothing power of keeping busy. There is nothing like a rainy day to repair the ravages of one's wardrobe or to catch up in back letters.

The girl who cultivates catlike hatred of getting wet loses a big opportunity to improve her complexion. A walk in the rain is not only an antidote for blues, but is a wonderful tonic to the skin.

Don't look out the window every five minutes for sight of the sun nor bore your family with the useless whine, "I wish it would clear." The sun never shone for wishing, and clouds are not lightened by thunderclouds within.

No Suffering Too Great.

Not long since a young woman suffering with an incurable disease applied for admission to a hospital in a southern city.

"I know I must die," she said simply to the attendant physician, "but do something to keep me alive for a little while for my babies' sake. In a few years they will not need me so much."

Her one chance lay in a very painful operation, but her heart was so weak that the surgeon dared not administer an anaesthetic. Very gently he explained the situation—the operation would make but a year's difference at most; it seemed hardly worth while to suffer so much for so brief a respite; she would best go home and—wait. But the little woman shook her head.

With mother love shining in her eyes, she allowed herself to be strapped upon the operating table and there willingly underwent the torture of the knife that gave her a few months to devote to her precious babies.—Delineator.

An Amendment.

"I'm a terror, I be," announced the new arrival in Frozen Dog to one of the men behind the bar.

"Be ye?"

"Takes three men to handle me once I get started," he went on.

* * * * * * *

"Oh, well," he remarked as he arose painfully and dusted off his clothes, "of course if ye're shorthanded I suppose two kin do it on a pinch."—Everybody's.

Located.

"You say that the cook assaulted you?" inquired the judge.

"He did—kicked me, your honor."

"Where did he kick you?"

"In the pantry."

Disconcerting.

It is disconcerting when you have paid out $500 for a violin and $40 for a bow to find that you can't make a squeak on the blamed thing without a ten cent piece of rosin!

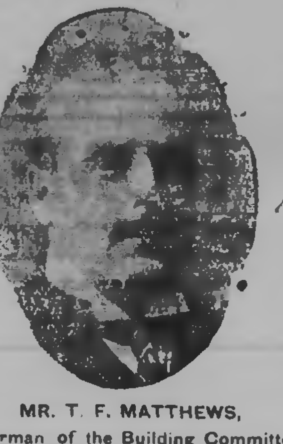
MURRAY STREET CONGREGATION SECURE FINE SITE FOR NEW CHURCH BUILDING

Lot With a Frontage of 171 Feet on Murray Street Has Been Secured and a Church Worthy of the Site Will be Erected Thereon---Mr. Matthews, Chairman.

The congregation of the Murray street Baptist church has been successful in securing a magnificent site for their new church building. This week the congregation purchased the property on the south side of Murray street west of the Y. M. C. A. building, at present occupied by the Yelland blacksmith shop and the Yelland residence, and which includes 114 feet of ground formerly owned by Mr. N. T. Laplante. This will afford an admirable site with a frontage of 171 feet and a depth of 192 feet. There will be only one residence between the church property and the Young Men's Christian Association building, and the church will face on Central Park. It will be splendidly located with the new armouries and new Collegiate Institute, just across the street, and the new Public Library and the George street Methodist church only a block away.

Between $9,000 and $10,000 was paid for the site and it is the intention of the church to erect a building that will be in every way suitable for the magnificent site that has been secured.

Mr. T. F. Matthews has accepted the position of chairman of a very strong building committee to look after the erection of the new church but any discussion of the plans at the present time would be premature.



MR. T. F. MATTHEWS,
Chairman of the Building Committee of the Murray Street Baptist Church.

LIVELY CONTEST FOR PRESIDENCY

Examiner Special (2.45 p. m.)

Toronto, Ont., May 6.—It looks like a lively contest for the Presidency of the Methodist Conference in June. The names mentioned are: Rev. W. H. Hincks, Toronto; Rev. Henry Harper, Orangeville; Prof. Wallace, Victoria College, and Rev. John Locke, of Davenport.

STREET CAR LINE WAS BLOCKADED

Dray Laden With Potatoes Got Caught Between the Rails on Southern Division.

The street car line near the Exhibition grounds was blocked last night by the heavy dray of the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company becoming caught in the rails with a heavy load of potatoes. The steamer Monarch came up the river yesterday with a scow load of 217 bags of potatoes for White and Gillespie. They were purchased from farmers at Rice Lake, and were sold to Oke & Co., to be delivered to Calgary, and Messrs. White and Gillespie were loading them in the cars at the C. P. R. station.

Three or four ordinary drays were loaded with the big one and all started on the up-town journey. The big dray came to grief before reaching the city's southern boundary, and the horses could not pull it out of that position. The other drays had to make trips, unloading the big affair, and the line was not cleared until nine o'clock.

ALD. BULLER SPEAKS IN FAVOUR OF THE PURITY WARE, LTD., BY-LAW FOR THE CITY'S LATEST FACTORY

In speaking of the new factory, the Purity Ware, Limited, of Peterborough, Ald. Buller to-day told the Examiner that he finds the people are talking seriously about the proposition. He was asked the other day what the proposition was. The enquirer stated that he had several reports that were not favourable. Ald Buller explained the by-law, which was given two readings by the council, and on which the people will vote on June 1st. In brief the conditions are as follows:

The city gives a free site of ten acres of land, which, in this case, costs only $3,000.

The city gives exemption from taxes for ten years, except school tax and local improvement taxes.

The city loans, not given, as a few have thought, but loans $50,000 for 20 years at 4 per cent. interest. After the first ten years that loan is paid back in ten annual payments of $5,000 each.

In return for this the company erects a factory 200 x 500 feet at a cost of not less than $50,000. Machinery is to be installed valued (by an independent valuator) at $100,000 at least.

They will employ to start 100 hands for ten months the first year and 150 hands each year thereafter for 19 years.

They will give the city a first mortgage on the building and fixed machinery to cover the loan.

The company are backed by one of the strongest manufacturing companies in the United States. It is lending its name to the Peterborough Company, which is a guarantee that the new factory will be a profitable enterprise.

The company will have a working capital of $100,000 fully subscribed and paid up before work is started, so that from a financial point of view there can be no failure.

There are many other good features about this company and Ald. Buller states that he considers it one of the most substantial industries which has recently been organized and Peterborough gets it at comparatively little cost.

There is no more profitable reading that the citizens of Peterborough can find than the by-law to aid the Purity Ware, Limited, which is to be voted on next June 1st.

Visit Of Regiments On May 24th Will Be One Of The Important Events In The City's History

Will Spend Sunday and Monday Here---Church Parade and Sacred Band Concerts in Afternoon and Evening---Review on Monday.

OPENING OF THE ARMOURIES

The preliminary arrangements for the opening of the new Armouries are now being prepared, and from the information already gained the occasion will be one of the most important in the history of the city. Colonel Campbell, Major McCordick and Major Burleigh, of the 19th regiment, of St. Catharines, arrived in the city last night at ten o'clock and this morning Colonel Ashton, Major Genet and Major Robertson, of the 38th Dufferin Rifles, of Brantford arrived on the C.P.R. morning train. They met a number of the officers of the local regiment with reference to the plans for their arrival and the outline of the manner in which they will spend the two days in Peterborough.

The St. Kitts Regiment will arrive on the G.T.R. and Brantford's soldiers will come in on the C.P.R. They will reach Peterborough early Sunday morning, May 23rd, probably about five or six o'clock. They will go into camp on Central Park. The Dufferin Rifles will have bell tents and their fellow soldiers from St. Catharines will camp in one large tent. The plan of the events has not been prepared, but a few items are already known.

Church Parade

There will be a church parade on Sunday morning, the massed regiments going to St. Paul's Church. On Sunday afternoon there will be sacred band concerts and also in the evening.

The people of Peterborough will have an opportunity of hearing plenty of music and of comparing their own crack band and regiment with the visitors. On Monday there will be a parade and review and in the afternoon the formal opening of the armouries will take place. Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, will formally open the new building. The event will be a great one, to use a popular term, and Peterborough should see a great crowd in the city for this important occasion.

Local Man Goes Up For Trial On A Charge Of Committing Perjury

Outcome of Evidence Given in Case Against Him for Having Been Drunk While Being on the "Indian List" — Appeared in Court To-day.

WAS GRANTED BAIL.

A resident of this city was committed for trial at the police court this morning on a charge of having committed perjury in court last week while giving evidence in a case against him for being drunk after having been placed on the blacklist. Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the prosecution and Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the prisoner and did not elect nor plead.

The Evidence

City Clerk Armstrong was called. He produced the information laid on April 29th, and the evidence taken on April 30th.

P. C. Meharry swore that he served the prisoner with a summons for being drunk on Thursday last. There was no doubt but that the prisoner was drunk when arrested. On Friday morning, witness saw the accused sworn and heard him give his evidence which was afterwards signed.

Chief Roszel was present in the police court when the prisoner was being tried for being drunk. The accused was sworn and his evidence read over to him and before being asked to sign it, His Worship asked him to think it over in order to avoid further trouble, but it was signed, the accused saying it was true.

P. C. Meagher swore as to the prisoner being drunk when he was brought to the police station.

Alexander Nesbitt was in the court when the prisoner gave his evidence and at the conclusion of it made a remark that it was pretty bad evidence. What caused him to say such a thing was that he saw the defendant carrying a bottle but he could not say what was in it. He saw him coming out of a liquor store. It was either Wednesday or Thursday list.

When pressed by the Crown Attorney as to what were his actual words regarding the prisoner's evidence he admitted that they were "I wouldn't commit perjury like that for a good deal." He had in mind what he saw previous to the trial, that is the prisoner with the bottle coming out of a liquor store.

The prisoner was allowed out on bail of $500.

IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

The authorities of the Murray Street Baptist Church, are to be congratulated and commended upon the acquisition of a fine new church property on Murray street. The congratulation is justified on the ground that the new site for a new church indicates progress and prosperity, and the situation itself and the uses to which it will be put suggests the commendation. It is a beautiful one—171 feet fronting the open space of Central Park. The possession of the property will mean ultimately new church buildings, which will contribute worthily to the making of Central Park a centre of stately and beauty to the public, quite apart from acquirement of this property is of interes o the public, quite apart from ecclesiastical considerations.

Upon, and practically contigious to Central Park are the splendid New Armouries and Collegiate Institute buildings, the Y. M. C. A. building and the projected New Murray Street Baptist Church and the projected New Public Library buildings.

PENNY BANKS FOR SCHOOLS

The educational system, or curriculem which does not provide for training children to become all-round good citizens, equipped for the effective discharge of all the duties of citizenship, cannot be regarded as an ideal, or even, a good one. What is lacking largely in the national Canadian character in the faculty or habit of thrift—which,in its restricted meaning, involves a sense of the value of money and knowledge of its proper use. It is not to be doubted, that about nine-tenths of the poverty and destitution which make demands for relief upon the fruits of the thrift of our better citizens are due to lack of habits of thrift, lack of economical use of money. And it is not to be doubted that those who succeed in life, and become possessed of a competence, if not wealth, owe their success to the application of the virtue of thrift.

Under these circumstances it is a pleasure to note that the Board of Education gave a courteous and sympathetic welcome to the apostles of thrift, Mr. Angus McMurchy, K. C., Toronto, and Mr. R. A. Mulholland, of Port Hope, who came here to address the Board of Education, in the interests of the introduction of the Penny Savings Bank system, which is in successful and satisfactory operation in the schools of these places, into the schools of Peterborough. The Board did well to endorse the principle and refer the matter to a committee "to consult the teachers."

In one sense there was no need to refer the matter to a committee—there needs no proof of the immense benefits—financially and in relation to the formation of habit and character—which follow the application of the system. Nor is there any need to question the practical working of the system; what is applied with success and without friction in Port Hope and Toronto, and other schools in the province can be applied in connection with our own schools.

There are objections raised to the Penny Bank system—there are two sides to every subject. One is that it develops miserly habits in children—no more than miserly habits are developed or fostered by Post Office or Chartered Saving Banks. Another objection is made that poor pupils will be humiliated by the deposits of those from well-to-do homes. Every child's savings bank book is private and unless the child tells no one but the teacher knows the amount of his or her deposit.

Another objection made is that the time of the teachers is, at present, occupied with an absurdly profuse and top-heavy curiculum and that they will have their attention distracted from the lofty ideal of "passing" the number of pupils necessary to meet the requirements of our educational machine. This objection, if it is one to be seriously entertained, can easily be removed. Our teachers and especially the children are burdened with a multiplicity of subjects, all more or less good in the abstract, but possessing, many of them, more literary than educational value; more of the ornamental, the useful in the daily battle of life for which the pupil is theoritically being trained. If at present, the curiculum is over-burdened with subjects to an extent to constitute a terror to both teacher and pupil, some of them can be eliminated to advantage in order to provide for one supremely important. If our educational system is not elastic enough to provide for training pupils in one of the most important elements of citizenshop, it should have more elasticity provided. If the Penny Bank system, generally adopted tends to a revision of our educational system or aggregation, to make it more practically valuable in equipping children mentally and morally to fight the battle of life to the best advantage, another merit will be added to the intrinsic merit it possesses. A consideration like this should enable our school board to easily overcome the objection that the Penny Bank adds to the already onerous work of the teacher.

Sight should not be lost of the national character of the influence of a generally adopted system of Penny Banks. A generation of children growing up under its influence, will to a large degree possess habits of thrift which will constitute a revolutionary material and moral up-lift. Thrift is not only an element in mere money saving; it has much higher and broader meanings. It suggests economy—the right use of all our powers and faculties—a sense of the proper value and use of time, of responsibility and all that enters into the fulfilment of the duties of citizenship and virtuous living.

One short reference or even one long one, cannot exhaust this subject. In view of its outstanding importance, the Examiner will give place in its columns to a discussion of every phase of it. Letters to be most effective might deal with only one aspect of it at a time.

Thrift, in its highest meaning is the economical use—employment to the highest defree—of all our resources and powers of body and mind—and soul.

WHAT WE PA YFOR DRINK.

Official figures inform us that during the year ended March 31st, 1908. Canadians consumed forty-seven millinon gallons of spirits, wines and malt liquors. That means seven-eighths of a gallon per year, or one sixth of a pint per day for every man, woman and child in the Dominion. At this rate the London Advertiser has reckoned that every thousand of the population drank 889 gallons of spirits, 5,218 gallons of beer, and 96 gallons of wine. This is a slight increase over the consumption during the previous year, but is much below that of some other countries. The Canadian liquor drinker prefers the home production, as the following table of consumption for the year shows:

	Gallons.
Canadian spirits	3,927,312
Imported spirits	2,127,478
Canadian malt liquors	38,800,340
Imported malt liquors	1,096,256
Wines	1,386,235

A careful estimate places the amount paid by the consumers for this liquor at $76,867,649. The revenue to the Dominion Government from customs and excise duties, brewery and malt house licenses, etc., amounted to $14,669,627. In addition are the provincial and municipal revenues, amounting to probably $2,000,000 more, and all comes out of the pocket of the drinker.

The special census of 1906 sets forth that the liquor trade employs 150 men for every $1,000,000 of capital invested, and pays $66,000 in wages, while the average per $1,000,000 invested in other industries is 472 employees and over $198,000 in wages.

"CONFISCATORY LEGISLATION"

Mr. Goldwin Smith, in the Weekly Sun, thus deals with what he has called the confiscatory legislation of the Whitney Government:

The Canada Law Journal may be premused to be a good authority on a question of law. In it we read:

> The Premier's enactment has undertaken to make that legal which the courts have declared to be illegal, and by so doing has shaken public confidence in the stability of contracts legitimately entered into, and in the ability of the courts to maintain them. Thus the whole subject of civil contracts and the rights of property is placed at the mercy of a single elective body, chosen as partizans, and led by men subject to all the influences of party government. There is to the aggrieved no means of redress. The power of disallowing acts of the provincial legislature vested in the Dominion government, which the constitution intended as a protection against hasty or unfair legislation may or may not be exercised. There may be reasons why it should be exercised, as there seem to be in this case reasons which did not obtain in others where disallowance has been refused. But however that may be, an investor in this Province must now see that he has no certainty that transactions which appear to be based upon principles of law and equity to-day, may not be declared illegal to-morrow for no other reason than that some adverse influence has been able to gain the support of a minister backed by a majority willing to accept his dictum upon a subject in which many of them have no interest, and with the merits of which they have not the information to deal.
>
> The consequences of such a usurpation, though party feelings or financial gain will make us heedless of them for the present, can hardly fail to appear when foreign investors learn the state of the case.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In the land of easy divorce to the south of us, they don't speak of a widower's "first wife," but of "his former wife," or if greater nicety of statement is desirable, "one of his former wives"; not his "late wife," or "one of his late wives."

The Guelph Ministerial Association has condemned the tub hat of these latter days and other forms of roof gardens. Men in general, in advance of the Ministerial Association, have condmned these hats, but expressed their disapproval by using a shorter form of the word condemn.

The Liberal tariff policy is a tariff for all parts of the Dominion, and it is generally just to all parts. The Conservative party advocates a high tariff policy, which does not meet the acceptance of even itself—or a part of it. The western Conservative members are decidedly in Opposition to the high tariff eastern wing of the party, and are prepared, in the interests of their constituents, to support the tariff-for-revenue policy of the Liberal Government, which suits all sorts and conditions of men, except a few extremists or a few seekers for special favours at the expense of the mass of the people.

WHAT WAR MEANS FOR THE BURDEN BEARERS

(Weekly Sun.)

In a time of profound peace, and with no great public works to be carried out such as are under way in Canada, the British Government finds itself with an expenditure during the current year of nearly $80,000,000 in excess of revenue. The princpal cause of this enormous deficit is found in the vast expenditures on the building of warships, due to the rivalry in armaments in which Great Britain and Germany are at present engaged. As a means of making income and outgo meet, the Chancellor of the Exchequer proposes to reduce the amount set aside for debt redemption, and to increase the levies on liquors and tobaccos, on large incomes, and on estates passing from the dead to the living, etc.

But all these efforts, if expenditure is to go on increasing, and this is bound to occur if the race for supremacy in armaments is continued, will prove futile. Other sources of income will have to be found, and the London Investors' Review indicates one direction in which these may be looked for. The Review proposes that all incomes down as low as $4.80 per week be taxed for national purposes. It thinks that two pence a week, say $4 a year, might be taken from such incomes—insufficient one would think to meet the bare cost of the necessaries of life—for the purpose of adding to the revenue of the national exchequer. On larger earnings greater deductions would be made, and to make sure of receiving the taxes it is proposed that the employer be made the tax gatherer. The proposed burdens, for those already pressed to earth are entirely new; they are in addition to the national taxes now paid on tobacco, spirits, tea, coffee, sugar and other articles, and over and above the local rates paid for local purposes. They indicate merely a part of the burden militarism is placing on the galled backs of Europe's poor; they are illuminating as showing what may happen here if those who are endeavouring to inoculate America with the war madness if Europe have their way.

OTONABEE ITEMS OF INTEREST

Stewarts, Otonabee, May 5.—The grass in this vicinity is getting green.

THE POLICE CHIEF IS FOUND GUILTY

Leamington Police Chief Guilty of Manslaughter.

TO BE SENTENCED TO-DAY

Man Who Shot W. J. Healy While Trying to Arrest Him Is Convicted After Two and a Half Hours—Two Many Ontario Constables Carry Firearms, Declares the Crown Attorney Yesterday.

Chatham, May 6.—Elliott J. Kimball, chief of police at Leamington, was last night convicted of manslaughter. The jury were out two and a half hours. He will be sentenced to-day.

It was admitted that Kimball had shot W. J. Healy in Tilbury while the latter was attempting to escape from custody. It was merely a question of whether it was an accident or whether the prisoner was guilty of negligence in the handling of firearms. The crown relied upon certain statements made by Kimball after the shooting, such as "He was getting away and no constable likes to go after a man and be fooled." The defence was pure accident.

In the examination of Smith, the chief at Tilbury, Justice Teetzel made some pointed remarks. Smith said he carried a club and a loaded revolver for his own protection.

His lordship: "Do you carry it to wing prisoners who are getting away?"

Witness: "No."

His lordship: "Well, you had better get that out of your head if you do. What right have you to carry a gun?"

Witness: "It is in the constable's guide book. The town clerk also said I had a right to carry one."

O. L. Lewis, K.C., Kimball's counsel, said that all constable in western Ontario carried weapons and the Justice said: "Well, they don't in many cities."

In his address to the jury, W. J. Hanna, K.C., for the crown said: "There are too many constables like this man going around the country with a gun in one pocket and a cudgel in the other. We don't wish to turn such men loose in the community. It will do constables good to punish this one and will show them that they have no right to pull their guns upon such a slight pretence."

His lordship pointed out that a policeman has no right to shoot an escaping prisoner. He had the right to carry weapons to defend himself, but he was not warranted in killing a man. He could use violence for defence or to subdue and prevent a man from breaking away, but had no right to shoot at a prisoner once he got away."

"No policeman is warranted in killing another man unless it is undoubtedly sure that it is necessary in saving his own life or the life of some one else whom it is his duty to protect," said his lordship.

Where Is Crew?

Kingstown, St. Vincent, B.W.I., May 6.—It may be that Capt. Collin Stephenson and the crew of the American whaling ship Carrie D. Knowles, long since thought to have been lost at sea, are still alive in Venezuelan prison. An American seaman, who gives the name of Payne, an escaped prisoner from Venezuela, has made his way to Kingstown, where he laid before the authorities an astounding story of the seizure of the Carrie D. Knowles at a Venezuelan port, where she arrived five years ago in distress, and the incarceration by the Venezuelans of the captain and his men.

"Silver Dart" Won't Go.

Baddeck, N.S., May 6.—McCurdy and Baldwin, the two young Nova Scotia aeronauts who have been invited by The London Daily Mail to send the aerodrome "Silver Dart" across the Atlantic, to compete for the £1,000 prize, one mile flight, by heavier-than-air machines, made by Englishmen, with an English aviator on board, cabled The Mail yesterday: "Plans too indefinite to enter competition."

A Call for Mr. Owens.

London, May 6.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Referring to C. L. Owens' attack on British shoddy in the Commons at Ottawa, The Financier, says it is regrettable that a man competent to be a member of the Dominion Parliament should indulge in such lurid talk against commercial opponents.

Big Fire In British Columbia.

Nelson, May 6.—Fire on Tuesday almost completely wiped out the little town of Westley, 25 miles west of here, on the boundary. The Yale Columbia Lumber Co.'s loss is $100,000.

APPETITE GONE NO ZEST FOR EATING

Loss of appetite means a sluggish system.

ROGHMOND TO HANG.

Negro Murderer Gets Full Penalty For Fiendish Crime.

Stratford, May 6.—Frank Roghmond, negro, was yesterday found guilty of murdering Mrs. Mary Peake at her home in the Township of Downie on Sept. 30 last. Last night he was sentenced by Justice Riddell to be hanged on June 28 next.

Roghmond was found apparently asleep in the cellar of the Peake home beside the dead body of Mrs. Peake by one of the sons, who had come in from the fields for a drink. Circumstances indicated that an outrage had been committed and medical evidence went to show that death was the result of physical and mental shock and that the woman had been roughly used.

Justice Riddell in his charge to the jury commented strongly on the nature of the crime and the complete character of the evidence advanced.

Aloysius Guerin was found guilty of manslaughter shortly before midnight. The case was one in which Alexander Sutherland of West Zorra was found dead at the rear door of Guerin's house in February last. Justice Riddell will impose sentence today.

It is perhaps unprecedented that two such serious cases have been disposed of in one day in the same court. Justice Riddell has imposed the death sentence three times within about six months.

BRIEFS FROM THE WIRES.

Cincinnati business men are favorable to a "daylight saving bill" for that city.

The Australian Government has accepted the invitation to the defence conference in July.

A Chicago waiter struck and killed a youth who made a derogatory remark about a piece of pie.

A hurricane recently in the New Hebrides Islands resulted in a tidal wave, much destruction of property and the loss of many lives.

Striking union bakers in New York yesterday attacked several east side shops where non-union men were at work, resulting in rioting and several arrests.

Charles L. Macdonald, arrested in Toronto Saturday on false pretence charges, was yesterday allowed suspended sentence by the magistrate at London.

Destructive prairie fires raged throughout Regina district Tuesday. McNally Bros., ten miles southwest of the city, lost all their buildings, feed and seed.

Worn out by months of severe suffering from rheumatism and determined to end his pain, Joseph Allan, 56 year old, suicided yesterday at Windsor with chloroform.

An Abandoned Cemetery.

Port Hope, May 6.—At a meeting of the High School Board Tuesday night Trustee Clark called attention to the condition of the deserted Methodist cemetery, adjoining the school grounds. As the deeds and papers have been lost for years, the place has fallen into bad condition. "The boys on Saturdays play ball on the high school grounds," said Mr. Clark, "and last week I saw a number of lads busy at a game, using the headstones from the graves as bases. One stone with the name of a reverend doctor of divinity on it was the home plate. It's a shame."

No action was taken, as several attempts to settle the question of the costs of repairs have been made.

Scientists to Experiment.

London, May 6.—Public meetings voicing widespread protests in the matter of the Government's apathy in the field of aeronautics have had their effect and Premier Asquith yesterday announced that the authorities were providing adequate funds to employ the highest scientific talent with the object of desiging and constructing dirigible balloons and aeroplanes and to carry on a continuous series of experiments and investigations. The work has been divided between the navy and the army and a special committee under the presidency of Lord Rayleigh, Chancellor of Cambridge University, has been appointed to act as general advisers to the scientific problems involved.

Tendered Three Times.

Montreal, May 6.—In the civic enquiry yesterday, most of the time was spent looking into the purchase and remodelling of No. 12 police station. For the remodelling Oscar Proulx, brother of Ald. Proulx, the successful tenderer, put in three tenders in different names. He said that this was his way of doing business.

Grafters Sentenced.

Pittsburg, May 6.—Sentences were imposed in Criminal Court yesterday by Judge Fraser on seven persons convicted within the last few weeks in the municipal graft cases. The sentences follow: W. V. Ramsey, former National Bank president, convicted of bribery, one year and six months imprisonment and a fine of $1,000; Capt. John F. Klein, councilman, two years and a fine of $1,000 on the bribery conviction, and one year and six months on the conspiracy conviction; Joseph G. Wasson and W. Brand, former councilmen, each one year and six months and a fine of $500 for conspiracy; H. M. Bolger, hotelkeeper, two years and a fine of $500 for bribery; Charles Colbert and John Colbert, convicted of attempting to bribe jury in the Ramsey bribery case, two years and a fine of $500.

Done With Oriental Labor.

New Westminster, B.C., May 6.—A. D. McRae, president and general manager of the Fraser River Lumber Co., whose mill at New Westminster is one of the largest in the world, announces that he is through with oriental labor for good.

"I intend immediately to make arrangements for the importation of a French-Canadian colony to New Westminster," he said. "We will give the people land and build them churches and do everything we can to make them satisfied."

Prince of Wales an Indian.

Brantford, May 6.—Three war whoops marked the conclusion of the reading of a letter from the Prince of Wales to the Six Nations Indians in council at Ohsweken. The prince thanked the chiefs for electing him to the Turtle Clan.

One hundred school teachers of this city, Paris and rural districts will journey to Buffalo on May 24 by special train.

An extension to the Isolation Hospital will double its capacity for the use of county patients.

May Electrify the G.T.P.

Montreal, May 6.—The project of electrification of the G.T.P. from Montreal to Moncton, 460 miles, seems to be under serious consideration. The power which would be utilized would be the Grand Falls on the St. John river, about half-way between the two points, and in connection with the lakes would give 150,000 horse-power.

Changes In Turkish Cabinet.

Constantinople, May 6.—Hilma Pasha and Mollah Sahib were yesterday installed respectively as grand vizier of the Empire and Sheik-Ul-Islam, or head of the faith. The former succeeds Tewfik Pasha, and the latter Zia Eddin Effendi.

Fell 40 Feet Down Smokestack.

Halifax, May 6.—A man named Boutillier had the remarkable experience of falling forty feet down a smokestack and being comparatively uninjured.

Bullying Lawyers Scare Witnesses.

Winnipeg, May 6.—The jury found at midnight that Louise Pearl James was murdered by some person or persons unknown. The coroner declared that counsel were permitted to browbeat and cast slurs on witnesses unchecked by the bench to such an extent that people were very unwilling to undergo the ordeal of the witness box, and consequently hampered the efforts of the police to detect crimes.

Great Find on War Eagle.

Rossland, B.C., After being conceded to have been practically worked out by the former owners, the Canadian Consolidated Co. has uncovered an ore body in War Eagle that contains $22,000,000. It is on the ninth level, is four hundred feet long, and fifty feet wide, and the three thousand tons so far taken from it have averaged thirty dollars per ton.

The Baron Ott at Ottawa.

Ottawa, May 6.—A stranger who registered as the "Baron Ott," who found easy entrance to society, and who talked of financing the Hudson Bay Railway, has gone again. Local bankers did not take kindly to his plans.

One rumor said that Ott was the long-lost Archduke John, heir to the Austrian throne.

Fire Brigade Resigns.

Saskatoon, Sask., May 6.—The entire fire brigade has resigned. Dissatisfaction with the new regulations of Chief Gilbert, of Hamilton, who recently arrived, are said to be the cause.

Had Heart Trouble and Shortness of Breath For Six Years.

Was Weak and Thin—Only Weighed Seventy-three Pounds. Now Weighs One Hundred and Thirteen.

When you find your heart the least bit out of rhythm, your nerves unhinged, your breath short, don't wait until you are prostrated on a bed of sickness. Take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll put you in such condition you'll never know you have a heart, make your nerves strong and your whole being thrill with new life. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured Mrs. K. E. Bright, Burnley, Ont. She writes: "I was greatly troubled, for six years, with my heart and shortness of breath. I could not walk eighty rods without resting four or five times in that short distance. I got so weak and thin I only weighed seventy-three pounds. I decided at last to take some of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and after taking eight boxes I gained in strength and weight, and now weigh one hundred and thirteen pounds, the most I ever weighed in my life. I feel well and can work as well as ever I did, and can heartily thank Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for it all."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Fig Pills are sold with a rigid guarantee to cure, or money refunded. Headaches, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Rheumatism, Pimples and Blotches removed at once.

CAPTAIN STRACHAN, of St. Catharines, says: "I have been a great sufferer for years with a bad stomach, bad breath and dizziness. I tried everything, but no cure, till I tried FIG PILLS, and to-day I am a different man."

MRS. SIDER, James Street, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have felt miserable for five years; my liver was all out of order, my skin was dry and hot, I hardly knew what it was to be without a headache; headache powders would relieve me just for a short time. I was advised to try Fig Pills, and my, what a change. My whole life is different; I am strong and healthy; Fig Pills cured me. I gladly allow you to tell others through the press. My sister, if you are not feeling well, my advice to you is to try Fig Pills."

THE PLUMBING INSPECTOR

Mr. T. D. MacGregor Wants to Know Something About the Way Inspection is Done

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I wish to ask through the columns of your valuable paper if the people of town know that we have been without a legitimate plumbing inspector this week.

On Monday morning I had an employee of an unpractical firm come into my store and demand the address of a plumbing job I had ready for inspection. I asked him if there was a new plumbing inspector in town, and where did he come from, and by whose authority was he sent to me? He informed me that the firm he worked for had power to send him around to inspect our work. I absolutely refuse to permit this firm to act as plumbing inspectors over my work, and I will add further, I am prepared to prove that they have done work not in strict accordance with the Peterborough Plumbing By-law.

Why should any firm act as inspector over another firm in the business? I may add further, this firm are their own inspectors this week.

Thanking you for space, I remain,
Yours truly,
T. D. MacGREGOR.

QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED TO-NIGHT

Astronomical Society Have Interesting Programme.

A meeting of the Astronomical Society will be held this evening in the Chemistry room of the Collegiate Institute. It will be Question night, and should prove highly interesting. Some sixty new slides will be thrown upon the screen. Rev. Dr. Marsh will be in charge and will answer the questions. These meetings are not only interesting, but are very instructive and a large number should avail themselves of this opporunity of learning a few of the facts of astronomy.

A CLEANLY AGE.

Twentieh Century Ideas Incline Toward Sanitation and Preventatives

Nowadays scientists believe that in cleanliness lies the secret of prevention of diseases.

To prevent a disease, remove the cause.

Just as unclean habits breed many diseases, so careless habits will breed dandruff. Improper use of another's brushes, combs, etc., will surely cause dandruff, and, in time, will just as surely cause baldness.

It's microbic infection, nothing more nor less.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and causes hair to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is absolutely free from grease o rother injurious substances.

RANG CHURCH BELL DURING SERVICES

Examiner Special.

Apsley, May 5.—The spring still remains cold and unsettled and farmers are unable to proceed with their work.

The new wood shed under erection at No. 2, Burleigh, is now near completion and will be greatly appreciated during such weather as we have been having of late.

The Juveniles are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the suckers. Some have visited the creek already and secured a few.

Pleased to learn that Mrs. John Lean is able to be around again, after her recent illness.

The service in the Church of England was disturbed on last Sunday evening by some one ringing the church bell. The disturbers perhaps are ignorant of the fact that they are leaving themselves liable to a heavy fine.

No. 1, Anstruther reopened on April 29, after the Easter vacation.

"PRINCESS CHRYSANTHEMUM" A DELIGHTFUL OPERETTA CHARMINGLY PRESENTED

That delightfully tuneful operetta, "Princess Chrysanthemum," with its charming music, witty lines, and clever plot, was the magnet that drew a fairly large crowd to the Conservatory of Music Hall last night, and it is safe to say that none of those who braved the imminent thunderstorm regretted that they had done so. As a means of profitably and pleasantly spending an evening no better entertainment could be devised. Bright, clean, overflowing with harmony, "Princess Chrysanthemum" is a delightful operetta, and it lost none of its effect through the way it was staged by the cast last evening. Clever principals who can act as well as sing charmingly, with a well-trained chorus of young girls and children who performed intricate marches and drills, forming pretty picture after pretty picture, make the production one long to be remembered, and congratulations are forthcoming to all who had a share in the success of the evening.

Its presentation throughout has been greatly improved since it was put on earlier in the season, greater strength having been developed all along the line, and as presented last night it was a veritable gem. The scenes being laid in Japan permit of gorgeous costumes being used and full advantage is taken of the opportunity in this line, the result being a series of charming stage groups that were effective and altogether pleasing.

All the principals did grand work. Miss Carrie White, in the title role, gave a capital interpretation of the part and sang her songs very prettily. To her fall some of the most tuneful numbers in the selection, and she showed that no mistake had been made in assigning the role to her by rendering them in excellent voice.

Mr. N. Greenhalgh physically and otherwise richly endowed for the part of the Emperor, What-for-whi, gave a splendid characterization, making an imposing potentate, while his rich voice was heard to advantage in several enjoyable numbers, "The Emperor What-for-whi" making the biggest hit.

Mr. Jas. O'Brien was happily cast as "Top-not," the court chamberlain, a comedy part that fits him like the proverbial glove, and he got all the fun possible out of the role. This is true of Mr. Roy Wilson, who did some very clever work as "Saucer Eyes," the wizard cat, throwing vim and life into the portrayal. Special mention should be made of his sand dance during the last act, which was capitally done and merited the applause with which it was received.

Messrs. Jas. Bogue and Trevor Eardley-Wilmot, as the rival lovers, were clean cut and effective in their work, and both handled the solos that came to their lot in excellent fashion. Miss Maud Titterson made a very winsome "Fairy Moonbeam," having several pretty songs which she rendered splendidly.

The chorus of attendants, fairies, etc., is deserving of the greatest credit for its splendid work. The marches, drills, and dances, were executed smoothly and effectively, and the young people covered themselves with glory, and incidentally won many congratulations for Miss McCaw, who has trained them for the operetta, and to whose untiring efforts much of the credit for its magnificent success is due. Miss McCaw also assisted greatly by presiding at the piano throughout the presentation.

Not the least pleasing feature of the evening was the splendid playing of the Conservatory orchestra. Under Mr. Gliddon's skillful baton the two dozen musicians rendered several most enjoyable selections, and their work was a treat to the music-loving people in the audience. The organization is well balanced in its instrumentation and has developed into a most creditable band, of which the citizens of Peterborough should feel proud. Thus far only a few opportunities of hearing the orchestra have been given, but there will be more in future, and lovers of music have something to look forward to. Miss McKee assisted the orchestra greatly by her work as pianist.

"Princess Chrysanthemum" will be repeated at the Conservatory tonight and the spacious hall should be crowded to the doors if the merit of the performance is to be taken as a criterion.

Afterwards, those taking part will be entertained.

The story of the Princess Chrysanthemum is interesting. A great fete is being held in honour of the coming of age of the Emperor's daughter, the Princess. She is loved by Prince So-Tru, and returns his affection; but he has a rival in the person of Prince So-Sli, who seeks the aid of Saucer-Eyes, the Wizard Cat, who carries off the Princess to the cave of Inky Night, leaving the Emperor and Prince So-Tru distracted at her strange disappearance.

Princess Chrysanthemum, imprisoned in the cave of Inky Night, with the aid of a magic ring, summons the Fairy Moonbeam, who is about to help her when she drops the ring and cannot find it. Fairy Moonbeam disappears at the loss of the ring, and the unhappy Princess is left to bewail her fate. Prince So-Tru manages to obtain entrance to the cave and finds the ring, which at once causes Fairy Moonbeam to return and aid him. At this moment the Emperor arrives with his attendants, and takes Saucer-Eyes prisoner, bearing him in triumph to his palace.

Threatened with torture, Saucer-Eyes confesses the complicity of Prince So-Sli, whom the Emperor orders to instant execution. This is however, frustrated by the appearance of Princess Chrysanthemum, accompanied by Prince So-Tru and Fairy Moonbeam with her band. The Emperor pardons Saucer-Eyes and So-Sli at the Princess's request, and gives her hand in marriage to Prince So-Tru, bringing everything to a happy conclusion.

Third Annual At Home Of The C. G. E. Mutual Benefit Society

Entertaining Event at Grand Opera House—The Misses Long and Miss Annie Christie Prove Themselves Bright Children—Large Attendance.

LOCAL HITS APPLAUDED.

A large representation of the employees of the C. G. E. works with their relatives and friends almost filled the Grand Opera House last night on the occasion of the third annual At Home of the Canadian General Electric Co. Mutual Benefit Society. This event brings together the employees, foremen and superintendents in a manner which maintain the good feeling which is one of the best lubricators any establishment can possess. It is annually looked forward to, and by providing a good programme every year it should always continue to be a favourite occasion with the C. G. E. people and the general public at large. The society since its institution has prospered, has helped many of the employees and it is of interest to the very individuals.

The programme as presented last night was as follows:

Part One.

Moving Pictures.
Duet—Georgina and Prudence Long.
Illustrated Song—Mr. Geo. Arthur.
Reading—"Little Orphan Annie"—Little Annie Christie.
Moving Pictures.
Song—Selected—Mr. H. Lee.
Illustrated Song—Miss May Miller

Part Two

Comic Sketch—Gordon Ball and Vera Simmons.
Moving Pictures.
Comic Song—Gordon Ball.
Reading — Selected — Little Annie Christie.
Song—Selected—Mr. H. Lee
Song and Dance Sketch—Ford and Miller.
God Save the King.

The singing of little Misses Georgina and Prudence Long won the audience at once. They are decidedly entertaining, have an easy stage presence and are delightful little singers. Their first number was "I Remember You," and as an encore "Childhood."

Miss Annie Christie, another clever child, distinguished herself in several readings. Her work is always artistic and appealing. Her numbers last night were faultlessly executed and well merited the reception accorded them.

Mr. H. Lee displayed a pleasing tenor voice in his selections.

A comic sketch by Gordon Ball and Vera Simmons, both juveniles, was responsible for continued laughter while their burlesque was on. They were recalled repeatedly.

Mr. R. Harding and the members of the committee are deserving much credit for the manner in which the At Home was conducted.

Among those present representing the superintendents was Mr. Robert Dobie, who was referred in occasional local touches to the merriment of the house and likewise the genial "supt" himself.

Miss Haycock Remembered By The Ladies On Her Departure

Miss K. H. Haycock, who is resigning her position as superintendent of the Y. M. C. A., has been remembered by the ladies of the institution. On Tuesday evening she was presented with an ebony set of five pieces, Miss Alice Williams making the presentation. Miss Haycock was greatly surprised but in a few words expressed her thanks to the young ladies with whom she had spent many happy occasions. Miss Haycock leaves Peterborough on Saturday.

On Monday night the house staff remembered Miss Haycock with a signet ring. Mrs. Reid, of Bobcaygeon, who succeeds Miss Haycock, has arrived at the Y.W.C.A. and is becoming acquainted with the staff and boarders.

Fresh tea is all-important. Ten weeks after being picked in the tea gardens of the Island of Ceylon (the finest tea-producing country in the world) "Salada" reaches you. The flavour of tea consists in an essential oil, which deteriorates rapidly with age. In order to preserve the delicious flavour of "Salada" Tea it is packed in sealed lead packets (never sold in bulk), guaranteeing you a superior tea, in flavour, quality, purity and economy in use. 146

The Typographical Union Has Launched New System Of Technical Education

During the past two or three years the American public has been treated to much comment and suggestion on the matter of trade education. In the industrial centres there are local societies actively promoting this object, while the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education is designed to advance the interests of the new idea in a national way.

In the meantime America's oldest and most progressive organization—the Internationl Typographical Union—formulated and launched a system of technical education that furnishes display, job, and all other compositors an opportunity to acquire a knowledge of the principles underlying good typography, which can not be taught in printing offices. Owing to the diversified needs of its nearly 50,000 members, including printers in small country towns and those in the largest metropolitan offices,, the union was compelled to adopt the correspondence system, but the instruction is imparted along the lines of the best and most modern educational methods.

The art schools have been levied on for the benefit of the working printer. The principles of design and color harmony are taught scientifically, the students applying them to practical work (done in type or by pencil sketches) under the personal supervision of competent instructors. Heretofore education in typography has been by the empirical method, but the I. T. U. Course aims at showing the "how" and "why" of good typography in a scientific manner. The student first masters the underlying principles and then solves the trade problems submitted to him in the light of that knowledge. The key-note of the instruction is found in Ruskin's aphorism, "Unity and simplicity are the sources of beauty."

The Course is sold for $20, which does not cover the cost of outfit, tuition, postage, etc. As a purely commercial venture, it would cost at least $60, but the International Union, in order to stimulate and encourage the study of their art by printers, defrays all advertising and other promotional expenses out of its funds, and in addition gives a rebate or prize of $5 to each student who finishes the lesson with ordinary diligence and intelligence. Many local unions suplement this by offering additional prizes to their members and apprentices working in union offices. It is estimated that the total union expenditure on account of the educational scheme is between $6.000 and $10,000 a year.

The I. T. U. Commission on Supplemental Trade Education, which has this work in charge, promulgated its first advertisement asking for students last March, and in a year has secured an enrollment of more than seven hundred. These include export printers as old as sixty, and youths of seventeen and eighteen. The experienced compositors say they find much in the Course that is valuable, the first graduate being one of the highest-salaried men working at the trade.

There have been schools of typography in continental Europe and Great Britain for many years, the idea being given its great stimulus in the latter country by the many-sided William Morris, who did so much to improve the appearance of the printed page, but British employing printers who have examined the I. T. U. Course methods of instruction, as well as the Secretary of the British Typographical Union (for many years a director of Manchester's famous Municipal Technical School), agree that in teaching principles the International Typograpical Union has started a revolution in trade education. These comments have had their effect on across-seas craftsmen. While foreign students pay consider*ably more than Americans and Cana*dians, there are several British, Australian and South African printers taking the Course. One mail recently brought an application from Canada's most northerly province, and another from Bloemfontein, South Africa.

The Course is open to those working at the printing trade, and the officers and interested members of the Typographical Union are sure that it is but a beginning of what is to become a prominent feature of union work. Already the question has been advanced of making a study of the course a prerequisite for an apprentice's admission to membership in the Union. The laws will not be changed hastily, but there is no doubt that—now an opportunity to learn is open to them—the union will in the near future pay more attention to the technical qualifications of youthful applicants for admission.

Magistrate Edmison Decides That Mr. N. T. LaPlante Must Pay For The Sewer Connection

Magistrate Edmison this morning gave judgment against Mr. N. T. LaPlante, who must also pay the costs of the case which he entered at the last Division Court sittings. He claimed that he was not liable for $25.00 flat rate for connection with the outfall sewer passing his residence at the corner of Lock and Romaine streets.

A by-law was passed in the City Council stating that those who were not paying a frontage tax on the sewers should pay a flat rate of $25,00. This was all they were expected to pay towards the construction of the sewer. Mr. LaPlante contested this demand and as it was a test case a great deal of interest has been centered in it. Mr. LaPlante must pay the twenty-five dollars and the costs of the case.

ENGLISH ACTRESS WHO IS WELL KNOWN HERE IS MARRIED

The Lloyds' Weekly News gives the following account of a wedding which should prove interesting to many Peterborough people. The bride is a cousin of Mr. Wm. Bowman, city, and is a well-known English actress. Lloyds' says:

The culmination of another romance of the stage came on Wednesday with the marriage at St. Mary's Church, Wimbledon Park, of Miss Empsie Bowman, a charming young actress, well known in London and the provinces, to Mr. Jack Brunt, of the Oaks, Trentham, Staffs, only son of Mr John Brunt, head of an extensive firm of china and earthenware manufacturers in the Potteries.

The bride made her first appearance on the stage in London at the age of five, when she gave a quaint representation of the dormouse in "Alice in Wonderland." Subsequently she created children's parts at several London theatres, playing at the Garrick, Adelphi, Lyric, Prince of Wales, and other houses. In the "Sign of the Cross" and in the title-role of the "Belle of New York" she became a favourite in the provinces. Her last part before marriage was Peggy in "The Dairymaids."

The bridegroom is very popular in North Staffordshire and a large number of his friends attended the wedding. Mr. Douglas Aynsley, son of Harry Aynsley, J.P., of Blythe Bridge, Staffordshire, was best man.

The bride, attired in a rich Empire Liberty gown, was attended by three bridesmaids. The wedding reception was held at the bride's residence, Melrose avenue, Wimbledon Park, and the honeymoon is to be spent at Torquay. The young people received a huge number of presents.

WEDDING BELLS

HAMILTON—FAIR.

The marriage of Miss Alice Fair, eldest daughter of the late Thos. Fair, to Mr. Victor Hamilton, eldest son of Mr Frank Hamilton, East City, was quietly solemnized this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's mother, 132 Rogers St. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives.

Mr and Mrs. Hamilton left on the 4.38 C.P.R. train for Galt and Brantford, and on their return will reside on Rogers street, East City.

TEDFORD—HAMBLIN

A very pleasant event took place yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hamblin, of Dummer township, when their daughter, Alice, was united in marriage to Mr. William Tedford, of the Township of Douro.

The groom was supported by Mr. Richard Tedford, and the bride by her sister, Miss Annie.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Riddiford, of Park St. Baptist Church, Peterborough.

A goodly number sat down to a fine wedding breakfast in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Tedford will reside in Douro. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. R. Tedford, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tedford, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tedford, Mr. and Mrs. J. McNeely, Miss Bella Tedford, Miss May Davis, Miss Belle Kidd, and Mr A. McLeod, pastor of Indian River Baptist Church. Many handsome presents told of the high esteem the young couple are held by their many friends.

MacGregor & Reid Have Not Received $42 They Claim From Board of Education.

Messrs. MacGregor and Reid sent to the Board of Education a bill for $42.00, which they claim from the contract of laying a sewer connection to the King Edward school. The money has not been paid them and a contractor named Smith, to whom the work was sublet, secured judgment for his money. The firm threatens to take the matter to court if it does not receive the immediate and satisfactory attention of the Board. The amount is for $42.00. The account was referred to the Finance Committee.

EVIDENCE OF SPRING AT THE CEMETERY

One of the surest signs of Spring is the appearance of the lawn mowers on the lovely sward at the Little Lake cemetery. Mr. Frank Wise was seen with them out once more this morning and Sunday afternoon visitors will soon begin to find the cemetery clad in its old time verdure.

WAS FINED FIVE DOLLARS TO-DAY

A young man was fined five dollars at the police court this morning, for having assaulted Hubert Spring, a young lad, who up until Monday evening was an employee of the defendant. The accused pleaded not guilty.

The complainant swore that he met the defendant on Hunter street yesterday. Spring said that he was tripped, hit in the face and knocked off the street by him.

The accused denied having done anything more than touched Spring with his elbow. He had been warned to keep away from his place but Spring was there yesterday morning when he used insulting language.

His Worship believed the boy's story and imposed the above fine.

The defendant stated that he would appeal against the judgment.

	$26,400,000

The Bank of Montreal at the end of its fiscal year, October 31st, 1908, added another $1,000,000 to its Reserve Fund, thus further emphasizing its great strength and stability.

With a Saving Department at every one of its many Branches, it offers the opportunity for all, who so desire, to avail themselves of its many advantages by opening a Savings Account.

A Savings Bank account is the best safeguard against misfortune, being always ready and available, and earning interest all the time.

Consideration for one's family demands that all heads of households should provide against the day of adverse conditions, and there is no simpler way than by laying systematically from time to time a portion of income or earnings in a Savings account.

Deposits can be made from One Dollar up, and withdrawals can be made at any time, without notice or delay.

HIS TRADUCERS WERE EXPOSED

Hon. Mr. Pugsley Replies to His Assailants in House.

COMMISSION WAS PARTIZAN

In Masterly Defence of More Than Six Hours Minister of Public Works Flays New Brunswick Men Who Accuse Him of Graft — Will Have a Judicial Accounting of the Affair In the Courts.

Ottawa, May 6.—In one of the most masterly speeches ever delivered in the House of Commons, Hon. William Pugsley vindicated himself from the charges contained in the report of the New Brunswick Royal Commission, and left the document with scarcely a paragraph upon which any fair-minded man can place the slightest reliance. His deliverance was more than a vindication; it was the most complete and scathing exposure of a supposedly judicial pronouncement that Parliament has ever been called upon to consider. The Daniel who came to judgment was not the Minister of Public Works, but the commission itself, and never has the dignity and honor of a court been more ruthlessly and effectively assailed.

Hon. Mr. Foster, at 11.20 a.m., moved to lay before the house a copy of the Landry report. Sir Wilfrid ruled that the matter was absolutely out of order.

Resuming in the afternoon, Mr. Crothers read extracts from the report of the New Brunswick Commission as affecting Mr. Pugsley, and recited among others the following findings of the court so constituted on evidence adduced respecting the Minister of Public Works:

That while he was occupying the position of director ex-officio of the New Brunswick Coal & Railway Co., he was culpably negligent and open to the gravest censure.

That although he was the controlling influence in the N. B. C. & Ry. Co., it was in fact nothing but a disorganized department of the Government.

That in order to conceal the truth he adopted the system of bookkeeping for public information.

That as a member of the Legislative Assembly and Attorney-General of the province he made incorrect statements to the Legislature to conceal the true state of affairs.

Mr. Pugsley interjected that Mr. Crothers could not produce any statement from the report that he had made such incorrect statements. Mr. Crothers replied that he could not only do so from the report, but from the Hansard of the Provincial Legislature of New Brunswick. He then proceeded:

That in stating to the Legislature on more than one occasion that $180,000 had been paid for the Central Railway, he stated what he knew was in fact untrue, as he had conducted the negotiations which resulted in the abatement of $39,000 from that sum.

That he mixed up his private affairs with those of the company and of the public so that large amounts received by him are not satisfactorily accounted for.

That he was a party to the misappropriation of $134,035 and that the abatement of $39,000 aforesaid forms part thereof.

By report and these findings, continued Mr. Crothers, the dignity of this House is compromised. As a member of this House I could not respect myself if I had not the courage, in the face of this report, to do all in my power to remove the stigma it brings to this House and to the people of Canada.

Hon. Mr. Pugsley expressed regret that matters relating to the provincial sphere of politics should engage the attention of the Dominion House, but personally, he was glad the matter had been brought up, because he was confident he could show that the report of the commission was of a discreditable and partizan character, and wholly unreliable. In attempting to give a statement of the interests account of the New Brunswick Central Railway, for instance, these commissioners had included only two items and had left out every dollar of interest upon the total expenditure for a period of eighteen months, they had neglected to include the interest on $180,000 paid for the railway, on $77,000 paid for improvements, and had taken no account whatever for losses incurred in operation. This alone made the report utterly unworthy of the serious consideration of any man who desired to see justice done. The omitted interest charges alone would amount to $60,000.

Mr. Crothers should at least have taken the trouble to read the evidence and he might have been convinced that this so-called judicial tribunal had been influenced in preparing the report by a partizan counsel.

Previous to the general elections, the commission secured the services of an accountant, who on the authority of A. Powell, secretary of the commission, on Oct. 14, twelve days before the voting took place, published a statement as to the interest account for no other purpose than to influence the people of New Brunswick against himself. This was a strange thing for a judicial commission. The commissioners did not at any time act as though they desired to get at the facts. Mr. Pugsley proceeded to give a number of instances in which he said absolutely misleading assertions had been made in respect to matters of which it would have been easy to get a full explanation.

The commissioners commented that in 1895 he had received $2,000 in connection with a sale of bonds, but at that time he was not even a member of the Legislature. Then the commission reported they could not explain what had become of a note for $10,000 discounted at the People's Bank and marked F. P. T. Anyone in New Brunswick would identify the initials of Senator Thompson, and if the Senator had been called he could have explained that the proceeds were placed to the credit of James Barnes & Co.

"This," he said, "was the work of cowardly assassins who strike in the dark."

After speaking for nearly four hours and a half, Mr. Pugsley concluded by asking permission to retire and thus leave the House freer to discuss the case.

O. S. Crocket, who replied to the Minister, declared that the commission had found those connected with the company guilty of every conceivabel form of malfeasance. Every official of the company, every banker, connected with it had been examined, and it had been shown beyond a doubt that there had been a misappropriation to the extent of $134,000.

Last night Mr. Pugsley continued to deal with the charges for over two hours.

Turning to the personnel of the commission he described it as intensely partizan. The New Brunswick Government was careful to see that they were good solid Tories, and the counsel was one also.

B.C. RANCHES BURNT OUT.

Damage Amounting to Large Sums Is Done by Heavy Bush Fires.

Kamloops, B.C., May 6.—Hundreds of thousands of dollars in property have been destroyed and scores of ranchers forced to flee for their lives as the result of a disastrous bush fire that swept the country from Notch Hill as far east as Three Valley and south from Sicamous as far as Vernon. Among the losses are two large sawmills, the Carlin Mill, $75,000, and the Carrigan Mill, on Salmon river, $35,000. Several mill hands had to flee for their lives.

Three large bush fires have been burning for several days and a gale soon brought them into contact.

In Mara District the loss will be heaviest, for scores of ranch properties are completely devastated. On the main line of the C.P.R. fences and telegraph lines are destroyed for nearly twenty miles. West of Kamloops wires are down from high winds.

Reports show that destructive fires are still burning in Spillamachene Valley, near Enderby.

Big Fire at Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., May 5.—A fire that in less than an hour wiped out $100,000 worth of property started on the water front at midnight, and threatened to destroy the block between Pickford & Blacks, and John Tobin & Co.

The fire started in the rear of H. H. Fuller's hardware store, and spread up and down the wharf with great rapidity, leveling the long wooden building occupied by Fuller as a store house, the premises of Frank Fraser, fruit merchant, and the offices of Leslie Hart & Sons and J. A. Farquhar & Co. The flames ate their way up wooden buildings to Fuller's store and offices, and at 1 o'clock the interior of the building was a mass of seething flames. The flames spread towards G. C. Cook's building and Pickford & Black's wharf, but the firemen checked them before greater damage was done.

New C.P.R. Liners.

London, May 6.—(C.A.P. Cable)—It is stated that the construction of the new Canadian Pacific Empresses is shortly to be commenced. Rumor says they will be 20 knots, propelled by a combination of reciprocating engines and turbines.

Jap Warships to Protect.

Victoria, B.C., May 6.—Japanese warships are to be sent to Behring Sea to protect sealers from Yokohama, Tokio, and other ports across the Pacific, which flock to Behring Sea in growing numbers each year.

Mystery In Death.

Sandwich, May 6.—There is mystery surrounding the death in Detroit of Arthur Donnelly, aged 55, found unconscious on the street Tuesday afternoon. He was a brother of ex-Mayor Donnolly of Sandwich.

CHRISTIANS STARVE IN ASIATIC TURKEY

Situation at Hadjin, Asiatic Turkey, Is Becoming Desperate.

WOMEN LIVING ON GRASS

Reports From Harni Tell of Terrible State of Affairs Among Refugees—Moslems Are Carrying Off Women and Are Stealing All the Cattle—Mohammedans Try to Burn Down the City, But Failed.

Marash, May 6.—A letter received by messenger from Harni says that every man there has been killed; only women, girls and boys under ten have been left alive. The churches and houses were plundered and most of them were burned. The letter, which is from the widow of a clergyman, says:

"We have nothing to eat or wear. We are living on grass like animals. Worse than this, the Moslems are trying to force the women and girls to become Mohammedans. Already some of the women have been carried away."

Lucius O. Lee, a missionary here, says: "We are trying to send food to Harni, although it is dangerous, and to bring away the women as well."

Much excitement has been caused here by the attempts of the authorities to arrest some of those who have murdered Christians.

Famine at Hadjin.

Hadjin, Asiatic Turkey, May 6.—Hadjin is facing a famine, and there is neither money nor food in the city.

Notwithstanding the presence of the troops here, the situation is desperate, on account of the lack of food and medical supplies. The troops which relieved the city came up from Mersina under command of Loutfi Bey. They arrived just in time, as the besiegers had succeeded in setting fire to a house on the edge of the city. The fire spread, but as the breeze was blowing away from the town, only five buildings were destroyed. A heavy rifle fire was kept up against those who tried to extinguish the flames.

The Mohammedans outside the walls, who seemingly numbered many thousands, pushed their attacks energetically against the inhabitants, killing and wounding many. They were so eager to get inside the city and plunder the place that they did not observe the approach of Loutfi Bey and his men until they were close up on them, whereupon the Mohammedans fled precipitately, carrying off all the cattle outside the city.

Jap Spies In Australia.

Melbourne, Australia, May 6.—Some excitement has been raised at Melbourne by an announcement by Senator Pearce, Minister of Defence, that Japanese spies traveling as itinerant showmen, were mapping out the northern territory of Australia. Senator Pearce said the Japanese made exhaustive enquiries regarding the horses and vehicles available, as to cattle and live stock, and other information likely to be useful to an army of invasion. The Japanese consul at Sydney promptly issued a denial.

Abdul's Big Bank Account.

Constantinople, May 6.—The commission which is taking an inventory of the property at the Imperial palace at Yildiz has discovered according to the local newspapers, bank notes to the value of $2,250,000, and a large quantity of jewelry, including a rosary alone valued at $375,000. Papers seized at the palace show that Abdul Hamid had something over $5,000,000 on deposit in a foreign bank.

Victim of Foul Play.

Vegreville, Alta., May 6.—The body of Victor St. Hilaire, former hotel proprietor at Brosseau, whose disappearance last September from a Russian house here caused rumors of foul play, was found yesterday in the river. No water was found in the lungs.

A Widow's Suicide.

Berlin, May 6.—Emma Cooper, a widow, aged 36 years, committed suicide by drinking carbolic acid at her home yesterday morning on Foundry street. She lived for half an hour after taking acid.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

TWELVE ENTRIES IN SATURDAY'S NEW YORK MARATHON DERBY

New York, May 6.—An even dozen runners have entered for the $10,000 international Marathon race at the Polo Grounds on Saturday afternoon. The full list follows:

St. Yves, Orphee, and Cibot, France.
Simpson and Marsh, Canada.
White, Ireland.
Carvajal, Cuba.
Appleby, England.
Dorando, Italy.
Maloney, Ireland.
Svanberg, Sweden.
Crook, United States.

The entry of John D. Marsh who now holds the world's track record for the Marathon distance, has stirred up fresh interest in sporting circles, and has sent the price up against St. Yves, who is the favourite. Marsh is a strapping big fellow, with a world of endurance, coupled with plenty of speed. His time of 2:39:47 is one minute, two and two-fifths seconds faster than the Frenchman made in the recent New York Marathon Derby. This time is all the more remarkable because of the fact that after the fifth mile a great part of the race was run through rain and snow.

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES.

Only one game was played in the Eastern League yesterday, Buffalo beating Baltimore 5 to 4 by a strong rally in the eighth innings. Up to that time Pearson had the Herd at his mercy but he weakened and three runs were sent over the counting station. At that Baltimore had 13 hits off Pitcher Allison. Rudolph and Vandergrift will be the battery for Torontos in their opening game on their own grounds to-day.

THE NATIONAL.

Pittsburg took first place in the National yesterday by taking a game from the St. Louis Cardinals, making six wins in a row for the Pirates. Lush, who pitched for St. Louis, was given poor support, six errors being made behind him. The Pirates used three pitchers, Camnitz, Maddox and Phillipe, and the game was in doubt until the last when the Cardinals filling the bases in the ninth, but failing to score. Pittsburg won, 6 to 5.

CUBS WON.

The Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 5 to 2, thanks to fine pitching by Overall, Zimmerman's fielding and Steinfeldt's sacrifice hitting. The Reds scored their only runs with a two bagger, with two of the bricks occupied.

SUPERBAS CLOUTING SOME

The Brooklyn Superbas keep up their heavy hitting stunts, and yesterday smashed out an 8 to 5 victory over Philadelphia. They landed on Pitcher Moore in the fourth, scoring five runs and Brown had to be sent in to stop the slaughter. Belland held Philadelphia to eight hits and struck out eight men.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Brockett pitched his second shut out of the season yesterday against Boston in the American and the Highlanders beat the Beaneaters by 2 to 0. Arrelanes, who worked for Boston, was also in great form and it was a snappy and almost perfectly played game, only one error being made.

TIGERS WERE LUCKY.

The Tigers had a horse shoe with them yesterday and although they were outbatted three to one, and made more errors than St. Louis, they beat the Browns 3 to 1 in ten innings. An error, a base on balls and one hit in the tenth gave the game to Detroit. Graham pitched for St Louis and held the champs to four hits, while Speer and Mullin, who pitched for Detroit, were touched up for 11.

WHITE SOX WON.

The Chicago White Sox turned the tables on Cleveland; the Blues were beaten 6 to 5, mainly due to their loose fielding. Wright held the Chicagos to five hits while the Naps had ten but made four errors to make up for their form at the bat.

GAME FOR TAIL-ENDERS.

Washington beat Philadelphia 4 to 3 yesterday, Ganley scoring the winning run in the ninth on a pass, a steal, and McBride's single. Plank for the Athletics and Smith and Groom for Washington were the pitchers.

LAKEVIEWS READY FOR BASEBALL GAMES

Organized Last Night and Team Looks Strong From the Road.

The Lakeview baseball team has changed its name to the Park Nines and at the annual meeting last night the prospects as represented were very bright, and if the team runs along in the manner in which it has started, the southenders should finish somewhere in reach of the mug. The meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A., with a fair representation of the players, and the following officers were elected:

President—Martin Connors.
Vice-President—Harold Dickie.
Manager—Jack Connors.
Captain—Jack Mahoney.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. Collins.
Executive—Tom Menzies, Jack Connors and J. Mahoney.

The team should be much stronger than last year. Lorne Doherty will likely be on the outfield and, also Ned Simmons. These two strong batters will help a whole lot and with Ted Foley back into the game the Park Nines should be there with the stick. There is considerable new blood, several young players being slated for position. Orville Kennealy, who put up a fine game in the field and at the bat last year for the Wellingtons, has expressed his willingness to play with the south ward. With a good fielding and batting outfield this department should be as good as the next in the league. Mahoney will be in the box and Dickie may be called upon at times. Menzies and Jack Patterson will look after the catching. The Park Nines report that they are out to make a big effort to land the silverware. This is the third time and they say it must be the charm.

EDMONTON TEAM OFF FOR THE WEST

Toronto, May 5.—A happy bunch of ball-players pulled out of the Union Station last night on the G.T.R. 11 o'clock train for the West, when Dinny McGuire's Edmonton team left for their field of labour for the coming season.

The Toronto boys in the contingent are Jack Brennan, Tom Smith, Harry Burridge, Harry ("Pat") Downing, Bill Nye, and Con Murphy. There are also a goodly number of men from both the Eastern and Western States. It will be Sunday morning before the party will arrive in Edmonton. They will be in Chicago this afternoon, and will stay over and watch the Cleveland and Chicago teams play.

TENNIS SEASON TO BE OPENED ON MAY 24

At the meeting of the executive of the St. John's Tennis Club, held last evening, it was decided to formally open the tennis season, with games and a tennis tea, on the grounds of the club, at Nicholls Oval, on May 24th. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the club to be present.

The club will begin preparations at an early date for a large lawn fete to be held on the grounds of the church, during the last week in June. This will be one of the events of the summer season, in the line of outdoor functions. Details of plans will be published at a later date.

Miss Victoria Bell was appointed convener of the visiting committee in lieu of Miss Ida Wesley, resigned.

BILLY SHERRING IS NOW PROFESSIONAL

Hamilton, Ont., May 5.—To-day Billy Sherring joined the ranks of the professional foot runners. He signed up with Charles Ellsworth, a Montreal man, who has Hans Holmer, Wood, Meadows, Maloney, J. D. Marsh, and Hayes under contract. Sherring will be the star of the string, no doubt.

Ellsworth made a very generous offer to Sherring, in view of the tempting proposition that the hero of Athens has turned down in the past few months, since the Marathon fever has spread over the continent.

Pat Powers, the New York speed and baseball merchant, tried hard to garner Sherring for his stable, but failed. Up to a few days ago Sherring had hopes of getting a C.A.A.U. card to run in amateur races, having been assured by some of the big guns that he would be restored to good standing in the amateur ranks.

Sherring will not be sent to the races very often. He will not start in more than three or four during the spring and summer. His first race will be at Montreal on May 24th. In this he will likely hook up with most of the top-notchers. He is in good condition and is running as well as he ever did, he says.

LOCAL BASEBALL

The Wellington Baseball team of Toronto have written the manager of the Peterborough baseball club asking for a game here on May 24th. As the Peterborough baseball club is no more it is not likely that the crack Queen City team will be accommodated.

HASTINGS LACROSSE TEAM ORGANIZED

The Lacrosse spirit is awakening again in Hastings, and though nearly all the old timers are [illegible], a number of boys got together on Monday night and organized for [illegible]. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—A. U. Bailey.
President—A. B. Stellman.
Vice-President—Sam Park.
Secretary-Treasurer—Fred Hubbs.
Captain—J. C. Wilson.
Manager—Fred Dodd.
Finance Committee—Jack Fiezgerald and Leo Riyard.

SEPARATES TRIMMED THE CENTRAL NINE

School Boys Open the Season in Close Contest.

By the score of 12 runs to 9 the boys of St. Peter's school defeated Centrals in an exhibition ball game on the latter's grounds yesterday after four o'clock. It was marked by good plays on both sides, with the pitching honours probably in favour of Callaghan; Burritt and Long were fast and clean in their work, and also the two Pearson boys. Murphy, for the Separate School boys, showed up well.

The teams lined up as follows:

Separate School—Callaghan, p.; H. O'Hearn, c.; Trombly, 1st b.; Phelan, 2nd b.; Morrow, 3rd b.; Murphy, s.s.; Dineen, r.f.; Primeau, c.f.; Collins, l.f.

Central School—Wade, p.; Outram, c.; Long, 1st b.; Dobson, 2nd b.; Smith, 3rd b.; Burritt, s.s.; W. Pearson, r.f.; V. Pearson, c.f.; Metherall, l.f.

Umpire, Mr W. O'Brien.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The trial races for the relay race from Lakefield to Peterborough will be held at Nicholls' Oval, and the distance will be one mile.

The school boys will run on Thursday, May 20th, at 2.30, and the Business Boys will run on Monday, May 24th, at 9.30 a.m.

The Y.M.C.A. Stamp Club of the Boys' Department will hold their regular meeting on Friday at 7.15 p.m. All members of the Boys' Department are invited to attend.

The parlour croquet tournament, which has been going on for some time at the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Department, was finished last night. The tournament was won by Walton and Hardill, who won eight games and never suffered a defeat. The standing is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Walton and Hardill	8	0
Knapman and Cavanagh	6	1
Hill and Smith	5	3
Pearson and Armstrong	4	3
Anderson and Stratton	4	4
Burritt and Lees	3	2

WALKING.

Mr. W. A. Hoagland, the champion walker, arrived last night from Auburn, N. Y., and is spending a couple of days in the city arranging for the big six-day walk, which commences in Brock St. rink on May 24th. The big American ped., who will soon be in his forty-seventh year, looks as fit as ever, and no doubt will give all the other cracks from across the line a terrific argument, both here and at Milwaukee, where a seven-day walk starts on Monday next.

The champion expects the Peterborough walk to bring together the classiest field of walkers that ever faced a starter and it will be fast all the way. The hours have been reduced and will be in favour of the sprinters, so that there will be lots of that speed stuff in sight. It has been decided to make the hours from 8 to 10.30 on the first five nights of the week, and seven and one-half hours on Saturday, making twenty in all with a limit of 100 miles. Slater, Blake, Brown, Dixon, another coloured man, Fenton and a number of other well known walkers will be here.

Hoagland has had a large number of races since he was here, his last being the handicap affair against Crook, the Marathon runner, who is entered in Saturday's Derby. He is anxious to secure a professional runner to go fifteen miles against Crook towards the end of the month, and says that there is big money in it for any of the Canadian cracks.

Lever Brothers, Toronto, will send you free a cake of their famous Plantol toilet soap, if you mention this paper.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 6. — Under the lead of copper and smelting issues stocks opened stronger. Amal. Copper opened a full point up and then gained another, while Amn. Smelting opened ¾ up and then rose 1½ more. This strength helped the entire industrial list and caused Steel pfd. to make a new high record price, put the common up a point and helped the pools in the minor issues like Colo. Fuel and Republic Steel. Southern Pac. was again heavily bought, rising a point, and the other Pacifics gained large fractions. The market broadened out during the first two hours' trading, but at noon was beginning to quiet down. These early morning spurts have been the feature right along with quietness in the afternoon, but with the result that the market is reaching out to new high levels every day. A good reaction may not be so very far off, although we should have one or two big days first.

STOCK NEWS.

Foreign shipments of copper for April the largest since June, 1908.

Coper prices firmer and electrolytic sold at 12⅞c. the highest level in the current upward movement.

Bank of England rate unchanged.

Chicago reports Patten back on the bull side of the wheat market.

Buying movement in pig iron extends from the South to the North and East.

Progress of Tariff Bill very slow and some talk of no adjournment of Congress until July 30th.

Toronto—Nothing new in the Cobalt market.

Baring says: The big interests are still long of stocks and nothing will be allowed to deviate the market from its upward course. On any little reaction buy UP, NP, Lead, NYC, Interboro Pfd. and Steel.

Town Topics: Excellent support appears to prevent successful raids while the marking up of Steel Pfd. shows the strength of the investment position. Favour the high grade rails on the setbacks.

Chicago—Illinois Steel Co., a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation gets contract for 60,000 standard steel rails from the St. Paul Ry. Price $28. Biggest order since declaration of open market.

GRAIN NEWS

Chicago, May 6—Higher Liverpool cables caused a strong opening in wheat. May jumped 1½ to its previous high figure, and July gained two. The report that Patten was again on the job scared a lot of shorts and gave the bulls more confidence. Market quieted down after the first hour. Corn and oats higher in sympathy with wheat.

INSURANCE RATE IS TO BE LOWERED

Chief Howard supplied the Examiner last night with some information that will no doubt be received with a large measure of satisfaction by the people of Peterborough. It was to the effect that the insurance key rate for the city is to be reduced in the near future.

Some time ago, Mr. John Robinson, of the Fire Underwriters' Association was waited on by the members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and asked to reduce the rate in view of the many improvements in the fire department. Mr. Robinson promised that he would look into the matter and send inspectors.

Messrs. Perkins, Noble and Boyd, three inspectors of the Underwriters have arrived in the city and upon their report the basing of the new rate. In addition to the lowering of the key rate, individual decreases will be made where the circumstances warrant such a step being taken.

Bullying the Hens.

Years spent in providing food for boarders, in watching them eat it and in hearing them comment on it had accustomed Mrs. Orne to all sorts of complaints, reasonable and otherwise. She was a pleasant woman and tried to anticipate the objector's objections and to smooth his feelings as speedily as might be. Once in awhile her readiness with a soft answer was a trifle too quick.

It was at breakfast, and Mr. Smith, who, since his attack of typhoid, had been consuming vast quantities of eggs, looked up from his fourth with a slightly offended air.

"I wish," he said from the opposite end of the table, "that these hens could be got to lay their eggs fresh!"

"The last two words only caught Mrs. Orne's ear. "I know it," she said emphatically, "and I think just the way you do about it. It seems somehow as if it couldn't be done any more. Years ago, before Mr. Orne died, it wasn't like this at all. Then you could make them give you fresh ones."—Youth's Companion.

A Quaint Cookbook.

Amid the horrors of the siege of Paris in 1871 one Cadol found time to issue a book of recipes for the preparation of the strange fare to which the city was reduced. "Our stomachs are turned into natural history museums," he wrote, "but we must make the best of circumstances and render our food as palatable as we can." So housewives were instructed how to disguise the flesh of dogs, horses, asses, rats and mice and were shown that, despite the old adage, one can make an omelet without breaking eggs. The recipe for an eggless omelet was as follows: "Soak an army biscuit in sugared water flavored with orange flower, chop finely and spread on a hot dish, powder well with sugar and then pour over and set light to a liberal helping of rum." With eggs at $6 a dozen and rum at but little more than its normal price, this palatable imitation of an "omelette au rhum" became a most popular dish.

Professional Advice.

The irate victim blustered into the office of the secondhand automobile dealer.

"Look here, sir," he thundered, "the automobile you sold me yesterday won't run. One of the cylinders is cracked, the spark plug is badly connected, the steering gear is loose, one wheel is wabbly, and—and"—

"Hold on a minute," the dealer interposed. "Did I sell you a machine yesterday?"

"You certainly did."

"And you paid me for it?"

"Of course I did!" was the emphatic response.

"Then the machine belongs to you, doesn't it?"

"Why, to be sure it does."

"Well, that being the case, I'd advise you not to amble through the city shouting about its defects. If you do, I'd like to know how you expect to sell it."—Lippincott's.

Birthdays and Health.

For several years I have noticed that in a period of from about three to two weeks preceding the anniversary of my birth I have had a feeling of returning vigor, a renewal of vitality such as I have not experienced at any other time of the year. This has lasted for from two to eight days, but has always ceased some days before the anniversary; hence it has occurred to me that there may be some connection between the approach or recurrence of one's birth date and the maintenance of one's health.—London Graphic.

A Modern Miracle.

"I caused the dumb to speak today."

"How was that?"

"I was stopped in the street by a beggar with a 'I Am Deaf and Dumb' placard on his breast, and when I expressed the opinion that he was an impostor he immediately recovered his speech and in vigorous Anglo-Saxon requested me to go to—er—the place that the new theology tells us doesn't exist and mind my own business and he'd mind his!"—New York Times.

A Useless Invention.

"This new collection box," argued the inventor, "has some unique advantages. When you drop in a quarter or more it doesn't make a sound. Drop in a dime and it tinkles a bell, a nickel blows a whistle, and a penny fires a shot. And when you don't drop in anything the box takes your picture."

"No, thanks," said the pastor wearily; "I already have pictures of my entire congregation."—Louisville Herald.

Old College Ways.

Students at St. Andrews university two centuries ago paid nothing for their rooms, but £3 10s. per quarter enabled them to dine at the high table. For £5 11s. 1d. poorer men could get through the whole session—just six months. Breakfast was served at 7 a. m. and consisted of an oatmeal loaf and half a pint of beer. For supper each had half a twopenny loaf and a pint of beer. At the high table poultry, broth and beef were served, and at the second a plentiful supply of broth and beef. Herrings and flounders sometimes graced the board. Beer there was in abundance, and the colleges in those good old days had their brew house, a perquisite of the porter, who was permitted to sell ale to the students.—London Antiquary.

During one of the banquets of the church congress in London a certain bishop had as his left hand companion a clergyman who was completely bald. During dessert the baldheaded vicar dropped his napkin and stooped to pick it up. At this moment the bishop, who was talking to his right hand neighbor, felt a slight touch on his left arm. He turned and, beholding the vicar's pate on a level with his elbow, said: "No, thank you, no melon. I will take some pineapple."

Line Carrying Rockets.

The first line carrying rockets were invented in 1820 by an Englishman named Trengrouse and were soon after adopted by the Massachusetts Humane society for use at its stations, where they proved very successful, though today brass cannons are exclusively used for throwing lines to wrecks.

Pretty Weary.

Weary (lying under apple tree)—Say, mister, kin I have one of dem apples? Farmer—Why, them apples won't be ripe for four months yit. Weary—Oh, dat's all right. I ain't in no hurry. I'll wait.—Life.

Then He Was Fired.

Father—I cannot give you my daughter, my dear sir. I am mighty particular in such things. Suitor—Oh, pshaw! Now, I am not in the least so.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

TWELVE ENTRIES IN SATURDAY'S NEW YORK MARATHON DERBY

New York, May 6.—An even dozen runners have entered for the $10,000 international Marathon race at the Polo Grounds on Saturday afternoon. The full list follows:

St. Yves, Orphee, and Cibot, France.
Simpson and Marsh, Canada.
White, Ireland.
Carvajal, Cuba.
Appleby, England.
Dorando, Italy.
Maloney, Ireland.
Svanberg, Sweden.
Crook, United States.

The entry of John D. Marsh who now holds the world's track record for the Marathon distance, has stirred up fresh interest in sporting circles, and has sent the price up against St. Yves, who is the favourite. Marsh is a strapping big fellow, with a world of endurance, coupled with plenty of speed. His time of 2:39:47 is one minute, two and two-fifths seconds faster than the Frenchman made in the recent New York Marathon Derby. This time is all the more remarkable because of the fact that after the fifth mile a great part of the race was run through rain and snow.

DOINGS IN BIG LEAGUES.

Only one game was played in the Eastern League yesterday, Buffalo beating Baltimore 5 to 4 by a strong rally in the eighth innings. Up to that time Pearson had the Herd at his mercy but he weakened and three runs were sent over the counting station. At that Baltimore had 13 hits off Pitcher Allison. Rudolph and Vandergrift will be the battery for Torontos in their opening game on their own grounds to-day.

THE NATIONAL

Pittsburg took first place in the National yesterday by taking a game from the St. Louis Cardinals, making six wins in a row for the Pirates. Lush, who pitched for St. Louis, was given poor support, six errors being made behind him. The Pirates used three pitchers, Camnitz, Maddox and Phillipe, and the game was in doubt until the last when the Cardinals filling the bases in the ninth, but failing to score. Pittsburg won, 6 to 5.

CUBS WON.

The Chicago Cubs beat Cincinnati 5 to 2, thanks to fine pitching by Overall, Zimmerman's fielding and Steinfeldt's sacrifice hitting. The Reds scored their only runs with a two bagger, with two of the bricks occupied.

SUPERBAS CLOUTING SOME

The Brooklyn Superbas keep up their heavy hitting stunts, and yesterday smashed out an 8 to 5 victory over Philadelphia. They landed on Pitcher Moore in the fourth, scoring five runs and Brown had to be sent in to stop the slaughter. Belland held Philadelphia to eight hits and struck out eight men.

THE AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Brockett pitched his second shut out of the season yesterday against Boston in the American and the Highlanders beat the Beaneaters by 2 to 0. Arrelanes, who worked for Boston, was also in great form and it was a snappy and almost perfectly played game, only one error being made.

TIGERS WERE LUCKY.

The Tigers had a horse shoe with them yesterday and although they were outbatted three to one, and made more errors than St. Louis, they beat the Browns 2 to 1 in ten innings. An error, a base on balls and one hit in the tenth gave the game to Detroit. Graham pitched for St Louis and held the champs to four hits, while Speer and Mullin, who pitched for Detroit, were touched up for 11.

WHITE SOX WON.

The Chicago White Sox turned the tables on Cleveland; the Blues were beaten 6 to 5, mainly due to their loose fielding Wright held the Chicagos to five hits while the Naps had ten but made four errors to make up for their form at the bat.

GAME FOR TAIL-ENDERS.

Washington beat Philadelphia 4 to 3 yesterday, Ganley scoring the winning run in the ninth on a pass, a steal, and McBride's single. Plank for the Athletics and Smith and Groom for Washington, were the pitchers.

LAKEVIEWS READY FOR BASEBALL GAMES

Organized Last Night and Team Looks Strong From the Road.

The Lakeview baseball team has changed its name to the Park Nines and at the annual meeting last night the prospects as represented were very bright, and if the team runs along in the manner in which it has started, the southenders should finish somewhere in reach of the mug. The meeting was held in the Y.M.C.A., with a fair representation of the players, and the following officers were elected:

President—Martin Connors.
Vice-President—Harold Dickie.
Manager—Jack Connors.
Captain—Jack Mahoney.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. Collins.
Executive—Tom Menzies, Jack Connors and J. Mahoney.

The team should be much stronger than last year. Lorne Doherty will likely be on the outfield and, also Ned Simmons. These two strong batters will help a whole lot and with Ted Foley back into the game the Park Nines should be there with the stick. There is considerable new blood, several young players being slated for position. Orville Kennealy, who put up a fine game in the field and at the bat last year for the Wellingtons, has expressed his willingness to play with the south ward. With a good fielding and batting outfield this department should be as good as the next in the league. Mahoney will be in the box and Dickie may be called upon at times. Menzies and Jack Patterson will look after the catching. The Park Nines report that they are out to make a big effort to land the silverware. This is the third time and they say it must be the charm.

EDMONTON TEAM OFF FOR THE WEST

Toronto, May 5.—A happy bunch of ball-players pulled out of the Union Station last night on the G.T.R. 11 o'clock train for the West, when Dinny McGuire's Edmonton team left for their field of labour for the coming season.

The Toronto boys in the contingent are Jack Brennan, Tom Smith, Harry Burridge, Harry ("Pat") Downing, Bill Nye, and Con. Murphy. There are also a goodly number of men from both the Eastern and Western States. It will be Sunday morning before the party will arrive in Edmonton. They will be in Chicago this afternoon, and will stay over and watch the Cleveland and Chicago teams play.

TENNIS SEASON TO BE OPENED ON MAY 24

At the meeting of the executive of the St. John's Tennis Club, held last evening, it was decided to formally open the tennis season, with games and a tennis tea, on the grounds of the club, at Nicholls Oval, on May 24th. A cordial invitation is extended to all members of the club to be present.

The club will begin preparations at an early date for a large lawn fete to be held on the grounds of the church, during the last week in June. This will be one of the events of the summer season, in the line of outdoor functions. Details of plans will be published at a later date.

Miss Victoria Bell was appointed convener of the visiting committee in lieu of Miss Ida Wesley, resigned.

BILLY SHERRING IS NOW PROFESSIONAL

Hamilton, Ont., May 5.—To-day Billy Sherring joined the ranks of the professional foot runners. He signed up with Charles Ellsworth, a Montreal man, who has Hans Holmer, Wood, Meadows, Maloney, J. D. Marsh, and Hayes under contract. Sherring will be the star of the string, no doubt.

Ellsworth made a very generous offer to Sherring, in view of the tempting proposition that the hero of Athens has turned down in the past few months, since the Marathon fever has spread over the continent.

Pat Powers, the New York speed and baseball merchant, tried hard to garner Sherring for his stable, but failed. Up to a few days ago Sherring had hopes of getting a C.A.A.U. card to run in amateur races, having been assured by some of the big guns that he would be restored to good standing in the amateur ranks.

Sherring will not be sent to the races very often. He will not start in more than three or four during the spring and summer. His first race will be at Montreal on May 24th. In this he will likely hook up with most of the top-notchers. He is in good condition and is running as well as he ever did, he says.

LOCAL BASEBALL

The Wellington Baseball team of Toronto have written the manager of the Peterborough baseball club asking for a game here on May 24th As the Peterborough baseball club is no more it is not likely that the crack Queen City team will be accommodated.

HASTINGS LACROSSE TEAM ORGANIZED

The Lacrosse Spirit is awakening again in Hastings, and though nearly all the old timers are gone, a number of boys got together on Monday night and organized for 1909. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—A. U. Bailey.
President—A. B. Spellman.
Vice-President—Sam Parks.
Secretary-Treasurer—Fred Hubbs.
Captain—J. C. Wilson.
Manager—Fred Dodd.
Finance Committee—Jack Fiezgerald and Leo Riyard.

SEPARATES TRIMMED THE CENTRAL NINE

School Boys Open the Season in Close Contest.

By the score of 12 runs to 9 the boys of St. Peter's school defeated Centrals in an exhibition ball game on the latter's grounds yesterday after four o'clock. It was marked by good plays on both sides, with the pitching honours probably in favour of Callaghan; Burritt and Long were fast and clean in their work, and also the two Pearson boys. Murphy, for the Separate School boys, showed up well.

The teams lined up as follows:

Separate School—Callaghan, p.; H. O'Hearn, c.; Trombly, 1st b.; Phelan, 2nd b.; Morrow, 3rd b.; Murphy, s. s.; Dineen, r.f.; Primeau, c.f.; Collins, l.f.

WALKING.

Mr. W. A. Hoagland, the champion walker, arrived last night from Auburn, N. Y., and is spending a couple of days in the city arranging for the big six-day walk, which commences in Brock St. rink on May 24th. The big American ped., who will soon be in his forty-seventh year, looks as fit as ever, and no doubt will give all the other cracks from across the line a terrific argument, both here and at Milwaukee, where a seven-day walk starts on Monday next.

The champion expects the Peterborough walk to bring together the classiest field of walkers that ever faced a starter and it will be fast all the way. The hours have been reduced and will be in favour of the sprinters, so that there will be lots of that speed stuff in sight. It has been decided to make the hours from 8 to 10.30 on the first five nights of the week, and seven and one-half hours on Saturday, making twenty in all with a limit of 100 miles. Slater, Blake, Brown, Dixon, another coloured man, Fenton and a number of other well known walkers will be here.

Hoagland has had a large number of races since he was here, his last being the handicap affair against Crook, the Marathon runner, who is entered in Saturday's Derby He is anxious to secure a professional runner to go fifteen miles against Crook towards the end of the month, and says that there is big money in it for any of the Canadian cracks.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, May 6. — Under the lead of copper and smelting issues stocks opened stronger. Amal. Copper opened a full point up and then gained another, while Am. Smelting opened ¾ up and then rose 1½ more. This strength helped the entire industrial list and caused Steel pfd. to make a new high record price, put the common up a point and helped the pools in the minor issues like Colo. Fuel and Republic Steel. Southern Pac. was again heavily bought, rising a point, and the other Pacifics gained large fractions. The market broadened out during the first two hours' trading, but at noon was beginning to quiet down. These early morning spurts have been the feature right along with quietness in the afternoon, but with the result that the market is reaching out to new high levels every day. A good reaction may not be so very far off, although we should have one or two big days first.

STOCK NEWS.

Foreign shipments of copper for April the largest since June, 1908.

Bank of England rate unchanged.

Chicago reports Patten back on the bull side of the wheat market.

Buying movement in pig iron extends from the South to the North and East.

Progress of Tariff Bill very slow and some talk of no adjournment of Congress until July 30th.

Toronto—Nothing new in the Cobalt market.

Baring says: The big interests are still long of stocks and nothing will be allowed to deviate the market from its upward course. On any little reaction buy UP, NP, Lead, NYC, Interboro Pfd. and Steel.

Town Topics: Excellent support appears to prevent successful raids while the marking up of Steel Pfd. shows the strength of the investment position. Favour the high grade rails on the setbacks.

Chicago—Illinois Steel Co., a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation gets contract for 60,000 standard steel rails from the St. Paul Ry. Price $28. Biggest order since declaration of open market.

GRAIN NEWS

Chicago, May 6—Higher Liverpool cables caused a strong opening in wheat. May jumped 1½ to its previous high figure, and July gained two. The report that Patten was again on the job scared a lot of shorts and gave the bulls more confidence. Market quieted down after the first hour. Corn and oats higher in sympathy with wheat.

INSURANCE RATE IS TO BE LOWERED

Chief Howard supplied the Examiner last night with some information that will no doubt be received with a large measure of satisfaction by the people of Peterborough. It was to the effect that the insurance key rate for the city is to be reduced in the near future.

Some time ago, Mr. John Robinson, of the Fire Underwriters' Association was waited on by the members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee and asked to reduce the rate in view of the many improvements in the fire department. Mr. Robinson promised that he would look into the matter and send inspectors.

Messrs. Perkins, Noble and Boyd, three inspectors of the Underwriters have arrived in the city and upon their report the basing of the new rate. In addition to the lowering of the key rate, individual decreases will be made where the circumstances warrant such a step being taken.

Bullying the Hens.

Years spent in providing food for boarders, in watching them eat it and in hearing them comment on it had accustomed Mrs. Orne to all sorts of complaints, reasonable and otherwise. She was a pleasant woman and tried to anticipate the objector's objections and to smooth his feelings as speedily as might be. Once in awhile her readiness with a soft answer was a trifle too quick.

It was at breakfast, and Mr. Smith, who, since his attack of typhoid, had been consuming vast quantities of eggs, looked up from his fourth with a slightly offended air.

"I wish," he said from the opposite end of the table, "that these hens could be got to lay their eggs fresh!"

"The last two words only caught Mrs. Orne's ear. "I know it," she said emphatically, "and I think just the way you do about it. It seems somehow as if it couldn't be done any more. Years ago, before Mr. Orne died, it wasn't like this at all. Then you could make them give you fresh ones." —Youth's Companion.

A Quaint Cookbook.

Amid the horrors of the siege of Paris in 1871 one Cadol found time to issue a book of recipes for the preparation of the strange fare to which the city was reduced. "Our stomachs are turned into natural history museums," he wrote, "but we must make the best of circumstances and render our food as palatable as we can." So housewives were instructed how to disguise the flesh of dogs, horses, asses, rats and mice and were shown that, despite the old adage, one can make an omelet without breaking eggs. The recipe for an eggless omelet was as follows: "Soak an army biscuit in sugared water flavored with orange flower, chop finely and spread on a hot dish, powder well with sugar and then pour over and set light to a liberal helping of rum." With eggs at $6 a dozen and rum at but little more than its normal price, this palatable imitation of an "omelette au rhum" became a most popular dish.

Professional Advice.

The irate victim blustered into the office of the secondhand automobile dealer.

"Look here, sir," he thundered, "the automobile you sold me yesterday won't run. One of the cylinders is cracked, the spark plug is badly connected, the steering gear is loose, one wheel is wabbly, and—and"—

"Hold on a minute," the dealer interposed. "Did I sell you a machine yesterday?"

"You certainly did."

"And you paid me for it?"

"Of course I did!" was the emphatic response.

"Then the machine belongs to you, doesn't it?"

"Why, to be sure it does."

"Well, that being the case, I'd advise you not to amble through the city shouting about its defects. If you do, I'd like to know how you expect to sell it."—Lippincott's.

Birthdays and Health.

For several years I have noticed that in a period of from about three to two weeks preceding the anniversary of my birth I have had a feeling of returning vigor, a renewal of vitality such as I have not experienced at any other time of the year. This has lasted for from two to eight days, but has always ceased some days before the anniversary; hence it has occurred to me that there may be some connection between the approach or recurrence of one's birth date and the maintenance of one's health.—London Graphic.

A Modern Miracle.

"I caused the dumb to speak today."

"How was that?"

"I was stopped in the street by a beggar with a 'I Am Deaf and Dumb' placard on his breast, and when I expressed the opinion that he was an impostor he immediately recovered his speech and in vigorous Anglo-Saxon requested me to go to—er—the place that the new theology tells us doesn't exist and mind my own business and he'd mind his!"—New York Times.

A Useless Invention.

"This new collection box," argued the inventor, "has some unique advantages. When you drop in a quarter or more it doesn't make a sound. Drop in a dime and it tinkles a bell, a nickel blows a whistle, and a penny fires a shot. And when you don't drop in anything the box takes your picture."

"No, thanks," said the pastor wearily; "I already have pictures of my entire congregation."—Louisville Herald.

Old College Ways.

Students at St. Andrews university two centuries ago paid nothing for their rooms, but £3 10s. per quarter enabled them to dine at the high table. For £5 11s. 1d. poorer men could get through the whole session—just six months. Breakfast was served at 7 a. m. and consisted of an oatmeal loaf and half a pint of beer. For supper each had half a twopenny loaf and a pint of beer. At the high table poultry, broth and beef were served, and at the second a plentiful supply of broth and beef. Herrings and flounders sometimes graced the board. Beer there was in abundance, and the colleges in those good old days had their brew house, a perquisite of the porter, who was permitted to sell ale to the students.—London Antiquary.

Just a Mistake.

During one of the banquets of the church congress in London a certain bishop had as his left hand companion a clergyman who was completely bald. During dessert the baldheaded vicar dropped his napkin and stooped to pick it up. At this moment the bishop, who was talking to his right hand neighbor, felt a slight touch on his left arm. He turned and, beholding the vicar's pate on a level with his elbow, said: "No, thank you, no melon. I will take some pineapple."

Line Carrying Rockets.

The first line carrying rockets were invented in 1820 by an Englishman named Trengrouse and were soon after adopted by the Massachusetts Humane society for use at its stations, where they proved very successful, though today brass cannons are exclusively used for throwing lines to wrecks.

Pretty Weary.

Weary (lying under apple tree)—Say, mister, kin I have one of dem apples? Farmer—Why, them apples won't be ripe for four months yit. Weary—Oh, dat's all right. I ain't in no hurry. I'll wait.—Life.

Then He Was Fired.

Father—I cannot give you my daughter, my dear sir. I am mighty particular in such things. Suitor—Oh, pshaw! Now, I am not in the least so.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

OBITUARY.

MRS. HARRY STARR

The death occurred this morning at her late residence in Auburn, of Mrs. Harry Starr, after a lengthy illness. Fuller particulars as to the funeral will be given later.

W. A. BEACH

Mr. Robert M. Beach, Charlotte St., received a telegram this morning informing him of the death of his father, Mr. W. A. Beach, in Hamilton. The deceased was 75 years of age and was born in the County of Cavan, Ireland. When nine years of age he immigrated to Canada and was one of the pioneers of this city. For 19 years he was connected with the Stenson Boot and Shoe Company, afterwards leaving Peterborough about 24 years ago.

He is survived by the following children: Mrs. W. M. Hammersteadt, of Milwaukee; Mrs. Dunbar, of Lema, O., and four sons, W. A., of Chicago; James T., of Los Angeles, Cal.; Robert M., of Peterborough, and Bert, of Hamilton, at whose residence, 269½ King street, east, he passed away this morning.

The late Mr. Beach had been ill for some time, suffering from cancer of the stomach. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The deceased was a member of the Church of England.

TENDERS FOR BOOTHS AND DINING ROOM.

Tenders will be received up to six o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, 12th of May, 1909, for refreshment booths for the season on the steamers Otonabee, Monarch, Water Lily and Manita, and for the dining room on the steamer Otonabee. This will be a favourable opportunity for a good, hustling caterer, who will have the full privileges as above on the Company's boats for the season, and will also be required to board the crews of the boats. The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. For full particulars apply at the offices of the Company, Times Building, Hunter St. W. H. Robertson, President. 3d-105

WAS KNOCKED DOWN BY HORSE YESTERDAY

A man crossing Simcoe street, at Aylmer street, received a bad shaking up and narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon. He did not notice a horse and buggy going west, and before he had time to get out of the way he was knocked down and, but for the timely action of the young lady driving, who suddenly stopped, he would, no doubt, have suffered severely.

The plan for "PARSIFAL" on Saturday, May 8, Matinee and Night, opened this morning. Box Office open until 9 to-night.

Miss Duella Pearson was the guest of Miss Rose Blewett on Sunday.

A FOOLISH OBJECTION.

Mrs. Sniggleigh Calls the Turn on Her Better Half.

"My dear," said Mr. Sniggleigh, who was feeling a little peevish, "I can't understand why you have to spend so much money for clothes. Here we are strangers in a strange city. We never are invited out anywhere. We go to no balls, no receptions, no musicales or anything of that kind. Yet you appear to think it necessary to have a new gown made every week or two, and your bills for hats are simply enormous. It seems to me you might well economize a little. I hoped when I accepted my position in this town to be able to save about two-thirds of my salary, so that it would be possible in a few years to retire, after which we could travel and live in some more congenial climate. The way things are going I shall never be able to get ahead at all. I'll simply have to stay here and work away to the end of my days. I don't spend any more money for clothes than is absolutely necessary. Why should I? Who notices me outside of my office? Nobody. It is the same in your case. What do the people who pass you in the street care whether your gowns are made in the latest style or not? The ones who eat at the restaurants to which we sometimes go don't care a sou about your hats or coats or furs. And what if they did? They are all strangers to you. You ought to have some sense about these things. I hope you don't think it makes a particle of difference to the people you see in the cars when you go into town whether you are dressed as the wife of a millionaire might dress or not. To speak plainly, Jessica, I'm getting rather weary of your extravagance. I wouldn't kick if a lack of fine clothes were going to deprive you of social pleasures. But your costly hats and elegant gowns don't seem to have helped you on at all. Nobody calls on you, and you are never invited to anything worth while."

"Why, Jonathan!" Mrs. Sniggleigh replied, perhaps a little more in anger than in sorrow. "You talk like a crazy man. You can't understand these things. What kind of attention do you suppose I'd get from the clerks in the stores if I didn't dress well?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

Would He?

At a trustees' examination of the pupils of a public school in a New England town the queries were met so satisfactorily that the principal speaker finally announced himself highly pleased and that he would be glad to answer any question that the pupils might in turn put to him.

After much reflection one little chap arose and made known his desire to put a question. Permission being granted, he dazed the trustee with this one:

"If you, sir, was in a soft mud heap way up to your neck an' I was to heave a brick at your head, would you duck?"—Lippincott's Magazine.

Turn About.

"What," shouts the patron of the restaurant, "$15 for coffee and rolls! It's outrageous. I won't pay it."

"Yes, you will," calmly states the proprietor. "My wife went into your millinery shop yesterday and paid $50 for some wire frame covered with two feet of lace and an artificial rose. Now you see how it feels, don't you?" —Judge.

A Plausible Statement.

"My dear, why did you put so much on the table? Why did you have chicken salad at my end and roast beef at yours?"

"Because you told me this morning that you wanted me to make both ends meat."—Baltimore American.

Woman, the Ever Ready.

"Impulsive Insanity."

Flushing, N.Y., May 6.—Mr. McIntyre yesterday read the Hains' defence hypothetical question, consisting of nearly 12,000 words. It reviewed all the testimony so far given, and then asked Dr. Manson as to defendant's mental condition at the time of the shooting. "Impulsive insanity" was the reply.

It took one hour and 55 minutes to read the question.

Joe Martin Defeated.

London, May 6.—The result of the bye-election in Stratford-on-Avon was: Philip Foster (Unionist), 5,374; Hon. Jos. Martin, K.C., (Liberal), 2,747; Capt. Kincaid-Smith (Independent), 478. The Unionist majority over the Liberal candidate is 2,627.

MONTREAL, May 5.—(Special.)—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market this morning the offerings were 400 cattle, 150 sheep and lambs, 425 hogs and 2000 calves. Prices were fully ¼c per lb. higher and more in some cases, when the quality of the stock is taken into consideration. The demand was good. There were really no choice beeves on the market, but nevertheless 6c was paid for steers and from that down to 4c, while canners sold at 3c per lb. The supply of sheep and lambs was a little larger than usual. Prices ruled firm with sales of old sheep at 5½c per lb., and spring lambs, at $5 each. Calves were very plentiful, but prices were a fraction higher at from $2 to $5 each, as to size and quality. There was a good demand for hogs and prices ruled steady, with sales of selected lots at $8.25 per cwt., weighed off cars. At the Montreal stock yards, west end market, the offerings consisted of 300 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs and 1400 calves. A feature of this market was the demand for export account and all the suitable cattle for this trade met with a ready sale, while there was also a good demand from butchers and wholesaler dealers on account of small run on Monday and on the whole a fairly active trade was done at strong prices. The best steers sold at 6c, fairly good at 5½c to 5¾c, fair at 5c to 5¼c, medium at 4½c to 4¾c, common at 3¾c to 4¼c, and inferior at 3c to 3½c per lb. The trade in sheep and lambs was active with sales of old sheep at 5¼c per lb., and spring lambs, at $3 to $5 each. Calves were in active demand at prices ranging from $2 to $5 each, as to size and quality. The demand for hogs was good and sales of selected lots were made at $8.25 per cwt., weighed off the cars, but the feeling is that prices will rule lower next week.

SAFE EYE-GLASS FITTING

Selling eye-glasses out of a stock like scissors or thimbles is a dangerous practice that is altogether too prevalent.

There should not be the faintest doubt in the mind of any person who finds the need of wearing glasses, that they are identically, scientifically fitted to the eyes.

We offer you safe spectacle fitting. And that is the only kind you should be satisfied to accept. There is nothing on this earth dearer than a cheap pair of spectacles that you have chosen yourself, simply because you can see with them.
